GEORGE R. FERGUSON

SERVED B & M 67 YEARS

The oldest Boston & Maine employee in point of service and years, George R. Ferguson of 18 Johnson road, retired recently as chief of the railroad's Pass Bureau after 67 years and two months service.

Mr. Ferguson has lived in Winchester for 55 years. Born in Woburn June 21, 1872, he came to Winchester in 1902, being the first to occupy the then newly built house at 16 Maxwell road. After three years there he moved to 232 Highland avenue, his home for more than half a century. It is only recently that he moved to his Johnson road address.

Mr. Ferguson spent his early life in his native Woburn, attended school there and was graduated from Woburn High School in 1890. After a short vacation he entered the employ of the Boston & Maine Railroad July 23, 1890, as a clerk and messenger boy in the Superintendent's office of the then Southern Division, now the Terminal Division.

After less than two years service he was made chief clerk of the office, succeeding another Woburn man, Elwin G. Preston. His predecessor had a distinguished business career in Boston, serving for a time as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and later becoming treasurer of the then R. H. White Company. He later joined S. S. Pierce Company as assistant treasurer, and at the death of Mr. Pierce became trustee of the firm, a position that led to his taking over the control of the business.

In June of 1895 Mr. Ferguson became chief clerk to the Vice President and General Manager of the B. & M. serving for 17 years in that capacity under Tristram A. Mackinnon and later, Frank Barr. Five years after the New Haven took over control the office was abolished in 1912, and Mr. Ferguson became chief clerk to the General Superintendent of the Railroad for a short while.

After three years service as secretary of the railroad's Valuation Committee, Mr. Ferguson was selected to institute the railroad's Pass Bureau and on October 1, 1916, he opened that bureau, of which he served as chief for 41 years to the day, retiring from that position October 1, 1957.

Mr. Ferguson has been twice married. His first wife, L. Maud, died December 19, 1930, and April 26, 1933, he married the present Mrs. Ferguson, who was Elsie Enman Cummings. His son, Rupert, lives in San Mateo, Calif., and is in the passenger traffic department of the Southern Pacific Railroad. A younger brother of Mr. Ferguson, J. B. Ferguson, was also in railroading for a time in the west before entering the more lucrative field of engineering, in which he made a conspicuous success.

Mr. Ferguson has been active in Masonry for many years, is a former member of William Parkman Lodge of Winchester and the oldest living past member of Mount Horeb Lodge of Woburn. A Mason for 57 years, he holds the 50 year certificate of the order.

MISS THOMAS ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Thomas of 15 Oxford street announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce, to Mr. Roy C. Johnston, Jr., son of Mrs. Irene Johnston of Greenville, Texas.

Miss Thomas attended the University of Colorado and the University of Alabama. Mr. Johnston is a graduate of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. He served for four years in the U. S. Air Force and is associated as a mechanical engineer with Texas Instruments in Dallas, Texas.

An April wedding is planned.

LEAVES LAUNDRY SERVICE

Lewis R. Smith of 82 Forest street, a route salesman and supervisor, retired from the service of the Winchester Laundry on Saturday, December 28, after 43 years. During that time he had experience on most of the laundry routes, serving for seven years in Reading and Wakefield soon after entering the laundry's employ, and in recent years having the Winchester East Side, Medford and Malden routes.

Native of Charlestown, Mr. Smith, or Lewis, as he has always been known to everyone, old or young, came to Winchester in 1892. He went through the Winchester schools and in 1904, after completing his high school course, he went to work for George Morrill, whose well-known grocery store then stood on Church street at the site of the present Star Building.

After eight years as a clerk and delivery man for Morrill's, Mr. Smith went to work for Henry Winn in his gent's furnishings store on what was then Pleasant street (now Mt. Vernon street) in the center. From Winn's he went to the Home Market, then located at the corner of Common and Church streets, where Pampered Pets now stands.

He went to the laundry from the Home Market in July of 1914, and during the 43 years he spent as a route salesman and supervisor he was universally popular, not alone with his associates but with laundry patrons.

For many years Mr. Smith made his home on Oak street until the death of his wife, Josephine Curtin, April 7, 1942. He then lived for a time with his daughter, Mrs. Ralph Scott, on Nelson street. In recent years he has made his home on Forest street.

As a youth and young man Lewis was known as a good basketball player, playing on the old Winchester Y.M.C.A., teams, whose headquarters were over Randall's store in the White Building. He also was a member of the old Semi-Professional Lakesides of Arlington, whose 4-2 defeat at the hands of East Boston established a low score for the game believed unequalled.

Lewis contends that the winning basket was scored by a man outside the court, but with the game being played in East Boston before a red-hot partisan crowd the referee "didn't see" the infraction.

With his long stint of business at an end Lewis plans to have some surgery at the hospital and then take a good rest, before looking around for something to "keep him busy." It is good news to his many friends that he plans to stay in Winchester.

ANNUAL COUNCIL MEETING

The annual business meeting of the Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held Thursday evening, January 9, 1958 in the banquet room of the Stoneham town hall at 8:00 p. m. Retiring president Benjamin A. Gowing will preside at the meeting in which reports for the year 1957 will be made by William A. Swett, chairman of the Organization and Extension Committee; W. Howard Niblock, chairman of the Leadership Training Committee; Dr. Donald E. McLean, chairman of the Health and Safety Committee; Norman R. Houghton, chairman of the Camping and Activities; James Coon, Jr., chairman of Finance; Charles E. Forbes, Council Commissioner; and Bartley B. Nourse, Scout Executive. Glenn E. Beck, Deputy Regional Scout Executive will also be included on the program.

The Nominating Committee, through its chairman W. Howard Niblock, will present their nominations to the Council for council members-at-large, for membership on the Council Executive Board and finally for the new officers for 1958. Mr. Gowing, who has served the Council well as its president for five years, will then turn the gavel over to the new president.

All council members-at-large and institutional representatives are urged to attend.

MISS WHITING ENGAGED

Mrs. Norman J. Whiting of 9 Hancock street and Mr. Whiting announce the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia Jane, to Lt. Arthur R. Goodwin, Jr., of Berkeley, California. Lt. Goodwin is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Goodwin.

Miss Whiting graduated from Winchester High School. Lt. Goodwin graduated from Berkeley High School and is presently stationed at L. G. Hanscom Field with the 6520th Test Group.

A spring wedding is planned.

MRS. FRANK d'ELSEAUX

WINTON CLUB CABARET DATES

Winchester may have had no snow in December. There may be little in January, but there will be the 37th Winton Club Cabaret on January 29, 30, 31 and February 1 in the Winchester Town Hall.

Many of you will remember the outstanding showmanship of this year's Cabaret Chairman, Mrs. John I. Lynch. This year she, with the able assistance of Mrs. Thomas Worthen and Mr. Al Burke of Cargill Productions, has written a witty and fanciful tale based on Lewis Carroll's eternal "Alice," appropriately titled "Alice in Wintonland."

Wednesday night, January 29 is Dress Rehearsal, a long time favorite with the children of the town. Seats may be reserved for Thursday evening, January 30, Theater Night, and coffee will be served before the show begins. As usual, on Friday and Saturday evenings the Town Hall converts to a Cabaret, with dancing between the acts to Harry Marshand's Orchestra, under the direction of Tommy Gerard.

Like her predecessor's this year's "Alice" will provide funds which enable Winton Club, under the able supervision of its president, Mrs. Frank d'Elseaux, to provide all the linen for the Winchester Hospital. As demands for the supply of linen increase so also do the activities of the Winton Club members. They not only participate in the annual cabaret, but throughout the remainder of the year sew diligently once a month, staff and maintain the Hospital Gift Shop, and, with the help of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, the Coffee Shop and Gift Cart.

Their many friends throughout the town who appreciate the value of their contribution to the hospital, rally forth in January to help them produce, during a three week interval, a spectacular cabaret providing fun for all.

NAMED TO LOWELL TECH POST

Dr. Charles R. Mingins was appointed chairman of the Division of Engineering at Lowell Technological Institute by the Board of Trustees at their quarterly meeting. In this capacity Dr. Mingins, replacing Prof. Harry C. Brown who retired, will coordinate and administrate the work of the Departments of Electronic Engineering, General Engineering, Leather Engineering, Paper Engineering, Textile Engineering, and Physics and Mathematics.

A resident of Winchester at 3 Bruce road, Dr. Mingins had 13 years of teaching experience as professor at Tufts before coming to LTI, where he also heads the department of Physics and Mathematics, on September 1, 1956. He obtained the A.B. degree in physics at Wesleyan university in 1925 and the Ph.D. in physics at Cornell in 1935, has a number of publications to his credit, and is actively engaged in fundamental research. He has contributed to the Physical Review, the Proceedings of the Institute of Radio Engineers, the American Journal of Physics, and other professional periodicals.

Dr. Mingins was director of the research laboratory of the Departpartment of Physics while at Tufts and worked on the critical quartz crystal supply situation for the U. S. Signal Corps, conducting fundamental investigations on piezoelectric vibrations and propagation of waves in crystalline materials, and the associated electronic instrumentation.

His previous teaching experience included assignments at Norwich, Wesleyan and Cornell universities, at Green Mountain Junior college in Poultney, Vt., where he was professor and head of the Physics and Mathematics department, and at New York State College for Teachers in Albany as lecturer in physics. He is married and has two daughters.

FIRES

Monday, December 30, firefighters received a call from Haggerty's garage reporting a truck on fire in front of the building. Rushing to the scene, they found that some rubbish in Nicholas DiZio's truck was on fire.

Thursday, January 2, Mrs. Alice Parrington of 1 Appalachian road called at 9:20 a. m. to report smoke coming from her television set. Firefighters found the cause to be a short circuit.

VISITING IN WINCHESTER

Rev. and Mrs. Charles H. Drake (Marjorie Rush) of Berea, Ky., have been in Winchester for the holidays with their children, Christopher, Laurel and David, visiting Mrs. Drake's parents, Captain and Mrs. Richard M. Rush of 6 Woodside road.

Rev. Dr. Drake teaches Bible and is dean of men at the Foundation School of Berea College.

A/3c ROBERT J. QUIGLEY

HOME ON LEAVE

A/3c Robert J. Quigley, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quigley of Westley street, is enjoying a 15 day leave over New Year's with his parents in Winchester.

Airman Quigley came home from Sheppard Field Air Force Base at Wichita Falls, Texas, where he has just completed a tour of duty. At the conclusion of his leave he will go to the Presque Isle Air Force Base in Maine.

"Bob" enlisted last July, following his graduation from Winchester High School, and spent his first month in service at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. He looked in fine shape when he visited the Star and reports he had been playing on one of the camp basketball teams at Sheppard.

LIBRARY NEWS

NEW BOOKS ON EXHIBIT

Beginning January 3, 1958, all new books will be placed on exhibit for one week before being put into circulation. It has been called to the library's attention that many borrowers are not aware of the varied types of new books that are being added to the book collection. For that reason, each week, an exhibit of books ready for circulation will be placed on a table in the main lobby, thus enabling borrowers to see what is new. Reserves may be placed at this time. Books will remain on exhibit one week only, and then immediately be placed in circulation.

Books returned by borrowers to the circulation desk, after being checked, are now placed in a book case behind and to the right of the main desk until they are shelved in their proper places. This will enable borrowers to see the books as soon as they are returned instead of waiting until they have been shelved.

The confusion and inconvenience of moving is well known to anyone who has moved from house to house. The library has been no exception to this rule; however, the end is now in sight. We wish to call attention to several new changes. The former fiction alcove now houses all mysteries and westerns. The fiction books taken out of that alcove have been filed with the rest of the fiction which begins in the reading room, A-D, and continues in the first-floor stack area E-Z. Seven-day books are still filed separately in the first section of bookshelves to the left in the main reading room.

MRS. EVA CONANT MARSHALL

Mrs. Eva Conant Marshall, a former resident of Winchester, died December 25 in a Convalescent Home in Belfast, Maine.

Mrs. Marshall was the widow of the late William R. Marshall. She was born January 30, 1870, and was married on January 1, 1892 in Belfast. In 1894 she and her husband moved to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, where they resided until 1908, when they moved to Winchester. They lived first on Cliff street and then on Ridgefield road until 1930 when Mr. Marshall died.

Mrs. Marshall had been living with her son in Scarsdale, New York, until two years ago. She is survived by her son, Charles R. Marshall of Darien, Connecticut; two granddaughters, Mrs. Gordon Clark of Larchmont, N. Y., Mrs. Rossiter Reeves of Port Chester, N. Y., and six great-grand children.

Burial was in the family lot in Belfast.

MISS LINCOLN ENGAGED

Mrs. Marietta V. Lincoln of 2 Palmer street announces the engagement of her daughter Martha to Mr. Kenneth Parker Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Butts of 62 Arlington road, Woburn.

Miss Lincoln attended Sullins College in Bristol, Virginia. Mr. Butts prepared at Huntington and attended the University of New Hampshire and Northeastern. At present he is with the armed forces and will be stationed in Furth, Germany.

CREIGHTON L. CRANDALL

Creighton Lincoln Crandall, son of Mrs. Ola L. Crandall of 25 Wildwood street, and the late Rex T. Crandall, died Tuesday, December 31. He was born in Jamestown, N. Y., November 1, 1928.

Besides his mother he leaves a sister, Mrs. E. Jackson Browning of Caldwell, N. J.; and two brothers, Courtney A., of Winchester, and Rex T. Crandall of Warwick, R. I.

Committal services were held Thursday afternoon in Wildwood Cemetery. The Rev. Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church officiated.

T.V. PERFORMER-PROFESSOR LOCATES IN WINCHESTER

Starting this coming Tuesday, January 7, Mr. Roland L. Nadeau, professor at the New England Conservatory of Music and Choir Director of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, will attempt a project of mass musical education. He will begin a series of twelve lecture recitals on Channel Nine, WMUR-TV, called, "Let's Make a Song."

Mr. Nadeau is familiar to Winchester people who have been interested in Channel Two. Last season he did five live, hour-long telecasts there, including "Inside the Waltz" and "Inside the Sonata."

In his new series on Channel Nine, Mr. Nadeau will encourage viewer response by asking the audience to send in to him their own "do-it-yourself" compositions for his "professorial" advice. He will seek to reveal building blocks of music and will illustrate.

Although Mr. Nadeau has just now moved to town, he is not a stranger to Winchester. He is now in his fifth year as choir director and organist at the Methodist Church and periodically gives piano recitals and lectures there.

When asked how he felt about his new home in Winchester, Mr. Nadeau said, "Winchester has a marked potential for developing fine musical organizations. Everyone knows that Winchester is highly organized socially; it is astounding that they have neither a full mixed community chorus or orchestra. When a town has so many professional people with an avid interest in hi-fi, educational T. V., excellent schools, libraries and churches, it is imminently time that they begin to match the musical efforts of neighboring towns. Lexington has a magnificent choral society. Arlington has its orchestra. We hear of Messiahs and Requiems being done all around us. It is a pity that many people must travel out of the community to find great choral music. It is fortunate for them that the many excellent church choirs do so much to bridge the gap."

Mr. Nadeau desires to plan a "Winchester Community Chorus" in the near future. Anyone interested in this idea should either call or write to him. He resides at 39 Henry street and his telephone number is MIssion 3-0243.

O'NEIL — DEVLIN

At a pre-New Year's ceremony in St. Mary's Church on Monday evening, December 30, Miss Rita Margaret Devlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark H. Devlin of 4 Bonad road, became the bride of William Henry O'Neil, son of Mrs. Sarah M. O'Neil of 29 Fairview avenue, Scituate. The Rev. Charles E. Anadore read the 8 o'clock service in a seasonal setting of Christmas greens and poinsettias, and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Devlin wore a cocktail length dress of white lace with a fingertip veil caught to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white prayerbook topped with a matching orchid.

Mrs. Austin Gunnery of Melrose was her sister's only attendant, wearing a Nile green taffeta dress with matching headpiece and carrying a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Devlin, mother of the bride, wore blue lace with a white feather hat and a corsage of white and pink carnations. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. O'Neil, was gowned in gray and wore a matching hat and corsage of pink mums.

James Blair of Wakefield, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man; and ushering were Daniel Devlin of Medford, brother of bride; and Austin Gunnery of Melrose, brother-in-law of the bride.

After the reception Mr. O'Neil and his bride left on a motor trip through the Berkshires.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Lowell Teachers' College. Mr. O'Neil is in the United States Army stationed at Camp Crosen, Denver, Colorado.

ROY T. NELSON

Roy T. Nelson of 9 Governor's avenue, acting manager of the Milk Street Branch of the Boston Five Cent Savings Bank, died suddenly Monday evening, December 30, at the Winchester Hospital. He collapsed at his home in the late afternoon and was removed to the hospital at that time, dying within half an hour of his admission.

Mr. Nelson was the son of Hans, and Elizabeth (Olson) Nelson. He was born September 17, 1898, in Everett and grew up in that city, attending the Everett schools and graduating from Everett High School in 1917.

He had spent his entire life in banking, having been for many years a teller at the Boston Five Cent Savings Bank's headquarters on School street before his recent promotion to acting manager of the Milk Street Branch.

He was a member of the Boston Bank Officers Association and a former member of the Knights of Pythias. He had made his home in Winchester for the past 12 years, living at 183 Washington street before moving to Governor's avenue.

Thirty-five years ago Mr. Nelson married Rose McGonagle of Boston, who survives, with four daughters, Mrs. Katherine Gibbons, Louise, Elinor and Madelon; two sons, Paul and Robert; and a brother, Paul L. Nelson of Wilmington.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the First Baptist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, officiating. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

DR. ROBERT H. ANDERSON

COLLEGE CLUB DINNER SPEAKER

On Monday, January 13, the Winchester College Club will open its Evening Study Groups with a Dinner Meeting at 6:30 p. m. at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church Parish Hall.

Speaker for the evening will be Dr. Robert H. Anderson of Winchester, a Lecturer on Education from the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University. Dr. Anderson is at the present time director of the committee on teaching teams—operations and Evaluation of the School and University program for research and development. He is now carrying out an extensive teacher-training program with housewives who are college graduates with free time to work but who need training in education and teaching techniques. This program, supported by a grant from the Ford Foundation, is being developed right here in Lexington.

Dr. Anderson will speak on "Creative Approaches to the Teacher Shortage." The College Club welcomes his acceptance to speak at this time when there is so much public emphasis on the lacks and needs in our present day educational systems.

Dr. Anderson is well qualified to elaborate on this subject with his extensive background and experience in the educational field. Briefly for background, which could take pages: he received his B.A. in 1939 from the University of Wisconsin with an economics major, his M.A. in 1942 from the same with a major in Education and substantive fields of History, English Literature and Speech, and his Ph.D. in 1949 from the University of Chicago in Education.

He has had varied teaching experience in 1941 - 1943, 7th and 8th grade social studies in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin; Principal of the Roosevelt School in River Forest, Illinois in 1947 - 1949; and Superintendent of Schools, District 163 in Park Forest, Illinois in 1949 - 1954; also was a Visiting Professor of Education at the summer session of the University of Iowa in 1953.

Since 1954, Dr. Anderson has been at the Graduate School of Education at Harvard University where he is a Lecturer on Education and Director of Elementary School Apprentice Teaching.

From 1943 to 1946 he was an officer in the United States Naval Reserve, here also teaching USAFI classes in English and American History and also organizing and operating a school at NATB for cooks, bakers and barbers.

Dr. Anderson has had varied and broad experiences outside the straight teaching field in a Boys' Club in Wisconsin as Supervisor, Chairman and Program Chairman for the Parent-Teachers' Association where he was also vice-president for one year; he has served on many educational survey committees and forums; and recently he was chairman of the educational advisory committee on Educational Television, and a participant in the program series, "How Our Children Learn to Read," telecast over WGBH-TV in 1955.

Dr. Anderson is not only a teacher, a public speaker, educational consultant, and a Navy man, but also a writer with his latest textbook with Dr. John I. Goodlad as co-author on promotion, reporting, and the ungraded elementary school. He is listed in "Who's Who in the Midwest" and in "Who's Who in American Education." He lives in Winchester at 8 Winslow road with his wife and four children: Dean, 13; Lynn Mary, 12; Scott, 8; and Carol Jane, 4.

And now he generously gives of his time to speak at the College Club Evening Study Group Dinner.

Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, chairman of dinner arrangements, will take reservations through January 8 by mail or phone and the dinner is open to anyone interested in attending; you need not sign up for a study group.

Presiding at the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Efromson, chairmen of the Evening Study Groups, assisted by their committee Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Conard and Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison. All chairmen and groups will be introduced.

If you have not signed up for a study group and wish to, please call your chairmen today.

MISS FROTTON, MR. KERRIGAN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Frotton of Verplast avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Elizabeth, to Mr. Ralph Henry Kerrigan, son of Mrs. Frank J. Kerrigan of Englewood road and the late Mr. Kerrigan.

A fall wedding is planned.

Drought, Opera, Beggs Closing Features

Highlights Of 1957 In Winchester

When the year 1957 shuffles into oblivion four days hence it will leave its mark firmly impressed on Winchester. There were quite a few happenings during the year that is passing to make it one long to be remembered here.

First of all there was the drought of the past summer, the worst so far as any present residents can remember to hit Winchester since the days when the town was known as Waterfield because there was such an abundance of water here.

Almost without rain all summer, with the reservoirs daily drawing nearer and nearer the danger point, the Water Commissioners finally had to limit the use of water, with none permitted to be used outside the home, except for business purposes.

History was also made when, as a result of the town meeting vote in March, a connection was actually made with the Metropolitan Water System and water began to be pumped to the town's Middle Reservoir in July.

Running the drought a close second was announcement of a tax rate of $55.60, an increase of $6 over the 1956 rate, and a town meeting that dragged through eight sessions, and was marked by the most economical voting by the members encountered for many years, if not for all time.

As the result of the economy mindedness of the town meeting members the long-sought addition to the public library was defeated at the March meeting, and this decision later confirmed at a special session.

Another decision of the meeting with a far-reaching effect was that of establishing lot sizes of 20,000 square feet and frontages of 120 feet for lots in the undeveloped West Side hill district. The action was taken after an exhaustive debate and a reconsideration which took up the better part of two meetings.

Resulting from the length of the town meeting was the establishment of a committee to study the town meeting form with a view to streamlining it and shortening the overall meeting length.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Frank William Palumbo of 4 Lincoln street, Stoneham, and Kathleen Marie Ellen Perkins of 69 Mystic Valley Parkway.

William Francis Donnellan of 125 Brooks street, Medford, and Mary Elizabeth Burns of 3 Standish Lane.

SEVERAL BREAKS IN WINCHESTER

Eight house breaks in Winchester have been reported to the police since December 6.

Included were the homes of James Nowell on Stratford road, Walter Stockwood on Highland avenue, Sanford Petts, Dr. Alexander Aitken and the former Smith house on Myopia road; also the homes of Dr. William D. Barone on School street, Hazen Ayer on Oxford street, and John Rines on Everett avenue.

An attempt was made to break into the home of Chester Fox on Dartmouth street, a pane of glass having been cut from a storm door there. So far as could be learned no actual entrance of the house was made.

The police have been working on these breaks since their first reports, but as the Star went to press had been unable to come up with anything that might lead to a solution.

MISS FLAHERTY, MR. MOONEY ENGAGED

At a Christmas tea on Sunday, December 22, Dr. and Mrs. Albert J. Flaherty of Woburn announced the engagement of their daughter, Ann, to Mr. Francis Mooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mooney of Winchester.

Miss Flaherty is a graduate of Woburn High School and of the Catherine Laboure School of Nursing, and has been active in the Mother Cabrini Guild and the Catholic Guild of Nurses. Mr. Mooney, a graduate of Winchester High School, attended Newman Preparatory School and is now studying at Boston University.

No definite plans have been made for the marriage.

YOUR SEAL MONEY NEEDED

The Middlesex Health Association, the county Christmas Seal agency, reports that Christmas Seal reminders are being mailed this week to Winchester residents who have not yet answered their Christmas Seal appeal letters. Sherman B. Russell, chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee states that although many generous Winchester people have replied, others may have overlooked their letters in the rush of the holiday season.

Tuberculosis remains a major public health problem, especially in this northeastern part of the United States, indicates a report from the United States Public Health Service. This area has the highest TB death rate in the county, while in 1940, it had the next lowest rating. The number of new cases of previously unknown TB in this state also remains steady, with more than 2000 new cases found last year. 292 of these were from Middlesex County.

A continuing program to prevent and control this infectious disease, tuberculosis, is made possible through Christmas Seals. Funds from this 1957 campaign are the only support for activities in medical research and education; in school, industrial, and community health education; in rehabilitation services to ex-tuberculosis patients; and in chest x-ray and tuberculin testing surveys among Men-Over-40, foodhandler, and other special high tuberculosis incidence groups.

MARCH OF DIMES CAMPAIGN BEGINS

"Middlesex County is spending more than $1000 for the care of polio patients," said Theodore J. Boecker, March of Dimes Chairman for Winchester, as the 20th annniversary solicitation began.

"The March of Dimes on its 20th anniversary salutes Winchester for its generous support over the years. Our community has always responded whole-heartedly to the mail appeal which is now in progress."

PRO CLUBS INTERESTED IN SERIEKA

Although big "Jocko" Serieka, former Winchester High School football star, has another year at Xavier University in Cincinnati, scouts from professional football clubs have been talking to him about his post-graduation plans.

"Jocko" is definitely interested in professional football, but is also just as interested in completing his course at Xavier and getting his degree. The representatives of professional teams who have talked to him have been careful not to jeopardize his amateur standing.

Already the Cleveland Browns, Baltimore Colts and the Green Bay Packers have been in touch with Serieka, who stands 6 ft. weighs 200 and has been playing fullback for Xavier. It is a tribute to his football potential to have clubs of this caliber interested in him a year before he will be eligible to sign a pro contract.

"Jocko," one of the greatest outside runners Winchester has had, will come east with the Xavier team next year in October to play Holy Cross. This will give local fans a chance to see him in action as well as Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo who expect to come to Boston with Navy next fall to meet B.U.

WINCHESTER AUXILIARY TO HEAR LADY VET

At its next meeting, the Winchester Auxiliary of the Mass. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will have as its speaker Margaret Petrak, V.D.M. Miss Petrak is a member of the staff of the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital and will have many important, interesting and amusing things to tell. She has never spoken in Winchester before. Don't miss her.

Incidentally, we understand through the grapevine that the Pet Pug Movies shown at our last meeting by Mrs. Lewis Snow of Chesterford road were so enthusiastically received that the same program has been engaged for another local organization.

Mrs. Fred Cardin of 8 Copley street will open her home for the meeting. The date—Monday, January 13, at 2:15 p. m. Members and friends (both of animals and of Mrs. Cardin) are invited.

AIRMAN HUSSEY RETURNS FROM DUTY IN TURKEY

Airman Hussey has recently returned from a tour of duty in Ankara and Istanbul, Turkey, and was assigned to L. G. Hanscom Field, in Bedford, for purposes of discharge. He is now living at his home 18 Andrews road with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Hussey, Jr.

After completing basic training, at Sampson A.F.B., Geneva, N. Y., he qualified for Security Service and attended Institute of Far Eastern Languages, Yale University, New Haven, Conn., for a year. Upon graduation, "Dick" spent a 13 months tour of duty in the Far East being stationed in Formosa and Korea and returned in June to Kelly A.F.B., San Antonio, Texas.

In October he left for duty in the Middle East and was stationed in Ankara, Turkey, until he was transferred in July, 1957 to Istanbul, Turkey. Hearing from old friends especially those of class '51, Winchester High, would be a real pleasure.

W. S. C. S. MEETING

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will hold its January meeting at the Church on Thursday, January 9.

Dessert and coffee will be served by the Aldersgate Circle at 1:00 p. m. A business meeting will follow at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. J. Wilson Armstrong presiding. Mrs. Ralph Pingree will have charge of devotions.

An interesting program has been planned for the afternoon with Mrs. George Needham in charge. Various hobbies will be displayed by the members. Anyone wishing to participate contact Mrs. Needham at WInchester 6-0476-W.

All of the women of the Church are invited to attend.

WINCHESTER 6-1 OVER MARBLEHEAD

THREE GOALS BY EMERSON PACED INDIANS

Winchester remained in contention for first place in the Northeast Division of the North Shore Hockey League by beating Marblehead, 6-1, last Saturday evening at the Lynn Arena.

Danvers, Amesbury, Woburn and Winchester all have 8 points in the league standing with Danvers and Amesbury undefeated in four games. Winchester and Woburn have played five, Winchester standing four and one, with Woburn having three wins and two ties.

With teams tied in the points total the standing is decided by goals, and Danvers has a one-goal advantage over Amesbury, 17-16, with Woburn and Winchester each trailing by two.

Bill Emerson, left winger on the Winchester second line, paced the Indians at Lynn last Saturday with three goals, scoring his first in the second period at 9:50 on an assist by Eaton, and his second at 1:13 of the final period on assists by Kelly and Powers. His third tally, an unassisted effort from ten feet out, came at 7:44 of the final period.

Dana Kelly, center on the second line, got Winchester off on the right foot when he scored at 5:21 of the second stanza, a corner shot that Ryan couldn't do a thing about. Powers and Emerson got assists on the tally.

Craig Davenport took a pass from Dick Scott to beat Ryan at 4:37 of the final period, this being the only goal scored by a first line performer.

The final Indians' tally came a second before the final buzzer when Johnny Curtis belted home the puck on an assist by Griffin. Jermyn scored Marblehead's only goal at 2:04 of the final period on a pass by Booma, but for the most past Gowdy, in the Winchester nets, had an easy night of it; while Ryan, the Marblehead net-minder, had the pressure on him all evening. The summary:

WINCHESTER 6 — MARBLEHEAD 1

Winchester—g, Gowdy; rd, Cullen; ld, Eaton; rw, Harkins; c, R. Scott; lw, Davenport.

Marblehead—g, Ryan; rd, Booma; ld, Dinsmore; rw, Tracy; c, Orne; lw, Hazen.

Winchester Spares: Powers, Kelly, Emerson, Sullivan, LaMarche, MacDonald, Tierney, D. Scott, Hosmer, Curtis, Griffin and Grant.

Marblehead Spares: Stramski, Fleming, McKane, Jermyn, Hathaway and Best.

First Periods:—Goals: none. Penalties: none.

Second Period—Goals: Kelly (Powers, Emerson) 5:21, Emerson (Eaton) 9:50. Penalties: Orne (tripping) 9:37.

Third Period—Goals: Emerson (Kelly, Powers) 1:13, Jermyn (Booma) 2:04, Davenport (Scott) 4:37, Emerson (unassisted) 7:44, Curtis (Griffin) 9:59. Penalties: none.

HI, HIGH SCHOOLERS

by Gail Hendricks

Hello one and all! I sure hope Santa Claus was as good to you as he was to me!

By the way, did you enjoy the five minute Christmas assembly (?)?

All the students and faculty sighed a sigh of relief and regret as the curtain closed on Good News a couple of Saturdays ago! We of the cast are certainly indebted to Mr. Morse, Mr. McLaughlin, and Mr. Withington for all their hard work. Mr. Morse and Mr. McLaughlin had the hard job of turning students into actors and actresses for the performance. The part of the cast who sang definitely appreciate Mr. Withington's ever present patience and toil during the production! Thanks, once again, to you all!

The faculty, however, were not the only main backbones of the production. Binky Clark, a junior, took upon her shoulders the work of a professional, doing the choreography for the whole production! Congratulations, Binky, for a job superbly done!

Sally Kimball did as usual a remarkable job. Sally did everything from being a prop to prompting. She certainly deserved her title in the production, Student co-ordinator! Congratulations to you, too, and thanks!

Many times you hear that the stage crew and performers of a production never get along. I think that we proved this statement false, for, to my knowledge, everyone got along famously! The stage crew under stage managers senior Bob Minotti and sophomore Arthur Cabot, did a fabulous job! There were many scene changes. In these changes props from bureaus to football tickets were needed! Jan Donovan did a swell job in this line, getting together all the props needed for the play!

The general committees, who did ticket and publicity work, deserve along with the make-up committee a lot of praise for the commendable job that they performed.

I think that I speak for all connected with the show when I say that through all the headaches and worries, we all had a wonderful time doing the show, and that we all felt very well rewarded when the final curtain came down on Good News!

But that was not the ending by any means, for we'll all have memories of the mixed up lines, the hunt of the platform, and the party at Sue Simpson's after the stage lights were put out! I think, too, that we'll remember the friends that we gained during the production!

The Fall Sports assembly was a loud one, for every one clapped wholeheartedly when next year's captains were named! This year's captain of the Field Hockey Team, Ann Luitwieler announced that capable Marcia Smith will lead the girls down the field toward victory! Good Luck, Marcia; none of us have any doubts about the fine job you'll do! Co-captains for next year were announced by the Tri-captains of this year's cross country team, Robin Carson, Bill Emerson and Don Seaver. Congratulations to you, Bill Saurman, and Bob deRivera!

Jeannie Elliot told us that the tumblettes will have Elaine Tonello and Dotty Chute leading them in their routines next year! Keep up the good work you've done as members of the team, and you're sure to do a good job. Even though it had been announced beforehand that Doug Thomson was the football team's choice for captain of next year, no applause was spared when Joe Flaherty, this year's able captain, named Doug as the Sachem's chief! Doug, speaking as a long time friend, I've never been happier for you, for I know your heart is in sports, and that with your humility and ability you'll do a good job in leading your friends!

The basketball and hockey teams have been doing their best to keep the win in Winchester. Dave Schumacher has been doing an exceptional job in basketball, scoring 23 points in the Wakefield game. In Saturday's hockey game, Bill Emerson did a wonderful job getting three out of the six goals scored! Keep up the neat work!

With basketball and hockey really rolling, not many parties have been going on! One party that I know about quite well was a surprise for me! As you may know, our family is moving to Newburg New York, sometime in January. A bunch of really swell junior girls surprised me the other night at Abby Nichols' house! If ever I have been so completely dumbfounded, happy, and sad at the same time, it was then! As I write this column I look down at my bracelet, which always will remind me no matter where I be of the wonderful friends that I and my family have! No person could ask for more! My pooch, which I have named orginally (?) Win-chee sits on my bed, as proudly as I will sit when I think of you all! It's kind of hard to put into words how that party made me feel, but I do mean it when I say that I will always be very proud and very thankful to have known you all! I thank you sincerely, and Janet Donovan, don't ever tell me that you can't act! Thanks again everyone!

The open house that followed was one of the best of the year! Everyone had a gay ol' time!

Well, I guess that's all the chatter for now! See you next week!!

WINDOWS BROKEN AT COOPERAGE COMPANY

Daniel Delorey of the International Cooperage Company on Swanton street called the police at 7:25 a. m. on the day after Christmas to report that many windows had been broken at the Cooperage during the holiday.

Police Officer Roy and Sgt. Reardon investigated the complaint and found that 30 windows had been broken in the back of the Cooperage. The police were unable to find who had been responsible for the damage.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY NOTES

Saturday, December 21 the freshman hockey team had to settle for a 7-3 loss at the hands of a smart, smooth-working Melrose team. The Winchester boys never really got started in this game and turned in their poorest performance to date. In the second period one goal each was scored by Andresen and Tierney, and in the third period John Reardon sank the lone Winchester tally.

Last Saturday, however, was a different story as our freshmen pressed a rugged Malden Catholic team for the entire three periods to a 2-1 win. After a fast 0-0 two periods, Johnny Reardon, with an assist from Capt. Paul Johnson, broke into the scoring column. A little later, on a double assist from Johnson and Reardon, Jon Smith slammed the puck into the Malden net for Winchester's second red light. With about 30 seconds of the game remaining and two Winchester men in the penalty box, Malden Catholic collected its lone count. Good hockey was played by both sides and Coach Chadwick states he has increasing confidence in his squad. He feels that some of the early problems on defense are being licked. He is particularly happy with the outstanding goal tending of Bob Tierney.

At the present writing, the freshmen have a total of five points in the Suburban Junior League, which makes them sharp contenders for second place. The next game, a non-league game, is with Belmont Hill tomorrow at Lynn at 11:45 a. m. This promises to be a spirited contest as there is much rivalry between the players on the two teams.

SIMMONS CLUB TEA

The Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club will hold a tea, Sunday afternoon from 3:00 - 5:00 p.m., at the home of Helen Forsythe, 6 Stratford road. Miss Forsythe is the newly appointed vice president of the club.

Members of the organization will have the opportunity to meet the present Simmons students from this area. Prospective students from the junior and senior classes of Winchester, Medford, Arlington and Belmont High Schools have also been invited. It is hoped that all members of the club will be present.

Mr. J. Garton Needham, vice president of Simmons College, will bring greetings from the college.

Miss Forsythe is chairman of the tea together with Mrs. Cedric Robinson of Winchester, co-chairman of the hospitality committee.

Mrs. Paul Howe of Arlington is in charge of transportation.

THE SENIOR FORUM

The members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will this Sunday attend Chapel at 9:30 a. m. when they will welcome as their speaker Rev. Theodore Clapp, who will speak on "Shall I Make Money or Serve?"

Mr. Clapp formerly served as Army Chaplain and as Minister to students at Old South Church, and continued his interest in young people in the public education field. He is at present guidance director of the Newton High School. It is at the request of the Forum young people that he is returning to speak to them this year.

The service will be conducted by Sally Kimball, Chaplain, and Janet Monro, assistant chaplain. Deacons will be Sandie Eriksen and Liz Fisher, and ushers will be Peg Archibald and Dorothy Chapman.

LIVING CHRISTMAS CARDS

"Living Christmas Cards" was the theme for the Christmas pageant presented by the pupils of the George Washington School on December 19. Every child in grades 1 through 6 participated in the program which emphasized two phases of the happy season, the idea of gift-giving and joyous singing, and the more serious side that concerned that night so long ago when Christ was born.

Tableaux, caroling, dancing, and drama portrayed the age-old story in six scenes:

Grade 1, The Toy Shop; Grade 2, The Christmas Tree; Grade 3, Sleigh Bells; Grade 4, The Decree of Caesar Augustus; Grade 5, The Shepherds on the Hillside; and Grade 6, The Nativity.

Narrating through the pageant were Dean Gallant, Robert Myette, Sally Johnson, William Cronin, Robert Sheehan, Mary Ford, Gail Grinnell, Barbara Bund, Richard Wakefield, Charlene Wightman, Thomas Ford, Ellen Myette, Jane Van Dyke, and Gregory Gardner.

First grade soloists were: Patricia Westwater and Barbara Vespucci.

Gary Carr and John Al Wile acted in the capacity of efficient stage managers.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Janner played background music on violin and cello, adding much to the dignity of the program with their artistic rendition of the Christmas carols. Student violinists were Deborah Hancock and Jean Peterson.

POSTMASTER REPORTS RECORD-BREAKING XMAS MAIL

A record breaking amount of mail was processed at the Winchester post office during the recent Christmas season according to a statement issued this morning by Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun. The Postmaster stated that well over half a million pieces of mail went through the cancelling machine. It is estimated that approximately 20,000 parcels were dispatched and over 25,000 received by this office.

On Sunday, December 15 and 22, the Winchester trucks were sent into Boston to get all available mail matter possible for delivery on the following mornings. This enabled the local office to keep an uninterrupted flow of mail.

Mr. Gilgun states that all mail received at the Winchester office up to noon on December 24 was delivered on that day.

Plans had been made for the Christmas rush, but the best of plans are of no avail unless the office has the complete cooperation of the employees and the public. This cooperation which was more in evidence this year than ever, worked to the advantage of both the employees and the postal patrons.

"A Special word of commendation is due to the Winchester Star," said Mr. Gilgun, for the wide publicity it freely gives the Post Office Department on postal matters, not only during the Christmas season, but throughout the entire year.

The Postmaster said he wishes to take this opportunity to wish all the patrons of the local post office a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Doub who recently sold their home at 23 Sargent road are making their home for the next few months in Boonsboro, Washington Co., Maryland.

OLD-LINE BUSINESS SOLD

MARCHESI SOLD PRODUCE 55 YEARS

During Christmas week an old line Winchester business came to an end when Anthony Marchesi closed out the produce business established by his father some 55 years ago.

The founder of the business, Salvatore Marchesi, retired at the close of World War II and moved to California where he makes his home with his daughter, Mary, in San Diego.

He came east to Winchester for Christmas, and his presence in town reminded many older residents of the early days of the Marchesi Produce business.

Nearly 60 years ago Mr. Marchesi came to this country from his native Sicily, settling in Boston. He established himself in the fish business in Boston, buying and selling fish as a one-man concern.

About 55 years ago Mr. Marchesi came to Winchester and went into the produce business here, continuing to sell fish on Fridays only.

Starting with a horse and wagon in Winchester, Mr. Marchesi made a success of the local produce business from the start, and soon had to add another team to take care of his growing customer list which had overflowed Winchester into Woburn. From year to year he added customers until in recent years the business was about equally divided between Woburn and Winchester.

As the business grew Mr. Marchesi was joined in conducting it by his sons, Anthony, Peter and Paul. Always progressive, the business was motorized when trucks became popular for transportation and in recent years the Marchesis had operated three trucks.

After Mr. Marchesi's retirement his oldest son, Anthony, carried on the business, doubling up to run both it and Neno's Market when that was established in 1947.

Carrying on both businesses proved quite arduous, and as the advent of super-markets made door-to-door produce selling less popular Mr. Marchesi wisely decided to close out his produce business and concentrate on his successful market.

So last week the produce business ended as the old year drew to a close. The closing out of the business brought a nostalgic pang to those older residents who remember Mr. Marchesi and his horse-drawn fruit and produce cart of long ago.

TO TELL "THE PHILADELPHIA STORY"

"The Philadelphia Story" by one of America's greatest writers of comedy, Philip Barry, will be the winter production of the Parish Players, with try outs being held Monday evening, January 6, at 8 o'clock in the Parish House, First Congregational Church.

There are excellent roles for six women and some smaller parts, and for nine men. Mr. Harlan F. Grant of the Drama Department, Boston Conservatory of Music, will direct this play (dates of the show: February 13, 14 and 15). Anyone interested in acting is most welcome.

Although written nine years ago, this prize winning play remains a sparkling, gay, delightful comedy —with spice and flavour that is typically Barry. In the original stage version presented by the Theatre Guild, Katherine Hepburn, Shirley Booth, Van Heflin and Joseph Cotton were in the starring roles.

Barry, graduate of Yale, was a member of the Baker 47 Workshop at Harvard, a member of the State Department, and was attached to the U. S. Embassy in London. The fluctuations of Broadway productions have been many: but Mr. Barry's plays seem timeless, unruffled.

They have a definite place in American theatre history, and with this in mind, the Players chose his "Philadelphia Story" for their winter comedy.

BAPTIST YOUTH

On Sunday evening, January 5, at 7:00 p. m. the Senior High Fellowship of the First Baptist Church, will sponsor the showing of the film, "Broken Mask." The film is produced for the Joint Commission on Missionary Education of the National Council of Churches, and is related to the home mission study theme, Christ, the Church and Race. The film will be shown in the Church Social Hall.

We extend a cordial invitation to the Church family and friends to come see this film.

THE WOMEN'S LEAGUE OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The first meeting of the new year will be held Thursday, January 9, when members of the Women's League of First Baptist Church will meet for luncheon in the Social Hall.

Mrs. Herbert D. Thompson is luncheon chairman, and will be assisted by an able committee. The afternoon program will include the annual meeting and election of officers.

POPULAR AS DECORATION

Holly, mistletoe, poinsettias, and other plants that deck the halls this time of year have a competitor in the Christmas rose.

Growing in popularity, the diminutive plant puts forth seven or eight white roselike blooms tinged with pink. A mature Christmas rose is no more than a foot high.

The Christmas rose is not really a rose at all but belongs to the crowfoot family, the National Geographic Society says. Botanists call the plant Helleborus niger or black hellebore after its black rootstocks. It has lustrous dark green foliage.

A cold-weather plant, the Christmas rose flowers naturally in December or January. It withstands snow and low temperatures, requiring only some sort of shelter from the weight of snow.

Helleborus niger does not propagate well in the United States. Most of the tiny plants are imported to florists from Belgium and the Netherlands. They develop best in soil peculiar to the western parts of those countries.

Gardeners of the Low Countries grow the plant from slips taken from the parent plant after it has finished blooming in January. The The shoots are usually grown under glass to protect them from mildew and aphids to which they are particularly susceptible.

In incubation a Christmas rose's leaves are pruned regularly to give it added strength for blooming. After three years of care the plant is mature and ready to put forth its famous winter blossoms.

Ancient Romans were familiar with the Christmas rose and eagerly sought it for medicinal use. They believed that eating the roots would "clear the brain, cure stupidity, and relieve insanity."

"Let him sail to Anticyra," said the poet Horace of an ill friend. Anticyra was a Greek town where the Christmas rose flourished.

The Helleborus family is native to southern Europe and the Mediterranean regions. The Christmas rose variety came originally from Austria. An Austrian botanist introduced it to England in 1596. English nurserymen, like their neighbors across the North Sea, patiently cultivated it in heated greenhouses for the Christmas trade.

Like many flowers, the Christmas rose has its own special legend. According to the story, a poor shepherd girl watched the Wise Men come with rich gifts to present to the newborn Christ Child, and she wept because she had no present to offer. An angel suddenly appeared.

Learning the cause of the girl's distress, the angel waved a wand. Instantly, glistening white flowers carpeted the ground. The young shepherdess gathered blossoms. When she presented her gift, the Infant smiled. As his fingers touched the delicate white flowers, they became tinged with pink.

The plant's legendary association with Christ carries over to regions where it blooms in early spring. There it is often called the Lenten rose.

PARKHURST SCHOOL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Parkhurst School children of grades one, two and three presented a Christmas Program for their parents and friends on Tuesday evening, December 17, at 6:45 p.m. The title for the program was "Christmas Greetings" with a story of Christmas cards that came to life within a frame and presented during the singing of Christmas music.

The program included a welcome by Susan Mackechnie; Hark the Herald Angels Sing by the audience; scenes and chorus by grades I; In the Sleigh, The Snowman, Santa's Workshop and Hanging the Stockings; scenes and chorus by grades II; Filling the Stockings, Trimming the Tree, The Angels, The Carolers; scenes and chorus by grades III; The Three Kings, Decorating with Greens, The Shepherds, The Manger.

The speaking parts were the following:

Grandmother, Kathryn Baird; Children, Johnny Castle, Peter Duffy, Lisa Douglas; Mother, Heidi Parrot; Father, James Freedman; Aunt, Daryl Layzer; and Uncle, Robbie Whitten.

The program closed with the audience singing, "O Little Town of Bethlehem." The pianist was Mrs. Philip Hovnanian and the curtain and stage manager was Barry Blanchard.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

William Coleman of 145 Pickney street, Boston, came to the police station on Friday, December 27, to report that his 1950 light blue Ford sedan had been stolen while it was parked on Lagrange street.

Mr. Coleman said that he was visiting friends and that his car was parked on Lagrange street between the hours of 9:30 and 12 midnight. At first he thought that someone had moved the car as a joke.

Several hours later the police had a call from Officer McKenna of the Somerville police reporting that a car answering the description had been found. Mr. Coleman was notified and went to get his car.

HOCKEY TEAM TIES

Winchester and Gloucester battled to a 2-2 tie in a Northeast Conference hockey league match at the Lynn Arena New Year's day.

Jim Harkins put Winchester ahead, 2-1, in the final stanza, but Nate Ross scored the equalizer for Gloucester 44 seconds later. The summary:

WINCHESTER (2)— Goal, Gowdy, defense, Cullen, Eaton, D. Scott, Kelly; forwards, Davenport, R. Scott, Harkins, Powers, Sullivan, Emerson.

GLOUCESTER (2)—goal, Haberland; defense, Kerr, Smith, Silva; forwards, P. Lufkin, Ross, Sawyer, Hallette, T. Lufkin. Goals: Davenport, Rust, Harkins, Ross.

The 1st Marine Division brought to a successful end the Battle for Guadalcanal, the first offensive of the U. S. against the Japanese, December 9, 1942.

WINCHESTER'S STREAK BROKEN

LEXINGTON BEATS INDIANS IN LEAGUE MATCH, 61-48

Lexington High toppled Winchester from the ranks of unbeaten basketball teams Monday evening by winning the Middlesex League game between the two schools at Lexington, 61-48.

It looked like an off night for the Indians though the Minuteboys were sharp and deserved to win. Lexington went right out in front and was never headed, though Winchester rallied several times to pull up close.

Lexington led at the quarter, 12-5, but the Indians came back to outscore the Minuteboys in the second quarter, shaving their lead at the half to a single basketball, 22-21.

Lexington outscored Winchester in the third quarter, 14-11, and the teams entered the final chukkah with the Minuteboys in front, 36-32.

Winchester has generally been a good last-period club, but the Indians weren't clicking Monday night and Lexington poured it on, tallying 25 points to 16 for the Red and Black. It has been some time since a Winchester team has lost by 13 points. Tapply and Lappin each had 20 points for the winners. Dave Schumacher's 19 was high for Winchester.

The Lexington seconds won the preliminary game from the Winchester Jay Vees, 51-47, in a game the local boys could just as well have won.

Big Hank Schumacher, captain and veteran center of the varsity team, sustained a knee injury that didn't add to the joy of the Winchester rooters. The summary.

LEXINGTON BEATS J. V.

A strong second half gave Lexington seconds the first win of the season over the Winchester J.V.'s last Friday evening at Lexington. Roaring back from a six point deficit the Minute Men outscored Winchester 35-25 in the second half to win 51-47.

High scorers were Bob Freeman, and Paul DelRossi of Winchester with 13 and 12 points respectively, while Lexington's Steve Mahan netted 18 points. The summary:

JUNIOR LEAGUE

B.C. nearly suffered its first defeat of the young season at the hands of an inspired Harvard five who forced the game into overtime before B.C. finally won out 56-55. A mechanical failure with the clock with 45 seconds to play has caused the Harvard sub coach Juliano and head coach Cogan to put the game under protest. Their claim is that although there was still time remaining in the third period, time was technically out when the faulty buzzer sounded and that Flaherty of B.C. should not be credited with the basket which they say was shot after the buzzer. A hearing on this protest will be held at a later date.

Holy Cross continued its winning by topping Yale for its third straight win and Princeton won its third game of the year with an easy 54-33 victory over Dartmouth. Paul Mulloy who scored 25 points for Harvard this week has taken over the lead among the Junior scorers with 72 points followed by Mike Bellino (64) and Johnny Peckham (55). Tuesday's games are: Holy Cross vs. B.C. 7:00 p. m. Dartmouth vs. Harvard 8:00 p. m. and Yale vs. Princeton 9:00 p. m.

Junior star of the week, Paul Mulloy of Harvard who with 25 points sparked his team in their near upset of front running.

ORDER OF THE ARROW LODGE

The newly organized Order of the Arrow Lodge of the Fellsland Council Boy Scouts of America held its first winter meeting at the council office December 30, 1957. Lodge Chief Alfred Bonney of Troop 2 Winchester presided.

Lodge rules and regulations were presented to the Lodge membership by the Executive Committee and were approved and adopted.

A week end camping trip to the council camp was planned for April 18, 19 and 20, 1958 at which time the entire lodge membership will clear and develop an ordeal ceremony ring in preparation for the ordeal ceremony for new members in June.

Committee assignments will be made by the executive committee for the following committees: ceremony, elections, activities, and service. As soon as these are organized the Lodge will plan its program for the year centering some of its early activities around the service theme.

The Order of the Arrow is a national organization of honor campers elected by the Scout campers respective units not as an honor but in recognition of the service he has given his unit and in anticipation of the service he will render the camping program of the Fellsland Council. The lay advisor is Arthur P. Bonney of Winchester. Bartley B. Nourse, Scout Executive, is the professional advisor.

Members from Medford include: Michael Gould, Troop 4; Bruce Makas, Troop 8; Prescott Farris, Troop 19.

Members from Winchester; Alfred Bonney, Troop 2; Jonathan Hopkins, Troop 7; Richard Hanson, Troop 9; John Oliver, Troop 12; Thomas Joslin, Post 3; Joseph Russo, Post 3; John Looney, Post 12; Robert Gowdy, Troop 3.

Members from Stoneham include: John Connors, Troop 5.

Members from Woburn include: John Friel, Troop 9; Albert Boudreau, Troop 11.

Member from Burlington: John Roebuck, Post 1.

Adult candidates: Robert I. Phillips, Medford; Norman R. Houghton, Stoneham; Arthur Bonney, Winchester; Stafford Rogers, New Hampshire, (North Hampton); John Keating, Burlington; Albert Makas, Medford; Bartley B. Nourse, Woburn.

SPACE AGE DAWNED WITH SPUTNIK, EXPLORATION 1957 HIGHLIGHT

The successful launching of artificial satellites stands unchallenged as man's most dramatic achievement of 1957 in research and exploration.

Just as 1945 brought the atomic age when American scientists advanced nuclear fission from theory to public reality, 1957 introduced the space age. Soviet scientists put the first man-made moon—and rocket cone — into predictable, globe-circling orbits as true celestial bodies on October 4. This sparked a new era of revelations in space travel, meteorology, astronomy, geophysics, and other sciences.

The satellites' dazzling success early in the International Geophysical Year (IGY) strongly stimulated all branches of research in that world-wide cooperative scientific effort, says the National Geographic Society in a year-end summary of 1957 exploration and scientific adventure.

Space Projects Succeed

Other outward tries proved fruitful. On August 21-22, Major David Simons, United States Air Force surgeon, proved that space travel for a day or more at a time is possible by his 32-hour flight in a helium-lifted gondola eight feet long and three feet in diameter. He rose to a new record height for manned balloons of 102,000 feet (19.3 miles) in the upper atmosphere.

Project Farside of the Air Force at Eniwetok Atoll in October ballooned a research rocket to thin air at the 19-mile level. From there it roared upward more than 2,000 miles to a record ceiling for a man-made object.

From San Nicolas Island off California the Navy dispatched two-stage, solid-fuel rockets 70 to 90 miles up with instruments to record sun flares moments after their inception. Navy cameras with 12-in telescopes, balloon-borne 16 miles above Minnesota and South Dakota, took the sharpest sun pictures so far obtained.

Scientists Crowd Earth's Poles

With the whole earth in the IGY test tube, Antarctica's outposts increased to nearly 50, manned by scientists of 12 nations. Nine United States stations, carrying on for their leader, Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who died on March 11, harbored 80 scientists in the 1956-57 austral summer, more than 100 in 1957-58.

They studied auroras and airglow, cosmic rays, geomagnetism, ice and glaciology, gravity, oceanography, rocketry, seismology, weather. At the new United States South Pole station thermometers averaged 73 degrees below zero through winter, and hit all-time record lows of 101.4 on May 11 and 102.1 on September 17.

Putting land claims in deep freeze, nations teamed on research that promises a whole new concept of Antarctica's land mass. Americans 575 miles inland at Byrd station found that solid ice 10,000 feet thick, half of it below sea level, underlies their surroundings. Russians discovered that their Mirny (Peaceful) base rests likewise on thick ice based on a bottom well below the ocean's surface. The 9,200-foot altitude of the South Pole itself tested seismologically as 8,300 feet of ice on a mere 900 feet of rock.

Late in November, nine British explorers led by Dr. V. E. Fuchs set forth from their Shackleton base on the Weddell Sea bent on a first crossing of Antarctica. Facing some 1,900 bleak miles to New Zealand's Scott base on McMurdo Sound, they expected to pass the South Pole about Christmas. At the same time Sir Edmund Hillary was leading New Zealanders 850 miles poleward from Scott base to meet the Britons and guide them to their destination.

In the Arctic nearly 250 research stations of a dozen nations could be counted, many of them on shipboard. The United States, Canada, Denmark, and Soviet Russia pushed IGY studies similar to those of Antarctica. Twelve United States scientists aided by military technicians drifted on T-3, an ice island.

Three Coast Guard cutters with Canadian cooperation became the first United States ships to traverse the Northwest Passage, pioneered by Amundsen in 1906. Seeking not the "wealth of the Indies" but the best water route for supplying Dew-line and other stations ,they proved the navigability of narrow Bellot Strait off Boothia Peninsula, 200 miles south of the customary route.

Undersea Frontiers Busy

America's nuclear-powered submarine Nautilus made a record 5½ day, 1,000-mile journey under Arctic ice that reached a farthest-north point for ships—87 degrees or 180 miles from the North Pole. The trip portended early under-ice research at the Pole itself. On the same 67-day autumn cruise Nautilus set another record by remaining submerged for 14 days and 3½ hours.

Elsewhere in the IGY ocean-research program, Navy ships continued intensive mapping of the Pacific Ocean floor. Jacques Piccard in the bathysphere Trieste examined Mediterranean depths in a series of dives—cosponsored by the Office of Naval Research—to a near-record maximum of 10,500 feet. French Navy Captain Jacques-Yves Cousteau directed a three-month Calypso study of Atlantic currents. The Russian ship Vityaz reported that its radiosonde found a record ocean depth of 35,948 feet (6½ miles) in the Pacific's Marianas Trench.

A joint effort of oceanographers of Woods Hole, Massachusetts, and the British National Institute discovered a current flowing more than 4,500 feet beneath the Gulf Stream. The current wells southward in the opposite direction and moves slowly compared to the Gulf Stream's four to five-knot rate.

Columbia University's Lamont Geological Observatory confirmed existence of a continuous 45,000-mile rift in the earth's undersea crust. At present this changing rift averages 20 miles wide and 1½ miles deep. It coincides with the wirld-wide chain of earthquake zones.

A Lamont team using nylon trawls in the South Atlantic brought a ¼-inch worm from 16,200 feet and a⅛-inch shellfish from 13,200 feet. Both emerged alive, among countless organisms which failed to survive pressure and temperature changes. A new Lamont Atlantic and Indian Ocean expedition set forth at year's end.

Bones of the Bounty Found

Luis Marden, National Geographic Society staff explorer, diving 30 feet down in Bounty Bay off Pitcairn Island in the South Pacific, discovered the resting place of the mutiny ship Bounty. The armed transport was scuttled in 1790 by Fletcher Christian to keep it from revealing the mutineers' refuge. Sheathing, nails, hull fittings, fragments of copper, and metal fastenings, all limestone-encrusted, followed the line of the ship's keel.

Free-diving Danes probed 11 sunken Danish-coast settlements of 10,000 years ago, recovering thousands of flint and pottery relics. Frogmen in Hungary's resort Lake Balaton began clearing silt from a structure believed to be a fort built 1,500 years ago by Romans on an island since submerged.

Adventurers who left Tahiti on a large raft late in 1956 were rescued from their sinking craft 400 miles from South America after 194 days afloat. They had sought to prove that Polynesians could have gone east to the New World as well as sail west as demonstrated by the Kon-Tiki voyage in 1947.

Mountains Yield—and Take

Mount Dhaulagiri in Nepal, 26,811 feet, the world's eighth highest peak, remains the highest unclimbed by man after a season unusually disastrous for aspirants in the Himalayas and Alps.

Four Austrians claimed a first in scaling 26,414-foot Broad Peak in the Karakorams. Two Britons conquered Nepal's remote Macha Puchra, 23,000 feet, described because of sheerness as the Himalayan Matterhorn. Nepal's new climbing fees deterred some groups.

Austrian, German, and British glaciologists in the Andes removed three 20,000-foot and several lesser peaks from the unclimbed list.

IGY glacier research put four United States teams in Alaska's ranges and one in the Olympic Mountains of Washington State. It attracted Canadian observers to the Lake Hazen region of Ellesmere Island, and glaciologists of five nations to the Greenland ice sheet. Three British teams studied East Africa's great massifs — Mount Kenya, Mount Kilimanjaro, and Mountains of the Moon—to find if equatorial glaciers are receding. Russians observed the Fedchenko Glacier on the Pamir plateau.

Atmospheric Phenomena

Volunteer sky watchers, taking part in an aurora study directed from Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., traced two parallel "rayed arcs" of aurora closely following the United States-Canadian border from coast to coast. Aurora research centers in Edinburgh and Moscow sought to determine if this double arc circles the entire earth.

A 30-nation study of airglow, a chemical excitation differing from auroras in which bands of colored light drift rapidly on the night side of the earth, was directed by the National Bureau of Standards from Boulder, Colorado. The Boulder laboratories also supervised 16 radio-noise-recording stations trying to learn how waves travel through the atmosphere and how communications can be improved by avoiding unwanted noise.

Cosmic rays were under global study, as was the globe-enveloping electrojet. This system of electric currents, generated by tidal movements of the earth's atmosphere, apparently is strongest at the magnetic equator. Three United States Stations shared this study.

Biblical Sites Revealed

Archeology flourished, especially in Bible lands. Scholars in Israel unearthed the massive city gate King Solomon built at Hazor near the Sea of Galilee. They located a fortified tunnel, near the En-gedi Oasis west of the Dead Sea, that may have harbored David when he was hiding from King Saul. Synagogue ruins rich in mosaic tiling are revealed near Nirim at the edge of the Gaza strip.

In Jordan, Americans uncovered the step-lined cylindrical pit leading down to the 2,500-year-buried well of Gideon, five miles north Jerusalem, and reached flowing water 82 feet down in the well. A Drew-McCormick team determined that Shechem, now Nablus, survived destruction several times in its 3,500 years of Canaanite glory ending in the 1st century B.C. Britons directed excavations covering eight acres at Jericho and found a village of mud-brick houses dating from 6800 B.C.—earliest date so far found for a civilization at that Biblical site.

Excavations in Egypt brought to light pulleys used 3,500 years ago to raise two-ton limestone blocks into place on the 400-foot Khufu pyramid. An 11th-century Islamic gate was unearthed at a point in Cairo that indicates Egypt's capital was then larger than scholars have realized.

In Turkey, a University of Pennsylvania group continued excavation of ancient Gordium. The team tunneled 227 feet to reach a tomb filled with bronze and pottery effects believed those of King Gordius of Phrygia, father of King Midas.

Greek scholars traced 1,600 yards of the diolclos, a limestone-block roadway built 2,500 years ago so that ships could be dragged across the Isthmus of Corinth, where a canal was finally cut in 1893. Near Pylos, Americans uncovered additional wings of King Nestor's elaborate palace of the 12th century B.C. At Pella, Macedonia, birthplace of Alexander the Great, Greeks bared mosaic floors and bases of Ionic columns of a large Hellenistic building of 2,300 years ago.

In Italy experts are determining the value of 1,200 fragments of sculptured marble found in the Cave of Tiberius, 60 miles south of Rome. They are part of two statues attributed to sculptors of Rhodes: one is of the mythological monster Scylla; the other, of the Laocoon group. In Rome a New York University team unearthed Emperor Constantine's barnlike basilica of San Lorenzo (A.D. 300). The ruins, 120 by 330 feet, stand close to today's Basilica of San Lorenzo.

New World Antiquities

At New World sites, a University of Pennsylvania expedition conducted its second year of mapping and uncovering the 2,000-year-old Mayan city of Tikal, lost for centuries in the wilds of northern Guatemala. Covering six square miles, it includes stone buildings 20 stories high, and is envisioned as an eventual center of tourist attraction.

On the southern edge of Mexico City, a National Geographic Society-University of California expedition examined mound structures exposed by recent commercial quarrying close to the Cuicuilco pyramids. Extensive delving showed that the mounds cover a square mile and are aligned with the pyramid, the whole having composed a populous ceremonial center of 2,500 years ago—perhaps the first urban settlement in the Valley of Mexico.

Canadians extended a search for primitive stone pits and their meaning. More than 100 have been found on ancient raised beaches close to Lake Superior. They may have sheltered Mongols who came from Asia 6,000 to 10,000 years ago.

Along the Missouri River, 10 Smithsonian teams scoured Plains Indian sites soon to be flooded by Big Bend, Oahe, and other dams. In New Mexico, ruins of the Rosa Phase people of 1,000 years ago were urgently studied, for the land soon will lie deep in waters of Navajo Dam.

Charcoal taken by National Geographic-Smithsonian scientists from an ancient fire at the 23-foot level in Alabama's Russell Cave promises to be the oldest material of human origin found in southeast United States. This charcoal lay 10 feet deeper than another deposit which carbon-14 tests proved in 1956 to be about 8,000 years old.

Fossils Massed in Slovakia

Turning back eons, a well-preserved shark skeleton found in western Indiana dates from 250 million years ago. Fish and reptile bones bared by house builders near New Brunswick, N. J., are younger by only 100 million years. While bones washed ashore in Virginia and dilophodon fossils found in Wyoming belong to Eocene times, about 50 millions years ago. On Slovakia's Danube River frontier, a mass grave was found holding bones of thousands of mastodons, tapirs, and other primeval beasts that met a catastrophic death a million years ago.

Three Australian group visited the Stone Age Pintubi (Bindaboo) tribe, which survives in good health on desert plants, small reptiles, similar game, and scant water in secret rock holes in harsh, sandy country near salty Lake Mackay, on the western edge of the Northern Territory. Plans were formulated for making the region a big aboriginal reserve like Arnhem Land.

The first color film of the rare Spanish Imperial Eagle at nest was taken by the third expedition to the wild Coto de Donana in southern Spain. The expedition included leader Guy Mountfort, Field Marshal Lord Alanbrooke, Dr. and Mrs. Julian Huxley, and Eric Hosking.

Memories of 1874 were vividly revived in central Africa as Richard, grandson of Henry Morton Stanley, led a Cambridge University four-some in Land Rovers along the 3,000-mile path of his ancestor. The expedition ranged across east Africa and the Belgian Congo, studying native tribes, animal, and bird life.

Compared with other recent years, 1957 exploration was in certain respects quite normal. It, too, had fruitless expeditions to find the Lock Ness monster, the Abominable Snowman, and Noah's Ark on Mount Ararat.

EDITORIAL

One thing shown clearly by the questionnaires sent out recently by the committee studying our town meeting is the fact that many who sent in answers believe that a big reason for the undue length to which recent meetings have dragged stems from the lack of knowledge of the import and purpose of articles in the warrant by members of the town meeting.

It is quite clear to many regular attendants that many members of the town meeting have not even read the warrants through, let alone tried to inform themselves on the questions to be discussed.

There can be no question that such a lack of knowledge leads to lengthy explanations, questions and tiresome repetition that lengthen the meeting session appreciably.

Among suggestions made by those answering questionnaires was one that would seem to have merit. It is that the advance precinct meetings be continued, but that instead of the meetings indulging in debate on the various articles of the warrant, they be strictly limited to explanation of the controversial articles, with the arguments for, and the arguments against being presented without discussion.

In that way it is believed the town meeting members can get a comprehensive knowledge of the articles on which they are to make decisions with the advantages and disadvantages of a pro, or negative vote.

To be of any real value precinct meetings must be much better attended than they have been in the past. It would seem however that those who permit themselves to be elected town meeting members should make the effort necessary to attend them.

Elected town meeting members have by their candidacy for the office signified their willingness to serve in this important capacity. And it is an important capacity! Those, who because of the limited town meeting, are deprived of the right to vote on town matters, especially on those affecting the taxes they must pay, have the right to expect that those who represent them be fully informed on the town business they are transacting.

There have been many times in the past when the town meeting members' apparent knowledge of questions being decided is open to doubt.

Limited speakers' time, denying non-members the right to speak or argue can help to a certain extent. Prompt starting and strict limitation of recess periods will also be helpful, as will the refusal to permit reconsideration of votes asked for by those who, for one reason or another, were not at the meeting when the action was taken.

In the long run, however, an informed town meeting membership will constitute the best way to speed up our town meetings. If the members have to find out what the question is all about before they can appraise the arguments for and against it, much time of necessity is wasted.

Town meeting members have signified their willingness to accept the obligations of such membership. A reasonable knowledge of the articles in the warrant and what their acceptance implies would seem to be the biggest of all their obligations. It is the Star's opinion as an observer of town meeting that many members have been increasingly derelict in this duty in the past.

MODERATOR HAS AMPLE POWERS

Editor of the Star:

The report of the Committee to study the Town Meeting makes sense and the members are to be congratulated for striking the most ringing blow for good democracy in government that has been heard in this town for a long while. Had they listened to the petulant cries of "overworked" town meeting members for the reduction of other citizens to second class status in the conduct of Town Meeting the Committee would have broken faith with the principles upon which this town, this Commonwealth and this nation were founded.

The report appears to state clearly that the onus for protracted sessions lies upon those who are conducting them and in particular upon the Moderator himself who, oddly enough, is a member of this committee and whose complaints were raison d'etre for its existence in the first place!

The Moderator of the Winchester Town Meeting already has ample powers to restrain intemperate "speechifiers" and to suppress discussion not to the point. Time limits exist for speaking and can be readily changed by the Meeting or extensions formally granted. A forceful Moderator who knows his job can keep the Meeting moving steadily in his powerful, albeit smiling and courteous, grasp. It is not the job for a kindly "presider" or for a man whose professional career requires that he not step on toes when the time for stepping on toes arises.

Be that as it may, we can all take satisfaction in the clear-headed report of this Committee whose recommendations should be promptly adopted:—save one. We will not need a big bell or a red flashing signal to control the speaking times:—just a good, strong, new hand on the gavel!

COMMENDS POLICE

Editor of the Star:

During the holiday season I had occasion to inform the police department of the loss of my son's bicycle. Such an announcement, I assumed, would be merely routine since the probability of locating a missing bicycle during the vacation period would be slight. However, to my complete surprise, within twenty-four hours after my telephone call the vehicle had been traced and returned.

Quick action of this sort reflects the best characteristics of a well organized department and I would like to pay public commendation to a service which too many of us take for granted.

Sincerely,
J. Joseph Tansey

FILMS AT CRAWFORD MEMORIAL COUPLES CLUB

The Couples' Club of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will meet for their regular January meeting on January 7, at 6:30 p. m. It will be a pot-luck supper.

The supper committee consists of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wood, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Emmons. Decorations will be by Mr. and Mrs. George Needham.

The program of the evening will consist of two films. One will be a "Cavalcade of America" film, "Poor Richard," which shows Benjamin Franklin in a lighter side of his life. The second film will be "A Tale of Two Houses," a color film of special interest to home owners and tells of one of the greatest enemies, moisture, which causes wood to rot and paint to come off.

We hope all will join us for a very enjoyable evening.

POLICE WORK DIFFICULT NOW

CHIEF HARROLD DISCUSSES JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

(Ed. Note—Following is the report by the Boston Globe's Leo Shapiro of the address given by Chief Harrold of the police department at the annual breakfast of the Beth El Brotherhood of Dorchester. Bernard L. Snyder of Mclaughlin's Shoe Store presided as brotherhood president.)

"A policeman's lot is not a happy one!"

This familiar phrase from Gilbert and Sullivan comes to mind when one listens to Chief Charles J. Harrold of Winchester.

"It is rough! A cop today has one of the most miserable, toughest and most underpaid jobs there are," Harrold told the Beth El Brotherhood at a breakfast meeting in Dorchester Sunday, in discussing juvenile delinquency.

"Today we can't get the type of men we want. You're not getting the old-type cop. Rather than take a policeman's job with starting take-home pay of $60 or $70 he goes to work in a tannery at $125 a week."

Cruising Car Brings Change

"You can't hire officers to do the kind of job officers did before the cruising cars came into popular use. There was a time when the man on the beat was responsible for everything that happened on the beat. He used to make the arrests, and, if he had to, would haul the prisoner half a mile to the box, wait for the wagon to come and be in court the following morning.

"They wouldn't take it today. They don't make them that way any more," said Harrold, on the force himself since 1924 and chief for nine years.

"And besides," observed the chief, "You have to take abuse from a lot of little punks. All they need is a good wallop. Yet the officer can't do it. His hands are tied."

Chief Harrold recalled that 30 years ago, as a patrolman assigned to a "rough" area he was able to tell a boy out late on the street—10 o'clock was regarded as late—to go home. If he didn't go he slapped him and the chances are he was slapped again when he got home.

Today, he said, if a police officer so much as places a hand on the shoulder of a boy of 13 or 14, the youngster says "Take your hand off me. I'll see my lawyer." He explained that the boy knows such an act can be regarded as assault and battery.

Links Delinquency to Childhood

Pointing to the high cost and upward rise of crime, with $13 per person being spent on crime prevention as against $1 per person for religion, he declared that criminals are "nothing but delinquents grown up."

"You've got to stop delinquents at the start. If you don't you're in trouble. And the main cause of delinquency is lack of attention to children.

"Parents are to blame all the way down the line. Children don't get religious training because of inattention. Parents play golf on Sunday morning and turn the child loose. Then there are the working parents as a result of which children don't know their parents.

"Sixty percent of juvenile cases have been traced to broken homes, which leave youngsters on their own. They suffer from lack of attention. Once children in a household had to help with the chores. Today they are given money to go out and spend on a movie or for goodies.

"These children need to have a parent play ball with them, go to church with them, go to the movies with them, go fishing with them, and in other ways have love and affection shown them."

He said participation in sports is very valuable. "When a youngster gets into sports he doesn't have time to go wrong," he said, mentioning the Police Athletic League.

Winchester System Praised

Harrold described the system used in Winchester in dealing with juveniles. A boy charged with an offense must report to the station with his parents, apologize and make restitution. And then he must have his clergyman call the chief. The alternative is to have to go to court.

The first time a youngster comes to court he is given a hearing in the judge's lobby rather than a court trial, and if the offense is minor the case is dismissed without a finding. After a year he can start out again "clean and fresh."

"It's a mighty fine system," he remarked, especially if it is the same judge that sits on these juvenile cases.

He contended that the youngster who gets in trouble with the law today is pretty well informed.

He told of a 9-year-old who, when arraigned in court, wanted to know if he could plead the Fifth Amendment.

The chief was emphatic about the need for the death penalty. "It is the only deterrent we've got. When we get rid of it we're sunk. This state will become a haven for every thug in the country. It is bad enough now."

Miss Stephanie S. Stone, a freshman in the physical therapy course at Bouve-Boston School, which is affiliated with Tufts University, Medford, is at home for the Christmas holidays. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett P. Stone of 10 Warren street. Miss Stone has been elected class representative of the Athletic Association.

SPECIAL FORMS NECESSARY FOR DECEASED TAX-PAYER REFUND

Frank J. Cavanagh, District Director of Internal Revenue, announced today that all individuals who plan to prepare a Federal Income Tax return for a taxpayer who died during 1957 should secure and file special forms with the regular Form 1040 in the event a refund is involved.

Mr. Cavanagh particularly called the attention of widows and widowers to the fact that if the refund is under $100 it will be necessary that they file Form 1040 (Individual Income Tax Return); Form 1310 (Statement of Claimant to Refund Due on Behalf of Deceased Taxpayer) together with a copy of the death certificate.

If the refund is over $100 Form 1040, Form 1310 and a death certificate must be filed together with a notarized "Waiver of Claim to Refund Due on Behalf of Deceased" from each child of the deceased over 16 years of age.

In all cases where an administrator or an executor has been appointed a certificate of appointment must be attached to the return when filed.

Those who file deceased taxpayer's returns with all the required forms completely filled out will reduce any delay in the return of the refund. Failure to submit all the required forms properly filled out will delay the refund check in that correspondence with the executors or next of kin will be necessary before the return can be processed.

All forms are available at the office of the District Director, 174 Ipswich street, Boston, Mass., or may be obtained at any one of the local Internal Revenue Offices throughout the state.

FIRES

Friday, December 27, the MDC police called the fire station to report a car on fire on Molly Spring road off South Border road in the vicinity of the Girl Scout Cabin. Firefighters responded to the call but were unable to find any automobiles in the area.

Later the same day A. P. McNamara of 98 Grove street called to report a grass fire near his home. The fire was quickly extinguished.

SONS OF ITALY Bowling News

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Opening night of the second half went off as scheduled with a near perfect attendance.

Boston College which had to be satisfied with cellar position in the first half and didn't hit its stride until late, continued its forward surge in the second half opener by taking four points.

Being the only team to take four points, B.C. is now perched on top.

Team Standings:	W	L	P.F.

Deadhorse Chefalo	97.5
Max La Carubba	95.7
Gene Rotondi	95.7

We had an abundance of 300 bowlers this week which shows the boys watched their diet pretty closely over the holidays to keep in trim.

The pack leader and still an active Boy Scout leader, a credit to his town in his unheralded devotion to the Boy Scouts of Troop 1, Captain Bob Fiore of Alabama, a very capable and competitive bowler, rolled 325. "Deadhorse" Chefalo had 321; Joe Ciarcia, 319; "Choppers" Gangi, 317; Richard Fiore, 314; Gene Rotondi, 312; Tony Saraco, 302 and Phil Adagno, 300.

We just want to say to keep a close eye on the average department as the gap keeps closing with only one tenth of a point now separating the leaders. Never have we ever seen such high figures as there are this season.

Boston College really pounced on the pins this week with 1462 T.P.F. to fill the limelight.

It just proves what a new Playtex girdle and cinch belt has accomplished for their captain "Deadhorse" Chefalo as he led his light brigade with a superb 321 P.F.

His fighting squadron includes such greats as Arca Amico, the quiet one; Leroy Penta, the traveler; Frank Corby and Johnny Dattilo, the bachelor twins; and Father Time himself, the only pasteurized and now homogenized member of our bowlers, Creeper Gene Rotondi.

From the first to the last ball every pin that you knock over has a direct bearing on the final analysis. This point was proved conclusively the first half by Holy Cross as she won on total pinfalls after being tied by Alabama on points.

Captain Tony Saraco of St. Mary's assuming that he had a 10 p. f. lead and being last man to bowl threw two balls down the alley and pushed the button, disregarding his third ball which would have won the match for his team as an error showed up wiping out the 10 p.f. lead he presumed he had.

This caused a total of 1369 for each of the two teams which will have to be played off when they meet again. Don't let this happen to you or your team for you too may need the total pinfalls at the end of the season.

Mingy's assistant and that's no joke
Italian cigars are all he smokes
As Mingy's assistant with energy that bristles
He also blows a real hot whistle.
As a bowler it's just a little bit late
As everyone knows he used to be great
So keep on bowling and don't get mad
For we all know you're not that bad

We are happy to announce that the award this week went to a parakeet answering to the name of Dotty.

There will not be any bowling next Thursday night so that our bowlers can be winterized for the coming long winter.

See you next week.

WINCHESTER ROMPS OVER WAKEFIELD

A much improved Sachem five handily defeated the Warriors of Wakefield 69-38, last Friday night at Wakefield.

Winchester started by taking a 15-5 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Indians continued to pull away and held an 18 point advantage at halftime 34-16, continuing to control the game to the final gun.

The Sachems made 22 errors in this game which is a substantial improvement over their previous showing.

A 41% average of field goals gave the Sachems a good night, as Wakefield had only 14 for 44 for a 32% average.

Dave Schumacher again led the Indians with 23 points while Doug Thomson and Hank Schumacher also hit double figures with 12 and 11 points respectively. The Sachems had 56 rebounds with Dave Schumacher leading the team with 20. Richie Roberts led this time in assists with 4 of the team's 17.

MDC. ICE RINKS

The MDC either has opened, or is expected to open soon artificial ice skating rinks on Elm circle in Medford and on Route 2 in Arlington.

The Arlington rink can be used by schoolboy hockey teams of Arlington, Belmont, Woburn, Rindge Tech, Cambridge Latin, Winchester and Somerville. Use of these MDC rinks cuts the expense for schoolboy hockey teams to $10 an hour for one team and $15 an hour for two teams.

The traveling time getting to the rink is also appreciably reduced, which means that more time can be spent on the ice at less cost and less time consumed going and coming. A better brand of hockey should result.

MIKE MURPHY

WENT WELL WITH ST. JOE'S

Although he played only half the season, fullback Mike Murphy of Winchester still managed to finish second in scoring and fourth in rushing for St. Joseph's College football team of Collegeville, Ind., this season.

The 212-pound sophomore was the starting fullback until he was sidelined for the season with a shoulder injury in the fifth game against St. Vincent (Pa.), but in those five games he scored 42 points and ran for 289 yards, an average of 4.9 yards per carry. His running helped the Pumas to their third consecutive Indiana Collegiate conference championship and a season's record of 8-1.

In 1956 St. Joseph's, with Murphy at fullback, played Montana State College to a scoreless tie in the NAIA's nationally televised Aluminum Bowl game in Little Rock, Ark. Murphy played fullback for four years at Winchester high school, where he graduated in 1955. He captained the 1954 team as a senior.

WOBURN, 4; WINCHESTER, 1

WIN PUTS TANNERS AT TOP OF LEAGUE

Woburn knocked Winchester off the pinnacle of the Northeast Division of the North Shore Hockey League by beating the Indians 4-1, last Thursday evening at the Lynn Arena.

Woburn was the better team as the clubs played Thursday, yet it took some sterling goal-tending by Goaler Charlie Moyer to bring victory to the Orange. Moyer had 14 saves, several on the spectacular side, especially during the first period when Winchester kept play pretty much at the Woburn end of the ice.

Winger Fred Rogers put the Tanners out in front in the opening period when he banged a rebound past Gowdy at the 3:04 mark. At 2:37 of the second period Woburn had another tally as Gentile banged in a Day rebound. Woburn missed another goal at the end of this period when a long DeMonico shot past Gowdy was disallowed because the puck glanced off a Woburn player's skate.

The Indians broke in to the scoring column at 2:15 of the final period when Craig Davenport took a pass from Cullen and skated in. Defenseman Bill Dunk checked Davenport 15 feet out, but the puck kept on going, and Moyer, misjudging its speed, didn't get down in time to save.

With the score 2-1 the Winchester fans came to life, but three minutes after the Davenport goal Day and DeMonico teamed nicely for the goal, scored by Day that put the game beyond Winchester's reach.

In a desperation move Coach Finigan pulled his goaler and sent six men up the ice in an attempt to score.

The strategy backfired with play at the Winchester end when Woburn stole the puck and drove in. DeMonico fired one at defenseman "Pete" Cullen, doubling in brass as goaler, and though Peter blocked the shot "Rick" Walsh slapped in the rebound for Woburn's final tally.

The summary:

WOBURN—g, Moyer; rd, Dunk; ld, Johnson; c, Day; rw, Gentile; lw, Rogers. Spares: O'Rourke, DeMonico, Altavesta, Walsh and Haggerty.

WINCHESTER—g, Gowdy; rd, Cullen; ld, Eaton; c, Scott; rw, Harkins; lw, Davenport. Spares: Powers, Kelly, Allen and Scott.

Score by Periods

First: Rogers (Day) 3:04.

Penalties: O'Rourke (tripping) Johnson (interference).

Second: Gentile (Rogers-Day) 2:37.

Penalties: Johnson (interference) Harkins (interference).

Third: Davenport (Cullen) 2:15, Day (DeMonico) 5:31, Walsh (DeMonico, Gentile) 9:35.

LUITWIELER GETS PATENT

Clarence S. Luitwieler, Jr., of Winchester and Myer M. Glasberg, Revere, Mass., were the recipients on December 10, 1957 of U. S. patent No. 2,815,952, entitled "Punching Bag."

The conventional punching bag is a somewhat pear-shaped leather bag that is inflated by means of a bladder confined within it. It is generally supported from a horizontal board and serves to strengthen the hitting muscles of the arms and shoulders. It is sometimes positioned upright from a floor or other surface, in which case it is supported by a flexible rod mounted on a stand or base.

According to Messrs. Luitwieler and Glasberg, the attachment, ordinarily used for connecting a punching bag to the suspension member or other support, has not been entirely satisfactory due to the fact that there is considerable strain and stress on the neck of the bag so that it often becomes torn or otherwise damaged.

It is an object of this invention of Messrs. Luitwieler and Glasberg to overcome this limitation and thus they have devised a novel adapter which is mounted in the assumes most of the strain and neck of the bag and, it is claimed, stress that occurs during use of the bag. Thus it makes the neck of the bag stronger and thereby reduces the tendency for it to become damaged. As additional advantageous features, the adapter of this invention is simple in construction, inexpensive to manufacture and easy to mount in the punching bag.

This contrivance of Messrs. Luitwieler and Glasberg is made of rubber or a rubber composition and is in the form of a plug with a relatively long neck from which there extends a short outwardly flaring skirt portion. The end section of the latter is designed to contact the bladder of the punching bag. The device also includes a pair of threaded sleeves, a suspensions trap and retaining screws; and the arrangement is such that it is a relatively simple matter to obtain the desired results by inserting the contrivance in the neck of the bag, adjusting the parts and tightening the usual lacing on the bag.

This patent has been assigned to American Stay Company, Malden, Mass.

IN THE SUNNY SOUTH

A couple of former Winchester athletes, all around Pete Provinzano, one of Winchester's finest right hand pitchers, and Mario Lentine, a rugged tackle who like scrimmage above all things have been in the sunny south during the holiday season, basking on the sands at Miami Beach, Fla., where they have been registered at "The Sands."

Pete, who is a member of the training staff at Harvard, writes that he and Mario attended the North-South football game Christmas night and the Oklahoma-Duke game at the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day. They expect to be back in town January 5.

HIGHLIGHTS OF 1957

Of Civic Interest

The final work on the railroad overhead was done during the year just past and the popular Maney Construction Co. left town after a fine bit of construction work and public relations. In connection with the overhead the underpasses at Bacon street and Swanton street were opened to travel, and the Boston and Maine stations opened to commuters, though the Winchester Station is as yet not completely finished. The new Skillings Bypass was also opened to traffic during the year.

Of unusual interest on the civic front was the arrival in town early in January of 21 Hungarian refugees to be housed, clothed and generally prepared to live self-supporting useful lives. The success of this problem in human brotherhood is something in which Winchester can take a just pride.

Early in January fire practically destroyed what was left of the old Bacon Felt Mill. Another and much more disastrous fire was that occurring just before Christmas in the block on Thompson street housing the Winchester Appliance, Ward's Market and Tilley's women's wear shop.

The end of many years of faithful service to the town by the Stinson sisters, Mabel and Helen, came at the past March election, when Helen, who had succeeded her sister, Mabel, as town clerk did not run for re-election. Continuing the feminine trend, Mrs. Elsie Nelson, who had been assistant town clerk under Miss Helen Stinson, was elected to succeed her.

Another change in town personnel was that occasioned at the public library by the resignation of Mrs. Doris Philbrook, the chief librarian, during the summer, and the appointment of the assistant librarian, Mrs. Eugene Smith, to succeed her. Mrs. Smith took over the librarian's duties in October.

Other resignations included that of Charles A. Farrar from the Board of Public Welfare, occasioned by Mr. Farrar's leaving town. The popular "Charlie" subsequently died October 27 at Morehead City, N. C. Harold V. Farnsworth, former selectman, also resigned recently from the planning board, and last year's chairman of selectmen, George Redding, was named to succeed him.

Of especial civic interest and significance was the finding of the county commissioners for Eugene B. Rotondi on his petitions to have Sunset road and Churchill road accepted by the town as public ways. In the instance of Churchill road the town meeting had refused to accept the selectmen's layout of the way in question and in the case of Sunset road the selectmen had refused to make such a layout for what seemed to them good reasons.

A neighborhood controversy had developed around the two streets, precipitated in part at least by neighbors fearing Mr. Rotondi's planned to transport racing dogs over them and to use the streets for heavy industry, namely the trucking of earth products. Hearings were held before the county commissioners, and this year the commissioners reversed a previous decision for the town in favor of Mr. Rotondi. Town officials are still pondering the final impact of this decision and have asked the commissioners for clarification of certain sections of their written decisions.

During 1957 the school department left the quarters they had occupied in the former Legion headquarters on Washington street beside the public library to occupy a house adjacent to the remodelled high school building, where it is planned to maintain offices until permanent headquarters are provided by the town.

Only just this week the Winchester Red Cross Chapter announced it will occupy the former school headquarters after January 7 of next year.

Events of Interest

At the head of this section of Highlights comes the first performance of opera in Winchester on March 9. Sponsored by the Winchester Community Theatre, Mr. Boris Goldovsky brought members of his New England Opera Company to town for a performance of excerpts of several operas at the Memorial Auditorium of the high school. A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the singers, who were attractively costumed and performed with simple but effective drops and stage properties.

It is also of interest that for the first time on February 5 Winchester Rotary invaded Wolfeboro, N. H., to stage a typical Rotary meeting for the club there. The Winchester Women's Council, comprising many of the women's organizations of the town and organized to serve as a clearing house and a central body for concerted organizational action, was dissolved on March 14.

After 20 years of continuous service, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, veteran practicing physican, resigned as chief of the Winchester Hospital medical staff on April 9. He was succeeded by another of the older physicians of the town, Dr. Milton J. Quinn.

Members of Winchester Girl Scout Troop I flew to England July 24 for a six-weeks educational and social friendship tour of Great Britain and France. Excerpts from their log published in the Star proved of much interest to Star readers.

Persons and Events

One of Winchester's older fraternal organizations, Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, observed its 60th anniversary with a banquet and gala night in the town hall May I. Marycliff Academy completed ten years in Winchester with appropriate exercises.

Plans for the new First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Winchester were announced during the year and ground broken for the erection of the attractive building on the old Witherell Estate on Church street near Cambridge street.

The building of new quarters for the Sunday school and for recreation were completed by the Crawford Memorial Church in 1957, and plans for the erection of new quarters for the church school of the Unitarian Church have been announced.

There was considerable excitement occasioned in the late afternoon of April 8 when a big Army Mule hospital plane was forced down on Ginn Field in a driving snowstorm and had to spend the night at the field. Throngs of townspeople viewed the big ship which was guarded all night by the police.

Speaking of the Army, Mrs. Gladys Toye, president of the Winchester Military Manpower Committee, whose work with young people entering service has received the highest praise of service officials, was named Honorary Recruiter by the Army Recruiting Service in May. She already held the Army Certificate of Appreciation, highest award a civilian can receive from the Army.

During July the Star was honored with the award of the First Army Military Personnel Procurement Service Certificate for assistance to the recruiting of the 1202nd Area Service Unit from January, 1955, to July, 1957. This was the second such award the Star has received. Winchester's Major General Ralph Palladino was named Chief of all U. S. Army Reserve and ROTC with Headquarters in Washington.

Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, received the degree of Doctor of Theology from Harvard University on June 12. A former Winchester boy, native of the town, Rev. Samuel J. Mathews, pastor of St. Richard's in Roxbury, observed the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the Roman Catholic priesthood.

Ruth St. Denis famed danseuse, gave an exhibition of Religious dancing at the Church of the Epiphany.

Mr. John Volpe of Everett avenue, former State Commissioner of Public Works was made a grand officer of the Italian Legion of Merit.

Of Educational Interest

Outstanding news on the educational front was the winning by Kirby Baker, high school senior, son of Dr. and Mrs. James G. Baker of Grove street, of one of the coveted scholarships of the National Merit Scholarship Foundation, perhaps the highest award a secondary school pupil can receive.

These Merit Scholarships are awarded on a strictly competitive basis, and it was greatly to Winchester High School's credit, that in addition to Baker's top-flight win, there were three other finalists from the school. These were Mary Kiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Kiley of Winslow road; Bradley Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell Ross of Madison avenue; and Whitney Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Smith of Highland avenue. This trio was awarded certificates of merit for their excellent showing in the scholarship competition.

Prof. Howard R. Bartlett, member of the faculty at MIT and former chairman of the school committee, was chosen to spend four months in India as a member of the General Education Project, sponsored by the American Specialist Branch of the International Education Exchange Service, a cooperative venture of the State Department of the Federal Government and the Indian Ministry of Education. He left during the summer to commence his new duties.

Another Winchester professor, Neil H. Borden, of the faculty of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, left toward the end of the year for Australia upon the invitation of the Australian Association of Advertising Agencies to counsel them and the Australian universities on teaching marketing and advertising in the universities.

Policewomen Named

On November 14 Winchester saw its first women police traffic officers on duty. The appointment of policewomen traffic officers has been under discussion by the selectmen and chief of police for some time, and it was decided to give the idea a try when two of the school traffic officers reached the legal retirement age. Mrs. Patricia Walker and Mrs. Eunice Reardon were the appointees.

Killed in Plane Crashes

Two Winchester servicemen, Lt. (j.g.) John A. Shields and Lt. Col. Charles R. Joyce, Jr., lost their lives as the result of plane crashes while on maneuvers, Lt. Shields with the Navy and Lt. Col. Joyce with the Army.

Lt. Shields lost his life when his plane crashed while he was flying out of Miramar Naval Air Station near San Diego February 2. Lt. Col Joyce's plane crashed October 9, after exploding in flight near Pinecastle Air Force Base in Orlando, Fla.

Still another Winchester serviceman, Lt. (j.g.) David Hutchins, was reported missing with his plane October 31, in the Adriatic Sea area.

Other deaths of persons in Winchester public life included those of Rev. William S. Packer, Boston Globe editorial writer and former interim rector of the Church of the Epiphany; Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector emeritus of the Church of the Epiphany; former Town Engineer Parker Holbrook; William J. Murray, veteran real estate broker; Dr. John R. Wallace, prominent dentist; Capt. Edward D. Fitzgerald of the fire department; and Mrs. Isabella Tufts, member of the family at the Home for Aged People, whose 101 years made her Winchester's oldest resident.

On the Business Front

Of chief interest on the local business front has been the closing of the Beggs & Cobb Tannery and its subsequent sale to a Peabody leather manufacturer. One of Winchester's old-line industries, the tannery has provided jobs for many residents of Winchester and Woburn who are watching eagerly for any announcement of its return to production.

Also of interest was the leaving town of the Calidyne Company, one of the town's newer industrial plants, which has moved to Reading. Among new businesses locating here is Lester C. Gustin company with its fine new plant for the distribution of steel products on Cross street.

Also of more than passing interest was the unionizing, both of the Calidyne plant and of the old-line Winn's Dial Hands factory. After some years as president of the Winn Co., Ernest B. Dade resigned this year to become chairman of the board, his place being taken by Henry L. Clark, Jr., for some years associated with the business.

Three well-known businessmen and a businesswoman retired during the year, Ernest H. Butterworth, watchmaker; Charles A. Murphy, Texaco station operator; Harry Winton, hardware dealer; and Sophie Bowman, real estate broker. The businesses of all four are being carried on at the old stands by successors. Joseph M. Donahue, veteran of the business section of town, completed 50 years in the hardware business with his firm, the Central Hardware.

Ground was broken for a new First National supermarket on upper Main street on the site of the old Blanchard Lumber Yard. Ground was also broken for the new telephone exchange June 20. The greatly enlarged and remodelled Renton's Market held open house September 9 and 10.

Myron Berlow, household furnishings store, moved from its old location to the old First National Stores building just above the center, where he has one of the largest and best-stocked stores of its kind hereabouts. Loralane moved from its old store to the quarters vacated by Mr. Berlow when he moved.

Among new businesses to locate in Winchester this year are A. C. Allyn & Co., investment brokers, Coward Shoe Company, Davids, men's clothing; Marion Nelson Luethi Associates, interior designers; Slender Lady Salon, Main Street Food Shop, near Converse Place; Pampered Pets, a new pet shop and a Winchester shop for Bayburn Cleaners of Arlington.

The Sports Picture

Winchester didn't have quite as successful a sports year in '57 as it had in some preceding years.

The high school cross country team kept the town's banner high, winning its Pilgrim Divisional and Middlesex League titles and its Class Championship in the State Meet. The Indians missed the New England crown because of the illness of two of their key runners. With them they would have been favored to repeat their 1956 success.

The high school girls' basketball team had an unbeaten season, and the other high school teams had good, but not championship years.

The boys basketball team did tie with Belmont for the Middlesex League crown but was eliminated by Belmont in the semi-final round of the B competition of the State Tourney at the Garden in a thriller, 53-52.

The high school hockey team was also eliminated, by Melrose, in the semi-finals of the State Interscholastic Tourney at the Boston Arena.

In Little League Circles Winchester failed to make the World Series, being eliminated by Woburn in the District Playoffs. The Dodgers, perennial town champs, won another crown by beating the new American League champs, the Reds.

Ken Cook maintained the Winchester Boat Club's supremacy in the Snipe competition at Marblehead Race Week, winning the New England, Eastern, Corinthian and Boston Championship Trophies for a clean sweep. Ann Legere won the Pleon Trophy for skippers under 21.

High School Girls' Coach Mildred Barnes went abroad this fall with the United States Women's touring Lacrosse team, and Alison Hersey, as the result of her showing in the Thanksgiving field hockey tryouts at Vassar, was selected as a member of the United States Women's Touring Team which goes to Australia next summer.

The Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church won the playoff from the Sons of Italy to annex the championship of the Park Soft Ball League.

Winchester boys did well on college gridirons this fall. Dave Pratt played a regular fullback for one of the best Dartmouth teams in years. Nils Nelson played an outstanding end for University of Maine and was elected captain of the eleven for next year.

Johnny Murphy played halfback on the University of Massachusetts Team and Peter Kirk played in the line at Tufts. "Jocko" Serieka was a regular halfback at Xavier University, the excellence of his play bringing him feelers from several professional football teams, despite the fact he is only a junior. Big Mike Murphy was the meal ticket fullback for St. Joseph's team until a shoulder injury forced him to the sidelines for the season.

At Annapolis Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo starred for the Plebe football team with Bellino turning in the outstanding average of 22 yards per carry. Jim Cullen played regular guard for the West Point first year team.

Thus far in the new basketball season Neil Muncaster and Bob Repetto are playing regularly with the Harvard Varsity and Long John Lynch is playing for University of Massachusetts. Jim Wright and Max McCreery are playing for Brown, Bob Smith is playing for Bowdoin and Bob Repetto's brother, Paul, is on the team at M.I.T.

COLLEGE CLUB STUDY GROUPS

Have you signed up for your 1958 Winchester College Club Evening Study Group? Please return your registration card as soon as possible. If you have not received one, please call Mr. or Mrs. Philip C. Efromson, chairmen, for further details.

The Study Groups are open to members and non-members alike and welcome couples or men attending though the College Club is a women's organization. Study Groups include: Books, Concepts in Mental Health, Contract Bridge, Current Affairs, Evenings with the Poets, Music, Play-Reading, Speed-Readings, Tomorrow's World — Frontiers of Science, and Travel.

Registrations should be in by January 10.

CARDIOLOGISTS TO ADDRESS MR. AND MRS. CLUB

Members of Mr. and Mrs. Club of St. Mary's Church, 162 Washington street, will hear two Massachusetts Heart Association cardiologists and view two films at a meeting to be held Wednesday evening, January 8, at 8:00 p. m.

The speakers will be Dr. Robert Fahey, associate professor at the Tufts College School of Medicine and chief of the medical staff, Lawrence Memorial Hospital, Medford; and Dr. Joseph O'Connor, a member of the faculty of Tufts Medical School.

Produced by the American Heart Association, the films to be seen will include "Circulation," and "Arteriosclerosis."

Chairman of the program is Mrs. Arthur Haley, 49 Salisbury street.

The Massachusetts Heart Association is dedicated to the fight against diseases of the heart and circulation which account for more than half of all deaths in the state and nation today. Programs of lifesaving research, education, and community services, made possible through its Heart Fund, are under way throughout the state.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

SECTIONAL MEETING IN WINCHESTER

The Winchester Council will be hostess to Section 1, on January 7, at the Cabin from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. when the Medford Council will again present "A Council Plan of Work." This was done at the Fall Sectional Meeting and considered an exceptional program, so will be given as a "repeat performance" here in Winchester. We hope every troop leader with her assistants and troop committee people will plan to attend. Members of the Board of Directors and Board Committee members should also be on hand, to see where their duties fit into a total plan of work for the entire Council.

Board Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Board will be held at the Girl Scout Cabin on January 9, at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Thomas M. Hill will preside.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

The spiritual basis of true health and holiness will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" will consist of readings from the King James Version of the Bible and correlative selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.

Scriptural selections will include the following from Psalms (48:1): "Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holiness."

The following will be read from Science and Health (518:19): "Love giveth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality, and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud. All the varied expressions of God reflect health, holiness, immortality—infinite Life, Truth, and Love."

WINCHESTER AT WEST POINT

The Belmont Pee Wee hockey team travelled to West Point New York last week end to play the West Point Pee Wees, by invitation of Jack Riley the Army hockey coach.

There were three Winchester boys on the all star squad of young hockey players all twelve years of age or under. They were Rod Wild as goal tender, Kent Parrot a wing on the first line, and Barry Johnson manager. The Belmont all stars won the game 4-2. Kent Parrot set up Bob Gardiner of Belmont for an assist and Rod Wild had nineteen saves in the net.

ATTENDED MID-WINTER CONFERENCE

Seven members of Metcalf Union, the high school fellowship at the Unitarian Church, attended the Midwinter Conference of New England Liberal Religious Youth, held at Exeter Academy last week.

The conference consisted of workshops, worship services and recreation. The central theme was "Let's Look at Ourselves." Several leading ministers and laymen of this area served as discussion leaders. Among them was Leo Dantona of Winchester.

The young people who attended were Greg Wood, Jonathan Handy, Thomas Kimball, Susan Black, Jean Gross, Leonard Mead and Carolyn Hutchings.

Metcalf Union members will meet this Sunday night for an interesting series of workshops in preparation for Youth Sunday, February 2, when they will conduct the entire regular church service.

SMITH COLLEGE BRUNCH

On Friday, December 27, the Winchester Smith College Club held a brunch at the home of Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley at 63 Yale street for high school juniors and seniors who might be interested in going to Smith College.

To assist the high school girls in becoming acquainted with the curricula and student social and administrative activities at Smith College were Anne Marks and Jean Dwinell, juniors, Catherine de Rivera, a sophomore, and Mary Kiley, a freshman.

The club was most grateful for their enthusiastic interest in the college and their help in answering questions from the floor. Refreshments of bouillion and coffee and sandwiches were handled by Mrs. F. C. Rozelle, Jr., and her committee.

Phillips Brooks calendars are now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Bldg. Oct. 18-tf

JORDAN MARSH'S NEW PEABODY STORE PROGRESSES

With the cooperation of this open winter's mild weather the John A. Volpe Construction Co. has been enabled to progress far ahead of schedule in building of the Jordan Marsh suburban shopping center at Routes 128 and 114 in Peabody to serve northeastern Massachusetts. This new photograph shows the brick-work practically completed, thus enclosing the building and permitting interior work in bad weather. There will be about 70 other stores, in addition to Jordan's, in this huge trading center, largest of its kind in America.

GREEN BEARS, PURPLE GEESE HELP AMERICAN SCIENTISTS

Many North American wild creatures wear identification tags—like delegates to a convention.

A woodsman today shouldn't be surprised to find a black bear with brilliant green haunches, or a purple goose. Waterfowl wear bright plastic neckties; sparrows sprout white chicken feathers; butterflies are emblazoned "Yale."

Such markings, the National Geographic Society says, help overcome one of the biggest problems of studying the behavior of animals in the wild: to human eyes, different members of the same species look alike.

Although new methods of marking are being developed, it is an old research tool. In the 4th century B.C., Aristotle had fishermen nick the fins of porpoises to learn their life span.

Banding Birds

Bird banding, the most widespread system of marking, was first practiced in North America by John James Audubon. In 1804, when Audubon was 19, he put silver wire around the legs of two nestling pewees in a cave near Philadelphia. The next year he found the birds nesting near by.

Systematic work with numbered bands did not begin in the United States until a century later. Since then some seven million American birds have been marked, and about one in ten of the bands has been recovered. The technique has taught a great deal about migration and other avian habits.

To read a numbered band, the ornithologist must have the bird in hand. For sight identification, bright plastic leg bands, neck rings, white feathers attached to plumage, and other tags were devised. Then things got out of control.

Too many people were putting too many things on the birds. Complaints came from hunters that ducks looked like flying dime stores. One experiment came to an abrupt stop when some ducks caught their bills in their neck bands and starved to death.

The United States Fish and Wildlife Service, which regulates bird banding, recalled all permits and rewrote them to make plain what they allowed. Special authority was required for use of the color tags. Experiments went forward on a reduced scale.

Dye Bath for Geese

One of the most easily recognizable tags" is a dye bath for the whole bird. White snow geese, for example, have been traced in California after being colored pink, green, yellow or purple. This technique is not limited to birds.

In New York State, biologists have trapped black bears, dosed them with ether, attached numbered ear clips and then, for easy identification in the woods, covered the hindquarters with green enamel.

Alaskan bears get different treatment. In a study to determine the extent of salmon fishing by bears, the big bruins were shot from behind with harmless arrows. The tips were vials that broke on impact and splashed the fur with dye.

Tiny paper strips attached to the wings of monarch butterflies in Canada have been recovered in Texas and Maryland, proving that at least some of these insects migrate south like birds. Now Yale scientists are stamping the name of their institution on butterflies in Florida to learn more about butterfly migration.

A homely means of marking, usually done from motives more personal than scientific, is carving the date and the finder's initials on the shells of turtles. A note of whimsey sometimes intrudes. Turtles have been found in the United States bearing such dates as 1492.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

There are two Christmas Islands one a lofty British possession in the Indian Ocean, the other a huge atoll among the Line Islands of the Central Pacific, the National Geographic Magazine says. Neither island is appropriately named, in North American terms, for white sand and coconut palms are the nearest approach to snow and evergreens. Both islands were christened by homesick mariners who sighted them at Yuletide.

The Bible story of manna being provided for the Israelites is buttressed by solid fact. During summer in the Sinai, the National Geographic Magazine says, scale insects secrete white droplets of a sweet and nourishing substance that seems to appear mysteriously on bushes.

A single oyster can produce as many as 100 million eggs a season.

An arch of whalebones commemorates the Falkland Islands' entry into the British family of nations, the National Geographic Magazine says. The arch, made from the jawbones of two sperm whales, overlooks the harbor at Stanley, the capital and only town of the island colony in the South Atlantic.

Gypsy cave dwellers of Andalusia, in southern Spain, often make attractive homes of their rugged and barren mountain shelters. Well-tamped floors, whitewashed walls, colorful decorations and furnishings create a warm, homelike atmosphere, says the National Geographic Magazine. Chimneys are cut through rocky roofs; interior doors and ceilings are arched for strength. The caves' painted openings and outside walls give an impression of man-made construction.

Porpoises, though air-breathing mammals, outswim most fish. They can remain under water no longer than three minutes, and usually surface for breath every 30 to 45 seconds, says the National Geographic Magazine. Porpoises sometimes kill sharks by butting the foes' tender gill slits with their tough snouts.

With no engineering experience, Ferdinand de Lesseps planned, promoted, and built the Suez Canal. He talked Turkey's Viceroy of Egypt into giving right of way in 1854, but four years passed before he raised the capital. Successful in building Suez, he failed when he tackled the mountain-blocked, fever-ridden Isthmus of Panama.

The world's largest bats, the "flying foxes" of Java, have a wingspan of nearly five feet, says the National Geographic Magazine.

Corn is the most important food plant in the United States. It is grown in every state, and on three quarters of all the farms. Though relatively little corn is eaten by people, vast quantities of it are fed to animals to produce eggs, milk, meat, and other animal products for man.

Water from the Amazon River freshens the Atlantic Ocean as far as 100 miles out to sea, the National Geographic Magazine says. The Amazon's discharge is greater than that of the world's three next largest rivers combined.

In South Dakota Badlands fossil bird eggs have been found so perfectly petrified that scientists can measure the shell thickness, and tell the yolk from the white.

A FISH FROM DR. CHIDLEY

BIRTHDAY PRESENT TO FORMER FIRST CHURCH MINISTER BRINGS RESULTS

Pictured above is Dr. Howard J. Chidley, minister emeritus of the First Congregational Church, shown with one of his catches at Marr's Moosehead Camps in Maine. The fish about which this story is told is not one of those in the picture, beauties though they may be and fit for presents for anyone.

Dr. Chidley and fish, or better perhaps, fishing! The two go together like the great duos of the ages, Damon and Pythias, Castor and Pollux, Gilbert and Sullivan, Barnum and Bailey. The good doctor's name is known around the camps at Moosehead, along trout streams near and far, and to all local fishermen, any ocean, any tonnage.

Dr. Chidley, during the days of his active ministry at the First Church, took fishing right into the church itself, conducting annual "Fishermen's Sunday" services, arranged by the late "Charlie" Lane, which will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to have attended them.

BOY FALLS THROUGH ICE ON WEDGE POND

Winchester's first reported skating accident at Wedge Pond occurred on Sunday afternoon when both the police and fire departments were informed that someone had fallen through the ice off Palmer Beach.

Patrol cars 51 and 52 responded and police officer Tranchita took the ambulance to the scene. The fire department sent for the rescue truck and engine no. 1. Upon arrival, the men found that George Gowdy, Jr., of 4 Lantern lane had fallen through the ice and had been rescued by friends.

The boy was taken home in patrol car 51.

WINCHESTER AT CONCORD

Winchester High School's basketball team journeys to Concord tonight to keep a Middlesex League engagement with Concord High School, commencing at 7 o'clock.

Seating accommodations are very limited at the Concord gym, and Winchester was alotted only 70 tickets, hardly enough to take care of the teams and their routine of coaches, managers, trainers and regular rooters.

Faculty Manager Ed Burns asked the Star to warn Winchester fans planning to go to the game without admission tickets that none will be sold to Winchester people at the gate.

The Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club held a tea for students and prospective students at the home of Miss Helen Forsythe, 6 Stratford road, Sunday, January 5. Students from Arlington, Winchester, Belmont and Medford were invited to meet members of the club and the other girls interested in Simmons College. Mr. J. Garton Needham, vice president of the college, was the guest of honor.

Hostesses from Winchester were Mrs. Donald Fritch, Mrs. M. H. Masters, Mrs. J. R. Marks, Mary Regan, Mrs. James Loftus and Mrs. William Glowacki. Mrs. Rony Synder, Mrs. Will B. Skerry, Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves and Miss Hilda Hope were Winchester pourers.

The following Winchester members contributed tea sandwiches and other refreshments: Mrs. Cedric Robinson, chairman; Mrs. Edwin L. Palmer, Jr., Florence Forsythe, Constance Lane, Mrs. Richard Lawrence, Ursula Walz, Mrs. Rony Snyder, Mrs. Donald Fritch, Mrs. J. R. Marks, Mrs. E. T. Blanch, Mrs. Chester Ladd, Mrs. James Walsh, Mrs. M. H. Masters and Mary C. Regan.

Other Winchester members and guests included Jacquelyn Keane, Janet Monro, Phyllis Schiraga, Carolyn Ann Parks, Connie Procopio, Margaret Erskine, Elizabeth Russell, Gloria Grant, Joyce Reardon, Kathy Reid, Evelyn Forsythe, Janet D'Errico, Dorothy Forsythe, Lois Smith, Helen Forsythe and Bertha Forsythe.

SKIDDING ACCIDENT IN SNOWSTORM

John A. Perry of 4 Elaine road, Woburn reported to police Tuesday night that he had a slight skidding accident while driving on Main street at about 5:00 p. m.

Mr. Perry was driving south on Main street and was approaching the Mystic Valley parkway when his car skidded and struck a Pontiac Beach Wagon which was parked on Main street about 75 feet south of the Parkway.

Damage to both cars was slight.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Douglas Robert Crawford of 296 Mt. Auburn street, Watertown, and Shirley Ann Nelson of 130 Mt. Vernon street.

Joseph Peter Abdella of 265 Washington street and Joanne Theresa Giaimo of 22 Wright avenue, Medford.

James Samuel Sampson of 1000 Paul Drive, Rockville, Md., and Marilyn Elizabeth Hiscoe of 2 Elmwood avenue.

ALICE STARTS FOR WINTON

This coming Sunday evening, Mr. John Palmer, director for the 37th Winton Club Cabaret, Alice in Wintonland, will meet with many of Winchester's talented residents to begin casting and rehearsing for the show. Accompanying him will be this year's General Committee, headed by Mrs. John I. Lynch. Her committee includes Mrs. George A. Blair, Mrs. Maurice T. Freeman, Mrs. Harold N. Stevens, Mrs. Thomas Worthen and Mrs. Ben R. Schneider, Treasurer. After many months of preparation and planning for "Alice," the coming two week rehearsal period at Wyman School will become the long awaited Cabaret at the Hown Hall on the evenings of January 29, 30, 31 and February 1.

Reservations must be made early for this ever gala and successful affair. Mrs. Bertram H. Dube is ticket chairman for Cabaret Nights, Friday and Saturday. Theater Night, Thursday, will be handled by Mrs. Geoffrey Neiley. Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth is in charge of tickets for Wednesday night, dress rehearsal, the "big" evening for some of the performers whose own children comprise the audience.

As in the past, many door prizes will be tended the lucky ticket holders. At each performance there will be presented a $10.00 gift certificate from Rentool, Inc. Drawings on Wednesday evening will be for a gift certificate from the Winchester Sport Shop. Glamorous door prizes await the lucky winners on the Cabaret evenings. There will be presented an opportunity for two hair stylings by Carita of Paris. One certificate will be redemeed at the Newbury street, Boston salon and one in New York at Henri Bendel's. Among other prizes will be an electrical appliance, the gift of an accessory from the House of Fashion, and a bottle of champagne.

Limitless time and effort on the part of many is necessary for as large a production as the Winton Club Cabaret. Among the diligent workers are Mrs. Elliott K. Blaisdell, music chairman; Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, chairman of decorations; and Mrs. William P. Coady and Mrs. Robert P. Wild, co-chairmen of costumes.

The ever increasing beauty and value of the Cabaret Program is made possible by the many Greater Boston and local businessmen who generously contribute their advertisements. This year the Program will include both a classified and alphabetical index of advertisers. The many Winton Club solicitors who obtain the ads are expertly supervised by the Program co-chairmen, Mrs. William J. Speers, Jr., and Mrs. Edward E. Kuypers.

COMMITTEE TO HOLD SCHOOL HEARING

Suggestions for additional senior and junior high school facilities will be the subject of a hearing on Tuesday, February 11, 1958, at 8:00 p. m. in the Music Room of the Senior High School.

The committee on Senior and Junior High School Facilities, which will conduct the hearing, urges everyone who has suggestions for solving the space shortage to attend and present his ideas in person.

Anyone who cannot attend the meeting is invited to send his ideas in writing to the committee chairman, Robert P. Bigelow, at 39 Grove street.

The hearing at the senior high school of February 11, will be the official committee meeting, but the committee plans just to listen to proposals. Those interested will wish to attend an earlier information meeting on Wednesday, January 22, sponsored by the Community School Association, at which the nature of the space shortage problem in the senior and junior high schools will be discussed by representatives of various town committees.

1958 Proposed Town Dept. Budgets Ask For More Money

The 62 proposed town department budgets for 1958 have been received at the office of the town accountant, James J. Costello, and are $154,000 higher than they were last year.

The budgets are filed with the accountant by law and then are submitted to the Finance Committee for revision and study. The budgets are then presented at the town meeting in March.

Last year the budgets as passed by the town meeting amounted to $3,196,000.00. If the proposed budgets are passed unchanged they will amount to $3,350,000.00 this year.

The School Department is one of those departments submitting a budget over that of last year. The $102,000 increase is broken down in this manner: salaries and wages $96,000; expenses $10,000; and outlays this year are $4,000 less. The salary increase reflects the full effect of last fall's teacher raises as well as the proposed raises for this year and the addition of six teachers next fall. The cost of running a bigger school plant has also necessitated a budget hike. Other expenses of the school department which will be greater in 1958 are the expanded adult education program and a summer school program.

The second largest budget increase for 1958 is in the Water and Sewer Department which is asking for an additional $29,000. The addition of three new wage jobs and the hiring of extra summer help is raising the budget some $18,000. Other expenses expected are general expenses of $6,000, and outlays, including a $3,200 brush clipper, are estimated at $5,000.

The Fire Department is asking for an additional $21,000 this year, $18,000 of which would go toward the purchase of a new 750 gallon per minute pumping engine to replace engine number 3 which is a 1925 model.

Other budgets over the 1957 level are the Old Age Assistance budget which is up $10,000; and the Payment of Maturing Debt which is up $10,000 due to the necessity of borrowing $110,000 more last summer for water.

The School Athletic Budget, for the Interscholastic Athletic program, has been separated from the School Department budget. The program is budgeted at $23,000 this year and it is expected that $9,800 will be received in ticket and gate receipts. The remaining $13,500 will come from the town. Expenditures in this budget are: coaches stipends, $6,000; temporary expenses such as ticket sellers, ticket takers and game officials, $3,000 and general expenses such as bus fares, etc., $14,000. The cost of the various sports runs about $8,500 for football; $3,000 for basketball; $3,600 for ice hockey; $2,200 for baseball and $1,200 for track.

The cafeteria budget this year will cost the town approximately $7,000. Part of this is due to the regular 6% wage increment which was voted all town employees last March and which will be charged for the whole year in 1958 rather than the nine months which showed up in 1957. This increase is responsible for higher budgeting in all departments this year. The cafeterias will cost about $104,000 in 1958 and $97,000 will be received from the Federal Government and from cash receipts.

Another budget up from last years is the Public Library which is requesting $5,000 additional this year. About $4,000 will be spent on salaries and $1,000 will go for expenses which includes new books.

On the other side of the ledger, several town departments are asking for less money in this fiscal year. The Highway Department budget is $33,000 under what was asked last year: $28,000 less for capital outlays; $3,000 less for general expenses; and $2,000 less in wages due to the heavy equipment bought last year which requires three less men to operate it. The Snow and Ice Removal budget is $11,000 less in 1958 also.

The Veteran's Benefits budget is down $5,000 due to a decrease in case load as there are not as many veterans in need at present. The Cemetery budget is down $7,000 because of a reduction in temporary help and the Interest on Temporary Loans budget is down $3,500 because it is felt that the Town will not have to borrow as much against taxes in 1958.

There is a possibility that all the budgets may get an additional hike if the new department, the Personnel Board, makes a recommendation for further increases in town employee wages this year. The Personnel Board studies and makes recommendations on salaries, wages, working conditions, fringe benefits for all Town employees other than for teachers, principals and school superintendents who come under the School Department.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR EMERITUS

A reception was held New Year's afternoon, January 1, from 4:00 to 5:30 in Chidley Hall of the First Congregational Church in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley. The occasion was the 80th birthday of Dr. Chidley who retired in 1953 after serving as Pastor of the Church for 38 years.

Assisting in the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Dwight L. Cart and Reverend and Mrs. Wesley A. Mallery. There were about 300 guests, including ministers of other churches and visitors from out of town.

Preceding the presentation and serving of a large three-tier birthday cake, the following toast was offered, to which Dr. Chidley replied with expressions of pleasure in his many years of service as pastor and with reminiscences of his experiences as a student at Oxford and as a young minister.

Toast to Dr. Chidley

"To Howard J. Chidley, our Pastor Emeritus, who for 38 eventful and fleeting years provided Christian leadership in our town, vigorous, outspoken and effective; under whose ministry First Church rose in prominence and influence with its lengthening shadow reaching outward and far beyond its little acre; a preacher who bit into the hard core of reality in his own life and in the lives of his parishioners; a pastor who was with us in sorrow and in joy, who christened children, their children and their grandchildren, joined in marriage parents and in turn their children and became woven into the fabric of the lives of second and third generations; strong, resolute, weak only in his surrender to the lure of the casting rod and the taut line; a warm and understanding companion, a man of humor and good fellowship; a man's man among men.

"To you, Howard J. Chidley, our Pastor Emeritus, and to you, Frances E. Chidley, our Pastor Emerita, many more years of good health, happiness, sunshine and pleasant sailing, and the enviable satisfaction that comes from lives consecrated to the service of others and from the priceless possession of a host of devoted friends you have made over the years on your journey along life's broad highway."

WINCHESTER VISITING NURSING ASSOCIATION

On Thursday evening, January sixteenth the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association will hold its annual meeting. This meeting is to be held in the auditorium of the Mystic School and is scheduled to begin at 8:30. Coffee will be served from 8:00 until 8:30 and the association cordially invites the public to attend this annual meeting. Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund, the executive director, will give her annual report at this time, this of course is always of great interest to the people of Winchester. The invited speaker is Dr. James Lyman Tullis who will speak on "New methods for the treatment of Radiation Injury."

Dr. Tullis is Senior Research Associate at the Harvard Medical School and of the Protein Foundation, former associate director of the Blood Characterization and Preservation Laboratory at Harvard and is now vice president of the American Society of Hematology.

The Visiting Nursing Association hopes that many Winchester citizens will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear such a distinguished speaker as well as the annual reports of the Association.

FIRE BOXES OUT OF ORDER

As the Star went to press Fire Alarm boxes 43, 42, 46, 47, 35, 481, 49 and 48 were not in working order, due to damage caused by the heavy snowstorm. Every effort is being made to get the boxes in working order, but it may be a day or so before this can be accomplished.

HEAVY SNOWFALL

Winchester had its first real snowstorm of the year this week, an early afternoon rain on Tuesday turning to snow by mid-afternoon with the snow falling heavily through the night.

Highway crews were out in the late afternoon sanding, and by 6:30 Tuesday evening all the town plowing equipment, augmented by ten hired trucks, was fighting the snow. This effort continued all night and through Wednesday until 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, though some of the exhausted workers commenced to "knock off" in the late afternoon.

Superintendent of Streets Jim Wakefield described the snow as the hardest to handle the men have had in some time, because of the heavy water content. Great difficulty was experienced in the West Side hill district and in some of the newer sections of town.

Moving the heavy snow took so long that in some instances the trucks were able to make only one trip through side streets and as a consequence driving was difficult Wednesday morning. Many cars were stuck about town, especially on hills, Tuesday evening and night.

Tree limbs were reported down about town with lights out on Wedgemere avenue and on Dunster Lane and Ridge street. Wires were down on Swanton and James streets and the fire department was called for burning wires at Lebanon street and Prospect street.

Both the police and fire department phones were swamped with calls about school sessions Wednesday morning. There was no school in town for children generally all day.

Superintendent Wakefield estimated the snowfall as about 12 inches before it started to pack down. The one good point about it was that the weight of the snow prevented drifting.

Trains were running Wednesday morning, but they were off schedule, and some trains going through town were so laden with commuters they did not stop at either Winchester or Wedgemere.

SGT. CHESLEY WHITTEN, JR.

M/Sgt. Chesley Whitten, Jr., USMC, a former Winchester boy, died in Korea, December 17, 1957, as the result of an accident believed to have taken place while he was gunning. He was an ardent huntsman and fisherman.

Sgt. Whitten, a career man in the Marines, was the son of Chesley, and Marjorie (Norton) Whitten. Both parents are well known here and were residents of Winchester when their son was born March 9, 1924, at the Symmes Arlington Hospital.

Sgt. Whitten spent his early life in Winchester, attending the Mystic School and later grammar school in Acton and high school in Portland, Me. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in April of 1942 and was a master sergeant at the time of his death with three and one-half years to go before retirement. He saw active service in the Pacific Theatre during World War II and again during the Korean campaign.

Sgt. Whitten had returned to Korea December 4 after a four years tour of duty at the Marine Air Base in Miami, Fla. His wife, the former Alma Wilson of Gray, Me., was waiting in Alameda, Calif., with their three children to join her husband in Korea when word of his death reached her. She and the children, Sharon, Dianne and Ronald, are living at 1014 Buena Vista avenue, Alameda. Besides them, Sgt. Whitten leaves his mother, living in West Concord, but at present seriously ill in a Boston Hospital; and his father who makes his home in Lynnfield.

Military honors were accorded at the funeral which was held Monday afternoon at Arlington National Cemetery in Fort Meyers, Va., where the committal was made. Simultaneously a family memorial service was held at Mrs. Whitten's home on Upland road in West Concord.

EAGLE SCOUT AWARDS

An unusual mass presentation of Eagle Scout awards will be made to six Winchester Scouts at the high school auditorium Saturday, February 8, at 7:15 p.m.

In addition, several Star and Life Scout awards will be presented at the same time. All Cubs, Scouts and Explorers and their parents have been invited to attend the ceremonies. The parents are particularly welcome.

It is a rare honor to have even one Eagle Scout award, since that is the highest award a youngster can win in scouting, so it is almost unheard of to have six such awards at the same time.

Jim Harrington, chairman of the Winchester district, will preside at the ceremony, and the presentations will be made by Charles Forbes of Medford, commissioner of the Fellsland Council.

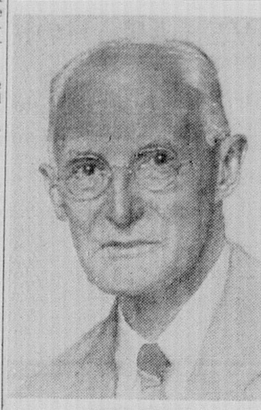
New Courses Added To Evening Program

Registration for the 1958 winter session of Adult Education will be held on Monday evening, January 27, at the Winchester High School from 7:30 to 9:30. The classes meet for ten Monday evenings, beginning February 3 and ending April 7. This program for adults is sponsored by the Winchester School Department.



JAMES NOWELL

James Nowell of 16 Stratford road, a life-long resident of Winchester, died Wednesday morning, January 8, at the Winchester Hospital at the age of 81. He was the husband of the late Anne Wood Nowell, who died on December 29, 1955.

Mr. Nowell was born on August 1, 1876, the son of Joseph Shaw Nowell and Mary Allen Nowell. He graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1895 and from Harvard College in 1899.

He entered the investment business and went to work for Lee Higginson & Co., and was made a member of the firm in 1918. In 1932 he became associated with Paine, Webber & Co., and was made a partner in that firm in 1935, as well as in the present firm of Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis.

Throughout his life, Mr. Nowell was identified with many civic and philanthropic activities. During World War I he was chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee for the state of Massachusetts. He served as a director of the Boston Better Business Bureau, a director of the Massachusetts Federation of Tax Payers Associations, and as a trustee of the Massachusetts Forest and Park Association, an organization founded by his father. For over a quarter of a century he served as a member of the board of managers of the Boston Dispensary, and in 1955 be became an honorary member.

Although having no desire for public office, Mr. Nowell always took a keen interest in town affairs. He was cemetery commissioner from 1910 to 1919, a members of the committee on school facilities in the early 1920's, and an active town meeting member for many years. He served as a member of the building committee for the present Winchester Public Library in 1930.

He was one of the original incorporators of the Winchester Community Chest and its president in 1940. He served until his death as a member of the special gifts committee for Red Feather. He was formerly a trustee of the Winchester Hospital and was a director of the Winchester Trust Company from 1926 through 1936. As one of the original trustees of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, he had served up to the present time.

He was a member of the Winchester Country Club, the Monday Club of Winchester, and the Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex. For over 30 years he and his family spent summers in Duxbury, where he was a member of the Duxbury Yacht Club. He had always been an enthusiastic participant in sports, baseball and mountain climbing in his younger years, and tennis until quite recently. In the years 1911, 1912, 1913 he played second base for the Winchester High School baseball team of 1895 in a series with the current teams of those years. He was a member of an alumni advisory committee on athletics for the high school in 1923 and 1924.

Mr. Nowell is survived by a brother, Allen M. Nowell, of Tucson, Arizona; three daughters, Katharine (Mrs. Richard J. Clark) of Winchester, Helen (Mrs. Charles H. Wood) of Wellesley, and Nancy (Mrs. Robert A. Brewer) of Berkeley, California; and ten grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Congregational Church. The minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, will officiate. It is requested that there be no flowers. Memorial contributions may be made to the Heart Fund at 650 Beacon street, Boston.

HOME ON LEAVE

A/2c Peter T. Gamage, who is on leave from Patrick Air Force Base at Cape Canaveral, Fla., is in town visiting his mother, Mrs. Lenore Thrift Gamage, at 64 Salisbury street.

Airman Gamage, a guidance system electronics technician in the 6555 Guided Missiles Squadron at Patrick, has been made an air cadet, class 59G, reporting January 21 at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas.

Gamage enlisted in the Air Force shortly after graduation from high school three years ago. Previous to his tour at Patrick A.F.B. he attended Guided Missiles School in Denver. He is leaving for San Antonio January 18.

MIRABELLO — McKENNA

Amid a bank of poinsettias and white gladioli, Miss Catherine McKenna of 3 Bacon street became the bride of Dr. Frank Mirabello of Everett at St. Mary's Church on Saturday, January 4.

Reverend Corrado Martelozzo PSSC, Provincial of the New England Province of the Order of St. Charles of Borremeo, presided at the wedding ceremony, Rev. Peter Bortolazzo, PSSC, pastor of St. Anthony's Church, Everett, sang the Nuptial High Mass. The Papal Blessing was received by telegram during the ceremony and was imparted to the bride and bridegroom through Father Bortolazzo.

Mrs. Helen P. Kelley of Winchester was the matron of honor and Dr. Graziano Capodilupo of Boston was the best man.

After a wedding trip to Florida Dr. and Mrs. Mirabello will reside in Everett, where Dr. Mirabello is a practicing physician and surgeon.

NAMED CRYOVAC VICE PRESIDENT

Mr. Manning C. Morrill of this town has been elected vice president for operations of the Cryovac Company Division of the W. H. Grace & Co. The Cryovac Company is located in Cambridge. Other plants are located at Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Simpsonville, S. C.; and Toronto, Canada.

Mr. Morrill, general manager of operations since January 1957, has been responsible for the overall activities of the company's operating division in the United States and Canada. Prior to that he served as manager of Cryovac's western division.

Before joining Cryovac in 1951 as plant manager in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Mr. Morrill was employed by the Dewey & Almy Chemical Company. He is a graduate of Massachusetts Intsitute of Technology, class of 1939, and obtained a Master of Science Degree from the Institute in 1940. A World War II veteran, Mr. Morrill resides at 69 Wedgemere avenue and has four children.

QUOTES FROM SERVICEMEN'S LETTERS TO WINCHESTER HOMEFRONTERS

Letters, cards and notes are beginning to arrive at the Library from the Winchester servicemen and women from all over the world. All of them express thanks to the people of Winchester for remembering them at Christmas time and here are a few notes from them: (The complete letters are up on the Bulletin Board in the library.)

"Being in the Navy I rather miss being at home at this time of year but your wonderful gift has taken me very close to home . . . thanks from the bottom of my heart" . . . Anthony S. Antonuccio, Atlantic Fleet AF.

"If you ever wonder if your work is appreciated just ask the boys in Barracks 715" . . . Pfc. Cecil W. Pride, Jr.

"Thanks to all for remembering me as you have for the past four years I've served in the Marine Corps. My tour of duty ends in January and I'd like to meet in person the people of your organization that have been so kind to me." . . . Sgt. Robert L. Nelson, U.S.M.C.

"Had no sooner opened package than the boys in the Supply Room has finished about half of it . . . the rest is safely locked away" . . . Lt. Rick Winterson.

"Your organization is doing a wonderful thing for the morale of servicemen. It's really a great feeling to know that the people of Winchester are thinking of us servicemen who are unable to spend Christmas with our loved ones . . . May God bless you with health and happiness in the coming year." Robert Lindsey, U.S.N.

"When the package arrived there was no one about. The grapevine went into action and within five minutes all the food and candy was gone. It was excellent." . . . Dick Wickerson.

"Over here in Korea we sorely miss our loved ones and the thrill of being together during the holiday season . . . your package has brought me closer to home . . . stationed as I am 10,000 miles from home in the midst of a culture diametrically different from my own." . . . Pfc. Marshall R. Pihl, Jr.

"I and the rest of the Destroyer Atlantic Fleet Basketball team wish to thank you for the wonderful box of candy and gifts." . . . Rodney W. Long, U.S.N.R.

"Just a short note to express my warmest thanks for the very nice Christmas package I received from the Town of Winchester through you. It certainly makes a serviceman proud of his home town when they take the care to remember him away from home." . . . Lt. Ronald C. MacKenzie, Artillery.

"Just received your box—it's an old friend, this being the second year I've enjoyed the contents. Merry Christmas to you all. You've begun the New Year by making others happy. Can't think of a nicer way to start. It's nice to know that others of my class from Winchester are opening similar ones—it brings us closer." . . . Lt. Douglas W. Hawkins, U.S.A.F.

"Our Christmas was warmed by the thoughtful package from you just before Christmas. My present job is Finance Clerk for 19th Anti-Aircraft group . . . there were five other fellows with me when I opened the package and they wishfully mentioned that their home towns had no organization which had a similar function." . . . Sp/3 Burt L. Knapp.

There are also notes from Ken Johnston, Sgt. Russell Nielsen, Bill Hosmer, Grace E. Jacobs, Navy Nurse Corps, Deanna Mele, Sp/2 James G. Port, David Ambrose, A3c Robert J. Quigley, Alan B. Haines, Pfc. Michael Connolly, Paul E. Dionne USAF, Carol and Mel Smith, Robert H. Foster and Anthony Bellino. You will enjoy reading them all, and new ones are coming each day.

MOUNT HOLYOKE "GAB-FEST"

A "gab-fest" was held Thursday afternoon, January 2, at the home of Mrs. Brad Hersey, 29 Woodside road for all Winchester High School juniors and seniors interested in attending Mount Holyoke College.

Winchester girls now at Mount Holyoke were the hostesses who presented a lively and enthusiastic program of get acquainted visiting over cokes and cookies while gathered around a friendly fire.

This was followed by slides of the college and discussions of such topics as Academic and Social life, Athletics, Outing Club, Scholarship, Choir and Orchestra, Journalism, etc. It was a fun, but informative party.

The college girls presenting the program were Alison Hersey, organizer, Nancy Ayer, Judy Cairncross, Cynthia Dennett, Judy Fowler, Dottie Pratt and Dottie Smith.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

WINCHESTER COUNCIL HOST

On Tuesday the Winchester Council played host to the Metropolitan Boston Section I at the Girl Scout cabin. Forty adult scouts from Wakefield, Melrose, Stoneham, Reading, Medford, and Winchester, heard an excellent presentation of Medford's "Council Plan of Work."

This study is the result of one year of analysis, organization and actual accomplishment by the Medford Council, resulting in a co-ordinated, visual calendar for the Council, for the Executive, and for all functional committees. It is planned for efficient use of the Executive's time and abilities, and to more adequately train and use the volunteer workers in more service and activities for and with the girls.

For efficiency of planning, actual accomplishment, and work well done, we salute the Medford Council.

Program Committee Meeting

The Program Committee will meet Tuesday, January 14, at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, 7 Perkins road, at 9:30 a. m.

Juliette Low Meeting

Juliette Low girls from all troops will meet Wednesday, January 15, at the cabin from 3:30 to 4:45 with Mrs. J. P. Eugley. This will be the last of our planning meetings before the World Friendship Fund is due, between February 17 and 21.

POST OFFICE BOX COMMUNITY SCHO ASSOCIATION

A committee from the Community School Association has been working on the arrangements for the panel discussion on the school building program to be held in the senior high school Wednesday, January 22. There will be speakers from each of the town committees involved, and so far there have been acceptances from four of the five committees invited to participate. Those who have agreed to send one member are the school building committee, the finance committee, the school department, and the school committee.

The Community School Association has taken a post office box so that anyone in town may submit written questions or suggestions before the meeting. The use of the box serves several purposes.

It will enable the committee to sort out the questions to prevent duplication and to channel the material to the proper panel member in time for him to prepare his replies, and it will give any person who cannot attend the meeting an opportunity to express his views on the subject. The post office box number is 54 (fifty-four), and letters may be addressed as follows:

School Building Program
P. O. Box No. 54
Winchester, Mass.

The panel discussion will be concerned mainly with the junior and senior high school building problems, and not with the possibility of an addition or new building in the Parkhurst area.

CURRENT AFFAIRS STUDY GROUP

Someone has divided the thinking public into two classes; those who learn more and more about less and less until they know everything there is to know about nothing, and those who learn less and less about more and more until they know nothing about everything. Few of us are "egg heads," but neither are we Mortimer Snerds, as the unknown author of the above would have us believe. But if by any chance you are tired of hashing over your business and household problems and would like to participate in some lively discussions of something new you'll be interested in the following announcement: the Winchester College Club will again sponsor a discussion group on current affairs.

This group will meet on alternate Tuesday evenings, beginning January 21, and meetings will be held in various group members' homes. Discussion topics will be chosen at the initial meeting but probably will include such subjects as racial integration, organization of our Department of Defense, and East-West relations. While special study assignments will be taken on by members from time to time, participation does not require any great amount of outside preparation. A delightful, constructive, and informative evening can be spent expressing one's own opinions and listening to those of others.

Those interested in joining the Current Affairs study group please call Mr. and Mrs. Emmons S. Ellis, WInchester 6-2568-R. It is especially desired that this group will be representative of all age groups within the town. This activity is not at all limited to people with college degrees. Everyone is welcome.

Also ask the Ellises when registering about the opening dinner meeting on Monday, January 13 at 6:30 p. m. with Dr. Robert H. Anderson, lecturer on Education from Harvard University as the speaker on "Creative Approaches to the Teacher Shortage."

NEW DISCUSSION SERIES "EXPLORING UNITARIANISM"

The education committee of the Women's Alliance under the chairmanship of Mrs. George E. Kimball announces a series of discussions to be called "Exploring Unitarianism." The Rev. Robert A. Storer has generously agreed to act as the leader at these meetings, four in all, beginning next Wednesday, January 15. They will be held in the ladies' parlor, entrance on Main street.

These discussions have been designed to appeal not only to members but also to friends and neighbors not connected with the church. The subject matter will be so thought-provoking that outside reading from a suggested bibliography will be the best way to gain the most from the program. For instance, for this first discussion period, the subject is "Old Testament Origins and Development of Unitarian Thought in the Early Christian Church." So besides Bible passages including Exodus 20: 3:1, Corinthians 8:4-6, Mr. Earl Morse Wilbur's "Our Unitarian Heritage," Chapters 1-4, is recommended. The books will be available at cost, a few are on loan.

The other dates in this series are February 19, March 19, and April 16. All are welcome.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF ENLARGED FACILITIES FOR THE UNITARIAN CHURCH SCHOOL

Better Facilities for Church School

Unitarian Building Program Under Way

Improved and expanded facilities for the church school is the aim of the Winchester Unitarian Society in a program launched last month. The expansion has been made necessary by a doubling of enrollment over the past seven years, and by a much higher attendance in all classes.

In 1950, when Mr. Robert A. Storer became minister of the Unitarian church, there were 16 teachers and 180 pupils in the school. This year there are 22 teachers and 362 pupils, and the high school class has grown from 13 to 63. There has been a corresponding growth in church membership, too, but the shortage of space has been most acute in the school, where every inch of space has been pressed into use and where little separation of classes has been possible. The difficulties of carrying on a consistent program of instruction under such conditions has led the Society to embark on its first major building effort in 30 years.

Over a year ago a Facilities Committee consisting of Mrs. Richard D. Bolster, Mrs. Warren P. Eldridge, Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, Mrs. Russell Symmes, Mr. Lynwood S. Bryant, Mr. George W. Hayden, Jr., and Mr. Harry L. Wood (Chairman), began to study various solutions to the problem. With the help of Mr. Arthur H. Brooks, a Cambridge architect with considerable experience in church construction, a plan was developed for building 13 additional classrooms and associated facilities within the present Lawrence Hall, which was originally designed as a meeting hall. By putting in a second floor and replacing the present high-pitched roof with a flat one, these new rooms will be built within the existing walls and foundation.

As is shown in the architect's drawing above, only the southeast wall (next to the High School) of the present structure will be changed, and this will take on the appearance of a school building with two rows of large windows. The plans also call for a new worship center, a relocation of the ladies' parlor and a new kitchenette to go with it, and new office space for the Director of Religious Education.

The period of construction seems to provide an appropriate opportunity for a number of other changes which have been desired. It is planned to modernize and re-equip the kitchen, to change the heating system in Metcalf Hall, and to redecorate much of the church at the same time. Detailed drawings for most of the project now are ready.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Warren P. Eldridge, Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, Mr. John S. Morgan, Mr. Horace H. Ford, Mr. Wade L. Grindle and Mr. Don R. Kroell (Chairman) have been working with the architect on the execution of the project, and a committee consisting of Mrs. William E. Spaulding, Mr. Ralph H. Bonnell, Mr. Henry A. Dellicker, Mr. John H. Lyman, Mr. Eugene G. Rochow, and Mr. Ganson P. Taggart and Mr. Raymond Holdsworth (co-chairmen) has been appointed to raise the necessary funds.

TRACK MAN RUNNING AD SERVICE

When Winchester sports followers think of Kenny Brown they recall his prowess over hill and dale and on the high school cinder track; also the fact that he holds the school record for the mile run.

Ken graduated last June and is a freshman at Wesleyan where he is continuing his running, and also participating in an advertising venture that is worth more than a passing glance.

The former Winchester track star is manager of Westronn Associates with a postoffice address at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. As such he is playing a leading part in the publication of a Wesleyan desk blotter and a Trinity desk blotter on which some twenty firms buy advertising space.

The blotters are distributed free to the students at Wesleyan and Trinity as well as to the faculty members and their wives. In addition to the blotter space the participating advertising firms get space in the college newspapers and on bulletin boards, plus mailing lists of student and faculty prospects.

Blotter retention is assured by serially numbering the blotters and having a unique lucky number award.

Ken comes by his advertising interest naturally. His dad, Nelson, of Francis circuit, has been in sales promotion and advertising for years. He says Ken's college blotter idea, while old basically, has some new wrinkles that make it quite different.

MARCH OF DIMES TO HONOR WORKERS

"Two coming events for the March of Dimes will be the honoring of 20-year volunteers of the Blue Crutch Campaign of the American Legion," said Theodore J. Boecker, 49 Wildwood street.

"Volunteers who have given two decades of service in the fight against polio will receive recognition at a county-wide coffee party at the Hotel Commander on Saturday, January 11. Carl de Suze, well known radio personality will be host.

"The American Legion will once again demonstrate its public service by seeking contributions next week on January 16, 17, and 18," said the local chairman.

HUB CAPS STOLEN

Mr. Legrow of 15 Leonard street, Woburn called the police a week ago Thursday night to report that he had lost two hub caps in Winchester.

Mr. Legrow had parked his car in the Winchester Theater parking lot that night and when he came out to the car the hub caps were missing.

WINCHESTER 49, STONEHAM 39

A bitter Sachem five still stinging from being defeated by Lexington the previous Monday won easily over visiting Stoneham 49-39 last Friday evening at the high school gym. It was the Sachem's first home game of the 1958 campaign and they played without their captain and veteran center, Hank Schumacher, out with a knee injury.

A 23 point first quarter by the Sachems started the contest off with a bang. The red hot hoopsters had a 70% field goal average. Stoneham tallied only 11 points in the opening stanza.

The second period found both teams playing sluggish ball. The Sachems scored 9 points this quarter to lead 32-15 at the half.

The second half of the game produced very little scoring, in fact the Sachems tallied only 17 points in the last two periods to Stoneham's 24.

Three Sachems hit double figures, "Vandy" French, sophomore guard, led the team with 14 points while "Richie" Roberts and Joel Peckham followed with 12 and 10 points respectively.

The Indians out rebounded Stoneham 40-33 with Dave Schumacher grabbing 18 and Richie Roberts 10. Winchester's field goal average was 42%, while Stoneham compiled a very low 22%. "Vandy" French also led the Sachems with 5 assists. Winchester's record is now 6 wins and 1 defeat.

JAMES L. JENKS, JR.

LADIES' NIGHT SPEAKER

The Men's Club of the First Congregational Church will hold its annual Ladies' Night on Wednesday, January 15. The evening's program will be preceded by a catered dinner in Chidley Hall at 6:30. Mr. Joseph Hall is in charge of dinner reservations and may be reached at WInchester 6-1211.

The Club is fortunate to be able to present one of its own members, Mr. James L. Jenks, Jr., as speaker on this special occasion. Mr. Jenks has long been known for his deep interest in medical research and today is president of Sanborn Company with which he became associated in 1925.

Mr. Jenks, in collaboration with Dr. Francis Benedict, recorded the first successful electrocardiogram ever taken on an elephant at the Ringling Brothers' Circus in 1936. Then, in 1952, with Drs. Paul Dudley White and Robert L. King, Mr. Jenks recorded the first electrocardiogram ever taken on a whale. He also participated in Dr. White's succeeding whaling Expeditions. An account of a recent hair-raising trip appeared in the July 1956 issue of the National Geographic Magazine.

His talk, which is entitled "Whale Hunting for Medical Research," will be as fascinating to the ladies as it will to the members.

As an added attraction on the program, the Club will present the Winchester High School Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Wendell S. Withington.

President Carl Wood predicts that this will be a very popular and extremely interesting meeting and therefor suggests that reservations be made early.

ST. MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB TO HEAR FR. OUELLETTE

The guest speaker at the January 15th meeting of the St. Mary's Mothers' Club will be the Rev. Henri P. Ouellette, Chaplain of Matignon High School. He will discuss the subject of discipline.

Hostesses for the meeting will be the third grade mothers, headed by Mrs. John Malloy and Mrs. Frederick Brigham.

COUNTING ON WINCHESTER BOY

NAVY HIGH ON BELLINO'S FOOTBALL POTENTIAL

Even while Navy rooters were still toasting the Middies' impressive victory over Rice in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day, members of the football coaching staff at the Naval Academy, with all those who saw his exploits on the gridiron this fall as an Annapolis plebe, are looking ahead to seeing Winchester's Joe Bellino in a varsity uniform next fall.

Bellino, who had the distinction of making every Greater Boston interscholastic team as a senior at Winchester High, and was also chosen for the national honorary Italian schoolboy eleven of the Sons of Italy, had an impressive year as a first-year man at the Academy.

In 13 games Giuseppe scored 13 touchdowns and averaged well over 100 yards a game. His individual yards average per carry was a whacking 22. Even accounting for the difference between plebe and varsity ball, 22 yards a carry is something to make any football coach's eye glisten in contemplation and to have him dreaming dreams of what can happen when he has such a back in his varsity machine.

Comd. Jack McQuary, plebe head coach, gets enthusiastic every time he talks about Bellino. "There is no question about it," McQuary says, "I'll stake my judgement that this Bellino is the finest halfback prospect I've ever seen."

Standing a half inch under the 5ft. 10in. mark, Bellino scales 187 pounds, about 15 pounds more than his high school weight. "He's a most deceptive runner," says McQuary, with "moves now as a plebe you don't see the pros have." Some of the other good plebes will improve more than Bellino, McQuary believes, because as he says, "Bellino hasn't much room for improvement."

Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz isn't one to make advance predictions about players but it is no secret that he is eager to have Winchester's Bellino and a big 197-pound fullback, Joe Matalavage, from Mahoney City, Pa., in varsity uniforms. McQuary believes Matalavage and Bellino will be the closest combination to the old Blanchard-Davis combine of West Point since Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside hung up their cleats.

Though not so highly publicized as his backfield teammate, big Frank Dattilo played an outstanding end on the plebe team this fall, and will make a great bid for varsity recognition another year.

Winchester will have its eyes on this pair when the Middies come to Boston in 1958 to play Boston University.

J. V. DEFEAT STONEHAM

The Winchester J.V. defeated Stoneham at Winchester last Friday evening, 57-54. The teams were well matched, and the best margin between them was 8 points in the first period. Winchester left the floor at the half leading by only two points.

In the scoring department, Paul Del Rossi and Hank Kiley were high scorers for the Sachem Juniors with 14 and 13 points respectively. Halligan was high for the visitors netting 18 points. The summary:

RED CROSS NOTES

Mr. Royce Randlett as chairman of Winchester chapter of American Red Cross takes pleasure in announcing that the chapter has now moved to its new headquarters, 84 Washington street (the old Cutting House) from the top floor of town Hall.

Volunteers who are willing to staff the new headquarters weekly, either Monday or Thursday, are urged to contact Mrs. Cusack at WInchester 6-2300.

Every Tuesday, under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. Eben Ramsdell, the ladies make surgical dressings in its room. You should have watched Mrs. Ramsdell's group earnestly at work this Tuesday afternoon as the movers brought in the last of the packing boxes to "Production Room," second floor.

To the volunteers of Junior Red Cross; the chapter is pleased to welcome you to your headquarters. You have space in our dining room.

Canteen committee, under chairmanship of Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald and Mrs. Kingman Cass is pleased with the big kitchen and pantry facilities for its work. The Canteen committee is going to make a plea for kitchen utensils and equipment to outfit them. Its members served tea Visitors Day this past Sunday, January 5, at Bedford.

Disaster: under the chairmanship of Mr. William Wilde, Jr., now finds a room for its supplies in the basement at 84 Washington street.

Blood Day January 27

The blood committee under chairmanship of Mr. Earle Spence, Jr., and Mr. Lawrence Smith is pleased with a room for its supplies in the newly painted basement. Remember the date, January 27, for Blood Day in Winchester.

Home service committee under the chairmanship of Miss Natalie Jewett and Mrs. J. Edward Downes finds a private office for all activities at the head of the stairs on the second floor.

Home nursing with Mrs. W. L. Wiklund as chairman is pleased to at last find all supplies in the cozy room on the second floor.

Production committee shares its quarters with the class room for all the "Services" in the big room on the second floor.

The new chapter house, with a bare living room, welcomes your interest in its behalf. Please telephone first in this regard, WInchester 6-2300. We are anxious to make our living room as fine as the one at home and presently need rugs (two 9 x 12) in good condition), comfortable chairs, lamps in good condition, and money to buy draperies for many windows in this room.

The office is covered, nine a. m. to four p. m., each day, telephone WInchester 6-2300. Come and see us.

Mr. and Mrs. Floris Vandenberg and son, Hank, visited over the weekend with Mrs. Margaret Withington of 20 Hancock street. The Vandenbergs are the Hungarian refugees who were helped by the Church of the Epiphany. Mr. Vandenberg is now teaching Latin and soccer at Peekskill Military Academy in Peekskill, N. Y.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE CINDERELLA CAST

CINDERELLA COMES TO WINCHESTER

Mrs. (Harold) Ann Young, socially prominent North Shore and Boston Children's Theatre director has been selected to direct "Cinderella," the next production of the Winchester Community Theatre.

Mrs. Young has been identified with the theatre for many years and has appeared on radio and television in her own program. At present her special interest is teaching through the medium of Creative Drama. She has her own Children's Drama Workshop in Winthrop where she makes her home.

Dominic Poleo, a talented and imaginative young scene designer from Boston University, is working on the sets for "Cinderella" and when you see the Magic Coach actually appear on the stage you will be as excited as we are.

Cinderella promises to be a colorful and exciting event that every child and adult will enjoy. Reserve these dates.

At the Winchester High School Auditorium Friday, January 17, at 3:30 p. m. and Saturday, January 18 at 2:00 p. m.

The following young actors are members of the cast:

Karen Horley, Richard Howard, Elizabeth McKenzie, Matthew McKenzie, Christine Morrocco, Alicia Paulson, Barbara Paulson, Susan Phipps, Edith Braithwaite, Marita Corcoran, Bill Chase, Mary Elliot, Ann Foley, Debbie Foster, Marcia Horley, Arthur Hubert and Ellen Kaknes.

POP WARNER FOOTBALL LEAGUE ORGANIZES

At a meeting held in Winchester on Monday night a new Pop Warner Suburban Football League was organized under the direction of Scott Parrot, Winchester coach of the local Pee Wee Football Team.

Representatives from nine communities, including, Melrose, Everett, Medford, Newton, Wellesley, Wakefield, Needham, Lexington and Woburn attended to discuss rules and regulations governing the development of a football program for boys ages nine through thirteen.

By subscribing the suburban group to the National Pop Warner Conference certain benefits will be derived, such as insurance, strict adherence to age and weight limitations, opportunities for both scholastic and athletic achievements and even invitational contests into sectional areas out of the New England area.

An executive committee was appointed as follows: Charles Kerk, Wakefield; Miles C. Page, Wellesley; John W. McCleod, Needham; and Robert E. Johnson, Winchester.

DANVERS PUCKSTERS BLANK WINCHESTER

4-0 DEFEAT DROPPED INDIANS TO FOURTH

Winchester dropped to fourth place in the Northeast Conference Division of the North School Hockey league by losing 4-0 to Danvers last Saturday at the Lynn Arena.

Glenn Weaver scored three times for Danvers with the other tally going to Bob LePage. The smooth-working Danvers team kept the pressure on Winchester much of the time, and had it not been for several good saves by "Doug" Gowdy in the Winchester net the Onion Towners' advantage could well have been greater.

The game was only 31 seconds old when Weaver scored what as things turned out was the only goal necessary to assure victory. He took a pass from Whooley and shot from 30 feet out, the puck taking a tricky hop just did elude Gowdy.

Weaver scored again four minutes later, again on a 30 footer, but this time without help. His shot was partially screened and Gowdy never had a chance on it.

The Indians looked better in the second period, but try as they would, they couldn't beat goaler Godzik in the Danvers net. For the most part the Winchester shots were right on the goaler.

With a 2-0 advantage entering the final period, Danvers added another in the first minute when Weaver got his third goal, this time from in close with assists to Ayles and LePage.

Two minutes later LePage ended the scoring by ramming home a goal from 12 feet out after the Danvers front line had penetrated the Winchester defense. The summary:

Danvers (4)—Godzik g, Griffen rd, Whooley ld, Ayles rw, LePage c, Weaver lw.

Winchester (0)—Gowdy g, Cullen rd, Eaton ld, Harkins rw, R. Scott c, Davenport lw.

Danvers Spares: Levison, Coyne, Lewis, Williams.

Winchester Spares: Kelly, Powers, Emerson, Sullivan, D. Scott.

First Period: goals: Weaver (Whooley) 0:37, Weaver (unassisted) 4:13.

Third Period: goals: Weaver (Ayles, LePage) 0:51, LePage (Ayles) 2:53.

SACHEM'S SHARPSHOOTERS WIN

Last Monday the boys' rifle team was led triumpantly by Captain Bob Donaghey over Acton. The final score was Winchester 867 to Acton's 738. The visitors in their year of competition in the Middlesex League proved to be no real threat against our boys.

The top five shooters for Winchester was as follows:

Captain Bob Donaghey, 179; Phil Bornamen, 179; Charlie Petri, 173; George Ducharme, 172; and Nick Rosa, 170.

This totaled for a winning score of 867. The high man for Acton was Annagle with 155.

This was team's first match of the season. Mr. Aversa comments, "I am very pleased with the results of this first match and look forward to a very successful season and I also look forward to this team breaking the team record of 890.

Good luck boys, Friday night with your match against Waltham.

YW LISTS CLASSES

New classes in subjects ranging from fishing to atoms and space travel are listed in the Boston Y.W.C.A.'s winter catalog just off the press. Records of the YW indicate that more than sixty Winchester residents participated in one or more activities at the 140 Clarendon street building during the year just past.

Registration for the winter term opens January 13 and classes begin the first week in February. With a view to summer sun and fun canoe paddling, fishing and extra swimming classes have been included in the sports curriculum.

A monthly Family Night program beginning at 7:30 p. m. tonight, January 10, will offer an evening of recreational activities or handcrafts for participation by the entire family.

SENIOR FORUM

The Rev. Dr. Peter Y. F. Shih, Pastor of the Chinese Christian Church of New England, will be the guest speaker at the Senior Forum service Sunday at 9:30 a. m. in Ripley Chapel. Dr. Shih is a popular Forum speaker. He is an authority on Chinese people and Chinese Christian work in our country.

Before coming to America, Dr. Shih was for seven years Dean of West China Theological Seminary in Chengtu. He is a world traveler and lecturer, having spoken in many countries in Europe as well as in forty-two of our United States. He believes emphatically that the godless communism of China is bound to fail, and that Christian work from outside China will be opened again.

For his Forum subject he has chosen the topic: "Possibilities of Youth." Gordon Peil will be chaplain and Martin Kazanjian assistant chaplain. The deacons will be George Elwell and Rick Stewart, with Leroy Shea and Andy Sjoholm serving as ushers.

An "Open House" is planned by Forum to follow the Winchester-Belmont basketball game Friday, January 17. Chidley Hall will be open after the game and until 11:30. Refreshments will be served. There will be dancing to records. The Social Committee, Phyllis Rutter and Dave Schumacher, co-chairmen, are in charge of arrangements.

Forum wishes to express its appreciation to all the townspeople who patronized their tree sale during the Christmas season. A substantial sum of money was raised for Forum's annual spring trip.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY NOTES

W.H.S. Freshman Hockey Team defeated Belmont Hill School 2-1 in a highly competitive game last Saturday at the Lynn Arena. The first period looked more like sandlot shinny than hockey and ended in a 0-0 tie. The initial score of the game was made by Ty Peabody, a Belmont Hill player who lives in Winchester. After that, things started moving and Winchester commenced a good passing attack which bore results when Andresen made a nice pass to O'Callaghan, the latter quickly converting it into a Winchester tally. In the third period, when the hockey began to reach scorching proportions, Andresen again set up O'Callaghan with a beautiful pass that produced the winning score of the game.

Steve Wilson substituted for John Reardon on right wing and did a commendable job. Parker Gray made his debut as center in this game. Bill Callahan, who has transferred from forward to defense, is learning his position and should be a real help to the regular defensemen, Joe Emerson and Steve Morison.

Jerry Marks, home on vacation from Governor Dummer Academy, handled the referee's duties in splendid fashion. The next game is a league game against Lexington at 11:30 tomorrow in the Boston Arena.

MR. ROLAND NADEAU

TV PROGRAM SUCCESSFUL

Mr. Roland Nadeau, Prof. at the New England Conservatory of Music and organist and choir director at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, recently presented a delightful and interesting program on Channel 9 at 9:00 p. m. Those who watched the program responded that they discovered a new interest in music out of this unique presentation. The program is entitled "Let's Make A Song." Those interested in music, from the average layman to the musical artist, might wish to share in the program.

From this presentation of mass education people are invited to write and ask for information or advice concerning the writing of a musical piece. Mr. Nadeau, whose address is 39 Henry street, Winchester, will be on TV again a week from this Tuesday at 9:00 p. m. and will continue his series of lectures every other week through a period of twelve weeks.

Announcement of the date set for the hearing being held by the committee studying the need for additional facilities in the town's secondary schools should be noted well. Everyone interested in this vital problem should save the date and plan to attend.

The solution of the school facilities problem is one that will have a large bearing on the tax rate, now and in the future. At best providing additional quarters for our school children is going to be costly..

How costly is, of course, going to depend upon what the town believes to be a sound solution of the problem this time. If we read the signs aright, the town meeting is likely to have rather a different attitude toward school building plans and costs than it has had in the past.

The hearing being held by the Committee on Senior and Junior High Facilities, mentioned above, should not be confused with a panel discussion of the school building problem being held by the Community School Association (the Former Mothers' Association) on January 22. The School Facilities Committee hearing takes place Feburary 11.

Both should provide valuable information for those who want to know about our pressing school space problem. Why not attend both?

FRIENDLY ENLIGHTENMENT

Editor of the Star:

It is always a pleasure to welcome to our fine town any citizen who will contribute much of his or her talented accomplishments to the well being of our community.

If this contribution is made in a spirit of helpfulness to the general well being of all and not for personal gain, all well and good. But, reading the recent article of Mr. Roland L. Nadeau's personal musical acclamation published in your valued paper of the January 3 edition, I am wondering!

I think it would have been in better taste if the gentleman had ommited his reference to the lack of musical organizations in our Community and the need also for his own proposed mixed choral organization. Having been in and around Winchester for five years, the gentleman should be better acquainted with our Community's musical status.

For his information, I would like to say that for seventeen years, the fine musical lovers of our Community have faithfully sponsored and supported one of the best male singing organizations in the New England states; namely, the Mystic Glee Club, organized in 1940.

Being one of the co-founders and past president of this fine singing group of men, I think I am in a position to say that the club has contributed much to the promotion and enjoyment of fine cultural music in our Community. The club has won distinction and honor in the form of several awards for its fine musical performances presented in competition with many other male singing clubs of the New England Federation of Male Glee Clubs, of which it has long been a member. The excellence of its work has been acclaimed by many noted musical critics, one being Dr. Thompson Stone, a well known Boston Musical director.

Several years ago there was a large mixed singing organization and one or two in recent years but they died a natural death because of the lack of community interest and support in this form of music. My personal opinion is that this Community is pretty well satisfied with its popular male singing group and the excellent type of programs it presents twice a year. I might further say that the club donates a certain sum of money every year to help sponsor some worthy young musical enthusiast to further his or her musical career.

Any idea that a mixed choral organization would succeed in this Community is being optimistic, as, judging by all previous attempts, it will meet the same fate as those in the past.

Winchester, I am told, had a try at a large scale orchestra many years ago. Apparently the support accorded it was not such as to warrant either its continuance, or another try at such an organization. In the twenties the late Walter Rice organized the Lincoln Players, a smaller orchestra, active for a few years, but never on a town-wide basis.

In the spirit of friendly enlightenment to a well intended musical personage, I am,

Respectfully yours,
Carl W. Wood
26 Fernway

THOUGHT PROVOKING!

January 6, 1958

Editor of the Star:

May I call attention of your readers to Chief Harrold's remarks in the Star for January 3, page 6. The information he gives is important to every one.

Did you know, for example, that a police officer can not lay his hands on a young tough without risk of facing, in court, a charge of assault? That was quite a jolt to this writer. As an ex-teacher, it was a reminder of the sissy restrictions many school teachers are obliged to keep in mind when faced with the problem of the unruly pupil. Teachers can not touch a defiant boy or girl. Teachers seldom get redress, in cases of impudence, say, from parents or School Boards; and the pupils know this!

Above are some of the basic reasons why discipline is so lax and why there is so little joy in the teaching profession, these days! Now we find another Department "Unhappy" and are informed why Juvenile Delinquency has got out-of-hand. To be told that even our police officers must look-the-other-way, sometimes, and seldom get tough with young rascals; is indeed, "Thought provoking."

What can be done?

For one thing, could not the Selectmen send to the police department, a written directive or letter, giving full discretionary power to officers trying to enforce the law and keeping order? There will be no decrease in vandalism and other disorderly conduct by teenagers, until such young people are truly impressed by The Right of the Law.

For a second step we can try a like-procedure in the School Department. Teachers should be given discretionary power in the enforcement of discipline in all our schools. Can we hope that the School Board will start a new policy that will recapture the spirit of respect by pupils for their parents and for their teachers alike?

Many cases of Juvenile Delinquency start in our schools when a boy or girl finds that they can be anti-social and get-a-way-with-it, unpunished!

AGAIN OUR THANKS!

Editor of the Star:

The Winchester Community Relief Committee wishes through the Star to express its heartfelt thanks to all who assisted in its efforts to provide cheer for the town's less fortunate residents during the Thanksgiving and Christmas Holidays.

Through the kindness of the Winchester Star, we were able to gladden many hearts with gifts of food and canned goods, vegetables, oil, shoes, clothing, toys and other necessary items. Also the money that was generously donated from clubs, societies, and private individuals.

The committee particularly appreciated the action of private persons who took the responsibility of caring for individual families with food and wearing apparel and the assistance rendered by all of the town's churches, both at Thanksgiving and Christmas and the help extended by the:

Winchester Branch of the Salvation Army.
En Ka Society.
Winchester Council No. 210, Knights of Columbus.
Kiwanis Club.
Winchester Lodge of Elks
Red Cross.
Winchester Post, American Legion.
Emblem Club.
St. Vincent de Paul Society.
Winchester Girl Scouts.
Winchester Boy Scouts.

A Happy New Year to you all, and may the knowledge that you helped bring happiness to your less fortunate friends during the Holidays increase your own happiness ten fold.

Winchester Community Relief Committee: Homer G. Davidson, president; Mrs. Maxwell R. McCreery, treasurer; Miss Nellie M. Sullivan, secretary.

WELL, THIS ONCE, COURTNEY!

Editor of the Star:

All of us working on the various facets of the 1957 United Fund drive wish to sincerely thank "our" newspaper for its tremendous support.

In addition to running all the news releases (often arriving right at deadline time), you devoted literally pages and pages to advertising the Fund. This in itself was a major contribution, for those pages represent real revenue when occupied by paying advertisers.

We want you to know just how much all this helped. The Star was a good way to reach most everybody with the new Fund story—to tell those who had no opportunity to give at work that we still very much needed their support. The fact that $25,000, a whopping, all-time record, was raised in residential soliciting is the best darned proof-of-the-pudding we can give you of your importance. And of our gratitude.

We hope you will forget your modesty just this once, and publish this letter. So that all our townspeople will realize the role you played in the Fund—and more important—your role in our community life.

Sincerely,
Courtney A. Crandall
for the United Fund team

DON'T FORGET THE AUCTION

It isn't time for it of course! The big Rotary Auction to raise money for the club's well known charities is one of the events of the spring season in Winchester, but Chairman Larry Chase says it isn't a bit too soon to be digging up stuff for the auction from the family garret and cellar.

In this opinion Mr. Chase is joined by the other members of the auction committee, "Al" Elliott, the Homespun Boy; Brother "Syd", and those mighty hunting men, "Nick-Fitz", the ex-Mayor; and "Chub" Murphy.

Remember anything is welcome and will be called for, but quick!

FIRES

Monday, January 6, Mrs. Bartlett of 306 Cross street called at 12:45 to report a grass fire. Firefighters were quickly on the scene and had it under control.

At 8:42 p. m. E. Hallet Nowell of 10 Mason street called to report a chimney fire at his house.

Tuesday, January 7, the police called at 10:10 to report that wires were burning on Prospect street. The wires were electric wires and they had been broken by a tree branch which snapped under the weight of the snow.

Wednesday, January 8, Chester Dyson of 17 Lebanon street called shortly after midnight to report that Edison wires were burning near his house. This fire was also started by a tree limb breaking from the snow and falling across the wires.

At 9:40 a. m. Carlton M. Strong of 326 Highland avenue called to report a car on fire in front of his home. The fire engines were ready to go when Mr. Strong called again to say that the fire was out. Fire Chief James E. Callahan went to the spot and found that the car had a flooded carburetor.

COURT DRIBBLES

This year 80 boys tried out for Winchester basketball teams, including frosh, J. V. and varsity. Of these, 45 boys practice every afternoon after school from 4:00 until 5:45. Mr. Knowlton coaches the J. V.'s and Mr. Phillips the varsity.

The J. V. and varsity squads are comprised of four seniors, six juniors and fifteen sophomores.

The frosh are off to a good start, having won their first three games including one in overtime.

Injuries have hurt the Sachems this year. Doug Thomson has had trouble with his feet (it takes a while for football to wear off). Hank Schumacher missed the first two weeks of practice with a dislocated toe, and he recently injured his knee. He is not expected to play before the Belmont game. Vandy French also pulled a leg muscle.

The alumni were back to try their luck against our new basketball squads. Some of the returning lettermen were "Dago" Bergquist, Chris Wadsworth, Joe Bellino, John Lynch, Mark Apsey, Johnny Farrell and Joe Rotondi.

Yes, The Bible Is a CONFUSING Book!

This statement will shock those who feel qualified to interpret the Scriptures for themselves.

They may reply that anyone honestly seeking to "search the Scriptures" will have the infallible aid of the Holy Spirit.

But how can this be true when equally sincere people . . . all presumably aided by the Holy Spirit . . . arrive at conflicting conclusions? How can it be true when doctrinal differences divide nominal Christians into numerous sects? How can it be true when eminent scholars disagree sharply on basic Bible questions?

Scholars who devote their lifetime to the study of the Scriptures are the first to admit the difficulties that beset them. They know the inspired writings are not the clear and easy guide to Christian understanding that so many seem to think. If they were so clear and easy to understand, there would be no need for scholarly inquiry—no excuse for a divided Christianity.

The mere words of the Bible do not accurately reflect the meaning of their authors. They must be understood in the light of the times in which they were written . . . in a knowledge of the symbols and language forms they employed . . . and with a recognition of the need to determine what was meant to be literal and what was meant to be figurative. Who of us has this required knowledge?

The earliest Bible manuscripts, in fact, could have been confusing even to the people of those times. The Old Testament writings—largely in Hebrew—had no spacing between words, no vowels in the text, no punctuation and no capitalization. The vowels had to be supplied from memory! Spacing of words or the insertion of various vowels could markedly change the sense of the words.

But in those times the faithful did not attempt to interpret Scriptures for themselves. For the Jewish people in the pre-Christian era, the Synagogue was their voice of spiritual authority, and the Old Testament was preached to them by the Rabbis and fathers of their faith. In like manner, the Catholic Church was the custodian of the inspired writings of the New Testament; and its Priests and teachers were authoritatively preaching the New Testament Gospel nearly four centuries before these writings were collected into a single book and formally declared to be inspired.

Today . . . after nearly 2,000 years . . . Catholics the world over still listen to only one authoritative voice—the Church—in the interpretation of God's Word. If you want to know more about the Bible—how and when it was written, how to read it with best results, its good and bad translations . . . write today for our Free Pamphlet No. A-22. We'll send it in a plain wrapper . . . nobody will call on you.

SACHEMS TOPPLE READING

A supposedly strong Reading five was easily downed by Winchester Tuesday afternoon at the high school gym by the score of 51-30.

Hoopster fans watched the Sachems roll up a 10 point lead at the end of the first quarter, 15-5. Prosperity hurt the Sachems because they scored only ten points in the second quarter to bring their half to 25-12.

Winchester controlled the ball through the last half to build their margin to 21 points by the time the clock ran out.

Vandy French again led the Sachems with 14 points while Dave Schumacher followed close behind with 12 points. Both boys scored the majority of their points on foul shots, Vandy with six and Dave with eight.

Winchester committed a low total of 18 errors, which is a big improvement.

Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.
Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

The vital importance of following the example of the Master, Christ Jesus, in our thoughts and actions will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.
Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (5:8): "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."
Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (37:22-25): "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,— to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."
From the Bible will be read the following (Mark 16:15): "And he said unto them, Go ye, into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

ART CLASSES

The midwinter term of the Winchester Art Association evening class began on Wednesday, January 8, at 7:00 p. m. in the Winchester High School. The High School has kindly made available to the group the art room, pending the location of a new home for the Winchester Art Association which, after 25 years, has had to leave the gallery in the Winchester Library.

King Coffin, who has taught the adult class for the past six years, has returned as instructor. The class is divided into beginners and more advanced students. Although any medium may be used, the beginners learn fundamentals with pencil, and then progress to oils. The more advanced students are about evenly divided between those using oils and those using water colors.

The class meets weekly for 10 weeks, and is open to all. All who are interested are urged to telephone Miss Dorothy Reynolds, at WInchester 6-0242, in the evening. Miss Reynolds is in charge of registration for the class.

The children's class will be suspended for the winter term, but it will start about March 20. Information concerning this class will be published at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Parker Carlisle, who were married on Christmas Eve. Mrs. Carlisle, the former Charlotte Mason Greer, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Swint Greer of Winchester, and is a senior at Garland Junior College. Mr. Carlisle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carlisle, also of Winchester, is attending Boston University after serving three years with the U. S. Army in Alaska.

MISS FURMAN, MR. MOORE TO WED

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Furman of Bellport, Long Island, New York, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gail Catherine Furman, to John David Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis K. Moore of Boston, formerly of 4 Penn road, Winchester.

A senior at Syracuse University, Miss Furman attended St. Joseph's Academy in Brentwood, N. Y., graduated from the Hewlett School in East Islip, and attended the Albany Law School.

She is a granddaughter of Mrs. George H. Furman of Patchogue, the late New York State Supreme Court Justice Furman, Mrs. David B. Murray of Lakewood Florida, and the late Mr. Murray. Miss Furman is a descendant of Elder Brewster, who came to this country on the Mayflower.

Mr. Moore, who served for two years in Germany with the Army Corps of Engineers, is a senior at Colgate University and a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity. He attended Berkshire School at Sheffield, Massachusetts and graduated from Winchester High School.

Mr. Moore is a descendant of Captain Thomas Bell, for whom Bellport was named, and a grandson of Mrs. Herbert M. Bell of Sea Cliff, N. Y., and the late Reverend and Mrs. Lewis K. Moore, also of Sea Cliff.

The marriage will take place in Bellport in June.

MISS WILSON ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wilson of 12 Loring avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia Anne, to Mr. James J. Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Connor of Holyoke.

Miss Wilson was graduated from Lesley College and is a member of the teaching staff of the Bedford Public Schools. Mr. Connor, a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Holyoke Junior College, has served two years with the U. S. Army and is currently a senior at the Universtiy of Massachusetts.

A June wedding is planned.

MISS HICKEY ENGAGED TO MR. DERBY

At a tea on Sunday afternoon, Mrs. John J. Hickey announced the engagement of her daughter, Dorothy to Mr. Joseph A. Derby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Derby of 58 Vine street and Sanford, Maine.

Miss Hickey is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended Penn College for Women and Boston University.

Mr. Derby graduated from Medford High School and served two years with the United States Army.

A late summer wedding is planned.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

This coming Sunday, January 12, the Senior Youth Fellowship of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will have a discussion on Japan led by Miss Carol Monsen. The meeting will start at 7:00 p. m.

The Fellowship was very active during the Christmas vacation. The young people went out caroling Christmas Eve, after which they went to the home of Gloria Craft for refreshments. The Sunday following Christmas there was an "Open House" at the home of Ruth and Steve Berecz for the alumni of the Fellowship and the present members. Robert Quigley, whose picture you saw in last week's Winchester Star, and Robert Sharpe were lucky enough to get a leave home for Christmas and they, along with other alumni, attended the Open House. After the Open House a number of the group went to the home of Aprille and Robert Godwin for supper and an evening of fellowship. Altogether it was a most enjoyable day. Last Sunday the Fellowship had a skating party and an evening of fellowship at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Craft. Gloria Craft led the group in worship.

The Intermediate Fellowship will join with the other churches of Winchester this Saturday night for a splash party at the Melrose Y.M.C.A.

HUMPHREY — ELLIOTT

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Elliott of 15 Linden street announce the marriage of their daughter, Donna Marie, to Richard Humphrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Humphrey of Woburn.

Mrs. Humphrey is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1956, and is presently employed as an x-ray technician with Dr. E. S. M. Landy of Medford.

DARTMOUTH SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE

Candidates for the Greater Boston Dartmouth Scholarship must apply for the award before January 31, Wesley H. Beattie of Melrose, Mass., announced today.

Mr. Beattie, president of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Boston, which established the scholarship, said candidates should apply for admission by writing to the Director of Admissions at Dartmouth. The admission papers describe the procedure required to file a scholarship application.

The amount of the scholarship is based on the financial need of the student and may pay the full cost of tuition, room and board. It covers four years provided the winner maintains a satisfactory record and his need continues, Mr. Beattie added.

Residents of Barnstable, Bristol, Dukes, Essex, Middlesex, Nantucket, Norfolk, Plymouth and Suffolk Counties are eligible for the award, Mr. Beattie said.

This will be the second award of this scholarship to a student from the Greater Boston area. The first recipient, Charles W. Sprott of Stoneham was graduated last June.

Mr. Beattie also pointed out that Boston area students may be considered for many other Dartmouth awards, including Daniel Webster and Alfred P. Sloan National Scholarships, and General Motors College Scholarships.

"One in every four Dartmouth students is receiving scholarship aid now," he added.

CHANGE IN NURSING SERVICE

The Winchester Board of Health has arranged with the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association to do the public health nursing in Winchester on a contractual basis. The nurses will work in the clinics and will also visit homes as the Board of Health nurse had done previously. It is believed that duplication of home visits will thus be avoided.

Resolution: Start the New Year right by resolving to drive according to the Golden Rule, advises AAA. The most important single consideration in good driving is—consideration for the rights of others.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH PANEL

The George Washington School Mothers' Association is sponsoring a most vital and interesting panel discussion program on "Your Child's Health" to be held on Tuesday evening, January 14, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The panel consists of those people most interested in your child's health. The members of the panel are: Dr. William Barone, Winchester's school medical director, Mrs. Mildred Symmes, the school nurse, Mrs. Doris Wiklund of the Visiting Nursing Association, Mrs. John DeAmato of the dental clinic, Dr. Harold Wheeler, one of Winchester's leading pediatricians, and Miss Lenore Rich, school principal.

Presiding over this panel will be Mr. Henry Fitts, who will act as moderator. Each of the panelists will present a brief outline of his or her duties relative to your child's health, at the end of which the meeting will become an open discussion period for the purpose of answering any questions that the parents might have.

Dessert and coffee will be served prior to this meeting.

All parents and friends of the pupils at the George Washington School are most cordially invited to attend this very informative program and have a chance to meet and talk with these important people whose basic interests are "Your Child's Health."

CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY

A bundle tea for the benefit of the Church Home Society of the Episcopal Church will be held by members of the Church Service League of the Church of the Epiphany on Friday, January 17, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Hostess for the occasion is Mrs. Austin Broadhurst at her home at 18 Ginn road. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Bundles brought by the guests will be taken to the Penny Wise Thrift Shop on Huntington avenue, Boston, whose proceeds aid the Church Home Society, an agency for the care of children of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The kind of articles that are desired are used clothing, bric-a-brac, old china, books, jewelry, old silver, and so forth.

"PIONEER ATLAS OF THE WEST"

When Rand McNally decided to celebrate their centennial by publishing the "Pioneer Atlas of the American West," they could not have contributed more to Western Americana.

By reproducing in facsimile the maps of the states and territories west of the Missouri River which had appeared in their now practically extinct "Business Atlas of 1876," they have preserved the aspect of the West viewed by Americans in the year of Custer's last stand.

Dale Morgan, eminent historian and cartographer, has described the nostalgic history of discovery and exploration of the old West in an excellent introduction. He also has added a running text accompanying each state map which lists railroad, Indian tribes and reservations.

Reproductions of old railway literature including the old plates, the fancy type and illustrations that range from "Science prospects along the route" to brocaded cupids in full flight decorating the elegant interiors of the "Palace Sleeping Carriages," further enhance the 1876 flavor.

As a reference book in the reference section of the Winchester Public Library, this authentic and superb folio should appeal to anyone interested in Western American history.

The Matignon Guild is having a guided tour of the Gardner Museum in the Fenway, Boston, Thursday, January 16. Mrs. James McGinn, 66 Oak Hill Drive, Arlington, and Mrs. John Rennie, 1137 Adams street, Dorchester, are co-chairmen.

CROSS ONLY AT CORNERS URGES AAA CLUB OFFICIAL

The child who crosses the street only at corners enjoys a better chance of living long enough to collect his social security, according to Richard W. Hoover, Safety Director for Massachusetts Division of the American Automobile Association.

"Last year, one out of every four children killed or injured in traffic was struck down after stepping into the street from between parked cars," the Club official said. "Most of these tragic accidents could have been prevented, if the youngsters involved had proceeded to the corner before they crossed."

The January safety poster on this theme is now being distributed to schools in Massachusetts as part of the regular monthly safety education program of AAA's Massachusetts Division. Hoover said the poster's message, "Cross Only at Corners," should be heeded by adults as well as children.

"At the street corner, especially in larger cities," he said "the pedestrian will find safety devices for his protection, such as the crosswalk, the traffic signal, the stop sign, and sometimes a police officer or school safety patrol youngster. It is important to take advantage of these safety aids by crossing only at corners. You won't find them in the middle of the block."

The poster design, a first prize winner in the American Automobile Association's 1957 National Traffic Safety Poster Contest, was prepared by Suzanne Fetko, a third-grade student at St. William's School, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. It was selected by a nationally-known board of judges for reproduction and distribution by AAA Motor Clubs throughout the nation.

CAPT. SHARKEY CONFERENCE ADMINISTRATOR

Capt. John E. Sharkey, USNR, of 220 Forest street has been named Administrator of the National Resources Conference to be held for Greater Boston businessmen at the University Club, Boston, from February 10 to February 21.

Some 600 Greater Boston citizens are expected to attend the two-week Conference which is a condensed version of the regular 10-month course of instruction given at the Industrial College of the Armed Forces. The full course is given selected high ranking officers of the Armed services and the federal government in preparation for their assignment to important command, staff or planning posts.

The Conference is under the joint sponsorship of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

Capt. Sharkey was recalled to active duty by the Navy to serve as Conference Administrator.

In 1945 he was the chief naval personnel officer at the United Nations Conference in San Francisco. Edward R. Stettinius Jr., former Secretary of State and President Truman's personal representative to the UN Conference, personally commended Capt. Sharkey for his "outstanding" personnel work there.

During World War II Capt. Sharkey organized Inspection of Naval Material Schools in New York City, Chicago and San Francisco. He also served as district vocational training officer for the Twelfth Naval District (California, Colorado, Utah and Nevada.)

He is currently the Commanding Officer of the First Naval District's Educational Unit USNR. The Bureau of Naval Personnel has commended Capt. Sharkey for writing courses for Naval Reserve training.

In civilian life Capt. Sharkey gives University Extension courses in electricity at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is an instrutor in the Somerville School Department. He is also a member of the Joint Apprentice Committee of the Electrical Contractors of Greater Boston.

Greater Boston businessmen attending the conference will be given the two-weeks briefing on national security problems by a six-man team composed of faculty members from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

The Conference will cover such subjects as: the economic strength of Russia and other nations, the political and geographic factors associated with these strengths, and the ability of these nations to wage war with or against the United States.

Other subject areas to be covered by the speakers include: strategic and critical materials, fuel and power, the impact of technological progress on the national economy, human resources, economic warfare, war finance, emergency organization of the government, plans and problems of a post attack period, agriculture, transportation and communication.

Applications to attend the National resources Conference may be obtained from the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce. The Conference is open to all American citizens.

DAMAGE DONE TO HUNTER WAKEFIELD CO.

Lester Brooks of the Hunter Wakefield Company on Cross street called the police last Sunday morning and requested that an officer be sent to the plant.

Police Officer Alfred Poole investigated the incident and found that some one had broken a 9x12 pane of glass in a window at the rear of the shop and had forced the window open. Two cutting gears were found on the ground outside the building where they must have been thrown.

Mr. Brooks made a check of the rest of the contents of the building.

FREDERICK A. MOORE

AGENCY RECEIVES AWARD AT BOCA RATON

Frederick A. Moore, Boston General Agent for the Massachusetts Indemnity and Life Insurance Company recently returned from Boca Raton Club, Boca Raton, Florida. He attended a General Agents Meeting of the Company where he was awarded a certificate for outstanding achievement for his Agency's fine accomplishments during 1957. As General Agent, Mr. Moore's responsibilities include the servicing of his Company's policy-owners in the Eastern Massachusetts territory. He is also responsible for the recruiting, training and supervision of Career agents and brokers for his Agency.

Mr. Moore lives at 16 Eaton street with his wife, Cynthia (Newton) and their three children, Lucinda, Jonathan and Stephanie.

REPORTS BY WINCHESTER MAN FEATURED

(Ed. Note: The following article from the December 27, 1957 issue of "Simplex Pennant," official publication of the Simplex Wire and Cable Company in Cambridge, will prove of interest to the friends of Mr. D. W. Kitchin, who lives at 16 Chesterford road.

Messrs. D. W. Kitchin and O. S. Pratt of the Simplex Research Laboratory received an extraordinary amount of attention last month from two leading magazines of the electrical industry.

"Electrical Manufacturing" and "Insulation" both featured two reports given by the Simplex men at the 1957 meeting of the Insulation Conference. (One report dealt with corona in cables, the other discussed electrical breakdown of polyethylene insulation).

Pictures from Research Lab.

Photographs from the Simplex Laboratory make up the front-cover design of Electrical Manufacturing for December.

Both of the magazines used several Simplex photographs to amplify comments on the Kitchin-Pratt reports.

"Insulation" gave Senior Scientist Kitchin due prominence also as a contributor to its Insulation Forum.

Not Christmasy, Nor Lunar

Referring to its front-cover design, "Electrical Manufacturing" said, "Our cover composition is no fantastic lunar landscape as viewed from a satellite but rather representative of something as down-to-earth as breakdown and failure in electrical insulation. A blow-up of a photomicrograph illustrates the 'treeing' effect formed by breakdown in polyethylene cable insulation. The rectangular panels show treeing in various stages of growth in polyethylene specimens as observed under a microscope. Dark wedge-shaped areas are those of embedded needles. . . Simplex Wire and Cable Company is the source of the original photographs.

As a further word on treeing 'Electrical Manufacturing' said "Messrs. Kitchin and Pratt discussed the latent damage that takes the form of trees formed in insulation by partial breakdown of defective or locally-overstressed regions. These phenomena cannot be observed in opaque insulation like rubber , but microscopic examination will reveal them in polyethylene in various stages of growth.

Before Breakdowns Occur

"The trees may start from the conductor, from the outer surface, or from particles and fibres within the insulation. Examination of failed cables reveals some vestiges of trees formed prior to breakdown in practically all instances where burnout was not excessive.

"The process of breakdown by treeing could be followed visually and photographed at various stages by embedding needles in a suitable holder in the microscope. By control of voltages it is possible to start tree growth, speed it up, or stop it at will, and to document results by photomicrographs at any desired stage.

"It is expected that continued study of treeing may add to the understanding of the mechanism of electrical breakdown."

The Simplex papers were very well received at the conference. A prominent cable engineer said, "I consider the paper on 'treeing' the outstanding one at the conference. I have learned more about breakdown from this paper than from any other paper in years."

MORGAN MEMORIAL APPEAL

The Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries issued an urgent appeal today for warm winter clothing for thousands of families who pick up this type of repaired merchandise from Goodwill stores and could not afford it otherwise. Many underprivileged people in the Boston area are actually cold because of the lack of sufficient clothing.

Donations of clothing and furniture at this time will help keep 325 handicapped people on the payroll of Goodwill Industries. A telephone call to HUbbard 2-1894 will bring a Goodwill truck to pickup merchandise.

LOAM REMOVED WITHOUT PERMISSION

Mr. Bruno of 121 Loring avenue called the police a week ago Thursday morning to report that loam was being taken from Cross street opposite Loring avenue.

Police Officer Parsons responded in patrol car 51 and was informed by an operator of a front end loader working for Smith Brothers of Somerville that they were removing the loam and dumping it next to the office on East street. Smith Brothers were working for the Winchester Brick Company.

One load of loam had been removed when Officer Parsons arrived on the scene. He ordered them to stop until they had secured a permit from the Building Commissioner.

SINGERS INVITED

The Lexington Choral Society, Allen C. Lannom conductor, cordially invites all singers in the area who are interested in singing Randall Thompson's "The Peaceable Kingdom" on March 9, and Verdi's "Requiem" with soloists and orchestra on May 18, to attend the society's next weekly rehearsal, Tuesday evening at 8:15 in the Follen Community Center ,755 Massachusetts avenue, Lexington.

Membership rolls of the Lexington Choral Society will remain open for the coming two weeks. Further information about the organization may be secured by calling Mrs. David A. Stuntz, membership chairman, at VO 2-1453.

STOLEN CAR FOUND IN WINCHESTER

Mrs. Sophie Cicerone of 36 Verndale street, Brookline called the police station last Friday to report that Mrs. Emily Lynch of Fells Hardware had called her to report that she had found Mrs. Cicerone's automobile registration certificate in front of the store.

Mrs. Cicerone said that her Mercury sedan had been stolen in Boston on Thursday night and that the registration certificate was in the glove compartment of the car. She asked the police to check the area in the possibility that the car was abandoned there.

At 1:40 a. m. on Saturday Officer Haggerty reported finding the car in the parking lot off Waterfield road. Officer Haggerty brought the car to the police station and Mrs. Cicerone was notified.

Safe Walking Tip: Many excellent drivers forget the simple rules of safe walking. Be sure you're not guilty of stepping from between parked cars, crossing between corners, or ignoring the traffic signals. Be a good pedestrian as well as a good driver, advises the American Automobile Association.

Cadillac

It Says "Greatness"...in Any Language!
Wherever highways exist and motor cars are known, the name "Cadillac" signifies but one thing—the unmistakable leader in its field.
For the motor car that has borne that distinguished name for the past fifty-five years has been so well designed and crafted that it has become a synonym for everything good and desirable in a product.
And never have these virtues been more evident than they are in the Cadillac car for 1958.
A single, sweeping glance at the new "car of cars", for example, reveals a grace and majesty and elegance never before attainable in modern automotive design.
A brief journey at the wheel provides irrefutable proof of the forward strides that have been made in Cadillac performance and in Fleetwood coachcrafting.
And a study of the facts about Cadillac economy and dependability indicates a soundness of investment beyond anything in Cadillac's brilliant past.
If you haven't as yet inspected and driven a 1958 Cadillac, you should do so very soon.
Whatever your favorite among Cadillac's wide selection of models, which includes the distinguished Eldorado Brougham, you will find it a rare masterpiece in everything a Cadillac can be.

MISS LUCY KENDALL CLARK

MISSION UNION TO HEAR CEYLON EDUCATOR

Miss Lucy Kendall Clark, for 40 years a Congregational Christian educator in Ceylon, will be the speaker when the Mission Union of the First Congregational Church holds its initial meeting of the new year, Tuesday, January 14.

The meeting will be held in Chidley Hall following a one o'clock luncheon and short business session at which time Mrs. Paul Nason will conduct the worship service.

Miss Clark, a native of New York, has since 1914 made her home on the Jaffna peninsula among the Tamil people. She went there as a trained kindergarten teacher to start kindergartens in the schools of the American Board of Foreign Missions and to train teachers to staff them. She worked out of Uduvil School, the oldest boarding school for girls in the Orient.

Young people of New York Congregational churches built for Miss Clark in Uduvil a beautiful model kindergarten building. Courses were also installed in village schools to enable teachers to learn kindergarten methods and an effective program was soon developed.

Miss Clark, who was educated at Buffalo Normal School, Kennedy School of Missions, and Columbia University, will speak on "Training Up Leaders in India." In the northern part of Ceylon, where Miss Clark worked, the three Protestant Missions are those of the English Methodists, Church of England and American Congregationalists. They share in many cooperative projects, including the Union Training School, of which Miss Clark was principal for several years.

To this school came a select group of the Protestant missions' young women. They made much of their own equipment—maps, globes, sand-tables—and came out so well trained that they were immediately in demand by schools throughout Ceylon. Miss Clark was not only the principal of the Union Training School but was also a teacher of physiology, hygiene, music, art and English in the high school department.

Miss Clark, a working member of the United Church of South India, spent much of her last year at Uduvil doing church work, visiting members in the villages and helping to clear off a handicapping debt.

During her many furlougs which enabled her to travel around the world three times, Miss Clark met several outstanding leaders including the late Mahatma Gandhi. "But," according to Miss Clark, "the greatest dividend of all is to see young people grow up into fine dedicated Christians."

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The first event on the 1958 calendar of the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour, will be a Winter Dessert Bridge Party. This initial affair will be held on Tuesday, January 14, at St. Mary's Hall.

The co-chairmen of the program for this eagerly-awaited afternoon are Mrs. Joseph McGaragle and Mrs. Henry Valcour.

A delightful dessert will be served promptly at one o'clock and cards will follow. Members and guests will have an excellent opportunity to greet their friends and exchange New Year felicitations.

The energetic committee assisting in perfecting the details is comprised of the following:

Mrs. Carl Thomas
Mrs. John Lane, Jr.
Mrs. John Keliher
Mrs. Robert Cavanagh
Mrs. Edward McElhinney
Mrs. George Kean
Mrs. Walter Crotty
Mrs. John Gibbons
Mrs. Joseph Donaghey
Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian
Mrs. Robert Finn
Mrs. Harry Eremian

FIRES

Saturday, January 4, Mrs. Mary J. Drotter of 112 Wendell street called at 4:21 p. m. to report a grass fire at the rear of her home. The fire was caused by burning in an incinerator.

Sunday, January 5, street box 361 at St. Mary's Church was sounded at 11:12 a. m. On arrival firefighters found that the number 2 alarm station in the Church had tripped; there was no fire.

Henry Schwab of 25 Hutchinson road called at 1:10 p. m. reporting a brush fire in the field across from his home. The cause of the fire was attributed to boys who were skating nearby.

Mr. Sullivan of 90 Dunster lane called at 5:16 p. m. reporting a brush fire. Firefighters quickly had it under control.

The Star was pleased to receive "Bob" McGuinity's usual subscription renewal this week. "Bob," former well-known Winchester resident, now lives in Grand Blanc, Mich., and will observe his 85th birthday January 19, with a small party given by his daughter, Mrs. Helen Miller. Congratulations, "Bob" and many happy returns!

JOHN F. DOHERTY

JOINS INSURANCE FIRM

Lehrer and Madden, Incorporated General Agents of the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company in Boston and Wellesley, recently announced that John F. Doherty had become associated with their firm as an account executive attached to their Wellesley office. Having recently returned from Hartford, Conn., where he attended the Casualty and Surety Sales Course conducted by the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company at their home office, he will assist in the servicing of their clients and in the development of new accounts.

John was graduated from Boston College High School in 1951, attended Tufts University, class of '55, where he majored in business administration. He served as an officer in the United States Navy aboard the U.S.S. Glennon.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Doherty of 137 Highland avenue. Mr. Doherty senior is vice-president and general manager in charge of construction of the Perini Corporation in Framingham.

SCHOLARSHIP AVAILABLE

The Scholarship Committee of the Chatham College Alumnae Club of Boston is meeting to review applications for their annual scholarship award.

A special tuition scholarship to Chatham College, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, is available to a qualified young woman in this area. The scholarship is renewable, if merited, for four years.

It is made on the basis of high school record, college board examination results, financial need, and recommendation from teachers and local alumnae. The deadline for filing applications is February 15.

Chatham College, a privately-owned liberal arts college for women, is located on a 27-acre campus in the residential area of Pittsburgh.

The Boston club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lois Michaels, 401 Washington street, Brookline is one of twelve Chatham alumnae groups throughout the country.

Additional information may be obtained by writing Mrs. Michaels, or calling her at LO 6-1731.

ROCKEFELLER REPORT CHAIRMAN TO SPEAK TO LEAGUE

The author of the newly released Rockefeller Fund Report on Military Preparedness in the U. S. is to be one of the two featured speakers at the School of International Relations sponsored by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters at Kresge Auditorium January 29. Henry Kissinger, associate director of Harvard's Center for International Studies, is the chairman of the group of distinguished citizens who prepared the report now widely publicized across the country and indeed throughout the world.

During the all day school there will be two nationally known speakers in the morning and a round table discussion by experts in the afternoon. The topic under consideration by all the participants will be "Arms Control: Riddle of our Future."

Along with Mr. Kissinger will be a second morning speaker, the no less distinguished Thomas Finletter, Secretary of the Air Force under President Truman from 1950 to 1953. The afternoon round table participants include Col. Richard Leghorn, formerly of Richard Stassen's disarmament staff; William Frye, U.N. correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor; Harold Berman, professor of law at Harvard; and Jerome B. Wiesner, director of the Research Laboratory of Electronics at M.I.T.

These meetings are open to the public and it is possible to attend only the morning or only the afternoon session if desired. However, reservations should be made in advance. It is hoped that many non-members of the League will attend. For reservations or further information call Mrs. Robert Pritchard, WInchester 6-0752.

COLLEGE CLUB EVENING STUDY GROUP ADDS NEW BRIDGE COURSE

The Evening Study Group of the Winchester College Club announces an afternoon course in contract bridge in addition to the scheduled evening course. The response to the previous announcement was so great the committee deemed it advisable to offer the additional course.

Mr. Forrest Maddix of the Cambridge Adult Center will give informal instruction with supervised play, review, theory, and discussion of the techniques of a good game.

Both courses will be conducted the same day, beginning Friday, January 24, afternoon session from 3 to 5 p. m.; evening session from 8 to 10 p. m. Each course consists of six two hour lessons to be given every other Friday. Each group will be limited to sixteen people with the fee to be paid in advance at the January 13 dinner meeting of the College Club. Those enrolling in the course are expected to attend every meeting or provide a substitute.

Those who can attend the afternoon session are encouraged to do so in order that husbands and wives may attend the evening course together.

Chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Conard.

HOLY NAME TO HEAR JUVENILE DELINQUENCY EXPERT

On Sunday, January 12, at the 7:45 a. m. mass, St. Mary's Holy Name Society will receive Holy Communion in a body. After mass, coffee and doughnuts will be served in the hall and the January meeting of the society will take place.

President John Fitzgerald will preside and will report on the family communion breakfast to be held on February 9. The guest speaker for this annual affair will be the Honorable Edward J. Voke, Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. Tickets will be available at the meeting. President Fitzgerald will also report on the recent panel discussion of the Woburn District of Holy Name societies that was held at St. Joseph's parish in Wakefield. A parish newsletter prepared by the Holy Name Society has been sent to all boys and girls in the service and to all Seminarians of St. Mary's.

Program chairman Paul Mulloy has secured another outstanding speaker for our regular monthly meeting, Lieutenant Daniel F. Driscoll. Lieutenant Driscoll is from the Public Relations Bureau of the Massachusetts State Police and his subject will be "Juvenile Delinquency." This is a most timely subject and a large turnout is expected.

HEADS N. E. MUTUAL DEPT.

Roger L. Carpenter of 49 Winford way, has been promoted to Office Manager of the Medical Department of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, it was announced by President O. Kelley Anderson.

Mr. Carpenter joined New England Life in 1934 as a messenger. He worked in the Policy, Benefit, and Investment Departments before entering the Navy in 1942 and upon his return to the home office in 1945, Mr. Carpenter joined the Actuarial Department.

He transferred to the Underwriting Department in 1946 where he became assistant to the manager—Underwriting Department in 1952. In 1954, he was promoted to Underwriter and Research Assistant.

"THE ROAD AHEAD"

FILM AVAILABLE FOR ORGANIZATIONS AND GROUPS

The nation's $50 billion highway building program is thoroughly explained in a new color motion picture "The Road Ahead," according to John B. Perkins, of Perkins Machinery Co. Inc., of Needham Heights. Covering all phases of the highway program, the film was produced by Caterpillar Tractor Co., in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Public Roads.

Narrated by popular commentator Walter Cronkite, "The Road Ahead" describes the Interstate-Defense Highway System with its 41,000 miles of super roads. Showing step-by-step how the new highways will be built, the movie also explains what effect they will have on communities and businesses. People whose towns already have Interstate-type roads tell how they were helped by the highways. Such terms as "relief routes," "limited access" and "right-of-way procurement" are fully defined.

In addition, "The Road Ahead" covers the other phases of the construction program: Farm-to-market roads, state routes and present U. S. Highways. John B. Perkins says that those interested in better roads can learn more about the entire new outlook on American roads through the film.

Groups and organizations who would like to find out about "The Road Ahead" with the idea of showing the film can contact Peter Milinazzo at Perkins Machinery Co. Inc.

HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday, January 15, Mrs. Joseph Vaccaro and Mrs. James Mason have planned a program that promises to be most enjoyable for the members and guests of the Winchester Home and Garden Club.

Mrs. Felix Forte will give a travel talk entitled "Sunny Italy in Color" accompanied by soft background music. The speaker is the widely traveled wife of Judge Forte who is well known as Justice of Massachusetts Superior Court.

A coffee hour at one o'clock will precede the meeting in the Parish Hall of the Epiphany Church.

LOVE IN THE AFTERNOON

No man can ride a hobby as hard as Dr. Chidley rides his fishing without people generally coming to know all about it, so it is no wonder that his friends, on occasion, like to remember his love of the sport with gifts slanted toward fishing whenever possible.

And so it came about that the Carl Thomases of Oxford street, in remembering Dr. Chidley's recent birthday anniversary with a special sort of cheese, of which he is very fond, tried also to work in a fishing thought or two as a bonus gift, so to speak.

There chanced to be in the Thomas home a very lifelike Stieffe replica of a mouse, one realistic enough to send the ladies in the old days to chair seats with hoisted skirts.

Now the Thomases and Dr. Chidley have been good friends, particularly since they found that the doctor and Mrs. Thomas came from the same section of Canada. Consequently the lady had a special incentive to do something on the unusual side for the Chidley birthday. She thought she had it with the mouse!

Her next stop was the Sport Shop, where she asked the genial and always helpful Charlie Koch if fishermen didn't have some sort of hook contraptions baited with mice. "Indeed they did, and do," said Mr. Koch. (Lures they call them, or some such!)

Explaining that she had a very lifelike play-mouse Mrs. Thomas asked what could be done. Her idea was to rig the mouse to a hook and send the gaffed creature to Dr. Chidley with the birthday cheese and the thought that "The cheese got the mouse. Here's hoping the mouse gets you a fish!" Those may not have been the exact words but they will suffice.

Would Mr. Koch cooperate? Would he! Don't ask Mr. Koch to help along a gag unless you mean it. He'll be away ahead of you before you know it!

In the case of the mouse lure he fixed it up all right, attaching the mouse to a small tuna No. 16-o hook that would hold any sort of game fish possible up to grampus size. Mrs. Thomas was pleased with the job, expert all the way, and Mr. Koch was satisfied, too! In due course the cheese, the mouse and attached hook were sent to Dr. Chidley to reach him on New Year's Day, the day of his big birthday party at Chidley Hall in the First Congregational Church. Everyone was happy about it all, so far as the Sport Shop and the Thomases were concerned.

Nothing was heard from Dr. Chidley about his present during the holiday, but the day following Mrs. Thomas had a telephone call from Mrs. Chidley, asking if she was to be at home, because the doctor was on his way to call. It was morning, but the doctor never did stand on ceremony, and Mrs. Thomas allowed that as she was doing a spot of inside painting she would be at home and available for interview.

When the doorbell rang she laid down her brush and opened the door. There stood the doctor, but not alone! In his arms was a hefty 36-inch cod, which he gravely presented to Mrs. T. as proof positive of the efficacy of her Thomas-Koch mouse lure.

We don't know who fooled whom, but the Thomases have eaten a lot of fish since the holiday, and from our angle we would say the doctor finished on top. In talking it over with her companion in crime, Mr. Koch, Mrs. Thomas hazarded the opinion that it is hard to get ahead of Dr. Chidley.

"Hard," quoth Mr. Koch, "the feller that does will have to be fifty years older than the doctor, and then have to get up a 3 o'clock in the morning!"

There is just one thing more. You were going to ask where did the doctor catch the fish?

That, my friends, is telling! It wasn't the kind you get down Moosehead way, and it was too durned big for brook catching. The doctor knows, of course, but simply smiles an enigmatic smile when queried about it. "Lew" Snow of Renton's came up with the same sort of grin when the thing was mentioned to him. May mean something or it may not, of course! We offer it for what it may be worth.

Modeling their own dresses made in the evening sewing class of the Adult Education Program for beginners are Mrs. Elsa Osgood, Miss Madeline Derro, and Mrs. Harold Jones. Mrs. G. Elliott Fiske is measuring the hem. The picture was taken and developed by Arthur Cabot and Paul Hegarty of the senior high school.

ART ASSOCIATION

The January meeting of the Art Association was held Tuesday evening, January 7, in the Music Room of the High School. Mrs. Theodore E. Burleigh, Jr., and Mrs. Everett A. Tisdale served coffee to the courageous twenty persons who braved the severe storm to attend the meeting.

The subject, "A New Art from an Old World" was presented by Harris and Ros Barron who brought slides to illustrate their talk. Mr. and Mrs. Barron as graduates of the Massachusetts School of Art were pupils of Mr. Charles E. Abbott of Winchester and now are teaching at de Cordova Museum in Lincoln. They have a studio in Brookline Village where they work in ceramics and where they have created a new kind of mosaics made with pieces of colored, glazed and baked clay which are set into slabs of concrete. The designs are imaginative and interesting in the use of color and are pleasing examples of the real creative ability of these two gifted artists who are pioneering in a new field. These mosaics are mostly used as wall decorations and one has been placed over a fireplace but another formed the floor of a foyer while others have been used as tops of long metal-framed tables designed by Hans Krieks.

It was a rewarding evening to witness the development of the skill and ability of these young artists who have high artistic standards of achievement.

VOL. LXXVII NO. 19 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1958 PRICE TEN CENTS

SANITARIAN HIRED

BOARD OF HEALTH GETS BURLINGTON MAN ON CONTRACTUAL BASIS

At the last March town meeting the Board of Health sought the approval of the members to hire a full time sanitarian to succeed its agent, William B. MacDonald, who had asked to be relieved of his health work because of the great increase in his duties as building commissioner.

The town meeting denied the board of health's request for a full-time sanitarian, it being suggested that the board get a part-time sanitarian who might divide his duties here with those in some other community.

Dr. Harry L. Benson, chairman of the board of health, told the Star that the Board had found it impossible to get a sanitarian on a part time basis. He also said that Mr. MacDonald had concluded his duties as agent of the board of health last September. Since that time no one has been doing the public health work he had been doing.

As of January 1, the board of health secured the services on a contractual basis of Robert W. Rimbach of Burlington who will serve as a part time sanitarian in Winchester as well as in Concord, Tewksbury, Billerica and Burlington, among others. Dr. Benson told the Star the contract was made with the approval of the town counsel, the finance committee and the town accountant.

Mr. Rimbach is not a town employee. His name does not appear on the town payroll, he is not eligible to any pension or retirement benefits, and he works from his home, not from the office of the board of health in the White Building. He is a registered sanitarian and holds a Bachelor of Science Degree from the University of Massachusetts. His home laboratory is state approved.

He is especially concerned with the regulations of the board of health as they affect handlers of food and restaurants, and his duties will consist of visiting food stores and eating places to make periodic examinations. If in these examinations he finds health department regulations are not being complied with, he will report such violations to the board, which in turn will warn violators and take such action as is necessary to ensure compliance.

Mr. Rimbach and members of the board of health met Monday evening with local food handlers and restaurateurs at the junior high school. He actually commenced his new duties following that meeting.

COMPLETES FIFTY YEARS WITH WINN'S

Miss Mary A. G. Haggerty of 274 Cross street, was honored this week on her completion of fifty years of continuous service with J. H. Winn Inc.

Miss Haggerty was presented with a letter and a beautiful "Golden Bouquet" to which ribbons were attached bearing gift currency.

The presentation was made by Mr. Ernest B. Dade, chairman of the Board of Directors and Treasurer of J. H. Winn Inc., who congratulated Miss Haggerty, thanked her for the many years of excellent and faithful service to the Company and expressed the wishes of the Company for her happiness in the years ahead.

Miss Haggerty's fellow employees also participated in honoring her by giving to her a Bulova wrist watch. The presentation was made by Mr. George H. Morse, a forty-five-year fellow employee.

SHORT CIRCUIT DIMS LIGHTS

Sgt. Bowler of the police department reported late Tuesday night that a short circuit on a pole at box 35 had caused several street lights to go out in the Wildwood street Wedgemere avenue area.

At the same time, Officer Martell reported another short circuit at the corner of Washington street and Forest street. The Edison company was notified and they took care of the situation.

FIRES

Wednesday, January 15, Mr. Frank Haley of 28 Crescent road walked to the station at 6:00 a. m. to report that he had trouble with his oil burner and that his telephone was out of order. Firefighters found no fire on arrival but the smoke had been caused by a delayed ignition.

CINDERELLA OPENS CHILDREN'S THEATRE SEASON

The first production of the season to be given by the Children's Theatre School of the Winchester Community Theatre Inc. promises to be one of the most spectacular we have seen.

"Cinderella", one of our best loved and most colorful fairy tales will come to life again for all who come to the High School Auditorium on Friday, January 17, and Saturday, January 18. This delightful story of Princesses and Fairies will excite children of all ages with its magic and pageantry. The large cast of local young people is under the capable direction of Mrs. Anne (Harold) Young and includes the following, in the order of their appearance:

Cinderella, Ann Shidler
Mice, Mary Ellen Todd, Susan Phipps, Elizabeth McKenzie, Karen Horley, Ronnie Marcy, Courtney West, Richard Howard
Lucifer the cat, Matthew McKenzie
First Sister, Linda West
Second Sister, Sue Bryant
Mother, Laurel Stabile
Roland, Arthur Hubert
Prince, James von Rosenvinge
Fairy Godmother, Joyce Pettingill
Fairy entourage, Sarah Shidler, Mary Paulson, Debby Foster, Marita Corcoran, Barbara Paulson, Alicia Paulson, Cheryl Todd, Christine Morrocco, Laura Phipps Marcia West, Ed Braithwiate
Coachmen and Horses, Marcia Horley, Joseph Kingston and Edward Horne
Galafron, William Chase
Curdkin, John Newton
Felicia, Carol Louise Walsh
Court Ladies, Ann Foley, Mary F. Elliott, Ellen Kaknes, Jane McMahon, Gail Snelling, Kathleen McCabe
Queen, Jean Marchant
Dog, David Phipps

The Children's School of the Theatre has an enviable record of past performances and we are assured that this, their fourth production will add more laurels to the record. The School was founded by Mrs. Carlene M. Samoiloff, who has been well known in Winchester for many years, for her love of the Theatre and children in the theatre. Mrs. Samoiloff leaves Winchester shortly for an extended stay in the Netherlands, where she will join her husband, Mr. Alexander Samoiloff.

Mrs. Harry Stabile is chairman of the ticket committee and many mothers and friends of the young actors are assisting with the production. Membership tickets may be used by all members of the Community Theatre and new members may join by calling Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel.

LEGION DRIVES FOR MARCH OF DIMES

For the third year the National Headquarters of the American Legion has announced that all Legion Posts will participate in the drive to raise funds for the March of Dimes program.

These Blue Crutch Days are January 16, 17 and 18 and as you walk around town, you will pass several Legionnaires of Winchester's American Legion, Post 97, who have canisters and arm bands waiting for your donations. Don't pass them by without giving your share, no matter how small.

Yes, it is true that the Salk vaccine has been discovered to prevent dreadful and crippling polio, but the money collected is to be used for further research and for assistance to those who were afflicted with polio before the Salk vaccine came to be.

Commander Frank Provinzano has assigned men to cover certain areas during Thursday, Friday and Saturday, so fill these canisters. We are doing our part although small. Are you doing yours?

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of Contagious Diseases was reported for week ending January 15:

2 cases of Measles
4 cases of Mumps
1 case of Dog Bite

TRUST COMPANY ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Winchester Trust Company was held at the Church street office at 4:15 p. m. on Tuesday, January 14.

The annual report to the stockholders, presented by the president, Mr. Vincent C. Ambrose, was indicative of increased activity in all phases of the bank's operation, with total resources shown as $9,058,991.80 at the year end—an increase of $299,161. as compared with the prior year.

In December, as in 1956, an increase of $50,000. was effected in the bank's surplus account by a transfer of this amount from the undivided profit account. Further, the reserve accounts were substantially increased during the year from retained earnings.

The president stated that it was difficult to portray the full strength of the Winchester Trust Company in dollar figures as they appear in the Statement of Condition and, in his opinion, the bank's greatest asset is its capable, loyal and enthusiastic staff.

Mr. Roland R. Carter was elected clerk of the corporation and all of the present members of the Board of Directors, held immediately after the stockholders' meeting, the following officers were elected:

William L. Parsons, Chairman of the Board
Vincent C. Ambrose, President

COASTING ACCIDENT PUTS BOY IN HOSPITAL

A coasting accident last Sunday afternoon resulted in hospitalization for Robert Sansone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Sansone of 3 Allen road.

Bob was coasting down Madison avenue and tried to turn into the Mystic School property when he hit a brick wall. He attempted to protect his head from the wall, and hit it full force with his stomach.

Taken to the Winchester Hospital for x-rays, it was discovered that he had a ruptured spleen and internal bleeding. After several transfusions and an operation, he is reported to be in good condition.

The 14 year old boy is in the eighth grade at the Junior High School.

BELMONT HERE TONIGHT

First place in the Middlesex League will be riding on tonight's basketball game between Belmont and Winchester in the high school gymnasium, commencing at 7 o'clock. Incidentally seats will be at a premium for this one.

Belmont has an undefeated record to date while Winchester has lost to Lexington on what was admittedly an off night for the locals.

The Indians swamped Melrose Tuesday afternoon and are definitely out to beat Belmont tonight. The visitors will be favored, and Coach Mel Wenner has his usual strong team this year.

Winchester has been in and out, but with the exception of the Lexington game, have been able to pull the close ones out on the right side. A big crowd is expected to see the Indians try to tomahawk the Belmonts.

CHRISTMAS IN BETHLEHEM

MISS PADELFORD ON BEIRUT PLANE WITH NEIL BORDENS

Carolyn Padelford, of 6 Ravenscroft road, now teaching English in the American School for Girls in Uskudar, Istanbul, spent the Christmas vacation traveling in the Holy Land and in Egypt. She and three friends flew from Istanbul to Beirut, and found Professor and Mrs. Neil Borden on the same plane! After all too brief a stop in that fascinating city, they flew over Damascus to Jerusalem where they stayed in the home of Arab refugees.

On Christmas Eve they attended a carol service on the Shepherds' Field, and then both the Anglican and Catholic services in Bethlehem until long after midnight. On Christmas Day they saw the Biblical spots of old Jerusalem and followed the Way of the Cross.

The next few days they saw Bethany, Jericho, the Jordan River and Dead Sea, and flew to Cairo, where they stayed with American friends.

Palaces, pyramids, and sphinx, statues, tombs, temples, mosques and camel rides, and a bus tour to Memphis and Sakara filled the first two days.

A 12-hour over-night train trip gave Miss Padelford two days in Karnak, Luxor and Thebes before returning to Cairo for three more days of visiting the ancient markets, the Museum of King Tut's possessions, the most ancient Muslim University, founded 972 A.D., and the oldest Coptic Church in Egypt.

Two symphony orchestra concerts were enjoyed at the American University of Cairo. The return to Istanbul was again by air, stopping in Beirut on the way.

This was Carolyn's first trip outside of Turkey since she went there in September, 1956. She has travelled widely within Turkey, including visits to central Turkey, near Kayseri; the "Turkish Riviera" of Antalya and other parts of the Mediterranean shore; the whole of the Turkish Black Sea Coast as far as Hopa near the Russian border; the historic ruins of Troy, Ephesus, Miletus Izmir and other places on the western "bulge" of Asia Minor.

She spent six weeks of the summer as a nurse's aide in a mission hospital in Gaziantep near the Syrian border ,returning to Istanbul via Tarsus, the ancient home of Saint Paul.

These ambitious uses of vacation periods enrich an already full schedule of teaching which she greatly enjoys. Her use of the Turkish language has grown increasingly, and her record of colored slides is growing into a fascinating collection for the family in Winchester.

NATIONAL V. F. W. WEEK

Aberjona Post No. 3719 Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States in conjunction with National V.F.W. week will hold open house on Friday evening, January 24, 1958. The Post Home at 15 White street will be open on that evening to all overseas veterans of the town from 7:30 p. m. till 11:30 p. m. The officers and members of the Post invite you to be their guest on that evening.

The Commander and his junior officers will be on hand to greet you and to explain to you the benefits of being a member of the original overseas veterans organization. Many men have found it very helpful to belong to this organization as far as claims to the V.A. are concerned, and also in gaining admission to a veteran's hospital when necessary. They will also explain to you functions such as community service, youth activity, and social events.

So please don't forget if you served over-seas you have the privilege to join the Veteran's of Foreign Wars. If you are in doubt of your status come along and we will be glad to help you.

MRS. EUPHEMIA R. SHARP

Mrs. Euphemia R. Sharp of 83 Bay State avenue, Somerville, widow of Thomas MacGregor Sharp and mother of Mrs. Chester W. Sanger of 10 Chesterford road, passed away Sunday morning, January 12, at her home.

Mrs. Sharp was born January 4, 1879, in Sterling, Scotland, and had made her home in Somerville for 25 years. Besides Mrs. Sanger, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Alex Middleton of Glasgow, Scotland, and Mrs. Charles H. Craigin of West Medford; also a son, James MacGregor Sharp, with whom she made her home.

Services were held at the A. E. Long Funeral Chapel in Cambridge, Tuesday with the Rev. Everett Washburn, pastor of the West Somerville Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

INJURED FELLING TREE

Walter Crowe of 102 Radcliffe street, Dorchester, an employee of the Frost & Higgins Tree Company of Arlington, was painfully injured yesterday morning while at work with a crew felling a tree in Wildwood Cemetery.

According to the police, Crowe, who was in the tree was struck by a large branch which started to swing as it was being lowered after removal from the trunk.

Crowe's safety rope prevented him from being knocked from the tree and he was lowered to the ground by fellow workmen. He was taken by Officer Daniel Pearson and Firefighter Frank Henley in the police ambulance to the Winchester Hospital where he was attended by Dr. Charles Rooney. After treament he was ordered held for x-rays of a back injury.

MICHAEL POWER

TO PLAY FOR PARENT-FACULTY ASSOCIATION

An outstanding event of the winter season in Winchester will take place on the evening of February 3, when the Winchester High School Parent-Faculty Association will present Mr. Michael Power in a piano recital at the school auditorium. Mr. Power is well known to Winchester audiences as the result of his splendid concert last winter for the benefit of the Association's school improvement and scholarship fund.

Mr. Power, who is a member of the English faculty at the High School, is best known for his solo appearances as a pianist, but he has also played with symphony orchestras, notably the Boston Pops Orchestra and the Civic Symphony of Greater Boston. His recitals at Jordan Hall, the Gardner Museum, and at schools and colleges throughout New England have gained him a wide following among lovers of fine music. A concert tour of Canada, recitals in England and Scotland, and study under the tutelage of Dame Myra Hess are further highlights in Mr. Power's musical career.

Lovers of fine music will be pleased to note that once again a major portion of Mr. Power's concert program will consist of compositions by Chopin. Selections from the work of Scarlatti-Tausig and Beethoven will be included also.

In announcing Mr. Power's forthcoming concert, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Buckley, co-chairmen of the Association's Ways and Means Committee, expressed the hope that the people of Winchester will reserve the evening of February 3, for this fine musical treat. Assisting the Buckley's on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Euler, Dr. and Mrs. John D. McLean, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Osgood. Mrs. Paul J. Donahue is general ticket chairman; Mrs. Charles Crede is in charge of distribution of tickets to room mothers; and Dr. John D. McLean is in charge of the ushers.

BU ALUMNI TROPHY WON BY JOSEPH FLAHERTY

This is the first year that the trophy has been in competition and Mr. Robertie, in an earlier announcement, stated that a similar trophy will be awarded annually to the outstanding high school football player of the year. Next year Mr. Robertie expects the trophy to go on display early in the fall with the award being made shortly after the Thanksgiving Day game.

Mr. Robertie was aided in selecting the winner by a committee of club members and these members were given a vociferous assist from his son Bill, Jr., and his nephew Jackie Falla of Washington street, both ardent supporters of the Winchester High School football team.

ACCIDENT IN CENTER

The Square was the scene of an accident early Saturday morning. John Eddy of 120 Cambridge street was traveling west on Church street when he skidded while making a turn at the First Congregational Church. The skid was apparently caused by slippery streets.

The car slid across the street and hit a tree on the Common side of Church street. The left front end of the car was damaged, but it was driven off under its own power.

COMMUNITY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION INVITES PARENTS

The Comunity School Association is pleased to announce the names of the panel members who will appear at the school building program discussion it is sponsoring next Wednesday evening, January 22, at eight o'clock in the senior high school.

Mrs. Louise Kugler will represent the school committee, Mr. H. Gardner Bradlee, the finance committee; Dr. Harry Gilson, the school department; Mr. Robert Bigelow, the school building committee; and Mr. Ralph Bonnell, the planning board. Mr. Leonard Mead will be the moderator.

It is urged that interested parties write their suggestions and questions to the "School Building Program, P. O. Box No. 54, Winchester, Mass.," at once, as all communications will be turned over to the panel as they are collected at the P. O. box. In this way, any lengthy or involved ideas can be thoroughly studied before being presented at the public meeting.

This discussion meeting should be of interest to all parents of present or prospective Winchester pupils, as the planning of school facilities must of necessity be long range.

It will be the first of three meetings dealing with the school building program, the others being a League of Women Voters' program and the school building committee open hearing, both scheduled for February. The Community School Association meeting was arranged in answer to the questions brought up by its members as to what could be done about the future school planning.

EPIPHANY WINDOW UNVEILED

A new stained glass window at the Church of the Epiphany will be unveiled and dedicated this Sunday, January 19, at 11:00 a.m. by the Rt. Rev. Angus Dun, DD., S.T.D., Episcopal Bishop of Washington.

The window has been given in memory of the late Alfred S. Higgins, former vestryman and warden of the church, by his sons, John S. Higgins of Providence, R. I., and Richard R. Higgins of Dedham.

A sister of Mr. Higgins, Mrs. A. P. MacKinnon, resides at Stetson Hall.

Bishop Dun will also dedicate a stone plaque, given by the Higgins family, to the memory of Frank Patterson Smith, the architect who created the church and parish hall. The plaque was made by the John Stevens Shop, Newport, R. I.

The window, which was made by the Boston firm of Wilbur Herbert Burnham, carries on the plan worked out by Dr. John W. Suter, first rector of the Parish of the Epiphany, and depicts St. Bartholomew and St. Philip, and the feeding of the multitude.

Bishop Dun, who is making a special trip to Boston for this event, assisted in the parish during the time the Rev. Mr. Murray W. Dewart was a chaplain in the armed forces. He also dedicated a window in the parish hall which was given in memory of Mrs. Higgins.

JENKS ON HOSPITAL COMMITTEE

Mr. James L. Jenks, Jr., of Myopia Hill road is a member of the special gifts division of the large committee being organized to conduct the half-million dollar campaign for expansion of the Lahey Pavilion of the New England Baptist Hospital.

The four-story Lahey Pavilion was dedicated in October, 1954, in honor of the late Dr. Frank H. Lahey, formerly surgeon-in-chief of the hospital and founder of the Lahey Clinic. The Pavilion is part of the Baptist Hospital, located atop Parker Hill, Boston.

The Pavilion will be expanded in order to help accommodate a long waiting list of patients from all parts of the world.

NEBHE PLAYS HOST

Two meetings were held at the New England Board of Higher Education, 31 Church street this week. On Monday, 18 deans and directors of collegiate nursing programs met to consider proposals for regional cooperation which were prepared by the New England Regional Conference on Public Health Nursing, Inc.

Representatives from the six state universities of the region are meeting today to discuss programs of regional cooperation for New England students at the state universities.

MRS. JOHN LYNCH
WINTON CLUB CABARET
CHAIRMAN

CABARET CAST CHOSEN

As a result of try-outs at the Masonic Hall last Sunday night, a large cast of Winchesterites are being transformed in their off-hours into such whimsical characters as "Mad Hatter," "Dormouse," and "Rabbit," by that Alice of all trades, Mrs. John Lynch, chairman of the show and John Palmer, this year's show director. If the rehearsals now in progress at Wyman School are any sample of things to come, our expectations increase daily.

For the second year, Mrs. Percival B. Metcalf of the Stacey Music Company, is donating the spectacular Winton Club Drill costumes. While watching the military drill, don't forget to keep your eye on the king, queen, jack and particularly the joker!

"One, two, three, kick" was never a part of the original "Alice," but with this forthcoming presentation, do expect the unexpected. You may, however, be sure to expect a successful show, the proceeds of which serve to purchase all the linen used at the Winchester Hospital. You may also meet, throughout the year, some of the cast serving a stint in the Hospital Coffee or Gift Shop, both of which are under the supervision of the Winton Club.

"Alice in Wintonland" will play for four evenings. On Theater Night, Thursday, January 30, there will be an eight o'clock coffee hour prepared by Mrs. Loring P. Nichols and Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., with Mrs. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., and Mrs. William J. Speers, Jr., pouring. Each evening, husbands, sons and daughters of Winton Club members will perform countless services both backstage and out front, moving scenery, ushering and serving refreshments. Sons will usher Wednesday and Thursday night and in the balcony on Friday and Saturday night, and daughters, in their party finery, will sell flowers and cigarettes.

For all evenings, music will be conducted by Tommy Gerard with Harry Marshard's orchestra. In charge of Special Effects are Mrs. Joseph Butler and Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick; Properties, Mrs. Robert Ingraham, Jr.; Floor, Mrs. Dudley H. Bradlee, II, and Mrs. Charles E. Moore; Refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Hakanson; Cast Refreshments, Mrs. Harry N. Squires, Jr., Publicity, Mrs. John S. Swift and Mrs. William A. Swett; Make Up, Mrs. John W. Harrison, with make up donated and supervised by Mr. Ross of Ross Hair Styles.

Tickets are still available for each performance, including Friday and Saturday nights.

SCOTT RINK WINNERS

The Scott Rink, skipped by Leslie J. Scott won the final round of curling for the Coveted Young Cup, oldest curling trophy at Winchester Country Club on the club rink last Sunday afternoon. The competition had extended through the holiday season.

Twelve skips are nominated by the Curling Committee for participation in the Young Cup competition, with the skips choosing their rinks from squads assigned to them. The competition is of the knock-down elmination variety, and the finalists were the Scott rink and that skipped by Harold Farnsworth.

Curling with Scott were Larry Burke, 3; Bob Lewis, 2; and Jack Page, lead.

ADULT EDUCATION VARYING PROGRAM FOR MANY TASTES

Courses to suit varying tastes are being offered in the winter session of the Adult Education program. The course in gemology promises to be one of the most interesting. Many people have been introduced to the fascinating study of gemology by their own discovery of semi-precious stones in the state of Maine or at the Bay of Fundy. To illustrate the classification and structure of precious and semi-precious stones, Mr. Joseph Giacalone, the instructor, will bring his own collection. He will also describe the cutting of gems, and, as time permits, talk about the role of gemology in art and history. Saturday field trips will be available. One of the features of the course is to be the guest lecturer, Professor C. W. Wolfe, chairman of Boston University's geology department.

Mr. Giacalone, a Winchester High School graduate, received his Master's degree from Boston University, and has given a course in gemology at this institution. After serving with the U. S. Army in the Far East, he was on the staff of the Uranium Research division for the Atomic Energy Commission. He has also had experience with the Corps of Engineers in Soil Research. He is now with the M.I.T. Lincoln Laboratory.

A course of interest to parents is called "Understanding Our Children." The instructor is Miss June Holmes, a member of the faculty at Boston University. Besides giving courses in psychology, Miss Holmes is connected with the University's Guidance and Counseling Department. She will be able to help with experienced and practical advice on teen-age problems. A study of what makes Junior and Junior Miss tick will be most valuable to parents.

Rug booking will be offered for the first time in Winchester. Mrs. Richard Davis, the instructor, has herself taken many courses in color and design, and has had several successful rug exhibitions. She also teaches in the evening classes in Melrose and Wakefield.

For a description of the whole Adult Education program there are pamphlets available in the Library, the public schools and various stores.

WINCHESTER TIES LYNN ENGLISH

EMERSON'S GOAL, GOWDY'S GOAL TENDING FEATURE 1-1 STALEMATE

Al Fuller and Bill Emerson scored goals in the first period last Saturday at the Lynn Arena as Winchester and vaunted Lynn English battled to a 1-1 stalemate in the North Shore Hockey League. Lynn was a top heavy favorite to beat Winchester but the embattled Indians matched the city boys all the way, though it took some sterling goal tending by Doug Gowdy in the second period to hold English in check.

By the same token Lynn's goaler, Fila, had his work cut out for him in the final chuckkah when Winchester went all out in an attempt to win.

Coach Finigan changed his lineup for the Lynn game, dropping Dick Scott back to defense where he teamed with Steve Powers who had been playing wing on the second line. Eaton, former defense man, was moved up to a wing position, and Harkins took over Scott's center position in the first line.

Fuller gave Lynn first blood when he scored with only 15 seconds elapsed in the first period. Marsh and White got assists on the play with Fuller's shot being fired from a screen to Gowdy's left.

Three minutes after Fuller's goal Bill Emerson fired the equalizer past Fila into the left corner of the English net. Bill LaMarche set up Emerson, and contributed some nifty stick handling as he waited for the scorer to get into position.

With the count knotted Lynn really put the pressure on Gowdy all the way through the second period, but the Winchester goaler was equal to the challenge and stopped every shot, including one sizzler from 20 feet out on a breakaway by White.

Winchester carried the going to Lynn in the final period, but Fila was just too good and the winning goal could not be had.

Gowdy had 16 saves, several on the tough side, while Fila had only one less. The summary:

WINCHESTER — Gowdy, g; Powers, rd; Scott, ld; Davenport, rw; Harkins, c; Eaton, lw.

LYNN ENGLISH— Fila, g; Gillespie, rd; Pinch, ld; Fuller, rw; Marsh, c; White, lw.

Winchester Spares: Emerson, LaMarche. Lynn English Spares: Colville, Richardson, Cody, Donachie, Ramayer.

First Period—Goals: Fuller (Marsh, White) 0:15, Emerson (LaMarche) 3:11. Penalties: Gillespie (tripping) 2:51, Fuller (elbow) 6:26.

Second Period—Penalties: White (board check in offensive zone) 1:07, Colville (tripping) 4:21, Cody (tripping) 8:50.

Third Period—Penalties: Harkins (hooking) 7:01.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY NOTES

Last Saturday the Red and Black freshman hockey team plowed past the Lexington sextet for a 5-0 victory. Winchester played good hockey throughout and had things pretty much its own way from first to last. Jon Smith collected two goals; O'Callaghan, Gray and Dick Tierney one each. Reardon and Johnson were credited with two assists apiece, and O'Callaghan and Emerson each had one.

In the final period Coach Chadwick put Dave Lundin in goal for Bob Tierney and then proceeded to substitute his second-string players until every member of the squad had an opportunity on the ice.

At the moment, Winchester is in first place in its division of the Suburban Junior Hockey League. This situation will not prevail long, however, as Melrose, which is fielding an exceptionally powerful team, has remaining to be played two more leauge games than Winchester and is practically sure to amass enought points for first place. The real battle will come for second place, also a league playoff spot, between Winchester and Medford. When these two teams meet on Feburary 8, they are expected to be neck and neck in total points acquired, and the team that goes to the playoffs will be determined by the outcome of that game. Winchester, meanwhile, plays Arlington while Medford plays Stoneham and Walpole.

Tomorrow at Lynn at 11:45 the freshmen play the WHS sophomores.

WHAT IS IT, NURSE?

"FRIENDS" LAUNCH PUPPET PROJECT

Launching a new project last week, the Friends of the Winchester Hospital distributed winsome hand puppets, dressed in cheery cherry red, the Friends' uniform color, to all the children who were patients at the Winchester Hospital.

"Winnie," as this puppet doll has been named by the Friends, will be given to every child admitted to the hospital from now on, to play with during his stay and to take home as a momento. Two year old, Thomas Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Roberts, 29 Lebanon street, was the first child to receive this gift of the Friends from Miss Verne McGilvreay, R.N., floor supervisor. "Winnie" was a winner immediately with him. Other children given puppets the first day were Thomas Corkery, Stephen Farrell, Karen Lindmark, Garth Moulton, Patricia Silva and Lawrence White.

Co-chairmen of this appealing project are Mrs. John Carruthers and Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker. They have been busy for months with a corps of helpers making a reserve stock of puppets. They made 160 puppets before they gave out the first one as insurance against ever running out of stock and disappointing a sick child. They expect "Winnie's" reputation to spread rapidly among the children in town.

The "Hello" tags attached to the puppets were donated by Miss Norma Charles, Reading vice-chairman of the Friends. The clever jingle about "Winnie" and the Friends on the tags was written by Mrs. Erwin Hutchings. Mrs. R. Ashley Lewis as distribution chairman is in charge of individually wrapping each puppet and keeping a steady supply available at the Hospital for the nurses to distribute to the children throughout the year.

The committee in charge of making these eye-appealing puppets to delight the hospitalized children would like to bring to the attention of the public that old nylon stockings are used to stuff the puppets heads. Contributions of old nylon stockings are needed and would be greatly appreciated.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship of Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will have Reverend Sani Kesen, an ordained Christian minister of the United Church of Japan speak to them this coming Sunday. He will show colored slides and talk to the group about the Christian Church in Japan. The Reverend Kesen is a graduate of Union Theological Seminary in Tokyo and is undertaking graduate work in the New Testatment at Boston University School of Theology. His presentation is a part of a three week program emphasizing the work of the Christian Church in Japan and a part of the National Council of Churches emphasis for 1958. The Fellowship meeting will begin at 7:00 p. m. and will be followed by refreshments.

Last Sunday Carol Monsen led the fellowship in a discussion about the Japanese people. It was certainly interesting to hear of the Japanese people's customs and beliefs.

The Intermediate Youth Fellowship took part in the splash party sponsored by the Inter-Church Council of Winchester last Saturday. Last Sunday they saw a colored film on "Tommy and Yoshi," illustrating how new friends are made in Japan. This Sunday the group will hear the Reverend Sani Kesen as he talks to them about his native Japan. The meeting will begin at 5:00 p. m. and will be followed by refreshments.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

SENIOR GIRL SCOUTS ON SECTIONAL PLANNING BOARD

Two senior Girl Scouts, Carol Monsen and Betsy Root, with their leader, Mrs. James Stewart, represented Winchester at a senior planning board meeting in Woburn recently. The ten councils of our section were represented. These are: Woburn-Burlington, Wakefield, Stoneham, Melrose, Medford, Somerville, Malden, Everett, Reading-North Reading, and Winchester.

Together the girls made plans for a sectional encampment, to be held in Newburyport on Memorial Day weekend. This is the first time our section has attempted such a project.

This encampment will be a step in the preparation for the Round-Up to be held in 1959, to which Winchester plans to send representatives.

We're off to a good start!

Annual Meeting

The most important meeting of the year is the annual meeting to be held at the Mystic School on Monday evening, January 20, at 8:00 p. m. At this meeting, our annual election of officers, board members, and membership nominating committee will take place. To save time for the very interesting program to follow, all committee reports will be mimeographed and distributed to our membership, instead of given orally.

The lecture and colored movies by Dr. Raymond Dillon will be followed by refreshments and a social hour.

All leaders, assistant leaders, troop committee members, board members and board committee members, their husbands, and friends are invited to attend. We especially urge the men to come. They will not want to miss Dr. Dillon and the pictures of the Yankee's voyage.

SENIOR FORUM TO HEAR DR. PADELFORD

Dr. Norman J. Padelford, professor of political science at M.I.T., will be the guest speaker at the chapel service this Sunday when the Senior Forum meets in Ripley Chapel at 9:30 a.m. He will discuss the topic "It All Begins with Understanding." Dr. Padelford, an authority on world political and economic matters, also has a keen interest in world-wide Christianity. He serves as chairman of the missionary and benevolence committee of the First Congregational Church. Two of his three daughters are Forum alumnae and the third, Peggy, is now a Forumite. The Padelfords' second daughter, Carolyn, is presently teaching in the American Academy for Girls in Uskudar, Turkey. Dr. Padelford will thus bring a personal as well as a professional interest to the discussion.

Serving as chaplain will be Dan Scott, with Myron Kazanjian as assistant chaplain. The deacons will be Charles Richmond and Robert Dickey. Philip Dunn and Ray Hinxman will be ushers.

Plans are going forward for the annual International Week End held every winter by Forum. This year the co-chairmen are Elizabeth Fisher and Peter Gowing, with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Goodwin as advisers. Forumites are now signing up, with their parents, to entertain international student guests on February 8-9. A program of special events is being planned for group activities at the church while the foreign guests are here.

There will be a meeting of adult advisers for Forum at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Wesley A. Mallery, 24 Grove street, this Sunday evening at 6:00:p.m.

Miss Constance Snelling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Snelling of 8 Ravenscroft road, appeared in "The Admirable Bashville," by G. B. Shaw, presented January 10 by the Play Production Class of Connecticut College, New London. Miss Snelling is a graduate of Winchester High School. She is a member of the junior class at the college and is a history major.

MRS. DOWNER CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Cutler B. Downer, of 39 Everett avenue, will serve as honorary chairman of the Winchester 1958 Heart Fund drive, it was announced this week by Samuel P. Sears, Massachusetts state chairman of the February campaign.

A Cutler B. Downer Memorial Fund was established in 1948 and financed several major Heart Fund services in honor of Mrs. Downer's late husband. Those services included the publication of a cookbook for a low sodium diet; an illustrated lecture by Dr. Paul Dudley White; and a contribution to the cardiovascular stack at the Boston Medical Library.

The Junior Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church will hold its next meeting on Tuesday, January 21, at 7:45 p. m. in the Palmer Room.

Mrs. Russell Roberts will lead the group in a "Buzz Session" on the topic "Creative Housekeeping." Everyone is asked to bring their favorite short-cut having to do with cooking, cleaning, or child care.

Dessert will be served by Mrs. Lawrence Beckley, Mrs. Carleton Clogston, Mrs. Albert Ludlam, and Mrs. Robert Mulford.

LEAGUE UNITS TO STUDY WATER CONSERVATION

One of the two items that the League of Women Voters across the nation adopted for study this year is conservation of water resources. While most people are aware that our water supply is limited and that it is being consumed at a fantastic rate, few of us know what measures can be taken and are being taken to combat the problem. Come to next week's unit meetings and discuss this important question. New and prospective members of the league are always welcome at any unit.

Hostesses and discussion leaders are as follows:

Wednesday, January 22, 7:45 p.m.—Hostess, Mrs. Robert Joslin, 6 Crescent road; leader, Mrs. Ernest Dieterich.

Thursday, January 23, 9:30 a.m. —Hostess, Mrs. Olcott Hooper, 228 Highland avenue; leader, Mrs. Richard Alt.

Thursday, January 23, 7:45 p.m. —Hostess, Mrs. William B. Harvey, Jr., 55 Yale street; leader, Mrs. Lawrence Rubin.

Friday, January 24, 9:30 a.m.— Hostess, Mrs. Eber LeGates, 106 Church street; leader, Mrs. Lawrence Kelbley.

SHARPSHOOTERS WIN AGAIN

The Sachems tromped over Waltham last Friday night at the Winchester Range. The score totaled up to 887 for Winchester and 777 for Waltham. The team lacked 3 points for breaking the club's record of 890.

Captain Donaghey remarked that the boys are full of good team spirit and are hopeful of breaking all records established thus far.

The five high scorers were as follows: Captain Bob Donaghey, 181; Charlie Petri, 181, Phil Borneman, 178; Paul Goodu, 177; George Ducharme, 170, for a grand total of 887 against Waltham's 777. Christiansen was the top scorer for Waltham.

The boys fire at Melrose this Friday night. Best of luck for another win!

SONS OF ITALY Bowling News

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

With "Prestone" in our bloodstreams we resumed bowling once again. We left with B.C. on top December 26, and now she is still there although she only managed to salvage one point this week. Once again it proves most conclusively that every pinfall is important to a team.

Tied for top honors along with B.C. are Alabama and Holy Cross but you will note that pinfalls make the difference.

Team Standings	W	L	P.F.
Boston College	5	3	2825
Alabama	5	3	2722
Holy Cross	5	3	2737
St. Mary's	4	3-1	2810
Notre Dame	4	4	2802
Georgetown	3	5	2793
Bates	3	5	2780
California	2	5-1	2641

Hi Single: Babe Tofuri 144

Hi Triple: Max La Carubba 367

Top Ten Bowlers:

Tony Saraco	103.8
Choppers Gangi	103.4
Bob Fiore	100.3
A. P. Tofuri	99.8
Babe Tofuri	99.5
Dick Fiore	99.5
Jeff Gaudioso	98
Tony Chefalo	96.9
Gene Rotondi	95.8

We had a fair share of top bowling this week and seven hurdled the 300 barrier. The front runner was one of our most capable and conscientious bowlers with 324 Max La Carubba, Bob Fiore, 320; Babe Tofuri, 321; Tony Saraco, 313; A. P. Tofuri, 319; Dick Tofuri and Choppers Gangi, 303

Although unable to score a single point on opening night of the half, Bates took 3 points and scored high team pinfalls with 1464. A well balanced team but we are sorry to say, burdened with old timers who live in the past.

Their captain is one of the best, Max La Carubba, a fine bowler who does a fine job of nursing his brood. His wards consist of the toupee kid, Dom Provinzano; one of the seven little tailors, Dan Gattineri; the staunch advocator of prohibition since 1920, Pete "Crazy Legs" Fiore; the young heifer of the team, Rudy Rotondi; and last but not least, our beloved "Frontier Doctor" from Dodge City Dr. Pillbox Chic Vespucci, one of our oldest bowlers.

We had a lot of fine bowling this week and we would like to mention those that almost hit the 300 mark. Chic Vespucci, 298; Leroy Penta, 297; Dan Gattineri, 297; Phil Adagno, 295; M. J. Saraco, 294; Jeff Gaudioso, 293; Joe Ciarcia, 291; Pete Gilberti, 291; and the high single of the night was scored by Babe Tofuri with 135.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

Leroy Penta this week's man
A dyed in the wool Bruin fan
No regard for weather or pelting rain
He rarely misses an Army-Navy game!
To the best in sports some lucky boy
Will receive a trophy from our Leroy

A poor night in the alley is oh so rare
His boxes are dotted with strikes and spares

We are having our best and finest season, we do hope that this second half will be as interesting and as competitive as the first.

This week's award was won by the chairman of the sports committee William Fiore one of our most diligent workers for the good of our organization.

See you next week.

Only two games of the Winchester Police Athletic League schedule were played the week of January 6. The Senior schedule was cancelled for Wednesday, January 8, and only two of the three scheduled Junior games were played. This was the result of the severe storm of that week. These games are now re-scheduled to the emergency dates on your regular schedule; Junior Division April 1, Senior Division April 9.

Senior Division games this coming week: 7:00 p. m. Pistons vs. Hawks; 8:00 p. m. Celtics vs. Lakers; 9:00 p. m. Eagles vs. Royals; all at Junior High Wednesday, January 22.

Junior Division games this week at Junior High Tuesday, January 21. 7:00 p. m. Dartmouth vs. Princeton; 8:00 p. m. Yale vs. Harvard; 9:00 p .m. Boston College vs. Holy Cross.

Princeton had a strong team effort against Yale, Bond scoring 25 points and Parsons scoring 16 of their teams 66 points. This was more than enough to defeat a game Yale team led by Callahan who scored 15 of his teams total of 30 points.

The first defeat of the season for the strong Boston College team came at the hands of an aroused Holy Cross club, led by their capable big three of Bellino, Ring and Lynch. Thy were matched most of the way by the equally big three of Boston College, Peckham, Flaherty and Brenner. The final score was a tight H.C. 38 to B.C. 36.

Plan to come to the Junior High School Gym on Tuesday or Wednesday evenings and enjoy some of this fine action.

INDIANS DROPPED TO FOURTH IN LEAGUE

Winchester High dropped to fourth place in the Northeast Conference Division of North Shore Interscholastic Hockey League as the Indians bowed last Thursday to top flying Amesbury, 6-4; at the Lynn Arena.

Craig Davenport had a big night for Winchester, scoring three goals, and it is too bad his scoring spree came in a losing cause.

Though beaten, the Indians gave Amesbury plenty of trouble, being never more than a single goal behind until Martin's two tallies in the final period. Even then Coach Finigan's boys refused to quit and Davenport took a pass from Harkins to score at the 9:31 mark. The summary:

AMESBURY—g. Orkney; rd, Roy; ld, Cote; c, Dupere; rw, Mitchell; lw, R. Martin. Spares: J. Martin, Parent, Gilday, Houlihan, Andrews.

WINCHESTER—g. Gowdy; rd, Cullen; ld, Eaton; c, LaMarch; rw, Harkins; lw, Davenport. Spares: Powers, Scott, Emerson.

Third Period—Martin :17; Powers (Scott) 1:59; Martin, 4:25; Davenport (Harkins) 9:31.

SACHEMS TROUNCE CONCORD

The Sachems travelled last Friday night to Concord where they handily defeated Concord 66-34, in a Middlesex League game.

Backed by a 23 point third quarter the Sachems rolled up their eighth win in nine games. An 81% average gave the Indians fans a real thrill as the team made shot after shot.

Five Sachems hit double figures. Doug Thomson led the team with 16 while Dave Schumacher and Joel Peckham, collected 15 and 13 points respectively. "Vandy" French and Del Bartlett hit 10 points each.

Winchester outrebounded Concord 41-23, Dave Schumacher leading the team with 19. The summary:

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Rod Gay paced the Winchester High School Freshmen five to an easy 46-34 victory over Concord at the high school gym last Friday afternoon.

Gay was high scorer with 15 points which makes his season total 69, high for the Frosh.

Guards Swett and Neville also made double figures with 11 and 10 respectively. This victory makes the Freshmen record 4 wins and 1 loss. The summary:

COUNTRY CLUB TO STAGE MIXED BONSPIEL

Winchester Country Club will conduct a Mixed Curling Bonspiel January 24, 25 and 26. This event should be newsworthy for it is the first Bonspiel to be held in this area with both men and women curling together on the same rink. It is also an indication of the rapid growth in the popularity of this sport wherever covered sheets of artificial ice become available. It was only four years ago that the Winchester rink was completed.

Twenty rinks will participate and will include Kingston, Ontario, from Canada; and clubs from outside of New England, Utica, St. Andrews, N. Y. (3); N. Y. Caledonian, and Schenectady (2).

There will be 12 Clubs from New England, Nashua (2); the Country Club (3); Norfolk, Conn., Brae Burn (2); Wellesley and Winchester (3).

The three sheets of ice will be busy with matches being held on Friday and Saturday at 8:30 a. m., 11:00 a. m., 1:30 p. m., and 4:00 p. m.

There will be a Banquet Friday evening and a Buffet Dinner and Dance Saturday night. On Sunday semi-final matches will take place at 8:30 a. m. and 11:00 a. m. with the finals at 2:30 p. m.

There will be a main event and consolation and the winners and runners-up of both will be awarded prizes.

The three Winchester rinks will not be known until the completion of the play off competition this weekend. Those selected will be the winner and runners-up and the winner of the match between the two defeated semi-finalists. The four teams in the semi-finals are:

1. Fishers and V. Farnsworths
2. Morse, Belcher and Gamages
3. Neills and Sheans
4. H. Farnsworths and J. Worthens

Order of play is the women curling one and three positions and the men two and skip.

MEN'S MORNING GROUP

Interesting meetings are being held on the first and third Tuesday mornings of the month in the Library Room of the Unitarian Church. The group is made up of retired and semi-retired men who enjoy group discussion and fellowship. A good talk on investments was given recently by Mr. Wade Grindle. Mr. Edward Kenerson talked about the business of publishing, and Mr. John Irvine has talked on the subject of tombstones. On Tuesday, January 21, Mr. Percival Mott will lead a discussion on the topic: "Church and State." These meetings are open to all men.

WINCHESTER WIVES ELIGIBLE

A program of recreation and education, "YW Wives," will be open to young wives and mothers of Winchester at the Boston YWCA with morning and evening groups beginning the latter part of January.

Information is available from Mrs. Richard A. Mitchell of the YWCA, telephone KEnmore 6-7940.

The first meeting of the evening group will be at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday, January 22. A Tuesday morning group providing nursery care for small children will hold registration the following week on January 28.

RICHARD M. OSGOOD

FELLSLAND COUNCIL ANNUAL MEETING

Richard M. Osgood was elected president of the Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the annual business meeting of the council held last Thursday evening, January 9, in the Stoneham Town Hall. Mr. Osgood succeeds A. Benjamin Gowing who had served as president since 1952.

Mr. Osgood, a resident of Winchester since 1955, is a native of Malden. He received his B.S. degree from the United States Military Academy in 1941 and subsequently did graduate study in radio and radar engineering both at Harvard University and M.I.T. He spent fourteen years as an officer in the United States Air Force leaving with the rank of colonel. His last post with the Air Force was that of chief of the Electronics Defense Systems Division, Directorate of Procurement and Production, Air Material Command. In this course of his military career, he held several responsible positions related to the Distant Early Warning Project and the Semi-Automatics Ground Environment (SAGE) System.

He joined the Electronics Systems Division of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., at its Waltham location in 1955 as manager of Equipment Fabrication, and in December of 1956 became a manager of the Waltham Laboratories.

Mr. Osgood became a member of Fellsland Council executive board in June 1957. He is the father of three children, one of them a Boy Scout in Troop 2, Winchester.

The business meeting included reports from the chairman of the Council Operating Committees: William A. Swett, Norman R. Houghton, W. Howard Niblock, James H. Coon, Jr., and Dr. Donald E. McLean. ACCIDENT ON HIGHLAND AVE.

Joseph C. Pelletier of 41 Liberty avenue, Woburn came to the police station Sunday afternoon to report that he had been involved in an automobile accident while driving on Highland avenue.

Mr. Pelletier was driving south on Highland avenue and upon nearing the intersection of Kenwin road his car was in collision with an Oldsmobile sedan driven by Vincent Gianitti of 11 East street who was driving east on Kenwin onto Highland.

Mrs. Eleanor Pelletier and her three children were passengers in the car driven by her husband and all claimed to be shaken up. Mr. Gianitti's passengers were his wife and a child.

Both cars were damaged, the Pelletier's auto on the right side and grill and the Gianitti car on the left front.

LINCOLN SCHOOL CAKE-MAKING WINNERS ANNOUNCED

A "service to others" project was undertaken by Mr. Nearine's Sixth Grade class as a pre-Christmas extra-curricular activity. Boys and girls who wanted to enter a cake-baking contest made and decorated package-mix cakes.

Rules of the contest required that this be done at home without help from mother. Twenty-eight entries were numbered and judged on beauty by Judges Mrs. Eleanor Davis, Mr. Alfred Meurling, and Mr. Peter Benson.

Best of show prize was awarded to Lance Grenzeback for his chocolate cake, decorated with white coconut frosting, and topped with cherries. The cake was displayed on a tinsel platter surrounded by greens.

Second prize in the Boys' division, was awarded to Domenic Amico for his chocolate cake shaped like a Christmas tree, with colored decorations and lighted candles.

Second prize in the Girls' division went to Polly Farnham for her entry of a chocolate devil's food cake, shaped in the form of a tree, and decorated with icing covered with colored candies.

Following the judging, the cakes were transported to the offices of the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association for immediate distribution.

Mrs. George A. Marks of Foxcroft road was one of the hostesses at last night's lecture by Perry T. Rathbone, director of the Museum of Fine Arts, given at the Museum under the auspices of the Ladies' Committee in aid of the membership drive. Admission to the lecture for Museum members was by presenting a new member instead of an admission fee or ticket.

Winchester Optical Shoppe Features Eyeglass Hearing Aids

One of the newest businesses in town is the Winchester Optical Shoppe at 8 Thompson street. Open since November 25, Mr. William Dunn, manager of the shop, has nothing but nice words to say about the town and the people he has met at the shop.

Mr. Dunn is a registered optician which is in many ways equivalent to a druggist in that his job is to fill prescriptions for eyeglasses in the same manner as a druggist fills a doctor's prescription.

Featured at the Shoppe are the relatively new eyeglass hearing aids which offer more comfort than other types of hearing aids and also are less conspicuous. Other products which the Shoppe handles are hearing aids and a complete line of accessories, a full line of accessories for eyeglass wearers, barometers, thermometers, binoculars and other optical equipment.

In addition, the shop has its own lab and does nearly all of the work right in the building. This includes repairs as well as the work on new prescriptions.

The Shoppe is owned by Ernest Weil of Winchester, who is associated with Hearing Aid Associates in Boston and by Ben Vasapoli of Medford who has an optical lab in Boston which specializes in contact lenses.

CAPPED AT MASS. GENERAL

Miss Catherine Goss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Goss of 41 Allen road, was one of the 76 members of the class of 1958 of the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing to receive her cap at the Capping Ceremonies held Monday evening, January 13, in the Moseley Rotunda of the Hospital.

Dr. Ellsworth T. Neumann, Administrator of the Hospital, extended greetings and congratulations to the students. Miss Ruth Sleeper, Director of the School of Nursing and Nursing Service, presented each student with her cap. This traditional ceremony marks the occasion when the student nurse, having completed her first twenty-eight months in the School, exchanges her student cap for the School cap and for the next eight months serves as a nurse intern, working in partnership with the faculty and the graduate nurses.

Following the exercises, a reception was held in Bartlett Hall for the members of the class, their families and friends.

ENROLLED IN PERSHING RIFLES AT B. U.

Richard F. Clifton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clifton of 4 Summit avenue, a member of the Boston University Air Force ROTC unit, has been initiated into the Pershing Rifles at Boston University.

A freshman in the University's Junior College, he was formally initiated into the society after an extended period of pledging at ceremonies during the intermission of the annual Pershing Rifles Ball, held Friday, January 10, at the Boston Club.

Named after the World War I Commander-in-Chief of the United States expeditionary forces, the Pershing Rifles is a national military society found on most college campuses with Army and Air Force units, and its initiation policy resembles those of college fraternities. A major activity of each chapter is the sponsoring of a drill team.

The Boston University Pershing Rifles drill team last year won the Outstanding Drill Award for New England chapters in both trick and ordinary marching.

ON CRACK SHIP

Peter R. McElhinney, aviation machinist's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McElhinney of 18 Salem street, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Randolph which has been awarded the 1957 Battle Efficiency and the Chief of Naval Operation's Aviation Safety Awards for attack carriers of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet.

The top Navy awards were presented to the ship by Vice Admiral "Cat" Brown, Commander of the Sixth Fleet, during a formal ceremony aboard the Randolph December 7, at Athens, Greece.

The ship's bakers prepared a 12-foot, 668 pound "E" shaped cake in honor of the occasion.

Mrs. Jean Marks of Winchester is on the committee of arrangements for the annual mid-winter meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts Home Economics Association at Simmons College tomorrow.

SMALL WONDER

The value of prescribed medicine cannot be measured by quantity but rather, by the amount of relief it produces. For example many of today's wonder drugs are prescribed and dispensed in small quantities because these drugs are so effective that a little works a great deal of cure. While it may seem that you are getting a small amount of medicine for your money, you actually are buying faster relief from pain and speedier recovery from illness . . . and that's the greatest value money can buy.

WEEI 20-YEAR CLUB INDUCTS NEW MEMBERS

Following luncheon on Friday, December 20, at Locke-Ober's famous restaurant in Boston, Thomas Y. Gorman, general manager of WEEI, inducted two members of the staff to the station's 20-Year Club. They were Arthur C. King, director of news; and Warren J. Stevens, chief engineer.

(Circle insert) E. B. Rideout (32), meteorologist. At one time Rideout was the only independent meteorologist on the air, and the first. Since then, others have come and gone. When this group picture was taken Rideout insisted on remaining in his laboratory to monitor a storm which threatened.

Figures in parentheses are the number of years men have been employed by WEEI. With 74 persons on the staff payroll, they represent 17.57% of the total, with 350 years of service, cumulatively.

WINCHESTER MINISTERS' ASSOCIATION

The Winchester Ministers' Association met on Friday, January 10, 1958, at 11:00 a. m. at the Unitarian Church. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved. There was a discussion of the Lenten services for 1958. It was decided to have the local clergy preach, exchanging churches, instead of having outside speakers.

The tentative schedule is as follows:

February 19, Ash Wednesday, at the Church of the Epiphany; the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey preaching.

February 26, at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Dr. John W. Ellison preaching.

March 5, at the First Congregational Church, the Rev. John Snook, Jr., preaching.

March 12, at the First Baptist Church, Dr. Dwight L. Cart preaching.

March 19, at the Unitarian Church, the Rev. Norman L. Smith preaching.

March 26, at the Second Congregational Church, the Rev. Robert Storer, preaching.

The Wednesday morning Young People's Lenten services will be held at the Unitarian Church, with local preachers, from 7:25 a. m. - 7:45 a. m.

It was decided to have a Ministers' Get-Together on Sunday, March 9, from 6:00 - 9:00 p. m. at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, president Robert Storer will make a lobster stew, and an evening of fellowship will follow.

The officers of the Ministers' Association are:

President, the Rev. Robert Storer; secretary-treasurer, the Rev. Norman L. Smith.

THANK YOU, GENTLEMEN

Mrs. America is congratulated by Everett C. Bryant (right) and Ernest A. Bulpett, vice president-manager, and sales manager of the Mystic Valley Gas Company. Mrs. America, who is actually Mrs. Linwood Findley, was flown from Washington, D. C., to Boston to take part in the annual sales meeting of the gas division of the New England Electric System that was held at the Hotel Hawthorne in Salem on Monday, December 30.

URGENT APPEAL

The available supply of whole blood in Boston and vicinity has declined to practically zero. Surgical operations are being postponed and lives hang in the balance. In a word, the situation is extremely critical.

Blood, as a life-giving, life-saving, commodity is unique in one important respect; no amount of money can buy a substitute. When it is needed. The need generally is a case of life or death, and yet, only people have this blood and only people can give it.

New surgical techniques as well as new approaches to the conquering of disease are all demanding an increased amount of blood. Thirty minutes of your time and a pint of your blood will constitute not only a "good deed" but a very real investment in your future health, and possibly your life.

The question of who gets what blood there is on hand in the Regional Bloodcenter Bank is one of priority. Donations of 2 pints of blood automatically establishes a priority claim for both the donor and his family for the ensuing year. So giving blood is good insurance as well.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 65, in good health and free from recent serious illness, you can help ease the critical situation which now exists.

One week from next Monday, January 27, the Red Cross Mobile Unit will be at the Congregational Church Parish House, from 1 to 7 p. m. to receive donations. Although you may "walkin" during those hours, it is preferable to make an appointment. This can be done quickly by calling the Red Cross Office at WInchester 6-2390.

When blood is needed it must be there in the right type and amount and at the right time. In recent weeks it has not been available. The supply must be restored and you can help. Remember, to call WInchester 6-2300.

CHURCH SERVICE LEAGUE

The United Thank Offering will be the subject of an informal talk by Mrs. Augustine Soule at the general meeting and luncheon of the Church Service League of the Parish of the Epiphany next Tuesday, January 21, at 12:30 p.m.

Tickets for the luncheon are 75c and may be obtained at the church office, in the narthex of the church after services this Sunday and at the parents' classes. No tickets will be sold at the door. Mrs. Charles Sweetser, 20 Cabot street is ticket chairman.

A member of the Church of Our Saviour in Longwood, Mrs. Soule is the daughter-in-law of Mrs. Richard Soule, who founded the United Thank Offering in 1889. She is U. T. O. treasurer and its representative to the Diocesan Board.

As U. T. O. treasurer Mrs. Soule will present the money from Massachusetts at the Triennial Convetion of the Episcopal Church in Florida next fall. At the present time the offering is well over $100,000 and will be substantially augmented by another collection in May, making this the biggest year for Massachusetts since the founding of U. T. O.

PRE-LENTEN SERVICES

The Reverend Norman L. Smith, pastor of the Second Congregational Church, announces a series of pre-Lenten sermons beginning on Sunday, January 19, entitled: "Questions Most Often Asked." The first in the series will be "The Problem of Evil: Why Does God Allow It?" Subsequent sermons will be:

January 26 "Do I really Know What I Believe?"
February 2 "What Has My Church a Right to Expect of Me?"
February 9 "What Is the Real Purpose of the Church Today?"
February 16 "Is There Any Real Basis For Belief in the Hereafter?"

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL FAMILY DANCE NIGHT

The Junior High School Associates executive board announces an innovation in its programming with the first Junior High Family Dance Night to be held on Friday evening, February 7, from 8 to 10 p.m. at the gymnasium.

The evening will be primarily a gay square dance under the direction of the popular Mickey Meurling. It is being held for junior high parents, who are invited to come with or without their 7th and 8th grade children, and for the students, who are asked to be sure and bring an adult if they wish to attend.

A lively mixing of ages is the intent of Mr. Meurling, who promises to vary the program with novelty dances, and with some ballroom and folk dances for those not quite up to the rapid pace of the square. A door prize and a variety of other prizes will add fun to what is sure to be one of the highlights of the junior high year. Refreshments will be available.

As the capacity of the hall is limited, there may have to be a slight restriction on the number attending, so parents are advised to keep their eyes open for the announcement of specific ticket information due to come from school with their students very soon. This much-anticipated event is being sponsored by the ways and means committee of the Associates, and support of it will support all activities of the junior high parent-teacher group. In charge of ways and Means are Mr. and Mrs. Clifton W. McNeill, and assisting them on the family night committee are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pettingell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rich, and Mrs. Andrew Crawford and Mrs. Malcolm Bennett, in charge of room mothers.

The Associates board would also like to call the attention of all parents to the panel discussion meeting on the school facilities building program next Wednesday evening, the 22nd, which will take the place this year of a mid-winter meeting for junior high parents. This meeting is of very special importance to all junior high parents and it is hoped that all who can will attend.

ZONTIANS HONOR AMELIA EARHART

Zonta Clubs throughout the world, in 15 countries from Iceland to Chile, from Germany to the Phillipines, are observing Amelia Earhart Recognition Day at their meetings nearest January 11. Miss Earhart, a former resident of Medford, was a member of the Zonta Club of Boston, and later of the Zonta Club of New York City.

Zonta International, classified service organization for executive women in business and the professions, has as its major service project, the Amelia Earhart Scholarship program of annual grants to young women for graduate study in the field of aeronautical engineering. This program was established in 1938, the year following Miss Earhart's disappearance, and one or more grants has been made each year.

Tuesday, January 14, was selected as the date for the Amelia Earhart Recognition by the Medford Zonta Club, following dinner at the Royall House. Miss Hilda Hope, 37 Glen Green, Winchester, was in charge of the special program honoring Miss Earhart.

Other members of the Zonta Club of Medford with Winchester affiliations are Miss Helen Forsyth, 6 Stratford road, Mrs. Edith Huse, 93 Church street, and Mrs. Anna Price, owner of Randall's.

EDITORIALS

The Star had a visit recently from a Winchester woman who was quite concerned over something she had heard about the town at a meeting she attended in a neighboring community.

She had been told of an incident involving some Winchester teenagers and the police in which it was said that the youngsters had been saved from court action by the intervention of a "prominent citizen."

The woman came to the Star seeking the real story and we gave her the facts as we know them. Naturally the story she had picked up out of town was greatly exaggerated, just as rumors of that sort are very likely to be; yet there was in it sufficient truth to warrant no particular pride on the part of the town in the way some of its young people have been acting. We need to take a careful account of our teen-ager stock right now, and we need to bear down with a good black pencil.

This is not to imply that all, or even most of our young people are anti-social. There are many communities that would pay an appreciable bonus for our youngsters in a swap for theirs. By and large we have some pretty good kids in town; and their accomplishments in the arenas of sports as well as in academic competition with other schoolgirls and boys are proof positive that a lot of our youngsters have a good, wholesome outlook on life.

Unfortunately these are not the ones that people like to slide up to you and talk about behind their hands. It is always the rotten fruit you see in a barrel of rosy apples, the squeaky axle that is noticed.

It is definitely too bad to have some adverse teen-ager publicity make our neighboring communities think we have a bad town in which to bring up a family because that is going to mean that the sort of people we have been attracting in the past, the sort of people we like to welcome to Winchester, will be looking elsewhere when they have to make a move.

Each little teen-age episode, magnified as it usually is in repetition, hurts the good kids we see all around us as well as the town. And some of the episodes that have been noised abroad of late have had a potential that could easily be serious. We should not be at all smug about what some of our boys and girls are up to!

What can be done about it? The woman who visited us, and she was by no means a crank, or hostile to young people (she has raised a family), wondered if as a start some sort of council could be formed, comparable perhaps to a student council at college, where discussion of teen-age problems could be held and possible policies toward improvement be inaugurated. The clergy, school authorities, police, parent associations and possibly others would be included. It was her belief such a council could do much to help, and it is the Star's opinion that many a harassed parent would welcome some such tangible evidence of community advice and support in his attempt to lead his youngster in the right direction.

There was the beginning of such a group back in the days when Dr. Forbes Norris was superintendent of schools here. The editor was invited to one of the meetings, at which the police, the schools and parents' organizations were represented. We thought then, and we still believe that the wrong approach was being made. Drawing up codes of rules for teen-agers isn't going to help until the youngsters see their parents and adult friends living by the same code!

We once heard an old washerwoman make a sage observation about the boys of her time, who incidentally would not have dared to do, even if they thought of doing what some of the youngsters do now as a matter of course.

"When the men give the boys a better example," said the old lady, "the boys will have a better chance!" This thought applies equally well to girls and women, too!

News from the town accountant's office that the budget requests of the various town departments as submitted for consideration by the finance committee total $154,000 more than a year ago is something to ponder

This does not mean of course that when the budgets get onto the floor of the town meeting they will be that much greater than a year ago. There will be some pruning by the finance committee.

How much will be lopped from the initial requests for funds to operate the town's business remains to be seen, but in the event the finance committee should agree with the department heads that the budgets submitted are not susceptible to appreciable reduction the sum of $3.27, or thereabouts, is going to be added to the tax rate before a single special article is considered!

This will not be welcome news to the harassed tax payer who had a $6 raise in his rate to $55.60 last year, despite some pretty rigid economy at the town meeting. A $3.27 increase would bring the tax rate unpleasantly near that $60 the prophets of financial doom have been shouting these past few years.

It is a small bit of terrain to make a fuss about, perhaps, but it is darned important to a pedestrian scurrying across Church street from McCormack's corner to the common amidst the whizzing motor cars and trucks. What we are driving at is that the cross-walk at that location ought to be a lot better cleared of snow and ice than it was during last week's storm. Even as late as Wednesday, in spite of the rain and warm weather, the ice where the cross-walk splits the two islands was a real hazard to those on foot.

That cross-walk is really the only safe place to cross Church street at the common, and if we are going to encourage pedestrians to use it, as the Star has so encouraged them from time to time, we should see to it that their risk of life and limb in being on the street at all is not multiplied by snow to wade through and ice to slip upon.

The same goes for the cross-walk at the center end of Laraway road, the walk at the bus stop there and the sidewalk under the overhead tracks. There were times since last week's storm when it seemed safer to trust to the street and traffic than to take a chance on the sidewalk's icy covering.

And while the polls are open we'll just mention a complaint we had about the way some of the schoolhouse snow removal was handled, it being our complainant's opinion the business houses got all the best of it!

We know last week's storm was a dilly, and very hard to handle. We also know the highway crews try to, and generally do give the town a good job of snow removal, and snow removal under any conditions is no easy job.

This is not intended as carping criticism, but as a friendly suggestion from one who has occasion to cross Church street at McCormack's and go under the overhead bridge often. A lot of us will greatly appreciate a better job of mopping up at those spots after the next storm, and of course that chap who came in about the schools will be watching, too!

THIS IS YOUR LIFE!!

Editor of the Star:

Monday, January 13, a hearing was held at the State House on bill number H412, under the heading of "Metropolitan Affairs," the substance of which is to have a special commission study the proposed consolidation of the twenty-two cities and towns of Greater Boston into one city.

The purpose of this scheme is to relieve the City of Boston of its financial burden under the claim that, collectively, we can operate in a more efficient and economical manner by combining the numerous police, fire, school and other municipal departments to eliminate the present so-called duplication of essential services.

A comparative reference is made to the boroughs of New York; hence, we as a town, would no longer have any rights in local affairs but would be governed by Boston which now borders bankruptcy. And no wonder, here are some of Boston's expenditures.

In 1957 there was a twenty million dollar ($20,000,000) bond issue to hold down the city of Boston taxes, resulting in a phony tax rate for 1957; a resolution for a fifty million dollar ($50,000,000) bond issue for an administration building passed this year by the City Council; a proposal for a twenty-five hundred dollar ($2,500) pay raise for Director of Administration Services, which would boost this official's salary from $15,000 to $17,500!

Other official salaries are, Librarian, $17,900; Hospital Director, $20,250; Superintendent of Schools, $20,000; chief anaesthetist at City Hospital, $18,950; also, for the Real Estate board, an expensive car was purchased without bids and was declared an emergency! Extravagance regardless of circumstances.

Over the years, the townspeople have been prudent in spending public funds and now this right is jeopardized by this group in trying to form one enormous city. Our pursuit of happiness depends upon a government "for the people, by the people."

This writer would deeply resent paying his real estate tax to such people, so much so, that he would live elsewhere. It is the duty of every citizen to interest himself in this matter and help avoid this fantastic consolidation. Believe me, it would be disastrous!!

WHAT ARE THEY TO DO?

Editor of the Star:

With all the unemployment at this present time, with men out of work and having a family to keep, what are they to do?

If you have ever been in this fix, you know how hard it is to keep the wolf from the door.

The unemployment service must have you come up to Woburn and sign three successive weeks, before you can collect. In the meantime if a man's week's pay is sixty dollars, how can he save enough for a rainy day? This means he goes hungry if he doesn't have a relative to call on.

I was talking with a man of means recently and when I explained the plight of these men who are on such a small wage he said, "Well they will get along."

What I would like to know is how! Where will they go for help or a job? The churches are kind about such things, but how many can help with fuel, etc., at this time of the year when things look so hopeless to most?

If a person applies for help from the community fund, or welfare, they have a way of making folks involved feel worse than ever.

Sincerely,
Mrs. L. E. Chase

NOT A CANDIDATE

Editor of the Star:

Because there must be many qualified people in Winchester who would like to serve on the town's Planning Board and because candidates for re-election ordinarily have such an edge I should like to make it known that I am not a candidate for re-election to this Board.

With best wishes,
Sincerely yours,
Harrison F. Lyman, Jr.

ARMY GETS JUMP ON NEED FOR TECHNICIANS

With so much publicity on the need for the United States to step up its educational programs in the scientific and technical fields in order to keep its lead in this age of missiles and automation, it is interesting to note that one organization in the country has been doing this very thing for several years.

The United States Army has been and still is pushing what it refers to as its Guaranteed Technical School Program for the past five years. Realizing some time ago that a stepped up program in this direction was essential if the Army was to be able to operate its complex weapons as they came off the production lines, it started to offer young men the opportunity to join the Army and be guaranteed before they enlisted that they would attend a technical school of their choice.

Hundreds of thousands of young men have taken advantage of this opportunity. Many thousands of them are still in the Army, forming the backbone of our present Army power. Many thousands more served their three years and then returned to civilian life where they found their highly technical training qualified them for jobs carrying salaries much higher than those held by other men of their age group.

In order to qualify for the program, according to Sgt. Bateson, a young man must be a high school graduate or be able to pass the high school General Educational Development Test. In a few of the highly technical schools, the applicant may be required to have taken specified subjects in high school.

Full information for young men and their parents can be obtained by visiting the Army Recruiting Station or by calling MYstic 6-5777 and asking that a recruiting sergeant visit the home.

Let's see what happens Thursday night when we meet again, watch these leaders change. Bob Merenda is not going to take this sitting down although he almost does when he gets ready to let the ball go down the alley. More happenings next week.

J. V. EDGE CONCORD

The Winchester J.V. beat the Concord J.V. at Concord by the score of 46-40. A strong first half was the difference for Winchester as they outscored the Red and White 34-22 behind an 11 point output of Bill Wilson. Concord made a last ditch effort, but were unable to overcome the previous deficit.

Winchester high scorers were Paul DelRossi and Bill Wilson with 10 and 16 points respectively. High man for Concord was Evans who etted 20 points.

MOTOR VEHICLE OPERATION UNDER HAZARDOUS CONDITIONS

As Registrar of Motor Vehicles and Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, I am deeply concerned with the safety of persons using the Commonwealth's highways under present hazardous walking and driving conditions.

I urge motorists to drive cautiously and courteously at all times and to cooperate in every way possible with enforcement and traffic control officers in their accident prevention efforts.

Complaints received by the Registrar from authorized police or Registry Inspectors citing violations involving careless or reckless motor vehicle operation will be given my personal attention and violators will be severely dealt with.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE NEWS

This Friday, January 17, at 3 o'clock, and Saturday at 2 o'clock "Cinderella" will come to the high school auditorium, with her friendly mice, fairies, magic coach, the prince, and her mean stepsisters and stepmother.

Many of the children in the Children's Theatre production of the show are "veterans" of two seasons now, under the direction of Carlene Samoiloff and her assistants in the work with the children in acting, painting and dancing.

The program has included "Peter Pan," "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Little Women," "Tom Sawyer" and "The Stolen Prince;" several demonstrations at Tufts College, theatre conferences, and a T.V. show.

The children, some 40 or 50 enrolled this October, are prepared in a twelve-week period. At the end of the first six weeks, Mrs. Samoiloff found she must go to Europe with Mr. Samoiloff for a year or more.

She was fortunate to locate and engage Mrs. Anne Young at a regular director's fee, to take over the children and continue the direction of the play. (A brief account of Mrs. Young's background was in last week's Star.)

The comprehensive plan of the production with the children's ideas, designs and actual painting of scenery was modified by Mrs. Young, who preferred to rent major costumes, scenic pieces, and engaged a scenic art student from B. U.

Come and see the children in this classic fairy tale; the magic kitchen and coach—and have the fun of participating in live theatre and a good community project.

ANOTHER HEAVY STORM

Winchester had another heavy storm this week, rain this time, commencing early Tuesday afternoon and continuing through the night and all day Wednesday, continuing into the night. Weather conditions were still bad Thursday forenoon though the rain had subsided into a heavy mist.

The heavy rain of Tuesday amounted to 1.64 inches with Wednesday adding .56 inch. The total rainfall, 2.2 inches, would have blanketed the town under 20 inches of snow, an inch of rain being good for about 10 inches of snow.

Last week's snow and rainstorm resulted in a precipitation of 2.04 inches, with a snowfall estimated by the highway workers as about 12 inches. Had this week's storm been snow, the town would have been really snowbound.

With all the precipitation Water Superintendent James Halwartz tells the Star the town's reservoirs are only slightly more than half full, giving some idea of the seriousness of last summer's drought.

This week's storm wsa accompanied by high winds, resulting in tree limbs being blown down and damage to wires. The principal trouble reported was that of flooding due to the heavy rain.

As early as 3 o'clock Wednesday morning the telephone company discovered severe cable trouble at the central office, resulting from two badly flooded manholes and a flooded cable vault. Approximately 3000 lines were out of order as a result of the flooding.

Cable crews got on the job at 3:20 Wednesday morning, the manholes and vault were pumped out while repairs were rushed, and by 1 o'clock in the afternoon the telephone company estimated 90 percent of the disabled phones were back in use.

While individual phones were out of order the fire and police departments used their facilities to assist in emergencies, such as summoning physicians and relaying important messages. The phones at both stations were flooded with calls Wednesday morning for information on school sessions. School was held Wednesday morning, but afternoon sessions were cancelled.

Trains were again off schedule, but despite the poor visibility and slippery going no motor accidents of any consequence were reported to the police.

LINCOLN SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

The Lincoln School Dads' Club is asking for "White Elephant" furniture, toys and other articles to be auctioned off Saturday afternoon, February 1, at the Lincoln School auditorium.

So search your attic and cellar and get rid of that old chair that you meant to have restuffed, but never will. Tables, garden equipment, lawn chairs, toys, or other cast-off but usable articles are welcome.

A member of the committee will call and pick the articles up if you phone one of the following: Charles A. Buchanan, WInchester 6-1506-R; Fred S. Fickett, Jr., WInchester 6-3054-J; John Shields, WInchester 6-3243; or Edward Nowell, WInchester 6-0196.

The auction will start at one o'clock in the afternoon and will continue until everything is sold.

J. V. SWAMP MELROSE

Starting slowly, but gaining momentum throughout, the Winchester J.V. rolled over the Melrose Juniors 63-45. The 45 point last half was spearheaded by Paul White and George Tisdale who collected 26 points between them, while they dominated both boards. This made Winchester's record a strong 9 and 1 record.

High scorers for the day were Paul White with 16 points, Bob Freeman with 10, and Piatek of Melrose with 10 points.

WINCHESTER OUTCLASSED MELROSE

Winchester had no difficulty in overcoming Melrose in a Middlesex League basketball game Tuesday afternoon at Melrose, 86-42. The Indian seconds won the preliminary game for a perfect afternoon.

Coach Phillips used a lot of second stringers in an effort to keep the score within bounds. "Dougie" Thomson led both teams in scoring with 24 points, all the result of floor goals. The summary:

DR. RAYMOND DILLON

GIRL SCOUT ANNUAL MEETING TO HEAR DR. DILLON

The annual meeting of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts, which will take place at the Mystic School on Monday evening, January 20, at 8:00 p. m. will be open to all adult Girl Scouts, their husbands and friends. Registered adult scouts will vote on the new slate of officers and board members, while husbands and guests will enjoy the outstanding program which follows.

The meeting will feature a lecture by Dr. Raymond Dillon, and presentation of his Kodachrome movies, taken on an eighteen month cruise around the world on the 96 foot sailing vessel the "Yankee." The colored movies to be shown won the acclaim of the National Geographic Society. Everyone who has seen these pictures before is anxious to see them again.

The pictures will take us far off the beaten track, to places few white men have visited, including Easter Island, Pitcairn Island, Tahiti, Pogo Pogo, Bali, Singapore, Zanzibar, and many other places.

Dr. Dillon, a physician residing in Winchester, is well known as author, lecturer, and explorer. He and Mrs. Dillon still sail the Yankee when they can, and are now planning another trip with their small daughter, Debbie.

The meeting will be followed by coffee and a social hour, at which all may talk to Dr. Dillon, and meet other guests and friends of girl scouting.

A MAN'S BUSINESS!

The ABC's of vitamins and minerals are a man's business, too, report many of the men hospitalized with tuberculosis at the Middlesex County Sanitorium. One man's keen interest in better eating habits prompted others; now over one-third of the patients enrolled in the nutrition and food classes are men! Because TB is a chronic and contagious disease which can recur, these patients want to learn how to maintain their general good health after they leave the hospital. With the help of Mrs. Edna Currier, home economist, they learn that eating the right foods is one important way to recover and keep their good health status.

The first nutrition lesson shows the importance of maintaining a balanced diet. Included in this is a study of the "Basic Seven" groups of food required to fulfill daily nutrition requirement. In learning the composition of different foods, the men find that proteins, carbohydrates, fats minerals, and vitamins are needed to build and repair bones and tissues and to give energy for body heat and work. With this knowledge, patients actually plan and write out daily menus to include all the nutrients they need.

This nutrition course is just one part of the rehabilitation program offered through Christmas Seal funds to local people recovering from tuberculosis. Women patients are also helped to safeguard their renewed health after they return to the busy routine of keeping house. Before she leaves the TB hospital, the housewife learns to plan her whole day's work to save her time and energy and to include needed rest periods.

Through the rehabilitation services to those recovering from tuberculosis, Christmas Seal funds help to return former patients to active, productive community living. Christmas Seal funds are the only support for this and other tuberculosis control and prevention programs of the 46 local tuberculosis committees affiliated with the Middlesex Health Association.

ATTENTION DRAMATIC ENTHUSIASTS

Calling all persons interested in drama or the W.H.S.R. radio station to the Winchester High School on Wednesday evening, January 29. On this evening, there will be held throughout the entire auditorium and the radio broadcasting room an open-house showing examples in all phases of drama and the usage of a radio station.

There will be skits, cuttings, monologues, and examples in speech. There will be a panel discussion and a question period for any of those in the audience who have any questions on these phases of the theatre.

Of course, the open house would not be complete without the tour of both the stage and broadcasting room. Because everything will be done as perfectly as possible, these tours will be led by guides who are most familiar with their subject.

A lot of work is being put into the success of this night. Five student committees are working under capable management. The social committee is planning for the social hour in the cafeteria where refreshments will be served; the invitations committee is sending out invitations to the parents of Curtain & Cue members (no invitation is required, though); the publicity committee is publicizing; the ushers and guides will take care of the tour; and the program committee is devoting all of its time to planning an equally enjoyable as well as informative program.

HEARING ON NURSES LICENSE BILL

Persons in Winchester interested in amending the bill to require the licensing of practical nurses, passed last year by the State Legislature, are reminded of a hearing to be held on January 23 at the State House on amendments offered by the Senate Republican leader, Sen. Charles W. Hedges, and presented by Rep. George W. O'Farrell of Malden.

These amendments are being offered for the Pioneer Nursing Association, an organization of unlicensed practical nurses founded in Malden in 1956.

The association contends that the bill requiring the licensing of all practical nurses by examination will work a hardship on both experienced practical nurses and the public. The burden of the legislation will fall heaviest, according to the Pioneer Association, upon those needing nursing care in their home.

The association contends that practical nurses with years of experience should be registered without submitting to an examination. Some of the information sought on the application, which must be filed by April 1, 1958, they regard as a betrayal of nursing trust.

It is the Pioneer Association's belief that older practical nurses, especially those with full nursing schedules, do not have time to prepare for the examination required; in fact some of them would find a written examination very hard to pass. The law provides no second chance for any one failing to pass the required examination the first time. It is said that general practitioners of medicine oppose the new law, as do those nursing homes that understand its requirements.

With the shortage of graduate nurses, a shortage daily becoming more acute as the population increases and the number of indigent elderly people mounts, the possibility of many experienced practical nurses, now in practice, being dropped from the nursing help available poses, in the opinion of the Pioneer Nursing Association, a serious problem to those who do not need, and possibly cannot afford registered nursing care.

Many practical nurses in this area are concerned with the possibility of mandatory licensing by examination, and the Pioneer Nursing Association believes that private individuals customarily making use of the practical nurse should know of the new law which the association is now trying to modify.

All interested in the proposal to soften the requirements of the law passed last year should attend the hearing on January 23, or relay their feelings to their senator and representative.

ADULT COURSES

The First Congregational Church offers a course on hymnology under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Bonney. The course begins this Tuesday, January 21, in the vestry, and will be held on Wednesday of the three succeeding weeks, January 29, February 5 and February 12, in the Palmer Room. The time for each evening is 7:45 p.m.

This course is aimed at bringing more meaning, understanding, joy and skill into our hymn singing. Actual singing will be connected with study and explanation of the text and its history, as well as of the tune. Hymns selected are well known and range from the 16th century to contemporary times. The course is open to everybody.

Dr. Forrest L. Knapp, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, is giving a course on "Christian Unity" in the First Congregational Church on Sunday mornings at 9:30 a.m. in the Palmer Room. The course will run for four Sundays, beginning January 26, and ending February 16. "Christian Unity" is this year's theme chosen by the National Council of Churches for study by all denominations. We are extremely fortunate to have Dr. Knapp as study and discussion leader. Everybody is heartily invited to attend. Since it is a compact course of only four hours altogether, we ask that each one be present for all four Sundays.

In striving for the peace of the world, the Christian's first obligation is to be at peace with the rest of Christendom across denominational and national borders, i.e., to work toward the unity of the churches.

AUGUST W. MUNSTER

August W. Munster of 12 Canterbury road, retired railroad executive, died early Tuesday morning in the Winchester Hospital at the age of 75. He retired July 24, 1950, as vice president in charge of Purchases and Stores of the Boston & Maine Railroad, the Maine Central Railroad and the Portland Terminal Company. For 46 years he was in railroading, being associated with the Boston & Maine for 38 years.

Mr. Munster was the son of August W., and Mary (Singler) Munster. He was born July 24, 1882, in Waltham and entered railroad service in 1904 as an apprentice and machinist on the Northern Pacific. In 1909 he went to the New Haven Railroad as materials inspector, later becoming Engineer of Tests. In 1912 he was appointed General Storekeeper on the Boston & Maine and was made Purchasing Agent of that road at Boston in 1917. In 1933 he was elected vice-president in Charge of Purchase and Stores of the Boston & Maine, the Maine Central and the Portland Terminal Company.

A former member of the Advisory Committee of the Purchase and Stores Division of the Association of American Railroads, Mr. Munster was a past president of the New England Railroad Club, a member of the University Club of Boston and of Wollaston Lodge, A.F. and A.M.

Mr. Munster was twice married. His first wife, Ella Smith, died in 1955. He leaves his wife, the former Loretta Carroll; two sisters, Mrs. Rose Atwood of Bolton and Miss Bertha Munster of Wollaston; also a brother, Albert Munster of Wollaston.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Norman Smith, pastor of the Second Congregational Church, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. LILLIAN M. DELMAGE

Mrs. Lillian M. Delmage, who made her home with her son, John W. Butt, at 4 Maple road, died suddenly Tuesday morning, January 14, while on the way to the Winchester Hospital. In her usual health the day previous, she was stricken early Tuesday and was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Mrs. Delmage's death came as a severe shock to her family and to the many patrons of Peg's Coffee Shop, her son's restaurant on Common street where she served as cashier. She had been at her duties at the restaurant as usual the day before her death.

Mrs. Delmage was the daughter of John, and Maria (Young) Herald. She was born October 11, 1880, in Newfoundland, Canada, and spent her early life there, coming to this country as a girl of 19.

For many years a resident of Everett, Mrs. Delmage was well known in that city, having been a former supreme grand mistress of the Orange Lodge in the United States, as well as a past matron of the Everett Orange Lodge. She was also past noble grand of the Everett Rebekah Lodge and a member of the Eastern Star chapter in Melrose.

Mrs. Delmage had lived with her son in Winchester for the past six years. Besides her son she leaves two sisters, Mrs. Ella Snook and Mrs. Evangeline Otis, both of Everett, also three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., officiating. Burial was in Glenwood Cemetery, Everett.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS' SERVICE CLUB

The Past Noble Grands' Service Club met on Monday evening, January 13, at the home of Mrs. Alfred Denley, 29 Maxwell road. Dessert and coffee were served by the hostess before the meeting. The business meeting was presided over by the president, Miss Ada Sleeth. Mrs. Mary Robinson won the mystery. A silent auction was enjoyed by all following the meeting.

The next meeting will be February 10, at the home of Miss Ada Sleeth, 384 Washington street. Thanks, Ellie, for a very pleasant evening!

MRS. JOHANNA DROHAN

Mrs. Johanna Drohan, resident of Winchester for more than 65 years and one of the oldest members of St. Mary's parish, died Tuesday at her home 85 Nelson street, after a long illness. She was 86.

Mrs. Drohan was the wife of Michael Drohan, retired signal department executive of the Boston & Maine Railroad. He survives with five children, six grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Julia Piccolo of Waltham, formerly of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Drohan recently observed the 62nd anniversary of their marriage at St. Mary's Church, on December 26, 1895.

Mrs. Drohan was the mother of the Rev. Athanasius, C.P., of Our Lady of Sorrows Monastery, West Springfield; Sister M. Athanasia, C.S.J., a member of the Regis College Faculty at Weston; Edward W. Drohan, former night city editor of the Boston Post, now vice president of Editors, Inc., Boston public relations firm; John M. Drohan of West Medford, of the Auditing Department of the Boston & Maine; and Walter M. Drohan, registrar of Lowell Technological Institute.

Mrs. Drohan came to Winchester from Dungarvan, County Waterford, Ireland, as a girl. Through most of her life she was active in the affairs of St. Mary's Church.

A solemn requiem mass was sung at St. Mary's Thursday morning with her son, Father Athanasius as celebrant. He was assisted by the Rev. Sylvester, C.P., as deacon, and the Rev. Columba, C.P. as sub-deacon.

Attending the services were a number of priests and religious, including delegations from St. Gabriel's Monastery, Brighton; Our Lady of Sorrows Monastery, West Springfield, St. Michael's Monastery, Union City, N. J.; Regis College and St. Mary's Convent.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

M.S.P.C.A. HEARS EYE-OPENERS

A petite and charming young lady spoke to the Winchester Auxiliary of the Mass. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals at its recent meeting. She was none other than Dr. Margaret Petrak, V.D.M., of the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, who divulged some of the difficulties and some of the satisfactions facing a girl entering the field of veterinary medicine. "Really different. Learned something new" was the members' comment.

Prior to Dr. Petrak's talk, the club heard Mrs. Fred Cardin, at whose Copley street home the group met, read excerpts from a letter recently appearing in the Boston Herald urging good citizens to request passage of pending humane slaughter legislation. Several horrible examples of inhumane slaughter were given. Write your senators and representatives immediately, members and friends were advised.

On a more cheerful vein, the afternoon ended with a social hour over the coffee cups. Tea was also served.

ACCIDENT ON WASHINGTON ST.

Charles E. Quinn of 5 Montvale road, Woburn, came to the police station to report that he had a slight accident at 12:10 p. m. The accident took place on Washington street.

Mr. Quinn was operating a Pontiac sedan south on Washington street and when opposite Kenwin road he passed a parked Chevrolet sedan owned by George D. Richburg of 29 Bromfield road, Somerville.

The right front bumper came in contact with the left front end bumper of the parked car which was headed in a southerly direction about 30 feet south of Cross street. The operator of the parked car was not present when the accident happened.

No damage was done to the cars.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Thomas Murphy wish to express their sincere thanks to their friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers, the spiritual bouquets and other kindly sympathy extended them in their recent bereavement.

MISS ARLENE M. WEAFER

MISS WEAFER ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Francis D. Weafer of Winchester and Gloucester announce the engagement of their daughter, Arlene Mary to Mr. J. Walter Callahan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Callahan of Lowell.

Miss Weafer is a graduate of Winchester High School and Boston College, School of Education. She is a member of the Faculty of the Wildwood School in Wilmington.

Mr. Callahan is a graduate of Boston College High School and Boston College. He has completed two years of Military Service with the United States Army in Japan, and is now in the employ of the Retail Credit Company.

A June wedding is being planned.

ARMSTRONG — MacLEAN

White chrysanthemums decorated the chapel of the Euclid avenue Congregational Church in Cleveland, Ohio, on Saturday, January 11, when, at a candlelight service at two o'clock, Miss Judith Anne MacLean became the bride of Rev. Donald Cummings Armstrong, formerly of Winchester.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss MacLean was attended by her sister, Miss Jean MacLean, of Cleveland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacLean of Mansfield, Ohio, and is a graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Art.

Mr. Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Armstrong of 34 Mt. Pleasant street, was graduated from Wesleyan University and Yale Divinity School after his graduation from Winchester High School. He served with the army in Korea and is now associate minister of the Euclid Avenue Congregational Church.

The service was performed by Dr. William A. Leith, minister of the church, and Dr. J. Franklin McHendrie of the Cleveland Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Armstrong had as his best man Rev. Edward Allardice of Detroit, Michigan. Rev. David Pierce of Middletown, N. Y., served as usher. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Doudican in Cleveland.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong to the wedding was Mrs. William E. Natti, sister of the bridegroom.

After a wedding trip to Lake Placid Rev. and Mrs. Armstrong will be at home at 2024 E. 86th street, Cleveland.

FIRES

Thursday, January 9, Box 361 was sounded from St. Mary's Church at 9:01 a. m. Firefighters rushed to the Church and found that the alarm had tripped again and there was no fire.

Friday, January 10, Box 48, the Eastern Felt Company on Canal street, was sounded at 11:19 a. m. Firefighters went to the scene and found that the alarm had been tripped and there was no fire. It is believed that changes in water pressure might have set if off.

Saturday, January 11, R. A. Swanson of 47 Cambridge street called at 12:05 p. m. to report trouble with his gas burner. Firefighters rushed to the scene and found the trouble to be a defective gas regulator.

ATTENTION, PARENTS!

EMARC, Inc., would like all parents, particularly parents of retarded children to know about the play "The Hidden One" which will be featured on the Loretta Young Show over NBC-TV Sunday, January 19, at 10:00 p. m. It is based on the book "Your Child or Mine" written by Dr. O. E. Hood of Los Angeles.

Dr. Hood is director of the Parent Committee for the Brain Injured Child and has established a school called the Institute for Child Study.

"The Hidden One" depicts a family's efforts to decide on the proper treatment for their brain injured child. Dr Hood's book is reviewed in the Massachusetts Teacher Magazine this month.

Mrs. Sylvester L. Horne would also like all parents of retarded children to know that Wednesday, January 22, in the Wakefield Y.M.C.A., at 8:00 p. m. is Winchester night at the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children.

A panel discussion on methods of teaching will be the order of the evening, with Mrs. M. Lorette Smith, teacher of the special education class in Winchester, as one of the panelists.

A question period will spotlight the evening with parents invited to ask any questions pertaining to their child or his schooling.

It is hoped that Winchester will be well representetd on this evening with an association formed entirely by parents of retarded children for the purpose of aiding other such parents and their children.

SOCIAL SECURITY LIBERALIZATION EXPECTED IN ELECTION YEAR

(From the January Issue of the National Editorial Assn. Bulletin)

Chances are growing stronger that the current session of Congress will vote a fifth straight election year liberalization of social security benefits.

More than 100 members of both parties introduced bills during 1957 which would boost benefits. Congressmen rate very highly the basic political appeal of such boosts. Moreover, the attraction is growing greater as chances for general tax relief, another popular vote catcher, are dimmed by higher government spending.

If Congress does vote for liberalization, changes in the social security law may contain these main points:

An increase of five per cent to ten per cent on the average in the level of monthly benefits; the average payment now is just over $66;

Possibly some liberalization of the "retirement test"; for people over 65 years of age who earn over $1,200 a year, this rule now shuts off benefits for any month in which income exceeds $80;

Benefits, for the first time, for dependents of disabled workers getting social security help; and

Some special increases in payments to widows.

The Eisenhower Administration intends to oppose any and all benefit increases this year. Health-Welfare Secretary Folsom, who administers the system, fears a pattern of election year liberalization is taking root. He wants to cut off this trend lest its continuation wreck the system in the long run.

Meanwhile, in 1957, social security outlay topped payroll taxes for the first time in its history. The fund paid out $7.3 billion in benefits during 1957 and took in only $6.9 billion. The fund, however, was saved from a deficit for the year by $555 million interest on its investments in U.S. government securities.

Social security officials fear 1957's higher outgo may be repeated this year and in 1959. They expect the fund to right itself in 1960 when social security taxes are scheduled by current law to increase. A 12-member advisory council appointed last October by Secretary Folsom is studying the long-range financial position of the social security system.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME SOCIETY

On Sunday, January 12, at the 7:45 a. m. mass, St. Mary's Holy Name Society received Holy Communion in a body. Spiritual Director Father Martin J. Dolphin was the celebrant and the choir under the direction of Art Sampson and Jim Kennedy led in the singing of the hymns.

After mass coffee and doughnuts were served in St. Mary's hall by Frank Antonuccio and Al Thorne, III. The meeting was under the direction of president John Fitzgerald, Jr., who led the group in the recitation of the Holy Name Pledge. Secretary George Ross and treasurer Bob Plunkett read their reports and vice president Gerry Freedman spoke in behalf of the family communion breakfast. The date of this annual affair is February 9 and the speaker will be Judge Edward J. Voke of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. Tickets are now available.

President Fitzgerald presented a plaque to Al Thorne, Jr., last year's president for his outstanding work in behalf of the society.

Past president Vincent Erhard gave a short talk on the Nocturnal Adoration Society. Mr. Erhard described the monthly hour of devotion held at St. Clement's Eucharistic Shrine in Boston and invited all to attend. The group goes every third Friday from 9 to 10. Cars leave tonight January 17 at 8:15 p. m. from the parking lot at St. Mary's.

Program chairman Paul Mulloy introduced the guest speaker Lieutenant Daniel F. Driscoll of the Massachusetts State Police. Lt. Driscoll gave a very informative talk on "Scientific Aids to Crime Detection" and with the use of slides showed the latest laboratory means of solving crimes. A question and answer period followed.

TEACHER TRAINING FUND TO HIT SCIENCE FAMINE

Shell Companies Foundation, Inc., has announced it will begin a program in 1958 leading to 100 full college scholarships a year for young people planning careers as high school science and mathematics teachers.

R. F. Carey, New England division manager of Shell Oil Company, said the program is "an attack on the science famine at the place where the cure must begin—the secondary schools."

"Preparation for a career in science should begin in high school, and high school students are most likely to become interested in science if they have interesting teachers," Carey said.

The foundation will also introduce a new program of Shell assists in 1958 to further the professional development of college teachers, he said.

The Shell executive said the new aids to education are part of the $1,350,000 budgets of contributions to be made in 1958 by Shell Companies Foundations, Inc., and Shell operating companies to educational, charitable, public service and religious organizations. These budgets are $200,000 higher than last year's. This is the fourth year in succession that these budgets have exceeded a million dollars. Education's share of the total sum is $657,000.

The high school teacher program, called Shell Merit Scholarships, is among the first major scholarship efforts to strike at the root of the scientist shortage, according to Carey.

For 1958, the foundation will provide 25 four-year college scholarships to high school seniors planning teaching careers in high school chemistry, physics, general science and mathematics.

It is the foundation's intent to add 25 scholarships each year. By 1961, when the program reaches its maturity of 100, the annual cost will be $125,000.

The program will be administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which will match the Shell Foundation funds. Thus, by 1961, as a result of the Shell Foundation program, 200 students a year will have college scholarships helping them toward teaching careers.

The initial 25 scholarships will be awarded through the corporation about May 1, 1958. The corporation awards all of its scholarships through a series of nationally held college aptitude tests. Approximately 300,000 high school seniors took the first test in October. More than 7,500 semi-finalists will take the second test on January 11.

The Shell assists, costing $75,000 a year, will consist of $1,500 grants to each of 50 colleges and universities not now receiving Shell Foundation Research Grant support. This money will be used by the schools to help with "little things" in professional development of college faculty teachers that are seldom covered by major grants, such as funds for attending professional meetings or visiting other institutions for research.

The 50 schools to receive these grants have been selected, but notification and acceptance will not be complete until February 1.

In addition to providing merit scholarships and Shell assists, the 1958 budget will continue and extend other aid-to-education programs, Carey said.

The foundation has increased its merit fellowship program to provide summer seminars at Cornell and Stanford for 100 high school science and mathematic teachers. Last year, 90 attended.

Carey said this program, started in 1956, is an earlier phase of the foundation's attempt to ease the shortage of scientists and engineers. It is meant to help outstanding in-service high school teachers improve the content and interest of their courses and thus to interest more students in scientific and technical work.

The Stanford and Cornell faculties give the high school teachers advance training in their fields. The Shell Foundation pays all the teachers expenses and provides an additional grant of $500 cash to offset the loss of potential summer earnings.

Carey said the foundation will also continue its grants for graduate fellowships and research in 43 colleges and universities.

Fellowships will go to 51 outstanding students doing post-graduate work. Single students and married students with no children get $1,800 as a personal stipend. Married students with one child or more get $2,100. The student's tuition and fees are paid, and an additional fund is supplied as a cost-of-education supplement to the department in which he studies. Schools not supported by taxes receive a further grant for general administrative use.

The foundation's 20 research grants, of $7,500 each, consist of a $5,000 grant for expanding fundamental research and $2,500 for any uses the school desires.

Schools are given full responsibility and latitude in selecting regular term and summer fellows and in using funds for basic research.

Other educational programs to receive support from Shell Companies Foundation, Inc., are the National Fund for Medical Education, the National Science Teachers Association, the Institute of International Education, Inc., the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges, and the United Negro College Fund, Inc.

A total of $385,000, a major part of the non-educational funds, will go to Community Chest, United Funds and Red Cross. The allotment for this in 1958 is $30,000 larger than last year's.

The foundation said all participants in the 1958 program have been selected and no further grants are scheduled for the year.

MARCH OF DIMES RALLY

A final rally for the Mothers' March in Winchester will be held, with other Middlesex County communities at the Lions Club in Belmont next Thursday evening, Jan-23, at 8:30 o'clock.

Director for the Mothers' Marches in Middlesex County is Mrs. Arthur Tetreault of Lincoln, whose husband and three children are polio patients. The children have made excellent recoveries and Mr. Tetreault recently demonstrated the effects of the March of Dimes physical therapy by indulging in a few minutes of skating.

"The care of polio patients in Middlesex County is costing $1000 a day," pointed out Mrs. Tetreault. Most people do not realize that even seven or eight years after an epidemic about one-third of the patients are still receiving clinical care. For example, the Children's Hospital treated 700 patients during the 1949 epidemic: it is still giving medical and therapeutic treatment to 250 of these patients.

Persons interested in participating in the Mothers' March in this community are urged to contact the local chairman, Theodore J. Boecker of 49 Wildwood street. The March last year netted over $130,000 and represented more than 40 percent of the $313,000 collected by the March of Dimes in the county.

MRS. JULIA S. BLODGETT

Mrs. Julia Sears Blodgett of 4 Harrington road, widow of Irving Clarence Blodgett, died Friday, January 10, at the Winchester Hospital after a month's illness.

Mrs. Blodgett was born February 12, 1876, in Greenfield, daughter of Michael S., and Ellen (O'Keefe) Sears. A graduate nurse, she was graduated from Bellevue Hospital in New York in 1908, and she taught school in Greenfield for a time before her marriage in 1912.

After her marriage she lived in several places around Boston as her husband, who was associated with the Boston & Maine Railroad for more than 50 years, was assigned to various duties with the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett came to Winchester from Melrose in 1934, and Mr. Blodgett died here November 3, 1953. Their son, Col. Robert S. Blodgett, a West Point graduate, class of 1931, died in 1947 of polio while on assignment by the Army to the Harvard Business School. Two grandchildren are Mrs. Blodgett's only survivors.

Though relatively inactive in recent years, Mrs. Blodgett was a member of St. Mary's Sodality and had been a member of the Guild of the Infant Saviour.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the Bennett Chapel with solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Martin J. Dolphin was celebrant, Rev. Edmund L. Parker was deacon and Rev. Robert J. Banks of the Immaculate Conception Church, subdeacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Greenfield.

RAFFAELE ROSATO

Raffaele Rosato, 83, of 7 Emerson court, died late Thursday night, January 9, at his home.

A native of Italy, Mr. Rosato came to this country as a young man, and for the past half century had been a resident of Winchester. During his active years he worked as a laborer for several employers, but recently he had been retired. He was a member of the Christophoro Columbo Society.

Mr. Rosato is survived by his wife, the former Angelina Malone; two daughters, Mrs. Bruno Gualtieri and Mrs. Edward Hafey, both of East Boston; three sons, John of Danvers, Anthony, of Torrance, California, and Joseph Rosato of Huntington, and by fifteen grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the Lane Funeral Home Monday morning with solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Albert L. Fisher of Fisher Junior College, living at 6 Bacon street and Ralph H. Pingree of Boston Insurance Co., living at 50 Allen road, participated in the January meeting of the Boston Chapter of the National Office Management Association.

JAMES F. SWONGER

James Franklin Swonger, 81, former Topeka restaurant proprietor and the first president of the Kansas Official Council died Wednesday night, January 8, in a Topeka Hospital. He was the father of Clair W. Swonger of 19 Perkins road.

Mr. Swonger was born in Springfield, Ill., and came to Kansas with his parents in a covered wagon when he was nine years old. They settled at Fort Scott. He spent his early life on a farm. During World War I, he purchased hay and shipped it out in carload lots from Kincaid, Kan., to Canada. Later, he operated the Overland agency at Garnett and the Dodge agency at Iola before moving to Topeka 28 years ago.

He was elected county commissioner of Anderson County, Kansas, in 1916. During his first term in the office, he played a prominent part in organizing the Kansas Official Council, a state county officials' organization, and he became the first president of the new state organization in 1918.

In 1956, he was guest of honor at the annual convention of the Kansas Official Council in Wichita.

He was an employee of the Kansas state motor vehicle department after he arrived in Topeka. Later, he opened a restaurant in the 700 block on Kansas avenue, known as Swonger's Cafe which he operated several years. He then returned to the state motor vehicle department where he remained until he retired in 1952.

When Ed Camp became superintendent of the state motor vehicle department, he persuaded Swonger to return and he remained until he retired in December 1956.

Mr. and Mrs. Swonger were married in 1902 at Kincaid, Kan., and observed their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary February 26, 1957.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edna M. Swonger of 726 Watson, Topeka; his son in Winchester, a daughter, Mrs. Fred Henning, Ottawa; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were at 11:00 a. m. Saturday, January 11, at the Wall-Diffenderfer Mortuary, Topeka, with burial in Topeka Cemetery.

(Topeka Daily Capital January 10, 1958).

MISS MARY ELLEN HASLAM

Miss Mary Ellen Haslam of Winchester Arms, sister of James T. Haslam of Winchester terrace, died Saturday evening, January 11, at the Winchester Hospital after a month's illness that followed a long period of failing health.

Miss Haslam was the daughter of John, and Elizabeth (Farrar) Haslam. She was born in Rochdale, England, November 15, 1868, and lived in England as a girl, coming to this country and settling in Billerica in the eighties.

Miss Haslam continued to make her home in Billerica until 1942, when she came to Winchester, after the deaths of her sisters, with whom she had been living. She was a charter member of the Daughters of St. George of Lowell. Her brother in Winchester is her only survivor.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Ralph B. Putney, assistant rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Burial was in Edson Cemetery, Lowell.

MRS. RACHEL H. GOWDY

Mrs. Rachel Hopper Gowdy, widow of the late George A. Gowdy and mother of George H. Gowdy of 4 Lantern lane, passed away January 1, in Paterson, N. J., where she had been living for the past three years.

Mrs. Gowdy was born in Paterson April 11, 1879. For 37 years the family home was in Cambridge, where she was an active member of the North Congregational Church. A frequent visitor at the home of her son here, she had a wide circle of friends in Winchester.

In addition to her son, she leaves two sisters and a brother in Paterson; a granddaughter, Constance Gowdy, and two grandsons, Douglas and Robert Gowdy, all of Winchester.

The funeral was held January 6, with the service conducted in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church by Rev. Dwight L. Cart. Interment was in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

The last remaining building of Bacons Mills, once widely known in felt manufacturing circles, was torn down this past week. This building was used as a warehouse. As there was snow on the ground what was left was set afire and this caused the large cloud of smoke seen in that end of town.

WITH CONGRATULATIONS FROM THE NAVY!

NAVY AWARD TO CALHOUN

Mr. S. Frederick Calhoun of 33 Dix street was recently presented with an award for "Sustained Superior Performance" by Captain R. M. Whittemore Officer in Charge of the U.S. Navy Area Audit Office, Boston.

The Navy Incentive Awards Program award for Sustained Superior Accomplishment is for personal effort which is over and above normal position requirements. Mr. Calhoun is Assistant Chief Auditor at the Raytheon Manufacturing Company which is the largest continuous contract audit assignment in the New England area covered by the Boston Office.

Mr. Calhoun is Secretary of the Boston Chapter of the Federal Government Accountants Association and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants, The National Accountants Association and the American Accounting Association.

ON BOSTON PATRONESS LIST

Mrs. Winthrop Wales of Winchester, is a patroness for the first public opening ever of several Back Bay houses in Boston with opportunity to see rare and interesting interiors, collections and paintings ordinarily concealed behind brown stone or brick exteriors.

"Open Houses of the Victorian Era in the Back Bay" Saturday, January 18, from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m. will benefit the Arlington Street Church, Boston; and will open ten houses built from approximately 1856 to 1900, after the Back Bay was filled in. As a part of the event an exhibit of prints and photographs loaned by the Second Bank-State Street Trust Company, the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities and others will be open from 1:00 to 6:00 p. m. in the Church's Parish Hall, Arlington street, Boston; and a silver (or green) tea will be held there from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m.

The ten houses to be open are the homes of: Mrs. Alexander Steinert, 401 Commonwealth avenue; Mr. and Mrs. William Chick, 317 Commonwealth avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew D. Maclachlan, 420 Beacon street; Dr. Charles J. White, 259 Marlborough street; Mrs. William Tudor Gardiner, 180 Beacon street; Mrs. David Evans, 163 Beacon street; Mrs. Willis Munro, 146 Beacon street; Mrs. Jasper Whiting, 18 Marlborough street; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perry, 10 Marlborough street; and Miss Amelia Peabody, 120 Commonwealth avenue.

Miss Marilyn Davis, director of the "Heart of the Home" program for the Massachusetts Heart Association, wil be the guest speaker at the January 21 meeting of the Winchester Grange to be held in Masonic Hall. A film "Take It Easy" based on energy saving and work simplification principles will be shown.

ANTIQUES STUDY GROUP

The Winchester Antique's Study Group will again have the pleasure of hearing a lecture by Mr. Louis Neiman, of Brookline and Marblehead, on "Webb Cameo Glass." In January 1957 many members and their guests missed this fine presentation of rare art glass technique because of inclement weather on the evening of the meeting. Last year Mr. Neiman opened Heritage House at Marblehead and although it is an antiques shop, it may be classed almost as a museum on account of the many glass and art treasures displayed. From this treasure trove and his extensive world-renowned private collection, Mr. Neiman will exhibit many rare pieces.

The lecture will be held on Tuesday evening, January 21, in the Rich Room of the Winchester Public Library at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and may invite guests for this interesting lecture. A question period will follow Mr. Neiman's talk.

Mrs. Clarence Blake of Pond street is chairman of the group, and Mr. Jan Thornton the program chairman.

200 TRAINED DOGS

The New England Dog Training Club will hold its twenty-second annual AKC Sanctioned Obedience Show on Sunday, January 19, at Mechanics Building, Huntington avenue, Boston. More than 200 dogs of all breeds from throughout the New England area will compete for top obedience honors.

The doors will open at 12 noon for entry registration of dogs and to the public at 1:00. Judging will start promptly at this time. There will be ten classes and six rings with trophies and ribbons awarded in each class.

Obedience training is fast becoming one of the outstanding sports in the country. Among the local entries will be Mrs. Ervin Melvin and her Cocker Spaniel, Silver. Mr. Herbert Preble of Edgehill road will be one of the judges.

WINNER, THIRTEENTH AAA TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

W. V. N. A.

The January meeting of Winchester Visiting Nursing Association was held on Friday, January 10, in the Rich Room of the Public Library. Mrs. Rowland Patrick, president, presided and reports of Mrs. Walter Keyes, secretary; and Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, treasurer; were read.

Mrs. Patrick announced that as of December 12 the name of the association has been officially changed from the District Nursing Association to the Visiting Nursing Association.

Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle distributed copies of the revised by-laws which her committee had completed. Mrs. William Spaulding, Mrs. Walter Keyes, Mrs. Walfred Wiklund, and Mrs. Patrick served on this committee with Mrs. Purtle. Mr. Austin Broadhurst was the advisor to this committee.

Mrs. Patrick commented on the recent death of Mr. James Nowell who served as a trustee of the association since 1945 which was the first year the association had trustees.

Mrs. Wiklund presented the monthly nursing report. She told of the highlights of the office work during the month of December as they prepared for Christmas for their patients. Appreciation was expressed for the lovely gifts made by the members of the En Ka Society and given to each patient.

Mrs. Wiklund announced that many beautiful and useful gifts of clothing, as well as money, came from individuals, and that she felt the staff had provided a happy Christmas for several families.

Another activity of the staff during the month was the tuberculosis testing program carried on for the cafeteria workers at the school. The staff made two hundred and ninety-six visits during the month.

Upon the request of Mrs. Harry Mueller of the personnel committee Miss Carole Muse, formerly the Board of Health Nurse, was accepted as a staff nurse for the Visiting Nursing Association.

The program for the meeting was a partial report of the recent New York meeting on Public Health Nursing. Mrs. Purtle, one of the delegates, gave the first part of the report. She told the other board members what a valuable experience it was for her as a lay person to attend these meetings. She was particularly impressed with the dedication to their work of the people in the Public Health field.

Mrs. Irving Symmes presented the second part of the report and commented on a meeting she had attended on Modern Trends in Tuberculosis Nursing.

Mrs. Wiklund reported on the use of the licensed practical nurse in Public Health nursing. In order to be employed on a visiting nursing staff a licensed practical nurse must be a graduate of an approved school for practical nurses. At the present time 279 licensed practical nurses are employed in public health work in this country. Looking into the future it is to be expected that they will play an ever increasing part in public health nursing as case loads increase from year to year.

Miss Dara Jarrendt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jarrendt of 2 Marchant road celebrated her birthday a week ago Thursday afternoon. Eleven friends came to the party in honor of Dara's ninth birthday.

Myra Hess, the world's celebrated pianist, will open her twenty-seventh American tour on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 26 in Symphony Hall, Boston. This will be Dame Myra's only concert of the current season. Remaining tickets are now on sale at the Symphony Hall box office, and as is customary with a Hess Concert, her forthcoming appearance already promises to be a sell-out. Immediately following her Boston concert, at which she will present a "request program", the distinguished pianist leaves for New York for her usual Carnegie Hall recital later in the month.

LIBRARY NEWS

"A Pig in a Poke"

How many times have you bought an article of merchandise only to find out too late that it is an inferior product. Nothing can be more exasperating. This predicament can be avoided if you visit your public library.

On a table in the gallery reading room you will find such general buying guides as Consumer Reports and Consumer Research Bulletin as well as specialized guides to the best L. P. records and motion picture films. Also available are pamphlets published by the United States Department of Agriculture and Science Research Associates on better buying and credit for consumers.

The next time you are in the market for a new car, television, washing machine, toaster, etc., why not consult this consumer information before you buy. In so doing, you will be saving yourself both time and money as well as avoiding the frustration of purchasing a "pig in a poke."

Your librarian, Mrs. Smith, will be available at the public library from 10:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. each day. She hopes that anyone who wishes to consult her will feel free to do so, either on business or just to become acquainted. She will plan to be at the library any time during the evening or on Saturday if necessary.

To Refresh Your Memory

Borrowing privileges are extended to all residents of Winchester and those employed or attending school in town.

Borrowers must have their library cards with them in order to borrow library materials for home use. 14-day books unlimited, two 7-day books, 5 magazines, 5 pamphlets and 3 record albums per card.

Fines

Book: 2 cents per day the first 7 days, 5 cents per day thereafter. Record Album: 25 cents per day. Boys' and Girls' Room: 1 cent per day per book. Fines do not include Sundays and holidays.

Renewals, Reserves

Books may be renewed twice. Magazines, pamphlets, 7-day books and records are not renewable. All circulating books may be placed on reserve—reserve postals, 2 cents each.

It is urgently requested that books borrowed from the boys' and girls room be returned there. If an emergency arises, the books will be accepted in the evening at the main desk.

Library Hours

Adult Department—Monday thru Friday 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Saturdays, 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Boys' and Girls' Room—Monday thru Satudray 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Library is closed Saturdays, June 15 - September 15.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

On Monday afternoon, January 13, members of the Fortnightly again assembled in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church in what seemed like a reunion after a prolonged holiday. A food sale was held before the meeting which netted $41.50 for the Philanthropy Fund.

The regular business meeting began at 2:00 p. m. with Mrs. Paul W. Atwood presiding. The State Federation's Midwinter meeting was announced to be held January 30 in John Hancock Hall, Boston. Three delegates will be appointed by the president.

Mrs. Fiske, able chairman of the Cooperation with War Veterans Committee, read an impressive summary of work, of the articles and bags given to the Chelsea Soldiers Home at Christmas time and several notes from patients expressing real appreciation.

After an intermission, the audience was taken on a trip down the California coastline by a United Air Lines plane, the film shown by representative of the company. Southward from the cosmopolitan city of San Francisco and Oakland across the bay, the Sierras, Yosemite and sea vistas were seen with stops at Long Beach, Monterey, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles with glimpses of movie-land studios and private homes —San Diego and Pasadena. In the second film we were transported to Hawaii and other islands of the "Sandwich" group. The scenery was picturesque and unusual. As a resort for relaxation (except for surf-riding and deep-sea fishing, the smooth beaches (one of black sand), languorous music, happy dances, exotic food and luxuriant gardens; all seemed to beckon to the tourist. Hospitality and good-cheer abound there and this was evidenced by small magenta orchids distributed among the audience. We thank the donors.

At the T-shaped tea table with an appropriate centerpiece of large, colorful blossoms, Mrs. Francis C. Bowes and Mrs. Arthur Haines poured.

HOW METHODISM BEGAN

This coming Sunday at the eleven o'clock worship service the pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, the Reverend John Snook, Jr., will bring a request message relating to the life of John Wesley, founder of Methodism. The theme will include the beginning and growth of Methodism from the time of John Wesley up to the present day.

Those without church ties are invited to this public service.

OMISSION

The Lions Club was inadvertently omitted from the recent list of town organizations who assisted the Winchester Community Relief Committee in its effort to provide holiday cheer for the town's less fortunate citizens at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The committee regrets the omission exceedingly and is pleased to extend a sincere "thank you" to the Lions for their assistance and interest.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.

Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

How spiritual understanding of God, divine life, increases happiness and longevity will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" will include the following (Proverbs 3:13,16): "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding . . . Length of days is in her right hand; and in her left hand riches and honour."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (487:27): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (27:1): "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

DIVORCE ON INCREASE IN COUNTRY

A statistical report released today by Middlesex Register of Probate John V. Harvey shows a marked increase in the activities of the Probate Court during the past year.

The docket entries reveal that 1617 new divorce cases were filed during 1957, an increase of 45 over the previous year. In addition, 40 petitions were brought seeking annulments.

A total of 1140 marriages were dissolved by the Court, according to Register Harvey's figures. Of these 1112 were divorces and 28 annulments. This is 40 more than were granted in 1956.

ADDRESS REPORTS NECESSARY FOR NON-CITIZENS

The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service is reminding all non-citizens that only a short time remains to comply with the January annual address report required by law.

District Director John F. Mulcahey points out that address report forms are available at any Post Office or Immigration Service Office during business hours for the convenience of non-citizens required to report addresses each January and urged all persons subject to this law to file Form 1-53 as soon as possible before the January 31st deadline to avoid serious penalties.

Director Mulcahey reported that 70,000 of the estimated 160,000 non-citizens in the New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island Tri-State District area complied with the law by the close of business on January 9th.

Naturalization statistics for 1957 indicate that 7000 eligible persons acquired U. S. citizenship during the twelve months ending December 31st in the Tri-State area.

Polio—The Second Look

The decline in new polio cases in 1957 was truly one of the year's greatest blessings. But while we're saying "hat's off!" to the Salk vaccine, let's take a closer look at the polio picture. Is it really over? Can we now sit back and say "goodbye" to one of the most dread, costly and tragic of human diseases?

Tens of thousands of disabled polio patients know better. And so do March of Dimes volunteers now conducting the annual fund drive here and throughout the country. They can show you how visible polio is on the national scene.

For one thing they will point to the fact that 300,000 living Americans have had paralytic polio, half of them during the past decade. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis estimates that one out of three of these still have some form of disability that can be remedied or alleviated.

The volunteers will also tell you about the 57,800 polio patients who needed care and rehabilitation in 1957. That took $21,700,000 in March of Dimes funds. What is especially significant is that only 4,800 of them contracted polio last year. The rest—53,000—were victims of former years who still needed help. They'll need help this year too, many of them. The March of Dimes has allocated $21,100,000 for their care and rehabilitation.

These are not statistics. They're real people. The child with the crutches standing on the sidelines watching others play—that's polio. In hospitals and respirator centers, you can hear it in the steady breathing of the iron lung bellows and you can see it in the thin arm dangling at the side.

The March of Dimes continues to carry on its important role in serving humanity. The success of its current campaign will be measured in the success stories of polio's remaining victims—those who have not only survived the disease but are learning to live worthwhile lives again. The March of Dimes deserves all-out support.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL PANEL

After a very delightful social hour and delicious refreshments prepared by Mrs. W. C. Urmson and her social committee, parents and friends of the pupils of the George Washington School enjoyed a most informative panel discussion program on Children's Health. Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, president of the Mothers' Association, opened the meeting with a cordial welcome to all. She then introduced Mr. Henry Fitts, English teacher at the High School, who acted as moderator for the Panel. Mr. Fitts, in the capacity of teacher, parent, and moderator, proceeded to suggest some topics of interest to us all as parents, such as, "Who keeps Johnny healthy and how?" Mr. Fitts then proceeded to introduce the Panel members.

First to speak was Dr. William Barone, who explained his duties as school physician. He particularly explained the physical examination programs, when they take place and what they consist of, reminding the parents that they were invited to be present at any of the physical examinations. He also explained his other duties with regard to individual defects in children, emergencies that may arise, and physical examinations for competitive sports.

The next panelist was Mrs. Doris Wiklund from the Visiting Nursing Association. She acquainted the parents with the duties of and the services offered by the Visiting Nursing Association. She explained the new general organization of the Visiting Nursing Association, effective January 1. Primarily, each school district will have one school nurse and one visiting nurse that will work together with the families and pupils of that district.

Mr. Fitts next introduced Mrs. Mildred Symmes, the school nurse who gave an informative talk on her many duties and activities as school nurse such as her daily visits to the school, the eye and ear tests, and being on hand for emergencies.

Dr. Harold Wheeler represented the town's pediatricians and talked to the parents on some of the most universal problems that we as parents have with our children, such as not feeling well just before school time, dawdling or daydreaming, and other problems characteristic of particular age groups. Dr. Wheeler also discussed general health habits.

Miss Leonor Rich, school principal, completed the Panel with a most enjoyable talk explaining her responsibilities as principal in the child's Health Program as well as that of teachers. She felt that her well equipped staff all working together for good health make for a sense of security so important to the child.

During the lively question and answer period which followed the panel, parents were able to ask further questions with regard to physical examinations, tutoring, eye and ear testing.

The arrangements for this program were made by Mrs. Frances Bogue, program chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, president of the Mothers' Association, and Miss Leonor Rich, school principal.

WINTON CLUB CABARET

Next Wednesday evening, January 29, Winton Club's final imaginative touches will have transformed the town hall for four evenings into a veritable fairyland. "Alice" will finally arrive in Wintonland. You can be sure some of her friends will be with her: the Mad Hatter, the Red Queen, Tweedle-dee, Tweedle-dum, and the White Rabbit. However, this year some new friends have been added to her troupe, namely, a large group of local doctors. Perhaps the doctors will help you decide how many "Alices" you see in this 37th Winton Club Cabaret!

Local stores will also presage "Alice's" arrival by featuring her in their windows. Beginning January 27 and continuing throughout the week, Filene's will devote a window to a scene from Alice in Wonderland. Lewis Carroll's classic and party favors in this theme will also be featured in a window of the Spaulding Bookshop.

More of the committees hard at work on the preparations for next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening performances are those headed by Mrs. Joseph Dolben, door prizes; Mrs. Allen O. Eaton and Mrs. John C. Wilis, flowers and cigarettes; Mrs. Charles Butler, stage and lighting; Mrs. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., ushers.

To correct a statement of last week: it is Mrs. Percival Metcalf, president of the Tracy Music Company, who is donating the costumes for the Winton Club "Drill of the Cards."

MRS. ANNIE SYMONDS GARDNER

Mrs. Annie Symonds Gardner, a long time resident of Winchester and widow of Harry E. Gardner, died Saturday, January 18, at Norwood after a long illness.

Mrs. Gardner was born November 15, 1874, in Hancock, N. H., where her ancestors were among the early settlers. After graduating from Milford, N. H., High School she studied music in Boston. Before her marriage, Mrs. Gardner taught piano and played the organ at the Congregational Church at Hancock.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner came to live in Winchester in 1920. Mrs. Gardner was active in civic organizations and held office in the Fortnightly, the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church and the Winchester Grange.

She is survived by three sons, Herbert S. and Robert E. of Winchester, Harry A. of Stoneham; and two daughters, Mrs. Hubert J. Bainton of Norwood, and Mrs. Howard Rogers of Plymouth, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday, January 20, at 1:30 p.m. by the Rev. Thomas Billings at the Hancock Congregational Church in Hancock, N. H. Burial was in the Hancock cemetery.

BEGGS & COBB CLOSES OPERATIONS

Beggs & Cobb's Winchester plant is slowly closing its operations. Last week the finishers work ended and only a skeleton crew now remains at the local plant.

When the Star called the plant early this week, only the maintenance men, power house men and a skeleton office crew was left.

The plant was purchased last month by Harry Remis of Swampscott and according to reports the Winchester plant is up for sale. Mr. Remis planned to operate Beggs' Maine plant and to keep the sales and Boston operations.

MOTHERS' MARCH CLIMAXES LOCAL POLIO DRIVE

Next Sunday afternoon, January 26, scores of volunteer workers will cover every street and every house in Winchester to ask for your contribution to aid 325,000 polio victims stage a comeback.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is the only volunteer health organization which pays the full cost of patient care, expends huge sums for research, has trained over half of the country's physiotherapists and continually lends large funds to Red Feather hospitals. Harvard University has received $40,000.00 for improvement of the iron lung and other breathing aids, the Children's Hospital another $40,000.00 for new and improved orthopedic apparatus. Research is still trying to improve polio vaccine and also trying to find a method to administer a preventive in pill form.

Not only have mothers volunteered their service, but also many teen-agers under the leadership of Paul Sullivan, Mike MacDonald, Brenda Cunningham and Jean Elliott. These energetic and enthusiastic youngsters will act as a flying squadron ready to fill any sudden emergency to which they will be whisked by radio-controlled cars. Dr. W. M. MacKenzie will double in electricity and relay requests for assistance to various ham operators cruising about town.

Frank Provinzano, commander of the local post of the American Legion, has complimented his group for the splendid assistance in the "Blue Crutch" collection last Friday and Saturday and stands ready to give any other help that may be requested.

An outstanding example of community service will be demonstrated by the Winchester Trust Company next Sunday afternoon. The doors of the bank will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. to enable solicitors to deposit their collections.

In charge of collections in the various precincts are the following:

Precinct 1
Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, Jr.
Precinct 2
Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gianotti
Precinct 3
Mrs. John Hogan
Mrs. Lawrence Gustin
Precinct 4
Mrs. Herbert Black
Mrs. Quentin Roberts
Mrs. Dana Harding
Mrs. A. R. Gunnar Brink
Precinct 5
Mrs. Frank Brooks
Mr. Arthur Johns

In organizing a drive of this kind there are always some public-spirited persons who would like to help. If you are one don't hesitate to call Ted Boecker or any one of the above. You will be more than welcome.

ADELAIDE W. HAWES

Miss Adelaide W. Hawes of 183 Mystic Valley parkway passed away in the evening of January 17. She had not been well for some time.

Born in Wellfleet, Cape Cod, she lived the earlier part of her life in Medford (for several years in the historic Royall House) and later on Manchester road here. She had been an around-the-world traveler following a period as a physiotherapist. An ardent lover of animals, she was particularly interested in the M.S.P.C.A. She had belonged to the Appalachian Mt. Club and until recently was a member of the Fortnightly and Winchester Art Association. She had no near relatives.

Services, conducted by Dr. Cart of the First Congregational Church, were held at 11:00 a.m. Monday, January 20, in the Bennett Funeral Chapel. After cremation, the interment will be in Portsmouth, N. H.

MISS McINTIRE ENGAGED

Mrs. George McIntire of 16 Park road, announces the engagement of her daughter, Patricia Ann to Mr. George Johnstone, son of Mrs. George Johnstone of 84 Maple avenue, Woburn.

MISS CUNNINGHAM ENGAGED

Professor and Mrs. Ross M. Cunningham, of Jefferson road and Freedom, N. H., announce the engagement of their daughter, Marcia to Mr. Lynn Edward Santner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Santner of Meadville, Pennsylvania

Miss Cunningham, a graduate of Winchester High School and Kents Hill School, is a member of the class of 1959 at Allegheny College and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

Mr. Santner is a graduate of Allegheny College, class of 1957, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. He is now employed in the Industrial Relations Department at Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Meadville, Pa.

CARL G. LARSON, JR.

Carl G. Larson, Jr., of 5 Alben street died suddenly Wednesday, January 22, at the Winchester Hospital. A former resident of Medford and a radio announcer, he was 27 years old.

Mr. Larson was the son of Mrs. Pearl J. Larson, former Medford School Committeewoman and its secretary for many years, and the late Dr. Carl G. Larson. Mrs. Larson practiced law in Medford Square for many years and was librarian of the Middlesex County Court.

Besides his mother, Mr. Larson leaves a sister, Allegra of Winchester, and a brother, Dr. Ely Larson of Miami.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:00 p. m. at the Gaffey Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Alexander Henderson of the First Baptist Church of Medford officiating.

HENRY BILLAUER

Henry Billauer, widely known in Winchester and a Woburn jeweler, died Tuesday night, January 21, at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn. Mr. Billauer's jewelry store, on Main street in Woburn, served in some cases three generations of customers.

Mr. Billauer was born in Poland 69 years ago and came to the United States as a young man. He carried out his family's profession of watchmaking and repairing in this country.

It was 36 years ago that the Woburn store was started and with the store opened, Mr. Billauer took an active part in community affairs.

He was chairman of the church program committee of the Kiwanis Club, a member of Crystal Fount Lodge of Odd Fellows, No. 109, the Woburn Grange, B'Nai Brith and the Y.M.C.A. Men's Club.

Mr. Billauer married Alice Mochedlover who was his business partner as well as his wife. Besides Mrs. Billauer, he is survived by two daughters Rosemary B. Conroy of Waltham and Miriam R. Raymond of Salem. He is also survived by ten grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Woburn Hebrew Center yesterday.

SKIDDING ACCIDENT ON CHURCH STREET

An accident on Church street last Saturday at 4:40 p. m. was blamed on snow flurries which made driving conditions on many roads that night very dangerous.

Faith S. O'Hearn of 705 Fellsway, West Medford, while operating an Oldsmobile sedan on Church street near the intersection of Oxford street had her car skid, eventually sliding into the path of a Plymouth sedan.

The other car was owned and operated by Francis M. Weiner of 182 High street. Mr. Weiner was traveling west on Church street.

Passengers in the Weiner car were Mrs. Weiner and their daughter, Christina, aged 5. There were no injuries reported.

FREE! FREE! LIFE INSURANCE

Because the following facts may have a bearing on your future it is in the interest of all readers to digest them well.

Fact No. 1. If you or anyone in your family were to find yourselves in the hospital tomorrow, for any reason whatsoever, the chances are one in three you would require a blood transfusion of, on the average, three and one half pints.

Fact No. 2. There is a real possibility you might not get that blood, because right now, as a result of the heavy call over the holidays, there is not enough to go around.

Fact No. 3. What blood there is on hand is distributed largely on the basis of priority. If you have donated blood within the last year, this priority is established for both you and your family. If you have not, you may be out of luck.

These three facts add up to one important conclusion, namely, that this Monday, January 27, when the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Winchester, you will be wise to arrange for a donation. Twenty minutes of your time and a pint of blood may buy the best insurance you've ever had. It is "Life Insurance" in the finest sense of the word.

If you are between the ages of 18 and 65, and in good health, you owe it to yourself and your family to call WInchester 6-2300 for an appointment. The Mobile Unit will be set up at the First Congregational Church Parish House from 1 to 7 p. m. Call WInchester 6-2300 now for your apointment, and just as an idea, why not bring a friend along?

MRS. NELLIE WALL

Mrs. Nellie Wall, friend and housekeeper for 23 years for Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hildreth of 248 Main street, died Wednesday, January 22, at the Winchester Hospital, after a short illness.

Mrs. Wall was born in Wilmington and lived for many years in Winchester and Woburn while her family were growing up. She is survived by a daughter Katherine De Vito of Everett and three grandchildren, Allan, Richard and Diane, all of Everett.

Funeral services will be held at the Chapel of J. E. Henderson Co., at 517 Broadway in Everett on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Visiting hours will be held today from 3 - 5 p. m. and from 7 - 9 p. m. Interment will be at the Glenwood cemetery in Everett.

General Rate Increase

Hospital Board Of Directors Vote To Remove Service Charge

Mr. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., president of the board of directors of the Winchester Hospital, has announced that the directors of the hospital have voted to discontinue the $10 initial service charge and have in its place substituted a general rate increase that is graduated to favor the long-stay patient.

Mr. Hood stated that the board of directors are still of the opinion that the initial service charge is the fairest means that could have been devised to produce the additional revenue the hospital needed, and it is being dropped only at the insistence of the commissioner of administration. Attorneys for the hospital have advised that there is no question of the legal right of the hospital to adopt an initial service fee, but the directors did not wish the hospital to become involved in costly litigation which might result in considerable harm to Blue Cross and its subscribers.

Under the plan which will go into effect on January 27, 1958, all room rates will be increased $2 per day. At the end of the patient's 7th day the rate will be dropped $1 a day. At the start of the patient's 4th week in the hospital, the rate will be reduced again by $1.

According to Mr. Harlan L. Paine, Jr., administrator of the hospital, the new plan is a compromise between the initial service charge and a flat rate increase and is the next fairest method, from the patient's standpoint, that could be devised to relate charges to the actual costs of maintaining a patient.

The initial service charge was instituted to cover the added costs involved in admitting a patient and getting him started on his course in the hospital. The new plan intends to spread this cost over a period of time, and at the same time to recognize that the longer-stay patient does not generally require as intensive care as the short-term patient, and, therefore, is not as costly to care for. In other words, the patient who is convalescing or receiving mainly custodial care will not have to pay as much money per day as the patient who is receiving intensive care in the more acute stages of his illness.

JOSEPH LaCASSE

Joseph LaCasse of Jones avenue, North Woburn, died Wednesday, January 22, after a long illness.

Mr. LaCasse was the husband of the former Margaret Coyne of Winchester, and he is survived by his wife and daughter Mrs. Barbara Rafferty of North Woburn and several grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday morning, January 25, at St. Anthony's Church in North Woburn. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

BOSTON MAN ARRESTED FOR HOUSEBREAKING

A call to the police station by Police Officer John P. McHugh on Wednesday evening resulted in the apprehension of a man suspected of breaking into the house of John Rines at 54 Everett avenue.

Officer McHugh was checking on the vacant house when he heard a noise and saw a man jump out of a second-story window. Sgt. Edward F. Bowler and Officers Robert Elliott, Douglas Martell, and John Boyle went immediately to Everett avenue in the patrol car.

Officer McHugh had spotted a strange car parked on Sheffield road and he jotted the license number down. Tracks in the snow led from the Rines house to the car and when police went back to the car it was gone.

A check on the license showed that the car was owned by John D. Lawton, who lives at the Boston Y.M.C.A. The police checked the neighbors and found that no one noticed anything suspicious.

Mr. Lawton was apprehended by the joint efforts of the Boston and Winchester Police Departments and he appeared at Woburn District Court yesterday morning. He was charged with breaking and entering at night with the intent to commit a felony. His bail was set at $7500 and the case was continued until next Thursday.

ANNUAL MEETING NATIONAL BANK

Increased earnings and activity in all phases of the bank's operations highlighted the annual report of Leslie J. Scott, President of the Winchester National Bank to the stockholders at the annual meeting of the Bank last Tuesday. Net earnings of $4.69 per share were reported as the highest in the Bank's history.

Mr. Scott reviewed the operations of the Bank for the past year, commenting on the great increase in the use of the various services the Bank offers to the people of Winchester. Consumer credit, in the form of loans to purchase automobiles and for home repairs reached a total of three quarters of a million dollars at year-end, and the wide-spread use of checking accounts, both regular and special, was reflected in the increase in the number of customers now using this service.

Mr. Scott's annual forecast of business conditions was optimistic concerning the estimate of the Bank's earnings for 1958.

RALPH H. BONNELL

Ralph H. Bonnell, President of Bonnell Motors Inc., and widely known civic leader of Winchester was elected Vice-President. Mr. Bonnell, a Director of the Bank since 1945, has been very active in Town affairs for many years. He has been Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Chairman of the Planning Board and has served on the Finance Committee and many other committees. He has been president of the Winchester Country Club, Rotary Club and is a former Chairman of the Republican State Committee. Mr. Bonnell is at present Republican National Committeeman from Massachusetts, and a member of its Executive Committee.

MAN HIT BY BB

Joseph Capone of 77 Irving street reported to the police late last Friday that when he was walking north on Holland street and came to the intersection of Oak street he was hit on the back of the head by a missile of some kind, evidently a BB shot.

Mr. Capone checked around and saw a boy in a nearby house. The boy said that two other boys were with him and that a BB gun had been used.

Mr. Capone was treated by Dr. Philip J. McManus and the police investigated the incident.

CANDIDATE FOR SELECTMAN

To the Voters of Winchester:

This is to announce that I have now filed completed nomination papers for the office of Selectman. In a later issue of the Star I intend to present for your consideration and, I hope, for your approval, a short summary of what I believe to be my qualifications for that office.

Two Pilots Die In Jet Plane Crash Over Winchester

Two USAF pilots were killed yesterday morning when two Air Force jet planes collided in mid-air over Winchester. According to an eye-witness report the crash took place at about 11:29 a.m.

Because of the strong winds, the planes drifted and one, the larger jet, crashed in Arlington Heights. It was the two pilots of this plane that were killed. The smaller of the two planes, reported to be a trainer, fell in Winchester on South Border road and set two houses on fire.

The pilots of the smaller plane were able to bail out and they landed, on Wollaston Beach and the other in the South Station railroad yard in Boston. Both were reported to have escaped injury.

The plane that fell in Winchester was reported to be in pieces, one large section falling between two houses on South Border road. The houses belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maspero, no. 432, and Mr. and Mrs. Lucien A. Bousquet of 438 South Border road. Both of the houses were partially damaged by the flames. Other parts of the plane fell over a scattered area and an early report had the engine falling on a house near St. Mary's Church.

One of the women in the South Border area had just gone out, not a minute before, and thus escaped possible injury.

It was reported that a large section of the plane had gone down in the woods off South Border road and as the Star went to press had not been located.

Mrs. K. B. Toye of 91 Mystic Valley Parkway said that she was an eye-witness to the crash as she had just come out of her house when she heard the crash and saw the two planes head in a jagged, spiraling downward path. She also noticed the two orange parachutes which meant that two of the pilots had bailed out and would be safe. Mrs. Toye immediately alerted the Bedford field and told them what she had seen.

Because the Star went to press so soon after the planes crashed and were located, all details of the incident were not fully clear. Representatives of the U. S. Air Force were immediately on the scene and there will of course be a full investigation of the crash. The Star will keep checking on the reports of the scattered wreckage as they come in.

Both the police and fire departments worked efficiently and expertly in their capacities. The police had a big job on their hands with the large number of sightseers which flooded the area.

Late reports indicate that a section of the motor went through the roof at 16 Bridge street, the home of Ethel and Mary Brown. The fire set off by the motor burned the roof and one wall of the house.

PARKED CAR DAMAGED

William Morton of 558 South Border road reported to the police on Sunday morning that his car had been damaged while it was parked on Pond street Saturday night.

Mr. Morton had parked the car, an Oldsmobile sedan, in front of 65 Pont street Saturday night and when he went to the car at 11:30, the left rear fender had been damaged by some unknown motorist.

DR. ANDERSON'S INSPIRING TALK LAUNCHES STUDY GROUPS

At the opening dinner meeting at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church on January 13, the College Club Evening Study Groups were launched for opening on January 27, with Dr. Robert H. Anderson's informative and most inspiring talk on "Creative Approaches to the Teacher Shortage."

Presiding at this meeting were Mrs. John W. Harrison, president of the College Club and Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Efromson, chairmen of the Study Groups. The meeting was opened with a welcome by Mrs. Harrison followed by the blessing by Dr. John W. Ellison, of the parish of the Epiphany.

Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, chairman of the dinner could be proud of her committee of the Methodist Church women under Mrs. Paul M. White, Jr., and Miss Mary Hodge for a superb dinner.

Special thanks went to Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Conard on the steering committee of the Evening Study Groups.

It is rare to spend an evening and be so inspired, and Dr. Anderson was responsible for this in his talk on "Creative Approaches to the Teacher Shortage." He is a teacher and lecturer for the Harvard University Graduate School of Education.

Dr. Anderson opened his talk with the point that so many with docto-rates leave the teaching profession for other fields and those best qualified enter law, engineering, medicine, etc. "There is a shortage of able people in teaching." This is true of other countries as well, he stated, since never a week goes but what he is confronted with a representative from a foreign country who is here to discuss the crying need for not only more teachers but better trained teachers.

A child can learn much more in the schools than he does. We are in a position to do much better teaching. How can we attract the best people for teaching?"

A teacher should be educated more than anyone in other fields. There are several projects in existence to increase training such as so-called Plan A, described by Dr. Anderson, a project to train graduates of liberal arts colleges, 29 of them, with courses at Harvard Graduate School of Education for the first semester and practice teaching for the second semester. Plan B, a project of training called the Internship Plan where teachers from the training school are assigned to existing vacancies but still attend courses once or twice a week at Harvard. There is still another training project for six weeks intensive training in the summer at Harvard.

"Education is Big Business; superintendents of schools should make as much in salary as presidents of big industries. The teacher turnover is terrific; we need the Career Teacher not the Visiting fireman," he said.

Next door in Lexington, Dr. Anderson is heading up another teacher training project at the Franklin School supported by a grant from the Ford Foundation where housewives who can go to work and have a liberal arts background are being trained in education to enter the teaching profession.

The aim of teacher training should be to make teaching more exciting, more alive, to attract the best qualified, the most interested and the most fit.

We must stress more the child who excels in music, in arts, in science, as well as the child in sports.

"We must turn our children over to only the able and the great. He who teaches in a small way plays the role of God" were the closing remarks of Dr Anderson's talk filled with humor, inspiration, and thought provoking remarks.

All study groups were described and introduced by the chairmen at this meeting and enrollment is still open in some. Call Mrs. Philip Efromson, WInchester 6-3967 for information.

NEW EDITOR OF COLBY NEWSPAPER

Miss Judith Roberts will be the new editor-in-chief of "The Colby Echo," undergraduate newspaper at Colby College. She will assume charge of the paper with the opening of the second semester on February 4.

The 20-year-old Miss Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Roberts of 14 Rangeley Ridge, has been a member of the Echo staff since her freshman year. Her most recent staff position has been as news editor. She is a graduate of Winchester High School.

HIGH SCHOOL PARENTS TO ENTERTAIN FACULTY

Members of the high school faculty will be the guests of parents at a series of dessert parties to be held preceding the piano recital by Mr. Michael Power on Monday evening, February 3. Following the parties at 7:00 p. m. the various groups will adjourn to the high school auditorium for Mr. Power's concert which begins at 8:15 p. m.

Entertaining at the dessert parties are the following:

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, Dr. and Mrs. James G. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Leslie Doten, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Maurice T. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Kiley, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McLaughlin, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. John D. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Osgood, and Mr. and Mrs. R. William Schumacher.

Following the concert, a coffee hour will be held in honor of Mr. Power at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Russell. Mrs. Russell is past-president of the High School Parent-Faculty Association.

That students at the high school are keenly interested in the success of Mr. Power's concert was demonstrated recently. When art instructor Pauline Goodrich asked for volunteers to prepare posters advertising the recital, the response was immediate and enthusiastic.

HARVARD CLUB OF EASTERN MIDDLESEX

The Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex which includes some local alumni will hold a dinner meeting at the Colonial Country Club Wednesday evening, February 5, at 6:30.

John Yovicsin who has finished his first year as head coach of the varsity football team will be the speaker. A film of highlights of the season will be shown.

In the face of great odds Harvard won three of its scheduled games when many experts doubted whether it would win. Handicapped by a small squad and many injuries to key players it defeated Ohio, Columbia and Pennsylvania. By most criteria Mr. Yovicsin's debut was a success.

Dr. Sanford H. Moses, president of the club will preside over the meeting.

AND THE CROWD GOES WILD!

BELMONT TOPS WINCHESTER

SINGLE POINT JINX CONTINUES

Winchester High School's gym was filled to overflowing last Friday night as Belmont defeated Winchester in a real thriller 34-33.

Two years ago the Sachem challenged the class A teams and lost in the final to Durfee by the margin of a single basket. Last year the Indians again ran up against bad luck and were defeated in the semi-final by Belmont 54-53.

Despite poor press ratings and the fact that they were 21 point underdogs the Sachems put on a tremendous showing as they came from behind to lead with only 17 seconds remaining in the game. As it has been in the past the Sachems were victims of that last second basket as Belmont's Hamilt sunk a jump shot with six seconds remaining.

The opening tip was controlled by the Sachems, but they were unable to score until late in the first quarter. Winchester couldn't seem to get going at all in the opening quarter, missing shot after shot while Belmont was working its plays and building up a 12-2 lead.

The second quarter found the Sachems matching shots with Belmont but they could not close the gap and they were behind at the half by 11 points 22-11. Del Bartlett was substituted for Doug Thomson who was having trouble with his fouls.

Winchester went right to work on that 11 point Belmont lead with the resumption of play after the half. The Indians worked away at Belmonts lead and tied up the score at 23 apiece. At this point the Sachem fans went wild and the whole gym was turned into a bedlam of noise. Then as suddenly as they had become hot, they became cold again and they went down six points at the end of the third quarter 29-23.

The courtmen outscored Belmont in this quarter 12-7. Winchester continued to dominate play, and actually outscored Belmont, 10-5 in the final quarter. Hamilt of Belmont scored their only five points in the final stretch.

With everybody anxiously watching the clock the Sachems again worked laboriously away at Belmont's six-point lead. Buckets by Doug Thomson and Vandy French, plus two by Richie Roberts tied the game up at 32 apiece with less than a minute to go. Richie Roberts was then fouled and had a one and one possibility. Richie made the first shot, but he missed the bonus. Hamilt then started driving down the court and with seven seconds remaining shot a jumper from the corner. The Sachems quickly worked the ball into position but Joel Peckham's shot was hurried and the game was still Belmont's.

Hamilt led both teams with 14 points with Doug Thomson close behind with 11 points and Dave Schumacher had 10.

TIME OUT

Sachems take a time out during the tense Winchester-Belmont basketball game played at the Winchester gym last Friday night. The Sachems bowed to Belmont in a close 33-34 game.

Dave Schumacher and Hamilt both had four free throws.

Richie Roberts played an outstanding game under the boards as he led the Sachems in rebounds.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

We rolled in and out of the third week. B.C. stood its ground and took four straight points to again dominate top honors. Holy Cross shook off Alabama and grabbed second place. There exists at the present time a three way tie for third. We are also proud to print that we had 100% attendance this week thanks to Dr. Vespucci and his pill box.

Bob Fiore	101.1
Dick Fiore	99.7
Babe Tofuri	98.7
Jeff Gaudioso	97.3
Max La Carubba	97.1
Gene Rotundi	95.8

We had a fine parade of 300 bowlers this week. Wearing his full dress Boy Scout regalia, Scoutmaster Bob Fiore led the pack with a spectacular 343; Tony Saraco, 341; Max La Carubba, 315; Pete Fiore, 310; Corregidor Fiore, 308; Choppers Gangi, 305; and Dick Fiore, 305. We've got to admit those Fiores are a terrific lot of bowlers.

The last ditch winners of the first half, Holy Cross took team pinfalls this week with 1424. Their captain, one of our finest sportsmen, is Choppers Gangi. Riding on his toboggan are that famous safari kid Ralph Tauro; Frank Dattilo, one of our town's faithful employees (you know what I mean); Dick Tofuri, son of A. P. Tofuri whose political ambitions are coming to light as of late; Jake Ciarcia, a real quiet sort of a chap who is always trying, and Corregidor Fiore a recent graduate with high honors from B. C.

The boys sure had their shooting eyes as twenty-five stomped over the hundred this evening. The top three were Max La Carubba with 135; Tony Saraco, 128; and Bob Fiore, 125.

We don't generally say much as a new edition is entered into the Hall of Fame but tonight's entry is one of our most faithful bowlers over the years. Never has he ever been outspoken or brought or cast a shadow over our organization throughout the years.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

Rocky DeTeso is one of our boys
Always quiet he makes no noise
A former employee of Beggs & Cobb
He was always on the job
He has a pet that's really tame
Rusty is the beagle's name
We've often wondered what his reason
He's never around during the off season
We hope he'll soon get in the groove
Then his bowling might improve.

The above nearly had a stroke when he won the award this evening and in his own words "I'm a winner after 50 years."

See you next week.

CUB SCOUTS VISIT STAR

Six cub scouts from Den 9, Pack 6, visited the Star last Thursday afternoon to see the various processes necessary in publishing a newspaper.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Larson, den mother, and Mrs. Griffin, assistant den mother, Peter Merrow, Edwin Cushman, Peter Blaisdell, Peter Thorp, Peter Larson and Luke Griffin made the tour of inspection.

UNITARIAN JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

At their first meeting in January, the Junior High Fellowship of the Winchester Unitarian Church had as their guest Nelson Brown of Francis circuit, who shared with the members his enthusiasm and experiences in rock collecting. Mr. Brown showed slides of many of the New England areas where varied types of rocks may be found. He displayed some of his abundant collection and related these specimens to the sources illustrated by his pictures.

Perhaps the most spectacular part of his collection was seen at his home, where the Fellowship members were invited to view his fluorescent specimens under ultra violet light. The colors were startling, to say the least, and surprisingly varied in hue and intensity.

The Fellowship members are most grateful to Mr. Brown for making their afternoon so instructive and enjoyable.

The next meeting of the group, on January 26, should provide considerable entertainment. The adult program committee is preparing a kitchen party where the youngsters may experience some of the fun their grandparents—or even parents—had years ago popping corn, candy pulling, making and (of course) eating ice cream. They may even have a taste of some newly baked bread!

The adult committee is composed of: Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hutchings, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Handy.

TO REPEAT PILOTING COURSE

In response to many requests, Pequossette Power Squadron will repeat its free ten-week course in small boat piloting starting February 10, it was annuonced today by Paul E. Lajoie of 17 Church street, Squadron Educational Officer.

Registration and opening class will be at 7:30 p. m. Monday, February 10, at the Phillips School 30 Common street, Watertown. Classes will be held each Monday at the the same time and place. Ladies as well as men are invited. There is no charge for the course.

The course is designed to acquaint the rapidly expanding boating public with the fundamentals of safe, competent boat handling. Subjects covered will include seamanship, safety practices, use of the compass, charts, piloting, aids to navigation, rules of the road and manners and customs. It provides information of interest to owners of small outboard-powered boats as well as larger sail or power craft.

Reservations for the free course may be made through Paul E. Lajoie, 17 Church street, phone WInchester 6-3317.

FETED BY B. U.

Frank Provinzano of 31 Lebanon street and baseball coach at the High School was one of 70 former Boston University athletes now engaged in coaching feted at the B.U. Varsity Club annual Sports Night last night.

Other highlights of the Sports Night was the presentation of the Hall of Fame Awards and the Harry Agganis Award to an outstanding B. U. sophomore athlete.

Sports guests included the NBA's Maurice Podoloff, Jock Onslow of the Red Sox, Ken Macafee of the New York grid Giants, Walter Brown and Red Auerbach of the Boston Celtics and John Kelley the younger winner of the 1957 Marathon.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Should capital punishment be abolished? Should the voting age be lowered to eighteen? Should stray and unclaimed animals in the pound be relegated to medical laboratories for scientific experiments?

These questions were debated last week in Mr. George Snyder's 8th grade social studies classes.

On capital punishment ,the affirmative in the 8-1 division was taken by Carole Lawson, Thalia McCarthy, Daniel Mahoney and Prescott Wild. On the negative team were Sally Leighton, Kathleen Lopez, John Scherban and Edmond Harrington. Nancy O'Neil was chairman; the judges were Joyce Horvath, Peter Crawford and William Maselunas; and Frank Curtis was the timer. The negative won this debate by a two to one vote.

The affirmative team of the 8-2 division was made up of Richard Runci, Marilyn Walsh, Wendy Lewis and Dean Anderson; the negative, Polly Cone, David Whittaker, William Saunders and John Chane. Chairman was Pamela Towle; judges were Laurel Ingraham, Kristina Wilhelm and Philip Stewart. The timer was James von Rosenvinge.

In this division the affirmative team won by a unanimous three to nothing vote. In the 8-5 division the affirmative team was made up of Martha Ross, William Eddy, Elizabeth Bowes and Daniel Barnard, while on the negative were Diane Watson, Michael Field, Patricia Jones, and Alan Macdonald. Patricia Buros acted as chairman. Alice Dyson, Claudia Gordon and Richard Guiliani were the judges, and Edward Niblock the timer. In this case the affirmative won by two to one.

Whether or not the voting age should be lowered was argued in the 8-3 division with Beverly Marasca, Barbara Crede, Nancy Haley, Jean Binding, Robert McIntire and Robert Donlon on the affirmative and Judy Yore, Carol Coakley, Linda Amico, Ernest Covino, Karl Russo, and Richard Pendergast taking the negative. Gratia Lewis was chairman; the judges were Leah Crocker, Jeffrey Mayo, and Ronald Nastase; the timer was George Reppucci. The affirmative was the winner by two to one.

Division 8-4 debated the stray animal question. The affirmative was taken by Thea Kirk, Peter Cass, Althal Merritt and Paul Ryan. The negative was argued by Leslie Sanger, Gordon Trevett, Robert Fontaine and Joseph Shea; the chairman was David Anderson, the Judges, Patricia Hamel, Norah Dale, and Walter Scott. Emily Langer was the timer. The result left no doubt how these young people felt about animals in laboratories. The negative won by a unanimous 3 to 0 vote.

According to Mr. Snyder, the success of the debates were due in large part to the splendid cooperation shown by Miss Russell in the Junior Branch of the Winchester Library. She made volumes of books and materials available to the youngsters so that they could prepare for these most timely and interesting topics.

GYM TEAM FACES FIRST COMPETITION, LOSES CLOSE MEET TO ANDOVER

The Winchester High School Gymnastic Team made a fine showing in its first competitive meet in nearly three years of existence, losing 30½ to 23½ to Andover High School on January 14.

George Ducharme, newly-elected captain of the Winchester team, led the home scorers with one first place, two second places, and one third place award. Rope climbing, horizontal bar, tumbling, parallel bars, long horse leaping, and flying rings were the six different parts of the meet.

Jack Fitzgerald of Andover led the individual performance race, winning the match almost singlehandedly for his team with 24 points. George Ducharme was second-highest individual scorer with 11 points, followed by Richard Dulong from Andover with 6½.

The scoring system gave 5, 3, and 1 points for first, second, and third in each contest, repsectively. In four of the six areas, Winchester took second and third places, losing only the coveted number one spot to Jack Fitzgerald in each case.

Besides Ducharme, the other Winchester gymnasts who won points were Chris King with 3½, David Archer and Leonard Mead with three each, and David Rich, George Thompson, and Billy Joyce with one each. The other Winchester competitors in the meet were John Clifford, Talbot Page, Tom Russo, Parker Allen, James Rose, and John McDonough. Nick Orgettas, Kjell Enge, Jay Puffer, and Domonic Orgettas served as officials.

The judges were Mr. Dunn and Mr. Thornton form Andover, Mr. Morse and Mr. Battino from Winchester.

WINCHESTER P. A. L.

P. A. L.

The Winchester Police Athletic League games of the 14th and 15th were played as scheduled and both Leagues are now back on their regular schedule. Next week the schedule will be:

Junior Division

Tuesday, January 28, 7:00 p. m. H.C. vs. Yale; 8:00 p. m. Boston College vs. Dartmouth; 9:00 p. m. Princeton vs. Harvard.

Senior Division

Wednesday, January 29, 7:00 p. m. Royals vs. Pistons; 8:00 p. m. Celtics vs. Eagles; 9:00 p. m. Lakers vs. Hawks.

The Senior Division produced a real squeaker when the Celtics held off the Royals by a one point margin, final score 34 to 33. Fox and D. McGee of the Celtics gathered 24 of the 34 Celtics points. Gaudioso and DeRenne of the Royals accounted for 20 of their team's total. Graham and Errico each scored 17 points for the Hawks, but Rogers returned after several weeks absence and poured 21 points through the hoop to lead all Senior scorers for the night. Smith led the Lakers with a sparkling 20 points. In the Eagles Pistons clash Tofuri led high scoring Serieka of the Eagles 19 to 17 points but the Eagles with a better team output, won the game 51 to 45.

All Junior League games were decided by substantial margins. Bellino of Holy Cross scored 21 points in his teams' 53 to 22 victory over Harvard. Peckham of Boston College duplicated this effort with 21 points in his team's 46 to 29 victory over Princeton.

The Eastern Mass. Police Athletic League has started a trial Basketball League to consist of Lynn, Woburn, Swampscott, Marblehead and Winchester. One boy will be appointed to a squad for this league team by each coach. This applies to senior league players only. The other members of the squad will be selected by Lou Farrell, Bob Innis coaches and by Andy Crawford league director. For this season it is expected home games will be played at Woburn unless other arrangements can be made. Schedules should be available next week.

Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.
Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

The fact that the healing, saving power of the Christ, Truth is always present will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday.
The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" will include the following from Matthew (9:35): "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and disease among the people."
Correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (494:30): "Our Master cast out devils (evils) and healed the sick. It should be said of his followers also, that they cast fear and all evil out of themselves and others and heal the sick. God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. Truth casts out error now as surely as it did nineteen centuries ago. All of Truth is not understood; hence its healing power is not fully demonstrated."

News and Notes

Three new programs have been added to the regular programing of the High School radio station. Two of these programs are furnished through the American Medical Association. These programs are run for 13 weeks. The first series is on "Winter Safety" and couples excellent music with some telling points on safety factors for winter weather. The second is one of the most popular series sponsored by the AMA called "Hi-Forum" which highlights discussion groups from high schools throughout the country. Very ably moderated, this series bring to focus many of the problems confronting youth today. These programs are presented every Friday during the stations regular broadcasting period—consult the Star for time.
An outstanding new program started last week and will continue for some weeks to come called, "Washington Report to the People." This is a professionally taped program featuring the leaders of our national government discussing the "big issues." WHSR is indeed fortunate to be able to bring this caliber of show to the people of Winchester.
The sports broadcasts of all home basketball games continues through the regular season. These sportscasts have been received enthusiastically by listeners unable to attend. The Wakefield game will be aired on Tuesday afternoon and the Lexington game on Friday evening.
WHSR inaugurated the first in a series of morning shows last Friday. "Good Morning, Winchester" will be presented every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 7:30 to 8:00 a. m. Featuring news, weather, sports and music, the programs will start your day with the home town touch. Why not tune in!
Next Wednesday evening WHSR will present directly from the stage of the auditorium portions of the Open House programs sponsored by the Speech Division, Curtain and Cue, and WHSR. Tune in and learn more about the communications art program in Winchester High School.

FIRES

Friday, January 17, an unidentified woman called at 5:23 p. m. to report that a car was on fire at the corner of Wildwood and Palmer street. The car belonged to Mrs. Elsie Brooks of Inverness road. Firefighters found a slight fire in the upholstery and it was extinguished with snow.

W.V.N.A. ANNUAL MEETING

A large and interested group of members and friends of the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association met on the evening of January 16 at the Mystic School Auditorium for the annual meeting of the association. After a coffee hour, the meeting was called to order at 8:30 by the president, Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick.
It was evident from the report of Mrs. Walter F. Keyes, the secretary, that the past year was a most active and productive one on several fronts. The basic program of caring for the sick in their homes, and promulgating good health education and practice in the schools and the community has been carried forward unremittingly. One of the highlights of the year was the sponsorship, with the American Cancer Society, of the film, "Breast Self Examination" which was shown in March and viewed by over 1500 women. During the year the association has revised its constitution, changing its name and purpose.
Since for the past several years, the services of the Visiting Nursing Association are available to all and not only "especially to those of small means," this phrase was struck from its purpose. In December, a contractual agreement with the Winchester Board of Health was made whereby the public health nursing of that board will now be handled by the W.V.N.A., thus putting in one office all the public health nursing in the town. This arrangement should make for more efficient handling. Miss Carole A. Muse, formerly with the Board of Health, will join the staff of the W.V.N.A. this month. Mention was made of numerous meetings and conventions attended by the nurses and association members and the report closesd with a sincere expression of gratitude to its many friends who so staunchly support its work.
Mrs. Walfred C. Wiklund, executive director, presented her reports most interestingly. First, on stage with Mrs. Wiklund, were the present members of her staff, Miss Rita Plummer, Miss Grace P. Eremian, Mrs. Mildred Symmes, and Miss Leona E. Porter. Together they enacted a meeting typical of that held each afternoon at headquarters after their nursing work of the day has been accomplished and before their reports are prepared. Here, advice, experiences, ideas, problems and future plans were exchanged. It was truly amazing to realize what an efficient clearing house this office actually is and how its comprehensive knowledge of social service programs in operation in town resolves many knotty problems. After this skit, Mrs. Wiklund gave her annual nursing and financial reports. As usual, these reflected the efficiency and industry that marks the office.
Mrs. Paul Forester, Jr., chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate for 1958 which was favorably voted upon by the members. Mrs. Patrick paid tribute to the late Mr. James Nowell who had served so generously as a trustee for so many years.
The invited speaker of the evening, Dr. James Lyman Tullis, Senior Research Associate of the Harvard School and Protein Foundation, was introduced by Mrs. John W. Harrison, co-chairman of the education committee. Dr. Tullis' subject was "New Methods for Treatment of Radiation Injury" and was concerned chiefly with efforts to make possible the stockpiling blood, so that a good supply of it could be on hand in the event of a disaster affecting large numbers of people needing treatments involving administering blood.
With Dr. Tullis was Dr. Robert Tench who demonstrated on a machine brought from the research laboratory, the fractionation of blood into its components. This method of producing and preserving for long periods of time, white cells, red cells and platelets, makes it possible to use only that part of the blood which is needed in any one case, thus assuring a more economical use of the blood supply. While a few of the techniques developed at the foundation are near clinical stage, most of them are still in the research phase but give promise of realization of the goal —to build up and hold without deterioration large supplies of blood fractions. Dr. Tullis spoke with such clarity that even the layman was able to follow the thrilling quest through its difficulties and triumphs. After an inspection of the apparatus and a number of questions, the meeting was adjourned.
Those elected at this meeting to serve the W.V.N.A. for 1958 are:
Board of Directors: President, Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick; Vice president, Mrs. Donald M. Wright; recording secretary, Mrs. Walter F. Keyes; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle; treasurer, Mrs. Daniel J. McLaughlin, Jr.; assistant treasurer, Mrs. William E. Spaulding
Finance Committee: Mrs. William Spaulding, chairman; Mrs. Allan T. Buros, Mrs. Richard A. Harlow; and Mrs. Donald Connors

Safe Walking Tip: Who's a pedestrian? You are, the moment you step from your car. Leave your car from the curb side, never from the street side. And when you're walking, observe all the common sense pedestrian rules, advises AAA.

JUNIOR CRITTENTON LEAGUE

The Winchester Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League held its winter meeting on Tuesday evening, January 14, at the home of Mrs. Malcolm S. Burr, 15 Grove street.
The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frederick F. Stockwell, president, and reports of officers and committee chairmen were presented.
To commemorate this year as the silver anniversary of Florence Crittenton it was proposed that the spring meeting be a joint meeting with the senior circle and the past presidents.
Following the business meeting Mr. Leslie Chadwick Browning, party consultant of S. S. Pierce, was the speaker for the evening. He gave a most interesting and amusing talk on hors d'oeuvres and canapes and illustrated this talk with a delicious and unusual, though easily prepared assortment.
At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Raymond Chase and her committee.

NEW ADULT EDUCATION COURSES

Dr. Floyd Black, formerly president of Robert College in Istanbul, Turkey, will be one of the featured guest speakers for the Adult Education course "The Arab World." He is now directing the course on the Middle East for the Cambridge Center. Another guest will be Mr. Hussein Nasr, a graduate of M.I.T., who will talk on the Islamic faith.

The course will be conducted by Mr. Gifford Doxsee, an honor student from Cornell with a Master's degree from Harvard. Mr. Doxsee taught for three years in the American University at Beirut, Lebanon, and has brought back many pictures which he plans to show to the evening class. He also has other documentary films, among which the most interesting may well be the one put out by the Arab Information Center in New York. Suggested topics for discussion are Arab nationalism, background aspects of the Arab-Israeli tensions, an introduction to Egypt, and Lebanon in the role of a Christian Arab nation.

With the present need for more trained scientists in our country "Science For This Modern World" seemed to be a timely offering. It might be easier for parents to foster in their children a scientific interest, if they themselves understood some of the basic principles of modern science. Mr. Joseph Palmieri, the instructor, expects to teach the course in such a way that those with little or no knowledge of science will gain a practical comprehension of some of our modern inventions, such as jet aircraft, rockets and satellites. In addition he will discuss the problems of ionization. Class members will have the opportunity of examining the new textbook for secondary school science, now being prepared by a government and foundation sponsored project at M.I.T. Mr. Palmieri, a member of the American Institute of Physics and the American Nuclear Society, will receive his Doctor of Science in June from Harvard University.

These two courses were recommended by the Advisory Committee with the hope of contributing to better understanding of some of our country's problems.

Two other courses offered for the first time are Furniture Refinishing and Advanced Sewing. Mr. Jerome Rooney, Industrial Arts teacher in Woburn, has a special interest in early American furniture. Mrs. Alfred Whitman is a graduate of Wesleyan University with experience in teaching advanced techniques of sewing in other evening classes.

Registration for the Adult Education program will take place Monday evening, January 27 from 7:30 to 9:30 at the Senior High School. If bad weather should cause a cancellation, it will be announced on the Boston radio stations and the registration will be postponed to the next evening.

SACHEM SHARPSHOOTERS

The Indians kept the win in Winchester by defeating Melrose last Friday at Melrose. The Melrose boys proved very able riflemen, being topped by only twenty-seven points. The final score was Winchester 850 and Melrose 823. Only eight Winchester boys were able to shoot against the Melrose ten.

The five top shooters were:

Bill MacNeil	175
Phil Borneman	175
George Ducharme	162

Unfortunately, the boys weren't as lucky again Monday night against Concord. Tallying up the scores it proved to be a deadlock between the two teams, 879-879. The teams decided to break the tie by counting how many bulls-eyes each team had made. Concord topped Winchester by three bulls-eyes. Mr. Aversa stated that despite this the boys did exceptionally well, as can be seen by the score of 879.

The five high scores were:

Phil Borneman	185
Nick Rosa	177
Bill MacNeil	177
Charlie Petri	171
Talbot Page	169

The boys match Friday with Newton, and are planning to win.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

ANNUAL MEETING

Over one hundred interested adults attended the annual meeting of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., on Monday night in the Mystic School Auditorium. The audience, which included almost as many men as women, thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

Dr. Raymond Dillon, a Winchester resident, and a practicing radiologist, proved himself to be also an adventurer, photographer and lecturer of considerable skill. He talked with spirit and humor while showing the colored moving pictures he took on the round-the-world cruise of the Yankee, where he acted as radio operator and photographer under Captain Irving Johnson. Unlike the usual travelogue, his pictures contained much of humor and human interest, as he showed not only places seldom visited by white men, but also the life, work, and pastimes of the adults and children aboard the ship and of the people they visited on shore.

The voting members elected the following slate of officers, board members, and membership-nominating committee. Their names follow, with the committees to which the president has appointed them. Also included are members whose terms are held over from last year:

President—Mrs. Herbert Ross
Vice pres.—Mrs. Daniel Fortiere
Vice pres.—Mrs. Arvid Monsen
Secretary—Mrs. John DeVries
Treasurer—Mrs. Warren Wells
Registrar—Miss Constance Lane
Chairman Neighborhood II—Mrs. S. M. Ward.
Chairman Neighborhood III — Mrs. Howard Leary
Chairman Neighborhood IV — Mrs. Francis Bowes
Program Chairman — Mrs. Harold Butters, Jr.
Training Chairman — Mrs. Robert Ingraham, Jr.
Camp Chairman — Mrs. James Stewart, Jr.
Chairman Employed Personnel—Mrs. Lester Armstrong
Co-chairmen Finance — Mr. Dwight Bellows and Mrs. Walter Roberts
Chairman Troop Organization—Mrs. Ralph C. Thompson
Chairman Public Relations — Mrs. Stanley Cairncross
Members at Large—Mrs. Thomas Hill, Mrs. Charles Myers, Mrs. Roswell Harding, Mrs. James Willing Membership - Nominating Committee — Mrs. John Hogan, Mrs. Percy Hill, and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery

Juliette Low Meeting

There will be a meeting of Juliette Low girls at the cabin on Thursday, January 30, at 3:30 to 4:45 p.m.

EDITORIALS

As noted elsewhere in this issue, the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross is conducting a blood drive next Monday in the First Congregational Church Parish House. The bloodmobile unit will be at the parish house from 1 - 7 p.m.

The need for blood is pressing as local supplies of whole blood are very low; so low, in fact, that elective operations are being postponed because of the lack of the vital fluid.

Last September the Bloodmobile was in Winchester and 111 pints of blood were collected. While this may sound like a good total at first, statistically this represents only 2 per cent of possible potential donors in this town. Not a very good percentage when you consider the importance of such a donation in terms of saving a life.

Much has been said in the past about the ease in which blood can be given and there is no need to further explain the process here. Let it suffice to say that giving blood is a very simple, painless thing. It is a wonderful and easy thing, too, when a few moments of your time can result in the saving of a human life.

All the blood given in Winchester is used in the Greater Boston area. It is stockpiled in the Red Cross Blood Bank in Boston and from there various hospitals in the area get the blood. On the average of four times a week the Red Cross transports blood to the Winchester Hospital or to other hospitals where Winchester residents are patients. Whole blood is being used more and more to replace blood losses during operations and to build patients up for operations.

But, if you still aren't convinced on the humanitarian level, the Red Cross is stressing the "life insurance" angle of the program this year. If you give blood this year, you and your immediate family are protected for one whole year should any of them require blood. This means that if blood supplies should run low, you, as a donor, would receive a priority on what is remaining.

What this means simply is that giving blood can be a humanitarian act and at the same time provide you and your family with a "life insurance" policy.

Let's show the Red Cross that Winchester knows a good thing when it sees it. See you at the parish house!

TO HOLD CLASS IN PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

Editor of the Star:

A year ago I inquired through your columns whether there was any interest on the part of town meeting members in holding a class in parliamentary procedures. At the time, there seemed to be insufficient response to warrant such a class.

Now, however, I have been approached by several people asking about the possibility of some group instruction along these lines. In accordance with their expressed desires, I have arranged with the school committee for the use of a classroom in the senior high school on Tuesday evenings, February 4, 11 and 18 at 7:45 p.m.

Instruction will cover the common customs of parliamentary practice and the thirteen basic motions. These will further be related to the statute and by-laws governing our local town meeting.

It would be helpful to me if those planning to attend would indicate that fact in advance.

Yours sincerely,
Harrison Chadwick
Town Moderator

THE SECOND MOTHER

Editor of the Star:

There are quite a few of us old girls here in Winchester and surrounding towns who go out each day to help care for children whose mothers are ill or who have to work or who are just out for a day getting away from it all.

We are not young. Most of us are over 55 years of age, some 65 years of age. All of us are kind and thoughtful. We are needed in a big way. Some of the children are undisciplined, but we put up with it as we have had lots of experience with large families ourselves.

Most of us are good nurses and could be trained for emergencies. So we could help these young mothers who have 3 or 4 children, all small. They wouldn't know where to turn in an emergency.

Most of us over 55 years of age have lots of pep and can do a good day's work and can also be of great help both morally and in other ways if we were needed.

Too bad we couldn't be organized and put into useful work such as nursing.

Anyone interested in getting together on this, drop me a line.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Louise E. Chase

ALERT POLICE WORK

Editor of the Star:

Shortly after seven o'clock Wednesday evening I had occasion to be in the vicinity of Sheffield road and Everett avenue and while talking with a neighbor I learned of some alert police action only moments before.

Officer John McHugh was patrolling his beat when he observed an automobile on Sheffield road and became suspicious. He took the number of the car and went on his way. Then he continued his patrol on Everett avenue in the direction of Cambridge street. At this intersection he turned into the driveway of a private home for the purpose of trying doors and "just looking around" he observed a broken window on the first floor and simultaneously heard some noise on the second floor of the house whose occupants were away at the time. The noise was that of a burglar jumping from the second floor into the snow, a relatively short jump in this instance. The intruder ran to the place where the officer noticed the suspicious car and got away in the dark. The alertness of the officer in noting the number of the car resulted in immediate follow-up work by the police in tracing ownership of the vehicle. Within an hour Winchester police were in Boston at the place where the car is registered, and within twelve hours they apprehended the alleged intruder and had him in Woburn District Court on charges.

A further check up revealed the suspect has a very long police record.

It seems to me that the alertness of Officer McHugh should be publicly commended. One doesn't want to speculate on what could have happened if the intruder and the officer met face to face in the darkened house.

This incident is one of many in recent years where to my knowledge officers of the Winchester Police Department have performed outstanding work in tracing down and arresting intruders in the night time.

EAGLE AWARD FOR MEAD

The Eagle Badge, highest award in scouting, was presented to Philip Mead, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Mead, 10 Mt. Pleasant street, at the First Baptist Church last Monday night. The occasion was a court of honor of Boy Scout Troop 7, Fred C. Otto, scoutmaster.

The meeting was opened with a brief welcome to the many parents of scouts, friends and invited guests by George A. Blair, Jr., troop committee chairman. This was followed by a most interesting movie of the National Jamboree. Several members of Troop 7, including Mead, attended this outstanding event last summer.

The highlight of the meeting was the court of honor. Second class badges were awarded to Neal Nelson, Lance Grenzeback, and Howard Dyson by Scoutmaster Otto. The Eagle award was made by Paul R. Butterworth of Reading, well-known past scoutmaster of Troop 7. Mr. Butterworth was scoutmaster during most of Mead's scouting career.

The meeting was closed with a brief ceremony followed by refreshments.

WINCHESTER GRANGE NO. 343

Winchester Grange No. 343 met Tuesday night, January 21, at the regular meeting place. Miss Marilyn Davis, home consultant for the Massachusetts Heart Association, spoke to the group and showed a film entitled "Take It Easy." The film showed phases of work simplification for the homemaker such as proper working heights, proper planning, etc.

The Charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Annie S. Gardner who was an honorary member of the Grange and who died last Saturday.

Guests at the meeting were from Lynn, Billerica, Pinehurst and Woburn. Following the meeting delicious griddle cakes were served by Donald Wilkins and his committee.

During the month of February the Grange will hold a luncheon for the Muscular Distrophy Association. This project is the State Grange's special activity this year.

The next meeting on February 4, will be on the "History, Aims and Objectives of the Industrial School for Crippled Children in Boston."

MRS. MICHAEL MICCICHE

MICCICHE — STEVENS

St. Joseph's Church in Medford, decorated in white gladioli and chrysanthemums, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Barbara Joan Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Stevens of 253 Governor's avenue, Medford, and Michael Frank Micciche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Micciche of 2 Pine street, on Saturday, January 4. The Rev. James Smith performed the 10 o'clock marriage ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial mass which followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight satin and peau de soie, decorated with seed pearls and beading, with a chapel train. She wore a satin headpiece to match with a fingertip veil of tulle. Her flowers were orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Lorraine McCarthy of Winthrop was honor attendant for her sister and wore a green velvet dress with matching hat and shoes. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Maureen Lyons, Miss Maureen McGrath, Miss Marie Johnson and Miss Marie Nickerson, all of Medford. The bridesmaids wore red velvet dresses with red hats and shoes and carried pink carnations.

Romano Micciche of Winchester was best man for his brother and ushers were Donald Bates of North Reading, David Bozzi of Medford, Richard Stevens, brother of the bride, of Burlington, and Richard Tucker of Medford. Mrs. Muriel Stevens of Burlington, sister-in-law of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Vendome in Boston. Mrs. Stevens wore a mauve peau de soie dress with matching shoes and hat and Mrs. Micciche wore a dress of turquoise peau de soie with a matching petal hat and shoes of the same color.

Mr. and Mrs. Micciche left on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. Both are graduates of Medford High School and they plan to make their home in Brooklyn, N. Y., where Mr. Micciche is stationed with the U. S. Army.

LIFE LINES

THE LITTLE THINGS OF LIFE

Not long ago, an airliner was forced to make an emergency landing in the Rocky Mountains. The reason for the landing was this: as the plane was flying over the mountains, a high-flying bird had struck one of the propellers, damaging it so seriously that the plane, its crew, and forty passengers were endangered, and saved only because an emergency field was nearby.

In designing our modern airliners, every safety factor is incorporated. They can stand, and hardly be bothered by snow, wind, or any other force of nature. But a small bird, so tiny it could hardly be seen, could wreck the plane.

It is so in life, isn't it? It is the little things that are most dangerous. The word of God says, "It is the little foxes that despoil the vines."

How true it is of temptation. You wouldn't think of robbing a bank, but millions of citizens think nothing of trying to "get the best" of the federal government on their income taxes.

You and I wouldn't think of holding up a train and robbing it. But if the conductor forgets to pick up your ticket, do you remind him?

It isn't the big things. We can see the mountains and can chart our flight to avoid them. It is the little things; the flying bird.

An unkind word, a hasty act, carelessness; the little things; there is the point of danger.

Let us watch out for the little things in life, and it is amazing how big things take care of themselves.

BILGER — DROWN

Altar decorations of white gladioli and pompons decorated St. Jude's Catholic Church in St. Petersburg, Fla., for the recent marriage of Miss Helen Frances Drown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Drown, formerly of Winchester and now living in St. Petersburg, and Clifford Ralph Bilger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Bilger of Durham, N. C. The Rev. John P. Griffin officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white taffeta and net waltz length gown fashioned in princess style. She carried a white prayerbook with French carnations and stock centered with an orchid.

Miss Diane Drown was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a waltz length dress of pink chiffon with pink accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of deep pink carnations and sweetheart roses. Henry Bailey served as best man and Ray Drown, brother of the bride, was the usher.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Toffenetti's restaurant. Mrs. Drown wore a dress of deep rose lace with pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Bilger are honeymooning at Lake Wales. Upon their return they will live in St. Petersburgh.

Mrs. Bilger attended the Winchester schools and her husband, a native of Philadelphia, attended schools in Lansdale, Pa. He is a member of the National Letter Carriers' Association and is with the U. S. Post Office.

STRANGE CAR ON CHURCHILL ROAD

Eugene B. Rotondi of 224 Forest street called the police on Monday to report that he had seen an automobile parked near a big compressor on Churchill road. When he went to investigate, the car sped off.

The police checked on the car and found that it was registered to an automobile rental agency in Cambridge. Mr. Rotondi was to check the compressor and make a report to the police.

POSSIBLE BREAK AT WINCHESTER SALVAGE CO.

Michael Saraco came to the police station on Sunday to report that sometime since Saturday afternoon at 4:45 someone had made an attempt to enter the Winchester Salvage Company on Swanton street.

The sliding door had been pushed causing two eye hooks to break and setting the burglar alarm off. The police had received a report on Saturday that the burglar alarm was going off and when they investigated found nothing disturbed and no tracks in the new snow.

WINCHESTER WOMAN INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. Margaret DeFillippo of upper Main street was injured Wednesday in a automobile accident in Cambridge. The accident, at Fresh Pond parkway and Brattle street, involved two autos and a two-ton truck.

Mrs. DeFillippo was held at the Mt. Auburn Hospital for treatment of hip and chest injuries. A man in the accident was also hospitalized.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

New England's thousands of ponds and lakes were formed during the retreat of the continental ice sheet, when glacial debris dammed river valleys and deranged the drainage pattern, the National Geographic Magazine says. As the ice melted, the sea rose and advanced over the coastal lowlands, drowning, stream mouths to form the estuaries of present-day Maine's coast.

Dahlias, though named after Swedish Botanist Andreas Dahl, were first used as food by ancient Mexicans. The tubers contain a healthy starchy substance, inulin, according to "The World in your Garden," a new book published by the National Geographic Society.

NEW ORLEANS BUILDS CANAL TO BYPASS THE MISSISSIPPI

New Orleans, with a blast of dynamite, has begun a major addition to its birthright.

Offspring of the tawny Mississippi River and the green Gulf of Mexico, the port is a crossroads of world trade.

Now a canal is being blasted to strengthen New Orleans' position by linking it more directly with the Gulf, the National Geographic Society says.

Second U.S. Port

Located in the center of a web of commercial lifelines, New Orleans has become the second largest port in the United States in the value of goods handled.

To the north, the vast Mississippi basin fans out, encompassing most of the United States between the Appalachians and the Rockies. Water transportation is available to such widely separated trade centers as Kansas City, Omaha, Sioux City, St. Louis, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Chicago, Louisville, Cincinnati, Wheeling, and Pittsburgh.

In addition to the 15,000 miles of navigable water spreading north, New Orleans is served by the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, a protected passage for east-west water traffic between Florida and Texas.

To the south, ocean shipping lanes lead to New Orleans from all maritime nations. A stream of goods pours in: raw sugar, green coffee, cocoa beans, mahogany logs, jute, sisal, copra, rubber, hides, bananas by the millions, and a wide range of other items.

In return, the ships carry away nearly every type of product manufactured in the United States.

In 1956, the last full year for which the Department of Commerce has figures, $1,633,000,000 worth of imports and exports moved through New Orleans. Commerce reports for the first six months of 1957 indicate the value is increasing.

River Gives Trouble

To handle this flood of goods more easily, New Orleans plans to bypass the mouth of the river that made it great. Winding and silt-laden in the 110 miles between the port and the Gulf, the "Father of Waters" needs regular dredging to maintain its depth. Sand bars and shoals appear quickly. Occasionally a ship runs aground, or is delayed by fog that arises where the river and sea waters mingle.

The Mississippi River-Gulf Canal is being dug to remedy these faults. A tidewater ditch 40 feet deep, it will run in a straight line through 40 miles of muskrat swamp southeast of New Orleans, then through 30 miles of shallow Breton Sound, ending in deep water south of the Chandeleur Islands.

The new canal is expected to need much less dredging than the present channel, and will cut 40 miles off the present route. Construction cost is estimated at almost $100,000,000, but the New Orleans Tidewater Development Association believes it will save ships an average of $1,500 each visit. In 1956, almost 4,000 ships entered the port.

"SAFETY SIX" FOR WINTER WALKING

Here are the American Automobile Association's "Safety Six" rules for walking in the winter... and it's a wise pedestrian who observes them all. One mistake might be your last.

1. Cross streets only at corners, where there may be sand or it is cleared from ice or snow.
2. Don't dart into streets from behind parked cars. Slippery pavements add to a car's stopping distance.
3. Wait for the signal at an intersection. If there is no signal, wait for a gap in traffic.
4. Always look left and right before stepping from the curb. Be particularly watchful at corners for turning traffic.
5. Keep your head up. If you have an umbrella, carry it high. Keep parcels or papers out of your line of vision.
6. At night, wear or carry something white.

Winter street conditions create additional hazards for pedestrians as well as motorists, says the AAA. Pedestrians must be extra careful when they are going to stores or other places. By observing the above safety rules from Triple-A, you will lessen your chances of being hurt during this dangerous winter season.

Hawaii's Mount Waialeale is probably the world's rainiest spot, the National Geographic Magazine says. Waialeale's annual rainfall averages 489 inches. In a recent year, 624 inches poured down. Strangely, only 20 inches a year fall on Waimea, a coastal town just 15 miles away.

CANADA GEESE FIND HAVEN ON 255 FEDERAL REFUGES

Among visitors to the United States, none is more hospitably welcomed and pampered than the Canada goose.

Sounding their clarion notes on still nights, the wild geese come in V-shaped formations to pass the winter on ancestral feeding grounds. They are among the first birds to start north again in early spring to breed, the National Geographic Society says.

Though hunted by fair means and foul, the big Canada geese are more than holding their own. The population trend is upward. The Fish and Wildlife Service estimates that some 327,000 came down the Atlantic Flyway alone in 1957 as compared to 266,000 in 1954. These and Canada geese migrating along other flyways find winter haven at 255 Federal refuges totaling 9,422,935 acres.

Fresh Crops Await Visitors

To assure the welcome guests plenty of food, crops are set out in refuges along the flyways. Fields are burned well in advance so the geese will be greeted with an expanse of tender green shoots. Oats, rye, soy beans, and clover are planted in clearings.

The Canada Goose (Branta canadensis) gets around more than perhaps any other water fowl. The species is seen seasonally from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic Circle.

Adults have a wingspread of about six feet and weigh from seven to 14 pounds. Boldly marked, the brownish-grey geese have black heads, white cheeks, and long black necks or "stockings."

Like periscopes, the black necks and heads of sentinels protrude above the backs of a feeding flock. The guards remain tensely alert until relieved by others to take their turn eating.

Far from being silly, the Canada goose is famous for its wariness, wisdom and fidelity. It is an expert at playing possum, even on water. Audubon wrote that it could easily distinguish the cracking of a twig by a harmless deer from the same accident caused by man.

Canada geese mate for life and show great concern for each other. The gander doesn't deign to sit on the nest, but it keeps constant watch, and is a fierce defender of the family.

The goose usually lays five or six eggs, which hatch in 28 to 30 days. Gosling training begins at once. First order of business is a swim, with the gander leading, the goslings following, and the mother bringing up the rear guard. To one downy chick, the mother may point out a floating seed. She calls another's attention to a tasty bug.

Family Grounded in Summer

Nature grounds the geese for family duties in summer by causing their wing and tail feathers to molt. At the beginning of September, the adults have regained their flight powers and the young are strong enough to undertake an aerial voyage of 4,000 miles or so to wintering grounds.

Strong, trusted ganders lead the wedged-shaped flights, cleaving the air and choosing the safest, most direct routes. Flying in formation gives the other birds clear vision, ample wing space, and a minimum of air resistance. A flock can average about 55 miles an hour.

Though the Canada goose is man shy, it quickly learns friends from foe. A few years ago, nine big Canadas found asylum at a pond on a farm near Ansonville, North Carolina. The word apparently got around, for thousands winter now at the private refuge.

ROTARY CLUB NEEDS YOUR HELP

Saturday, April 12, is Rotary auction time again at the town hall. For the past six years, the Winchester Rotary Club has held this auction to raise money for the many worthy projects that it undertakes each year.

The hospital, Home for Aged, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Little League, Babe Ruth League, P.A.L., Winning Farm, and the FM radio station at the high school are just a few of the projects that the Rotary Club has been identified with.

Now, with the auction less than three months away, the auction committee, under the chairmanship of Larry Chase, is asking for your help. First of all, to have an auction, they need many, many items to auction. Furniture, bric-a-brac, white elephants, anything, anything at all that is usable and saleable. All you have to do is call Larry Chase at WInchester 6-4108, Al Elliott at WInchester 6-0874, Sid Elliott at WInchester 6-2965, or Nick Fitzgerald at WInchester 6-0368 and arrangements will be made to pick up whatever you have to offer at your convenience.

You, too, can play a part in turning the Rotary wheel for a successful auction and more community service by making your call soon. Won't you help? Even if it's just one small item, it all adds up to making this a successful auction.

Ask any Rotarian about the Valentine doll to be awarded February 13th.

"WEBB GLASS" TALK AT ANTIQUES GROUP

The fascinating story of the fabulous "Webb Cameo Glass' was the theme Tuesday evening by Mr. Louis Neiman of Brookline and Marblehead, before the January meeting of the Winchester Antiques Group in the Edgar Rich Room of the Library. To illustrate his talk, Mr. Neiman—who personally owns and cherishes the finest collection of Webb glass in the country—had brought about twenty-five pieces, from a huge lemon-colored vase to several miniatures, pieces of Webb in amethyst, turquoise, green, yellow—all rare and all beatuifully designed by the master craftsmen of their day.

Mr. John Thornton introduced the speaker, with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blake, chairmen. Mr. Neiman explained how Cameo glass was made, its many processes, and its factory history. Some of the finest pieces were made by artists who worked for one pound a week, spending as much as five years to make one vase, one bowl! So even in the late 1800's, cameo glass would have cost hundreds of dollars—imagine what it would bring today, at our minimum wage scale! After the meeting, members were invited to look at the cameo glass more closely, handle it, and ask questions—which they did, with much appreciation.

Army Pvt. Carter B. Tallman, is receiving 14-weeks of medical training under the Reserve Forces Act program at Brooke Army Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. Tallman completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark. The 22-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Tallman, 17 Cambridge street, is a 1953 graduate of Winchester High School and a 1957 graduate of Amherst (Mass.) College. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

PHILATHEA

The following officers and committee chairmen of the Philatheas of the First Baptist Church for the year 1958 took office at the annual meeting on Tuesday evening, January 21: president, Mrs. Leon E. Leavitt; vice president and chairman of ways and means, Mrs. Paul E. Ward; treasurer, Mrs. Robert E. Sanborn; recording secretary, Mrs. Ernest Clark; publicity secretary, Mrs. Norman E. Weeks; program chairman, Mrs. Theodore E. Gray; devotions chairman, Mrs. Otis W. Leary; social chairman, Mrs. E. Whitney Gray; membership chairman, Mrs. Harley H. Hart; missionary chairman, Miss Jennie M. Ralph; sunshine chairman, Mrs. William P. McGuire; nominating chairman, Mrs. Francis McCall; scholarship chairman, Mrs. Edwin W. Allen. The program for the evening included the interpretation of a number of Sam Walter Foss' well-loved poems by his daughter, Miss Molly Foss, and soprano selections by Vicki Kevorkian.

Philathea has a number of interesting events scheduled for the near future. The first on February 14, is a Valentine morning coffee with Gladys Starratt Romeyn presenting "Hold that Pose!" The morning coffee is an annual event sponsored by the Philathea Scholarship Committee. In previous years contributions have been made to scholarships for nearby camps and for Green Lake, Wisconsin, as well as the Winchester Scholarship Fund. This year the emphasis in the scholarship giving is planned for Grotonwood, the camp and conference site being developed by the Massachusetts Baptist Convention.

The second event in Philathea plans is a Smorgasbord on March 13, with Mrs. Paul Ward in charge. Philathea meals are meals to be remembered and this will be no exception.

On April 8, Mr. George F. Weston, Jr., famous lecturer and author of one of the current best-sellers "Boston Ways, High, By and Folk" will speak on "Boston Common and Boston Preferred." There will be no charge for this evening's entertainment and the townspeople are cordially invited.

On January 7, 1945, U.S. battleships, cruisers and destroyers, aided by aircraft from escort carriers, opened the bombardment of Lingayen, Philippine Islands, opening the way for amphibious troops to sweep down the plain of Bataan to Manila.

ANNUAL LADIES' NIGHT OF MEN'S CLUB

Two hundred and thirty-five members and their wives were present at the annual Ladies' Night of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church on Wednesday, evening, January 15.

After dinner which was served in Chidley Hall, the Club was entertained by the Winchester High School Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Wendell S. Withington. The girls presented a varied and pleasing program in a most finished manner.

Mr. James L. Jenks, Jr., then spoke to the Club and told about several hair-raising experiences when he accompanied Dr. Paul Dudley White on an expedition to take the first electrocardiogram ever taken on a whale. The whole purpose of the experiment was to validate Dr. White's theory that the rate of heartbeat in mammals is inversely related to their size. These expeditions have proved Dr. White's theory. It was found that the heartbeat of a whale is about 18 beats per minute compared with 70 for the humans, 30 for elephants and about 5,000 for hummingbirds. Four such expeditions have already been made since 1952 and plans are now being made to make another during the winter of 1958-59. Mr. Jenks showed colored slides of their trips and told about their adventures in a very entertaining and humorous manner.

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR YOUNG COUPLES

The year of 1958 will probably be as rushed as was the year 1957. Nevertheless, a little time taken out of our busy lives to take stock of our individual family relations is time well spent.

Middlesex County Extension Service is presenting a program for young couples who are married or about to be married, called "Development in Marriage." Joseph D. Burroughs, professor and extension specialist in human relations at the University of Massachusetts will present this three-meeting series.

This program will be held in Arlington from 7:30 - 9:30 p. m.

February 6—"The husband and wife as individuals."

February 13—"The husband and wife as partners"

February 20—"The husband and wife as parents"

For more information you are invited to contact the Middlesex County Extension Service, 19 Everett Street, Concord, Massachusetts.

CURTAIN & CUE, WHSR OPEN HOUSE

Parents — something new! The Winchester High School combined Curtain & Cue and WHSR are putting on an open house to acquaint interested persons with the running and accomplishments of these two groups.

On Wednesday, January 29, at 7:30 p.m., in the high school auditorium there will be a panel discussion followed by a question and answer period. The panel consists of Mr. Niblock, Mr. Morse, Mr. McLaughlin, Miss Trickett, Blanche Cartier, Sally Kimball, Philip Dryer and George Neville.

This discussion will be followed by entertainment with two cuttings from "Our Town," a demonstration of producing a radio drama, a solo interpretation by Lynda Baker, and a public speaker, Gregg Wood. Blanche Cartier, Mike McDonald, Carolyn Hutchings, Robin Carlson, and Barbara Corey are in the play cuttings while the radio drama, under the direction of Cindy Dunn, has a cast of Blanche Cartier, Carolyn Hutchings, Linda Fessenden, Sue Simpson, Gregg Wood, Gary Gamage, Bob Needham, and Donny Seaver.

After the entertainment there will be a guided tour of the stage and radio facilities, ending with a social hour in the cafeteria.

Several committees have been kept very busy, hoping to make this new event a big success. Sue Simpson has been heading the program committee, Cindy Dunn is the publicity chairman, Gardie Gray has sent out invitations, while Donny Seaver and Sue Black are co-chairmen of the social committee, and George Yore and Jim McDonald are in charge of the ushers and guides. Blanche Cartier, the president of Curtain & Cue, is the overall chairman.

We are hoping to have a large turnout on Wednesday, the 29th. Invitations are not necessary.

HOUSE TO BE GIVEN TO HOME SHOW VISITOR

A $16,500 three-bedroom, air-conditioned Hodgson house will be presented to a lucky visitor at the 1958 New England Home Show in Mechanics Building, Boston, during its six-day engagement, February 14 - 19, from 1:00 to 11:00 p. m. daily.

This attractive home, specially designed by Carl B. Priestly, Boston architect, will be exhibited at the 1958 Home Show completely furnished by Mayflower Furniture Co. of Newton.

Following the show, it will be reconstructed at Colonial Village development in Acton, Mass., for the winner. It will be ready for occupancy for the winner on June 1.

The house will include a carport and porch. With 1144 square feet of floor space, it includes three bedrooms, a family room, kitchen and living room with fireplace.

Other features in the house are Globe lighting fixtures, Lennox, air-conditioning, American Standard plumbing, tiled kitchen and bathroom, Youngstown kitchen cabinets, built-in Tappan range and oven, Rex Venetian shades, Walpole fencing, Malta windows, Reynolds aluminum downspouts and wall insulation, Owens, Corning Fibreglass insulation, Arcadia sliding doors, and Schlage locks.

Last year, a three bedroom $16,000 Hodgson ranch house was given away to the Home Show visitor who could guess its correct weight. Weighing approximately 32,000 pounds, the house was won by a 61-year-old housewife, Mrs. Charlotte Maguire of South Acton, Mass. Her guess topped more than 80,000 entries submitted during the 1957 Home Show. The house was constructed at Kenart road in Medway, Mass., where Mr. and Mrs. Maguire were thrilled with their luck for visiting the show.

The Home Show is sponsored by Home Builders Assn., which includes leading contractors, appliance and equipment dealers, architects, and home materials suppliers. It is estimated that more that 100,000 visitors will throng the show to view the latest 1958 home ideas, materials, equipment and appliances.

FELLSLAND DINNER

"MR. SCOUT" HIMSELF TO SPEAK. HONORS TO GOWING

Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its annual dinner Monday evening, January 27, in the Stoneham Senior High School. Approximately 300 Scouters and their wives, from Woburn, Burlington, Winchester, Medford and Stoneham are expected to participate in this recognition and fellowship evening.

Guess speaker will be E. Urner Goodman of Bondville, Vermont and Wyncote, Pennsylvania, who prior to his retirement in 1951, was the first National Program Director for the Boy Scouts of America, serving in that capacity for twenty years. Earlier in his professional Scouting career he had served as Scout Executive in Chicago and also as a member of the Executive Staff in Philadelphia. While Dr. Goodman served on the National Staff, the Cub Scout and Exploring program was accepted as part of the Boy Scouts of America. Dr. Goodman was also the founder of the Order of the Arrow, the National Honor Camping society. Following retirement from the Scout organization, he became the first General Director of the United Church Men of America, under the auspices of the National Council of Churches. He is now Director Emeritus of that Laymen's Movement.

Dr. Goodman was one of the founders of the National Education Recreation Council and its last chairman before it affiliated with the National Social Welfare Assembly. He helped to organize that Assembly. He was one of the incorporators of the Eastern Conservatory of Music and Arts and became chairman of its Board of Trustees. Dr. Goodman was awarded the Silver Buffalo for distinguished service to boyhood, nationally and holds Scout decorations from Norway and the Netherlands.

Recognition will be given publicly to retiring President A. Benjamin Gowing for his service to the Council for the past five years and to the new President, Col. Richard M. Osgood. Veterans awards, Scouters Training Awards, and the Woodbadge neckerchief and beads will be presented. Highlight of the evening will be the Silver Beaver ceremony in which one Scouter from the Council will be hono.ed for his outstanding service to boyhood.

IN PERSPECTIVE—THE COLD WAR EXACTS A STERN TOLL

(Ed. Note: The following tribute of "Dave" Hutchins, former Winchester boy and high school football star was written by another and older former Winchester boy and football star, "Bob" Graham. It appeared in the Providence Journal and attracted both wide attention and enthusiastic praise, especially from Navy personnel and officers. Mr. Graham, a former staff writer for the Boston Herald, gave up that job to accept a government public relations assignment overseas. He is now with the Providence Journal.)

A young friend of mine, an attack bomber pilot in the Navy is missing in action.

He was on a simulated strike from the Carrier Randolph as part of NATO maneuvers in the Mediterranean when he was last heard from late in October.

He radioed he was heading into a thunderhead at a point later estimated to have been precisely at the head of the Adriatic, midway between the toe of Italy and the Albanian Coast. He didn't have to, but he chose to try to go through the storm because that is the tradition of his group.

The plane he was flying is called the "weight lifter" of the Navy, and it can carry a nuclear bomb enough miles to reach deep into the vitals of the only nation that threatens this country.

That's why the Navy teaches its fliers to ignore obstacles and to keep flying toward the assigned target. The determination of pilots like David to deliver that bomb is today, despite all talk about missiles, the main deterrent to a Soviet adventure, should the Kremlin be tempted to military aggression.

David was, then, following the pattern he had been taught was vital to the safety of the United States when he steered his plane into the maelstrom of a thunderhead.

It was only a practice run, but to David it was important, as it was important to the Navy, to demonstrate he was willing daily to dare all to carry out his duty to the country he loved.

Overstated? Not at all, and that's why I'm trying to tell the story of David. It is hard for me to do so, for I'm keenly sensitive to the anguish felt by David's mother and the rest of his family who are wracked by uncertainty over what may have happened to him and who are pitting their hopes that somehow he may have survived against the logic of circumstances and time.

And because I'm so close to the family, sharing in some measure their shock, disbelief, pain and sorrow, words seem weak vehicles for what I want to convey. I've decided to go ahead, however, because to me, David is as important to all America as he is to his family and his friends.

I watched this boy grow up, perhaps even helped him to grow up in some ways, since he was a neighbor and almost young enough to have been a son. He wasn't following my inspiration, but rather that of his older brother, when he made the high school football team. But we did enjoy the kinship that only two right guards can know, even though separated by half a generation.

Again, he followed the example of his brother when he made the football team at Bowdoin, but he did it so cleanly that he there became a personality in his own right. And anyone who came to know him after that time became somehow better for it, because David had developed into one of those persons who restores one's faith in humankind.

He could track his way through the Alagash country in Maine for three weeks with uncanny skill, take a boat through the Maine surf with misleading assurance or fell a bounding hare with almost casual ease. Yet his modesty, thoughtfulness and, indeed, gentleness were as notable as his industry and integrity.

Summers and during school vacations, he worked at a fish market to help earn his way through college. When he needed a car, he bought a wreck and fixed it up. Nothing came to him on a silver platter except the natural gifts of intelligence, coordination and the unerring instinct of a gentleman.

It was entirely consistent, therefore, that when college was done and he was faced with military service, he picked the one which offered the greatest challenge and satisfied his need for doing the worthwhile.

For him, the choice was the Navy Air Force. It seems no more than a few weeks ago that he finished flight training and came home with his wings. But he did not bask in the local glory that always attends a young man who has won his spurs in a glamorous and exacting job. Rather, he tossed aside his uniform, not out of any disrespect, but only to get into his field togs and hungrily roam the uplands and sail the offshore waters. As I said, he loved this country, particularly New England, where the sea meets the land, and could never get enough of it.

He really wasn't too articulate about the ideas that America represented to him; he just lived his concepts—by being free yet responsible, by taking pride in himself and his work yet always being tolerant and thoughtful of others.

And it seems like only yesterday when he stopped off here to say "so long" for his final voyage before his tour of duty was to have been up. The flight from which he has not returned was only a month short of his turn to rotate home. Also, in a matter of years, at the most, missiles will have largely taken over the defense responsibility which he and the others like him have accepted.

Christmas is coming up but it won't be much of a holiday for David's family. They probably still won't even know whether he was lost at sea or whether he survived a forced landing in Albania and is now an unreported prisoner in a Communist jail.

David's family is not alone, of course. The Cold War, while not a fraction as destructive as a shooting war would be, takes a steady toll, largely unnoticed by the country as a whole. Indeed, David and his contemporaries in the Navy, Army and Air Force daily risk—and some lose—their lives that their countrymen may never know the cataclysmic horror of a nuclear war.

I can't articulate it, yet somehow there's a lesson for America, now beset by Soviet satellite missiles and self doubts, in the quiet courage and sacrifice of David.

For, if Americans as a nation would work as hard, be as dedicated and would walk in as humble dignity as he, the nation would no longer have anything to fear—as David feared nothing. Rather, it would regain its capacity for giving things of value to this world, as David has to all who've known him—and to his country.

MR. RAE D. ANDERSON

TO ADDRESS ACCOUNTANTS

Mr. Rae D. Anderson of Ox pasture will be the guest speaker at the Albany Chapter of the National Association of Accountants at a dinner meeting at Shaker Ridge Country Club, Latham, New York, on January 21.

Mr. Anderson is vice president and dean of Facutly at Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston.

PI LAMBDA THETA MEETING

Three Winchester educators will participate in the annual conference for beginning teachers in the elementary school to be held on Saturday morning, February 1, at the Boston University College of Business Administration.

The conference is sponsored as a service project by the Boston University School of Education's chapter of Phi Lambda Theta, national honor society for women in education. It is designed to provide practical and specific suggestions for elementary school teachers in areas related to method, techniques, motivation, control and individual differences.

Miss Mary McAuley will serve as a panelist for the kindergarten panel, Miss Edna Smith will be on the first-grade panel and Mrs. Mary Buckley will serve on the second-grade panel.

There will be separate panels and sectional meetings for each grade level from kindergarten through grade VI. In addition to these panels, two other sectional meetings will be offered this year, one for teachers of remedial reading, the other for teachers of exceptional children. The latter panel will discuss problems related to the teaching of children handicapped by speech, hearing, sight, or mental retardation. A display of seatwork, units, worksheets, etc., will be available for browsing.

WITH CHURCH GROUP IN PUERTO RICO

Local church leaders have been getting a first hand look at their church's attempts to deal with economic and social problems in Puerto Rico.

A group of eighteen Congregational Christian ministers and laymen, including Mr. and Mrs. James S. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Lowry, all of Winchester, have been visiting the island.

The Congregational Christian Churches' Board of Home Missions has been working in Puerto Rico since 1900. During their visit the tour group headquartered at Ryder Hospital near San Juan, a modern medical center maintained by the Board. They visited churches, schools, factories and community centers throughout Puerto Rico.

In order to gain as much insight and information as possible about the economic, political and social conditions of the island, the visitors interviewed educationa', governmental, industrial and Protestant church leaders. Their schedule included a visit with Governor Luis Munoz Marin.

The annual tour was conducted under the leadership of the Rev. Galen R. Weaver, New York City, Specialist in Religion and Race for the Racial Relations Department of the Board of Home Missions.

The tour was scheduled to return to the United States last Thursday, January 16.

Writes on Poet's Education

Ben R. Schneider, Jr. Publishes Book On William Wordsworth

The Star has recently received a book by Ben Ross Schneider, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schneider of 21 Winthrop street. The book is entitled "Wordsworth's Cambridge Education" (New York: Cambridge University Press) and has just been published.

An attractive book, written as Mr. Schneider's Doctor of Philosophy dissertation at Columbia University, it examines the college years of the poet as well as certain central features of the eighteenth century's intellectual and social life.

William Wordsworth came to St. John's College at Cambridge University in 1787 and began his academic career with the advantages of genius and an excellent background at his school in Hawkshead. However, soon the poet rejected the courses of studies which led to academic honors, a principal part of the ancient college. This decision, Mr. Schneider believes, was of the utmost significance, for by turning from this he turned also from the things Cambridge represented at the time, a complete rejection of a whole system of beliefs and attitudes about the world, man, society and art.

Mr. Schneider examines both the Cambridge curriculum and philosophy and shows how the books Wordsworth probably read would have affected him. His descriptions of university life at Cambridge and the world which the budding poet found himself surrounded by are thought provoking. Throughout the book the author makes frequent reference to Wordsworth's long poem, "The Prelude."

Mr. Schneider received his A.B. degree from Williams College after graduating from Winchester High School, where he was encouraged by the late Robert M. Keeney to enter the teaching field. He received his master's and Ph.D. dedegrees from Columbia University. Throughout his later educational work he specialized in eighteenth-century English literature.

During the war Mr. Schneider served with the Army in the Pacific. He was married in 1949 and he and his wife traveled to England where he did research at Cambridge University for his book. He and his wife now have three children.

Mr. Schneider has taught at the University of Colorado at Boulder, the Universtiy of Oregon and is now instructor in English literature at Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis.

The book was published in England because Mr. Schneider's professor at Columbia was a Cambridge University professor and he was so impressed that he asked permission to submit it to the University Press with the request that it be published. The Press liked the book and it came out late in December.

Mr. Schneider hoped to have copies of the book by Christmas, but the book, which was printed in the Netherlands, was shipped to the U. S. on the "Queen Mary" and the landing was so rough that only passengers were unloaded and the book traveled back across the Atlantic again. After its long trip from the Netherlands to England to the U. S. to England and back here, it has received a hearty welcome from scholars of the field.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE SCHOOL

GIFT TO SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

The Children's Theatre School, producing "Cinderella" last Friday and Saturday, receives funds solely from the tuition of the children; and from those funds some scenic equipment has been given to the high school; Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff always consulting with the high school's drama head, Tom Morse, as to his needs and coordinating them with the scenic contribution of the Winchester Community Theatre.

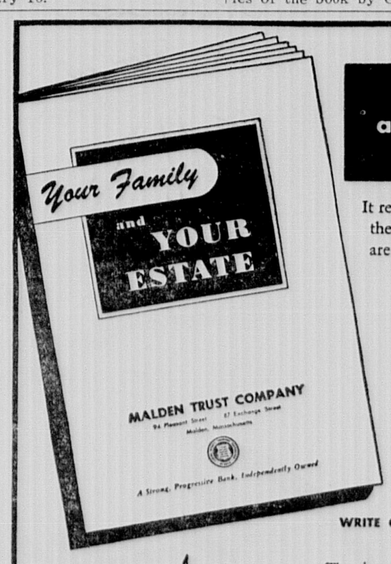
Last week, the Children's Theatre School, made its first contribution to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, of $150. It is a small step, but one it hopes to take annually along with a similar one from the Winchester Community Theatre, with the goal of having a Drama Major Scholarship established in the Scholarship Foundation for a talented high school student.

Although all ticket money received from the Children's Theatre productions goes to the Winchester Community Theatre account, the rental of the Washington School for rehearsal, costumes costs and staff recompense has come out of the tuitions—plus the scenic contributions made for use at the high school.

The project has been helped and proven by the generous help and cooperation of staff and mothers of the children and by the promotion of the Community Theatre Board and Staff and by Production costs shared by the Community Theatre.

The check has been sent to Mr. Grindle, and signed by some of those actively helping on the last three major productions.

Carlene Samoiloff, Director; Dorothy Smith, Roland Carter, treasurers; Jacqueline Barnes, secretary; Doris Stone, Justine King, Janette Dalrymple, Catherine Cazale, Maureen Dee, Irene Emigh, David Guarante, Jane Renz, Mary Witham, Barbara Paulson, Eunice Chase, James Newton and Ruth Leydon.



What services does a TRUST INSTITUTION render?

It renders, all told, many different services, but the principal ones in which you are interested are: As executor or administrator, settling the estates of deceased persons; as guardian, taking care of the property of children and of mentally incompetent persons; as trustee, taking care of and managing the property of other people; and as agent, performing a wide variety of services, such as safekeeping securities, collecting income and analyzing investments. These are services to individuals.

SAMUEL M. GRAVES

ELECTED TO STATE WIDE EDUCATIONAL OFFICE

Samuel M. Graves of Wellesley, former Winchester High School principal during the war years, has been elected as president of the Massachusetts Secondary Principal's Association. He was elected at the annual convention of the association on Saturday.

Mr. Graves was born in New Haven, Conn., and attended Bates College. After a short period with the New York Life Insurance Company, he took a teaching position at the Amesbury High School and came to Winchester as a history teacher in 1928.

In March, 1942 he was appointed principal of the High School for the duration of the War and served in that capacity until April, 1946 when he resigned to become principal at Attleboro.

While at Winchester Mr. Graves was faculty manager of athletics for several years and for 13 years he was in charge of the yearbook. He also served as president of the Teachers' Club of Winchester.

In 1948, Mr. Graves was named principal of the Wellesley High School.

USED FOREIGN CARS

The Registrar has been notified by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators that used cars of foreign manufacture are being shipped to wholesale dealers in New York City and then sold to retail dealers there and in other parts of the country. Some of these may have been shipped to Massachusetts.

Used cars shipped from abroad were manufactured for use in foreign countries and their original equipment may not be in compliance with the requirements of the various states in this country. This is particularly true in regard to lights, directional signals, and glass.

The purchaser of such a used car, manufactured for use in a foreign country, may find himself faced with replacement requirements which could prove to be of prohibitive cost on a used vehicle.

Each purchaser of a used foreign car is warned to make sufficient inquiry to assure him that the equipment on such vehicle is in compliance with the requirements of this state, or secure a guarantee from the seller in this connection.

MIDDLESEX EAST DISTRICT MEDICAL SOCIETY

A combined meeting of the Middlesex East District Medical Society and the Women's Auxiliary was held at the Colonial Country Club, Lynnfield, on January 15, at 6:30 p.m.

Following a most enjoyable social hour and delicious steak dinner the president of the Medical Society, Dr. Richard J. Clark, introduced our president, Mrs. Edward G. Thorpe, who brought greetings and thanked the members of the society for having us as their guests.

A report was given on the science fairs, which are progressing very favorably under the efficient chairmanship of Mrs. Dominic Runci. All other business of the auxiliary was postponed until the March meeting.

During the business meeting of the Medical Society the chairman of the committee to consider the "Forand Bill" gave a report and requested each member of the auxiliary to write to her senators and representative from the district.

The entertainment of the evening was a most interesting talk given by Dr. Rocco D'Angelo.

HIGH SCHOOL SPECTRO-CHEMICAL ANALYSIS COURSE

Mrs. Lenna M. Travis, head of the Winchester High School Science Department, announced that following mid-year examinations a course in Spectro-Chemical analysis will be open to all interested high school chemistry students. This course will deal with chemical analysis as it is carried out by means of the Spectrograph in scientific laboratories. The spectrograph is an instrument which enables the chemist to analyze material by recording the spectrum of the given material on a photographic plate.

The course will cover the origin of the spectrum, preparation of samples for analysis, qualitative and quantitative analysis and the identifying of unknown substances. It will also include the types of spectrographs, interpretation of the photographic plates and the contributions of the spectrograph to the chemical industry.

The class will be held on Tuesday afternoons and will be conducted by Mr. John L. Finneran, a member of the High School Science Department, who has had vast experience in this area in the field of industry.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ELECTS OFFICERS

The Senior High Christian Endeavor of the Second Congregational Church of Winchester has elected new officers for 1958. They include: president, Robert Brine; secretary, Linda Baker; treasurer, Richard Crockford.

Plans for the year include an ice-skating party, a roller-skating party, a bowling party. They will enjoy shuffleboard games, having purchased a set, the court having been painted on a floor of the church basement. They will put on the annual Easter Sunday morning breakfast for the members and friends of the church. They will put on a supper for the Sagamore Union Christian Endeavor Societies in April.

All those of high school age and above are welcome at the meetings, which are held the first and third Sundays of the month at 7:00 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kent are adult advisors.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The next important date on the calendar of the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour, will be Tuesday, January 28. A hot luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. to guild members and their invited guests. Mrs. Lester Killian is general chairman assisted by Mrs. Eric W. Johnson and Mrs. Maurice Connor. Capable members of the snack bar committee will aid the chairman in presenting the luncheon.

Following the repast, a short business meeting will be held. Mrs. Peter A. Murphy will preside.

At two o'clock the audience will be entertained by Mr. Ross, distinguished Winchester hair stylist. Mr. Ross will describe and demonstrate the very latest and distinctive methods used in chic spring hair arrangements. Mrs. Chester Powers, past president, is chairman of this interesting part of the program and she has secured the following members who will act as models in the portrayal of modern hair designing; Mrs. Albert T. McDougall, Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. M. G. Moffett.

Encircle this date, January 28, on your engagement calendar and plan to attend this exciting mid-winter program beginning at 12:30 o'clock. It will be wonderful for the "doldrums" and you may come away inspired for a novel coiffure; perhaps French Twist, Chignon or Classic.

COUPLES' CLUB

The Couples' Club of the Second Congregational Church went in a group on Thursday, January 16, to see the play "Auntie Mame" at the Schubert Theatre in Boston. There were 22 in the group. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson had charge of the arrangements. On returning to Winchester, the group gathered at the Simpsons' home on Laurel Hill Lane for coffee and dessert.

Plans were made for succeeding monthly meetings, which fall on the third Wednesday of the month. These plans included a bowling party on February 26, with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald H. Richburg in charge; refreshments at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. McClintock following the March 26 Lenten service, which will be attended by the group in a body; an auction at the church on April 16, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson; and in May at a date to be selected a dinner and dance at the Koko Boodakian and Sons Rug Galleries, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Levon Boodakian.

The officers of the Couples' Club are Mr. and Mrs. William F. McClintock, co-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. D. Craig Wark, co-secretary-treasurer. All couples are welcome at these group meetings.

REPORT OF DEPRESSIONS ON WILDWOOD STREET

Police Officer Parsons reported several depressions on Wildwood street last Friday afternoon. The depressions were apparently the result of some construction work done there by the Giagrande Construction Corp.

The Water Department was notified and lanterns were placed near the bad spots and the construction company was notified.

ELECTED TO AUDITORS CHAPTER

Mr. Ralph H. Pingree of 50 Allen road, has been elected to membership in the New England Chapter, Institute of Internal Auditors.

Mr. Pingree is employed by the Boston Insurance Company as General Auditor and is supervisor of the Internal Audit Department. He is a member of the National Office Management Association, and also the Internal Audits and Controls Group (Insurance Auditors).

FAMILY BREAKFAST AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Again the men of First Baptist's Brotherhood Bible Class will prove their culinary talents next Sunday morning. They will serve Breakfast at nine fifteen o'clock in the Social Hall and look forward to the usual large family gathering of members and friends of the Church who know the reputation of the men.

Youth Sunday, ushering in Youth Week, will be observed at First Baptist Church. Immediately following the Family Breakfast, parents of children in the Nursery, Kindergarten, Primary and Junior Departments of the Church School will join in a Parent-Teacher get together; visiting the classrooms of their children.

Members of the Senior High Fellowship will conduct the Sanctuary Service at eleven o'clock, Irene Mullen and Robin Carlson bringing the Messages. The newly formed Youth Choir will join the Senior and Junior Choirs bringing special music, under the direction of Mr. Cameron Rylance, organist and choir director.

At five o'clock members and friends of all ages will convene at the Church for the third session of our Second Annual Lay Development Program, the purpose of which is to train men, women and youth for effective Christian service. Eight different Conference Groups will be in session, assuring an interesting topic for everyone throughout the course. A buffet supper will be served at six o'clock, between periods.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE

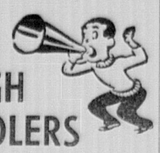
On January 26 the First Baptist Church School will have an open house for the parents of all elementary-grade and pre-school pupils.

After the family breakfast at 9:15 a.m., the parents will visit the nursery, kindergarten, primary and junior departments. Mrs. Charles Huckins, superintendent of the nursery department, Mrs. Charles Carr, superintendent of the kindergarten department, Miss Doris Emery, superintendent of the primary department, and Miss Persis Richardson, superintendent of the junior department, will explain the curriculum and objectives for the year.

The parents will then have the opportunity to visit their children's classes in session.

Marine Corps Brigadier General Henry L. Larsen became the first military governor of American Samoa on January 15, 1942.

HI, HIGH SCHOOLERS



by Gail Hendricks

Hi, everybody! Back again.

Things were really hoppin' toward the end of our Christmas breather. Carl Gustin, Noel Gove, Gloria Craft, and Jerry Mulford were hosts for groups welcoming the new year.

I'm afraid that I slipped up in my last article, forgetting to mention two parties. Sarah Fish had a slumber party during vacation. Holly Petri had a party just before vacation on the night after the first show of "Good News." What fabulous records!

Snow, snow, snow! Just mention these three little words to any member of the Octette, whoops, Octette plus, and I'll bet you'll hear a chuckle The Octette with its director, Mr. Withington, went out for dinner, which is an annual treat, on one of our most snowy nights. The snow really added to a terrific time. The singing was enjoyed by all. I've been trying to think of a good way to thank the Octette for the beautiful pin they gave me as a going-away present, but I can't say exactly how grateful I am, so, I'll just say sincerely, "Thanks." You'll be seeing a lot more of the Octette now that Christmas and "Good News" are over. Good luck to you, Octette, and sing your little ol' hearts out.

The first formal is a big occasion for a freshman. The frosh had their gala event a few Saturdays ago. I think, though, getting ready for it was hectic; they probably are sorry it's over, especially now that the boys' uncomfortable collars are off their stiff necks, and the girls' tight shoes are off their weary feet. Betsy Root and Janet Cussen made the night extra special for the freshmen. Betsy had, what was from all reports, a scrumptious dinner. After the formal, many of the freshmen enjoyed an open house at Janet Cussen's. How were those Andover boys, girls?

The senior-junior class play is well under way. Miss Trickett is doing, as usual, a fine job directing the play. The committee of seniors and juniors, who picked the play, decided after a few debates that the production this year would be "Arsenic and Old Lace." With the cast, Miss Trickett, and stage crew combination, the show's bound to be a success. Don't miss it!

I'm writing my article this week from our new home in Newburgh, N. Y. Pretty soon I'll be a new student like several of you. I realize that I have not written about many of you, but believe me when I say "Good luck in your new school." I keep thinking of what Mr. Niblock said, and I hope you do, too—You'll get out of high school exactly what you put into it!

My family and I want to thank all of you who made our send-off so warm. We all are very appreciative for what you've done for us.

Well, I guess that's all for this week. See you soon. Keep smilin,!

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowledge of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all newcomers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at WInchester 6-3431 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

LIFE LINES

SATELLITES DON'T JUST HAPPEN

There is a new word in our vocabulary: "Sputnik." We man not be sure what it means, but one thing we do know: It means trouble.

There are plenty of experts in this field, who can tell us what we should do to meet the menace of "sputnik." I am not one of them.

But I am impressed with an aspect of this matter, which it seems to me, has definite implications for religious faith. It is this: satellites don't just happen.

Some of the most brilliant minds of science have been working for years to perfect techniques by which a satellite may be launched. The factors involved are so complicated that the ordinary person cannot even grasp the complexity of it all.

To throw a tiny metal globe into space in such a way that it will maintain an orbit around the earth, for a few weeks, is a major scientific achievement.

Whenever I read of satellites, and space travel, I go out and look up at some of the satellites already in space: the sun, the moon, and the stars. I read all that the astronomers have to say about the incredible size of our universe. Then I ask myself, "Does all this just happen?"

If one little satellite cannot be launched into space without the best brain power of our nation, is it likely that the satellites already there are any less dependent upon a guiding hand? To me there can be but one answer, the answer the Bible gives: The Hand of God.

The surface of the moon is cold, bleak and airless just as it is in a test chamber at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory at Silver Spring, Md., where scientists can duplicate the effects of climatic and atmospheric conditions on weapons.

SENIOR FORUM EVENTS

The Senior Forum will attend the 11:00 o'clock service at the First Congregational Church on Sunday. Douglas Gowdy will be chaplain, assisting the ministers in the service. The Forum choir will sing. Dr. Cart's sermon will be "Getting on Top of Our Emotions." Deacons will be Edward Peabody, Tim Reynolds, Tom Hinton, John Smith, Bob Thompson and Dave Schumacher. Serving as ushers will be Guild Nichols, Peter Clifford, Steve Cochran, Clifford Sundberg, Phil Pollard and Larry Longworth.

The January supper meeting will be held in Chidley Hall at 6:00 o'clock when the guest speaker will be Rev. Charles E. Batten, professor of Christian Education at the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, and director of Christion Education at the Church of the Epiphany. Mr. Batten is popular with young people, having worked with youth throughout his ministry. He was formerly dean and professor of Christian Education at Crozer Theological Seminary in Pennsylvania and has been active in social service and community projects. His visits to Forum have been pleasant and profitable occasions for the young people and they look forward to his discussing the topic "To Be Rather Than To Go."

Arrangements are being made for entertaining a large number of students from other countries in the annual International Week end planned for February 8 - 9. A trip to the Winchester-Salem hockey game, a dinner and evening of square-dancing at the church, a tour of Winchester High School as well as visiting in the homes of Forum hosts and hostesses are on the schedule for the week end. Special committees have been set up for the event under the general chairmanship of Elizabeth Fisher and Peter Gowing.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME BOWLING LEAGUE

Standing as of January 17, (second half).

Team	Won	Lost
Killers	8	4
Marauders	7	5
Briers	7	5
Jolters	5	7
Cannons	5	7
Robbers	4	8

The big men for the night were as follows: Killer Kimball 102 and 126 tying Bob Plunkett for the High Single of the second half, Eddie Sanford although a little late managed to roll over 109 pins, Bob Merenda 108, Frankie Sylvester started to find himself again with a 115, and Slammin Dave DeCourcey hit the 111, Duffy 102, Al LaPointe 103, Eric Johnson 110 in his team's losing cause, Bill McGaragle, a new comer in this half 121, John Rotondi 101, Connors 101 and 109, and Mistretta 106. No averages are to be printed this week as it is a secret 'til Thursday night when the Handicap System starts again.

Some of you fellows who have not dropped down on a Thursday night to Strike-Lane should, because there are some good matches and in some instances the match is not decided until the last box of the last string. The teams are pretty even now and this half should be much closer than the first half.

JV BASKETBALL TEAM WINS TWO

The Winchester J.V.'s played two games this week and won both of them by a pretty fair margin. On Friday, January 17, the team met Belmont's J.V.'s at the High School Gym and on Tuesday, January 21, the team met Wakefield on the same court. The scores of the games were: Winchester 47, Belmont 35; Winchester 56, Wakefield 33.

Closing 47 Years in Ministry

Fourteen Years At First Baptist Church

FACTS AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS
IN THE LIFE OF REV. WALTER LEE BAILEY

On Sunday, October 5, 1958, the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey will conclude his 14 years as minister of the First Baptist Church. Rev. Bailey came to Winchester the first Sunday of October, 1944, and next October he will have completed 47 years in the ministry.

Born in Eugene, Oregon, July 3, 1893, educated in the schools of that city, Walter Lee Bailey decided to make the ministry his life work. After three and one-half years at the University of Oregon, he went to Linfield College, McMinnville, Oregon, in order to be near a student pastorate in Carlton. He was licensed to preach at the age of 18, was student pastor of the Baptist Church at Springfield, Oregon.

After serving pastorates in Springfield, Oregon, the Twenty-First Avenue Baptist Church in San Francisco and the First Baptist Church in Carlton, Oregon, he came east in 1923 and completed his theological studies at Rochester Theological Seminary, now Colgate Rochester. He served at York and East Bloomfield, New York, before going to Park Memorial Baptist Church in Springfield, Mass., in 1929, where he remained until called to First Baptist Church, North Adams, Mass., in 1936. In 1938 he accepted a call to Tabernacle Baptist Church, Utica, New York, one of the largest and strongest churches of the Baptist denomination.

In 1944 he accepted a call to First Baptist Church, Winchester. Through his untiring efforts he has seen the Church debt of $73,000 entirely wiped out, a Parsonage acquired, the Church Staff increased to include a full time Sexton, Secretary and Director of Christian Education, the musical program of the Church greatly improved and the Church School more than doubled. Over 400 members were added to the Church.

REV. WALTER LEE BAILEY

In 1918 he married Winona Ruth Platt of Springfield, Oregon. They have two children a son, Rev. Wendell L. Bailey of Atwater, Calif., and Mrs. Robert Winship of Baldwinsville, N. Y., and four grandchildren. Throughout the years Mrs. Bailey has been a constant inspiration and helpmate to Rev. Bailey. She has always been deeply interested and active in the Philathea and Women's League organizations of the Church, as well as a loyal worker in the Thrift Shop. She is a talented musician, having studied piano at the Music School, University of Oregon.

Throughout the years Rev. Bailey has been active in civic, community and denominational affairs. While in New York State he was a member of the Finance Committee of the State Convention; Chairman of the Program Committee for the State Convention Annual Meeting. In Massachusetts he has served the State Convention as Chairman Appropriations Committee, Chairman Committee on Missionary Cooperation, Chairman Pastoral Settlement Committee and Program Committee of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention, a member of the Board of Directors of the Mass. Baptist State Convention, a member of the Pastoral Relations Committee and Chairman Committee on Revision of Constitution of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention.

During his fourteen years in Winchester he has held five chaplaincies, those of Rotary Club, Mystic Valley Lodge, William Parkman Lodge, Boy Scouts, Protestant Chaplain for the Winchester Fire Department as well as Protestant Chaplain for our Winchester Homefronters Committee.

His Masonic interests and connections include Chaplain of Mystic Valley Lodge, Chaplain William Parkman Lodge, both of Winchester, and a member of the Lecture Bureau of the Grand Lodge (A.F. & A.M. of Mass.), speaking at Anniversaries, Past Master Banquets, Lodges of Instruction and other Masonic occasions.

Rev. Bailey's work with young people has included the Chaplaincy of the Winchester Boy Scouts for many years, as well as working with the boys individually.

A dynamic preacher, possessing unusual charm and appeal, Rev. Bailey has won a place in the hearts and esteem, not only of his own First Baptist Church family, but also in the hearts of the people of the communities in which he has served during his forty-seven years in the Baptist Ministry, the last fourteen of which he has served in Winchester.

Rev. and Mrs. Bailey will retire to their residence in New Hampshire as the pastor concludes his responsibilities here in Winchester about next October.

EVENING CLASSES BEGIN FEBRUARY 3

The evening classes of the Adult Education program will begin next Monday, February 3, at 7:30 p.m. The Junior High School will be open for the Furniture Refinishing course and Sewing II. The remaining classes are to be held in the Senior High School.

Because of the unpleasant weather last Monday evening there may still be people who were unable to come to the registration. Openings are still available in most of the courses. Those interested should contact Mrs. Howard Aiken at WInchester 6-0007 or call the superintendent's office, WInchester 6-1780. Registration will also be possible next Monday evening from seven to seven-thirty at the Senior High School.

SCHOOL MEETING POSTPONED

The executive committee of the Community School Association would like to express its regret for the indefinite postponement of their town-wide panel meeting, which was scheduled for Wednesday evening, January 22, at the high school.

Because of the number of people who had to be notified the decision to cancel had to be made early in the afternoon before the fog lifted and while the U. S. Weather Bureau was still predicting a slow clearing.

To all those who had worked so hard to make this meeting a success, we extend our sincere thanks.

Consul General of Italy Girolamo Vitelli presents medal to Mrs. Muriel S. Barnes, Deputy Commissioner of Insurance, in recognition of work done in connection with Boston's Salute to Rome in 1955. Mrs. Barnes was appointed by the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce to serve as chairman of the mayor's reception and fashion committee on this occasion. The medal is from the mayor of Rome and bears the name of Mrs. Muriel S. Barnes, Boston, 27-11-3-12-1955. Mrs. Barnes lives at Stetson Hall.

HAROLD F. DeCOURCY

Harold F. DeCourcy, 52 of 136 Washington street died suddenly on Tuesday, January 28, at the Winchester Hospital. He had been the fire chief at the Bedford Air Force Base for 15 years.

A Winchester resident all his life, Mr. DeCourcy was the son of former Winchester fire chief and Mrs. David H. DeCourcy of 14 Westley street. Mr. DeCourcy was born on January 16, 1906 in Winchester and attended the Winchester schools and the Bentley School of Accounting.

He was a member of the New England Fire Chiefs Association, Massachusetts Fire Chiefs Association and St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

Mr. DeCourcy is survived by his wife, the former Mary A. Lally, and four children: David H., John P. and Paul J. DeCourcy, all of Winchester. He also is survived by a daughter Mrs. Betty Ann Halm of Atlanta, Ga., and by a sister, Mrs. Leonard J. Hurley of Winchester.

Funeral services will be held from the Lane Funeral Home at 9:00 o'clock this morning followed by a solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church at 10:00 o'clock. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

RECITAL TO BENEFIT PARENT-FACULTY FUND

When Michael Power presents his piano recital next Monday evening at the Memorial Auditorium, he will be playing for the benefit of the Winchester High School Parent-Faculty Association's fund for scholarship and school improvement. At the same time Mr. Power will be offering Winchester people an evening of fine music superbly played.

To open his recital Mr. Power will present a composition by Scarlatti-Tausig. This will be followed by two Beethoven sonatas, "Sonata in F sharp—opus 78" and "Sonata Appassionata—opus 57." After the intermission the principal work will be Chopin's "Sonata in B flat minor—opus 35."

According to Mrs. Robert F. Buckley, co-chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, the response of the public thus far indicates that a large audience will be present on Monday night. To them goes a gentle reminder from Dr. John D. McLean, who is in charge of the ushers, that late arrivals will not be seated until the end of Mr. Power's first number.

MICHAEL J. BRESNAN

Michael J. Bresnan who had recently made his home with his daughter and son-in-law, Police Chief and Mrs. Charles J. Harrold of 75 Brookside avenue, died on Tuesday, January 28. He was 91 years old.

Mr. Bresnan had been a widower for many years. His wife was the former Mary McGann. He was a retired officer of the Metropolitan District Commission police.

Mr. Bresnan is survived by six children: Mrs. Edward Duggan of Lexington; Mrs. Henry Gustafson of Lexington; Mrs. Leo Gillespie of Cambridge; John J. Bresnan of Malden, Mrs. John J. Murray, Jr., of Clearwater, Fla.; and Mrs. Harrold; eight grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this morning at 8 o'clock at the Walsh Funeral Home in North Cambridge, followed by a requiem high mass at St. John's Church in North Cambridge at 9 o'clock. Interment was at St. Paul's cemetery in Arlington.

LEWIS L. WADSWORTH, SR.

Lewis L. Wadsworth, Sr., of Winchester died suddenly Sunday, January 26, in St. Petersburg, Florida. He was in his 82nd year. Mr. Wadsworth was the President of the Barnstable Water Company and Treasurer of the Edgartown Water Company and had long been active in the water works field. He was the holder of several patents.

He had served on the Winchester Finance Committee and had been active in the Winchester Unitarian Society.

Mr. Wadsworth was born in Calais, Maine. He attended school at New Hampton Academy in New Hampshire and graduated with an engineering degree from Harvard College in the class of 1903.

He married Vera S. Young of St. Stephen, New Brunswick and after her death, Elizabeth Downs of Winchester. He leaves two sons Lewis L. Wadsworth, Jr., of Winchester and Charles Y. Wadsworth of Lincoln and five grand-children, Christopher, George and Anne Wadsworth of Lincoln, Mary and Martha Wadsworth of Winchester.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:30 p. m. at Meyer Chapel at the Unitarian Church. The Rev. Robert A. Storer will officiate. Interment will be at the Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. THEODORA L. FREDA

Mrs. Theodora L. Freda of 343 Cross street died Thursday, January 23, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Freda, the former Theodora L. Chimook, was married to Perry A. Freda on February 1, 1951 at the Sacred Heart Church in Boston.

Survived by her husband and three children, Valerie, Pamela and Gene, Mrs. Freda leaves three sisters, Mrs. Mary Redmond of Waltham, Mrs. Anne Bruno of Peabody and Mrs. Dorothy Rizzo of New Jersey, and by two brothers, John of Beachmont and William Chimook of Chelsea.

Funeral services were held Monday morning with a high mass of requiem celebrated by the Rev. Stephen E. Burke at the Immaculate Conception Church. Interment was at Oak Grove Cemetery in Medford.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Augustine W. MacDonald of 22 Hemingway street announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Elizabeth, to Mr. Richard D. Butler, son of Mr. Mark T. Butler of 26 Burlington street, Woburn.

Miss MacDonald attended Winchester High School and is presently employed at Converse Market in Winchester.

Mr. Butler is a graduate of Woburn High School and is employed by John Graham and Sons in Woburn.

No date has been set for the wedding.

DRAGGING EFFORTS FAIL TO LOCATE LOCAL MOTHER

Efforts to locate the body of Mrs. Janet C. Doran of 3 Edgehill road have been unsuccessful so far. The young mother of 3 children disappeared from her home last Sunday morning and it was believed that she had fallen into the Aberjona river near the upper Mystic Lake.

When the Doran car was found parked by the Wedgemere station and foot prints were found leading to the river, both local and MDC police and firefighters were immediately on hand to start dragging operations.

Both the local Red Cross disaster group and the auxiliary police were on the scene to offer any assistance possible. Auxiliary police at the area included P. Bruno, Richard McIntire, Robert Clifford, Roger McTighe, Fred Weir and Russell Roberts. Chief Herbert T. Wadsworth and Deputy Chief Joseph Moffett.

Philip Amiro of 5 Pickney street, Somerville, Ray Martin of 72 School street, Cambridge, and William Golden of 25 Lake street, Somerville, have been aiding the fire department in their work. The men are skin divers and have been donating their free time to the search. Mr. Martin is secretary of the Massachusetts Amphib Association.

DICK JOHNSON IS COLBY STAR CENTER

Richard Johnson, star center for Colby College's undefeated freshman hockey team, could be termed a peripatetic puckman.

Dick really has been around, not including the many successful sallies he has made on Colby's Harold Alfond Arena, one of the largest artificial ice surfaces in the east.

Young Johnson was born in a hockey country, Minneapolis, Minn. The family moved to North Dakota when Dick, aged two, was just being tied to skates. His dad, Robert, played center on North Dakota College's football team.

Later the Johnson family moved to Winchester and now live in Dover, N. H., where Mr. Johnson is a salesman for the Sattini Shoe Co.

Dick played three years of hockey for Winchester High. The "W" puckman won the state title in his junior year. Dick captained the puckmen as a senior.

A year ago, young Johnson posted a new scoring record while a student at Hebron Academy by tallying 25 goals and 22 assists.

At Hebron Dick played wing, but he's doing a standout job as center for Coach John Coons' Colby Mules who have defeated Belmont, Lewiston, Dixfield, St. Dominic high schools and Bowdoin College freshmen.

Johnson, who is 5' 8½" and weighs 155, has pushed in eight goals and has chalked nine assists for 17 points.

MR. AND MRS. O'NEILL OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. O'Neill of 9 Alben street are celebrating their 48th wedding anniversary this Friday, January 31.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill have lived in Winchester for 45 of their 48 years together. Mrs. O'Neill grew up in Brattleboro, Vt., and Mr. O'Neill came from Holyoke.

The O'Neills have four children, all of whom are married: Edward Taylor of Reading; Francis of Worcester; William of Quincy; and Mrs. Mae Braun of Norfolk, Va. All the children attended Winchester High School.

The O'Neills belong to St. Mary's Church. Mr. O'Neill is retired now from the Hurley Shoe Co., in Boston, but he occasionally does some work at the Winchester Hospital.

JASON ROBERTS CARPENTER

Jason Roberts Carpenter, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carpenter of El Paso, Texas, died Monday night in Texas.

Grandparents of the deceased child are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carpenter of Newark, N. J. He is also survived by a brother, Peter Milton Carpenter.

Private funeral services were conducted yesterday at 2 p. m. at 122 Pond street, Winchester with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey of the First Baptist Church officiating. Interment will be in the family lot at Wildwood Cemetery.

OPEN MEETING OF LEAGUE TO HEAR OF SCHOOL GROWTH

In a talk entitled, "Room For Our Children," Dr. George E. Kimball will report his findings on Winchester's school population trends at the general meeting of the League of Women Voters, Wednesday afternoon, February 5.

Mr. Robert P. Bigelow, chairman of the Junior-Senior High School Building Committee, Dr. Harry V. Gilson, superintendent of schools, Mr. George B. Redding, member of the Planning Board, and Mr. George A. Saltmarsh, chairman of the Board of Selectmen will all contribute to the discussion of long-range school planning with questions and comments on Dr. Kimball's survey.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Baker, 7 Grove street, and will begin at 2:30. All interested citizens are cordially invited to attend.

The population analysis which Dr. Kimball is completing this week was requested last fall by Mr. Bigelow as one of several approaches being made by his committee toward securing the broadest possible base of factual information, since whatever decisions are reached will have far-reaching effects, not only on school facilities, but also on the character of the census conducted in November by Mr. Roland E. Simonds, town census taker, and the most recent Planning Board projection, based on a new survey of all possibilities of land use, just completed by Mr. Allen Benjamin, town planning consultant. Using statistical methods which have produced results of amazing validity in similar studies conducted for large businesses, it is already evident that Dr. Kimball will have some startling facts to reveal to Winchester citizens about the present and future of their own town.

Winchester is fortunate in having a mathematician of Dr. Kimball's qualifications who is willing to give his time to such an analysis. His main occupation is Science Advisor at Arthur D. Little, Inc., engineering and research consultants. Among other posts, he is also Visiting Professor of Chemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, member of the Statistical Advisory Panel of the U.S. Census Bureau, member of the Army Scientific Advisory Panel, and member of the National Academy of Sciences.

The League of Women Voters has been privileged to help with the detail work which was a necessary basis for Dr. Kimball's study. Fourteen members spent considerable time in mid-January, comparing and tabulating school-age and adult population information which included every home in town, according to statistical methods set up by Dr. Kimball. These women await the summary of their efforts as eagerly, but with as little foreknowledge of the outcome, as any League members who were not able to work on the survey. The League of Women Voters does not yet urge one solution or another, but is willing to work in whichever direction the best available facts may lead.

EYE BANK WEEK

Governor Foster Furcolo today issued a proclamation designating the week of February 2-8 as Massachusetts Eye Bank Week. It was the first time in the 12-year history of the Boston Eye Bank that a week has been so observed.

Issued in conjunction with National Eye Bank Week, the Governor's proclamation urged citizens "to give every recognition to this humanitarian organization in its endeavor to restore sight to the blind and to promote eye research."

National observance of Eye Bank Week will mark the 13th anniversary of the founding of the world's first organized eye bank, The Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration, Inc., in New York City, of which the Boston Eye Bank is an affiliate. Eye Bank Week has been designated to stimulate public support of the Eye Bank by publicizing its program of sight restoration and eye research.

Founded in 1946, the Boston Eye Bank was established to serve New England in providing eye tissue for the corneal transplant operation and for eye research. More than 7,000 New Englanders have registered to donate their eyes, after death, so that a blind person may see. The corneal transplant is effective 80 percent of the time in restoring sight to persons blinded by corneal disease or injury.

In 1957 there were 147 actual eye donations made to the Boston Eye Bank through its 86 affiliated hospitals in New England. Almost 2,000 persons registered as potential donors during the year.

The Boston Eye Bank is a non-profit organization, supported solely by voluntary contributions.

ACCIDENT ON STOWELL ROAD

Mrs. Mary E. Cabelus of Burlington was involved in an accident early Saturday morning while she was driving home from Boston.

Mrs. Cabelus was traveling north on Main street and was about 100 feet north of Stowell road when she went into a snowbank on the eastern side of Main street. Her car traveled along the sidewalk for about 60 feet and then collided with a large tree, rolled over and down an embankment into the property of Victor A. Wolff of 21 Stowell road.

Several evergreen trees on the Wolff property were destroyed and the car was reported to be a total wreck.

Mrs. Cabelus was thrown out of the car and was badly shaken up. She was transported to the Lawrence Memorial Hospital in Medford by the Winchester police where she was treated by her doctor.

SHERMAN W. SALTMARSH, JR.

HEADS LOCAL HEART FUND

Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., of 154 Mt. Vernon street, today was appointed chairman of the 1958 Heart Fund in Winchester by Atty. Samuel P. Sears of Boston, state chairman.

The annual campaign is sponsored by the Massachusetts Heart Association, only organization devoted exclusively to the conquest of cardiovascular disease, this community's Number One health problem.

Heart Sunday, highlight of the campaign, will be held on February 23.

Mr. Saltmarsh, an insurance executive and member of the Boston Association of Life Underwriters, is president of the Pikes Peak Club of Boston College (1957-1958) and a member of the Boston College Varsity Club. Locally, he served as a Town Meeting member (1956 to 1958) and was residential chairman of the local Cancer drive in 1957.

"It gives me personal pleasure to announce the appointment of Winchester's general chairman," Sears, announcing the appointment, stated. "The importance of a strong community organization, under able and devoted leadership, cannot be overestimated.

"Not only here, but through Massachusetts and across the nation, heart diseases, bring more deaths than all other causes combined. In the face of such a challenge, we give no less than our best efforts to support the research, the professional and public education and the community services which already have made such splendid progress.

"The advances made over the past several years in cardiovascular research in our Massachusetts medical centers have been of major importance. They were made possible to a large degree by the Heart Funds given in our cities and towns. Researchers are on the threshold of even more lifesaving knowledge and techniques."

The names of other Heart Fund leaders will be announced shortly.

WILL ATTEND SIMMONS COUNCIL MEETING

Miss Lydia B. Osborne of 7 Stratford road and Mrs. H. K. Archibald of 5 Penn road, both class presidents, will be among the nearly 200 women from all over the country who will attend the 81st meeting of the Simmons College Alumnae Council to be held at the college on February 1.

The all-day session will include meetings and workshops for class and club officers, class agents and committee chairmen. The workshops, under a new plan, are being divided into three class groups so that classes in a fifteen-year span, which are likely to have common problems, may meet together.

APPOINTED LIEUTENANT AT WEST POINT

Donald J. Palladino, son of Mrs. Helena E. Palladino of 19 North Gateway, has recently been appointed to lieutenant in the Corps of Cadets at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

Cadet Palladino is in his fourth year at the academy.

The 21-year-old cadet was graduated from Winchester High School in 1954.

His father, Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Palladino, is chief of the U. S. Army Reserve and ROTC affairs, the Pentagon, Washington, D. C.

REMINDER

The Star wishes to remind its readers of the letter from the Town Moderator, Harrison Chadwick, published last week in which he stated there would be three classes in parliamentary procedure held on February 4, 11, and 18 at 7:45 p.m. in the High School. It would be helpful to the Moderator in planning the activities for the group if he knew in advance those who expect to attend.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Robert Francis Conlon of 54 Canal street and Mary Elizabeth Rothwell of 76 Child street, Hyde Park.

Robert Eugene Kleber of 26 Oxford street and Ruth Marie Flaherty of 348 Washington street.

Paul Chester Costello of 18 Border street and Nancy Lee McNulty of 148 Arlington road, Woburn.

RECEIVES SERVICE EMBLEM

On January 28, Mr. George M. Poor of 16 Wellington road, was presented with a diamond-studded emblem in recognition of 30-years' service with the Esso Standard Oil Company.

The presentation was made by Capt. Frank I. Shaw, Manager of the Marine Department where Mr. Poor is employed.

4.88 Inches of Moisture Falls

Recent Storm Brings Swollen River And Flooded Cellars

The recent week of stormy weather has fully ended all discussions of lack of water. There is plenty of it! Since Saturday, January 18, 4.88 inches of moisture has fallen either in the form of rain or snow.

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE!

The storms of the past weeks have brought the Aberjona River nearly to the top of the falls off Main street. The above picture shows the water going under the Main street bridge with the Unitarian Church in the right background.

This sudden rise in the water level has brought several rivers in the Boston area to flood stage and even the Aberjona is very full, as seen in the picture above.

The fire department received many calls this week for flooding in basements of many Winchester homes. Winchester streets where the fire department was called to help bail out flooded cellars some of which reported up to 18 inches of water, included North Gateway, Fells road, Park avenue, Forest street, Everell road, Lockeland road, Hutchinson road, Ridge street, Wickham road and Church street.

Several business houses in the center reported rising water and some pumping was necessary in the basements of some stores near the Mill Pond.

The official tabulation of precipitation is as follows:
January 18:
.06 inches, snow
January 21:
1.14 inches, rain
January 22:
.17 inches, rain
January 25:
2.02 inches, rain
January 26:
.61 inches, rain
January 27:
.60 inches, rain and snow
January 28:
.28 inches, rain and snow

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Harkins of Hingham announce the birth of a daughter, Susan Marie, born on January 17 at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Mrs. Maud G. Harkins of Eaton street is the paternal grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry LeRoyer of Raynam Center announce the birth of a third child, second daughter, Judith Hudson, on January 23. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Cuthbertson of Melrose and Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. LeRoyer of Winchester.

Police Officer and Mrs. David Greel (Katherine Gangi) of 817 Main street announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Dorothy Anne, January 29, at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mrs. Dorothy Greel of Stoneham and Mr. and Mrs. Rosari Gangi of Winchester.

DAVID'S, WHISTLE STOP BROKEN INTO OVER WEEK END

Two stores were broken into some time last week end and merchandise taken from one of them amounted to about $3,000. The stores were David's Store for Men on Thompson street and the Whistle Stop antique shop on Waterfield road.

Apparently the person or persons responsible for the theft entered the Whistle Stop and then broke through the separating wall into David's. The safe in David's was broken open and a sum of money was stolen along with many articles of clothing, consisting of top coats, sport coats, sweaters and slacks.

The police are checking into the robbery but as the Star goes to press they have not found the persons responsible.

FIRES

Saturday, January 25, T. Pratt of 54 Yale street called at 5:12 a. m. to report that a sofa was on fire at his home. Firefighters found the fire out on arrival.

Miss Rachel Armstrong, manager of Filene's-Winchester called at 9:25 to report a smoking fuse box. Firefighters found a 200 amp. fuse burning in the box which controlled the lights for the rear of the main floor. The switch was turned off and the Edison Company was notified.

At 2:15 p. m. Dr. Nelson Fontneau of 68 Church street called to report a chimney fire at his home. Firefighters found that the smoke had backed up in the chimney because of a poor draft in the living room fireplace.

MENTAL HEALTH EXHIBIT AT LIBRARY

The public library is featuring an exhibit sponsored by the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health.

The Mystic Valley Mental Health Association, an affiliate of the Massachusetts group, includes the towns of Arlington, Bedford, Lexington, Winchester and Woburn. It was formed early in 1957 to work toward good mental health in this area. The Winchester branch is presently being organized.

The focal point of the exhibit is a three-dimensional grouping of figures which depicts the rehabilitation of the mentally ill, and the steps toward recovery. It illustrates graphically the agencies and individuals instrumental in helping the disturbed person and his family before, during and after recovery.

The library has placed on a table beside this exhibit a group of books and pamphlets on the many phases of mental health. There is also a bibliography of free and non-free materials selected by the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health.

The library has completed the changes necessary to temporarily relieve the crowded conditions in the children's room, shelves and offices. We realize that these temporary changes have resulted in overcrowding and inconvenience. We ask your indulgence until plans can be worked out to make these changes more efficient.

We have had many comments on the beauty of our Tiffany stained-glass windows in the new reading room. In connection with this, we call your attention to an article in the New York Times Magazine on January 26 entitled "Designs by Mr. Tiffany." This article gives the reader an excellent picture of Mr. Tiffany's work.

KINGSTON, ONTARIO, WINS FIRST W.C.C. MIXED BONSPIEL

Before a large and enthusiastic group of spectators Kingston, Ontario's rink of Marion Maxwell, Doc Maxwell, Lenna Shamess and Joe Shamess edged Utica 9-8 in an exciting final to become the winner of Winchester Country Club's first mixed curling bonspiel held January 24-26. Trailing 7-1 after four ends of play, the winners picked up one stone in both the fifth and sixth ends and then an important three count in the seventh. The turning point of the match appeared to take place in the eighth end when Utica skip Russ Hurd's last shot was a beautiful cold draw which cut out two Kingston counters and gave his rink an 8-6 lead. Kingston, however, gained another back in the ninth to trail 8-7 going into the final end. Skip Joe Shamess' last stone in the tenth removed a Utica stone to leave his rink with three counters, but stopped to the left of center giving Hurd an open shot to replace it for the match. The Utica skip's stone was of good weight but failed to bend as anticipated and, in striking the Kingston stone on the left side, wicked out just far enough to leave the Canadian rink two counters and the match 9-8.

In the Consolation final St. Andrews No. 1 defeated Winchester No. 3 (Dot Farnsworth, Tom Downes, Midge Fisher, Dick Fisher) 12-5. Tied at four all after five ends, St. Andrews opened a lead with two and three ends in the sixth and seventh. Winchester gained one both in the eighth but this was soon offset when the St. Andrews skip Linc Siebert's last shot in the ninth cut out a Winchester stone to give the visitors 3 counters and a 12-5 lead. The match was called in the tenth with Winchester counting two but without enough stones left for a possible tie.

In the "Never Say Die" final (beaten Consolation quarter-finalists) St. Andrews No. 2 edged Schenectady No. 2 in a match that lived up to its name. Schenectady, trailing 6-1 after three ends, came back to lead 11-9 after the eighth had been played. St. Andrews then tied the match with two in the ninth and went on to win 12-11 in the final end.

Winchester's No. 1 rink, composed of Helen Shean, Dave Shean, Pris Neill and Stan Neill, reached the semi-finals of the main event. In this Sunday morning match against Kingston, Stan was too sick to play, so Dave Shean moved up to skip and Charlie Reeves filled in at 2. In the ninth end Winchester had the match tied up until Joe Shamess' last stone cut out three Winchester counters and his rink went on to win 9-5.

Winchester's No. 2 rink of Georgie Gamage, Hall Gamage, Kate Belcher and Dan Morse won their first match against Norfolk but were put out of the competition in the second round by Utica by a close 8-7 score.

Both the contestants and all those attending the bonspiel's various activities were enthusiastic in their praise of this new Winchester curling competition. The hard-working mixed bonspiel committee of Nina and Joe Dolben, Jean and Tom Downes, and Ducky and Tom Righter are largely responsible for its success and have established a sound pattern for this to be an enjoyable annual event in the Winchester club's curling schedule.

CAMP WYANOKE REUNION

Camp Wyanoke held its annual mid-winter reunion at the Hotel Statler in Boston on January 25. This was the first event of the Golden Anniversary year of Wyanoke.

Among the staff members present were Henry Knowlton, Mr. and Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper, Dave Bentley, Steve Hood, Gordon Peil and Mr. and Mrs. Brad Bentley.

There were five states and about twenty-five towns represented at the reunion so it was truly a New England get-together.

Mrs. W. H. Bentley, widow of Wyanoke's founder, was honored at the luncheon and Brad Bentley present director and owner, announced many plans for the coming season, Wyanoke's 50th year.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

THE SENIOR FORUM

Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, will be the guest speaker at the Senior Forum's chapel service Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church. Mr. Storer is very popular with the youth of his own parish and in inter-church activities. As leader of a high school class in his church, he has become sensitive to young people's problems and needs.

Out of his experience with many young people he will speak on the subject "How to Make Friends and Like People." Chaplain for the service will be Stephanie Hersey, with Phyllis Rutter as assistant chaplain. Sally Kimball and Mary Welden will serve as deacons, and Joanna Hill and Emily Fish will be ushers.

The second in this year's series of class nights will be held this Sunday evening at the homes of the various class advisers. Brief programs will be presented by class representatives to the Student Council to be followed by refreshments. The hours are from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m.

A large number of Forum families and others in the church are preparing to entertain guests for the tenth annual International Week End February 8-9. An innovation this year is that most of the guests will arrive in Winchester early enough in the afternoon on Saturday to go to the Winchester High School hockey game in Lynn. For many of these foreign students, especially those from the tropical coutries, it will be their first sight of this winter sport.

The co-chairmen of the spring trip have asked that all cards be returned to the Forum office by February 5. This will enable Stephie Hersey and Doug Gowdy to go forward with specific plans as to transportation, reservations, and program. Forumites are making deposits toward the expenses of this trip in the "Oak'm Spruce Bank" of which John Curtis, assistant Forum treasurer, is manager.

LOCAL PARTICIPATION IN NATIONAL YOUTH WEEK

This week is being observed as National Youth Week. One of the opening events was a breakfast held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston on Saturday morning, January 25. It was sponsored by Mayor Hynes and honored Stuart Langton, national president of the United Christian Youth Movement. Dr. Forrest Knapp of Winchester, and Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, took part in the program.

On Sunday morning, January 26, a program was presented on WBZ-TV, Channel 4. Taking part with Mr. Langton were Stanley Mullen of Winchester who is vice president of the United Christian Youth Movement. Stanley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mullen of 8 Park road and is a student at Northeastern.

Playing the organ for the program was Chris King, son of professor and Mrs. Ronald King of 92 Hillcrest parkway. Chris is a student at Winchester High School who is soon to give an organ recital in Winchester.

Also attending the breakfast and program was David Pingree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pingree of 50 Allen road who is a freshman at Harvard. David is president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship for the New England Conference.

The television program is the regular Sunday morning feature conducted by Dr. McCann entitled "Our Believing World." A very fine explanation of the Lord's Prayer was given by two of the young folks. It was most inspiring to see and hear our young people taking part in such a wonderful program.

Lt. Charles Wilkes, commanding a Naval expedition to the South Seas and Pacific Ocean, on January 19, 1840, discovered a land mass which is now known as the continent of Antarctica.

P. A. L.

The schedule for next week's games is:

All Star Team

The Winchester P.A.L. Senior All Star Team which will compete in the North Shore P.A.L. League was chosen by the senior coaches and P.A.L. board. The team coached by Lou Farrell and Bob Innis, is Bill Rogers and Pete Graham (Hawks), Dick Littleton and Jake Horn (Pistons), Phil Fox and Don and Bob McGee (Celtics), "Whipper" Smith (Lakers), Dan Serieka (Eagles) and Bud DeRenne (Royals). Practice dates and schedules will be announced at a later date.

Last Week's Games

Junior League

Boston College edged past Holy Cross 34-32 to regain first place in the Junior League. Both teams were previously tied for top honors. Both games between these two teams have been real squeakers. Holy Cross squeaked by B.C. in their first meeting by a 53-52 score in 1 overtime. Holy Cross outscored B.C. 15-12 from the floor, but B.C. decided the contest from the foul line, sinking 10 out of 14 shots, while Holy Cross could only manage 2 out of 16 attempts. The next meeting of these two powers should decide the Junior championship.

John Peckham, who was high man for B.C. with 13 points, netted the deciding basket after stealing a Holy Cross pass. Mike Bellino and Ronnie Lynch of Holy Cross were high for the night with 14 points apiece. "Preacher" Mulloy's record tying 34 points led Harvard to an easy 76-31 romp over Yale. Mulloy had a chance to break the record with 2 seconds left in the game, but missed a foul shot. Pete Ciruco (17) and Bobby Donlon (15) were other high men for Harvard. John Lane with 17 points was Yale's leading scorer. Princeton swamped Dartmouth 62-7 in the other Junior game. Richie Casalinuovo (18), Billy D'Ecole (10) and Richie Bond (13) led Princeton. Don McCully scored all of Dartmouth's 7 points.

Mike Bellino of B.C. still leads the Junior scorers with 112 points. Paul Mulloy is second with 106 points. Mulloy leads in the averages with 21.2 points per game, playing 2 less games than Bellino.

Junior star of the week: Johnny Peckham, whose clutch baskets led B.C. to an important victory over Holy Cross to put them in sole possession of first place.

Senior League

The Celtics continued as undefeated senior leaders by defeating the Lakers 57-32. The defeat dropped the Lakers into last place. Don McGee led the Celtics with 23 points. Rich Winn (13) and Phil Fox (12), also hit double figures for the Celtics. "Whipper" Smith with 12 and Steve Powers (10), were high for the Lakers.

Dan Serieka's 20 points paved the way for a 48-31 Eagle victory over the Hawks. Tony Bruno with 13 points was second high for the Eagles. Joe Butare was high for the Royals with 8.

Jake Horn's clutch last second basket and Tony Tofuri's steady play sparked the Pistons to a 50-49 victory over the Hawks. The Hawks spurred on by Bill Errico and Bill Rogers nearly pulled the game out of the fire and led with nine seconds remaining when Horn sunk a corner set-shot to win the game for the Pistons. Tofuri (18), Horn (10) and Johnny Carter (10), were the top Piston scorers and Errico (22) and Rogers (14) were high for the Hawks.

Dan Serieka of the Eagles leads the senior scorers with 88 points. Bill Errico (Hawks) is close behind with 81.

Senior star of the week: Jake "The Clutch" Horn of the Pistons.

Plan to be at the Junior High gym Tuesday and Wednesday nights and watch these boys in action. There are always thrills in store for the basketball fan or parent seeing these youngsters give out with their court magic.

TEEN-AGERS TEAM UP FOR POLIO DRIVE

Last Sunday afternoon twenty-nine boys and girls, seniors at the High School, gathered at the local headquarters of the March of Dimes to offer their services as solicitors. The blustery rainy day did not dampen their spirits in the least—no sooner than a given assignment was completed, they were asking for more.

In other parts of Winchester smaller groups of students reported to the homes of precinct captains and were given certain streets in that particular locality, in contrast to those at headquarters who were assigned to any part of town where a vacant spot existed.

To see these young people work in the dismal rain with unbounded energy and enthusiasm, without a thought for their own discomfort, collecting money to help another whom they had never seen, makes one realize that in teen-agers like these lies the hope of future America. They deserve and merit all the thanks we can give them.

Scores of mothers braved the unpleasant day to make collections, aided by quite a few fathers and younger members of their or neighboring families. One youngster, whose smaller brother was a polio victim, voiced his thanks for being given an opportunity to help other stricken victims. Another, a junior high miss, requested permission to organize her own group to cover a considerable area near her home. She did an excellent job.

Below is a list of names of high school seniors who helped at headquarters:

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The Cinderella team Boston College of this half again rode up and met the challenge, defeated the foe for four points to still maintain and secure its position at the top of the ladder. She ended in last position the first half but she's not being taken too lightly this half by any of the opposition. Holy Cross is still hanging on dearly to second place as she picked up 3 points Alabama stroked a four pointer to climb from fifth position into third place.

The pitched battle continues in the average department between two fine bowlers. This is without a doubt one of our most interesting and much talked about situation of any given year. The present runner-up Choppers Gangi one of our best bowlers led the few 300 bowlers this week with 328, Richard Giacolone, 326; A. P. Tofuri, 315 and Sam Corby, 308. Notre Dame a name known and respected throughout the country led the team pinfalls with 1471.

Captained by the old pro himself Musky Tofuri known by A. P. by many of his workers. (P.S. Rumored he is related to old J. P. of N. Y.) His rank and file include M. J. Saraco, Nicky Fitz's right arm, Phil Muraco, a conscientious T.V. fan undergoing treatments for saddle sores at present, Tony Bardascino, the youth and mascot of the team, Richard Giacalone, a real swing and sway boy and brother to the Jeep and our beloved General of His Majesty's Imperial Japanese Army Sam Bellino.

Boston College the most improved team of the year is really doing a great job this half. Their captain Deadhorse is really on fire and causes a ruction each Thursday and riles the opposition to no end. It has paid off and all is fair as long as winning is the consequence. Visiting our bowlers this week was our prominent Venerable M. D. Saraco who is classified along with some of the country's intelligent pachyderms. We must confess he is at least big enough. If what is written gives you a chuckle just remember it's all in fun.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

This week, well what do you know
None other than Joe DiIorio
Landscaping is his trade
His greens are like precious Jade
Excellent Bridge player to be sure
He claims others are amateur
He shakes his foot and smokes his pipe
For he knows that he is always right
He knows his cards like a book
And his bowling is worth a look.

Ten weeks left to go with the award this week going to the world traveler and giant industrialist our one and only Leroy Penta.

See you next week.

SACHEMS SCALP WARRIORS 66-43

Bouncing back from their narrow defeat at the hands of Belmont, the Sachems scalped the Wakefield Warriors 66-43 at the home gym for their sixth Middlesex League win against two defeats.

Dave Schumacher once again led the Winchester marksmen with 17 points while Doug Thomson poured in eight field goals for 16, Richie Roberts completed the list of Indians in double figures with an even 10 points. As a whole the Sachems sank 28 of 80 shots from the floor for a respectable 35 per cent.

Wakefield also placed three in double digits: Reed, McQuillan, and Allyn with 14, 11, and 10 points respectively; however, the Warriors team total was only 12 field goals in 45 shots for 27 per cent special commendation is due Sachem guards Vandy French and Doug Thomson, for holding down Wakefield's Allyn, who lead the Middlesex League in scoring with approximately 25 points per game.

Winchester's easy victory was largely due to phenomenal rebounding. Our Indians, led by Dave Schumacher with 20 bounds and Richie Roberts with 14 completely swept the boards snagging a total of 60 rebounds to Wakefield's 22.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY NOTES

Last Saturday at Lynn, in a non-league game, the Sachem Freshmen beat the Wakefield Freshman Hockey Team 7-2. The game was a rather poor exhibition of hockey on both sides. Although Wakefield had one line with a good passing attack, they lacked reserves and could not keep up the pressure long enough to overcome the more experienced Winchester team.

Captain Paul Johnson scored twice, as did Jack O'Callaghan and John Smith. Steve Wilson sank the seventh Winchester tally. O'Callaghan, Ghirardini, Urmson and Andresen were credited with one assist each.

Tomorrow, at the Boston Arena, Winchester plays Arlington in its next to the last league game. This will be a crucial game for Winchester, which is tied with Melrose for first place in the standing of the Northern Division of the League. The first two teams of the Northern Division play the first two teams of the Southern Division in the mid-February championship finals.

The time of the game tomorrow has been changed from 10:30 to 11:30.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

A regular meeting of the Fortnightly was held in the Sanctuary of the First Baptist Church Monday, January 27, at 2:00 p. m. the president, Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, presiding.

The chairman of the Legislation Committee, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, spoke of a bill coming up in Congress containing several important measures recommended by the Hoover Committee, to conserve our national resources, curtail waste, and stabilize our economy. A paper in the hall outside was signed by members in agreement with this and will be given to Congresswoman Rogers. Mrs. Whitman also spoke of a bill she had introduced to outlaw billboards on our through highways.

Mrs. Atwood announced that a Silver Tea will be held at her home Tuesday, February 4 ,at 2:00 p. m. when Mrs. Potts, chairman of International Relations, will show her own pictures of India.

The program of the afternoon, entitled "Your Destiny and the Stars" was a talk by Isabel M. Hickey, astrologist. Basing personal characteristics on the twelve different Zodiacal signs under which persons are born, she urged more understanding of our varied selves. She emphasized the need to keep ones thinking in unpressured, restrained channels to insure happiness and health. What seemed to start as an excursion into "magnetic fields" and "cosmic laws" became pleasantly engrossing with illustrative experiences enlivened by the speaker's sense of humor.

A postponed meeting of the Literature Committee was held in the Public Library on Thursday, January 16, at 2:00 p. m.

Mrs. J. Edward Downes gave an excellent book-review of "The Broader Way," sub-titled A Woman's Life in the new Japan, by Sumie Seo Mishima. The author spent five years of study at Wellesley, then returned to Japan where she encountered many difficult problems. She will certainly be able to help her people.

Mrs. Blanche S. Barnard prefaced her discussion of Mr. J. P. Marquand by reading and commenting on the list of important American novelists in the table of contents of Edward Wagenknecht's "Cavalcade of the American Novel," a "must" for students of this type of literature.

A resident of Newburyport, Mass., and its environs since childhood, John Philip Marquand has used this section as the setting for many of his stories. He has been a satirist of social codes and class distinctions. "The Late George Apley" will probably remain his most notable book. His latest, "Stopover: Tokyo," tells of the search for a Communist spy and is strictly in the modern manner. Marquand's work was slow at first in public appeal but of late he has attained deserved recognition.

CHRISTOPHER KING TO PLAY ORGAN RECITAL

On Sunday, February 9, at 4:00 p. m. at the Winchester Unitarian Church there will be an organ recital played by Christopher King of 92 Hillcrest parkway. This program is being sponsored by the Music Committee of the Church and will be open to the public.

Although this will be his first recital, Christopher has already performed many times in churches in Winchester and neighboring communities, often playing services, preludes, and postludes. For the past two summers he has been organist of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Camden, Maine. Christopher is a student of Weston L. Brannen, conductor of the Reading Symphony Orchestra and familiar to Winchester audiences as accompanist for vesper services given by the Winchester Unitarian Choir.

Opening with a lively composition by Handel, the program will include two very contrasting works by Johann Sebastian Bach, the mighty "St. Anne" Prelude and Fugue in E Flat and the Trio Sonata No. 1. Two brilliant compositions by French composers, the "Chorale in A Minor" by Franck and the "Suite Gothique" by Boellman will be typical works from the romantic school. A program note of special interest is that Christopher will also play an "Arioso" by his own great-grandfather, Reinhold Seyerlen, who was organist at St. John's Church in Stuttgart, Germany, for twenty-five years.

Christopher is sixteen, and is a junior at the High School. He is a member of the Boston Chapter of the American Guild of Organist.

WHS PARENT-FACULTY GROUP PLAN FEBRUARY MEETING

The Parent-Faculty Group of Winchester High School will have its next scheduled discussion group on February 10, at the high school. This meeting is the second program on Guidance and Counseling services in the high school.

The program on the January meeting consisted of Mrs. Russell, chairman; Mr. W. Howard Niblock, principal; Miss Marion Balboni, dean of girls; Bernard J. "OUR FUTURE CITIZENS"

The Unitarian Church Alliance members and their guests are going to deal with a vital subject at the mid-winter meeting Tuesday, February 11. It is a serious one, but so important, and will be presented in such a unique and interesting manner that everyone will go away stimulated and informed.

Miss Grace Wills, program chairman, has invited Miss Elizabeth Bodi, Superintendent of the Massachusetts Training School for Girls in Lancaster to come and be one of two experts. The other will be our own Chief of Police Charles Harrold. We are indebted to these two busy people who believe the subject of delinquency and its influence on "Our Future Citizens" is of the utmost importance.

The afternoon program, after a social tea time at 1:30 is being set up by Mrs. Edward Rendall. There will be a panel of Alliance members including Mrs. Herbert Black, Mrs. Ernest Dieterich, Mrs. Olcott Hooper, Mrs. Erwin Hutchings, Mrs. George Kimball, and Mrs. Robert Williams. They have been studying the problem and have visited the girl's school in Lancaster to which Miss Bodi is connected. It will be a meet-the-experts format with panel discussions and an opportunity for questions from the floor.

The Alliance wishes to share this informative afternoon, so will welcome representatives of various Winchester organizations who are interested in the subject. The Welfare Board, Mental Health group, School Committee, and the youth directors and ministers of the Churches are included on the list.

It is only through the aroused interest of the citizens in State, City Town and Village, for these are all seriously affected, will there ever be a decrease in the alarming statistics which now exist.

The public is most cordially invited.

CHARLES L. HAGGERTY INTRODUCES NEW RAMBLER

The Charles L. Haggerty Rambler agency announces that the newest Rambler, the Rambler American, will be introduced to Winchester at his showroom today. The agency invites you to come in and see the new car and test drive it.

The Rambler American offers top economy of all American-built cars, more room than any foreign small car and all at a lower price than many foreign cars.

Issued by the American Motors Corp., the Rambler American has a wheel-base of 100 inches, perfect for solving that parking problem on congested city streets. The overall length of the car is 178.25, or nearly three feet shorter than the average American-built car. The regular Rambler line is built on a wheelbase of 108 inches and is nearly two feet shorter than the average car.

Rambler design has been aimed at producing modern cars that meet modern needs. They have consistently stressed economy instead of horsepower and placed the space emphasis on the passenger area instead of on spectacular exterior sheetmetal.

WINDOWS BROKEN IN VACANT HOUSE

Leo Boodakian of 5 Holton street called the police station on Thursday night to report that some boys were breaking windows at 3 Holton street.

Officers Richard Beaton and William Callahan went to the scene and found two panes of glass had been broken in the front vestibule of the vacant house. The house had just been sold and the new owners had not yet moved in. The police were unable to locate the boys.

HEART MONTH

February is a month of opportunity, here and across the state and nation. It is Heart Month.

The Heart Fund is a campaign near to the hearts of New Englanders, as we have shown by giving it increasing support each year. It more than meets Yankee standards for measuring the worth of a fund request: it is really needed; the funds will go to work in a field holding a potential for major improvement; the organization seeking the funds is one of proven effectiveness and dedication.

Let's examine the situation. Cardiovascular disease kills more people, not only in the nation and state, but right here in this community, than all other causes combined. This, incidentally, applies equally to those under 65; it is far from being a disease solely of old age. In Massachusetts, 22,333 persons died of cardiovascular disease in 1956 and since the turn of the century the rate has risen nearly 300 per cent.

The basic secrets of the heart's most lethal disease still lie hidden in the future, yet through Heart Fund research, and much of it right here in Massachusetts, there has been more progress in this vital field in the last generation than in the entire preceding century. Other discoveries as great as the pacemaker, the "artificial heart," potent drugs to fight high blood pressure, penicillin therapy which saves our children from recurring rheumatic fever—all developed in Massachusetts—need the research our funds will make possible.

Only the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations, which sponsor the Heart Fund, are devoted solely to the ultimate conquest of cardiovascular disease. Around the calendar, year after year, they wage an independent war of research, of professional and public education and of community service to save lives and preserve health, their single purpose undiluted by other aims. The results have been more than we dared expect a decade ago.

Let us work for and contribute generously to the Heart Fund, as a matter of simple common sense and in a spirit of investment in healthier hearts.

NAMED MANAGER AT DEWEY AND ALMY

The appointment of Francis J. Mardulier of 37 Woodside road as manager of Cement Mill Products has been announced by William M. Rand, Jr., manager of the Chemical Specialties Departments, Dewey and Almy Chemical Company Division of W. R. Grace & Co., in Cambridge.

Mr. Mardulier, whose responsibilities formerly were divided between cement mill products and the firm's constructive specialty chemicals, will devote full time to cement mill products, which include grinding aids for cement, retarders and plasticizers for grouting mixtures and oil well cements, and solutions for the manufacture of air entraining cement .

Rand said the appointment would result in further field development of improved chemical additives for the manufacture of cement and other rock products, and increased technical service to firms in the rock products industries.

With 23 years of experience in the cement field, Mr. Mardulier is currently a subcommittee chairman of the American Society for Testing Materials, and is a member of the American Concrete Institute and the Harvard Engineering Society.

A graduate of the Harvard Engineering School, Mr. Mardulier was formerly an instructor there, and was more recently a guest lecturer in cement and concrete technology at the Harvard Summer School and Northeastern University.

ACCIDENT ON HIGHLAND AVENUE AND PROSPECT STREET

Police Officers Andrew Crawford and Thomas Parsons were alerted last Friday, January 24, at 10:50 a. m. that there had been an accident at the intersection of Highland avenue and Prospect street.

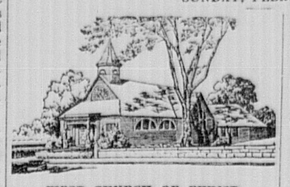
The Officers went to the scene and found that a Cadillac sedan owned by John J. Costello of 3 Mason street had collided with a Pontiac station wagon owned by Forester the Florist.

Mr. Costello was proceeding in a westerly direction out of Prospect street when his car came into collision with the Forester auto which was traveling north on Highland avenue.

No personal injuries were reported. The grill and left front was damaged on the Cadillac and the right front wheel, fender and door of the station wagon were damaged. Both cars were towed away.

CHURCHES

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1958



FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.

Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

Divine Love's inexhaustible power and abundance will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

Matthew's account (ch. 8) of the healing by Christ Jesus of the centurion's servant will be included in the Bible passages to be read in the Lesson-Sermon on "Love."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (494:10): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

The Golden Text is from I John (4:7): "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."

LIFE LINES

DID SOMEONE FORGET?

The story is told of a boy in the slum section of a great city, who began to attend a mission Sunday School, and became an active booster for his new-found religious faith. One day someone asked, "If God loves you so much, why doesn't he take better care of you?"

This touched a sore point, for the boy was ragged and obviously under-nourished. He thought for a moment, and then replied, "I guess He tells somebody, but whoever He tells forgets."

How true those words are, and how great is the suffering in the world because "somebody forgets."

"Somebody forgot" to report approaching enemy aircraft near Pearl Harbor. "Somebody forgot" that a demented-appearing man with a gun had been seen prowling near President Lincoln's box at Ford Theater. "Somebody forgot" to report a conspiracy by a few fanatical communists to take over the government of Russia forty years ago.

How many people are hungry and cold, even in this land of plenty, because "someone forgot."

I wonder how many times you and I have added to the sum of the world's grief and sorrow, because we, too, forgot?

Has the thought sometimes come to you that you should go to call on a neighbor, or do some kind deed? Perhaps you have had the experience, as so many others have, of finding out afterward that this very person was in great need of friendship just then. It happens too often to be a coincidence.

God still says, "Go." But all too often, "someone forgets."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING

Following a delicious catered dinner, the annual business meeting of the First Baptist Church was held in the social hall, Monday evening, January 27, 1958. Mr. Theodore W. Shidler presided as moderator.

ART ASSOCIATION

The February meeting of the Art Association will be held Tuesday evening, February 4, in the Music Room of the High School. Coffee will be served during the social hour at 7:30 and the meeting will begin at 8:15.

The subject "Plastics in Architecture" will be presented by Prof. Marvin E. Goody who holds the Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Pennsylvania, Master of Architecture from the Mass. Institute of Technology, and Master of City Planning from Yale University. He is a member of the American Institute of Architect, at the present time he is an assistant professor of architectural design at M.I.T. and is a partner in the architectural firm of Hamilton & Goody. The firm is engaged in experimental and prefabricated housing designs and is collaborating closely with industry on architectural designs incorporating plastic materials, Mr. Goody is currently designing an experimental demountable school building to be built of prefabricated panels.

Safe Walking Tip: When you walk the streets at night, take special prscautions, says the AAA. Remember that you are almost invisible to approaching drivers until they are too close to avoid hitting you. So, never cross in front of an approaching automobile, but wait until the way is completely clear.

BAY STATE HISTORICAL LEAGUE

In spite of the very stormy Saturday, January 25, there was a good attendance of Bay State Historical League members at the New England Historic Genealogical Society in their Wilder Hall.

In the morning there was a lively Panel Discussion on "Young People and our Historical Societies," led by Gilbert Bean, who spoke, and introduced speakers who had been successful in interesting school groups in local history.

One of the vice presidents presided at the 2 o'clock meeting, explaining that there was no need of a Roll Call this time because of the guest-book. An officer of the "Plimoth Plantation" told of their new project in building a facsimile Plymouth village two miles south of the original.

Different speakers told of the scheduled coming meetings, as follows: Saturday, April 26 at First Congregational Church in Beverly with an interesting meeting and open houses; the June meeting on Cape Cod; and the October meeting in Worcester.

Prof. I. Bernard Cohen of Harvard University, a very fine speaker, gave a most interesting lecture on "Contributions to Science from our New England Villages." Clergymen had to study science and they imparted much information to their congregations. Americans going abroad to study science found that the earliest and accepted text-books were written by Americans, but studied from their translations in French, German, Dutch and Russian. Cotton Mather, 200 years ahead of his time, wrote a textbook on botany. Ethan Allen Hickock, general in Civil War, wrote on psychology. Gov Winthrop had a fine collection of scientific instruments, lost in a 1764 fire at Harvard. L. Baldwin and Benjamin Thompson of Woburn (Count Rumford) were outstanding engineers.

Coffee and cake were served during the social hour. Misses Clara Russell and Louise Bancroft were among those present.

Self-propelled missiles went into combat for the first time January 11, 1944, when two torpedo bombers from a Navy escort carrier attacked a German U-Boat with rockets fired from their wings.

M.S.P.C.A. TO HEAR "SCHOOL THE PONIES BUILT"

A particularly delightful afternoon is promised the members and friends of the Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A. when they meet at the charmingly quaint home of Mrs. George Connor, 403 Main street, on Monday, February 17.

At Mrs. Connor's fascinating century-old home we will share with Winchester's own Mrs. Howard Wittet some of her highly amusing and touching animal anecdotes and experiences gleaned in running "The School the Ponies Built." Children and animals, Mrs. Wittet's twin loves, go hand in hand, but not always with tranquility!

The afternoon will close with refreshments and a social hour. As always, interested animal enthusiasts of all degrees are invited.

PARISH PLAYERS TO PRESENT "PHILADELPHIA STORY"

"The Philadelphia Story" will be presented by the Parish Players on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, February 13, 14 and 15 in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church. All seats are reserved—with the Thursday evening performance for the benefit of the Forum young people of the Church for their Spring Conference—and the ticket chairman is Mrs. George H. Gowdy.

This delightful, gay comedy is considered one of Philip Barry's best, and is a timeless commentary on high society life in Philadelphia. Directed by Harlan F. Grant of the Drama department, Boston Conservatory of Music, the very capable cast includes Mrs. Robert P. Blake and her daughter, Judy; Henry Fitts, Mrs. Robert Millican, Miss Mary Lowry (who played "Sabrina"), Robert Millican, Sewell Richardson, Charles Mulhern, William Early, George E. Connor, Mrs. Harry Benson, and Peter Dee. Miss Margaret Hodgson is chairman of production, with George Gowdy, Robert Millican, Charles Brown, George Hebb, and James Newman as stage crew.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS ATTEND DINNER

David Pingree attended the Republican Dinner held at the Sheraton Plaza on Monday evening, January 20. He was there as a representative of the Young Republican Club of Harvard. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Pingree of 50 Allen road and is a freshman at Harvard.

The speeches of President Eisenhower and other Republican leaders were televised over a closed circuit to those at the dinner. The principal speaker was Secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson. It is extremely encouraging to have our young people taking an interest in our political affairs, both locally and nationally. Good government is dependent on the active participation of all our citizens.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 5 NEWS

Junior High School girls of Troop 5 met at the home of Mrs. Francis Bowes on January 23. Mrs. Carolyn McCormack, formerly a beautician, discussed care of hair and hair styling. This was done as part of the work on the good grooming badge.

Board Meeting

There will be a Board meeting at the home of Mrs. Herbert Ross, 26 Lakeview road on Thursday, February 6, at 1:00 o'clock. Both old and new members of the Board are expected to be present.

Camp Committee Meeting

There will be a camp committee meeting on Friday, February 7, at the cabin.

Day of Recollection

Eight adult Girl Scout workers from St. Mary's attended the Day of Recollection sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization of the Archdiocese of Boston which was held at Boston College on January 26. The Retreat Master was Rev. Charles F. Dewey who stressed the importance of the work that all Girl Scout adult workers are doing throughout the country and the world.

One of the most interesting highlights of the day was an exhibit of notebooks made by Girl Scouts in their work to earn the Marian Medal, the highest Catholic award in Girl Scouting. This award blends in with the regular troop program of badge work.

Those attending were: Mrs. Daniel Fortiere, Mrs. Robert Finn, Mrs. John Looney, Mrs. Frank McNally, Mrs. Frank Weafer, Mrs. Henry McCormack, Mrs. Howard Leary and Mrs. Paul Doyle.

EDITORIALS

Last week the Star printed a letter from Mr. William C. Cusack concerning the alert police work in the apprehension of an alleged intruder in town. The letter answers a need which is often overlooked in this age of criticism.

Mr. Cusack commended the police department and Officer John McHugh for his quick thinking and alertness a week ago Wednesday night. It is hoped that this arrest will stop the series of house breaks in town.

But actually this shouldn't be left up to the police alone. John Citizen can and must take his part by making sure that proper precautions are taken when leaving the house. Make sure that all the doors are locked and that all windows are secure. While this may not keep the prowler out, it may well act as a deterrent.

Large sums of money and other obvious valuables should not be kept in the house unless you are inviting an intruder. Most of the breaks in this area occur either in the month of December around Christmas when houses are likely to have cash on hand, or in the summer months when residents are vacationing. When you leave on a vacation notify the police and ask them to keep a check on your vacant house. In the recent arrest, the man was caught because the police were checking on the house.

If you notice strange cars in your neighborhood, particularly near houses which you know are closed, jot down the license number and notify the police. It could be just this little note which might end in the apprehension of a thief.

Last Thursday one of the worst disasters ever to happen in Winchester occurred when the two jet planes collided over the Winchester-Medford line. The immediate crisis caused by the crash was evident to many persons who either saw the explosion of the colliding planes or heard the thunderous crash.

But Lady Luck or Providence or what you will was definitely on our side. That no one in town was badly injured either by the falling plane or by the ensuing fires was truly a miracle.

Because a plane crash is a deceptive thing to locate, the Winchester Fire and Police Departments had a very difficult job in even locating the downed plane. The first reports had a plane down in the High street section; this later turned out to be the fatal crash in Arlington. As police and fire department trucks rushed to the scene, Stoneham, Woburn, Arlington and Medford authorities all participated in the search for the accident.

One plane crash is unusual in itself, but the idea of two at the same time really stretches the imagination. When the fire department was called back for the fires in Winchester, it became evident that the unusual had happened.

Winchester residents can be truly thankful that we have such expert and efficient fire and police departments. Both deserve tremendous praise for their quick work and it is due to them that both property and lives were saved.

In addition to the work of those departments the auxiliary police and the Red Cross deserve to be commended, too, for their quick work in assisting at the accident scene and in keeping the crowds that quickly gathered on South Border road and Bridge street under control and safe from injury.

We humbly express our thanks and gratitude to all who helped in this disaster and are indeed thankful that Winchester escaped more serious damage.

EXTRA MONEY FOR LIBRARY!

Editor of the Star:

It will soon be time to vote for or against giving our Public Library extra money. Some citizens are not happy over the existing trend at the library. Older people feel exiled under the new set-up of using the smaller art gallery as an adult reading room. No amount of new furniture will help much to overcome the essential defect; smallness.

Some adults gaze at the old reading room and ask, "Is this an annex to the high school library and study hall?" If a study hall is needed after 4:00 p. m. should not the school department furnish the space and trained supervision?

We should not ask a reference librarian to play the role of supervising study, keeping discipline, (without authority and without comeback if some mean youngster has the nerve to let air out of tires etc., etc.) and at the same time keep up with his other regular duties. This is an impossible job.

The following suggestions are nothing more than tentative! They were given to the librarian on December 5, 1957. At this writing, January 28, 1958, not even one of these ideas has been discussed with the writer by any one of the Trustees.

Problem: To eliminate non-reading and non-studying young adults and teenagers, from our Library.

1. Ask cooperation of school department.
   Furnish teachers or school librarian (?) with blue slips (or blue request slips). These slips should name pupil, date, signature of person giving assignment. Slip would be proof of bona fide intention of pupil and his need.
2. Control at library.
   When a group of young adults is observed to be just visiting" and not working, the library staff can ask for their blue request slips. If none is produced the visitors can be asked to leave. Insubordination can be reported.

Problem: To gain more space for reference library as used by young adults.

1. Take one half of main reading room. Do this by screening off west side with new shelving down the center of room.
   Equip this study-reference area with existing tables and chairs, plus tables from east side. Also bring in extra folding chairs from Art Gallery if needed.
   A central back-to-back, seven-foot-high bank of shelving (in units), would double existing open shelving and at the same time give effective screening. It would extend from close to the fireplace to a point at the lobby.
2. The Adult Reading Room.
   By eliminating the large tables from this long area the eastern or street side of Reading Room) more space for chairs would be gained; it would seem less crowded. As funds became available, more home-like reading chairs can be added.
   The lighting ,too, cauld be made more like home conditions. This could prove to be a real saving. Big ceiling lights, in panels, turned on at 4:30 p. m. and burning till 9:00 p. m., must build up quite a bill?
3. The above ideas are based on the assumption that:
   Many of us do not read or even look at pictures while sitting at a table, in our homes. Why do we have tables in many of our public libraries? The problem is quite different from that of the reference work room.
4. Lighting for reading or study: These days, at home, we seldom see people trying to study or read by light from a high, central fixture.

Problem: More space in childrens' department.

We assume that both more space and more shelving are required. The question is bound to come up because we were told last year that well over 90% of all Winchester children had been given cards or were registered and hence the impression was planted that nearly every Winchester child was an active user of our library. That is not true.

1. The service desk as now located, takes up a good deal of floor space. Could it not be relocated at east end of room and near the two closets? Using one of these closets as an open-shelf area seems of doubtful value. They were not planned for such use.
2. Could not the children read and look at pictures with more ease and less eye-strain if they could hold the book normally, as at home? In other words, do not buy more tables. Put the money into more child-size reading chairs. Any kind of table is space consuming.
3. Better but more drastic plan: Would it, be too costly to extend the Childrens' Room, along its north wall, one story high? This would give a long room 12-14 feet wide. Cover with low-shed-type roof and use the new plastic domes. Or make the entire new roof as found in greenhouse construction. Two existing windows would be cut down to floor level to form door ways between old and new portions of childrens' room. This plan gives four new walls to form background for much needed shelving. It would nearly double existing floor area.
4. Plumbing:
   The existing toilet on south side of childrens' room could be revamped as a "ladies room." Boys can use wash room at front of building. Some replanning may be required.
5. Coats, etc.:
   The writer does not know if the west end entrance lobby to childrens' room is large enough to park all rainy-day toggery? There is a way to improve this matter if it is a problem.

Problem: The Main Work Room —Staff.

This is tied in with the Rich Room and the family room. Could not a shift in emphasis bring about greater efficiency in these areas?

1. The old work room is too small and poorly vented.
2. The present Rich Room measures 23' x 29' and has high a ceiling and good natural light. The floor area has 667 square feet. Is not this nearly double the size of the the old or the present Work Room? Here is an ideal work space.
3. The ramp and generous passsage made the trucking of books and materials, to this location, very practical.
4. At the time this area (formerly the Historical Room) was made over to the Rich Room. Shelving was built around the walls and a built-in card file has hardly been used! There is no need to waste this material, if the Trustees vote to put the Rich Collection in a new location.
5. It is suggested that the Rich Room could be relocated in the area now called the Fam-Room. This area is close to the Memorial Music Room and is away from the active work of the library. No disrespect to the Rich Memorial is involved. About half of the shelving would stay and be used.

Problem: Storage.

The attic spaces of the Winchester library are huge. Their cubic content, at a rough guess, is 30% of the cubic content of the entire building. At this moment these attics shelter large oil paintings that came from the old library in the town hall. All the treasures of the Winchester Historical Society are stored in the attic. The creation of the Rich Room made this older society homeless! Just what did the trustees have in mind?

There is even room to add one entire new floor if more stack storage is needed.

To conclude:

By following some of the above suggestions, the art gallery could be returned to its original use. That alone would justify a little thinking?

A CRUSADE FOR MASSACHUSETTS

Editor of the Star:

Those who wish to help keep and preserve the beauty of our roadsides and parks can do so by attending a hearing at the State House of bills "for regulating outdoor advertising along parks and limited access highways" next Tuesday, February 4 in Room 423 at 10:30 a. m.

The verbal recording of a person attending the hearing has more weight than a written or telephoned message. It it is impossible to attend, one can write or telephone the Committee on Mercantile Affairs so that the message containing name and address and approbation (I hope) of the bills S.406, and S.407, and H.971 will reach the committee during the hearing.

Two of the bills are practically identicals S.407 and H.971. S.406 would restrict billboard advertising to locations where industry is permitted by zoning ordinance.

An Act Regulating Outdoor Advertising Along Parks and Limited Access Highways

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Chapter 93 of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding to section 29, as amended by section 4 of chapter 584 of the acts of 1955, the following sentence:—No permit, whether permanent or temporary, for a billboard, sign or other advertising devise shall be issued by the board if such billboard, sign or other advertising device would be located within five hundred feet of any state park or metropolitan district commission park or within five hundred feet of the right of way of any limited access highway or parkway and such billboard, sign or other advertising devise would be facing or primarily to be viewed from such park, highway or parkway.

LIONS CLUB

Mr. Wade Grindle was the guest speaker at the Lion's Weekly Meeting on Monday evening, January 20. Mr. Grindle's topic for the evening was the "Winchester Scholarship Fund." The history of the foundation, its practices, sources of income and the number of students that have been aided in furthering their education were discussed. Mr. Grindle mentioned a few of the first persons to win scholarships from the Foundation and told of the positions they now hold. A question and answer period was held immediately following his talk and proved to be very enlightening.

On last Monday evening the Lions had Past District Governor Jim Miller of the Amesbury Club as its guest speaker. Lion Jim is an authority on "Lionism" and gave a most inspiring talk. At this meeting the Club played host to fifteen guests who will become Lions early in February. Program chairman Jim McLaughlin and membership chairman Dick Rogers are planning and induction night very shortly. Also present to welcome the guests were Deputy District Governor Carl Roessler and Past Deputy District Governor Donald Nett of the neighboring Woburn Club. Another highlight of the evening was the presentation of a Certificate of Appreciation to Robert "Skitchy" Fiore for his devotion and untiring efforts in making Lion's sponsored Troop One, Boy Scouts of America in Winchester, one of the finest troops in Middlesex County. King Lion Bob Shohet made the presentation and Mr. Fiore stated that without the help and assistance he has received from Lions members who are on his scout committee his success with Troop One wouldn't have been possible.

Despite the inclement weather on last Sunday the Mothers of Winchester were very faithful in turning out for the "Mothers March." No official returns are available at this writing but the Lions and Drive chairman Ted Boecker are very thankful to the mothers and teenagers who assisted in the drive. Anyone wishing to still make a contribution may still send their check to "March of Dimes" c/o Mr. Richard Ingersoll, Winchester Trust Company.

Members are reminded that Monday's meeting has been postponed until Tuesday and will be held at Stoneham Town Hall as a Zone meeting.

WINCHESTER ZONTIAN HEADS PROGRAM

The Zonta Club of Medford held its regular dinner and social meeting at the Royall House, Medford, Tuesday, January 28. Nearly 50 members and guests, including several Winchester residents, were present.

Following the dinner, Miss Hilda Hope of Winchester, member of the Medford Zonta Club, gave an Amelia Earhart Recognition Service. Miss Hope spoke of the many places that take pride in their association with Miss Earhart, but pointed out that Medford was much closer than any other because Miss Earhart had lived there, as do her mother and her sister. Miss Hope referred to the Amelia Earhart Scholarship program for women doing graduate work in aeronautical engineering which is the International Service Project of Zonta. The probability of a commemorative Amelia Earhart postage stamp was also mentioned. The recognition was concluded with the reading of "Courage," a poem written by Miss Earhart.

Miss Helen Forsyth of Winchester, Head Librarian at the Medford Public Library and a member of the Zonta Club of Medford, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Eleanor Coy, Senior Assistant at the Library. Mrs. Coy who was born in Newfoundland, is a graduate of Mt. Allison University, with two years of art school, including one year at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and has been associated with the Library for 14 years. Mrs. Coy, in her charming and vivacious manner, reviewed a dozen recent books for the club, including two of particular interest to Medford residents.

THE AUCTION IS COMING

Have you made the annual check of your attic? If not, why don't you real soon and call Rotary at WInchester 6-4108 to pick up those discarded articles of furniture, appliances or objects of art? For the Rotary auction is drawing nigh and your contributions are needed to make it the successful event it has been in the past. You will derive real satisfaction from the knowledge that the receipts from this annual affair support so many worthwhile activities including the scholarship program, the Boy and Girl Scouts, Winning Farm, Winchester Hospital, Home for the Aged and the various local recreational projects for our boys and girls such as the Police Athletic League basketball program and the Little League and Babe Ruth League baseball programs.

So help yourself to a share of the satisfaction that comes from being a part of a community that provides such services. Do a real housecleaning of your surplus belongings and Rotary will be glad to call for them at your convenience.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

The February meeting of the Mr. and Mrs. Club will be held on Wednesday, February 5, at 8 p.m.

Mae and George Keene have a wonderful program in store for us, a talent shop, with our own members furnishing the talent. Do come and enjoy the talent you never dreamed your friends possessed. Just about half the members of the club have volunteered their services, and from what Mary Maloney has reported, it's going to be a nifty group.

George and Blanche Carter are the refreshment chairmen for the evening. The Catholic Action program is in the capable hands of Rosemary and John Dolan.

Mark off your calendar for the 5th and bring your friends. Since a great deal of preparation has gone into this meeting, its success is assured. All we need is a large, responsive audience to appreciate the entertainment which the group is working hard to prepare for us.

JV's BEAT STONEHAM

After trailing by four points at the half, the J.V. fought back to make it six in a row by walloping the Stoneham J.V. 54-46. Led by Paul Del Rossi, the Sachems overcame the deficit in the third period, and took command for the final quarter.

Winchester high scorers were Del Rossi and Nichols with 19 and 17 points, while Stoneham was led by Pelton and McAteer who netted 12 apiece.

JV's TOP LEXINGTON

Out to get revenge for their previous loss to Lexington, the J.V. scalped the Minute Man, 48-33 before a full crowd at Winchester. The Sachem Juniors took an early lead and fought to keep it throughout the game. Hank Kiley and Paul Del Rossi netted 13 points apiece while Paul White did a good good job clearing both boards. Arnold scored 13 points for the visitors, but Winchester brought its season record to a strong 11-2.

PVT. STEVENS TO STUDY RUSSIAN

Pvt. Charles William Stevens has been selected for an intensive year-long course of instruction in Russian at the U.S. Army Language School in Monterey, under the Army's stepped-up program for over-coming a critical shortage of skilled linguists.

Pvt. Stevens, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Stevens, 22 Stowell road, was graduated from Winchester High School in 1955, and attended Dartmouth College, in Hanover, New Hampshire, for two years before entering the military service.

Upon completing his present course of study, Pvt. Stevens will be prepared to act as translator or interpreter, able to converse freely in Russian as well as to read and write the language.

With the urgent need for linguists multiplied by the world-wide deployment of our Armed Forces and the teaching nature of many of their missions, the U.S. Army Language School is currently open to students from all the services. Now permanently located at the Presidio of Monterey, it employs more than 500 instructors from 38 countries and teaches 28 languages.

In the 17 years of its operation it has trained 8000 students to speak, read, and write Japanese. In 11 years it has graduated 5000 in Russian, and in only seven years 900 men have been trained in German. Besides these, many more have been graduated in Chinese, Korean, Arabic, Turkish, French, Romanian, Czech, Finnish, Vietnamese, and Thai, to name only a few of the 32 languages that have been taught at the U.S. Army Language School.

The carefully chosen faculty are natives of the country whose language they teach. They come from business, professional, and political backgrounds. Few were teachers originally. But all, before they begin to teach, complete an intensive training course in teaching methods and techniques.

Classes meet six hours daily, five days a week, and students average three hours nightly in study. For the more difficult languages a year-long course is required. The Romanic-Germanic languages are, for the most part, six-month courses.

Come in and see our assortment of valentines, packaged 25 for 25¢; 40 for 39¢; 42 for 39¢; 30 for 59¢; 30 for 29¢; 24 for 39¢; all with envelopes. Winchester Star, Star Building, 3 Church street.

LIFE LINES

DETOUR

How we hate to see that word when we are travelling! "Detour." Miles of extra travel, rough side roads, dust and frustration. Finally, seemingly after hours of lost time, we get back to the main road to find that we are little farter ahead than before we struck the detour.

Nobody loves a detour.

But detours are necessary. There could be no new roads without them. When you drive at high speed, in smooth comfort, over some new road, you must remember that during the months and perhaps years while that road was being built, people were using a detour. Every good road is the reminder of a detour that made it possible.

Life is like that. We would like to have it all super-highways, with no detours. But the detours are there. We may as well face it. How often we have to face the fact that we have spent a long portion of our lives in what seems to be a wasted effort.

But that is not true. Those detours, unpleasant as they are, are necessary.

It may be illness, financial reverses, loss of position or income, heartache, sorrow—the list is as long as life itself.

But let us remember one thing: there is a difference between a detour and a dead-end road. The detour is coming out somewhere; the dead-end street isn't.

We have the assurance that our lives are guided by One who knows where He is leading us. He is leading somewhere; there are no dead-end streets in the Will of God.

How often, life has taken us on what seemed to be a detour. But years later, looking back upon it, we could see that every step of the way a Divine Hand was leading us forward, toward the goal—whatever it might be.

U.S.A.'S OUTSTANDING YOUTH AT ST. MARY'S

Miss Margaret Ann Nichols, a girl whose social and academic honors would require a full page to do them justice, will speak to high schoolers at St. Mary's Hall after the 10:15 Mass next Sunday, February 2.

The youth of St. Mary's will bid her hearty congratulations for having recently won the national election in Philadelphia as the "Outstanding Catholic Youth in the United States." All those in high school have been invited to attend. A light breakfast and an activities' meeting will precede her introduction.

George Ducharme, Ann Legere, Dana Kelly, and Joy Ann Mitchell are in charge of the event and expect a great turnout.

LINCOLN SCHOOL DADS' CLUB AUCTION SATURDAY, 1:00 P.M.

Tomorrow is the day to pick up those bargains you have been trying to find. Can you use a piano for the playroom? We'll have one to auction. How about a four-poster double bed? It's just the type for that "do-it-yourself" man to refinish for Junior's room. We have kitchen chairs, bookcases, radios, something for everybody.

This auction is for the benefit of the Dads' Club dictionary fund, and your attendance is needed. Do yourself and your children a favor by getting into action at the auction. See you there.

"ROYAL GARDEN" SIX AT WINTER CARNIVAL

Herb Gardner and Bob Becker with their inter-collegiate Dixieland band, at the "Royal Garden Six," will play at the popular Dartmouth Winter Carnival, January 30 through February 1. After a successful summer at "Lake Lodge," Yellowstone National Park, this group has been engaged for many college week ends this spring.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MASS. MEDICAL SOCIETY

On January 27, at 22 the Fenway the Women's Auxiliary to the Massachusetts Medical Society held its mid-winter conference. Reports were heard from each state officer, state chairman and district president. Mrs. John C. Anderson of Stoneham and Mrs. Charles A. Kane of Wakefield attended as delegates from this district. Mrs. Edward G. Thorpe of Melrose, president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society, and Mrs. Gerald E. Cummings the president-elect were also present.

Dr. John C. Conlon of Winchester chairman of the advisory committee to the Women's Auxiliary of the Massachusetts Medical Society spoke to the meeting. Mrs. Conlon and Mrs. William Barone also of Winchester were among those present, Mrs. Barone in her capacity as publicity chairman on the State Board.

ATTENDING NATIONAL BOARD MEETING

Mrs. W. W. Davies, III, of Sanborn street, national president, Mrs. George E. Kimball of Everett avenue, director in the Northeast region, Mrs. Philip P. Wadsworth, of Oxford street, local branch president, and Mrs. Hoyt C. Hottel, of Cambridge street, regional member of continental nominating committee of the General Alliance of Unitarian Women, will take part in the board meeting to be held in Boston during the week of February 3. This board is the policy-making body for the 427 branch groups of Unitarian Women throughout the U. S., Canada and the Canal Zone.

SACHEM SHARPSHOOTERS

Last Friday night our boys showed up against Newton extremely well, defeating them 891 to 879. It was a very close match, but the boys' excellent marksmanship put the Sachems on top. The score 891 is the highest score ever achieved by any team of the Rifle Club. Congratulations, boys! Mr. Aversa was very pleased with the match and gives the entire credit to the team's determination to win.

The five highest scores were as follows:

Bill MacNeil, 184; George Ducharme, 180; Nick Rosa, 177; Charles Petri, 176; and Gary Cooke, 174. The totals: for Winchester 891 and Newton 179.

WINCHESTER HOST TO HIGH SCHOOL MUSICIANS

On May 3, 1958, our town will be overflowing with young musicians from all cities and towns in Middlesex and Essex counties. The occasion is the annual Northeastern Music Festival which is held every year in some city or town in the area.

The general committee for this festival has decided to finance the expenses of the festival by raising money through subscription. Patrons and patronesses will be solicited as well as business organizations throughout the town. This method was found to be most successful last year when the town of Concord was the host. The committee feels quite confident that the citizens of Winchester will support this festival as well as the citizens of Concord did last year.

The Community School Associates, headed by Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully, will solicit for patrons and patronesses, while the business organizations will be contacted by Messrs. Ralph Bonnell, Nicholas Fitzgerald, and Alfred Elliott. More detailed information regarding this movement will be printed in future editions of this paper.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Members of the Women's League of the First Baptist Church, together with their friends, will meet at the Church Thursday, February 6, at ten o'clock.

The morning will be spent sewing to meet our White Cross quota. Mrs. Gustav Josephson and her committee will serve luncheon at twelve o'clock noon. The afternoon program will include the regular business meeting at one o'clock, followed by a "Carribean Tour" with pictures, by Mrs. Sargis Matson.

Sewers are urgently needed. If you enjoy sewing you are cordially invited to join this group.

YOUTH SUNDAY AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

Members of Metcalf Union, the High School fellowship at the Unitarian Church, will conduct the entire 11 o'clock worship service at the church this Sunday.

Three young people will preach on the subject of youth's experiences in the home, in the church and at school. The three, Carolyn Hutchings, Gregg Wood and Joel Peckham, will draw on their own experiences to discuss youth's responsibilities to these three most important institutions in their life and the responsibilities of the three to youth.

Others taking part in the service will be Dana Starkweather, Helen Bolster, Betsey Bolster, Roberta Rich and Prudence Kimball. Ushers will be Jonathan Handy, Anthony Laban, David Littleton, Russell Taylor and Richard Low. Carley Clark and Linda Gross will be junior hostesses.

Sunday afternoon, Metcalf Union members will go to Arlington Unitarian Church at 4 o'clock for a meeting of the Southern Middlesex Federation of Liberal Religious Youth. Rev. Ernest Kuebler, an extremely interesting speaker, will address the group.

Saturday evening, February 8, Metcalf Union will hold a Record Hop open to all young people of the town, with Bob Clayton, Disk Jockey, at Metcalf Hall in the Parish House.

Jotto refills now available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

A "coffee break" for all patients at the Winchester Hospital is now available around ten o'clock each morning Monday through Friday, thanks to the Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

Always on the alert to bring more service and comfort to the Hospital's patients, the Friends' volunteers now staff a coffee cart five days a week which brings coffee or tea to all patients. Mrs. Joseph P. Lynch, Jr., is the able chairman of this good-cheer project.

A most welcome addition to the Hospital's morning routine, this "extra" service was initiated by the Friends about a year ago as an experiment. At that time only private patients were served. The idea was so successful and popular, the program was expanded this fall and a more elaborately equipped cart staffed by a Friends' volunteer uniformed in a cheery cherry red pinafore now brings tea and coffee throughout the entire hospital.

BOY SCOUTS PARTICIPATE IN SCOUT WEEK

Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, will kick off its part in the National Safety Good Turn during Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12 with many Packs, Troops and Posts staging demonstrations at Parents' Nights and also featuring the Safety theme in their window displays throughout the council area. Fellsland serves Burlington, Woburn, Stoneham, Medford and Winchester.

The Safety Good Turn is a project that will be carried out nationally by 3,200,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers at the request of President Eisenhower. It will be divided into three main headings: Traffic Safety during March, April and May; Outdoor Safety in June, July and August; and Home Safety in September, October and November. During November all registered boys will distribute family preparedness booklets printed by the Federal Civil Defense.

The Boy Scouts of America has long been interested in the importance of training youth in the field of safety. Many of the advancement requirements in Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring deal directly with safety in one form or another. This Good Turn, therefore, is a natural for unit leaders in that it can be incorporated into the program as part of its advancement opportunities.

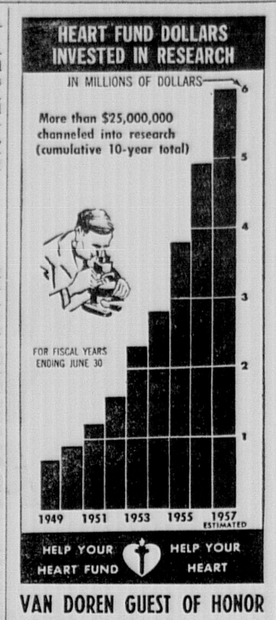
The council committee responsible for the National Safety Good Turn in Fellsland Council includes Dr. E. T. Blanch, Chairman, Dr. R. M. Smith, Walter Forsberg and George B. Needham, all of Winchester. Also Harry A. Gardner, Stoneham; John M. Keating, Burington; and Paul Barrett and Carl Bevilacqua of Medford.

TO APPEAR AT TUFTS ARENA THEATRE

Elizabeth Hoxie of Robinhood road, will appear in "Hannah Garraway," a new American play written by Valentine Bean. Based on Henrik Ibsen's Hedda Gabler, it will be produced by the Tufts Community Players on February 7 and 8 and again on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 13 ,14 and 15, at the Tufts Arena Theatre in Medford. The new play is staged for arena by its author who has chosen Boston's own Beacon Hill as the American setting, taking place in the late 19th Century. A moving story of a searching and desperate woman, it is written with deep understanding and compassion.

The Tufts Community Players, organized by Tufts Alumni, draws its talent from interested actors in the Greater Boston area. In an arena theatre designed by Margo Jones, the Community players have staged a variety of theatre, experimental and original.

Miss Hoxie has appeared with the Winchester Community Players in "Light up the Sky" and the Western Playhouse in Vermont where with a summer stock company, she played the leading role in "Solid Gold Cadillac." She is well remembered for her performance at the Tufts Arena Theatre in "Picnic" and "Suspended Sentence."



VAN DOREN GUEST OF HONOR

An English instructor who won $129,000 on a quiz show, became consultant to NBC-TV and—because he likes to teach—retained a $4500-a-year post at Columbia, will be a guest of honor at the Massachusetts Heart Fund's 1958 kick-off dinner to be held Wednesday, February 5, at 7:00 p. m.

Because of an unprecedented demand for reservations, the Massachusetts Heart Association today announced that the dinner, originally scheduled to be held in the Sheraton-Plaza, will be given instead in the Hotel Somerset.

Charles Van Doren, whose brilliant performance on NBC-TV's "Twenty-One" held millions of U. S. viewers spellbound for several weeks, now serves as an advisor on public affairs and educational programming for the network.

He is the son of Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Mark Van Doren and, at 31, is one of the nation's most sought-after speakers.

Fifty-six Massachusetts Heart Association researchers, representing an investment of $275,524.13 in Boston's medical centers for the past year, will also be honored guests.

The group represents research into some of the most exciting frontiers of medical science, reaching not only into the cardiac field but many phases of circulatory, kidney and pulmonary diseases and related basic sciences.

Principal speaker at the traditional event will be Brig-Gen. Thomas W. Mattingly, internationally known chief of the cardiovascular department at Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington.

Abbey Lincoln, song stylist who will be appearing at Storyville, will entertain at the dinner, which marks the official opening of the MHA's campaign to broaden vitally needed programs of research, education and community services.

Gen. Mattingly was summoned to Denver when President Eisenhower suffered his heart attack, but long before his name made headlines he was known to the medical profession as one of the nation's outstanding cardiologists. He is particularly well known in Boston, where he spent a year in the graduate cardiac service at Massachusetts General Hospital under Dr. Paul Dudley White, another Presidential consultant.

Gen. Mattingly is a graduate of the Georgetown University Medical School. He joined the Army Medical Corps in 1935 and served in New Guinea and the Philippines in World War II. He did post graduate cardiological work at St. Louis University and Harvard. He served as chief of the medical service at Ft. Meade, Md., in 1946 and as chief of cardiology at Mt. Sam Houston in 1947. In 1950 he was made chief of the Walter Reed heart center.

Head table guests at the kickoff dinner will include Drs. Paul Dudley White, and Howard B. Sprague, past presidents of the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations; Dr. Robert W. Wilkins, president of the American Heart Association; Dr. Edward F. Bland, Massachusetts Heart Association president; and Dr. Andrew W. Contratto, president of the Association's Greater Boston Chapter.

Highlight of the 1958 Heart Fund campaign in Massachusetts will be Heart Sunday on February 23, when thousands of Heart Neighbors throughout the state will visit their friends to accept the contributions making possible the Association's work.

NINE-YEAR-OLD WRITES ODE TO TURNPIKE

It was not love, the moon or sunrise that awoke the bard in nine year old Renee Fox of 119 Newton avenue north, Worcester, it was the Massachusetts Turnpike that caused her to resort to an expression in verse. Acknowledgment of her rhyming comment was answered in business office prose by Chairman William F. Callahan of the toll road authority.

Little Miss Fox wrote:—

The Massachusetts Turnpike

There are many roads in the world
But they are all alike.
For there's just one that I adore,
And that's the Mass. Turnpike.

We ride along the countryside,
But the scenery I do not like;
For the scenery I like best
Is on the Mass. Turnpike.

We ride along the bumpety roads,
And that I really do not like.
For the smoothest roads that I can find
Are on the Mass. Turnpike.

Chairman Callahan sent her a couple of shoulder patches with the Turnpike's insignia and a lighter, for her father, bearing the toll road's seal.

YOUR FAMILY

(By Joseph D. Burroughs, Extension specialist in human relations College of Agriculture, University of Massachusetts.)

Conflict in marriage may be productive if it is directed at issues, problems and conditions, rather than "getting personal." Conflict is destructive if it concentrates on the personalities of the participants and the fundamentals on which the marriage is based.

Marriage conflicts are commonly handled in one of these three ways: a state of hostility, compromise or accommodation.

A state of hostility is characterized by a constant state of conflict, tension, antagonism, quarreling, bickering, nagging. When destructive conflict becomes never-ending and repetitious in marriage, when bitterness, hostility, resentment and recriminations grow and multiply, the couple should seek the help of an experienced marriage counselor.

In the compromise situation mutually satisfactory adjustments are worked out in which each partner compromises to a certain extent on an agreement satisfactory to both. But compromises should not make demands which interfere with health, efficiency, happiness or potentialities of total personality development.

The third way of handling a marriage conflict—accommodation—is sometimes phrased "antagonistic cooperation" or "peaceful coexistence." Accommodation means striking an equilibrium in which each comes to tolerate opposing viewpoints or behavior in the other with little or no protest. Differences are "tabled" in the interest of other common goals, placing little or no strain on the relationship.

Throughout married life, problems and differences should be met and solved as they arise. The longer an unsatisfactory marital situation is allowed to persist, the greater the problems involved in changing it.

JOINS DRAPER SEARS INVESTMENT FIRM

John J. Desmond, Jr., of Milton who retired last June as State Commissioner of Education under the statutory age requirement has joined the investment firm of Draper, Sears & Company according to an announcement made today. Mr. Desmond will be a registered representative of the firm and will work with the Winchester office managed by John I. Donovan.

At the time of his retirement from the office of Commissioner of Education Mr. Desmond had served 11 years in that capacity. He prepared at Boston Latin School for Harvard and graduated cum laude in 1909 taking his Master of Arts degree with final honors a year later.

His first position in education was as Vice-Principal of Saugus High School. He went from there to the Cambridge school system in 1911 and became Headmaster of Chicopee High School in 1913, and Superintendent of Schools in that city in 1921. It was while serving there that he was called to assume the leadership of the State's educational system in 1946.

Mr. Desmond brings excellent experience to his new work. For a number of years as fiduciary he managed several estates and while residing in Chicopee he was Director of the Chicopee Co-operative Bank and a corporator of the Chicopee Savings Bank.

As Commissioner of Education he was responsible for the annual budget and was called upon to justify it before Legislative Committees. As Trustee of various state aided institutions he passed on investments of endowment funds. These included the University of Massachusetts, the New Bedford Institute of Textiles and Technology and the Lowell Technological Institute. He was also a member of the Corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a Trustee of the Museum of Science and the Museum of Fine Arts.

B. U. ALUMNI CLUBS MEET THURSDAY

"Artificial Earth Satellites" will be one of the subjects under discussion at a combined dinner meeting of the Arlington-Lexington-Winchester, North Shore and Belmont Boston University alumni clubs on Thursday, February 6, at 7:00 p. m. at the University's conference center, Osgood Hill, North Andover. In addition, a discussion of the University's development program will be held.

Dr. Gerald S. Hawkins of Cambridge, assistant professor of astronomy at the University's college of liberal arts, will speak on the artificial moons. Dr. Hawkins, who is also a member of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratories, has done extensive research on meteors.

Carter Harrison, also of Cambridge, director of development at Boston University, will discuss the University's plans for expansion. Boston University is currently engaged in a long-range $60 million development campaign.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT COUPLES' CLUB SQUARE DANCE

The Wednesday Night Couples' Club of the First Congregational Church will hold its annual square dance at the Kelsey Ranch, 145 Spring street, Lexington on Friday, February 7 from 8:30 p. m. to 12:00 p. m. Dick Steele will return this year as caller by popular demand.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. King are in charge of the arrangements. Mrs. Wallace McDonald of 8 Norwood street is in charge of reservations.

TWO NAMED TO NORTHEASTERN DEAN'S LIST

Two Winchester students at Northeastern University were named to the Dean's List for the fall term. The dean's list requires an academic average of "B" with no grade below "C".

The local boys were Walter P. Keyes, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Keyes of 7 Sanborn street, and Roy G. Port, son of Mrs. Margaret G. Port of 54 Hemingway street.

WILLIAM J. SPEERS, JR.

WILLIAM J. SPEERS, JR., RE-ELECTED

The Republican Club of Massachusetts, largest GOP organization in the State, held its annual meeting last evening at the Harvard Club, Boston, re-elected William J. Speers, Jr., Winchester lawyer, as president, and heard as the occasion's chief speaker, Robert Gray, President Eisenhower's appointment secretary.

Other officers re-elected include Ambassador Thomas A. Pappas, Belmont, as vice-president; Gen. Otis M. Whitney, State Commissioner of Public Safety, as treasurer; and former Senator Richard S. Bowers, of Brookline, as secretary.

Four new directors were elected, Senator Ralph Mahar, of Orange; ex - Representative Raymond Schlapp, of Methuen; Gage Bailey, of Cambridge, a member of the Republican State Committee; and Edward J. Goodfellow, of Boston, an ex-President of the Suffolk County Republican Club.

Re-elected as directors are: Charles Gibbons, Stoneham, former Speaker of the House of Representatives and retiring Chairman of the Republican State Committee; D. Joseph St. Germain, Springfield; General Edward D. Sirois, Lawrence, former Chairman of the State Committee; Adnan H. Harlow, Sheriff of Plymouth County; David J. Mintz, Member of M.D.C., Newton; and Elmer C. Nelson, Mendon, former Chairman of the State Committee.

It was reported that the meeting was the best attended annual meeting in years, more than 300 being present from all sections of the State.

UNITED FUND "COME-AND-SEE" TOURS

Come and see. That's the invitation the United Fund has extended to acquaint people with some of the extensive services of its 388 benefiting agencies.

In response to this invitation, a group of 30 toured the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital, a Red Feather agency, and one which is unique in this country for its intensive research and treatment of arthritic patients. Much of this research is made possible by grants from the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, a United Fund member receiving special recognition this month.

Some of the tour was conducted by John McGill of Cambridge, who was severely stricken with arthritis and incapacitated with arthritis for one year at the hospital. After much intensive treatment, McGill resumed his career and is now at work as a technical writer and editor of Trans-Sonics, Inc., in Burlington.

Doctors, physical therapists, vocational therapists, and social workers at the hospital discussed the special difficulties of the arthritic patient and explained to the visiting group that no cause or cure for the disease has yet been found. Patients can be rehabilitated but recurrent attacks are common. A great deal of research is critically needed.

This 'Come and See' tour is part of a year-round United Fund educational program, designed to give people a closer look at vital agency services.

WHITELAW WRIGHT APPOINTED PRODUCTS SUPERVISOR

Whitelaw Wright, formerly of Winchester and a graduate of Winchester High School, has been appointed product supervisor for Beckman Instruments' Spinco Division.

Headquartered at Palo Alto, Calif., Mr. Wright will direct product sales planning of all new products for the division which manufactures a broad line of specialized instrumentation for medical research and clinical applications.

Mr. Wright joins Beckman after serving as Chicago branch sales manager for Fisher Scientific Co.

A chemical engineering graduate of the Tufts University College of Engineering, Mr. Wright is a member of the American Chemical Society and the Armed Forces Chemical Association.

Mr. Wright lives in Sunnyvale, Calif., with his wife and four children.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS HANS AUSHMAN

The Winchester Rotary Club speaker on January 23 was Hans Aushman of Zurick, Switzerland. Mr. Aushman spoke about his native country and of how the Swiss government differs from that of the U. S. He also showed some excellent slides of Switzerland. He is a graduate of the University of Zurick and is a Rotary Foundation Scholarship Fellow in advanced engineering at M.I.T.

Last week the Club heard Peter Odel. The Rotary wishes to remind its members that February is the month for 100% attendance.

What are the duties of a TRUSTEE?

This depends upon the terms of the trust. They vary all the way from safekeeping to active management. Usually, the duties are to take care of the property, to manage it, to make it productive, and to distribute the property, income and principal, as authorized or directed, and finally to make a proper accounting. The trustee is under a duty to carry out the terms of the trust, whatever they are, as long as they do not call for the trustee's doing what is unlawful, against public policy, or impossible. We could give you a long list of duties of a trustee, but we doubt that, apart from a specific trust, the list would be helpful.

DAY — MARKERT

White snapdragons, palms, evergreens and candelabra decorated the South Church in Andover, Saturday, January 25, for the marriage of Miss Constance Ruth Markert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy T. Markert of 56 Chestnut street, Andover, and William Stanley Day, son of Mr .and Mrs. Stanley Day of 50 Jefferson road. The Rev. Frederick B. Noss, South Church minister, performed the 2:30 p. m. ceremony. Music was by Lou Steigler, minister of music at the Church.

Miss Markert was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding dress was of white peau de faille with a scoop decolletage outlined in caviar bead embroidery and crystal drops. The belled skirt with a calla lilly back detail terminated in a full court train. Her veil was of imported English illusion falling to a fingertip length from a coronet of illusion and pearls. Her flowers were roses with English ivy in modified crescent shape.

Mrs. Howard P. Morrison of Plainville was honor attendant for her sister. She wore a cranberry taffeta dress and matching head band. She wore pink gloves and carried pale pink roses in a modified crescent. The flower girl was Jill Elizabeth Markert of North Scituate, R. I., niece of the bride. The junior bridesmaids were Miss Linda Jane Morrison of Plainville and Miss Wendi Lee Markert of Andover, also nieces of the bride. They all wore blush pink organdy and nylon dresses trimmed with white lace and tiny bows of cranberry velvet. They wore pink gloves with cranberry velvet bands and all but the flower girl carried replicas of the bride's bouquet. The flower girl carried a small white basket of sweetheart roses and ivy.

John T. Day of Winchester served as best man for his brother. Ushers were David L. Markert of Andover, brother of the bride, John H. Markert and Robert H. Markert, both of North Scituate, R. I.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Fellowship Hall at the South Church which was decorated in white snapdragons, white carnations, white roses, Ivy and Southern cedar and eucalyptus. Mrs. Markert wore a dress of cocoa brown with mauve hat and gloves and pale pink camellias. Mrs. Day wore a Dior blue dress with matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

After a wedding trip to New York city, Mr. and Mrs. Day will live in Medford.

Mrs. Day is a graduate of Abbot Academy and attended Colby Junior College. She is a graduate of Simmons College and Mass. General Hospital School for Medical Record Librarians. Mr. Day is a graduate of the Mamaroneck (N. Y.) High School and attended Purdue University before serving with the U. S. Army in Germany. He is an engineer at Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton in Waltham and is taking courses at Boston University.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

A July wedding is planned by Miss Carol Shaffer, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Lowell K. Shaffer of Delphos, Ohio, announce her engagement to Mr. Richard B. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland R. Carter of Winchester.

Miss Shaffer is a senior at Bowling Green State University. Her fiance attended Winchester schools and Nichols Junior College.

PELUSO — SPARACO

St. Raphael's Church in West Medford was decorated with pompons for the wedding of Miss Carol Ann Sparaco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sparaco of 21 Baxter terrace, West Medford, and A. Henry Peluso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peluso of 265 Washington street. The 10 o'clock ceremony was held on Saturday, January 25.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chiffon taffeta gown with basque waist of Chantilly lace and the same motif in front, traditional long sleeves and a chapel length train. Her imported silk illusion, four tier veil was attached to a pill box head piece trimmed with pearls and stephanotis. She carried a prayer book with an orchid and streamers of sweet peas.

Miss Marilyn Petronio of West Medford was honor attendant. She wore a shrimp color length silk organza dress with an embroidered bodice and a taffeta cummerbund. Her double banded pearl headpiece had a matching veil. She carried a winter bouquet. The bridesmaids were Miss Gladys Alexander of Medford and Miss Patricia Rubbicco of West Medford. They were dressed in contillia blue street length dresses with embroidered bodice and taffeta cummerbunds. They wore double banded headpieces and a matching veil. Each carried a winter bouquet.

Anthony Peluso of Malden was best man for his brother. Ushers were Robert Peluso of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom; Joseph Sparaco of West Medford, brother of the bride; and Herbert Musmon of Mattapan.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Fensgate in Boston. Mrs. Sparaco wore a beige silk chiffon dress with a matching hat and Mrs. Peluso wore a blue and green printed silk dress. Each mother wore an orchid.

After a wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Peluso will make their home in Medford. Mr. Peluso is in the insurance business.

Mrs. Peluso is a graduate of Medford High School and is a secretary at the equitable Life Assurance Society. Mr. Peluso graduated from Winchester High School and Boston University.

MISS GRAY ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clifton Gray of 4 Ridgefield road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise Bradlee, to Mr. Paul Kenneth Gahm, son of Mrs. Philip Gahm of Milton and the late Mr. Gahm.

Miss Gray was graduated from Winchester High School in 1953, attended Skidmore College for two years and graduated from Tufts University in 1957. Mr. Gahm was graduated from Mount Hermon School in 1950 and from Dartmouth College in 1954, where he was a member of Delta Chi fraternity.

A summer wedding is planned.

UNITARIAN JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP NEWS

Which sex is more appreciative of the food that comes out of the kitchen may have been answered last Sunday afternoon, when the boys outnumbered the girls at a kitchen party prepared for the Junior High Fellowship at the church.

Buttered hands pulled molasses candy with gusto while strong ones ground away at the ice cream freezers. At one time the rapidly-consumed popcorn was blazing hot, but the adult committee could find no evidence of appreciation any greater than the picture of one small boy rubbing his stomach and, at the same time, rolling his eyes with complete satisfaction as he downed slice after slice of Dolly Bryant's just-out-of-the-oven home made bread, slathered in butter, some of which had been made by the youngsters right on the spot.

Small prizes were offered to the boy and girl who could come up with the greatest number of correct guesses as to the uses of a variety of old-time utensils spread out on one of the tables. Their failure to recognize a button hook came as a shock to some of the adults who had begun to feel younger just by witnessing the spectacle of youth enjoying itself!

Before departing, the boys and girls, with heart-felt enthusiasm, gave three lusty cheers to the parents for their contributions to an afternoon thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Bryant expertly prepared the candy and the bread. Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hutchings supervised the corn popping, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams handled the time-consuming preparation of the ice cream. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rich, Mrs. Earle Littleton, Mrs. Elinor Starkweather and Rev. Robert Storer were helpful attending guests.

FISHER MOVES TO MICHIGAN

Peter L. Fisher, formerly of 6 Bacon street has taken up residence in Bay City, Michigan, where his wife has a teaching position in the Elementary Schools.

Before his separation from the Navy on October 23, Peter was in the public information office on the Cruiser Macon whose home base was Boston. During the summer the ship went to South America and in September took part in the NATO maneuvers in the North Atlantic so that in a two month period he crossed the Equator and the Arctic Circle. The ship then visited Scotland and Denmark before returning to Boston.

Peter has bought a trailer in preparation for returning to college next September as a junior at Michigan State College. In the meantime he is successfully selling cemetery lots.

Everyday and special occasion greeting cards await your selection at the Star office, 3 Church street.

SPEAKER AT COUPLES' CLUB SOCIAL

The monthly social get-together of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Couples' Club will be held Tuesday evening, February 4, in the new social hall. The usual fellowship period starting at 6:30 will be followed by a smorgasbord dinner and a talk by Paul R. Leach, Jr., of the Public Relations Department of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

Mr. Leach, eastern manager of the Du Pont Company's Extension Division will talk on the essential factors which have given the United States the greatest volume of production and the highest standard of living in the world.

In his talk, entitled "Where is Your Future?", Mr. Leach will show some of the newest developments in chemical research and discuss how they get out of the test tube and into the hands of the public as useful products.

The speaker was formerly in newspaper work in Wilmington, Del., and Chicago, Ill., and, following World War II, was a Washington Correspondent for the McGraw-Hill Publications.

He has been with the Du Pont Company since 1950, traveling extensively throughout the middle western and eastern parts of the nation addressing civic, educational, business and other organizations.

Safe Walking Tip: Jay-walking doesn't save time. You usually get stranded in mid-street trying to buck traffic. It isn't worth the risk you run of being hit. So cross only with the green traffic light, advises the American Automobile Association. Such precaution pays off in safety for you.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

On Sunday, February 2, the senior fellowship of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will meet at the home of Aprille and Robert Godwin. The Reverend Richard B. Skobe of the Malden Centre Methodist Church will speak on "Basic Protestant Beliefs." Refreshments will be served and an inspiring yet good time is anticipated.

Last Sunday, January 26, the fellowship met at the home of Barbara and Eleanor Dyer. A Bible quiz was led by Miss Shirley Kinney. The members brought sandwiches with them to the meeting and cocoa and dessert were served at the meeting. Altogether it was an entertaining evening.

Tip For Pedestrians Who Can't Drive: If you can't drive you are nine times as liable to be killed by traffic as a pedestrian who can drive. Non-driving pedestrians don't realize that it takes time for a driver to stop. So never cross the street until the way is clear, advises the AAA.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS REACHES CRASH SCENE QUICKLY

The following report for the Red Cross was written by John Cleary, son of Mrs. Mary L. Cleary of 3 Winthrop street. Johnny has been in the Junior Red Cross for over a month and has given much of his free time to working at the new chapter house on Washington street. He is 13 years old and is in the seventh grade at St. Mary's School.

Time: approximately 11:34 a. m., Thursday, January 23, 1958. I was walking by the corner of Mystic Valley parkway and Winthrop street and I saw some high school boys pointing to the sky and what appeared to be a jet burning in the air. It made an arch and then disappeared. I did not hear any explosion.

Time: approximately 11:36 a. m. I heard Box 143 turned in. About 11:40 a. m. the Winchester ambulance went up Mystic Valley parkway and then the whistle blew for all auxiliary police, firemen and Red Cross to report to headquarters. I got my Red Cross arm band and ran to the Red Cross Headquarters. I alerted Mrs. Elizabeth Cusack and told her that I had a report that a plane had crashed on South Border road. She in turn alerted all Red Cross directors who are called upon in time of disaster. I got all first aid supplies and stretchers ready for use. In a few minutes Mr. Gerald Hills came and got Red Cross supplies and we preceeded to the scene of the crash. When we arrived at the crash, I saw that two houses were on fire; on closer examination I saw that some of the plane was still burning. The Chief of one of the fire departments told me that the plane had come over the second house and had smashed into the bedroom, demolishing it and part of the garage, and also had cracked a foot thick cement wall.

The chief also said that the plane did not hit the house but the gasoline from the fuel tanks went down the slope and started the fire next door. The intensified heat made fighting the fire more difficult.

Mr. Gerald Hills, Red Cross first aid director, and I then went back to the car for some ammonia tubes which are used to relieve fainting. We then went back to the house and went inside. The first thing that I saw were the owners of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Bousquet. While the man from the Red Cross tried to calm Mrs. Bousquet, I went into the bedroom. The bed in which Mrs. Bousquet had been sleeping two minutes before the plane crashed had been broken in splinters. The mattress had been ripped to shreds and a six-inch supporting beam in the roof had been snapped like a toothpick. The only things not smashed were a small table, a dresser and a TV set.

I left the bedroom and went into the kitchen where a plainclothesman asked me to lock the back door to keep all people out. Mrs. Bousquet was hysterical and crying, Mr. Hills and I tried to calm her down.

I went over to her husband and he told me that she had just gotten up before the plane smashed through the bedroom. I asked him if I could call a doctor and he said I could call Dr. Philip McManus from next door. In the meantime the minister of their church came over and helped quiet her down. An officer and two men asked me if I would go over to the Ridge street section near Arlington to see if anyone was hurt over there. We went over and saw the crash on Lowell street where one of the pilots was being given Last Rites. He was inside the inner parts of the plane. The other pilot was underneath a parachute and he was dead. We saw we could not do anything else here so we went back.

I helped the MDC police and the Air Police keep the people away from the houses and the woman at this time. I was asked to stay outside the door and make sure no one except the Air Force Police saw her. A few minutes later she was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the MDC cruiser. The press arrived and took pictures and the ambulance and fire truck from Bedford Airport and the military officials, the crash inspectors, Air Police and C.A.P. The inspectors began going through the wreckage. The area was roped off and no one but the military and civilian police and the Red Cross were allowed inside.

The inspectors talked to all the policemen and firemen and witnesses to the crash, then a 2½ ton truck and a portable crane and seven men arrived on the scene to remove what was left of the wreckage to the Bedford airport for closer examination. The Red Cross served 100 cups of coffee and 100 sandwiches and doughnuts to the men. The sandwiches and coffee were prepared under the direction of Mrs. Kingman Cass and Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, canteen chairmen.

Some of the others who worked on the disaster from the Red Cross were Mrs. W. E. Ramsdell who made sandwiches, Miss Ruth Leydon who helped man the office and helped out with the sandwiches, Miss Edna Wild and Mrs. Rebecca Meigs who was volunteering as staff aide at the office on Thursday morning. Mr. William Wilde, Jr., disaster chairman, drove the station wagon and supervised operations and Mr. Royce Randlett, chapter chairman, was on the scene.

Besides this, the Red Cross administered first aid at the scene and kept in touch with both the Bousquet and the Maspero families. The Maspero children are spending the week at the Cape and Mrs. Bousquet is in the Winchester Hospital. Mr. Bousquet was staying in Andover. The Bridge street house which was hit by the falling engine is livable and Miss Brown and her mother declined the offer of the bedroom in the Red Cross headquarters. Miss Natalie Jewett and Mrs. J. Edward Downes, of the Home Services had kept in contact with the families since the accident.

The Metropolitan Red Cross Chapter was on the accident scene in minutes because the Fells area is Metropolitan territory. Other chapters offering their services immediately were Cambridge, Reading and Medford. These Chapters were not called because there was felt to be no need for them to come.

Also the Red Cross served as a collection depot for parts of the jets which were found around town. Tommy Dolben of 15 Lakeview road and Edward Horne of 3 Stratford road both brought in the parts so the Air Force could pick them up.

EYEWITNESS REPORT OF JET PLANE COLLISION

The following article is an eyewitness report of the jet plane accident on January 23. It was written by James Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Howell of 624 Main street, who was having lunch at the time the incident occurred. Jimmy Howell is in the seventh grade at the Junior High School. This is the way he wrote it:

Air Plane Crash Kills Two

The way I saw it was like this: I was in school when it happened. We go outside after we eat. I was outside playing tag with some boys when all of a sudden I looked up at the sky and saw a whole stack of smoke. I next saw the plane, at first I didn't know what I saw; I couldn't believe it. Then I saw a thing falling down, I found out it was a seat. It seemed like a man falling but it wasn't; it was the seat.

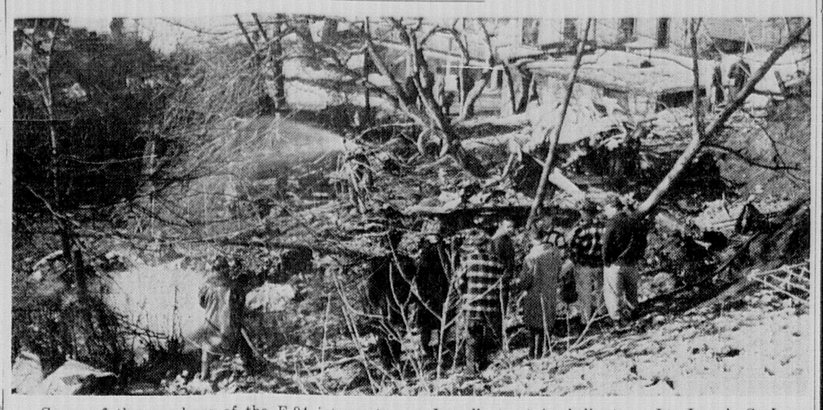
Then I saw two white things that looked like balloons. I then realized it was two parachutes. I found out that the wing of the plane landed on South Border road.

It crashed on the side of the house and set the house on fire. When it hit the ground it threw off pieces of fire and pieces of metal that hit the side of another house and started it afire. The two airplanes smashed right into each other and the wing of one landed between two houses.

Two men were rushed to the hospital and two men were killed. The firemen rushed down and put out the fire.

That is the way I heard and saw it.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.



Scene of the wreckage of the F-94 interceptor on Lowell street in Arlington. Lt. Joseph G. Izzea of West Falmouth and Lt. John P. Horan of Falmouth were both killed in this crash. The plane went into the hill on which the people in the foreground are standing. The tire swing used in backyard games can be seen at the center of the picture. The fireman at the left is hosing down a section of the plane while the larger section with the star can be seen at the right background.

The Plane Crash In Pictures

Above is the home of Mrs. Ethel E. Brown and her daughter Mary, a hairdresser with Fred the Hair Stylist, and Mrs. Charles T. O'Connor on Bridge street. The photo shows the hole made by the falling engine. The fire set off by the incident called firemen away from the High street section where the plane was first reported to be located.

A section of the jet plane which crashed on South Border road. This piece of the wreckage was found near the Army camp. Other pieces of the ill-fated planes were found all over Winchester with a large section found in Robert Lybeck's yard on Everell road and another large piece found by Charlie Barnes next to the railroad tracks near Spruce street. Others who reported parts of the wreckage in their yards were Lester Gustin of 407 Highland avenue, Philip Boone of Fenwick road and numerous others who found smaller parts.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Maspero lived in this house at 432 South Border road. The photo shows the section of the house which the falling plane hit. The Masperos' five-year-old son Joey was playing in the yard and their daughter was in a bedroom which later caught fire from the flaming plane when the crash occurred. The two jets collided in mid-air at speeds reported to be nearly 450 mph, and the T-33 trainer from Stewart Air Force Base fell to the ground after Capt. William Bridges and Lt. Harold Waldmoe had parachuted to safety.

The above picture shows the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Bousquet and the section of the jet which is between the two houses which were burned. Mrs. Bousquet had been in bed recovering from the flu and her unusual desire for a cup of tea resulted in her life being saved. For only minutes after she had left the bedroom the wreckage ricocheted from the Maspero house next door, crushed her bed and set the house in flames.

Karl F. Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Oliver of 14 Stevens street, is shown here standing beside the engine of the jet which was found on Bridge street. This piece of the plane along with most of the other large pieces was picked up by the Air Force soon after they were located and reported to the local police and firemen.

AUXILIARY POLICE ON ACCIDENT SCENE

Among the various groups who were immediately on the accident scene Thursday when the jet planes collided in mid-air over the Winchester-Medford line were the Winchester auxiliary police.

Under the direction of Chief Herbert T. Wadsworth, Joseph Moffett, deputy chief, Anthony Barbaro, Charles Hart, James Connolly and Jay Killian were at the South Border road section within minutes after the plane was located there. The auxiliaries covered traffic points and supervised the crowds of onlookers who gathered at the site. In addition, the auxiliary police cooperated with the regular police and fire department in protecting the wreckage from souvenir hunters.

IT'S BETTER TO LIVE RICH
Than Die Rich!
This is a pretty smart proverb.
How often people have said, "Some day I'd like to have a Hammond Organ. I'd love to roll out those big chords, pull out all those orchestra combinations . . ."
Well, what are you waiting for?
It's easier than you think to play a Hammond Organ. Even simple tunes sound rich and grand, with all the thousands of tone combinations a Hammond gives you.
And you don't have to be rich to live rich! The Spinet Model costs only $135 down, with three years to pay.
Come in—and see what it's like to live a little!

Senior Forum Holds Tenth International Week End On Feb. 8, 9

Forum is looking forward with great anticipation to its Tenth International Week End this Saturday and Sunday, February 8 and 9. A record number of 87 foreign guests, representing 27 different countries, will be spending the week end in the homes of Forum families. The many details have been worked out by Forum Director Rev. Wesley A. Mallery, Forum Adult Adviser Mrs. Arnold A. Goodwin, and International Week End Chairmen Elizabeth Fisher and Peter Gowing.

The student guests will be met at the International Student Center in Cambridge on Saturday afternoon by Forum parents who have been procured by Martin Kazanjian, transportation chairman. Among those helping in this way are: Mr. Robert Blake, Mr. Lawrence Beckley, Mr. Arnold Goodwin, Mr. Edgar Hinton, Mr. Oscar Kazanjian, Mr. James Murray, Mr. Robert Morrison, Mr. Richard Osgood, Mr. Francis Parsons, Mr. Carl Richmond, Mr. Campbell Ross, Mr. Seth Shorey, Mr. Benton Stewart, Mr. William Swett, Mr. Lawrence Templeman, Mr. Gilman Wallace.

A majority of the guests will be brought to their respective weekend homes in time to be taken to Lynn to witness the high school hockey game, after which they will meet with the remaining guests and their Forum hosts and hostesses at 6:30 p.m. for a delicious dinner prepared and served by Mrs. Bradford Bentley and her committee consisting of Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, Mrs. Harry Arlanson, Mrs. Edward Bailey, Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Charles Crede, Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper, Mrs. Frank Kelley, Mrs. John Monro, Mrs. Aram Mouradian, Mrs. Howard Niblock, Mrs. Carl Richmond, and Mrs. Gilman Wallace. Mrs. Erskine H. Kelley has charge of the dining room where tables will be set under the direction of Martha Dyer and Roberta Mulford, chairmen. Waiters and waitresses have been obtained by Liz Osborne and Natalie Kelley, and Mrs. Herbert Clark, adviser, will be in charge.

A program of entertainment has been planned and square dancing will be enjoyed by all with Dudley Briggs as caller.

MISS JEAN MANIMON

Miss Jean Manimon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Manimon of 58 Bacon street, was elected a member of the queen's court at the winter carnival at Endicott Junior College in Beverly, where she is a freshman student majoring in secretarial science. She is a graduate of Winchester High School.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 27 ENTERTAINS BRITISH VISITOR

The girls of Troop 27, with Mrs. Frank Weafer, their leader, were happy to entertain Miss Kathleen Phillips at the Girl Scout cabin Tuesday afternoon. Miss Phillips is the District Commissioner of Girl Guides for Westgate and Birchington in the County of Kent, England.

Troop 27, a fifth grade troop at St. Mary's plans eventually to become a World Fellowship troop. After tea, Miss Phillips talked to the troop and guests on Girl Guiding in England. When she returns to her own country, she will send our girls names of pen pals in her district. Lasting friendships have been started this way.

In 1954, the Girl Scouts of Senior Troop IV, with Mrs. Vivian White, leader, visited Miss Phillip's crew of Sea Rangers, the S.R.S. Majestic. The girls who went to England that year are also entertaining Miss Phillips. The story of that reunion will appear next week.

Surprise Party for Leader

Troop 5, 8th grade Junior High troop, surprised their leader, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, with a birthday party last week at the home of Mrs. Francis Bowes. The girls presented her with a birthday cake they made and decorated themselves, and a gift. The meeting became a gay social hour, with singing and dancing and refreshments for all. Mrs. Ruth Palace and Mrs. Bowes, assistant leaders helped serve. The party was planned by the girls without the knowledge of their leader.

Director Giving Training Course

Mrs. Eleanor Shinnick, our executive director, is one of the instructors giving a 20 hour course for Volunteer Trainers in Reading. This is given in cooperation with the other towns in our section.

PUBLIC HEARING

Next Tuesday, February 11, at 8 p.m. in the music room of the senior high school, the junior-senior high school building committee will hold a public hearing, at which it is hoped that those who have suggestions for solving the space shortage in the secondary school system will give the committee the benefit of their ideas.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Star is a summary of Dr. Kimball's study on future school enrollments. This study was requested by the building committee and is one of several projections being studied by the committee.

ROTARY NEWS

Last week's speaker at the Rotary Club was Charles Gibbons from Stoneham who has been rumored to be either a candidate for Governor or for State Senator in opposition to John F. Kennedy. Mr. Gibbons spoke about politics from the Republican slant. He impressed upon the group the need for everyone to get out to vote.

This week Arthur Bonney will take over as chairman of the February programs. The theme for this week was Boy Scouts in keeping with National Boy Scout Week.

Again the Club reminds its members that this month is 100% attendance month.

COURT OF HONOR AWARDS TO SEVEN EAGLE SCOUTS

Seven Winchester boy scouts will receive their Eagle awards at the Court of Honor ceremonies in the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 7:15 p. m. Four Life, five Star and three Eagle bronze palm awards will also be presented.

Enetertainment will be furnished by two Indian dance groups in full authentic regalia and body paint from Troop 7, Winchester, and Troop 31, Concord. Six scouts who entertained at the national jamboree last summer also will play.

Charles Forbes, Council Commissioner, will present Eagle awards to Alfred Bonney and Brian Walsh, Troop 2, David Taylor, Roger Newton and John Mallery, Troop 3, and Jonathan Hopkins and Steve Bair, Troop 7.

Life scout awards will be made by Charles Osgood to Richard Sjoholm and Paul Wickwire of Troop 9; John Looney, Troop 12, and Richard Osgood, Troop 2.

Winners of the Eagle bronze palms, introduced by Francis Mcfeeley, will be Richard Niles and Clifford Sundberg, Post 3, and Alan McDougall, Troop 9.

Bill Wickwire will present the Star Scout awards to Richard Clark, Richard Hansen, David Tesor, Robert Wyman, and Thomas LeGates, all of Troop 9.

Jim Harrington, District Chairman, will be master of ceremonies of the program which includes a science show and a safety talk by Bartley Nourse. Ken Hall will receive a special award.

Father Parker of the Immaculate Conception Church will offer the opening prayer and Mr. Mallery of the First Congregational Church the closing prayer.

THOMAS. H DUMPER

Thomas H. Dumper, 83, formerly of Winchester, died Tuesday, January 8, at the Barstable County Hospital after a brief illness. He had lived in Chatham for 11 years before his death.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio, on January 24, 1875, the son of Walter and Jane Lewis Dumper, Mr. Dumper came to New England about 50 years ago. Before his retirement some 15 years ago he was president of the F. S. Carr Company in Boston. He was also president of the Meredith Linen Mills in Meredith, N. H.

Widely known in Winchester, Mr. Dumper was a member of the William Parkman Lodge, A.F. & A.M. and for many years was a vestryman at the Church of the Epiphany. He was a member of the Winchester Country Club while living here. Mr. and Mrs. Dumper had been married 55 years last March. Their last Winchester home before retiring to the Cape was at 38 Rangeley road.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice Hunt Dumper; a daughter, Mrs. Geoffrey Harwood both of Chatham; a brother Alfred Dumper of St. Cloud, Fla., and by several nieces, nephews, grand-nieces, and grand nephews. Another brother, the late Very Rev. Arthur Dumper, was dean of Trinity Cathedral in Newark, N. J.

Memorial services were held at 2 o'clock last Friday at the Church of the Holy Spirit in Orleans with the Rev. Lewis Sheen, rector of the church officiating.

MISS JOHNIAN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Aram Johnian of 19 Hillside avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Johnette, to Mr. Dale S. Grover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Grover, of Van Etten, New York.

Miss Johnian graduated from Winchester High School, Class of '53. She attended Northeastern University and will graduate from Fisher Junior College this June.

Mr. Grover attended Cortland State Teachers' College in New York and is presently serving with the United States Navy.

A Fall wedding has been planned.

MICHAEL POWER PLAYS PIANO RECITAL

A thoughtful and technically flawless concert was presented by Michael Power, concert pianist and member of the Winchester High School faculty, on February 3, in the high school auditorium. A large and appreciative audience listened attentively as Mr. Power gave his second public recital in Winchester, again for the benefit of the Wnichester High School Parent-Faculty Association fund for scholarships and school improvement.

The program opened with the Pastorale and Capriccio by Scarlatti-Tausig, a typically baroque selection with many trills and other musical ornaments. Mr. Power wisely did not play merely the notes, as many pianists do with this kind of music, nor did he try to put into this older composition the emotionalism of the works of Chopin, for example, which it was not meant to contain.

Two Beethoven sonatas, the one in F sharp (Opus 78) and the Appasionata (Opus 57) were the two massive creations presented next. In both of them Mr. Power displayed dazzling finger agility, proper understanding of some of the purposely angular, even harsh climaxes, and discreet musical taste in treating the welcome soft portions. He achieved perhaps the richest tone quality of the concert while playing the Andante con moto movement of the Appasionata sonata, a sweet and refreshingly ethereal interlude between the thunderous first and third movements.

The second half of the program consisted entirely of works by Chopin, whose reputation as "the poet of the piano" was admirably contracted to the more stiff, fateful genius of Beethoven. Mr. Power seemed most at home with the Sonata in B Minor (Opus 35), a long masterpiece which has been called a "poem of struggle and death" and "a sustained tragedy." The breathlessly haunting first movement was followed by a scherzo which, though lighter in character, still contained clanging, gaunt melodies portraying a life of sadness and anxiety. The subtle inner voices of this movement were carefully brought out by Mr. Power. Possibly the most rewarding interpretation of the evening was given to the familiar funeral march. The artist followed the monotonous, stark harmonies of the opening section with an exquisite performance of the beautiful melody in D flat, which forms a blissful respite from the overpoweringly mournful and clamorous preceding movements. In the mysterious presto conclusion to the sonata Mr. Power was most successful in presenting an impressionistic rather than a literal, note for note interpretation.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE STARTS NEW TERM FEBRUARY 11

Three weeks ago the magic of "Cinderella" with her mean though amusing step-mother and sisters; the mice and fairies; and the handsome prince and his cousins all came to Winchester High School stage and delighted hundreds of our Winchester children who flocked to the auditorium.

Next Tuesday, February 11, the Spring term will start again, and run each Tuesday for 9 weeks, with a production scheduled in the Jr. High School stage about April 11. Many of the children are now "veterans," some having been in the group since the Children's Theatre School started and began work on "Peter Pan" nearly two years ago.

The children find the work absorbing, exciting, (and sometimes tiresome), preparing the play, with rehearsals, dance, movement, costume plans and the actual painting of big and small flats and units for the stage (till now prepared on the floor of Mrs. Samoiloff's Studio!)

Though Mrs. Samoiloff will be in Europe for a year or more, her interest and attachment to the project is continuous. She has found a director for the Spring play, Miss Maureen Denny who is teaching at Wheelock College, and whom the Board of Directors of the Winchester Community Theatre have voted to engage. Miss Denny, will direct the play and will also have the children design and paint scenery for the production, which will take place at the Jr. High School in mid April.

Because of imposed dates of production the term will be for 10 weeks. The number of children enrolled will be limited. The play has been partly suggested by the children of the Cinderella cast.

The Children's Theatre School produces the plays in cooperation with the Winchester Community Theatre and the assistance of many mothers.

For registration see or call Mrs. Hiram Smith, treasurer; WInchester 6-0376. First meeting Tuesday, February 11. See our ad for further information.

METHODIST MINISTRY MARKS TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Reverend John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, marks the tenth anniversary of his ministry in Winchester this week.

The experience of the Reverend Snook's coming was quite unique in that he did not arrive at the appointed time. Some of us will recall the bad winter of 1948 and particularly the first Sunday of February when many of the churches were closed that day because of the severe snow storm. The Reverend Snook was allowed to remain in Marblehead another Sunday and then arrived in Winchester actually a week late.

The associations which have been made throughout the parish and community have made the pastor feel a sense of indebtedness and joy in the response and wonderful fellowship.

This Sunday, as the pastor begins his eleventh year, he has chosen for his message, "Compassion—A Key to the Kingdom." The theme will deal with one of the greatest needs of mankind today—the need of feeling and sharing the burdens and problems of others. It is more than just pity. The compassionate man does not merely say "I feel sorry for him," as he becomes aware of another's need. The true Christian by his Christian nature will share the problems and burdens of another whatever it involves. Whenever we contact or become aware of human beings who have needs and we can help we must never ignore the opportunity. This is the true mark of greatness in the life of any individual.

The Reverend Snook will share some experiences of his recent visit to the south and on other occasions where evidences of compassion impressed him as a Godlike ingredient, opening doors to the great kingdom of God, which every Christian desires to enter.

Friends of the community are cordially invited to share in this service of worship and inspiration.

ART ASSOCIATION

The February meeting of the Art Association was held Tuesday evening, February 4, in the Music Room of the High School. Coffee was served by Mrs. Everett A. Tisdale and Miss Alice A. Main. The speaker of the evening Prof. Marvin E. Goody was entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. William J. O'Malley. Previously this custom of entertaining the speaker for dinner has been graciously extended by Dr. and Mrs. George A. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Jones.

The subject of a new phase in architecture, "Plastics in Architecture" was interestingly discussed by Prof. Marvin E. Goody, A.I.A. who is now an assistant professor of architectural design at Mass. Institute of Technology. The use of plastics in the construction of houses was instigated when the Monsanto Chemical Co., went to M.I.T. and proposed a study of such a project. Prof. Goody was assigned to the problem and was guided by experts. The evening's discussion, illustrated by slides, was the development of this project as it evolved to completion. The problems of strength, durability, insulation, practical handling of the pre-fabricated parts and many other factors had to be worked out in this venture to use a new material in a variety of forms.

Finally a workable design was found using suitable component parts with the structure based on small units 16 ft. square placed together in the shape of the Red Cross. This flexible design of these units can be assembled in any number or shape desired to meet the requirements of space. As an experiment and demonstration a house made of plastic was built and set up and furnished in Disneyland, California, where it has already been viewed by more than a million persons.

HEART FUND LOCAL OFFICERS ANNOUNCED

Appointments of local officers in the 1958 Winchester Heart Fund were announced here today by Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., general chairman.

The Heart Fund, sponsored by the Massachusetts Heart Association, devotes the month of February to a campaign of fund-raising and education throughout the state.

Local officials named today to Winchester's Heart Fund are:

Dr. Richard J. Clark, 15 Dix street, chairman of Advanced Gifts; William G. Murray, 1 Thompson street, publicity chairman; Roy W. Horn, 2 Eaton court, Merchants chairman; William D. Sullivan, 93 Highland avenue, of the Winchester National Bank, 7 Church street, treasurer; and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Corcoran will form a husband-wife team to act as Heart Sunday chairmen.

On accepting their appointments, Mr. and Mrs. Corcoran stated that Mr. Murray, in addition to his duties as publicity chairman, will work on their committee as an area chairman for Heart Sunday. Duties of area chairmen include the supervision of organizational activities in a major sector of the community and the recruitment of Captains in the ranks of volunteers.

Roy Vercollone, of the George A. Hormel Company, who lives at 17 Edgehill road, Winchester, will act as Meat Packers' Chairman in the Greater Boston Commerce and Industry Division.

Climaxed by Heart Sunday, February 23, proceeds from the month-long appeal will support life-saving research needed to discover the unknown causes of the cardiovascular diseases and to develop and improve methods of treatment.

MRS. DOUGLAS ROBERT CRAWFORD

CRAWFORD — NELSON

St. Mary's Church was the setting on Saturday, January 18, for the marriage of Miss Shirley Ann Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Nelson of 130 Mt. Vernon street, and Douglas Robert Crawford, son of Mrs. Arthur A. Crawford of 296 Mt. Auburn street, Watertown and the late Dr. Crawford. The Rev. Edmund L. Parker performed the 7:30 p. m. ceremony. Mr. John Cain was soloist and Mrs. John Ryan was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin ballerina length gown fashioned with a lace bodice and a veil of pleated nylon caught with a cluster of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white camelias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Eileen Duffy of Stoneham was the matron of honor for her sister. She wore a ballerina length gown of pale pink and had a deep pink cascade of camelias.

Paul A. Nelson of Winchester, brother of the bride was best man. Ushers were Joseph T. Quintal of Tewksbury and Franklin E. Hoskin, Jr., of Boston.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mrs. Nelson wore a blue silk suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pale pink camelias. Mrs. Crawford wore a blue silk taffeta dress with matching accessories and a pale pink camelia corsage.

After a wedding trip to New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford will make their home in Watertown. Mr. Crawford is a graduate of Lawrence Academy and the Oxford School of Business Administration. He served in the U. S. Army Intelligence Corps and is an insurance underwriter.

Dr. Kimball Reports

Winchester School Enrollment Could Be More Than 3000

By 1982 Winchester's public secondary schools could have more than 3000 students compared to 1562 now. This was one of the points Dr. George E. Kimball of 20 Everett avenue made in a talk before the League of Women Voters last Wednesday.

Dr. Kimball, science advisor at Arthur D. Little, Inc., and statistical advisor to the U. S. Census Bureau, presented to the league his analysis of future junior and senior high school enrollments at an open meeting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James G. Baker on Grove street. Dr. Kimball made his study at the request of the junior-senior high school building committee and based his calculations on the recent census by Mr. Roland E. Simonds.

Dr. Kimball predicted that in the next 25 years the public secondary school population of Winchester would increase by at least 38% and possibly by 95%. "Over half this increase will come by 1967," said Dr. Kimball.

Part of this increase will come from the construction of new dwellings, particularly on the West Side, but according to Dr. Kimball a major reason for the growth is the fact that larger families are moving into town. During the last eight years more than 1100 houses have changed hands. The families moving into these houses have averaged 1.82 children per family, as compared with the town average of 1.27 children per family. These new families have not yet stopped growing, and will ultimately average 2 children per family compared with 1.02 children per family in the households they are displacing.

For the benefit of the audience and special guests which included Joseph W. Butler, Jr., of the board of selectmen, Ralph H. Bonnell of the planning board, Dr. Harry V. Gilson, superintendent of schools, and Robert P. Bigelow of the junior-senior high school building committee ,the speaker outlined what may be expected in the next ten years. Public secondary school enrollments will increase not less than 24% and might increase by 50%. It is entirely possible that in 1968 over 2300 children may be in grades 7-12 in the public schools.

Dr. Kimball also told his listeners what can happen when the growing size of the family was combined with the long-term building projections made by Mr. Allen Benjamin for the planning board. While the number in the junior and senior high schools might be as low as 2366, it could be as high as 3454!

The program was organized jointly by the league's education chairman, Mrs. Thomas Gibb, Jr., and town affairs chairman, Mrs. Richard Freeman.

MRS. ROBERT G. MILLS

MILLS — HAMMETT

Calla lillies and variegated ivy decorated the First Congregational Church on Saturday, January 25, for the marriage of Miss Barbara Ann Hammett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis F. Hammett of 16 Oneida road, and Robert Grover Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stark G. Mills of Delwood lane, Greenwich, Conn. The Rev. Dwight L. Cart performed the 4 o'clock ceremony and Mr. Albert Wilson played for the wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal princess gown of pure silk taffeta with a deep empire yoke of pin tucking which formed a wide portrait neckline and short sleeves. The same motif of tucking encircled the full flared skirt which ended in a wide chapel length train. Her veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a small cap of matching tucked taffeta. Her flowers were variegated ivy with white carnations and an orchid.

Mrs. Herbert Levin of Syracuse, N. Y., served as honor attendant. She wore a capri blue velveteen princess styled dress with a headband of matching material. Her flowers were variegated ivy with deep pink carnations. Bridesmaids, who wore the same style costumes as the honor attendant, were Elizabeth Curtis and Judith Pearl of Winchester, Charleen Herrling of Auburn, N. Y., and Mrs. Alan Gunsbury of East Orange, N. J.

John Stark Mills of Greenwich, Conn., served as best man for his brother and the ushers were Richard Preston, Wellington Burtnett and Henry Curtis, Jr., of Winchester and Charles Benson of Stoneham.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Bear Hill Country Club with Mrs. Otis Hammett, Mrs. Stark Mills, Barbara Hammett, Robert Mills and Mrs. Herbert Levin assisting the bridal couple in receiving guests. Mrs. Hammett wore a French blue pure silk taffeta dress and a small white hat. Her flowers were deep pink variegated camellias. Mrs. Mills, mother of the bridegroom, wore a rose-beige silk and lace dress with a hatband of rose colored feathers. Her flowers were cymbidium orchids.

After a wedding trip to Hollywood, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Mills will make their home in Hampstead, N. H. Mrs. Mills is a graduate of Winchester High School and Lasell Junior College. Mr. Mills was graduated from Kimball Union and Boston University. He is associated with the Western Electric Company.

MARGARET A. FOLEY

Miss Margaret A. Foley of 15 Hill street died Sunday, February 2, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness. She was 84 years old.

INDIVIDUAL POST SEASON AWARDS

Bob Winn Sr., chairman of the Junior League has donated a trophy to the Junior League. After a meeting of the directors and Mr. Winn, it was decided that this trophy would be awarded to the most valuable player in the Junior League, the player who in the opinion of the coaches of the Junior league has been most valuable to his team. Each Junior League coach will pick five players, listing them in 1-2-3-4-5 order, with the first place player receiving 5 points, second, 4 points, etc. This plan is tentative and subject to change.

In the Senior League, a trophy will be awarded to the highest scorer in the league.

Junior League

Boston College continues at the head of the League by virtue of an easy 55-27 win over Dartmouth. Jack Brenner, brother of B.C.'s coach Dan "Arnie Risen" Brenner was high man for B.C. with 18 points. Bobby Flaherty and Johnny Peckham with 14 and 12 points were B.C.'s other double figure men. Don McCully with 12 points was high for Dartmouth.

Holy Cross defeated Yale 60-28 to stay in second place. One game behind B.C. Mike Bellino (18), Ronnie Lynch (14) and "Pepper" Cunningham (10) were high for Holy Cross. Tom Bell with 12 was high scorer for Yale. Holy Cross' strong defense was the deciding factor in this game. John Lane and "Kicker" Callahan, Yale's two highest scorers were held to 5 points between them.

Harvard staved off a last period Princeton rally to squeak by with a 44-41 victory. Harvard, led by "Preacher" Mullloy and Bob Donlon built up a big first half lead, but Mulloy fouled out midway in the third period and Donlon followed him early in the fourth. Princeton, led by Richie Casalinuovo, caught fire and with only 13 seconds left in the game closed the gap to one point. Bob Migliaccio, who had not scored a basket all year, then sunk a lay up to ice the game for Harvard. Mulloy and Donlon with 20 and 11 points were the top Harvard scorers. Casalinuovo, with 19 led Princeton.

Mike Bellino of Holy Cross still holds top honors in the scoring race with 131 points in 8 games for a 16.4 average. Paul Mulloy is right behind with 126 points in only 6 games for an amazing 21.0 average. Johnny Peckham with 115 points holds third place.

Junior star of the week: Richie Casalinuovo of Princeton. Casalinuovo's brilliant play in the second half nearly pulled the game out of the five for Princeton in a 44-41 loss to Harvard.

Senior League

The Celtics, led by Phil Fox's 34 points, continued on their blistering pace, crushing the Eagles 68-38, to remain undefeated leaders in the Senior League. Don McGee with 16 points was the other Celtic double figure man. Dan Serieka, the league-leading scorer, was high for the Eagles with 20 points.

The Lakers turned in their best performance of the year with a 77-44 trouncing of the Hawks. Four Lakers led by "Whipper" Smith (27) scored in double figures. Steve Powers (25) "Slater" Martin, returning to the P.A.L. after a long absence with 13 points and Bert Stevens 12 were the double figure men with Smith. Bob Peluso and Bill Errico with 12 points apiece and Pete Graham (10) were top men for the Hawks.

The Royals topped the Pistons 51-36 to remain in second place. Lynn Olmstead (14), Bud DeRenne (12) and Frank Gaudioso (10) led the Royals' onslaught. Tony Tofuri with 14 points was high for the Pistons.

Dan Serieka with 108 points holds a one point edge over Phil Fox (107) in the Senior scoring race. Fox who scored 34 points jumped from fifth place last week to second.

Senior star of the week: Phil Fox. Fox's 34 points led his Celtics to a 68-38 victory over the Eagles. Fox's total was the highest of the year in the Senior League.

All are invited to attend any game on either Tuesday or Wednesday night at the Junior High School. The first game begins at 7:00 Plan to attend one or all of the games next week.

AUTO ACCIDENT AT SYMMES CORNER

Police officers Richard Beaton and William Callahan investigated a report of an accident in front of Dr. Arthur Jackson's house at 212 Main street last Friday at 7:50 p. m.

Gabriel H. Gomez of 154 Charlton street, Arlington had been in Dr. Jackson's office when he heard a crash and came out of the house. He met the driver of a car which had collided with the rear of his car which was parked on Main street.

Mr. Gomez got the name of the driver, Robert E. Humphreys of 5 Grace road, Woburn.

READING MASSACRED 59-35

Traveling to Reading last Friday night, the Indians collected their fifteenth scalp of the season, their ninth in the Middlesex League by massacring the Rockets 59-35. The Winchester boys outscored the home five in every period, were never in trouble, as they won their second victory of the year over the Reading club.

Dave Schumacher led the Sachems both in points and rebounds with 19 and 14 respectively. Richie Roberts, who has shown continual improvement all season, was second in both categories with 13 of each. As a team, Winchester sank 19 of 53 shots for a 38 per cent shooting average while grabbing a total of 43 rebounds to 25 for Reading.

Stevenson was the only Reading player to hit double figures with 11 points. Once again the fine Sachem defense baffled a potentially high scorer, Hardy, who was able to collect only nine points for the night. Reading's team scoring average was 13 field goals in 42 shots for 31 per cent.

SACHEMS ROMP OVER CONCORD

Winchester courtmen were red-hot as they easily downed Concord last Tuesday 70-47.

Captain Hank Schumacher started in his fisrt game since the Lexington game on December 30, when he injured his knee. Hank sparked the Sachems scoring attack with 17 points. Other Sachems to hit double figures were Joel Peckham, Dave Schumacher and Richie Roberts. They had 14, 14 and 10 points respectively. The Sachems had a total of 39 rebounds. Hank led the team in this department with 11 and Dave followed close behind with eight.

The Sachems had a red-hot first quarter when they hit 75% of their shots. Both clubs tallied the same amount of points in each quarter. The Courtmen had 19 points each quarter and the Concord quintet tallied eight points in each of the first two quarters.

The second half found the Sachems dominating play again. Coach Phillips substituted freely in the last quarter to give some of the Jay Vees a chance to play.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

Mrs. Vera McKenzie, the president, will preside at the midwinter meeting of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion to be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Wright, 8 Stratford road on Friday, February 14 at 2:30 p. m.

Mary Fulton Ramsdell, a former policewoman, with years of experience in social work will be the speaker of the afternoon, using as her subject "Protecting Our Juveniles." This timely subject should be of great interest to the members and their guests.

Tea will be served by Mrs. Ernest Wright and her committee.

SENIOR FORUM'S INTERNATIONAL WEEK END

Sunday morning the guests will be invited to join their Forum hosts and hostesses at the Forum chapel service at 9:30 a.m. This service, planned by Worship Committee Chairmen Phil Dunn and Gail Lever, will be conducted by Hank Schumacher, chaplain, and Henning Kohler, assistant chaplain. A special message will be brought by Dr. John Prescott Robertson, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Braintree, who has chosen as his topic, "The Transformation of the World." Deacons will be John Johnian and William Ware, and ushers will be Steve Hood and Dave Sturtevant.

Through the kindness of Mr. John D. Stevens, the high school will be open for a brief tour of the facilities from 12:15 to 1:30. Guests will gather with their respective host families for Sunday dinner and an afternoon visit before returning to Cambridge. This week end always proves to be a rich experience for all, and Forum families will find it has been a real privilege to get to know this outstanding group of young people from other countries.

Invited to serve as hosts and hostesses at the dinner tables are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keppler, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schaefer, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. William Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nelson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John Monro, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Waldon B. JUNIOR HIGH PARENTS' GROUP

With scientific education uppermost in the minds of the nation, it is appropriate that the first afternoon study group for Junior High parents should be on the science program. This first of two curricular study groups for parents will take place on Wednesday afternoon, February 12 at 2:30 at the Junior High Auditorium and is sponsored by the administration and the Junior High Associates.

The program will present the science program as it is now given in the 7th and 8th grades. Principal Raymond Dickman and science teachers Mr. Parsons and Mr. Provinzano will take this opportunity to present from the school's point of views the aims and methods of science teaching and will be ready to lead discussion on this subject with the parents.

Mrs. Robert Ericson and her committee will serve refreshments following the program.

Half an hour of free fun

Come in and we'll show you how to play organ music in just 30 minutes!
You don't have to read notes, or take lessons.
Just sit down at the Hammond Chord Organ, and amaze yourself. One finger of your right hand plays the melody. One finger of your left hand presses a button for a rich, full chord. You can follow "Picture Music" or regular notes.
There's no catch to this, no obligation to buy anything
We just want everyone to know how easy this wonderful Hammond Chord Organ is to play and enjoy.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Riding high on the hog, Boston College finally slipped and lost 4 points to St. Mary's, which hasn't gotten over being eliminated the final night of the first half. Holy Cross, having a chance to take over the throne, also faltered as lonely Georgetown rebelled from her cellar position and nailed Holy Cross with a 3-1 score. Alabama skidded to sixth place from third as Notre Dame upped itself another notch to step into third place.

Those who bowl know that hitting 300 or better is not as easy as it appears on paper. Coordination and control are the two mainstays, along with the ability to relax.

This Thursday a comparatively new bowler can hold his head high as he heads this department. Tony Bardascino, who just a few years ago entered our country and who has picked up our American way of life very rapidly, is only in his second year of bowling and doing rembarkably well as he came up with a 314 to shade all the others.

Other 300 bowlers are Dom Provinzano, 311; Tony Saraco, 308; Mel Fiore, 307; Dick Fiore, 307.

Honorable mention is given to Phil Adagno, 297; Arco Amico, 294; Phil Muraco, 294; Danny Maestretta, 293; Max La Carubba, 292; and Dick Tofuri, 292. High single for the night was made by fast-balding Richard Fiore with 144.

Georgetown had the distinction of taking high team pin falls with 1426. I can't understand how a team led by such a competent and capable captain as Jeff Gaudioso, the Kangaroo Kid, can be embedded at the bottom this half. A fine bowler, recently graduated from B. C., was asked what caused his present dilemma. He said, "we hit a reef but we are backing off as we back out."

His contingent includes Babe Tofuri, the sad-sack mailman, Mel Fiore, chairman of our sports committee, who rules with a rubber hand, Danny Maestretta, the snow-plow kid, Dom Suppa about to become a bridegroom, and Paul Lentine, our expert accountant on facts and figures.

We have to apologize for our comment on our Venerable and wish to rescind our remarks comparing him with a pachyderm. His spouse informed me he is more comparable to the Zeppelin Hindenburg which had the misfortune of exploding in 1937. Let's hope that history doesn't repeat itself.

We have been informed that A. P. Tofuri is down with the bug and hope that by the time you read of it he'll be up and at it.

We also note that Choppers Gangi had a bad night. It wasn't bad enough bowling 276, he also was low man on his team. Mel Fiore led his team to a 3-point win with 307 and missed winning a turkey for getting three strikes in a row, which would have done it, for he got two and just missed the third. Fiore was really nervous as a spare was lost as he cast the ball down the gutter. You could hear him muttering and talking to himself. We like to help those who need it, even if it is in writing, to improve his bowling. We speak directly to that curly-haired boy, Maxie Di Mambro with his roving eyes, The remedy is easy, the results satisfactory; many losers were made winners this way; remedy—blinkers. Rubberlegs Pete Fiore set a new low with a disastrous 224. Hot toddy before bowling would help your case, we think.

Bowlers' Hall of Fame

This week, my friends,
it's Benny Gillotte,
He's the owner of our very first trophy.
At Fitzgerald Fuel he earns his money,
But the weather has been very funny.
If this keeps up
next year the same
Shouldn't he move to Northern Maine?
He sports a crew cut,
but, Baldy, don't pout
As Benny's crew is balling out.

We wish to extend to Jim Penaligan our sincere wish for a quick recovery and return to his favorite chair at the Star office.

We wrap up another week leaving only nine weeks to go, with the award going to Joe Ciarcia.

See you next week.

JV's DEFEAT READING JV's

Led by Paul DelRossi and Paul White, the Sachem Juniors rolled over Reading, 56-41. In the previous meeting. The Sachems had lost, but they wanted this one, and won it going away. Winchester wasted no time in getting the lead, and led after one period 19-3 when Reading could not get a single field goal. The second period saw the teams exchange baskets, but in the third, they outscored Reading 20-7. In the final period, however, Reading was able to get 17 points to bring the game to an end.

DelRossi, White, and Nichols hit double figures for Winchester with 14, 11, and 10 points respectively. The summary:

HUSBAND LOST

Winchester — Clay Spector, returning from his office last night, walked into the living room and gazed about in bewilderment.

For a moment, he imagined he was in the wrong apartment. He quickly recovered, when he recognized his dog, Duke, rushing toward him, followed by his wife.

The mystery was quickly solved. Tired of the drab living room wallpaper, Mrs. Spector had quietly called in a paper hanger that day and had the room redone with pattern No. 7590, selected from the Hillside Paint and Wallpaper Co. collection at 578 Main street.

Student notebooks, paper and dividers at the Star office, 3 Church street.

DAVE BERGQUIST STARS ON COLBY TEAM

It's pretty difficult to improve on a 100-percent effort, and that's what a former Winchester High basketball star is doing at Colby College.

Eighteen-year-old Dave Bergquist, starting guard on the undefeated freshman club, has had 11 tries from the foul line, and he has hit on all of them for a perfect percentage.

Bergquist ranks fourth among the freshman's top scorers. Dave has 67 points for a per game mark of 11.1. From the floor, he has netted 28 out of 68 for a .410 average.

Colby's first-year cagers have wins this winter over six Maine opponents plus Belmont High, 65-62, and a skein of 27 consecutive victories over the past two years.

Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bergquist, 154 Cambridge street.

ENTERS MIAMI FISHING TOURNEY

Alfred R. Lawrence of 66 Grove street entered a 45 pound 3 oz. Dolphin in the Metropolitan Miami fishing tournament while on a recent vacation in Florida. His catch was one of the best fish in the tournament which runs through April 13. His fishing guide was Captain Buddy Carey on the Seat Boots out of pier 5, Miami.

This catch will win the angler a personalized copy of the attractive, highly illustrated Year Book in which his name and catch will be recorded on a frontispiece. His angling achievement also will be considered at the end of the tournament in the awarding of trophies and citations for the best of 33 species.

Sportsmanship Award plaques honor each angler who frees some of the fish he catches, thus demonstrating his interest in preserving South Florida's excellent fishing.

"ALICE IN WINTONLAND"

The fabulous Alice of the long gold hair and white pinafore stepped beyond her magic looking glass this week end, and entered Wintonland—just beyond the blue lights of the usually staid stage of the Winchester Town Hall. The Mad Hatter and the Doormouse weren't so mad at that—they were just biding their time to admire Alice and the pretty girls who made up the 1958 Winton Cabaret.

This 1958 Show was not the usual packaged show, but an original revue arranged with careful thought and theatrical skill by Rosalind H. Lynch, and staged by John Palmer, music by Harry Marshard's orchestra. The costumes were exceptionally clever and crisp, especially the "Deck of Cards" worn by the most attractive Winton Drill and made (and donated!) by the Tracy Music Company, through the courtesy of Mrs. Percival B. Metcalf. The demure little Alice costume, the stunning Rabbit, Dormouse, Queen of Hearts—the Rich Maharajah numbers—all were very different, very handsome. Mr. Ross, of Ross Hair Styling, had arranged the hair styles of ladies in the show (and committee members), and had done a very excellent job of make-up for those in the cast.

It takes so many facets to make up the complete jewel—so many details to make a good show. There is lighting, and the Town Hall cannot be an easy place to give good stage effects, but George McAlennan's lighting was very good. And the Town Hall is noted for its difficult acoustics, but Crosby Kelley and John Harrison managed to make the words and music heard in every corner!

Betty Ann Pritchard was Alice, and Lewis Carroll would certainly have approved, for she WAS Alice! Her number "Through the Looking Glass," with Eleanor McPeake as the other Alice, was good, good pantomime. Lynda Nanry provided several fine vocal numbers, and the first act works up to one big intermission finale—"the Trial of the Knave of Hearts." It is clever—and it makes a beautiful curtain with the vivid costumes, the deck of cards costumes especially, and the Wintonland figures. Mrs. Lynch and Mr. Powers contrived some very good stage effects throughout this show.

Another effective number was "Garden of Flowers," with the soft filmy costumes and good lighting effects, the ballet dancing of Noreen Johnson, the flowers (girls) and the gallant pawns (men) in an eye-catching number.

Teddy O'Rourke and Charlou Shartel in the Tweedledee and Tweedledum number were good—but the number was all too short. Because of a short scene and costume change at one point, Sherman Russell was drafted to "ad lib"—and "ad lib" he did, sparring for time until the scenes could go on, and adding his bit of fun to the show. The finale of Humpty Dumpty, with the fascinating potbellied Humpty on the wall, was striking. And against this backdrop, the whole cast assembled for their "Good Bye to Wintonland" number.

The annual Winton Show is a remarkable production—it is accomplished in very few weeks of terrific rehearsals, with many people working on stage and backstage, and people like Mr. Ross and Mrs. Metcalf and others giving year after year—it has the interest and support of townspeople because out of this annual cabaret in the Town Hall there is raised money urgently needed for the linen supply at the Winchester Hospital. The same ladies who don "deck of cards" costumes also give countless hours of their time to serve their townspeople at their revered Winchester Hospital. So behind this Winton Show there is a deep purpose.

This reviewer is most mindful of the reason for the annual Cabaret, and of the stupendous work entailed . . . and this year it was delightful to have an original show, not the usual packaged show from a theatrical company. Mrs. Lynch had done a fine thing in wanting the Winton Show to be "different," with a real sparkle and tang. She had a book and theme, and she stuck with it. She had a fine Alice and good chorus to help, and obviously, she had spent many hours, personally, in coordinating the show. It is to be hoped, most earnestly, that her pioneering of original Winton shows will go on, be developed further—this is a start! One would very much like to see Winton Shows with a definite theme (or book)—it would be pleasant to see a good male and female lead carry the story of such a book, with the usual chorus numbers, skits, quartets, a good dance number by two really good ballroom dancers. Staff and Key, some years ago, had many good singers and some of these soloists must still be in town.

What this viewer is trying to say is—this was a mighty good Winton Show of 1958—but it was much too brief! It left the audience wishing for more tunes, more solos, more dance numbers—wishing that somewhere, there had been a couple of good duets! Or a good male quartet! Or a romantic waltz! With Rosalind Lynch's help in starting an original revue, perhaps next year—who knows—the Cabaret will have more numbers, more good singers and dancers. It is unfortunate that all too often, men and women who can sing or dance, and who might be in these shows, are too busy or just can't be persuaded. The Winton Show needs them.

WINTON CLUB MEMBERS AT WORK

All active and service members of Winton Club are assigned to one of six regular sewing groups, or to a cutting group. Through these efforts are produced complicated syringe cases, treatment sheets, binders, and bassinet pads, as well as some thirteen other more conventional items.

In addition, certain of the service members have organized a Service Member Volunteer Sewing Group, whose expert seamstresses turn out well-tailored baby dresses and children's johnnies.

Altogether during the club year 1956-1957 these groups completed over forty-three hundred separate articles. And over the same period, Winton Club through its purchasing Committee bought and donated to the Hospital nearly sixty-four hundred ready-made items. The total cost of these contributions was over $7500.

KIWANIS NEWS

At last week's meeting the first step was taken in an effort to start a Key Club in the Winchester High School. President Guy Paras and Key Club Chairman Jim Henchey of the Woburn club presented a most interesting and informative program on the Key Clubs. The four Woburn High School Key Club officers were guests at the meeting.

This week's meeting centered around a safety program presented by Lieutenant Howard King of the Belmont Police Department.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

The next meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester is to be held on the evening of Thursday, February 13. Please note the change of date from the one previously announced.

This will be a meeting which no member should miss. The Republican men are specifically invited. This is a meeting when our men and women join forces to learn more about the affairs of the state. We all need to learn much to say nothing of having some bewildering events clarified to some extent.

This clarification will be done by the speaker of the evening, none other than Senator Leslie B. Cutler of the Second Norfolk District. Much has appeared in the news of the feelings and work in the Special Comm. of Correctional Institutions. This is a vital, and shall we say embarassing, subject in Massachusetts.

Senator Cutler with her interest and knowledge of the subject should give all a worthwhile evening. Other committees on which the senator serves are Aeronautics, Public Welfare, Public Health, and the State Administration of Mercantile Affairs.

There will be a question period following her talk.

The meeting, arranged by Mrs. Don Greer and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, will be at the home of Mrs. Walter Watson, 14 Wedgemere avenue, starting with coffee served at 7:30.

We look forward to having the Republican men augment our membership. All are welcome.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT COUPLES' CLUB

The Wednesday Night Couples' Club of the First Congregational Church is holding its annual square dance tonight at the Kelsey Ranch, 145 Spring street, Lexington, from 8:30 p. m. to 12:00 p. m. Dick Steele is returning this year as caller by popular demand. Mrs. Wallace McDonald of 8 Norwood street is in charge of reservations.

FIRES

Thursday, January 30, Mrs. J. Vance Holdam of 10 Sheffield road called at 4:11 to report her dishwasher was smoking. Firefighters were quickly on the scene and had the situation under control.

Friday, January 31, Mrs. Jane Kittredge of 27 Everett avenue called to report trouble with her electric range. Firefighters found that the electric plate had overheated and burned through an aluminum pot and the electric unit.

ADULT DELINQUENCY

Millions of words have been written and more millions have been spoken regarding Juvenile Delinquency, but how many of us do anything about it? Could it be that it isn't all juvenile? The Police Athletic League is doing an excellent job of keeping boys in sports and out of trouble; the Babe Ruth League, the Little League, too, are laying the groundwork for good sportsmanship and conduct all through life, but these programs cost money. Now you can help and it positively doesn't cost a penny.

These and many other projects that benefit our community profit from the Rotary Auction and here is a "no cost to you" way to help. Take a moment of your time and call WInchester 6-4108. We will pick up those articles of furniture, those appliances, rugs, art work or odds and ends that you have been moving from one corner of the attic or cellar to the other for lo these many years. You know the're a fire hazard.

So, you win both ways, but what is more important, at no cost to you the Winchester Hospital will benefit. The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts benefit. Those wonderful senior citizens at the Home for the Aged benefit. Some student at the High School will be able to go to college because the Winchester Scholarship Foundation benefits.

Think it over, seriously, because, last but not least, you and the man of the house benefit. You eliminate a fire hazard and the man of the house won't be moving and falling over all those things you've been wondering what to do with all these years. The number is WInchester 6-4108. Won't you call it now? You'll be glad you did. You always feel better when you know you're helping others.

MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church at its meeting Tuesday, February 11, will have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. James Allen and Mrs. Robert Lowry tell of their recent tour of Puerto Rico. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Lowry, who are members of the Mission Union, spent ten days in January with a group studying churches, hospitals, and rural life in Puerto Rico.

The touring party, composed of 18 lay people headed by the Rev. Galen R. Weaver, chairman of the race relations department of the Board of Home Missions, interviewed and talked with persons identified with churches, government, education, labor and industry. It is this phase of their trip that Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Lowry will discuss at the forthcoming meeting. Mr. Allen, who was also a member of the 1958 Puerto Rico Study Tour will show colored slides of this country which is becoming awakened through the introduction of electricity and television.

A one o'clock luncheon, prepared by Mrs. Wellington Caldwell and Mrs. Marshall Symmes and their committee, will precede the program. The worship service during the meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Fred Abbe.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

The annual Valentine Dessert Bridge Party, sponsored by the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour, will take place on Tuesday, February 11, at St. Mary's Hall. Mrs. William H. Perkins is general chairman and she will be assisted by the following active committee:

Mrs. Harold McCarthy
Mrs. G. F. Winterson
Mrs. Walter Crotty
Mrs. Albert T. McDougall
Mrs. H. L. Crocker
Miss Laura Boyden
Mrs. Percy Cliff
Mrs. R. O'Hearn
Mrs. Emelio D'Errico
Mrs. Patrick J. Mullaney
Mrs. James Marchant
Mrs. Vincent Murphy
Mrs. Daniel J. Doherty
Mrs. J. W. Donaghey
Mrs. R. E. Muehlig

All 'Young in Heart' Guild members and their invited guests will receive a "Hearty" welcome from the always hospitable hostess Mrs. Perkins. An appropriate "cupid" dessert will be served promptly at one o'clock and an afternoon of bridge, or cards of your choice, will follow.

An unusual array of unique donations have been secured and an enjoyable afternoon awaits your individual pleasure. Do not let the cold winter weather keep you at home, come down to St. Mary's Hall, where a warm atmosphere of cordiality will prevail.

ENGLISH COMMISSIONER OF GIRL GUIDES VISITS WINCHESTER

Miss Kathleen Phillips, district commissioner of Girl Guides for Westgate and Birchington, Kent, England, and Camp Advisor for the Isle of Thanet, who has recently been visiting in Canada paid a lightning visit to the Girl Scouts of Winchester who are pen pals of the Birchington Crew of Sea Rangers(Senior Girl Guides). Miss Phillips was hostess to these girls on their trip to England in 1954. Miss Phillips was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weafer whose daughter Peggy was one of the Girl Scouts who visited in Birchington. Among those attending a party of welcome for Miss Phillips were Mrs. Vivian White, leader of the trip to England, Mrs. Joseph Derro and daughter, Madeline; Margaret Bane, Mrs. George Gowdy, Mrs. John Woodruff, and Mrs. Thomas Hill, the latter now member of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts.

LT. ELIZABETH BARRETT PLAYS BASKETBALL

LTJG Elizabeth Merriman Barrett, USNR, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Barrett of 34 Allen road, is now playing basketball for the Newport Waves Team, the "Islanders." Miss Barrett, who plays guard and center on the team, is the only Wave Officer of the team.

Previously LTJG Barrett played for Winchester High School, 1946-1949; Mt. Holyoke College, 1950-1953; and the Hollywood Boats of Seattle. Some basketball honors have also been earned by LTJG Barrett. She was chosen outstanding guard at the Washington State Invitational Tournament 1955, and was on the Washington State, All-Star Team, 1956.

Miss Barrett entered the Waves January 4, 1954, and is now stationed at the Naval Schools Command.

MARDI GRAS MASQUERADE

All who love the mystery of a masquerade will gather on Valentine's evening for the Tandem Club Annual Mardi Gras Ball. This year's event, "The Cupid Capers," features dance music by Ned Marshall's orchestra. There will be prizes for the most original costumes and refreshments during the evening. Dancing begins at 8:30 Friday, February 14, at the parish hall, Church of the Epiphany. Come in costume if you can, otherwise in informal dress.

EPIPHANY ANNUAL MEETING

A record attendance turned out for the annual parish meeting of the Church of the Epiphany on January 28, with about 130 people enjoying the catered dinner and 161 ballots cast for parish offices.

A noteworthy event of the meeting was the election of Mrs. Merton E. Grush, of 18 Everett avenue, to the Vestry, the first time in the history of the parish that a woman has been elected to such a position.

Of primary interest at the meeting was the report of the standing committee on additional facilities. The committee's presentation took nearly an hour, and another hour and a half was spent in discussion on the floor. The meeting then voted for a capital fund drive for at least $270,000 to build a new wing on the parish house.

For several years all the groups of the church have been operating at a severe disadvantage because of lack of space. For 16 months the committee for additional facilities has been reviewing every aspect of the problem, including interviewing people both within and outside the diocese and visiting other churches in the Greater Boston area.

The plans presented by the committee depict a simple, efficient addition to the existing parish house, in harmony with the church. Some of the features that would be provided by the building of a new wing and the remodeling and renovation of the interior of the present parish house include: classrooms for 277 pupils, a new parish hall, a common room with kitchenette, a modern kitchen, offices for the clergy and staff with a library-waiting room and a small conference room, a new acolyte's room, larger choir room, and a large altar guild room.

LECTURED AT NAVAL WAR COLLEGE

Dr. Norman Padelford of 6 Ravenscroft road delivered a series of lectures at the United States Naval War College at Newport, Rhode Island, last week. Dr. Padelford spoke to four groups of officers attending the Command and Staff School at the college on problems relating to United States participation in the United Nations and other international organizations. These seminars are part of a year program which a selected group of high-ranking naval officers receive in preparation for assignments that may call for knowledge of various aspects of United States foreign policy and international relations.

This is Professor Padelford's third year of lecturing to the Naval War College. His personal knowledge of these subjects stems from many years of work as a consultant with the Department of State in Washington and from participation in the drafting of the United Nations Charter. Dr. Padelford is professor of international relations and chairman of the political science section at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is also a member of the facutly of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy in Medford.

RICHARD L. EMERSON ATTENDS INSURANCE CONFERENCE

Richard L. Emerson, CLU, is attending a three-day conference at Lake Placid, N. Y., honoring top-ranking representatives of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company.

At the conference, Mr. Emerson will be presented with the company's two top trophies in recognition of his being number one man in the Phoenix organization for 1957. For the tenth time he has qualified for the Million Dollar Club by virtue of his outstanding production record of over $3,000,000 in sales for the previous year. In addition he will be presented with a 1958 membership in the executive field underwriters, a company organization emphasizing quality service to policyholders.

A member of the company's Boston agency since 1934, Mr. Emerson and his family reside at 75 Pond street.

GUEST DAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church are inviting the women of the other Protestant churches in Winchester to be their guests on Thursday, February 13, in the new social hall of the church. Dessert and coffee will be served at 1:30 p.m. followed by the program at 2:00.

Mrs. G. Raymond Bancroft will have charge of the worship service. Mrs. Charles H. Moubleau of Harwichport, well-known lecturer and musician, will speak on "Lyric Religion."

Mrs. Donald Maxwell will be in charge of a baby-sitting service.

Mrs. J. Wilson Armstrong, president of the W. S. C. S., extends a cordial invitation to all women of Winchester.

ST. MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB MEETING

Wednesday evening, February 12 at eight o'clock, the St. Mary's Mothers' Club will be privileged to see a film entitled "Our Work in Africa," presented by the Medical Missionaries of Mary, supplemented by a commentary on the subject by a representative of the Order.

Hostesses for the evening will be the 4th grade mothers under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry McCormack and Mrs. Arthur Duffy.

RED CROSS SOLICITORS THANKED

Most of the success of the recent Bloodmobile visit can be attributed to the hard-working telephone solicitors who give their time so generously prior to each blood day. Through their efforts Winchester has just had another record-breaking donation. The Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, wishes to express sincere appreciation to all of the following solicitors for a good job well done.

What are the duties of a TRUSTEE?

This depends upon the terms of the trust. They vary all the way from safekeeping to active management. Usually, the duties are to take care of the property, to manage it, to make it productive, and to distribute the property, income and principal, as authorized or directed, and finally to make a proper accounting. The trustee is under a duty to carry out the terms of the trust, whatever they are, as long as they do not call for the trustee's doing what is unlawful, against public policy, or impossible. We could give you a long list of duties of a trustee, but we doubt that, apart from a specific trust, the list would be helpful.

WRITE OR CALL MA 2-7700 FOR YOUR FREE COPY OF THIS VALUABLE 63 PAGE BOOK.

The above is one of the very important questions answered in the Malden Trust booklet, "YOUR FAMILY AND YOUR ESTATE," written by Gilbert Thomas Stephenson, an attorney and leading authority on Trust Matters, and available to you without charge.

MICHAEL POWER RECITAL

The Black Key, Butterfly, and Revolutionary Etudes, together with the Fantase-Impromptu as an encore, gave a sparkling display of technical dexterity to conclude the program. Mr. Power has evidently mastered these beautiful and extremely difficult studies so well that he no longer needs to worry about playing the right notes and sometimes even leaves his audience aghast after a whirlwind of scales and chords.

Winchester may indeed be proud to have on its high school faculty such a highly skilled and earnest musician, whose concerts have been and always will be an educational and intellectually enriching experience.

In his brief remarks prior to the recital Mr. Robert Mulford, president of the Winchester High School Parent-Faculty Association, paid a warm tribute to Mr. Power in contributing so generously of his fine talent. Mr. Mulford also thanked Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Buckley and their many helpers for their efforts in assuring the evening's social and financial success.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Buckley on the Ways and Means Committee were Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Euler, Dr. and Mrs. John D. McLean, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Osgood. Mrs. Paul J. Donahue was general ticket chairman, and Mrs. Charles Crede was in charge of ticket sales by the room mothers. These mothers were most helpful in the distribution of tickets to the parents of high school students. Miss Sybil Daniels handled ticket sales for the high school faculty.

Head usher for the evening was Dr. John D. McLean, and he was assisted by Messrs. Lawrence Dalin, John C. Gray, Richard Hakanson, Robert L. Low, John McIntyre, Aram T. Mouradian, Austin E. Nanry, and Herbert T. Wadsworth.

Hostesses for the dessert-coffees, at which members of the faculty and their wives were entertained prior to the recital, were the following parents of high school students: Mr. and Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, Dr. and Mrs. James G. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Leslie Doten, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Maurice T. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Kiley, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McLaughlin, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. John D. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Osgood, and Mr. and Mrs. F. William Schumacher.

Following the recital, the Association's Executive Board honored Mr. Power by a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Russell.

Publicity for the recital was handled by Miss May Millican and Mr. F. Meredith Cooper of the high school faculty. In ensuring the smooth operation of affairs in the auditorium, Mr. Thomas Morse, assistant principal, was most helpful. The Association's thanks go to the Winchester Conservatory, for the loan of the palms which decorated the stage, and to the Winchester Star, for its aid in publicizing the affair.

Among the students who assisted with the recital special credit goes to Christopher King, who wrote the fine review at the beginning of this article, and to the students who designed and executed the attractive posters advertising the affair. These included: Ann Szabo, Jean Lamphier, Marcia Smith, Bonnie Harrington, Aprille Godwin, Edward Lynch, Thomas Brennan, Carolyn Furbish, Craig Edwards, Helen Bolster, Frances Ehrgott, Peg Archibald, and Joseph McCormack.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and deep appreciation to our relatives friends and neighbors.

Personnel of the Air Force, Cambridge Research Center and other organizations located at L.G. Hanscom Field, New England Association of Fire Chiefs, Massachusetts Fire Chiefs Association, Middlesex County Fire Wardens Association, Winchester Fire Department, Winchester News Boys, employees of Filene's Winchester store, employees of Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, who by their words of consolation and acts of kindness helped to lighten the burden of our recent bereavement.

For the large number of floral tributes and spiritual bouquets, we are very grateful.

ST. MARY'S BRIDGE-WHIST

The annual Valentine and Whist of St. Mary's Sodality will be held in the hall on Thursday evening, February 13, at 8:30. Each year this affair is the highlight of the pre-Lenten season and its increasing popularity swells the attendance whenever it rolls around. An exceptionally large number of appealing and valuable prizes will be on hand for the eligible card devotees, and if the items keep increasing, every inch of the stage will be covered with the grand galaxy of surprises for the winners.

Before the event gets under way, there will be a coffee half-hour during which the patrons will be gazing hopefully at the prizes and making their selections (just in case), and at the same time it will be a pleasant period for cutting the cakes and piling up the calories before they set out to cut the cards and pile up the points.

GRANGE SPONSORS LUNCHEON FOR MUSCULAR DISTROPHY

The Winchester Grange will hold a luncheon at the Masonic Hall on Tuesday, February 25, from 11:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. The home cooked luncheon will feature ham, beans, potato salad and other delicacies.

Proceeds of the luncheon will go to the Muscular Distrophy Association to be used by the charity for work in research and patient care. Muscular Distrophy has been chosen this year as the State Grange project and granges all over the state will conduct fund raising affairs for this cause.

CONSTANCE GOWDY NAMED TO U. MASS. COMMITTEE

Constance Gowdy is a member of the religious embassy steering committee at the University of Massachusetts. The annual series is sponsored by the University Christian Association and planned to stimulate student interest in the application of faith to college life.

This year's speaker at the university will be Dr. Theodore Gill, managing editor of "The Christian Century," a national Protestant weekly newspaper, and editor of "The Pulpit," a magazine for ministers. He will speak this Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Gowdy, a zoology major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gowdy of 4 Lantern Lane. She is also publicity chairman of the Christian Association.

TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

At a recent installation ceremony held in Winchester, Miss Hilda Hope of this town was inducted as president of the Winchester Toastmistress Club. Miss Hope, former director of the Medford Visiting Nurses Association, is now associated with the Newton Tuberculosis Association.

Miss Orrie Grant of Winchester was the installing officer, and Miss Hope was the speaker of the evening.

Other new officers included Mrs. Beulah Thompson, vice president; retiring president Mrs. Winifred Young, treasurer; Mrs. Anne Pyne, recording secretary, and Mrs. Florence Durrant as corresponding secretary. All are residents of Medford.

Miss Evelyn Forsyth of Winchester was hostess, and the following guests were present: Mrs. Vivienne Leport and Mrs. Virginia Delorey of Medford as well as the Misses Bertha, Florence and Helen Forsyth, who is the Head of the Medford Public Library.

BURLINGTON FOODLINER IGA STANDARD-BEARER

(The following article was published in the Boston Traveler on February 4, 1958. The Burlington IGA Foodliner is run by Irving Kolowson and his two sons.)

A typical IGA Foodliner at Burlington, has rapidly become one of Massachusetts outstanding supermarkets.

"We at Headquarters are proud of this Burlington standard-bearer for IGA and invite you to try IGA TableRite meats here for the taste thrill of your life.

"This store is a model of IGA efficiency with beauty and it is the pattern for several new Foodliners now being studied for location," says the Oppenheim brothers.

"This IGA Foodliner is the result of teamwork by the Independent Retailer and IGA Headquarters Organization. This store is one of the area's largest volume stores, and the reason for this success is quickly apparent on your first visit and first purchases. Here IGA quality (which is available in all IGA stores) is presented at its finest."

WINCHESTER GRANGE

The regular meeting of the Winchester Grange was held at the Masonic Hall on Tuesday, February 4, at 8:15.

Applications for membership were received from Elizabeth J. Newell of 28 Stone avenue and from Lee Ellen Manzie of 10 Blind Bridge street. Guests at the meeting were from Woburn, Melrose, Stoneham, and Somerville.

Norman Ingram, head of the woodworking department of the Industrial School for Crippled Children, gave a talk on the School and showed a film, "Challenge For Tomorrow." The School is supported wholly by private funds and is for the physically crippled children.

The next meeting will be held on February 18, the 44th anniversary of the Grange. It will be an open meeting to which all interested people are invited. Winchester High School musical groups and the pupils of the Lawrence sisters will entertain.

CURTAIN & CUE OPEN HOUSE FEATURES PANEL DISCUSSION

Wednesday evening, January 29, the High School Curtain and Cue, radio, and speech classes put on an open house to acquaint interested people with the way these three departments are set up, run and with their accomplishments.

This is the first year this idea has been carried through and it proved very successful. The evening started with a short speech from three teachers and four students each telling of his own special interest in the particular department. This discussion, as well as the whole program was moderated by Mr. Thomas Morse, the head of the speech arts field.

The first speaker, Mr. Howard Niblock, principal of the school, spoke about the importance of this field. He said "it is practical and provides an abundance of self-confidence. It gives a mental and physical release to be able to express yourself either by words of your own or in the role of another." Also, Mr. Niblock brought out that in this day and age where most of the emphasis is put on science, etc., the field of speech and dramatics provides an important balance.

He was followed by Mr. John McLaughlin, a member of the English department who is very interested in dramatics. In his words, "No education is truly significant unless it concerns itself with the development of the person as well as his intelligence. Dramatics helps develop an individual both ways."

Another English teacher, Miss Constance Trickett, spoke of drama and speech having a purpose in development also, and that students should be taught to use them with a purpose. She also mentioned the all important factor of the fun involved. By participating in this field you learn to get along with others and to enjoy constructive activities.

Blanche Cartier, president of Curtain and Cue, represented the students of drama. She spoke about how the organization worked, what it was, and what she had gotten out of it.

Following her, Sally Kimball, a student station manager of WHSR-FM, spoke about radio and about the benefits of a high school radio station. Experience in broadcasting gives practice in all aspects of preparing and producing a show as well, as giving experience in speaking.

Phil Dreyer, an active member of Curtain and Cue, gave the views of a student who is active but is not an officer in such a group.

George Neville, doing an excellent job of representing the freshmen, ended the panel discussion with his ideas of what it is like to be a beginner. "Most people are hidden in a shell of uncertainty, with ingredients of fear of making mistakes and being ridiculed. This speech course and practice helps end this feeling."

These talks were followed by a question and answer period in which the audience participated. After that, there was entertainment demonstrating the uses of the various fields in the speech arts. Included were a radio play, a cutting from "Our Town," a solo interpretation, and a public speaking demonstration.

Next on the program was a guided tour and explanation of the stage and radio station facilities. In the speech arts room a series of photographs of past drama productions were displayed. The delightful evening ended in the cafeteria with coffee and refreshments. We all feel that it was a big success, and would like to continue it in future years.

HOSPITAL FRIENDS PLAN MEETING

"Can You Afford To Be Sick" is the timely topic for the mid-winter meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital on Thursday evening, February 27. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

Dean A. Clark, M.D., General Director of the Massachusetts General Hospital, will be the guest speaker at this open meeting. It will be held this year at the new Parish Hall of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

Men are urged to attend and profit from a frank discussion of medical costs today. Coffee will be served at eight and the meeting will begin promptly at 8:30 p. m.

CUB SCOUTS VISIT CHANNEL 2

In keeping with the movie and television theme for January in Cub Scouting, Friday evening, January 31, Cub Scouts from Den 4, Pack II visited Channel 2, WGBH-TV. They enjoyed a guided tour of the studio and watched several live programs.

Cub Scouts making this tour were Michael Ciarcia, Freddie Fickett, Peter Fowle, Albert Ludlam, Richard Mobbs, Jeff Rollo and David Williams. They were accompanied by Mr. Frank M. Tillou, Jr., Mr. Fred S. Fickett, Jr., and Den Mother Mrs. Frank M. Tillou, Jr.

NILES NELSON HONORED BY CHEMICAL SOCIETY

Niles Nelson, 1958 captain of the University of Maine football team, has been honored by the American Chemical Society.

Mr. Nelson was selected by the ACS publication, the Chemical and Engineering News, to its 1957 Football Honor Roll.

According to an article in the C & E News, the football honor roll was compiled to show that "good scholarship in chemistry and chemical engineering and an active interest in sports don't have to conflict."

Mr. Nelson is a chemical engineering major at the university. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nelson of 44 Water street.

Prof. Lyle C. Jenness, head of the department of chemical engineering at the university, was notified of Mr. Nelson's selection to the honor roll of outstanding chemical engineering students who are also top football players at their respective colleges. Professor Jenness was given the honor of presenting the C & E News Honor Roll certificate to Mr. Nelson.

METCALF UNION

Metcalf Union, the high school youth group at the Unitarian Church, is holding a record hop Saturday evening, with Bob Clayton, popular disc jockey, as master of ceremonies. Mr. Clayton will present all the latest dance recordings on his most modern equipment.

The dance is open to all young people in the town, "stag, or drag." Metcalf Hall, scene of the dance, will be decorated in a Valentine motif and a large group is expected.

The dance is under the direction of Helen Bolster, chairman, assisted by Betsy Bolster, Carley Clark, Jean Gross, Prudence Kimball and Jonathan Handy.

The regular Sunday evening meeting at 7 o'clock will be featured by a talk by Miles McKey, youth director, a senior at the Harvard Divinity School, who will show slides and tell about his home in California.

WINCHESTER HOMEFRONTERS

The Winchester Homefronters annual meeting will be held Wednesday, February 12, at 7:30 p. m. in the Rich Room in the Public Library.

The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Harold Given, executive chairman. Mrs. Given will be retiring after serving a faithful three years as leader of this organization. She is a fine executive and has been an inspiration to all who have worked with her.

After all the reports are heard the new slate of officers and chairmen will be presented by the nominating committee, Mrs. Carl E. Thomas, chairman and will be voted upon.

This is an open meeting and anyone interested in the work of the Homefronters is cordially invited to attend.

B. EDWARD ZINN

Mr. B. Edward Zinn, well known New England Electric official, died suddenly on Saturday, February 1, after a severe spinal operation. Services were conducted by Dr. Dwight L. Cart at the First Congregational Church, on February 4. Many relatives, friends, business associates attended the services.

Mr. Zinn held executive positions with several New England utility companies. He began his career 35 years ago as a member of the line department of the Lowell Electric Company. He later worked in the commercial and accounting branches of various New England subsidiaries. For 15 years he served as assistant treasurer, first of the New England Power Association, later of the New England Electric System of which he was elected secretary last year.

He was widely read, keenly interested in art and music, and had travelled extensively both in this country and abroad. Among the many organizations to which he belonged are the Mystic Valley Lodge, A.F. & A.M. and the Boston Business Men's Art Club.

Mr. Zinn was a resident of Winchester for over 24 years, making his home at 7 Yale street. He leaves his wife, Ruth Collier Zinn, three daughters, Mrs. Rupert Stangroom of Tynsboro, Mrs. Peter Farnsworth of Seattle, Washington, and Mrs. Bruce MacDonald of Wilmington, and five grandchildren; also his father, Joseph Zinn, a sister, Marie Zinn of Dorchester, and two brothers, Walter of Fitchburg and John of California.

WILLIAM H. CLAYTON

William H. Clayton, 81, of 2 Rogers avenue, Trenton, N. J., died on February 1 at the Winchester Hospital, while visiting his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Jope of 37 Dix street.

Mr. Clayton had been associated with Lenox, Inc., makers of fine china, for 68 years. Having learned the art of china painting under the exacting master craftsman, Walter Scott Lenox, Mr. Clayton became responsible for the execution of every detail of the decorating of Lenox China. In later years he also served as a member of the board of directors of Lenox, Inc.

At the Trenton Y.M.C.A., he was one of the members of the team which inaugurated amateur basketball in that area.

For a number of years Mr. Clayton was a member of the faculty of the Trenton School of Industrial Arts, instructing evening classes in china painting.

He was also a director of the Hahnemann Hospital in Philadelphia, Pa., and a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Morrisville, Pa.

He is survived by his wife, Grace E. Clayton, his daughter, Florence Clayton Jope, and three grandchildren, Roxanne Elizabeth, Deborah Clayton and Theodore William.

Funeral services were conducted at Ivins and Taylor's Funeral Home in Trenton, N. J., at two o'clock on Wednesday with interment at Ewing Cemetery.

REV. MOTHER MARY CLOONAN

Rev. Mother Mary Cloonan, R.C.E., superior of Marycliff Academy until she took ill a year ago, and Regional Counsellor for the Religious Christian Education in the United States, died Sunday, February 2, at the convent.

Sister Mary was born in London 67 years ago and she entered the Religious of Christian Education in Belgium in 1909. She studied in Belgium and Rome and was professed in 1911. She came to America shortly afterward where she started her educational career which resulted in her appointment to important positions in education.

She was a pioneer in the Catholic educational field and rose from the teaching ranks to administrative work. Alumnae and parents of students at Marycliff knew her as an able superior, a strong and efficient executive besides being widely experienced in the field of liberal arts.

When Sister Mary arrived in this country, she served as Mother Superior at Jeanne D'Arc Academy in Milton for five years.

She became Superior at Marycliff when it was located in Arlington and upon the opening of the new school and academy on High street, Sister Mary was again named superior. She supervised the layout of the new property, directed the new building program and was the deciding factor in the details of the construction of the dormitories and the chapel.

She had been superior at Marycliff since 1947. She received her Master's degree at Boston College in 1930.

Sister Mary leaves three brothers, Stephen, Arnold and Cyril Cloonan, all of London; a niece, Mother Bernadine, O.S.U. of London, and a nephew, Father Kevin, O.S.F. of London.

Right Rev. Monsignor Thomas C. Garrahan, spiritual director of the Academy, officiated at the requiem high mass at the Academy Chapel on Tuesday morning. He was assisted by Rev. John M. Manion and Rev. Charles Anadore of St. Mary's Church. The Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, D.D., archbishop of Boston, gave the final blessing at the mass of burial. The services were confined to the members of the religious community.

MISS BLANCHE I. JOUETT

Miss Blanche I. Jouett of Fall River, a former Winchester resident for many years, died Friday, January 31, in Fall River.

Miss Jouett formerly lived on Brooks street and at the Washington street Mt. Pleasant corner. She was the daughter of Mark R. and Mary Jane Yerxa Jouett of Somerville and was born in that city on July 11, 1883.

Miss Jouett attended the Somerville schools and was graduated from Tufts University. She taught school for many years, starting in St. Johnsbury, Vt., and Nashua, N. H., and she taught mathematics at the Fall River high school for 30 years.

Miss Jouett leaves a sister, Mrs. George W. Apsey of 19 Symmes road and a brother, Mark R. Jouett of Brookline. She also leaves several nephews and nieces, William J. and Robert S. Apsey of Winchester, Frances Mallet of Lexington, Charles Proctor of Minneapolis, Minn., George Proctor of Yarmouth, Me., Anne Bobseine of Wellesley and Mrs. Dennis Hills of England.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with the Rev. Robert L. Storer, minister of the Winchester Unitarian Church, officiating. A memorial service was held on Tuesday in Fall River. Interment was at the Cambridge Cemetery.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The prayers of chanting aborigines in the wilds of Central Australia will be voiced in many tongues circling the globe when the 1958 World Day of Prayer dawns on February 21. A committee of church women in Melbourne collected four of these prayers from tribeswomen who have been taught the Christian gospel. They ask God's love for "people of all places in the earth." The service will be said in some 60 languages and more than 1,000 dialects.

World Day of Prayer is set aside to unite all Christians in the bond of prayer and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad.

The first invocations will arise from the people of Queen Salote's island kingdom, led by that Christian monarch. They will be followed by cadenced phrases pouring forth across Asia, Africa, Europe, the Americas and the intervening island groups, across 144 countries, when they die to a whistper in the Land of the Midnight Sun in the Bering Sea. The prayers will ask for the Bread of Life for the physically hungry and the spiritually thirsty.

This World Day of Prayer came into being in 1887 and more than 25,000 communities with take part in this 1958 observance. Joyful bells of many denominations will ring in unison calling to worship. Our bells will ring at 11 a.m. and again for the service in the afternoon at the Second Congregational Church on Washington street. Preschool children will be cared for in the nursery. Members from the seven Protestant churches in Winchester will form the choir and each church will send its reader. Plans are being made for a children's service at the First Baptist Church to take place the same afternoon.

CHILDREN THROW ROCKS AT TRAIN

The Tower man at the Boston and Maine Railroad called police on Saturday to report that he had received a call from the conductor of a freight train which had gone through Winchester heading south. When the train approached the site of the new First National Store, the conductor said that several children started throwing rocks, one of which smashed a window.

Officers Alfred Poole and Andrew Crawford investigated and found a boy who later confessed. The boy was slated to see Chief Charles J. Harrold to decide what action would be taken.

TUFTS THEATER SEARCHES FOR BOY LEAD

Tufts Arena Theater is searching for the impossible for their next major production, Carson McCuller's 1950 Broadway hit play, "The Member of the Wedding." Director, Pamela Printy, has announced that a boy of eleven or twelve who approximates the physical size of a seven or eight year old is needed to play John Henry West, one of the feature roles in the play originally created by Brandon deWilde on Broadway.

Open casting is being held for all parts in the play, scheduled for production March 18 through 22. The roles include Frankie Adams, an adolescent girl whose desperate desire "to belong" leads us to both laughter and tears, her father, John Henry's mother, and teenage friends of Frankie. There are also choice roles for two negro actors and two negro actresses to play Berenice, the colored woman who runs the Adams household and looks after motherless Frankie, Berenice's son, Honey Brown, and two close friends.

Local people are cordially invited to participate in these open tryouts. They will be held at the Tufts Arena Theater on Saturday, February 8 from 2 to 5 p. m. and again on Monday, February 10 from 4 to 7 and also from 8:30 to 10 in the evening.

POLICE RECEIVE COMPLAINT ABOUT DOOR-TO-DOOR SALES

Mrs. James Murphy of 89 Main street called the police on Saturday to report that two deaf and dumb girls were at her door selling aprons.

Officer Andrew Crowford checked on the complaint and found that the girls were selling aprons house to house. One had a note pinned to her coat which said "I am deaf and dumb, please buy an apron for $1.00."

The other girl could speak and she reported that she had been left by an aunt, Mrs. Thelma S. Farnesworth of 11 Waters avenue, Everett, and that she and the other girl were to sell the aprons.

The police called the aunt and told her that the children needed a permit. The aunt said she would come to the station but she didn't.

MATIGNON GUILD PRESENTS "GOOD GROOMING"

The Matignon Guild of Cambridge will hold its next business meeting at Matignon High School cafeteria on Thursday, February 13, at 2:30 p. m.

Highlight of the meeting will be the presentation of "Good Grooming" by Miss Mary Purcell, educational director of John H. Breck, Inc. Miss Kathryn Kenney of Allston will demonstrate hair styles.

A coffee hour will follow the meeting and guests are invited. Chairmen for the occasion are Mrs. Albert Hyland and Mrs. James McGinn.

DARTMOUTH GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The Dartmouth Women's Club of Boston is sponsoring the Dartmouth College Glee Club in a concert to be held at New England Mutual Hall on Saturday, February 15, at 8:15 p. m. for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

Featured with the glee club are two Winchester boys. Donald F. Folkers, a baritone, is a junior whose father, Kern E. Folkers, 79 Yale street, was graduated from Dartmouth in 1927. He attended Winchester High School and is an announcer for the student operated radio station at Dartmouth, W. D. C. R. Dartmouth College. James R. Willing, another baritone, is a senior. His father, James B. Willing, 23 Leslie road, was also a member of the class of 1927 at Dartmouth.

Chairmen of the event are Mrs. Wesley McSorley and Mrs. Joseph H. Clancy.

Patrons and patronesses from Winchester are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. William Cusack, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. England, Mr. and Mrs. Kern E. Folkers, Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Gleason, Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Perkins, and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Willing, Mr. and Mrs. Harris S. Richardson, Jr.

MRS. BLANCHARD ASSOCIATED WITH RUTH PORTER'S OFFICE

The Ruth C. Porter Company, Realtors, of 33 Thompson street, are pleased to announce that Mrs. Jacqueline B. Blanchard is now associated with their office as an insurance broker. Mrs. Blanchard handles all types of insurance. She is a member of the Insurance Brokers Association of Massachusetts, and has recently been appointed a notary public.

Mrs. Blanchard is a life-long resident of Winchester, and resides at 28 Seneca road. She attended the Winchester schools, graduated from the Brimmer-May School of Boston and attend Wheaton College, Norton, Mass. She has been active in civic and church affairs in Winchester.

Mrs. Blanchard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes of Stetson Hall.

PECK AND PECK WINDOW BROKEN

Assistant Manager Gene Moore of Brighams reported to police last Friday night that at 9:20 a window was broken in the Peck and Peck vestibule.

The window was an 8 x 36 pane and it was reported that six or seven young boys were standing near the window when there was a sound of breaking glass. Immediately the boys ran off.

Police are checking on the incident.

EN KA WINTER MEETING

The January meeting of En Ka Society was held on Tuesday, January 28, at the home of Mr. Albert D. Swazey, 336 Main street. After a delicious luncheon served by Mrs. Don Greer and her committee, the meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. George S. Connor.

The guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Mary Lyng, who is the social worker for the Department of Public Welfare in Winchester. She pointed out the fact that the welfare service is a government agency and therefore must operate within the framework laid down by the state. The budget is standardized and allows for basic needs only. En Ka has provided many of the extras that mean so much for a happier life. Mrs. Lyng ended her interesting talk by saying "No one needs to go without, if needs are known."

Mrs. Leslie J. Scott then explained about the Needlework Guild, which is a national organization. It is customary for each member to provide two identical articles, "one for wash and one for wear." The articles are brought to the ingathering, which takes place the last of October or first of November. Representatives of the W. V. N A. and the welfare department come to the meeting and select articles that they can use in the performance of their duties. It was voted by the En Ka members to continue the work of the Needlework Guild and have an ingathering once a year. There will be a notice of the time and place later.

It is the hope of the En Ka members that the former members of the Needlework Guild and any others who are interested will join them in giving articles at the ingathering. Towels, sheets and all household articles are needed.

Mrs. William C. Cusack, the new director of Winchester Red Cross, announced that the Winchester quarters of Red Cross have been moved from the town hall to the building formerly occupied by the superintendent of schools, next to the library. Mrs. Cusack wished to thank all the volunteers for their splendid work in the two disasters in Winchester this past week, also to thank those who assisted and gave blood at the Bloodmobile.

The Street Fair chairman, Mrs. Paul Forester, Jr., announced that the plans for the fair were progressing nicely and that Winchester residents should watch for the Caravan of Gypsies. A plant sale will be held at the home of Mrs. Albert Swazey, 336 Main street, on March 28.

The civic chairman, Mrs. John McLean, spoke of the pretty sewing and jewelry boxes that were given to the family at the Home for Christmas.

The Work Shop held its meeting on February 6 at the home of Mrs. Thomas M. Righter, Jr. The chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Dallin, is very much pleased with all the sewing and knitting that is being accomplished.

Mrs. William Beal, social service chairman, gave a very heartwarming report of the work that she and her committee, consisting of Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mrs. Harold F. Meyer and Mrs. John Page, did at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Eight dinners were provided at Thanksgiving and at Christmas six dinners, also toys and clothing, were distributed at the cost of $242.17. 50 children and 22 adults were taken care of at these two holidays. $25.00 was given to Mrs. Lyng for her Christmas fund and also $25.00 to be used from now on for her comfort fund. A sum of $338.25 has been used for clothing for the welfare agencies. Mrs. Beal read a letter of thanks from a mother whose only Christmas was provided for by En Ka.

The finance chairman, Mrs. Herbert Ross, read the following board decisions:

1. $300.00 to the Winchester Red Cross to help furnish the new office.
2. $300.00 to the social service chairman.
3. Approximately $600 for a dishwasher and a disposal for the Home for the Aged.
4. $170.00 to the Homefronters for postage.

MOUNT HOLYOKE ALUMNAE COUNCIL MEETING

Mrs. Philip M. Marvel of 29 Lloyd street and Mrs. Richard L. Emerson of 75 Pond street, Councilor of the Mt. Holyoke Club of Winchester are among nearly 200 alumnae of Mount Holyoke College invited to the 42nd annual meeting of the Alumnae Council, February 7-9. Alumnae club councilors and Council officers as well as representatives of the Alumnae Association, classes, and the college, will convene on the South Hadley campus to discuss topics under the general heading, "Education, 'An Excellent Thing in Woman'."

As part of a consideration of "Effectiveness in Admissions," the conference guests will become a mock Board of Admissions. Miss Harriet Newhall and Miss Clara R. Ludwig, director and associate director of admissions, will present to the alumnae data on typical candidates for entrance. These cases will be based on actual former applications and the Council will consider and vote on each case. Academic Dean Meribeth E. Cameron will preside.

The associate dean of the Harvard Business School, Vernon R. Alden, will lead the discussion on "The Effective Alumnae Club" on Saturday afternoon. That evening, at a dinner given by the Council and guests, President Richard Glenn Gettell will speak on his first six months in office.

Other events planned for the weekend include a concert by the Cleveland Orchestra on Friday night and a service in Abbey Memorial Chapel on Sunday morning. John Wesley Lord, D.D., resident bishop of the Methodist church in Boston area, will preach the sermon.

TUFTS ALUMNAE TO HOLD VALENTINE LUNCHEON-BRIDGE

Mrs. John S. Ahearn, 159 Cambridge street is chairman, and Mrs. Charles F. MacCarthy of Medford is co-chairman of a Valentine luncheon and bridge sponsored by the Association of Tufts Alumnae to benefit the Alumnae Scholarship Fund on February 15, at 12:30 p.m., to be held in Alumnae Hall, Tufts University.

Mrs. Howard L. Leary, 48 Westland avenue, is president of the Association of Tufts Alumnae.

Assisting the chairmen are Mrs. Norman Stafford, 15 Ridgefield road, and Mrs. Earle Littleton, 14 Cranston road.

All alumnae and friends are invited to attend.

MSPCA PROCLAIMS MEMBERSHIP MONTH

Dr. Eric H. Hansen, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, proclaimed the month of February to be "Membership Month" for the 90-year-old Society. "The goal is 10,000 new members," he declared.

The Society, which had its beginning in a one-room office on Milk street in Boston, was founded by George T. Angell in 1868. Today it is the most complete humane society in the country. The Angell Memorial Hospital, which it operates, is widely known for its advanced techniques in the field of veterinary medicine. Uniformed agents are on duty three hundred and sixty-five days a year to enforce cruelty laws and it also maintains a rest farm for horses, an animal cemetery and animal shelters and hospitals throughout the state.

The organization has a progressive educational program, not only for children, but for teachers and students who are interested in gaining further credits for a degree.

The activities of the livestock conservation and wildlife conservation departments are nation-wide. The society publishes "Our Dumb Animals," the oldest and most widely distributed magazine of its kind in the world.

To continue these extensive humane programs, Dr. Hansen hopes that every animal lover in the Commonwealth will want to take a personal interest in the society or some particular phase of its work. Interested people may write to: "Membership," 180 Longwood avenue, Boston 15, Mass., for further information.

NAMED TO COLBY JR. COLLEGE DEAN'S LIST

Linda Thomson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick S. Thomson of 25 Fells road was honored for academic achievement at Colby Junior College.

Miss Thomson was guest of honor at the Dean's List dinner held recently in the College Commons. Dean Eleanor E. Dodd, hostess for the occasion, presided at the program following the dinner.

Recognition of achievement was accorded by President Eugene M. Austin and Reynold Styles, chairman of the Accreditations Committee, before the entire student body. Accomplishments of Dean's List status indicates that Miss Thomson maintained a "B" average or better throughout the previous semester.

Miss Thomson, a senior, is in the secretarial science program and is a member of the Glee Club and the Christian Association. She is a Winchester High School graduate.

WINCHESTER NIGHT AT RETARDED CHILDREN ASSN.

The first meeting of the new season of the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children was held in Wakefield Y.M.C.A. on January 22. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mr. Paul Cameron, chaplain of the organization.

Mr. Horace Hyland, who acted as area chairman of the November Fund Drive gave his final report of the Drive. It was an outstanding success. From the nine towns in the East Middlesex area the sum of $11,079 was collected. Winchester's contribution was $582.26. Mr. Hyland expressed his gratitude for the full cooperation he received during the drive and spoke of the enthusiastic and tireless effort of all who participated in this project.

He then read the proposed budget for the fiscal year of 1958.

The budget included proposed plans for pre-school clinics, adolescent study groups, trainable classes, medical and teaching scholarships, transportation, school supplies and many other items so necessary in the education of retarded children.

Mr. John McNiff of Stoneham, chairman of the Project Committee, unfolded plans to start a pre-school clinic and adolescent class in Woburn. All parents of retarded children in the Woburn, Winchester, Burlington and Wilmington area are urged to send their youngsters to these classes when they are formed. E.M.A.R.C. Inc. will supply not only the teachers but the transportation to and from these classes.

After the business meeting the program for the evening was held. Mrs. Sylvester L. Horne, Winchester chairman, introduced Miss Lois Sullivan, Woburn, Mrs. M. Laurette Smith, Winchester and Mrs. Thomas Burke, Wakefield, all teachers of Retarded Children, as the participants in a panel discussion on "Methods of Teaching Retarded Children."

A question and answer period followed the discussion.

Mrs. Elsie Sacchetti of Woburn and her committee served refreshments following the meeting. All members of E.M.A.R.C. left the hall enormously impressed and heartened by this meeting and more than one expressed the thought that, at last, their hopes and dreams for these so long forgotten children were now beginning to take shape and the future of all retarded children seemed brighter, thanks to a more enlightened and understanding public.

The next meeting, which will be held in the Y.M.C.A. of Wakefield, February 26, is to be headed by the Parent-Education Committee who will conduct an informal Forum with the groups divided into the following three classifications: Mongoloidism, Brain - Damaged, Emotionally Disturbed and Handicapped children. It will benefit all parents of Retarded Children to be present.

INTERNATIONAL MARDI GRAS BALL HELD FEBRUARY 14

"Old Americans" and new Americans" will be out in full force for the 21st annual International Mardi Gras Ball, to be held at the Hotel Statler, Boston, Friday evening, February 14. The spirit of Valentine's Day will be expressed in the stage program featuring Greater Boston folk dance groups performing Armenian, Dutch, Hungarian, Lithuanian, Filipino, Polish, Swedish, and Early American dances.

The foyer will offer all-evening delight in home-cooked snacks and pastries at the "Around the World Buffet." To be found will be delicacies of the Albanians, Armenians, Baltics, Chinese, Finns, French, Germans, Greeks, Portuguese, and Syrians.

The Mardi Gras king and queen will be chosen from among those wearing authentic national costumes. Other prizes will be given for beautiful and original costumes and to those winning the waltz contest.

Among those serving on the Mardi Gras Ball Committee is Mrs. K. Kolligian of 71 Wedgemere avenue, a member of the senior advisory council.

BOY SCOUT SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Local Boy Scout Troops and their Leaders will join in worship at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning, February 9, at eleven o'clock.

Under the direction of Mr. William Wickwire, District Commissioner, the Scouts will convene in the Church Social Hall at ten thirty o'clock.

Those taking part in the Sanctuary Service at eleven o'clock include Peter Swanson, Daniel Brink and David Swanson, all of Troop 4; Peter Matson of Troop 3; Douglas Dade and Gary Carr of Troop 9; and Mr. Fred Otto, Scoutmaster of Troop 7.

A cordial invitation is extended to parents and friends of the Scouts and Cub Scouts to share this impressive service.

BURLINGTON DRIVER HITS EDISON POLE

Philip G. Freeman of 2 Alma road, Burlington was injured last Friday at 8:00 p. m. when his car crashed into an Edison Company pole opposite 19 Grove street.

Mr. Freeman was taken to the Winchester Hospital and was later released. His car was badly damaged on the front end.

PARISH PLAYERS PRESENT "PHILADELPHIA STORY"

"The Philadelphia Story" will be presented by the Parish Players in Chidley Hall Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, February 13, 14 and 15 With an excellent cast and the capable professional direction of Harlan F. Grant of the Weston (Vt.) Playhouse, this comedy marks the second in the three series of the Parish Players productions for this year. Mrs. George H. Gowdy is in charge of ticket reservations.

The cast includes Henry Fitts, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Millican, George E. Connor, Mrs. Robert P. Blake, Miss Judith Blake, Sewell Richardson, William Early, Charles Mulhern, Mrs. Harry Benson, Peter Dee, Mary Lowry. The elegant Philadelphia sitting room setting has been created by George H. Gowdy and his stage crew, Paul Gilpatric, James Newman, Robert Millican, George S. Hebb, Jr., and Charles A. Brown. Furnishings are by Mrs. George E. Connor, Mrs. Robert Sibley, Mrs. John Wills, Mrs. Paul Collins, Mrs. Harry Benson; properties, Miss Joanne Eklund, Miss Marjorie McGaw, Miss Debbie Norris.

Mrs. Lenore T. Gamage is in charge of costumes, and has secured the assistance of Cyreld of Brookline, the fashion artist who gowns the ladies on the Kraft TV Theatre, Jackie Gleason Shows, Jane Day, and other fine programs. Mrs. Gamage will be assisted by Mrs. Lowell R. Smith and Miss Ruth Nelson.

Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard has charge of the coffee hour and house management. The Forum young people, who have the Thursday performance, will sell candy for all three nights, and Miss Joyce Pollard is chairman of the candy committee.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

VOL. LXXVII NO. 23 — THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1958 — PRICE TEN CENTS

Public Hearing

2000 In High Schools In 1962

Tentative enrollment projections were announced by the Junior-Senior High School Building Committee on Tuesday evening at a public hearing at the high school. By October 1962, the committee foresees 2000-2040 in Grades 7-12; by October 1967, between 2250-2300. "It is not unlikely," says the committee, that at some point, the Winchester High Schools may have more than 3000 students.

An audience of about 30 also learned that there are presently 1562 students in grades 7-12, and capacity of 1600. However, the senior high is overcrowded, and the junior high has 100 pupils less than capacity.

The committee is now in the process of developing possible alternatives for adding additional facilities in the center of the town. In order to supplement its own study it has engaged the services of Cambridge Consultants, Inc., a well-know firm of educational consultants, to investigate the various alternatives from the points of view of educational suitability, cost, room for expansion and other factors.

The committee hopes to present a recommendation at the coming town meeting as to whether additional facilities should be located in the center of town or whether such facilities should be built elsewhere.

Mr. William Davies, a member of the committee which reported in 1950 and recommended the construction of a new junior high school in the Palmer Street playground, area, indicated that this committee had felt it unwise to commit the town to a concentration of its secondary schools in the center. His committee had recommended the abandonment of what is now the junior high school and the building of a new junior high school. It was his opinion that although the present junior high school was completely remodeled, the use of the Palmer street location for additional junior high facilities would not be advisable because the schools would be too close together.

Mr. William J. Speers reminded the meeting that his committee, which remodeled and expanded both high schools, had planned the schools adequately for a four-year program. Their program contemplated that the senior high would be cut back to a three-year school (preferred by the school department) when it became overloaded. Their plan considered the renovation of the old high school into a junior high school adequate for a two-year program when completed, but which, when converted to a three-year program, would require further building.

He indicated that originally his committee felt that the present junior high school should be expected to handle only one-half the junior high load and that the town should construct a new junior high in a new location for the other half. His committee pointed out at the town meeting that the closing of Main street and the construction of a supplemental classroom building in the area between the two schools should be considered as an alternate, perhaps preferable, possibility to the construction of a second junior high school at a new location.

Mr. George Heath raised the question of whether further stories might not be added to the present facilities. Dr. Gilson, superintendent of schools, explained that when more floors were added, more time was required for students to move from one class to another, causing a loss of instruction time. Mr. Speers said that the new south wing of the senior high school was designed as a two-floor structure and the wing was incapable of carrying a third floor.

Mr. W. Howard Niblock, principal of the high school, indicated that the problem of additional facilities is extremely urgent and that, if Winchester desires to maintain its present educational standards, construction of new space must begin as soon as possible. Mrs. Robert Mulford emphasized that new construction should be large enough so that additional building will not be required as soon as the school opens. Dr. Gilson pointed out that if a new three-year junior high was built, an expansion of the senior high would also be required in the near future.

Mr. Melville L. Kishler spoke in favor of closing Main street, pointing out that if a new building were constructed across Main street it could provide more than twenty classrooms. The question was raised whether the space would be sufficient for further expansion beyond such an addition. The problems involved in relocating the utilities now in Main street was discussed by Mr. Lewis Wadsworth.

The meeting was conducted by Robert P. Bigelow, chairman of the present committee. Mrs. Edward Bailey, Dr. Harry Gilson, Mr. Lewis Wadsworth and Mr. Seymour Bingham of the committee were also present.

HERBERT B. MOORE

HERBERT MOORE APPOINTED TILTON SCHOOL HEADMASTER

Appointment of Herbert B. Moore, formerly of Winchester, as the next Headmaster of Tilton School has been announced by Alonzo R. Gile, president of the Board of Trustees. Succeeding the acting headmaster, Dean J. Gordon Jeffries, the new headmaster will assume duties at the 113 year old preparatory school in July.

A graduate of Winchester High School in the class of 1944, and Bowdoin College in 1948, Mr. Moore is currently on the administrative staff of Belmont Hill School, where he is also history teacher, Secretary of the Belmont Hill Fund and director of public relations. He was formerly on the faculty at Berkshire School, Sheffield, Mass.

Mr. Moore has received two graduate degrees, from Boston University in history, and from Harvard University in educational administration. He is married to the former Martha Marie Fay, also of Winchester, and is the father of two boys and a girl.

While at Bowdoin, where he majored in history, Mr. Moore was president of his class and editor-in-chief of the college newspaper and yearbook, and played varsity basketball. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Tilton School, one of the oldest boys' boarding schools in the country, was established in 1845 by clergymen and laymen of the Methodist Church. Up to 1939, Tilton was co-ed, but now enrolls 200 boys in grades 8 through 12.

WADSWORTH OUTSTANDING AT ANDOVER

Christopher Wadsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip P. Wadsworth of 66 Oxford street, has earned a respected and notable position for himself in the graduating class of Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass. Before going to Andover in 1955, Chris attended Winchester High School.

Chris has distinguished himself in three different sports at Andover. He earned his varsity letter in cross-country as a sophomore and has been a valuable asset to the team ever since. This year he was elected captain. Last year he starred as captain of J.V. basketball, and at the moment is a strong contender for the right guard spot on varsity. In the Spring, he heads for the tennis courts, and after three years, he has the experience and ability to hold a ranking position on the varsity.

Wadsworth's athletic prominence is no less important than his contributions to several extra-curricular activities. At the present time he is president of the Student Congress, one of the leading posts in the school. Chris is also active in Church life at Andover. He is one of the eight student deacons elected by the members of the Phillips Academy Chapel.

Chris Wadsworth is what those at Phillips Academy would like to call the "Andover Man." A gentleman of fine character, he exemplifies all that the grand old school tries to instill in its student body.

MRS. MARGUERITE B. BAKER

Mrs. Marguerite B. Baker of Hampton, N. H., formerly of Winchester, died at her home in New Hampshire on Tuesday, February 4.

Mrs. Baker lived for many years at 225 Forest street and was very active in the Women's Republican Club and a staunch worker in the Second Congregational Church.

She leaves her husband, William R. Baker of Hampton, N. H.; a son, Jason Bruce Baker of Marblehead; and two grandchildren. She also is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ann Dodds of Philadelphia, Pa., and Miss Jessie Bruce of Concord, N. H.

Funeral services were held last Friday, February 7, from the Woodlawn Chapel in Everett.

FIRES

Wednesday, February 12, Mrs. Katherine Olivadoti called at 10:50 a. m. to report that she was having trouble with her television set. Firefighters found that a transformer on the TV had burned out causing smoke but no fire.

JOHN C. LeGATES

GENERAL MOTORS NATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP FINALIST

John Crews LeGates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eber T. LeGates of 106 Church street, a senior at the Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, New Hampshire, is one of the eight hundred finalists under the General Motors National Scholarship plan.

The finalists are selected on the basis of high scores on the scholastic aptitudes portion of the College Entrance Board Examinations.

Secondary school record and personal history will determine the one hundred four-year scholarship winners from this group.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY LAUNCHES FUND DRIVE

Eugene G. Rochow of 25 Canterbury road is one of the officers in this area helping to raise $3,000,000 for the American Chemical Society fund drive.

Directed primarily toward more than 82,000 A.C.S. members across the country, the drive will also work toward gifts from companies and businesses in the chemical industry as well as those engaged in various capacities in the general chemistry field.

A new larger, and more efficient headquarters in Washington, D. C., is the objective of the drive.

The headquarters with its vast reference files and research information will serve the chemical industry and chemistry profession throughout the entire nation.

Higher education, graduate education, and secondary education will also be served by the new facility when completed.

MRS. MULRENAN RETIRES

Mrs. Delia "Ma" Mulrenan of 26 Oak street was given a party on Saturday, February 8, at the Hayes Restaurant in honor of her retirement from Brigham's where she has worked for eighteen years.

Among the employees from Brigham's who attended were Eddie Howard, Mary Paris, Jean Paris, Mary Sericka, Helen O'Connor, Mary Fitzpatrick, William Kelley, Laura Mangano and Lorianne Mangano. Bertha Nelson, Grace Mester and Martha Fish from Dorothy Muriel's were also present.

An enjoyable evening was had by all and her many friends wished her good health and happiness in her retirement. William Kelley provided the entertainment for the party.

ENTERTAINED AT HOTEL VENDOME

Miss Lee Dresser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Dresser, of 83 Cambridge street was one of the Juanita Cansino Dancing Troupe who performed at the Spanish Ball at the Hotel Vendome on Friday evening, February 7.

Lee danced a solo "Fado," a Portuguese peasant dance, playing the cymbals as the accompaniment. She also danced with the troupe in "The Lady of Spain," the gay and turbulent "Sevillana," and the traditional dance form of "Jota Aragonesa." Juanita Cansino, teacher and director of the troupe, is a member of the famed dancing family of Spain.

ATTENTION LOCAL BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL PEOPLE

This year in May, the Town of Winchester is to be the "host" for the Northeastern Mass. Music Festival. This means that there will be invited to Winchester some 60 schools to parade and participate in a Music Festival. Bands, orchestras and singing groups, some 100 bus loads of them will come into our Town for the day. This is to be Winchester's Day," a day the kids have been looking forward to for years.

We are going to make up a lovely souvenir program which will have "All" the Winchester Business and Professional people listed with their addresses. For this ad we would like a donation of $5.00, minimum, to help our kids put this over. It's their day, let's all help make it a success.

It has been said that the Town of Concord, which was the "host" Town last year, collected their donations in 10 days. Let's beat Concord and make our collection in 9 days.

Have your secretary send a check today, and be sure to send your business or professional listing and address.

Thanks in behalf of our "kids".

Ralph H. Bonnell, Sr., 666 Main street.

Nicholas H. Fitzgerald, 36 Church street.

Alfred E. Elliott, 45 Church street.

MRS HILDA C. DAVIS

Mrs. Hilda C. Davis of Bedford and Carlisle, mother of Mrs. Esther Blanchard and Knowlton W. Davis of 54 Samoset road, died suddenly Sunday, February 9, at the Winchester Hospital.

Born in Norway on September 23, 1882, Mrs. Davis came to the United States as a young child. Her family settled in Carlisle and she attended the Carlisle schools. She was a member of the Congregational Church United Workers in Bedford.

Mrs. Davis and her husband, Sidney A. Davis of Waltham, Mass., were married on October 29, 1902 in Carlisle. Besides her husband and two children living in Winchester, Mrs. Davis leaves four other children; Ralph S. Davis of Spartonburg, South Carolina; Mrs. Eva G. Kramer of Lexington; Mrs. Eleanor Lampila of Averill Park, N. Y.; and Richard S. Davis of Lexington. She also leaves 11 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services were held at the Douglass Chapel in Lexington on Wednesday at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Melvin Derby, formerly of the Congregational Church in Bedford, who took part in Mr. and Mrs. Davis' fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration in 1952, officiated. Interment was at the Carlisle Green cemetery.

GUEST SPEAKER AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. John A. Craig, new executive secretary for the Boston Baptist Bethel City Mission Society, will preach at the morning sanctuary service at First Baptist Church, Sunday, February 16, at eleven o'clock. His sermon "How Far is Farther" will point out the urgent need of our help and support of the "America For Christ" offering which will be taken throughout our denomination the following Sunday.

All friends in the community, especially those interested in Mission work, are cordially invited to hear Rev. Craig.

COMPLETES TEACHING ASSIGNMENT

Rev. Wesley A. Mallery, Associate Minister at the First Congregational Church, next Monday will complete a six weeks teaching assignment at the Leadership Training Institute being held in Quincy under the auspices of the South Shore Council of Churches.

It is the third season that Mr. Mallery has been invited to serve on the faculty of this inter-church school which this year enrolled more than 300 lay workers of South Shore churches in the several classes. Mr. Mallery's course was on "Worship in the Church School."

CELEBRATE 50th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John Procopio of 18 Olive street celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last Sunday, February 9, at a party at the Columbus Hall on Raymond place.

Over 150 guests attended the party which featured a buffet luncheon, dancing and other refreshments. Highlighting the party was a mock wedding performed by some of the guests under the direction of Mrs. A. Amico of Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. Procopio have six children, Frank and Michael of Winchester, Mrs. Peter Graziano of Wakefield, Mrs. Louis Gentile of Winchester, Mrs. Sal Cataldo of Medford and Mrs. John Gregorio of Wakefield.

Also present at the anniversary celebration were Mrs. Procopio's three sisters, Mrs. James Suppa and Mrs. Antonio Cefali of Winchester and Mrs. Dominic Bolloti of New York; and Mr. Procopio's brother Frank of North Woburn. Also present were the Procopio's twelve grandchildren. One of the guests present, Domenic Ferriania of 83 Oak street, made Mrs. Procopio's wedding shoes.

McCREERYS VISIT FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery of 4 Curtis street have been braving the cool breezes at Sarasota. Recently, they motored to Brooksville to spend several days with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDonald, who are living near Brooksville for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald are the directors of Camp Nokomis.

After reminiscing about Winchester acquaintances they took advantage of lovely warm weather and drove to Silver Springs, Juniper Springs and Silver Glen. Silver Glen is where the movie "The Yearling" was filmed and the quick sand bails fascinated us.

From Silver Glen, they drove to Daytona Beach, collecting mistletoe and "shooting" an armadilla en route.

The next day was complete with exploration of Lackiwac Lee river by boat where we collected orchids from the trees.

The McCreerys plan to fly back to the colder country in a few days. The McDonalds will drive north the first of April in time for the Camp Nokomis reunion in Boston on April 12.

JOHN McCORMACK GRADUATES FROM NAVAL SCHOOL

John McCormack, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCormack of 49 Hemingway street, was graduated Wednesday, February 12, from the United States Naval Submarines School at New London, Conn.

John is now enjoying a 10 day leave at home. After his leave is up, he will report back to New London for duty on a submarine.

John was graduated from Winchester High School last June and joined the Navy in August.

ROTARY CLUB

This week's speaker at the Winchester Rotary Club was Bob Lybeck of the Boston Club. His subject "Space Satellites and Security" was both intriguing and timely. Bob has been a prominent citizen of Winchester for many years, serving as a town meeting member, school committee member and last year was on the new town hall committee.

Again members are reminded that February is 100% attendance month. Let's all get out next week.

ACCIDENT ON WOODSIDE ROAD

Thomas G. Tatosian of 15 Sullivan parkway, Tewksburr, reported to police on Thursday at 12:45 a. m. that while he was traveling north on Woodside road between the two Winter Ponds he skidded on the icy pavement, turned completely around and collided with an Edison pole on the east side of Woodside road.

The car was damaged on the left front fender and the left front door was sprung. No personal injuries were reported. The Edison company was notified to check for damage to the pole.

WINCHESTER HOST TO 5000 MUSICIANS

For the first time in twenty-five years, the town of Winchester will have the honor of being host for the Northeast Mustic Festival on May 3.

Forty bands, orchestras, choruses and glee clubs from cities and towns all over Middlesex and Essex Counties will join to give Winchester some of the finest musical entertainment the town has seen in many years.

Last year, when the town of Concord was host, thirty-eight cities and towns participated.

Five thousand students of High School and Junior High School age will bring this entertainment to our townspeople free of charge.

Members of the General Committee, under Chairman Wendell Withington, are working very hard to show the participating towns that Winchester, with its great civic pride, certainly will rise to the occasion and prove to be a top-notch host.

Members of that Committee are:

Mrs. Lyle Longworth, secretary
Mr. E. Abbott Bradlee, treasurer
Mr. Lester Gustin, Jr., parade marshal
Mr. Benjamin Gowing, hospitality
Mr. George Gowdy, badges and insignia
Mr. Paul LaMarche, program
Mr. James Coon, Chief Charles Harrold, Coach Henry Knowlton, parking
Mr. Thomas Morse, Mr. Theodore Janner, audition halls
Mr. W. Howard Niblock, Stadium
Mr. Austin Nanry, mass chorus
Mr. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Mr. Alfred Elliott, Mr. Ralph Bonnell, business sponsors
Mrs. Harlow Russell, luncheon
Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully, Mrs. George Needham, Mrs. Herbert Ross, Mr. Olcott Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Mullon, publicity
Community School Association, patrons and patronesses

Although final plans for the giant parade are only now being formulated, other events of the day will include; in the morning auditions will be held in nine different halls and churches. Bands will perform before accredited judges in the High School auditorium, the Unitarian Church, the First Congregational Church, and the Wyman School. Choruses will be heard by professional adjudicators at the Junior High auditorium, the First Baptist Church, and the Church of the Epiphany. Professional criticism and ratings will be given to all the above, plus the orchestras, who will play at the Mystic School and the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

Student lunches will be provided at the High School cafeteria and the Junior High School cafeteria. Refreshment booths will be set up at Manchester Field and in front of the High School. Students will pay for their own lunches. Last year Concord served 850 lunches. Supervisors and directors will be entertained for luncheon at Masonic hall.

In the afternoon, the voices of 200 choristers will blend in a mass chorus at the High School auditorium, conducted by different guest supervisors from the Northeast Area.

Forty bands will participate in the afternoon parade. You will hear more about this later when chairman Gustin maps out the route and details are further settled. However, we do know that there will be a grand wind-up or finale at Manchester Field for a mass concert.

The General committee invites every citizen of the town of Winchester to enjoy one or all of the musical offerings at this grand Festival free of charge.

Because of its enormity, some financing will be necessary. Therefore, business sponsors at $5. each will be solicited by Messrs. Fitzgerald, Elliott, and Bonnell. Don't wait until they contact you! You contact them! Businessmen of other towns have realized that 5,000 children, plus their families can bring an awful lot of business into town.

Because of its pride in Winchester students and in the town, the Community School Association of Winchester (formerly Central Mother's) will conduct a mail campaign to parents of Winchester school children for patrons and patronesses. The cost of this privilege of appearing in the program as evidence of your interest in youth and music is only $2. All those in town, who would like to be a patron or patroness, and do not have a child in the schools may send their checks to Mr. E. Abbott Bradlee, treasurer. All checks to the Community School Association may be sent to Box 54, Winchester.

MRS. MARGARET L. QUINE

Mrs. Margaret L. Quine of 26 Lawson road died Saturday night, February 8, at the Winchester Hospital. She had been ill for about six weeks.

Mrs. Quine was born on August 16, 1903 in Chelsea, the daughter of the late Margaret and William J. Shaw. She attended the Chelsea schools and came to Winchester with her husband in 1936.

Mrs. Quine was the wife of Francis M. Quine whom she married in 1926. Besides her husband, she leaves three sons, Robert W., and James F., and Peter M. Quine, all of Winchester. She also leaves two grandchildren and two brothers, William A. of Reading and Robert J. Shaw of Brunswick, Me.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, with a solemn requiem high mass. Interment was at Holywood Cemetery in Brookline.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

Mrs. Elsie Nelson, town clerk, announced that since July 31, 1956, the total number of new registered voters has been increased by 166. The last time for registration to vote was on Tuesday.

From now on, there will be no new names added to the voting list until after the town election on March 3.

Town Accounting Shows Winchester In Excellent Financial Condition

According to James J. Costello, town accountant, Winchester's financial position on December 31, 1957, is very sound when compared with the 1956 fiscal year.

The town has three main sources of revenue, state money, borrowed money and taxes, and other normal revenue. The revenue balance this year was $148,000 in excess of the 1956 balance. Total cash in the treasury now amounts to $1,009,858. The surplus for the year amounted to $648,800, which means that $597,100 are available at present, which is over $174,000 more than was available in 1956.

Uncollected taxes this year, including real estate and poll taxes, amount to only $52,000 or 1.97% of the amount committed in the budget. In 1956, 2.29% of the taxes were uncollected.

Cash receipts this year amounted to $5,172,000, which is $503,000 more than was received in 1956. These include $335,000 in increased taxes, $56,000 in increased motor vehicle excise tax, and $36,000 in state tax distribution.

Even expenditures this year were down by $67,000 over 1956. Total expenditures were $4,873,000. This drop in expenditures was due partly to the completion of the school projects in 1956 and fewer special projects last year.

Receipts this year were $76,300 in excess of estimation. The estimation process is based upon amounts received in the previous year and is regulated by law. The various town departments turned back $108,800 and late assessments brought in $400. Thus, the total revenue exceeded expenditures by $185,000.

On the other side, the town debt was $2,420,000 or 4.8% of the average three-year evaluation of real, property and motor excise taxes. In 1956 the percentage was 5.1. New debt contracted during the year amounted to $110,000, which was due to the water supply. During 1957, $170,000 of the debt was paid off, leaving $60,000 less debt than in 1956.

The trust and investment accounts in 1957 were $853,200, and an increase of $53,800 over 1956. Some of the larger town trusts and investments are: Contributory retirement fund, $472,961; permanent care fund of Wildwood Cemetery, $196,316; Jere Downes Fund (library), $42,004; Edgar Rich Fund (library), $34,176; and the Asa Fletcher Fund (charity), $25,561.

EMIDIO DiLORETO

To the Voters of Winchester:

I am a candidate for School Committee and I respectfully solicit the support of the voters of Winchester. Permit me, if you please, to state the following qualifications for your consideration to this public office.

I am a graduate of Northeastern University—School of Law and I am a member of the Boston and Massachusetts Bar Association, actively engaged in the practice of law.

I am a veteran of World War II, and hold the rank of Captain, United States Army Reserve, 94th Infantry Division as Assistant Judge Advocate.

I am, also, actively engaged in organizations that contribute to the welfare of the community.

I am married to the former Antonette E. Cannao who is a member of the faculty of the School of Education at Boston College. We have two children, Elizabeth and Michael.

I hope I may have the pleasure in serving you and, if elected, I will endeavor to serve the Town of Winchester to the best of my ability. I welcome your support on Monday, March 3.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

ALL STATE ENCAMPMENT

Eighth grade girls who are interested in attending an All State Encampment in California or Illinois this summer should make application through their leaders before February 24. Detailed information was in the November bulletin.

Sectional Encampment

Applications for the Sectional Encampment, which will take place in Newbury over Memorial Day week end, in preparation for the Senior Round-Up in 1959, should be in the office by February 14.

Plans for Scouts Own

Plans and rehearsals are underday for the Scouts Own which will be given in the High School auditorium on March 9. The chorus of thirty girls from Intermediate and Senior troops are now rehearsing in Chidley Hall. Mrs. Sam Ward and Mrs. Ralph Thompson are helping Mrs. J. P. Eugley with the chorus.

The Juliette Low girls, two from each troop in town, have worked together on these plans. Every bit of this program has been planned by the girls themselves.

Troop IV Reunion

Not all of the girls who went to Europe with Troop IV in 1954 were present at the reunion Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Weafer, as some are away at college. Those who were there enjoyed meeting Miss Kathleen Phillips, the visiting English Girl Guide Commissioner. Moving pictures of the trip, taken by Peggy Weafer, and colored slides taken by the leader of the troop, Mrs. Vivian White, were shown. Miss Phillips and the girls had a great time reminiscing over the incidents portrayed in the pictures. High tea was served, English style. Miss Phillips sang "God Save the Queen", to the delight of all present. Everyone wished her a happy return voyage.

Peggy Weafer, Madeline Derro, Patty Newhall, Connie Gowdy, Margaret Bane, and Sue Woodruff are the girls who took the trip in 1954.

Troop 40 Winter Weekend

Troop 40 spent the past weekend at the Mass. State Girl Scout camp at Cedar Hill. The girls were able to do some skating Friday night before the snow covered the pond. There was sledding and saucer sliding down the ski runs on Friday night and Saturday. On Saturday night, after going through the Maze, they joined other Intermediate Scouts at the Great Hall for square dancing and singing. Returning to their cabin, Top-Lofty, they told ghost stories and had snacks in front of the fire. Saturday night they really slept! Most of the girls had to leave early Sunday morning, leaving Pam Rozett, Jane Baird, Beth Kaufmann, and Mrs. Monsen to clean up.

The girls who went were: Pam Rozett, Jo-Ellen Corkery, Jane Brenton, Janice Wolff, Marcia Bird, Sue McClennan, Barbara Monsen, Jane Baird, Maureen Gill, Robin Voges, Jean DeVries, Judy Durfee, Beth Kaufmann.

Adults present were Mrs. Arvid Monsen, leader, Mrs. Robert Durfee, assistant leader, Mrs. Victor Voges, and Mrs. Thomas Kell.

Carol Monsen, Senior Girl Scout, and program aide for the troop, also assisted.

Brownies Visit Telephone Exchange

Miss Vaugh and her very able helpers recently made 22 Brownies from Troop 21 of St. Mary's School very happy. The eager Brownies were shown the complicated workings of the switchboards, listened to the weather forecast and talked to the person of their choice, using the operator's head phones.

After their exciting experience, the following Brownies left the telephone exchange with two books, "The Telephone Almanac" and "The Remember Book" under their arms: Cathy Cotter, Mary Hannon, Susan McDonald, Donna DeAngelis, Rosemary Kennedy, Connie Merrit, Barbara Foley, Janice Thompson, Josephine Granfield, Diane Penta, Margaret Sampson, Diana Donald, Maureen McCormack, Gail Murphy, Ursula Keliher, Evelyn Brennan, Grace Mottolo, Maureen McKenna, Joyce Moynihan, Charlene Penta, Mary Sue Dalton, and Rosemary Harrington.

The Brownies were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Thomas Hannon and Mrs. James Harrington, Jr.

WHS STUDENTS SCORE AT EMERSON DRAMA DAY

Blanche Cartier and George Yore, both of Winchester High School, should have been born thirty years ago. Their pantomime skit of a song from the musical "The Boy Friend" was the hit of the morning at Emerson College's 1958 High School drama conference last Saturday.

Working to the recording of the song "It's Never Too Late to Fall in Love," Blanche and George made it seem as if they were doing the actual singing themselves. Their sense of comedy timing was keen, and Blanche's Charleston was a joy to behold.

They strutted offstage to tumultuous applause, and in fact the hand was so big that they came back for a short reprise.

"A really professional act," was the comment of Professor Leo Nickole, head of Emerson's Department of Theatre Arts.

Blanche, a senior at Winchester, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cartier of 122 Church street and George, a junior, is the son of Mr. John Yore, of 507 Washington street.

The act that Blanche and George did have its premiere at last year's High School Vaudeville Show, and if it didn't bring down the house then, it should have.

J. V. SWAMP MELROSE

Leading by the score of 22 to 1 at the end of the first period, the Junior Sachems continued their winning ways and trounced Melrose 62-33 on Friday, February 7 at Winchester. Given the early lead, Coach Knowlton was able to substitute freely throughout the game, and as a result, 12 members of the 13 member squad made the scoring column. The victory was the J.V.'s fifteenth, while they suffered only two defeats.

Paul DelRossi was high scorer for the evening with 15 points, twelve of which came in the opening period.

All Star Game

The Winchester P.A.L. All-Star team played its first game of the season against Marblehead on Saturday, February 1, and defeated the "Headers" 75-35. Dave Littleton, the 6' 5" center led the Winchester stars with 14 points. Five Winchester players scored double figures. Along with Littleton, Dan Serieka (12), Bill Rogers and "Whipper" Smith (11 each) and Phil Cox (10), were the double figuremen. Stresey led Marblehead with 12 points.

Winchester completely outclassed Marblehead, scoring 23 points to only 2 in the first period. Marblehead was held scoreless until the seven minute mark of the first period.

On Saturday, February 7, Winchester was scheduled to play Woburn at Winchester, but due to the dangerous driving conditions, the game was postponed to a later date. All Star summary:

Senior League

The Celtics continued to roll by defeating the Pistons 39-22 for their seventh straight win. The Celtics now lead the Senior by three games. Phil Fox with 14 points was the top scorer for the Celtics. Jake Horn led the Pistons with 12 points.

The Hawks edged the Royals 42-41 in typical P.A.L. thriller. With only four seconds to play, the Royals led 41-40. Then Bob Peluso, playing his best game of the year, calmly sunk two free throws to ice the game for the Hawks. Bill Errico (14) and Bob Peluso (11), led the Hawk attack. "Bud" DeRenne with 14 points and Frank Gaudioso (12), were high for the Royals. DeRenne and Gaudioso led a spirited second half Royal rally which nearly won the game but for Peluso's dramatic foul shots.

The Lakers nearly blew a seven point first half lead but held on to defeat the Eagles 50-48. Dan Serieka and Art Collins led the Eagle's second half attack, but Steve Powers squelched the rally with a basket in the waning seconds to give the Lakers the victory. "Slater" Martin (12) and Powers (11), were the high Laker scorers while Dan Serieka and Art Collins with 21 and 12 points led the Eagles.

Serieka of the Eagles still holds a slim 9 point margin over the Celtics' Phil Fox for top scoring honors. Serieka has 129 points to Fox's 127. Bill Errico of the Hawks is third with 107 closely followed by "Whipper" Smith of the Lakers with 102 points.

Senior star of the week: Bob Peluso of the Hawks whose consistent play and clutch foul shooting led his team to a one point victory over the Royals. Senior summaries:

Junior League

Holy Cross blew a nine point first half lead and finally lost out to an aroused Princeton team 52-50 in one overtime period. The loss dropped Holy Cross to two games behind front running B.C. in the close Junior League race. Johnny Parsons, who was having an unusually bad night sunk a lay up in the overtime to put Princeton two points up on Holy Cross. Then after Holy Cross missed a foul shot, Princeton got the rebound and went into an effective minute and ten second freeze. Richie Bond, whose fantastic foul shooting was a deciding factor in the game, and Richie Casalinuovo who each scored 10 of their 18 points in the second half led the Princeton attack. Mike Bellino, who single-handedly kept Holy Cross in the game with his rebounding and scoring was high scorer for the night with 32 points. Ronnie Lynch with 14 points was second high for Holy Cross.

B.C. stayed on top of the Junior League with an easy 62-20 romp over undermanned Yale. Dan Brenner (15) and John Peckham (14), were the two top scorers for B.C. Kevin Mawn of B.C. set a personal record by scoring 12 points, the highest total of his 2 year P.A.L. career. Rumor has it that Mawn had to reach the double figure mark because brother "Mitsie" was in the stands and Kevin had been doing some loud talking to the Mawn clan about his basketball ability. John Lane and "Kicker" Callahan with eight points apiece were top men for Yale.

"Preacher" Mulloy and Bobby Donlon led Harvard to a 60-30 romp over Dartmouth. Mulloy netted 27 points and Donlon scored 23. Jim Callahan (11), was high man for Dartmouth. Mike Bellino of Holy Cross holds a ten point lead over Harvard's Mulloy in the Junior scoring race. Bellino has 163 points to "the Preacher's" 153. Johnny Peckham is third with 128.

Junior star of the week: Mike Bellino of Holy Cross. Bellino scored 32 points, controlled both backboards and nearly singlehanded pulled his team to victory, but did not get the much needed support from his teammates to win the game. Holy Cross lost to Princeton 52-50.

"General Jack" Garvey has returned to the refereeing post which he held before singlehandedly winning the war for the U.S. (so he claims). Jack and all the P.A.L. officials urge all those interested in the youth of the town to attend a few of the games. Garvey said in a recent interview, "I have noticed a tremendous improvement in the league since I have been away. I would like to give my personal congratulations to the directors and officials for the wonderful job that they are doing." We all welcome Jack back and are looking forward to brother Leo's return after recuperating from a recent injury.

Bradford Junior College, Bradford, reports that Miss Jane Godwin, a senior, was a member of a group of students to visit the State Hospital at Danvers for the purpose of studying conditions at the hospital. This was a field trip planned in connection with her course in psychology. A resident psychiatrist spoke to the class and answered questions. Miss Godwin is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Lester R. Godwin of 7 Grassmere avenue.

KIWANIS CLUB

Last week's program on traffic safety by Lt. Howard King of the Belmont police department was very interesting and enjoyed by all. Attendance was very good and the line up of programs for the future is excellent.

This week's speaker was District Chief Clarence Ronco of the Somerville Fire Department. He discussed fire prevention and told us of some of his experiences with serious fires around Somerville.

Copies of the club's by-laws are handed out at the meetings and all members are urged to get theirs soon. Several members are planning to attend the Woburn Kiwanis Club's charter night on February 18. Any members who would like to attend are urged to contact Mr. Thompson.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Boston College was eased off the top of the heap although she split a 2-2 decision with lowly Georgetown. Holy Cross taking advantage of every break swamped St. Mary's 4-0 to climb on top. Holy Cross was the winner of the first half on its closing night in a spectacular final surge. Notre Dame fortified her third place position by taking a 3-1 decision from sunny California.

There seems to be a lack of 300 bowlers as only three were able to get over the hill. Even our two top bowlers didn't manage to get on the band wagon. The few that did were Jake Ciarcia, 314; Bob Fiore, 310 and Jeff Gaudioso, 307. Honorable mention going to Richard Giacalone, 295; Carl Bertolucci 295; Dick Fiore, 297; Tony Saraco, 295; Leroy Penta, 294 and Dickie Tofuri, 294.

We nearly had the hi single toppled over as Jack Ciarcia, bowling like a champ, scored off 143 P.F. and came within one pin of at least tieing the present holder. Ben Gilotti took the limelight by bowling a three string total of 223 and setting the new low of the year which was held by Pete "Crazy Legs" Fiore.

With the superb bowling this evening by Jake Ciarcia his team captained by Choppers Gangi took the high team pinfalls with 1430. This team whose forward aggressiveness is still the talk of the year and its roster includes Corrigedor Fiore, proud father of a son christened Biaggio San Giovanni Fiore, a real Yankee handle with handlebars, Dickie Tofuri, the Don Juan of the team, Frank Dattilo our financial "You Know what I mean" secretary and the man about town who really gets things picked up, the safari kid himself, Ralph "Tab Hunter" Tauro.

We note that the recommendations we made in regards to Maxie are showing favorable results. His captain Richard Fiore is most pleased with Maxie's Blinkers which has improved his bowling immensely. It was not our intention to start a debate among the players in regards to size of different individuals as was the case of comparison in regards to the dirigible Hindenburg. To end all arguments, the recent comparison being made shows without a doubt that the bulldozer is a mite larger than the driver at the Disposal Area. In height definitely. Please, Creeper Gene Rotondi, it is not necessary for you to show Deadhorse Chefalo how to bowl for he is quite capable and an accomplished bowler. Now if you were to show him how to milk a cow that would be a horse of a different color.

It is nice to see our traveler friend back bowling again. We mean Mr. Leroy Penta of course. We are very proud of our 100% attendance of late. Keep it up boys. A lot of praise is due our Doctor "Curly Locks" for keeping our boys well and fit. Dr. "Curly Locks" recently received the highest award at the Florence Nightingale Capping Ceremony of which I had the honor of attending and I might add that I swelled with pride to think he is just one of our boys.

We like to keep his public posted as he has many friends among us as well as the townfolks. So the latest bulletin released from the Don Orione Home for Aged Italians Bulletin No. 250 reads as follows:

Patient — Hokie Procopio. Condition, failing rapidly. Explanation, every human has in his possession red and white corpuscles but in his case he has red, white and green, the colors of his native flag. We are baffled and so are the scientists. End of bulletin. We will keep you informed on his progress.

Who runs the Winchester S.O.I.

Well we had a pretty little parakeet who walked away with the award by the name of Mary and it's about time. Boys we are running down the stretch with but a very few weeks to go and a gala banquet is already in the making.

Attention — Let us all support the S.O.I. Women's Valentine Party which is being held Saturday, February 15 at the Christopher Columbus Hall.

See you next week.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY NOTES

A fast-moving, smart-playing WHS Freshman Hockey Team buttoned up a 3-0 victory over Arlington in a highly decisive manner at the Boston Arena Saturday, February 8. Winchester excelled throughout in their best game of the season. Defeating their Arlington rivals was not easy, proof of which exists in the fact that Arlington had previously held the League-leading Melrose team to a 0-0 tie. Winchester and Melrose at the present time have nine points each to top the Northern Division of the League for first place in the race for a play-off spot.

In Saturday's game, Dick Tierney, Jon Smith and Captain Paul Johnson each scored once while Steve Wilson, recently moved up to right wing on the "A" line, was credited with two assists and Johnson and O'Callaghan with one each.

Coach Chadwick was very pleased with the performance of his boys and told the Star he was better satisfied with the Winchester defense than at any time this year. He reported that Steve Morison, Joe Emerson and John Reardon all handled their assignments admirably, and that Bob Tierney richly deserved the shut-out in the goal he chalked up.

JV's DEFEAT CONCORD

Led by Paul DelRossi, the Sachem Juniors made it eight in a row by defeating a scrapping Concord five, 53-49 on January 10th. the game was nip and tuck with niether team able to get but a few points out in front until the close of the third period when Winchester led by seven. Picking up in the fourth period, they nursed a twelve point lead, but were unable to hold it over the closing minutes.

The game was marred by 44 fouls, with Concord getting 46 free shots at the basket.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME BOWLING LEAGUE

Standing as of February 1
(Second half)

Killers	13	7
Briers	13	7
Jolters	11	9
Marauders	10	10
Cannons	7	13
Robbers	6	14

Fran Allen of the Marauders broke the high triple for the second half with a total of 326. His three strings were 103, 108, and 115. Others hitting the 100 mark were W. Murphy 115, 107; Merenda, 108, 101; Gannon 106; Dineen 103, 115; Cichy 100; La Pointe 110; Dunbury 102, 111; Scaturro 111; Kimball 108; and Ed Forbes 109.

Shades of Ripley or was it just a case of not enough schooling. Too, maybe he was just tired and thought he would give the opponents a better chance. Capt. Fred Kimball of the Killers did it! He attempted to make a spare on his ninth box and missed. Then, to the amazement of his opponents, he pressed the button to reset the pins, disregarding the fact he had another ball. The Briers, captained by Al Thorne, took the string by one pin and were able to hang on and tie the match, staying in a tie for first with the Killers.

Capt. Kimball's remarks were, "If Bob Merenda can do it, so can I." Fred, the men of the Briers appreciate the fact you took it easy, as they were minus their very capable anchor man. It might have been a different story if Dave had been there.

Who's to pull the boner next week!

METHODIST COUPLES' CLUB HEAR DU PONT EXECUTIVE

Future progress in the nation's standard of living will come about "only if we put behind it the full force of our entire business structure—the large, the small, and the in-between," Paul R. Leach, Jr., eastern manager of the Du Pont Company's Extension Division, said in a talk before the Couples' Club of Crawford Memorial Methodist Church on February 4.

"These improvements demand both big and little business," he said, "the large companies to make the heavy investment in mass production facilities and fundamental research, the small companies to carry on from there."

"What we have in this country is not big business as distinct from small business . . . but a business community," he declared. This is a structure made up of all businesses "so heavily intertwined and interlaced that each is a supporting element in the strength of the whole."

Size in industry today is determined by the demands of the functions performed, he pointed out, adding that there is little direct competition between big and little manufacturers "because most of the big firms are engaged principally in products that are economically impossible for the small business to make."

Mr. Leach illustrated how big and little business work together to raise the standard of living by showing how such commonplace things as cellophane reach the public and by discussing such new developments as "Mylar" polyester film and hyper-pure silicon, which promise future improvements in American life.

DR. CLARK MEMBER OF AMHERST MEDICAL PANEL

The Seventh Annual Career Conference, sponsored by the Alumni Council of Amherst College, was held on the campus Friday and Saturday, February 7 and 8.

Some thirty men took part in the Conference, representing the fields of personnel, sales, banking, production, science and engineering, finance, insurance, law, and medicine. In addition there were representatives from various graduate schools.

Dr. Richard J. Clark of Sheffield west, class of '28 and a member of the staff of Massachusetts General Hospital, was a member of the panel session on Medical Schools and the Medical Profession.

The Conference opened on Friday evening with a general meeting, followed by panel discussions on Friday and Saturday. Not included in this session were the fields of education and government service which were covered in a separate meeting in mid-December.

ICY CONDITION BLAMED FOR DUNSTER LANE MISHAP

A report was received at the police station on Sunday that there had been an accident on Dunster lane.

Police Officers Andrew Crawford and Sgt. John Elliott found that Joseph Colella of 27 Shepherd street, driving a Ford, while going north on Dunster lane skidded when he reached number 50 and went over to the left of the road and struck a Plymouth coupe head on.

The Plymouth was driven by Floyd H. Horne of 87 Dunster lane and was going in a southerly direction. The front end of both cars were badly damaged. The street was sanded but icy. No serious injuries were reported.

MIDDLESEX HEALTH ASSN. AWARDS ESSAY WINNERS

"Badge 714—The TB Murder Case' and "Can We Wipe Out TB in Somerville" are the titles of the winning entries for the 1957 School Press Project in the Middlesex County area, announced by the Middlesex Health Association today. These articles on tuberculosis and its control were published in the high school newspapers of Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School and Somerville High School, and they were rated most outstanding by judges, George Connor, editor of the Somerville Journal and Press, Cy Kassel, program director for radio station WHIL in Medford, and Gerald Rogovin, director of public relations for the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League. Second plance winner was St. Joseph's High School, Somerville, while the Watertown High School "Bulletin" won third mention.

High school journalists throughout the county were asked to submit material on the subjects, "Can We Wipe Out TB in Our Town" and "Your Future in a Health Career." These subjects could be developed through news and feature stories, editorials, cartoons, or other art work. Entries into the local Project sponsored by the Middlesex Health Association and affiliated tuberculosis committees were evaluated on the basis of accuracy, originality, journalistic style, and understanding of the subject matter.

The Middlesex Health Association plans to have Certificate of Honor awards presented to these winners by Dr. William M. Morgan, president of the National Tuberculosis Association at a tea during the latter part of March. Representatives from the 4 winning High Schools will be invited to attend to accept this award. The 1957 School Press Project was the 21st annual contest sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliates in cooperation with the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

AMERICAN FARM SCHOOL

Mr. Bruce M. Lansdale, director of the American Farm School in Greece, delivered a talk with slide illustrations on the beginning and progress of the school which was established by Mr. John Henry House in 1902 in Salonnia, Greece, at the home of Mrs. Harrison Lyman on Lawson road on Sunday evening, January 26.

The committee arranging this affair consisted of: Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. Shasta, Miss Hall, Mrs. Greene, and Mrs. Allen.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, there were more than forty guests attending.

Mr. Lansdale exhibited a scale model of the school, and little Danny Lyman, age 8, wore the Greek national costume as worn today by the guards of the palace at Athens.

Mr. Lansdale is touring this country to arouse the interest of the public in the school.

Refreshments were served.

UNITARIAN JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

On February 9, the Unitarian Junior High Fellowship met in Meyer Chapel. The worship service was conducted by Jon Abbott. After a short business meeting, two movies were shown: "Ski Chase in Sun Valley" and "Skyward on Skis," narrated by Lowell Thomas.

Mrs. Joseph Puffer was the parent guest at this meeting, which concluded with cokes in the kitchen and games in Metcalf Hall.

LIBRARY NEWS

Since the town meeting vote against a library addition, the trustees and staff of the public library have given consideration to many plans and suggestions, including those made by Mr. Mott. The purpose of making changes has been in every case to give better and more efficient library service. We now have formulated plans which we believe will accomplish this purpose within the present building.

One great need is shelving for books. To accomplish this, shelves for 3,000 additional books will be put in the main reading room, replacing half of the present tables there. Permanent shelves will be placed in the former gallery, to hold the magazines and 5—6,000 books. Shelves will also be placed against the balcony railing as well as two additional units of shelving in the lobby. It has been pointed out that the library attic has storage space for several years to come, and this space will be used for that purpose. But a modern library does not want to "store" the active book collection, its aim is to shelve them out in the open where people can see and use them. Opening the new reading room and adding shelves in the main reading room is the most efficient way to expand, since these areas are close to the main desk and stacks.

Both reading rooms are for the use of adults. However, since the new reading room came into use in December, the older readers seem to prefer it since it is quieter than the larger main reading room. This quiet will be even more appreciated in warm weather when windows are open. Young people of high school and college age are welcome to use any part of the library. It is true many of them come here to do their homework. It is also true that older people come here at times with no more serious purpose than to spend some time in pleasant surroundings. No one is asked his purpose in coming to the public library, nor does anyone need a permit to come. All are welcome, young and old. When young people require supervision and a reminder to be considerate of others, members of the library staff consider this a necessary part of their work. Helping young people become good citizens is a legitimate part of library work.

None regret more than the trustees and the staff, the necessity to cancel the movie programs, the art classes, and the meetings of the Art Association and other large groups. It is hoped that a partial solution may be found in the Rich Room. We plan to open a second exit from the room and thus make it available for groups of 50-60 people. At present only 25 people may meet there.

As for the children's room, I am sure any active library borrower or parent will agree that more shelving is needed there. To relieve the overcrowded conditions we are expanding in the only possible way. We plan to remove the closet walls thus opening up increased floor area and to place shelving along the lower corridor.

By making use of all available space in every part of the library, the trustees and the staff feel that they are carrying on the standards of modern library services to the fullest extent possible within the present building.

JOINS SPORTS DAD ASSOCIATION

Peter Caputo of 62 Swanton street has a son at the University of Mass. who is participating in varsity athletics and thus qualifies as a member of the newly formed Sports Dad Association. This novel association composed of fathers of the undergraduate athletes at the university is formed to foster athletics.

One of the first associations of its type in American colleges and universities, the Sports Dad Association, University of Massachusetts, will award trophies to the top senior student-athlete in each varsity sport. In addition the organization will sponsor social functions for its members and their wives and will join the athletic department of the University of Massachusetts in sponsoring many of its social functions.

The basis of all awards to be made by the Sports Dad Association - University of Massachusetts will be taken from its slogan, "For Scholastic Achievement and Athletic Excellence." The initial awards will be made at the Ninth Annual All Sports Banquet of the University of Massachusetts on Sunday afternoon, May 18th.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL NEWS

EXPLORING OUTER SPACE

Script writers of Mr. Nault's sixth grade at the George Washington School applied their science learning in the preparation of an assembly program. Eileen Oles, Deborah Nichols, and Charlene Bertolucci created a play, based on the ideas presented in Steve Allen's television program. Steve, played by Peter Fahey, interviewed "the man on the street" with the timely questions, "What do you think of the space age? If possible, would you like to be the first man to visit another planet?" Both humorous and serious answers given by Keith Puffer, Philip Porter, James Cruwys, and Samuel Rotondi.

Dr. Killian, played by John Holland, gave the story of his important position as the scientific head of our country. He was ably assisted in handling the affairs of science by Judith Belliveau, in the role of Dr. Hammond.

Outer space representatives, costumed in highly imaginative attires, presented information about the planets they portrayed.

Sun	Bernard Gigliotti
Earth	Andrea Sinclair
Venus	Jean Peterson
Mars	Benjamin Brathwaite
Mercury	Robert Branley
Jupiter	Richard Wyman
Saturn	Janet Winsor
Uranus	Barbara LaTorella
Neptune	Thomas Ford
Pluto	William Varley

As the play unfolded, Mr. Sun won the Universe Contest due to his importance in the realm of space, while other planet representatives received certificates of merit for their fine relationships to the earth.

The second part of the program developed the history of several very popular commemorative United States postage stamps. Giant sized stamps were reproduced for inspection by the audience while John Marascia introduced each speaker as follows:

Pilgrim Tercentenary, Charlene Wightman
Lexington-Concord Issue, Karl Norris
The Sesquicentennial Stamp, Keith Puffer
Olympic Winter Games Stamp, Bob Branley
Famous American Issues, Eileen Oles
Pony Express Issue, Benjamin Brathwaite
Win the War Issue, Jane Abbott
California Gold Centennial, Linda Paterson
Juliette Low Issue, Deborah Nichols
Boy Scout Issue, David Tesar
Atoms for Peace Issue, Carol Preston
Teachers of American Issue, Eloise McDonagh

The glimpse into the future and the reality of today were blended into an educational experience that proved to be colorful and entertaining.

PARKHURST SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

On Thursday afternoon, January 30, Miss Savard's and Mrs. Ryder's Second Grade children had a combined assembly. The theme was Community Helpers.

Diane Routenberg was the announcer. Songs were sung by all the children.

Original stories about the policeman, the fireman, and the postman were read by Cynthia Rand, Joanne Cincotta, Kimberly Adams, Diane Bemis, Deborah Renz and Mary Ann Brennan.

"The Shoemakers Dance" was done by: Jeffrey Howland, Douglas Freeman, Joanne Cincotta, Robert Patterson, John Farley, Charlene Monkiewicz, Mary Ann Brennan, Thomas Phipps, Arlene Monkiewicz, Cheryl Kendig, Cynthia Rand, Brenda Schwab, and Janice Hovnanian.

The play was called "Our Community Helpers." Sally Weedon as Sally, Nancy Dube as mother, Skippy Mueller as father, Marcia Petralia and Cynthia Watkins as sisters.

Bakers: Rick Brink and Deborah Renz
Doctors: Kathy Heindel and David Sidebotham
Nurses: Kim Adams, Debbie McLean, Diane Bemis

BLOOD DAY BREAKS RECORDS

Thanks to 152 wise citizens, the recent visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile was a record-smashing success. Of the 152 people who arrived at the First Congregational Church Parish House, to donate blood, seasonal ailments took a toll of 22, so that 130 pints were actually collected, the others being temporarily rejected. Of the 130 donors, 33 were there for the first time.

The following are to be both thanked and congratulated for their foresight in insuring themselves, their familes, and their business, social or church groups, for blood needs during the ensuing year.

RED CROSS NOTES

The Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross now at 84 Washington street, is beginning to feel more settled in its new home. Our volunteers are very grateful to no longer have the long climb to the third floor of the Town Hall.

Appeal for Motor Corps Drivers and Staff Aides

Our motor corps is busy with transportation of blood for Winchester residents, either at the Winchester Hospital or elsewhere. They also have many calls to transport children to hospitals and clinics for checkups and treatment. More volunteer drivers are needed for this worthwhile service. Call WInchester 6-2300 and offer your time for this necessary and vital service to the Red Cross and your less fortunate neighbor.

We need many more hours per week for volunteer Staff Aides. The work includes typing, filing, keeping records up-to-date, letter-writing, answering the telephone, and other general office work. Right now we have an urgent need for a Staff Aide who could give us Monday mornings from 9:00 to 12:30, and another one who could give Monday afternoons from 12:30 to 4:00.

The surgical dressings group meets each Tuesday afternoon from 12:45 to 3:30. More volunteers will be most welcome as members of this group. Bring your friends with you and visit while you work.

A small group, called the Symmes Corner Group, meets every other Tuesday at different homes, under the leadership of Mrs. Richard Wyman, to swell the surgical dressing supplies going to Bedford from our chapter. If you are interested in starting a similar group for your friends, come down to the Chapter House, and we will help you set it up.

The Winchester Red Cross was glad to loan the Chapter House to the Winchester Historical Society on Saturday afternoon, February 8, for their regular meeting.

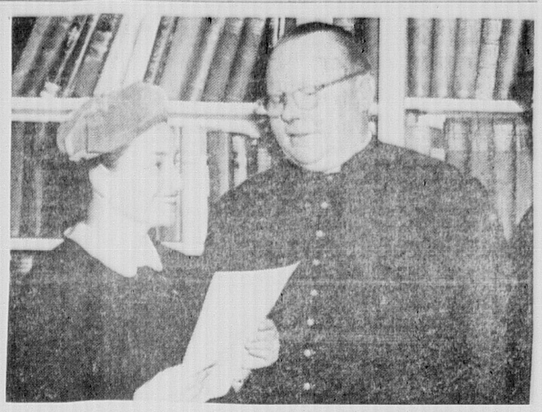
On Wednesday, February 12, our motor corps took to the Bedford Veterans Hospital 3,040 surgical dressings, 5 sweaters, as well as Valentine posters and Valentine candy cups which were made and donated by the Junior Red Cross at the elemntary schools and Junior High School.

Don't you want to help the Red Cross and yourself by volunteering to help? You may decide how much time to give and when to give it—remember, helping the Red Cross is helping your neighbor—but the main thing is to pick up your telephone right now, call WInchester 6-2300, and volunteer your help. We have no paid secretarial help in our Chapter—without you we cannot have a chapter that will be efficient in case of emergency.

GUESTS AT SCHOOL TRAFFIC CONTROL MEETING

The Medford School Traffic Patrol Supervisors were pleased to have Winchester's two school traffic officers, Mrs. Patricia Walker and Mrs. Eunice Reardon, as their guests at the February meeting.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Aida Pisari in Medford. Winchester's feminine finest made a big hit and the Medford group wishes them as much success with their new organization as they have had.



Mrs. John Volpe and the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Charles R. Flanigan, headmaster of St. Sebastian's Country Day School, discuss plans for the fashion show to be held at St. Sebastian's Auditorium on February 17. Mrs. Volpe is chairman of the show, which is sponsored by the Guild of St. Irene.

HIGH SCHOOL OPEN-ENDED CHEMISTRY EXPERIMENTS

The Winchester High School Science department has sponsored extra-curricula courses for interested able students who desire to pursue areas of knowledge outside of class beyond what is required in their daily programs. The Spectro-Chemical Analysis Course conducted by Mr. John Finneran is an attempt to take interested students into the realm of the spectograph and its accomplishments. Mrs. Lenna M. Travis, Science department head, conducts another extra-curricula course, this one on chemistry laboratory experiments.

Several students have been working one afternoon each week since October on a group of "Open-ended" chemistry experiments which could be carried out only through true laboratory methods. Now that mid-year examinations are over, it is anticipated that more students will enroll in this extremely interesting and rewarding activity.

Through a study sponsored by the Manufacturing Chemists' Association Inc., a group of experienced educators suggested that chemistry laboratory work could be more fruitful, especially for able students, if more challenge was built into high school chemistry experiments. To this end the MCA now offers for students a set of chemistry laboratory experiments that are unusual. In no case is the student asked to supply a word in a prefabricated sentence. The student is asked to make a report on the experiment in his own manner, and to include evidence for his conclusions. This evidence is based upon careful observation in the laboratory.

Open-ended experiments are distinctive because students cannot anticipate the answers before they start the experiments. They must pose questions to nature, and then find the answers. Further, on the basis of their laboratory experience, they are asked to make predictions and then verify or disprove them.

Each experiment is tied into real life situations. The "What's it good for?" question has definite and interesting answers on each Student's Guide under the heading "Practical Applications."

It is entirely possible from the experiences gained through this program that it may have ramifications for future chemistry students at Winchester High School.

SPRING FASHION SHOW

Spring will once again be heralded in by a Spring Fashion Show sponsored by the Senior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League on March 7 at eight-thirty p. m. at Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church.

Many dinner parties are being planned before the show and coffee will be served during the intermission. A very gala evening is anticipated, and many people who previously have been unable to attend afternoon fashion shows are looking forward to a pleasant party.

Mrs. J. Norton Kidder, known to all of her friends in Winchester as Priscilla Kidder, has graciously consented to be commentator for the show and will also display some of the new fashions for brides.

HENDERSON — WALCOTT

The West Medford Baptist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Virginia Ellen Walcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Walcott of 12 Allen road, and James Louis Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling C. Henderson of Phoenix, Arizona, on Saturday, February 8. The Rev. Percy C. Black performed the 4 o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Richard Douglas was in charge of the music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon taffeta full length gown with a sweetheart neckline and chantilly lace bodice, sleeves and skirt panels. Her flowers were a white orchid and sweet peas on a white New Testament.

Mrs. Warren Burgess of Everett was matron of honor. She wore a pink nylon chiffon over tulle and taffeta ballerina length gown with a pink tiara and veil. Her flowers were an old fashioned bouquet of violets in a heart shape surrounded by pink sweetheart roses and pink and white sweet peas.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Eleanor Collins of Medford and Mrs. Doreen Graham of Waltham. Their dresses were of lilac nylon chiffon over tulle and taffeta in the ballerina length. They wore lilac tiaras with veils and carried old fashioned bouquets of violets in a heart shape with pink and white sweet peas. Junior bridesmaid was Cheryl Ann Yeomans of Bedford who wore a full length mint green nylon chiffon over taffeta and tulle dress and carried flowers like the bridesmaids.

Leonard C. Yeomans of Bedford was best man and ushers were Philip Walcott of Winchester, brother of the bride; Bernard J. Kovitch of Medford, brother-in-law of the bride; Warren G. Burgess of Everett and Gordon L. Graham of Waltham. Kenneth Walcott of Winchester, the bride's brother, was a junior usher.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Crosby and Streeter Hall in West Medford. Mrs. Ruth Kovitch, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Walcott wore a burgundy velvet suit dress with a white hat and gloves. Her flowers were a white orchid with a burgundy lip corsage. The bridegroom's parents were unable to make the trip from Arizona.

After a wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will live in Maryland, where Mr. Henderson is stationed with the U. S. Army.

COACH HENRY KNOWLTON TO HEAD COMMITTEE

Coach Henry Knowlton has been named to head the ethics committee of the Massachusetts High School Football Coaches Association.

Coach Knowlton will select two other members, one from western Massachusetts. The committee will receive and investigate any reports of unethical practices within the coaches group.

Coach Knowlton will make his first report to the entire membership during the business meeting today, the first day of the two-day clinic. The seventh annual clinic will be held today and tomorrow at the Navy's Fargo Building, South Boston.

EDITORIALS

In the recapitulation of the jet plane accident which was published in the Star recently, we omitted mention of the excellent work done by our valiant "women in blue," the school traffic officers.

Far be it from us to intentionally omit mention of the work done by these women who are doing such a magnificent job keeping the children of Winchester safe while crossing the busy intersections near our schools. It's a pretty difficult job to keep an eye on all the children as they dash for the road on their way to and from school, converging on intersections like Washington-Mount Vernon streets en masse. Winchester parents owe a great deal to these two women, Mrs. Eunice Reardon of Westley street and Mrs. Patricia Walker of Spruce street, who are on duty both in good and bad weather.

The jet accident occurred while the women were on duty and they immediately directed their efforts toward keeping the streets as orderly as possible, directing emergency vehicles to the accident scene and still maintaining the regular traffic flow while all available manpower rushed to the accident scene.

We salute these women!

We would like to call your attention to the box appearing on page one concerning the Wadleigh School. Tomorrow, February 15, and next Saturday, February 22, the Wadleigh School will be open for public inspection from 9:00 o'clock to noon.

In the last few months discussion on future uses of the Wadleigh School have intensified and, because the subject will be brought up again at the town meeting in March, all interested persons are urged to visit the school building either tomorrow or next Saturday so that they will be well informed in advance of the town meeting.

This is a chance for all who believe that Wadleigh could again be put into operation to ease the school situation to see the building and the condition that it is in at the present time. To be fully informed takes only a short trip to the school and then discussions can be carried out intelligently with the advantages and disadvantages seen firsthand.

Remember, there are only two mornings left to see the school from the inside out. Take advantage of them.

It seems that nearly every day we see a newspaper there is some mention of juvenile delinquency or other teenage difficulties with local authorities throughout this country and in many parts of the world.

This week we've heard about one of those incidents which happen frequently but because they are not violent, spectacular or otherwise noteworthy, they are seldom printed in any of our press.

The story is simple and no names need be used because we are sure that cases similar to this happen often; they are just not considered to be important.

A man was driving through Winchester one day last week when he had the misfortune to have a flat tire. He got out to fix it and while he was struggling with the wheel a Winchester boy happened to come along. Instead of passing by on the other side of the street, the boy stopped and offered to help with the tire. After the tire was on the man got into the car and was ready to start off, he offered his helper a rather substantial tip. But the boy refused, insisting that if he were in a similar difficulty he was sure that the man would have helped him.

This seems to be an example which proves that all the apples in the basket can't be rotten. Would you have helped fix the flat?

The Incinerator and Waste Committee, established at the town meeting in 1955, has finished its third and final report and will present it at the town meeting this March. Copies of the report are already in the hands of town meeting members.

The committee is holding a public hearing a week from Wednesday, February 26, at 8:00 o'clock at the town hall. All persons who are interested in the report are urged to attend and voice their views before the report is submitted. The Star will print an excerpt of the report in the next issue.

Throughout the study of the town's disposal problems, brought about by the board of health's concern with the fact that the Swanton street disposal area is rapidly being filled to the optimum level, the committee has kept three major considerations in mind:

1) The consideration of public health, safety and welfare.
2) The consideration of long-term economy as opposed to the short-sighted principle of "keeping the tax rate down this year."
3) The consideration of aesthetic values which has made Winchester a fine residential community.

The committee firmly believes that these principles have been successfully solved in its report. Watch the Star next week for the report and plan to attend the public hearing on the 26th.

EXTEND COMMISSION

Editor of the Star:

I should like to record myself in favor of Bill H-2540 (to extend the term of the special commission studying youthful offenders). As one of the sponsors of the resolve to establish this special commission to consider and make recommendations for laws relating to youthful offenders, and as a prosecutor concerned with law enforcement and crime prevention, I am aware of the complex nature of this problem.

An intelligent and comprehensive study of youthful offenders laws in other jurisdictions which have had experience with such laws requires time consuming and meticulous study if we are to glean the best treatment for youthful offenders in our commonwealth.

It cannot be emphasized too much that offenders between the ages of 16 and 25 constitute the most crime-prone segment of our society. Therefore, it is in this area of youthful offenders that the corrections system may well put forth its most concerted efforts. This commission should have sufficient time to work out a proper base upon which corrections officials may work.

I, therefore, recommend that the life of the commission be extended, as provided in H-2540, to the last Tuesday of December, 1958.

NEED WOMEN IN OFFICE

Editor of the Star:

Over the years several traditions or customs have developed concerning certain of the important elected Boards or Committees of our town government. I am confident that most if not all of those who like myself have served on those bodies will agree that the tradition that a Selectman does not seek re-election to succeed himself at the end of the three year term, and that School Committee members normally are expected to serve two three-year terms if re-elected to the second one, but do not seek a third consecutive term, has worked out well and serve the best interests of the Town.

Another tradition, almost as universally observed, is that there should be not less than two women serving at any one time on the School Committee. The lady members of this committee can and do perform many duties that the men cannot perform, or cannot perform so well. On some issues they will bring a different and valuable viewpoint to the deliberations of the Committee. They are available for visiting schools and other duties during the school day when most of the men are not. Should it occur that only one woman were on the Committee at any given time, the burden on her would be unreasonably increased.

Since the terms of only two of the six members expire each year, and the names of the four members continuing in office don't appear on the ballot and may not be currently in the minds of the voters, it would be easy for this matter of distribution between the sexes to be overlooked.

With the retirement of Mrs. Kugler after six years of conscientious and most valuable service as a member and as chairman of the committee, Mrs. Bailey (still perhaps more readily identified to many as Barbara Clark) will be the only member of her sex continuing in office. We are fortunate that among the candidates for the two vacancies is a lady well qualified to serve. Enough said!

Sincerely yours,
William J. Speers, Jr.

JOTTINGS FROM PUGET SOUND

Editor of the Star:

Well here it is February and last Sunday, February 2, the thermometer read 61 degrees in Seattle, Washington. That's Puget Sound Country. So, aside from the over abundance of rain, the weather around this part of the country is pretty nice. Although the State of Washington isn't exactly foreign country, it is a long way from good old Winchester. I thought that my fellow readers might be interested in a New Englander's viewpoint on it.

We have been here almost a year now and therefore have undergone just about one complete weather cycle. Last summer was really grand with every night cool enough to get a good sleep. With the predominent evergreen trees, fall did not have the colorful foliage of New England, but the atmosphere did have that certain crispness of approaching winter with a little bit of Indian Summer mixed in. Although there hasn't been any snow yet this winter, the natives tell us that they usually get a few storms each year that deposit one or two inches of white stuff.

The geography of the Puget Sound Country is quite similar to New England with the exception of the Olympic Mts. which often remain snow capped the year round. On clear days they are visible from most of the cities around. Driving through the country you often come across a farm scene that closely resembles those of New Hampshire. Much of the coastline also resembles that of New England from the rockbound coasts of Maine to the marshlands of Newburyport and Ipswich.

And speaking of coastlines, this brings up the subject of the favorite pastime around here. That is fishing and boating. I heard one estimate which stated there was on the average nearly one boat to every family in the area. The large amount of protected water and the year round boating season makes the area ideal for the water borne enthusiasts. Besides, all the residents seem to possess the attitude "We have such a beautiful outdoors, let's use it," and rightfully so. It is not uncommon to see a ten year old car towing a $2000 boat rig to a favorite beach. There is also a multitude of boat rental places for short timers like myself.

As far as actual living goes, Puget Country has much to offer. Some large cities like Seattle and Tacoma do have traffic problems. There are many good sized towns, however, like Bremerton and Port Angeles, that have adequate roads and highways and in most cases reasonable speed limits. You don't have to worry about running into traffic on Sunday afternoon on route 128. Going down town you can always find a parking space.

Cost of living compared to Winchester seems to be a little bit lower except around the big cities. There are still many areas close to business and industry where land can be bought for house building at a reasonable price.

During vacation season there are hundreds of beautiful places to visit all within a day or two driving time. Besides boating, the mountains offer limitless opportunity for the outdoorsman. But don't get me wrong fellow Winchesterites; I am looking forward to the next time that I will be able to visit Massachusetts.

ACCIDENT ON WASHINGTON STREET

Charles H. Cullinane of 11 McEvoy street, Tewksbury, reported to police that while driving north on Washington street on Monday evening, his car struck a parked Plymouth convertible parked opposite house number 711. The Plymouth was owned by Vincent Zolloga of 62 Westminister street, Arlington.

Mr. Cullinane was passing the parked car when another car coming from the south on Washington street forced his car to strike the rear left fender and quarter panel of the Plymouth, causing extensive damage to both cars.

No personal injuries were reported and both cars were able to leave the scene under their own power.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

A delicious Valentine dessert at 1 p. m. preceded the regular meeting of the Fortnightly on Monday, February 10, in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Ralph R. Meigs was the efficient hostess and the pourers at the prettily-decorated table were Mrs. Hiram Moody and Mrs. Marshall Symmes. At 2:00 p. m. the president, Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, opened the meeting.

On the side walls of the hall were a travelling collection of prize paintings done by Senior High School pupils (two by Winchester entrants in the '57 contest sponsored by the State Art Committee), also prize photographs from the camera contest (which included Miss Gertrude Hall's), and on a table were Art Committee scrap-books submitted by various clubs in the federation. Mrs. Moody, Art chairman, announced another camera contest, the mats for pictures to measure 16 x 20". The Penny Art Fund collection amounted to $11.56.

Mrs. Francis C. Bowes, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the list of philanthropies recommended by the Executive Board and members voted to approve this.

Chairman of Legislation, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, read a letter from Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers and suggested letting her know we were backing the "systematic budgeting" effort of House Bill HR8002. It was voted that our next meeting be an open one as the speaker will be Mr. Charles Gibbons of Stoneham who may be a candidate for senator.

Miss Louise Bancroft, chairman of Antiques Committee, announced the Framingham Antique Show, February 19-22.

"Cavalcade of Celebrated Women," program of the afternoon, was put on by Phyllis N. Edwards. In a large frame expertly lighted nine famous ladies were shown in lovely costumes of their period. Mrs. Whitman read a sketch about each before the curtains opened and Mrs. McCullough played incidental, appropriate songs of an earlier day. These living pictures in graceful poses were Louisa May Alcott (Mrs. Watson M. Hyde), Elizabeth Barrett Browning (Mrs. Warren Osborne), Adelina Patti (Mrs. Seymour Bingham), Jenny Lind (Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffe), Sara Siddons (Mrs. Roger M. Burgoyne), Minnie Maddern Fiske (Mrs. Gerald Mosher), Rosa Bonheur (Mrs. John A. Billings), the Gibson Girl (Mrs. Ralph H. Pingree), and Grace Goodhue Coolidge (Mrs. Harry Glover). Mrs. Erskine Kelly selected the models.

The audience was unanimous in their appreciation of this most enjoyable program, praising all who took part (each excellent) and also the interesting commentary.

Members who saw the splendid pictures of India shown by Mrs. Charles E. Potts, Jr., at Mrs. Atwood's home, Tuesday, February 4, thoroughly enjoyed them. She was in India as vice-consul in 1953 and told of personal experiences. Scenes included many in Jaipur, the "pink city," palaces of sandstone and marble, the beautiful Taj Mahal, mosques, ruins, new and old Delhi, the holy city of Benares, life along the Ganges, Madras famed for its sculpture, Simla and the verdant Kashmiri district.

We are greatly indebted to Mrs. Potts. A delectable tea followed, Mrs. Potts and Mrs. Moody pouring.

A Literature Committee meeting was held Wednesday, February 5, at 2:00 p. m. in the Public Library. Mrs. Ralph R. Meigs read a poem, "New Every Morning" by Susan Coolidge.

The subject, "Biography," was in the hands of Mrs. Frank S. Evans. She first read a review in the New York Times of Andre Maurois' book on how to write a biography. Then she traced the history of biography from the early centuries to the present, naming the prominent biographers and showing the many changes in approaches and methods. Her paper was most comprehensive.

A short book review of "The Edge of Darkness" by Mary Ellen Chase was given by the chairman, Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, Sr.

REPUBLICAN TOWN COMMITTEE

At a meeting of the Republican Town Committee held on Tuesday evening, February 11, the resignation of the Chairman, Mr. Harrison Lyman, Jr., was accepted, most regretfully.

The following officers were elected:

Chairman, Mrs. Lillian A. R. Whitman
Vice-Chrmn., Sumner R. Andrews
Secretary, Mrs. Florence W. Goodhue

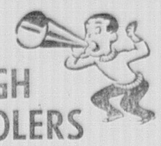
HI, HIGH SCHOOLERS



by Gail Hendricks

Hi-lo everyone. Well, at last mid-years are over. Do I hear a sigh of relief? Oh well, just think of it this way . . . you don't have to worry about them any more or at least until next year.

Many of you asked me before I left Winchester if I knew much about the High School here in Newburgh. Since I've been here I've found out many interesting things about the school, and so thought I'd pass the news along.

First of all, bad (?) news. No mid-years! Pretty neat, don't you think? You see, here Regents are the thing. The Regent exams, which are based around the work done by all the New York high schools, are given in the spring time, towards the last of the school year. They actually are quite similar to the Standard tests that are given out in Winchester.

The purpose in a student's taking these exams is to graduate with a Regent's diploma. In New York colleges, if a person has graduated with this type of diploma, he has a much better chance of being accepted. Therefore, it's a darn good idea to have this degree.

When I first arrived in Newburgh, I heard that the student's at the High School, which is called Newburgh Free Academy, were having Regents. I was really confused then. I went to school a few days before I started classes so that my schedule could be worked out. When I was there I asked the Vice-Principal, who does a lot of the paper work, what was going on. He explained to me that at N.F.A. there are several half year courses offered. These classes are for the advanced students who can do the work in a half year of a year's course. For some reason or other, I didn't take one of "those" courses! At the end of the course, the students are given the Regents exam, that they would have ordinarily taken the end of the year.

Sounds life fun? Actually those kids are ahead because they can take another subject and consequently gain another credit.

You're probably thinking that I mean five credits, but I really don't. You see, the credit system is based on credit per major course, the course having five periods a week.

There are tons of courses to choose from! The business and college courses are pretty much the same that are offered to you. The music branch however, is a little more elaborate. There are three theory courses offered, which are really quite enjoyable.

The musical enthusiasm is astounding. There are several groups which participate a lot in the school activities. One group, the Bach Chorus, has for its members, 125 students! The chorus meets twice a week, different members going when their schedule allows it. The type of music sung is the type that Bach wrote. If you're thinking that it's stuffy, stop! It's entirely the opposite!

The top large musical group in the school is called A Capella, which means "without accompaniment." That's right, about 80 singers sing without any help of a piano or their musical instrument, it's quite a feat!

How does eight periods of school a day sound? Pretty horrible I bet! I know that it did to me. School starts at eight-thirty and ends at three o'clock. Most of the students, including myself take the bus, so we get to school about eight or so in the morning. It's pretty convenient to have that extra time in the morning to get the homework done that didn't quite get finished the night before!

Homework, incidentally, isn't too bad, for the meetings that would be held after school in Winchester, are held right during the school day!

Lunch is served during fifth and sixth periods. The cafeteria isn't super-duper, but the food makes up for the lack of beauty. Several kinds of salads are served along with sandwiches and a hot lunch, the prices being the same as out there. One nice thing is that lunch period is 45 minutes long, the same length of time as the classes. Because lunch periods are that long, many students take a break by going out to a neighboring store for lunch! Nifty?

Now to clubs. Corresponding to Curtain and Cue is Punchinello, which does quite a bit in the activities, but from what I've found out, not as much as C. and C. By the way, I heard that the open house given by C. and C. and W.H.S.R. was very successful. Congratulations, I know that you all worked hard for its success! Speaking of radio, N.F.A. does not have its own station, which is unfortunate. We are lucky however, in the way that a radio station W.G.M.Y., is located right in Newburgh. Each Saturday morning N.F.A. has a high-school program, on which one of the 1000 students is interviewed and school news is reported in a friendly way. National Honor Society and Student Council are here. Student Council is very well recognized and has quite a bit of authority.

Right now, the student council is doing something about the smoking on school grounds that is getting in a little obnoxious.

The seniors are respected out here in the way that when entering and going from an assembly, the seniors go first. Another interesting tid-bit is the style of clothes worn out here. The girls get fairly dressed up, usually wearing flats and earrings! Not too much ivy leaguing around here.

There haven't been any parties since I've been here. By this I mean open houses. I guess that's the trend, though, because I haven't heard of any going on over in Winchester. I guess that sports has soaked up the interest?

Newburgh has just about the same sports enthusiasm as does Winchester. Boys sports are followed more than girls. I've only seen one game of basketball, so far, but I think that Winchester could beat them. I suppose I shouldn't and won't say that after I've been here a little longer!

The competition in girls' sports isn't anywhere as near rugged as in Winchester High. Most of the enthusiasm seems to be in dancing. These kids have really got feet!

It might be interesting to note that badminton, ping-pong, swimming, and wrestling are among some of the sports offered besides the usual ones. However, riflery is not among any sports. Speaking of riflery, congratulations go to the boys riflery team for doing such a swell job in their shooting this year! They broke the record for highest team shooting in about four years just a few matches ago! Nice work, keep it up! Let's hope the girls' team can do equally as well! I'll make a little bet with any of you boys on the team, that the girls will beat you when you have a match with them this spring!

That's about all, I guess. As you can see, I'm getting a little (?) out of touch with all the happenings at W.H.S., so I'm very glad to tell you that you'll be hearing all (!) the dope once again! Jackie Keene and Sue Macdonald are taking over the Hi High Schoolers column. I know that you'll do a terrific job, Jackie and Sue, for you are interested in W.H.S. and the students. I'll be really looking forward to reading the column every week . . . So, good luck. I know that you'll be well rewarded!

I'm also glad to say that when you read this column, I'll be a'headin' east. The reason that I'm coming over to see everyone is so that I can find out how weak all the hands that were supposed to hold little pens really are! Seriously, I've really appreciated all the letters that I've received, but I hope there will be even more! Your "routine" is all news to me!

Junior-Senior class play is tomorrow night. The kids have worked hard on the production, so give them your fullest support.

Thanks again to the Winchester Star for taking such an interest in the high school. Not only does the Star publish this article, but it also helps the Red and Black organization by printing the school newspaper.

Once again, keep smilin'.

PIANO RECITAL

Friday, January 7, the pupils of Lucy Wilcox Cushman played in their mid-winter recital at Mrs. Cushman's home, 134 Mt Vernon street.

WINCHESTER WELLESLEY CLUB

Wellesley alumnae in Winchester gathered for a January meeting at the home of Mrs. John H. McClennan on Central street. Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee, president of the club, conducted the meeting and announced that Mrs. Richard W. Swanson will head the committee for the 1958 Winchester Mornings. Speakers for this series will be chosen within the next few weeks.

A new appointment to the executive board of the Wellesley Club is that of Mrs. Richard O. Jordan as the Wellesley College Development Fund representative.

A guest at this meeting was Mrs. Charles D. Post, Jr., who is on the board of trustees of the college, as senior alumnae trustees. Mrs. Post brought news of Wellesley and spoke particularly of the current fund-raising activity of the college—a concerted effort to raise $15,000,000 for faculty salaries. Wellesley, in common with schools and colleges throughout the country, is well aware that faculty salaries must be brought to a level comparable to those in other professions if able people are to be attracted to the teaching profession and held there.

Tea, after the meeting, was served by Mrs. Lawrence W. Lunt, Jr., and her committee.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

The Winchester Hockey Team has a high point in its game with Lynn Classical as the photographer catches the team just after one of its goals. The score of the game played on Thursday, February 6, was Winchester 7, Lynn Classical 1.

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowledge of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all newcomers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at WInchester 6-3431 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC OBSERVES 70th ANNIVERSARY

Seventy years ago this January the National Geographic Society was born.

Only 165 persons joined the Society at its formal organization January 27, 1888, in the Nation's Capital. At present it has far more members that that in Uganda alone. Steady growth over the decades has brought the Society's membership to an all-time high of 2,175,000 families and individuals living in every part of the world. It is by far the largest scientific and educational society in existence.

The National Geographic Magazine, published monthly in a familiar yellow cover, is mailed out in such numbers that the copies of a single issue would fill a bookshelf more than 11 miles long.

Result of Original Goal

The remarkable growth of the nonprofit institution—and a magazine devoted to geography—results from the founders' avowed goal: "The increases and diffusion of geographic knowledge."

Philanthropist Gardiner Greene Hubbard said, on his election as the Society's first president, "The membership of our Society will not be confined to professional geographers, but will include that large number who, like myself, desire to promote special researches by others, and to diffuse the knowledge so gained among men, so that we may all know more of the world upon which we live."

The founding group included some of the finest scientific minds — and impressive beards — in Washington of the 1880's. But the venture's success was largely due to the choice of Gilbert Grosvenor as editor.

Young Grosvenor—backed editorially by his future father-in-law, inventor Alexander Graham Bell—set out to make geography interesting to laymen as well as to scientists. He was determined that the Society's infant magazine should never contain a single sentence which could not be readily understood. He pioneered in the generous use of photographs.

Particularly in color photography, National Geographic took the lead. It made the first natural-color pictures from the air, underground, and undersea. In the monumental "A History of American Magazines," Frank Luther Mott wrote that regular use of color illustrations "transformed the Geographic into a kind of periodical never before known."

Grants for Research

Since 1906, when the young Society helped finance Admiral Robert E. Peary's assault on the North Pole, it has made extensive annual grants for scientific research and exploration. The Society's own writers and photographers have roamed the world to bring back geographic knowledge of remote and little-known regions.

Contrary to a widespread belief, the Society is neither endowed nor subsidized. Dues of members pay for 12 monthly issues of the magazine, for frequent maps and other supplements, for the Society's educational services, and for the annual grants to scientific projects.

Throughout the years of growth, the Society and magazine were guided by Gilbert Grosvenor and his long-time colleague, John Oliver La Gorce. When Dr. Grosvenor retired as president and editor in 1954, Dr. La Gorce took over. He, too, requested retirement in January, 1957.

His successor is Dr. Melville Bell Grosvenor, himself the son, grandson, and great-grandson of presidents of the 70-year-old Society.

TRUCK HITS RAILROAD BRIDGE ON CROSS STREET

Word was received at the police station on Saturday that there had been an accident at the railroad bridge on Cross street.

Officer Andrew Crawford investigated and found that Chester M. Crowell, Jr., of Wilmington, while operating an International van truck owned by the Cummings Furniture Company of Woburn, was driving under the bridge when the top of the van body struck the bridge.

The body of the truck was damaged, the frame was bent and the truck was towed off. The operator complained of a scraped left knee and Frank Badger of Woburn, a helper on the truck, said he struck his head on the truck windshield.

Charles Barnes, B. & M. foreman, was notified and sent to check the bridge for damage.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE TO BENEFIT

For the first time in its history the Skating Club of Boston has elected to give the proceeds from the opening night of its four-night annual skating carnival "Ice Chips" to a charitable organization—and the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion is that organization.

Opening night of "Ice Chips" this year is Thursday, April 10, and already members of the twenty-four Florence Crittenton League Circles in the Greater Boston area are making plans for the event. The entire proceeds will go towards the Florence Crittenton Chapel Fund.

The need for a non-sectarian chapel at the League-supported Crittenton Hastings House in Brighton, a maternity home for unmarried mothers, has long been felt. But it was just last fall that the chapel and community room was completed and dedicated. Now League members, of which there are over 2,000 in this area, are working harder than ever to reduce the chapel indebtedness, and to this end, hope to fill the Boston Garden the night of April 10.

This Sunday, February 16, there will be a skating exhibition and tea at the Skating Club for Circle "Ice Chips" chairmen and their husbands. Invited to the affair from Winchester are Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm S. Burr of the Winchester Junior Circle and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Knight of the Winchester Senior Circle.

Advanced reservations may be made by writing to the Boston Skating Club or locally by contacting Mrs. Malcolm S. Burr, 15 Grove street, WInchester 6-3293 or Mrs. Thomas S. Knight, 50 Oxford street, WInchester 6-2496 or any member of the Florence Crittenton League. Orders will be filled after March 14 in order of their receipt.

"Ice Chips" is a family show combining outstanding skating by top amateur and professional stars with unique numbers appealing to both young and old alike.

WINDOW SMASHED IN PARKED CAR

Pamela A. Houghton of 146 Pleasant street, Woburn, called the police on Sunday to report that while her car was parked in the Winchester Theatre parking lot the back window was broken.

The car had been left in the lot between 2 and 6 p. m. by her brother while he attended the movie. When he came out to the car the window was broken from side to side, making it a total loss.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.

Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

The spritual relationship of God and man will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul" is the Golden Text from Isaiah (25:9): "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the Lord; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (120:4): "Soul, or Spirit, is God, unchangeable and eternal; and man coexists with and reflects Soul, God, for man is God's image."

Scriptural readings will include the following from Psalms (43.5): "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquited within me? hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

ABDELLA — GIAIMO

St. Joseph's Church in Medford was decorated with white gladioli for the marriage of Miss Joanne Theresa Giaimo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Giaimo of 22 Wright avenue, Medford, and Joseph Peter Abdella of 265 Washington street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Abdella of Worcester, on Sunday, February 9. The Rev. Paul V. Harrington of St. Stephen's Church in Boston performed the 3:00 o'clock ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory satin gown with alencon lace appliques, with pearl inserts and a cathedral length train. Her elbow length illusion veil was held by a rhinestone and pearl tiara. She carried a stephanotis spray centered by a white orchid.

Mrs. Marie Lacy of Medford was honor attendant for her sister. She wore a street length dress of emerald sateen with a full skirt and fitted bodice.

Louis P. Vuona of Worcester was best man and ushers were Frank Giaimo of Medford, brother of the bride, and James Abdella, Jr., nephew of the bridegroom, of Shrewsbury.

Following a reception at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Abdella left on a wedding trip to New York City.

Mr. Abdella is a graduate of the Northeastern School of Law where he holds a Bachelor of Law and a Master of Law degrees. Mr. and Mrs. Abdella will live in Winchester.

MAGARY — WEIGAND

The marriage of Mrs. Joan Gleason Weigand of Woodbury, Conn., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring P. Gleason of 7 Worthen road, and Mr. Alan Kirk Magary of LaSalle, Ill., son of the Reverend Dr. Alvin E. Magary and the late Edna Horton Magary of Washington, Conn., took place Saturday, February 8, at the First Congregational Church in Woodbury, Conn. Dr. Magary, Pastor Emeritus of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn, N. Y., officiated the the ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride had as her only attendant, Mrs. Herbert J. Lee of Wayne, Pa. Her son, R. Davis Weigand was best man.

Mrs. Magary is a graduate of the Brimmer School in Boston, and Bradford Junior College. Mr. Magary graduated from Mercersburg Academy, Princeton University and the University of Poitiers in France.

Mr. Magary is sales manager of Seth Thomas Clocks in Thomaston, Conn. The couple will make their home in Woodbury, Conn.

NANCY HUNTER AYER

MISS AYER ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Hazen H. Ayer of 69 Yale street announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Hunter, to Scott MacDuffee Cunningham, son of Professor and Mrs. Ross M. Cunningham of 22 Jefferson road.

Miss Ayer, a graduate of Winchester High School, is a senior at Mount Holyoke College. Mr. Cunningham, also a graduate of Winchester High School, attended Ohio Wesleyan University before serving with the United States Army Security Agency. A member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, he is now attending Tufts University.

A fall wedding is planned.

SENIOR FORUM SERVICE

Mr. John U. Munro of Harvard University will be the guest speaker Sunday at The Senior Forum service to be held in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church at 9:30 a. m. Mr. and Mrs. Munro have been active as Forum advisers for several years. Their daughter Ann is a Forum alumna and now a student at Colby. Their second daughter Janet is a Winchester High School student and chairman of the Forum Choir. Mr. Munro has been very active in school affairs in town and is presently serving as chairman of a special laymen's advisory committee on high school studies at Winchester High. He is from time to time a speaker at weekday chapel services at Harvard. His subject on Sunday will be "We Are What We Read".

The chaplain this Sunday will be Phil Pollard, assisted by Larry Templeton. The deacons will be Phil Nichols and Charles Myers; and ushers will be James MacDonald and George Elwell.

CRITTENTON BOARD MEMBERS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Vera I. McKenzie, president of the Winchester Senior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, entertained her board at a delightful luncheon at the Winchester Country Club on Thursday, February 6. Eghteen members found dainty corsages at their places when they gathered around the luncheon table, beautifully decorated with spring flowers.

At the board meeting, preceding the luncheon, Mrs. Robert W. Reynolds, Ways and Means chairman, gave one of the most interesting reports. Her exciting plans for the spring fashion show to be held at Chidley Hall the evening of March 7, were enthusiastically received by the board.

FAMILY COMMUNION BREAKFAST

On Sunday, February 9, St. Mary's Holy Name Society held their annual communion breakfast. Members and their families received Holy Communion in a body at the 7:45 a. m. mass celebrated by Father Charles E. Anadore. In his sermon Father Anadore praised the large group of boy scouts who were in attendance especially those who received the ad altare dei medal, the highest award in catholic scouting.

After mass an excellent catered breakfast was served in St. Mary's Hall. Head table guests were spiritual director, Rev. Martin J. Dolphin; president, John Fitzgerald, Jr.; vice president, Gerry Freedman; secretary, George Ross; treasurer, Robert Plunkett; program chairman, Paul Mulloy; archdiocesan program chairman, Frank Flahive; Judge Edward J. Voke and the wives and children of the officers.

After breakfast Mr. Flahive entertained the large group by singing two songs accompanied by Herb Cleary on the piano and two teenagers Billy Callahan and Bob McCormack put on a comical pantomime act.

Program chairman Paul Mulloy acted as M.C. and introduced the guest speaker Judge Edward J. Voke of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. Judge Voke graduated from the Chelsea public schools with honors, was a successful lawyer and served four terms as mayor of Chelsea. He was appointed to the bench by Governor Maurice Tobin.

The judge gave a very inspiring talk. He called on his vast knowledge and experience in the judicial field to show the causes of juvenile delinquency. He said that he had never sent away a boy who conforms to his religious duties. Also that "leadership by example" is what is desparately needed today. On Catholic Education he said that "catholic schools teach their children not only to be good christians but good citizens."

President Fitzgerald closed the meeting with a prayer.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

MRS. SALVATORE A. CATANZARO

CATANZARO — TANSEY

Yellow and white gladioli decorated the Immaculate Conception Church on Saturday, February 1, for the marriage of Miss Gail Catherine Tansey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Joseph Tansey of 19 Canal street, and Salvatore Anthony Catanzaro, son of Mrs. Rose Catanzaro of 30 Liberty street, Middletown, Conn. The Rev. Richard Roccopriore, uncle of the bridegroom, and pastor of St. Anthony's Church in North Adams, performed the 10:00 o'clock ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial mass which followed. Mrs. Roderick Munroe was organist and Frank Flahive was soloist for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style period gown of white satin with French chantilly lace, a portrait neckline edged with appliques of lace and long tapered sleeves. Lace panels accented the dome shaped skirt and cathedral train. Her finger-tip illusion veil was held by a headband of French chantilly lace embroidered with pearls. She carried a white bride's prayerbook with white orchids and a spray of stephanotis entwined with pearls.

Miss Ann Tansey, sister of the bride, was honor attendant. She wore a gown of spring green taffeta with embroidered lace cummerbund, dark green sash and a headband of variegated green leaves with a matching veil. She carried a spray of yellow chrysanthemums entwined with ivy.

Mrs. Thomas Heneghan of Burlington was the bridesmaid. She wore a gown similar to that of the honor attendant and carried a spray of yellow and white chrysanthemums entwined with ivy. Miss Mary Flaherty of Winchester cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Her dress was of pastel green taffeta with a basque bodice, bouffant skirt and a green velvet sash. She wore a headband of pale green rosebuds and carried a spray of yellow and white chrysanthemums and ivy. Miss Regis Flaherty of Winchester served as flower girl for her cousin. She wore a dress similar to that of her sister and carried a basket of chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

Anthony Catanzaro of Middletown, Conn., served as best man for his brother. Ushers were George Tansey of Portland, Me., brother of the bride; Neil Flaherty of Winchester, cousin of the bride; and Jerry Guere of Middletown, Conn.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Falherty of 11 Ridgefield road. The bridal couple was assisted in receiving their guests by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tansey, Mrs. Rose Catanzaro, Miss Ann Tansey, Mrs. Thomas Heneghan and Anthony Catanzaro, Mrs. Tansey, mother of the bride, wore a sheath of jewel-tone silk with a sapphire blue satin hat and a corsage of white camellias. Mrs. Catanzaro wore a grey and white printed crepe gown with a grey hat and a corsage of white camellias.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Catanzaro left on a wedding trip to New York and Washington. They will make their home in Middletown, Conn.

Mrs. Catanzaro is a graduate of St. Charles High School in Woburn and of the Children's Hospital School of Nursing. Her husband is a graduate of Middletown High School, Middletown, Conn., and Boston University. He is now attending the Graduate School of Social Work at the University of Connecticut.

HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday, February 19, Miss Grace Boynton will speak to the Winchester Home and Garden Club on "My Chinese Garden." Miss Boynton is a New Englander who for years made her home in Peking, China. She has studied the art of the Chinese gardens and has given many lectures as well as writing a book and several articles on this subject.

Tea and Chinese cookies will be served before the lecture in the parish hall of the Epiphany Church. Guests will be welcome.

Anyone wishing tickets for the Spring Flower Show at Mechanics Building, March 9 through 15, should get in touch with Mrs. Robert S. Baylies now.

SCOUT OPERATION DEEP FREEZE

Troop 6 of Winchester Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Men's Club of the Unitarian Church, staged their own "Operation Deep Freeze" when they camped overnight last weekend at Camp Ted in Waltham.

From Saturday morning to Sunday noon sixteen boys and three men proved their stamina by the camping operation, with two scouts, Stephen Wardwell and John Totman, actually tenting overnight in the snow, while the others enjoyed the slightly greater comfort of the cabin.

Saturday evening the troop returned to Winchester long enough to be present at the Court of Honor at the High School.

Scouts enjoying this camp out were David March, Richard Soucek, Edward Cabot, Bruce Carpenter, Jeffrey Hills, Gerald Hills, Thomas LaPointe, Bill Larkin, Walter Josephson, Peter Lawrence, Norman Stafford, Bill Hoyt, Sam Hooker, Richard Sansone, Stephen Wardwell, and John Totman. Accompanying the scouts were Vincent B. March, assistant scoutmaster, Malcolm Masters, and William Hoyt. Robert Sands, scoutmaster, Carl Totman, assistant scoutmaster, David B. Thoms, and William Coady helped with the planning and transportation.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON MAIN STREET DURING FRIDAY'S STORM

Two auto accidents were reported last Friday on Main street during the snow storm.

At 5:45 p. m. Anthony Mottolo of 45 Church street, Wilmington, was driving on Main street and was in collision with a car operated by Raymond A. Deery of 32 Putnam street, Danvers.

Road conditions were snowy and slippery. Mr. Mottolo was driving north and three cars skidded in front of him causing the car immediately before him to come to a skidding stop. He applied the brakes but due to the road conditions he was unable to stop in time.

Fifteen minutes later Mrs. Dorothy H. Johnson of 22 Vernal street, Everett was driving south on Main street and when she was opposite number 417 she skidded into a truck that was coming north onto the oppsoite side of the street. The truck was owned by the Conlon Brothers Trans. Co., of Lowell.

Mrs. Johnson's six year old son banged his head and both Mrs. Johnson and another passenger were shaken up.

COMBINED ORCHESTRAL CONCERT

An interesting orchestral program has been arranged for music lovers of Winchester on the evening of March 1, at the Winchester Memorial Auditorium, when the orchestras of Lexington High School and Winchester High School will combine to present an entertaining program. Each orchestra will play three numbers independently and then both groups will join together, one hundred strong, to present the last third of the program.

The orchestras will be conducted by Donald J. Gillespie, director of music of Lexington and Wendell S. Withington, director of music of Winchester.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

This coming Sunday at 5:00 and 7:00 p. m. the Intermediate and Senior Youth Fellowships at the Methodist Church will be meeting respectively.

At the Intermediate Fellowship there will be a film shown and a discussion on mass media and propaganda.

At the Seinor Fellowship there will be a discussion on basic Protestant beliefs. This is a good time to become informed about our Protestant heritage.

WINCHESTER GIRL WINS SKATING TITLE

Laurence Owen, daughter of Mrs. Maribel Vinson Owen of 195 High street, representing the Skating Club of Boston, won the senior women's title of the Eastern Figure Skating Championships on Sunday at Troy, N. Y.

Miss Owen's mother is a nine-time U.S. figure skating champion. Miss Owen was rated first in the school figures Saturday night and in the free skating exhibition on Sunday.

Her older sister, Maribel Owen, teamed with Dudley Richards of Boston to win the senior pairs title today.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

On the first Friday in Lent, February 21, the World Day of Prayer will be observed all over the world. At no time in the twenty-four hours will the chain of prayer be broken.

Here in Winchester our church bells will ring at 11 a. m. to announce a moment of silent prayer in preparation for the afternoon service. At 1:45 p. m. the bells will again ring to call all Winchester women to the 2 p. m. service at the Second Congregational Church. Here pre-school children will be cared for in the nursery. Also at 2 p. m. the children of grades one through six will have their own observance at the First Baptist Church.

An offering will be taken at both services to be used to develop Christian leadership in Africa and Asia and to help agricultural workers and American Indians here. The money will also provide reading materials and resettlement camps for illiterates on several continents and many other self-help and educational services all over the world.

WHS VARSITY CLUB PRESENTS GYMNASTS

A gymnastic entertainment featuring work on apparatus, rhythmic exercises, dances, and comedy will be presented here on Saturday, March 8, under the auspices of WHS Varsity Club.

The program will be staged by the world local sponsor famous Exhibition Team of Springfield College of Springfield, Mass. Twenty-four students hailing from various parts of the country will take part in the two hour show that is packed with daring, grace, skill and amusement.

Attractions on the program include numbers on the heavy apparatus such as the parallel bars, horizontal bar, the side horse and trampoline. The team repertoire also includes specialties by talented performers, and finally the dramatic Statuary of Youth Tableaux in which team members pose while covered with aluminum paint.

The Exhibition Team Show's theme this season is "Our Golden Jubilee" and is produced and directed by Frank Wolcott, a member of the Springfield College faculty. Frank, a former member and captain of the team, has succeeded Leslie J. Judd who recently retired after more than thirty years at the helm of the team. The exhibition will be given in Winchester High School Gymnasium at 7:30 p. m.

NICHOLS STUDENT VP AT HARVARD BUSINESS COLLEGE

Arthur B. Nichols 3rd of 39 Mystic Valley Parkway has been elected vice-president of the student association at the Harvard Business School, it was announced today. Mr. Nichols received his A.B. from Harvard in 1948, worked for General Telephone for seven years, and spent two years in the army. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Nichols, Jr., of Dean street, Taunton.

The Student Association of the Harvard Business School accepts the primary responsibility for such questions as parking, athletics, publications, social functions, formulation and enforcement of regulations, and the maintenance of effective channels of communication among students, faculty and administration. The Executive Board and ten committees carry on the day-to-day work of the more than one-thousand man Association. Membership is voluntary and open to all students.

Winchester Hospital Annual Report Shows Successful Year

The 45th annual report of the Winchester Hospital has been published and Harlan L. Paine, Jr., administrator of the hospital, reports that the hospital year was not one of growth in buildings and bed accommodations but rather a year of activity which produced larger and more efficient utilization of the existing capacity, additions of new equipment and replacements of old, and general improvements in the patients' rooms and in the house and grounds.

At the present time the hospital has well-staffed medical, surgical, pediatrics and obstetrical wards with 110 beds in pleasant homelike rooms and 36 bassinets in the nursery. Clinical facilities include 6 operating rooms, 3 delivery rooms, an emergency department, an outpatient section, laboratories, X-ray rooms, a pharmacy and a blood bank.

Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., president of the board of directors, says that the hospital's sole reason for being is to provide first-rate care for the sick and for the expectant mothers of our suburban community and the neighboring towns. The hospital's aim is to provide first-rate care, care with skill and adequate equipment as well as with the warmth of human understanding, at costs to the patient no higher than are required by current economic conditions.

Problems encountered during the year were ones expected in times of higher demands for hospital services and of higher costs of doing the job. A continuing problem is that of space for patient admissions and for the hospital's over-all operations.

The problem of rising costs, due principally to much-needed increases in wages, required increases in the hospital's rates. Yet charges remained as low or lower than those of comparable hospitals in the Metropolitan Boston area. The net earned income this year was $4608 compared with a loss of about $31,000 last year.

Another problem is that of obtaining adequate qualified personnel in the administrative departments because of the higher wage scales in business and industry.

The nursing shortage creates still another problem for the hospital. As a result of this, the staffing of the hospital's floors has been met only with the cooperation of part-time nurses and the overtime work of the staff nurses. Yet an excellent job has been done in keeping the hours of nursing care on the medical and surgical floors close to the objective of 4-plus hours per patient per day. A partial solution of this problem was made with the training last February of a class of eight nurses' aides and another class was started in October.

The generous work of the directors and trustees and the many who help on their individaul initiative and the many hundreds lending their assistance through service organizations are deeply appreciated. The Friends of the Winchester Hospital, the En Ka Society, the Winton Club, the Winchester Hospital Alumnae Association, the Gray Ladies, the Red Cross workers and the Winchester Public Library are among the many groups who performed vital services for the hospital in 1957.

Statistics for the hospital are as follows:

In-patient Admissions	4,303
Live Births	1,373
Patients from Winchester	1,407
Number of Operations	2,066
Laboratory Examinations	38,078
Average Occupancy Rate	76.8%

NEW ENGLANDERS ELIGIBLE FOR $75,000 IN SCHOLARSHIPS

New Englanders are eligible to compete for $75,000 in scholarship awards for collegiate study for the second consecutive year, according to an announcement today.

These educational awards are from the annual Johnson & Johnson Youth Scholarship Fund.

This competition for 49 scholarships, ranging from $10,000 to 36 $1,000 awards, is open to any person by completing the statement with 50-words: "A good education is important because . . ."

Persons submitting statements, if over 20 years of age, must desinate a recipient under that age limit. Deadline is May 5, 1958.

Purpose of the scholarship fund is to bring about an increased interest in general scholarships, give greater educational opportunities to students, and to stimulate greater public interest in education.

Further information about the scholarships may be obtained by writing Johnson & Johnson Youth Scholarship Fund, New Brunswick, N. J.

HOME SHOW WINNER TO BE MOVED INTO NEW HOME

Manual Sherman, director of the 1958 New England Home Show, has just announced that the winner of the $20,000 Hodgson House will also be packed and moved into the new home at no cost. The T. G. Buckley Company, New England's largest moving and storage organization, has offered their complete services to the lucky winner, so that now he or she has only to worry about Uncle Sam's claim for "contest winning." An agent of Allied Van Lines, Inc., T. G. Buckley is prepared to move the winner from anywhere in the United States or Canada to the site of his new home to be constructed in Acton, Mass.

DR. DEAN A. CLARK

MASS GENERAL DIRECTOR SPEAKS TO "FRIENDS" FEB. 27

Noted authority on hospital administration and health benefit plans, Dean A. Clark, M.D., General Director of Massachusetts General Hospital, will be the guest speaker at the Friends of the Winchester Hospital winter meeting, Thursday, February 27, 8:00 p. m. at the Parish Hall, Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. All interested in Dr. Clark's timely topic, "Can You Afford To Be Sick?" are cordially invited to attend.

Currently President of the Massachusetts Hospital Association of which the Winchester Hospital is a member, Dr. Clark who has served as the General Director of M.G.H. since 1949 is a graduate of Princeton and Johns Hopkins Medical School. He also holds two degrees from Oxford University. Prior to his present post at Massachusetts General Hospital, one of the country's most complex hospitals, Dr. Clark was Medical Director, Health Insurance Plan of Greater New York and Senior Surgeon, U.S. Public Health Service 1945-49.

By his past and present experience, Dr. Clark is exceptionally well-qualified to discuss present-day problems of patient care and costs and to appraise the controversial issues of hospital expenses and health insurance plans.

Program Chairman for this February 27 meeting of the Friends, Mrs. Robert H. Kroepsch urges all men and women concerned about today's hospital costs to hear Dr. Clark's talk the evening he comes to Winchester. It promises to be most enlightening and interesting. Coffee will be served at 8 p. m. and the meeting will begin promptly at 8:30.

WINCHESTER CHRISTMAS SEAL RETURNS STILL CLIMB

"Contributions from Winchester residents are still climbing to meet the 1956 total," reports Sherman B. Russell chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee, an affiliate of the Middlesex Health Association. Through the end of January, this year's campaign shows a total of $3,860.00 from Winchester. We are deeply grateful to everyone in Winchester who supported this campaign and to the Winchester Star for its fine job in carrying the Christmas Seal message to its readers.

Every contributing citizen will play an active part in the program to prevent and control tuberculosis in this area. Through chest Xrays and tuberculin testing, Christmas Seals help find new cases of TB early when most easily treated. Rehabilitation services to ex-TB hospital patients help them return to active community living. Specialized training and courses for local nurses, teachers, and doctors provide up-to-date public health knowledge and practices for those who teach and care for others in the community. Health education materials, publications, and programs are also available to schools, industries, and individuals through Seal Sale funds.

"The confidence of Winchester individuals in the work of the Christmas Seals is a constant inspiration to us in this voluntary association to continue our work with zeal and hope," added Allister F. MacDougall, Association president. It is only through the contributions of many Winchester residents during this once-a-year fund campaign that the Association and its affiliated local tuberculosis committees can carry on its year-round TB control activities.

Other members of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee are: Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, George Billman, Mrs. Anthony Zovickian, Mrs. Walford Wiklund, R.N., Warren P. Eldridge, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen, Mrs. R. Darrell Harvey.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

PARENTS' MEETINGS AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

The Religious Education Committee of the Winchester Unitarian Church is currently sponsoring a series of parents' meetings to provide an opportunity for parents and teachers to become better acquainted with each other, and with the courses being taught in the Church School. Each teacher presents a resume of the course he is teaching and parents have an opportunity to make comments and ask questions. Together they discuss the religious growth of the children and young people. Class meetings which have already been held are:

High School parents at the home of Rev. Robert A. Storer, who is also the teacher of this class. Assisting Mr. Storer in the discussion were Mr. Miles McKey, student minister of the church, and Mr. Herbert Black, youth advisor to the High School Metcalf Union.

The sixth grade parents met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manning Morrill with the teachers, Mrs. Erwin Hutchings and Mrs. Howard Aiken.

First grade parents met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John White; the teachers were Mrs. Richard French and Miss Roberta Rich.

Eighth grade parents met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Goodwin, with Mr. Darwin Carroll, teacher.

Second grade parents met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pritchard with the teachers, Mrs. Nelson Fontneau and Mrs. Lewis Wadsworth, Jr.

Fourth grade parents met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson, with Mrs. John Harrison, the teacher, in charge.

During the past week, the following meetings have been held: Pre-school and Kindergarten parents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Caldwell, with teachers Mrs. Lee Aubrey, Mrs. Theodore Robinson, Mrs. John Sharp and Mrs. Richard Hakanson; Seventh grade parents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Bryant, with Mr. Alan Grometstein, teacher; Third grade parents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Hall, with Mrs. Peter Laban and Mrs. Charles Aston, the teachers; Fifth grade parents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gordon, with teachers Mrs. Ralph Manning and Mr. David Moore; Nursery class parents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Puffer, with the teachers Mrs. Robert Pritchard, Mrs. Dennis Heindel and Mrs. Robert Tesar.

MARYCLIFF GUILD LUNCHEON

A luncheon will be held at the Academy on Tuesday, February 11, at 12 noon. Chairman for the occasion will be Mrs. William Moynihan of Arlington assisted by Mrs. William Sullivan of Arlington. Guests are most welcome.

Following the luncheon "Living Portraits of Our Lady" will be presented. Portravals and musical background will be given by students of the Academy. The commentary will be by Madame Ippolito.

After the program there will be a cake sale under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur McFague of Woburn.

MEDICAL SOCIETY AUXILIARY

For eight consecutive years the Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society has awarded nursing scholarships. Again, a scholarship of $250 is available to graduates of public and parochial schools interested in a three year nursing program. Middlesex East includes the communities of Burlington, Melrose, Reading, North Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Wilmington, Winchester, and Woburn. Twelve scholarships have been awarded since the fund has been in existence. Several of the young women have completed their training at hospitals of their choice, and are pursuing their careers. Others are in various stages of their training.

There are many attractive fields of opportunities open to the graduate nurse today, with an ever increasing need for her services. Her training is a satisfying and rewarding experience which extends throughout her entire life.

Complete information may be obtained from the office of the Principal of the High School; or from Mrs. Donald E. McLean, 19 Grove street, chairman of the Nursing Scholarship committee.

NAMED COPY EDITOR AT LAWRENCE COLLEGE

Gretchen Luitwieler of 89 Cambridge street has been elected to the position of head copy editor on the staff of Lawrence college's student-published newspaper at Appleton, Wis.

A third year student, Miss Luitwieler is listed on the scholastic honor roll. She is a member of the Lawrence College Concert Band and is affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi social sorority.

TWO WINCHESTER GIRLS PLACE IN BETTY CROCKER CONTEST

Two local girls have been named Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow.

They received the highest scores in their schools on a written examination of homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating high school girls.

The local school winners are: Janet Louise Kimball from Marycliff Academy and Pauline M. Nixon from Winchester High School.

Their examination papers now will be entered in competition with those of 221 other school winners to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runner-up award in the state. For their achievement, they will each receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York.

Each State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. A $500 scholarship will be awarded the second ranking girl in each state. The school of the state winner receives a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The national winner will be named April 17 at a banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City. The scholarship of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. Girls who rank second, third and fourth in the nation will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

Science Research Associates of Chicago prepared and scored the examination through which local, state and national Homemakers of Tomorrow are selected.

MRS. SAMOILOFF SAILS FOR EUROPE

Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff of 314 Highland avenue left today on the Queen Elizabeth for an indefinite stay in The Hague, Netherlands, where she will join her husband who is doing engineering work there.

Mrs. Samoiloff has been very active in the Winchester Community Theatre and in the Winchester Children's Theatre. She was one of the founders of the Community Theatre and was instrumental in forming the Children's Theatre School.

When she came into the Star shortly before leaving for New York and the boat, Mrs. Samoiloff told us that she had rented her dog, "Duchess," with her house and that "Duchess" would probably keep up the family's reputation in the theatre by playing a role in the forthcoming Children's Theatre production.

Paper napkins, tablecloths, cocktail napkins, cups and paper plates at the Star office, 3 Church street.

MISS CHASE TOURS EUROPE

Miss Marilyn Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Chase, 54 Salisbury street, flew to Paris on February 6, for a four months tour of Europe.

She plans to spend two months skiing in Switzerland and Austria, and will then travel through, Italy, France, Spain, Holland and Denmark, ending her tour at the World's Fair in Brussels, Belgium. Marilyn plans to return to Winchester the middle of June.

COMMUNITY YOUTH COUNCIL

This committee was formed after a study of juvenile delinquency in Problems of Democracy by several Senior students. The committee is backed by Mr. Niblock and our churches. It consists of eight Seniors, six Juniors, two Sophomores, and two Freshmen. Sally Kimball and Dana Starkweather are co-chairmen, Ann Neville is corresponding secretary, and Gloria Craft is recording secretary. The remaining members are as follows: Doug Gowdy, Paul Sullivan, Peter Cullen, Jim Falzano, Jean Scott, Richie Roberts, Binky Clark, Bob Peluso, Roger Deminico, John Hosmer, George Neville, and Sue Nanry. The intermediate aim is to provide recreation facilities for the teen-agers on Friday nights after the basketball games. Eventually, we would like erected a complete building designated for the recreation of our teen-agers.

As many town's people can observe, on the week-ends teen-agers loiter around the streets and unfortunate accidents occur, this could be prevented.

The cooperation of the churches is asked in allowing the CYC (Winchester Community Youth Council) to use their social halls for open houses after the basketball games. Also, the CYC is asking the support of the town and its organizations to help its future citizens to obtain its goal.

SERIEKA DRAFTED BY CLEVELAND BROWNS

Ed "Jocko" Serieka former Winchester High School football star and now a Junior at Xavier College in Cincinnati, Ohio, has been drafted by the Cleveland Browns of the National Professional Football League.

Cleveland was one of five professional teams who were interested in Serieka, the other four being the Chicago Bears, Green Bay Packers, Chicago Cardinals and the Baltimore Colts.

It is a tribute to the football potential of the 6-1-200 pound fullback to have clubs of this caliber interested in him a year before he will be eligible to sign a pro-contract.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

WINCHESTER TEACHERS ATTEND MEETING AT MIT

Mr. John Hutzenlaub, an M.I.T. alumnus as well as a Winchester resident on the staff of the Lincoln Laboratory (M.I.T.) at Bedford, invited members of the Winchester School department to attend the recent mid-winter meeting of the Alumnae Association of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mrs. Lenna M. Travis, Miss Sybil L. Daniels, and Mr. Francis X. Finigan of the High School Science department; and Mr. Joseph C. Forte, principal of the Mystic School were guests of Mr. Hutzenlaub at this outstanding and timely meeting.

"A study that portends possible revolutionary advancement in the teaching of secondary school physics is now going on, headquartered at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge." Because of its potential significance and trail-blazing steps in the building of a new structure, Mr. Hutzenlaub felt that the Physical Science Study would be of extreme importance to members of the Winchester teaching staff.

The Physical Science Study Committee is engaged in a monumental task. Its specific aims are: "(1) To plan a course of study in which major developments of physics, up to the present time, are presented in a logical and integrated whole; (2) to present physics as an intellectual and cultural pursuit which is part of present-day human activity and achievement; and (3) to assist physics teachers, by means of various teaching aids, to carry out the proposed program."

The committee's work fell into two stages: the first, the entire problem was studied with the result that two far-reaching conclusions were agreed upon: to concentrate on the secondary school physics syllabus and to lay great emphasis on the development of new — perhaps radically new — teaching aids. The second stage, was that of arriving at an approximation of the teaching material that would embody this syllabus. A textbook has been written, a program of 70 20-minute films has been embarked upon and will soon be in production, and apparatus is being designed and constructed for classroom use, for laboratory use, and a challenge to those students who might wish to work on their own in their kitchens or workshops. The Physical Science Study Committee hopes it should be possible by the school year 1958-1959 to introduce the full course, together with a battery of completed teaching aids, into a number of representative secondary schools. Only then will a large scale evaluation of the methods and the contents become possible. It will be on the basis of this final evaluation that the new physics syllabus will be put in determinate form.

Needless to say, the Winchester School department will be eyeing the results of this work and the nature of the course with close scrutiny, and in such a way that it will hope to gain both a sympathetic understanding and real enthusiasm for what it is, what it seeks to achieve, and its potential contribution to providing the most effective science teaching for our high school students.

MAJ. GEN. OTIS M. WHITNEY LEGION SPEAKER

Commander Frank Provinzano, Winchester American Legion Post 97, has arranged to have our Commissioner of Public Safety, Maj. Gen. Otis M. Whitney, to speak at the Legion Home on Thursday, February 20, at 9 o'clock. Any interested persons are more than welcomed to attend, so mark it in your book and bring your friends.

Maj. Gen. Whitney is a native of Concord, Mass., and attended the local schools there and Browne and Nichols School in Cambridge. He graduated from Harvard College in 1930 and three years later graduated from Harvard Law School.

The General joined Company "H" of the Mass. National Guard as a private while in college and graduated with a commission of second lieutenant from the Mass. Military Academy.

In 1936 he was elected State Representative and in 1941 resigned his seat in the Legislature to enter active duty with the U. S. Army.

Gen. Whitney was the leader of an Army Unit of the famed American Division in the South Pacific during the attack upon the Japanese at Guadalcanal. Here he earned the Silver Star and other military decorations. He was returned to the U. S. with malaria and was assigned to the command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, having been advaned to the rank of Colonel. After his separation from the U. S. Army he was elected by the Legislature in 1946 to fill a vacancy on the Governor's Council, and was re-elected each succeeding election by the people of his district.

In 1953, he was appointed by Gov. Herter to be Commissioner of Public Safety, which includes the duty of being in direct charge of the State Police and other divisions of the department concerned with public safety.

The General is an interesting speaker of various subjects, so accept this invitation for a worthwhile program. See you at the Legion Home on Vine street, Thursday, February 20, at 9:00 p. m.

LOCAL MAN WINS POULTRY SHOW AWARD

Vance E. Hammond of 2 Glen road won three first prizes and one second prize at the 110th Boston Poultry Show. Mr. Hammond's entry was a rose comb white leghorn and his entry in the Standard Bred Show topped its class and defeated some of the country's finest poultry.

The Boston Poultry Show, now under the sponsorship of the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council (NEPPCO), is the world's largest exhibition of pigeons and Standard Bred fowl. Winning a blue ribbon at the annual event is comparable to being presented with a Hollywood "Oscar" by the motion picture industry.

ACCIDENT ON MASON STREET AND HIGHLAND AVENUE

An auto accident last Monday, February 3, at the intersection of Mason street and Highland avenue resulted in no personal injuries but damage to both cars.

James T. Mille of 1269 Mass. avenue, Arlington, while operating a Cadillac sedan east on Mason street was in collision with a Ford convertible owned and operated by Richard B. Killian of 534 Washington street. Mr. Killian was driving south on Highland avenue.

The Ford was damaged on the right side but was able to drive off under its own power. The Cadillac was damaged on its left front fender and grill and was towed off.

VOL. LXXVII NO. 24 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1958 PRICE TEN CENTS

FOR SELECTMAN

H. GARDNER BRADLEE

TO THE VOTERS OF WINCHESTER

As a candidate for the office of selectman, I would like to outline my background for the information of those voters of Winchester who do not know me.

I was born in West Medford, Mass., in 1918, moved to Winchester with my family in 1931 and have been a resident of the town since then, except for a brief period in 1940-41. In 1939, I was married to Celena Dean and, in 1941, we moved to 2 Goddu avenue, living there until February of 1957 when we moved to 46 Lorena road. We have four children ranging in age from 1 to 16 years.

I graduated from Belmont Hill School in 1936 and from Harvard College in 1940. Since then, I have attended courses given by the American Institute of Banking and in 1953 graduated from the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers. The National Shawmut Bank of Boston was my employer from college graduation until 1950, when I moved to the Cambridge Trust Company of which I am Vice President, Secretary and a Director.

I continue to be active in various community affairs both in Cambridge and Winchester. These have included Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Community Fund, Red Cross, Heart Fund, and Salvation Army. I was a member of the Standing Committee of the Unitarian Church for three years, serving as Finance Committee chairman for two of those years.

For the last three years, as a member of the Town Finance Committee, I have learned something of town affairs. With this background, I would, if you wish to vote for me, like to continue to serve the town.

166 VOTERS REGISTERED

Since July 31, 1957, the total of new registered voters has been increased by 166, according to Mrs. Elsie Nelson, Town Clerk. The last chance to register for voting in the March election was on February 11.

From now on there will be no new names added to the voting list until after the town election on March 3.

THE DUMP WILL BE OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 22nd.

ABSENT VOTER BALLOTS

Registered voters who expect to be absent from Winchester or who will be unable by reason of physical disability to cast their vote in person at the polling place on the day of the Annual Town Election, March 3, 1958, may obtain applications for Absent Voter Ballots at the Town Clerk's Office in the Town Hall.

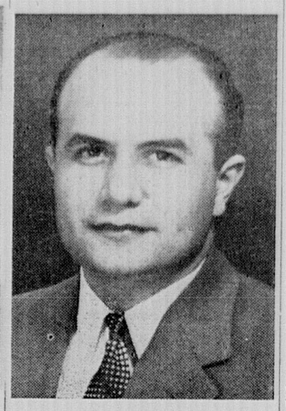
FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE



EMIDIO DiLORETO

To the Voters of Winchester:

I am a candidate for School Committee and I respectfully solicit the support of the voters of Winchester. Permit me, if you please, to state the following qualifications for your consideration to this public office.

I am a graduate of Northeastern University—School of Law and I am a member of the Boston and Massachusetts Bar Association, actively engaged in the practice of law.

I am a veteran of World War II, and hold the rank of Major, United States Army Reserve, 94th Infantry Division as Assistant Judge Advocate.

I am, also, actively engaged in organizations that contribute to the welfare of the community.

I am married to the former Antonette E. Cannao who is a member of the faculty of the School of Education at Boston College. We have two children, Elizabeth and Michael.

I hope I may have the pleasure in serving you and, if elected, I will endeavor to serve the Town of Winchester to the best of my ability. I welcome your support on Monday, March 3.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, Mr. John I. Donovan was unanimously elected to serve as trustee for the unexpired term of the late James Nowell.

Mr. Nowell was one of the three original trustees of the Foundation, and at the time of his death, was the only one of the original three serving as such. He was a long time resident of Winchester, and was very loyal to the town and all of its institutions. The executive committee adopted expressions of appreciation for his faithful and valuable services to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

Mr. Donovan has been a strong supporter of the Foundation from its very beginning. He was a member of the first scholarship committee, serving for four years. Subsequently he was chairman of the general committee for two terms. As a working member of the Foundation he will bring to the board of trustees a background of experience that will make a valuable contribution to good understanding and coordination.

MRS. EDWARD H. STONE RECEIVES BOSTON POST CANE

Mrs. Edward H. Stone of 6 Wood lane was presented with the Boston Post cane by George A. Saltmarsh, chairman of the board of selectmen, last Saturday. She is the oldest person living in Winchester and will be 101 years old next month.

The cane was originally presented by the now defunct Boston Post to the oldest living inhabitant in the different towns served by the paper. When the Post discontinued awarding the canes they were left in the various towns. Winchester has kept up the custom and the selectmen keep records of the oldest persons in town.

VASTLY IMPROVED HOCKEY TEAM FIGHTS WAY INTO NORTH SHORE PLAYOFFS

A tremendously improved Winchester hockey team fought their way to a playoff berth in the North Shore League this week with their fifth consecutive victory over a Beverly team 4-0.

Many of the insiders at Lynn feel that Coach Frank Finigan has brought his team from a position of an also-ran to the top team in the league.

Winchester started the year with only one experienced player, Captain Craig Davenport. Fashioning a squad from inexperienced seniors, and rough sophomore material, Finigan iced a team that won their first three games with hard earned victories over St. Mary's of Lynn 4-2, St. John's of Danvers 1-0, and Saugus High 3-2.

From this point Winchester fortunes took a downturn. Even though completely dominating play against a strong Woburn team, Winchester could not score and then just ran out of steam to lose 4-1. In the next games the Sachems exploded with a 6-1 victory over Marblehead which saw the entire squad in action.

With the start of the new year Winchester's luck ran out. With Craig Davenport and Dave Harkins scoring, the Sachems tied Gloucester 2-2. Then a bad loss to Danvers 4-0 which marked the first time during the year that the Sachems were shut out. No excuses were offered for these losses. At this point Finigan shuffled his entire team breaking up his lines so that he could move Dick Scott and Steve Powers back to defense. Bill Emerson was moved up to right wing on the first line and Dave Harkins to center.

The shifts did not pay dividends in the next game but strength was obvious in a 6-4 loss to Amesbury. Craig Davenport had the hat trick in this game. With a completely new lineup Winchester came from behind to tie Lynn English 1-1 with Bill Emerson tieing the game with a hard shot into the nets.

Then the team jelled. Decisively beating a league leading Peabody team 4-1, the Sachems had four different men score goals. Then a tremendous upset victory over undefeated Swampscott which was touted as a pre-season State Champion. Sophomore Dana Kelly skating at right wing on the second line scored two goals. Then successive victories over Lynn Classical 6-0, Salem 7-1, and Beverly 4-0 gave the Sachems a playoff spot.

This marks the fourth year that Winchester has made the playoffs in the league. This is a remarkable achievement.

Doug Gowdy has served as the backbone of the team. He has turned in several performances that certainly gained victories for Winchester. At defense Powers and Scott have contributed to the success of the team by continually breaking up the opponents' attack before it could get organized.

The first line of Davenport, Harkins, and Emerson ranks with the best in the league. Harkins is a clever boy with his stick and has taken the puck deep in enemy territory to set up goals. Bill Emerson has 17 points which have aided the cause greatly. Coach Finigan feels that Craig Davenport is one of the outstanding captains of Winchester sports history. He is a driver who gets the big goal.

The second line has been composed of Dana Kelly at right wing Bill Lamarche at center, and Roger Griffin at left wing. Though rough at the beginning of the year, they have come along under the tutelage of Finigan and in the past few games have contributed several important goals.

EMILE SOARES

Emile Soares of 17 Clematis street died suddenly last Sunday afternoon, February 16, at his home. He was 50 years old.

Mr. Soares was born on January 17, 1907, in Stonington, Conn. He was the son of Urbana and Marion Mello Soares. He had been employed as a painter at the Hotel Commander in Cambridge for several years.

A U. S. Navy veteran of World War II, Mr. Soares served in the Pacific for three years. He moved to Winchester eight years ago.

Besides his wife, the former Miss Elsie Perry, Mr. Soares is survived by three daughters, Miss Mary Soares of Winchester, Mrs. Evelyn Moniz of Somerville and Mrs. Eileen Lennon of Cambridge.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning from the Joseph A. Costa Sons Memorial Funeral Home in Cambridge, followed by a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Anthony's Church in Cambridge. The Rev. Manuel J. Cascias, pastor of St. Anthony's, officiated. Interment was at the Cambridge Cemetery.

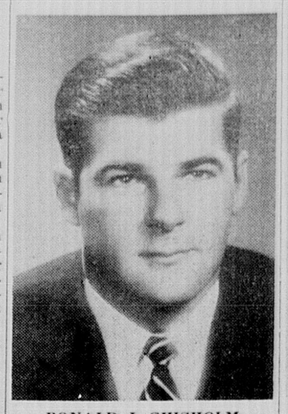
FOR SELECTMAN



RONALD J. CHISHOLM

Voters of Winchester:

In presenting my name for your consideration as a candidate for Selectman, briefly I would like to describe my background and qualifications. I am a graduate of the Winchester Public School system, having played varsity football and baseball while attending Winchester High School. After finishing college, I attended law school and I am now a practicing attorney. I am presently employed by the Voluntary Defenders Committee Incorporated as a trial lawyer.

I served in the United States Air Force and United States Marine Reserve.

Having been appointed to serve in the Middlesex County District Attorney's Office, I gained valuable executive and administrative experience and training.

I have served as a Town Meeting member for the past five years and have taken part in many charitable drives and civil events.

No one, however able, can make much of a contribution to the town as a Selectman unless he has sufficient time necessary to devote to the office. I do have the time to devote to the office of Selectman and fully realize the ever increasing burdens to this office.

If you feel the town of Winchester will be well represented with a young and energetic Selectman, I would appreciate your support.

WEEK-END STORM RANKS HIGH AMONG BLIZZARDS

The recent snow storm which left piles of snow as high as eight feet in some sections of the town ranks high on the list of blizzards over the years. During the storm period, Winchester received 18 inches of snow and old timers can compare it with the following storms of the "good old days."

March 3-5, 1891—15.5 inches
February 12-14, 1899—16 inches
March 3-10, 1916—20.6 inches
February 5-7, 1920—17.3 inches
February 20, 1921—16.5 inches
January 3-12, 1923—21.8 inches
February 20-21, 1934—15.5 inches
February 14-15, 1940—15 inches

The above figures are from the Boston weather bureau and should be fairly close to the local snowfall. Notice especially how many of the storms came during the month of February.

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

MRS. MARY M. BRINK

Before voting on March 3, give careful consideration to the qualifications of the only woman on the ballot as a candidate for School Committee, Mary M. Brink.

One of the most important of these qualifications is that she is the mother of five children. With Mike in high school, Carol at Junior High, and Dan, Ricky and Bill in elementary schools, her interest in the Winchester schools is widespread.

As a graduate of New York State Teachers College in Buffalo, with teaching experience, she has an understanding of teaching methods, teachers' problems, and parent-school relationships. Being a taxpayer, with children to feed, clothe, and educate, she realizes that each tax dollar spent for education must be used wisely.

In the years as a citizen of the town, Mrs. Brink has assumed many civic duties. She is a member of the First Baptist Church, and has served on the Deaconate Board and as a Sunday School teacher there. In 1956, she was president of the Parkhurst Parents' Association. She has worked with Cubs, Brownies, and Girl Scouts. She is a member of the Friends of Winchester Hospital, and serves as a cart worker at the hospital. She has been a Red Feather collector and captain, and worked on fund drives for Red Cross and March of Dimes.

After considering these qualifications, remember that the only woman candidate for the office of School Committee is Mary M. Brink. She would serve you well.

URGES RESIDENTS TO CLEAR HYDRANTS

Fire Chief James E. Callahan has asked Winchester residents to please clear the snow from the fire hydrants near their homes.

In many cases the snow has completely covered the hydrants and should a fire start, they would be difficult to locate and get to. People with houses near hydrants should be able to locate them easily and it would be a great help if they would shovel them out.

RECENT BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Stygles of Wilmington, formerly of Winchester, announce the birth of their fourth child, third son, James Michael, at the Winchester Hospital, January 31. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stygles of 35 Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wills (Mary E. Hoyt) of Chatham announce the birth of their second son, Dean Alan, on February 17. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Victor Hoyt of Easton, Maine, and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wills of Winchester. The great-grandmother is Mrs. Addie Morrell, Fort Fairfield, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Ball (Claire A. Mongeau) of 35 Kenwin road announce the birth of their second son, Donald Scott, on February 16 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mrs. Harry J. Mongeau of Brockton and Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Ball of 7 Marshall road.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Hall of Bedford are the parents of a second child, first daughter, Cicely, born February 15 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. LENT AT ST. MARY'S

The Lenten season started at St. Mary's with the distribution of the ashes on Ash Wednesday. Masses were said at 6:45, at 9, and 7:45 in the evening.

The particular devotions for Lent will be held each Wednesday and Friday evenings. On Wednesdays there will be the evening Mass with a brief sermon by the celebrant. On Fridays, public Stations of the Cross will be held, with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, also at 7:45.

Weekday Masses will be at 6:45 and at 9, except on Wednesday, when the evening Mass will take the place of the 9 o'clock Mass. Saturdays, the Masses remain as usual, 7:30 and 9.

Subjects for the sermonettes on Wednesdays will be: Pride; Disobedience; Anger; Avarice; Intemperance; Unchastity; Sloth; and on Good Friday: Calvary.

Stations of the Cross for children will be given each Friday afternoon: at 2:30 for the parochial school pupils; at 3:30 for the public school pupils. This double-header on Friday afternoons will provide for the different closing hours of the various schools.

Children are expected to provide a record attendance at the 9 o'clock Mass each Saturday.

COMMUNITY YOUTH COUNCIL

Last Friday night after the Belmont game, the Council held its first open house at the Methodist Church. Coke and cookies could be bought for a dime. Also, the high-schoolers danced to records. It proved a very enjoyable evening for all.

The chaperones expressed the opinion that the open house was very successful and should be continued.

The Council wishes to thank the Methodist Church and Rev. Snook for the use of the new Fellowship Hall. Also, we want to thank Mr. and Mrs. William Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Craft, Mrs. Elinor Starkweather, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Durfee, and Mr. and Mrs. John Snook, Jr., for being chaperones.

Coming Events

Feb. 22, 9:00 a .m. - noon. The Wadleigh School will be open for inspection to all interested citizens.

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

AUSTIN BROADHURST

To the Voters of Winchester:

As a candidate for election to the School Committee, I submit for your consideration the following brief review of my background and experience:

I have served as a member and chairman of the Finance Committee of the Town, as a Town Meeting member from my precinct and as chairman of a special committee to study sand and gravel pits. In 1952 I was Winchester chairman for the Red Feather campaign and I am now a director, and for two years was president, of the Winchester Community Chest. I am also vice chairman and a director of the Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross and a member of the business advisory committee of the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association. I am also a corporator of the Winchester Savings Bank.

By profession I am a lawyer, practicing in Boston.

My native city is Springfield, Mass., where I attended the public schools. From them I went to Williams College and then to Harvard Law School. During World War II I served as engineering officer on a destroyer in the Pacific.

When in 1950 my wife and I chose Winchester as the town in which we wished to live and bring up our children, a major factor which led us to that decision was the reputation for excellence which our schools enjoy. We now have four children of whom the three oldest attend Wyman School.

If I should be elected to the School Committee I would do my best to act so that the standing of our schools will be not only maintained but improved to the fullest extent possible.

HEART SUNDAY FEBRUARY 23

Next Sunday is a red-letter day for Massachusetts—Heart Sunday, our annual opportunity to strike a blow against the diseases which account for more than half of our deaths.

On Sunday, a Heart Neighbor will visit your home to accept your Heart Fund contribution. In past years our Heart gifts have helped bring rheumatic fever, the scourge of childhood, under control, have made it possible to operate on the living heart, have found whole families of new medicine and techniques with which to handle diseases of the heart and circulation. Yesterday's heart research has insured longer lives for many of us today.

Sunday is your chance for a lifetime. Don't miss it.

FOR SELECTMAN

OSCAR E. MERROW

Oscar E. Merrow is a candidate for selectman. He has the necessary qualifications to represent you—the citizens of Winchester—in that office. He is deeply conscious of the rising tax rate. He has an intimate knowledge of the problems incident to the efficient administration of our town affairs. He is retired from business and, therefore, has the necessary time to devote to town affairs.

Mr. Merrow's qualifications in support of the above statements are:

1. For 30 years a resident and property owner in Winchester.
2. For 25 years general manager and treasurer of a wholesale building supply company.
3. Finance Committee member—3 years.
4. Fiscal Survey Committee member—2 years.

LEGION OPEN HOUSE TOMORROW

Commander Frank Provinzano of Post 97, Winchester American Legion, has arranged the first of a series of open house, to be held at the Legion Home at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow, February 22. Senior Vice Commander Clifford Lindberg is in charge of the program and he has planned an enjoyable evening of entertainment, dancing and refreshments. Door prizes are also to be given, so come on down.

It will present an opportunity for you to see our newly painted quarters and it will be a chance to learn what the American Legion is doing for various obligations it must uphold. You don't have to be a Legionnaire to attend, so make an appearance and bring your friends.

HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES TO BE CONGRATULATED

The townspeople of Winchester should be glad to know what a loyal group of nurses and employees we have at the Winchester Hospital, and what an excellent job of coverage they did during the storm of last week-end.

All during the storm there were four supervisors on the job, and the nurses and staff as a whole gave unstintingly of their time and effort to see to it that the hospital had complete coverage.

HOMEFRONTERS' ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Winchester Homefronters was held February 12, 1958, in the Edgar J. Rich Room in the public library. Everyone was pleased to see such a large attendance.

Mrs. Harold Given, executive chairman, presided. The secretary, Mrs. Ella Stacey, gave the annual report and the reports of the last two meetings. They gave an illuminating picture, as only Mrs. Stacey can, of the year's work.

Mr. Ralph W. Hatch, treasurer of the organization, reported a good balance showing the results of the work of the committee, who, with the help of so many Winchester people and organizations, make the Christmas project possible.

It was interesting to hear the reports of the various chairmen and committees. After the reports were given some of the heartwarming thank you notes from the servicemen and women were read. Several letters showed how the boys had shared their boxes with other servicemen. Some in foreign countries had shared theirs with the children nearby, who enjoyed the contents to the fullest.

A revised constitution and by-laws was read and accepted.

Mrs. Carle C. Zimmerman of the nominating committee then presented the slate of officers and chairman for the year 1958-59. The secretary cast one ballot and the following were elected:

Executive Chairman—Mrs. Gordon L. Sidebotham
Recording Secretary — Mrs. Edward G. Stacey
Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. Henry C. Murphy
Treasurer—Mr. Ralph W. Hatch
Tag Day—Mrs. M. A. French, Mrs. Franklin Simpson
Ways and Means—Mrs. Donald Wright
Publicity—Mrs. Frank D. Hawkins
Files—Mrs. Alton D. Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Gray
Advisors—Mr. W. Allan Wilde, Mrs. Lois G. Smith, Mr. James J. Connolly
Precinct Chairmen—
1—Mrs. Albert M. Thompson
2—Mrs. Frank J. Robinson
3—Mrs. Charles O. Nichols
4—Mrs. Paul Forester
5—Mrs. Justin J. Callahan
6—Mrs. Harrison McCleod
Nominating Committee—
1—Mrs. George Stratton
2—Mrs. Joseph H. Beck
3—Mrs. Alvin G. Smith
4—Mrs. Malcolm Burr
5—Mrs. William F. Cox
6—Mrs. Joseph L. Mulien

Mrs. Given introduced Mr. Allen Wilde, advisor to the group, who spoke about how the Homefronters was started. He claims to be the "father" of the organization as he was present when it was organized at the home of Mrs. William Cusack. He also said that to his knowledge it was the only organization of its kind in Massachusetts and even in the country.

Mrs. Given graciously thanked the members for her three years of pleasure in serving as chairman and then turned the gavel over to the newly elected executive chairman, Mrs. Gordon L. Sidebotham.

LT. CMDR. CONRAD S. LARSON

STARTS NEW ASSIGNMENT

Lieutenant-Commander Conrad S. Larson, USNR, of 1 Marshall road has returned from sea duty and started his new assignment as assistant flight training officer, South Weymouth Naval Air Station.

During his fifteen years of active duty, Mr. Larson has had quite a colorful career as a navy pilot. His most recent tour of duty was with Patrol Squadron Eight (Detachment) as Officer-in-Charge at Newfoundland, flying the anti-submarine shipping lanes and ice reconnaisance patrol reaching into the arctic regions.

Previous to this, he was Officer-in-Charge of the helicopter detachment aboard the Ice Breaker "Eastwind" during its trip as a support vessel in Operation Deepfreeze One. While in the antarctic, he was responsible for the finding of seven survivors who crashed in the desolate waste of the Antarctic, 108 miles from their base camp. Spotting the wreckage, he tracked the survivors in a helicopter for thirty-five miles. Landing his aircraft, he gave what immediate assistance he could and waited until additional help could arrive. For this he received the Air Medal and citation from the President of the United States.

During a tour of duty at Seattle, Washington, he was instrumental in the rescue of 19 survivors of an Army chartered Miami Airlines plane which crashed into the mountains. After finding the location, he flew doctors and support personnel into the crash area.

In July 1950, he accompanied by a navy crewman, Gerald Dwight, Aviation Machinists' Mate, 1/C, also attached to the South Weymouth Naval Air Station, flew a Navy helicopter from Squantum, Massachusetts, to San Diego, California, a distance of 3,500 miles in a flying time of 62½ hours. For this feat, the Aero Club of New England awarded him a plaque and citation.

Mr. Larson's new duties at the air station will be Liaison Officer for Patrol plane type aircraft for the Weekend Warriors.

Mr. Larson resides in Winchester with his wife, the former Jane Davis of Winchester and their two children Peter 10 and Kathy 4.

CONTROLLER'S PROBLEMS AIRED AT N.A.A TECHNICAL MEETING

Robert N. Wallis, vice president and treasurer of the Dennison Mfg. Company, was guest speaker Wednesday evening at a Technical meeting of the Boston Chapter, National Association of Accountants held at the Hotel Bradford. This meeting, traditionally designated "Management Night," was attended by key executives and members of N.A.A.

Mr. Wallis, who is a former president of the Boston Chapter N.A.A., discussed "A Look Ahead in Controllership." His talk highlighted the current demand for adequate and timely financial data and utilization of such information in making important decisions favoring all industrialists today.

Chairman of the Technical meeting was John F. Clarke, past president of Boston Chapter N.A.A., and a partner in the firm of Patterson, Teele and Dennis.

F. John Hart of the Esso Standard Oil Company who resides at 6 Priscilla lane, also participated in the meeting.

JOHN M. YOVICSIN

HARVARD FOOTBALL COACH SPEAKS AT MEN'S CLUB

John M. Yovicsin, head coach of football at Harvard University will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church on Tuesday, February 25.

Before joining the coaching staff at Harvard, Mr. Yovicsin served as football coach at Gettysburg College from which he graduated in 1940. While an undergraduate at Gettysburg, he was a star athlete and after graduation he served as football and basketball coach at several secondary schools which included Valley Forge Military Academy, Middletown High School in Pennsylvania and Glassboro High School in New Jersey. Mr. Yovicsin will supplement his talk by showing moving pictures of some of the most interesting games in which he has played a part.

The meeting, which will be held in Chidley Hall, will be preceded by a catered dinner for all those who have reservations. Joseph Hall is in charge of dinner reservations and he can be reached at WInchester 6-1211. President Carl Wood cordially urges all the members and friends of the Men's Club to be on hand to hear this outstanding athletic director.

TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

Mrs. Beulah Thompson of 42 College avenue, Medford, will be hostess to the Winchester Toastmistress Club on Thursday evening, February 20. Membership night will be observed, and all are invited to bring guests.

The theme for the meeting will be "Our National Holidays" and the following members will participate in the program:

President — Miss Hilda Hope, Winchester
Invocation — Miss Evelyn Forsyth, Winchester
Topic Mistress—Mrs. Ann Pyne of Medford
Toastmistress — Miss Orrie Grant, Winchester
Speakers — Mrs. Beulah Thompson, Medford, "Boyhood of George Washington;" Miss Mae McDonough, Dorchester, "Boyhood of Abraham Lincoln"

RETURNS FROM CARIBBEAN CRUISE

Navy Ens. John A. Goldthwait, son of Mrs. C. Goldthwait of 71 Swan road returned to Quonset Point, R. I., February 9, with Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 32 after a six-week cruise in the Caribbean aboard the anti-submarine aircraft carrier USS Tarawa.

During the cruise the squadron underwent anti-submarine warfare training and visited the ports of Ciudad Trijillo, Dominican Republic; and Port of Spain, Trinidad, B.W.I.

During an uprising in the city of Caracas, Venezuela, the Tarawa was ordered to stand-by to evacuate American citizens if it became necessary.

MRS. HILL SAILS FOR ENGLAND

Mrs. Fred Hill, formerly of 19 Bacon street and who recently made her home with her son, Frederick Hill of the Winchester Appliance Company, sailed for Europe on Friday, February 14, on the Queen Elizabeth.

Mrs. Hill plans to stay in Winchester, England, for probably a year at least visiting friends and becoming reacquainted with the country of her birth. She chose Winchester as a place to live because she liked it very much on her last visit to England.

CRITTENTON SENIOR CIRCLE

Mrs. Vera I. McKenzie, the president, presided at the winter meeting of the Florence Crittenton League held on February 14, at the home of Mrs. Paul Dunn. Dr. Dwight Cart took time from his busy schedule to open the meeting with an inspirational prayer.

Mrs. Woodford L. Wilcox, the secretary, read a letter from Crittenton Hastings House expressing their thanks for the colorful smocks and skirts made by the sewing group.

Mrs. Robert W. Reynolds, ways and means chairman, told of the gala plans for the fashion show to be held in Chidley Hall on the evening of March 7. Fashions will be shown from many of the leading local shops worn by local models. Mrs. Kidder, well-known owner of the Brides' Shop, will commentate and among other new features, there will be a bride and male escorts on the runway to make husbands in the audience more at ease.

Mrs. MacKenzie reported that the auunal meeting of the Senior Circle at Crittenton Hastings House will be on Friday, April 4, and not on the 3rd as printed in the yearbook. She also announced that the annual meeting of all circles will be held at Crittenton Hastings House on February 27.

Mrs. William Cusack, executive director of the Red Cross, appealed for volunteer help at the new Red Cross office, 84 Washington street. Mrs. Cusack expressed gratitude to all Red Cross volunteers and stressed the need of office workers particularly.

Mrs. McKenzie introduced Miss Betty L. Dieterich, public relations director at Crittenton Hastings House, who told of the impact of the new chapel on the residents. Miss Dieterich asked all members to co-operate in making a success of the Florence Crittenton League benefit performance of the Ice Chips the evening of April 10, the money to be used to defray the expenses of the chapel.

Mrs. Theodore Messer, program chairman, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mary Sulton Ramsdell, whose subject was "Protecting Our Juveniles." Mrs. Ramsdell, formerly connected with Welcome House, was a policewoman for twenty years. Her wealth of experience and devotion to young people made her a very interesting speaker. Mrs. Ramsdell stressed the point that delinquency begins in the home. She told of individual cases that she had followed over many years and it was heartening to hear her assurances that many of these young people can be helped. It was interesting to note that in her twenty years of police work, only two girls who had been Girl Scouts were in difficulty.

At the close of the meeting, a lovely valentine tea was served by Mrs. Ernest Wright and her committee. Mrs. Charles A. Weimer and Mrs. Theodore Messer poured.

RECEIVES 20-YEAR PIN

Anthony J. Cirurso, of 86 Swanton street, was among those recently presented 20-year service awards by the Mass. Gear Div. of Geartronics Corp., in Woburn. Mr. Cirurso was employed by Mass. Gear on September 13, 1937, and has been with the company ever since.

PHONY PHOTOGRAPHER GYPS LOCAL RESIDENTS

The Woburn police reported to the Winchester police on Wednesday, February 12, that a man named Powers had been around Woburn and Winchester for a few days soliciting money for photographs.

This man takes orders for pictures and asks for a deposit. He gives the name of the firm as DeHart Photographers from Andover, owned by Jacqueline DeHart of Lynn. Police checked both these addresses and found them to be phony.

When last reported the man was in the Cross street area.

P. N G. SERVICE CLUB

The Service Club met on Monday evening, February 10, at the home of Miss Ada Sleeth, Washington street, for a meeting and Valentine Party. The president, Miss Ada Sleeth presided at the meeting. The mystery was won by Mrs. Ellie Denley. Following this, "Down You Go" was enjoyed by all and the hostess served delicious refreshments. Thanks Ada for a very nice evening. The March meeting will be the 10th at the home of Mrs. George Bragdon, Elm street, Woburn.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY NOTES

The Winchester freshman hockey team finished its league season with a second-place tie with Medford for nine points each. Melrose took the top honors in the northern division of the league with eleven points. Because of the situation, Winchester and Medford are both being invited into the playoffs which start tomorrow.

Melrose will play Belmont in the southern division; Winchester will play Needham; and Medford will play Wellesley. The Winchester-Needham game is called for 8:30 a.m. at the Boston Arena.

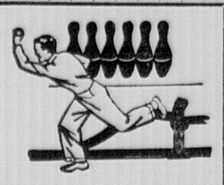
SONS OF ITALY Bowling News



S. O. I. BOWLING LEAUGE

We write this column February 16, hoping that the distance between my house and the Winchester Star will be open to traffic. We did without a doubt have a real Nor'easter. As we sit here and compare the records of this week's bowling we find that Holy Cross, Boston College and Notre Dame are still 1-2-3. All eyes this week were focused on the contest between Holy Cross and Boston College. They both were very evenly matched as they both came up with 2 points each.

Team Standings	W	L	P.F.
Holy Cross	18	10	9820
Boston College	17	11	9725
Notre Dame	15	13	9834

Well we did a little better than last week as we had half dozen bowlers hit the charm 300 circle. The leader of this group was recently presented by the Lion organization of this town a scroll for his outstanding individual contribution to Boy Scouts and as Scoutmaster of Troop 1 Winchester. This life scout is none other than Bob Fiore who bowled 345; Corrigedor Fiore, 337; Tony Saraco, 330; Peter Gilberti celebrating his birthday bowled 310; Sam Corbi, 309 and Johnny Dattilo, 302. We had two near misses as Danny Gattineri bowled 299 and the "Kangaroo Kid" Jeff Gaudioso, 297.

The high team of the night was St. Mary's who really put on a great show when they bowled as a team a new high for the year 1497 averaging almost 100 per. Their captain, Tony Saraco, is without a doubt one of the finest bowlers that this organization has had the privilege of watching. He led his team with a superb 330 and helping him to gain this new honor were Pete Gilberti, the youth of the team, Sam Corbi, who knows that I know who is running the S.O.I., Phil Adagno, the Jenny Gas kid and Al DiMinico, John Volpe's right hand man.

Sometimes some funny things happen and sometimes some things that don't make sense. St. Mary's met Georgetown this evening and a strange request was made by the captain of St. Mary's. The captain of Georgetown being a gentleman that he is honored the request. The request was that there be no hollering, screeching or yelling as they got up to bowl. To eliminate the noise from the other bowlers our most gracious doctor "Curly Locks" obliged by stuffing the ears of St. Mary's bowlers with cotton. Well with blinkers for some of the bowlers and cotton for some of the others it will be interesting to note what the next request will be. Let's hope it won't be isolation booths for each bowler with automatic trap door ball releaser with their captains giving instructions through a mike. In this changing world who knows.

We are happy to see that Peter Lonigro is back with us after his long seige of illness. We have two more injured bowlers, one who managed to bowl even though he shouldn't have Choppers Gangi and Carl Bertolucci who just couldn't bowl. Carl was there to cheer his team on and help conduct the evenings award.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

Phil Adagno another old friend
Let us say we knew him when
His bowling style is odd to be sure
And yet his totals are not that poor
He'll sell you gas or fix your horn
He works till late from early morn
So work real hard and answer each call
For when it's over we'll have a ball.

MUCH ADO ABOUT MEN

The Ivy twineth in the darndest places. It is now flourishing in the men's wear field. Speak of Ivy and your local shopkeeper will do a soft-shoe shuffle in keen delight.

For Ivy's influence is one of the strongest developments in men's apparel in years. Its name cometh from those knowledge colleges in the East, whose football teams are known as Ivy Leaguers.

I'm not supposed to use the term Ivy League, because some company registered the name some years ago. But I'll duck behind poetic license or whatever it is that protects sports writers who refer to the Ivy League when whacking out copy about the Harvards and the Yales.

The Ivy League Look is not being taken up only by men who went to college. What the heck, I never went to Oxford University, but I wear oxford shoes.

No, it's a modern look to be worn by almost anyone and at any age. Ivy is a lot of things: button-down oxford shirts with an extra button tossed in for good measure at the back of the collar; stripes and checks in sport shirts; muted glen plaids or gray flannels in fabrics; backbelted, pleatless pants; narrow shoulders and lapels in suits and sport coats; caps with back-strap buckle; regimental stripes in ties.

All these denote Ivy and are being worn everywhere. Ivy has graduated from the campus and penetrated every sphere. Oh, Ivy is the life for me!

AUSTRALIAN HEADMISTRESS VISITS WINCHESTER

Miss Margaret F. Dudley of Melbourne, Australia, visited in Winchester over last week end. She is headmistress of the Fitzroy girls' secondary school, a girls' high school in Melbourne. Her visit was part of a tour of the United States.

Miss Dudley is a Fulbright Scholar and is assigned to study secondary school programs in different sections of the U. S. Her trip to Winchester included visits to the social studies and English classes at the high school. Actually she trip to Winchester was not a part of her planned itinerary but she wanted to visit New England before returning home.

While she was here she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. Norman Noonan of 48 Woodside road. Mr. Meredith Cooper, teacher at the high school, showed her around the school and then took her on a tour of Harvard and M. I. T. According to Mr. Cooper, she was particularly impressed with the fact that ancient history was taught in the high school. In many of the other schools she visited she noted that ancient history was not a part of the regular high school curriculum. Another thing she noticed was the lack of feeling for geography in the United States as compared with the strong feeling for that subject in her country.

After leaving Winchester, Miss Dudley planned to visit the United Nations in New York and then go to Washington before sailing in March for England, where she plans to visit for a while.

BAPTIST YOUTH

At four o'clock Sunday, February 23, the junior and junior high young people will meet with Rev. Walter Bailey in the church parlor for the first of a series of six pastor's classes, in preparation for church membership.

The senior high fellowship will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bosselman, 84 Wildwood street at 7 p.m. Mrs. Sargis Matson will be the guest speaker and she will lead us in the first of a series of study on the great men of the Bible. Her topic will be the life of Paul.

CUB SCOUTS VISIT STAR

Under the leadership of Mrs. Edward Rendall and Mrs. Richard Emerson, den mothers, eight Cub Scouts from Pack 8, Den 10, visited the Star Office last Thursday.

Visiting scouts who saw the paper coming off the press and some of the steps necessary in printing a newspaper were John Emerson, David Franson, David Rendall, Sal Pizzano, John Dooley, John Spencer, John Collins and Martin Feeney.

INCINERATOR AND WASTE COMMITTEE REPORT

At the Annual Town Meeting in 1955, the Board of Health, under whose supervision the town dump is operated, notified the town that the Swanton street dumping disposal area was rapidly being filled. The need for new refuse disposal facilities was discussed and the Incinerator and Waste Committee was established to study the situation.

The committees third and final report is given below. This report will have a public hearing on Wednesday, February 26, at 8:00 p.m. in the town hall. The report will be submitted at the Annual Town Meeting this March.

THIRD AND FINAL REPORT OF THE INCINERATOR AND WASTE COMMITTEE

In its two previous reports, the Committee pointed out that there seemed to be only four methods of refuse disposal meriting consideration by the Town of Winchester, namely: (1) Sanitary land fill; (2) sanitary land fill combined with controlled opening burning; (3) an incineration plant used through some sort of joint venture, and (4) an incineration plant operated by the town. The Committee's investigation has also substantiated that any known disposal method would require a dump for the disposition of non-combustibles and the residue from incineration.

The Committee considered other proposals such as home disposal units, grinding and baling plants, the Wandell process, and a method known as ORCOA, the latter being a plant converting refuse to a soil conditioning product. These proposals were rejected after considerable study. The Committee has concluded that the ultimate and most satisfactory solution is a municipally owned and operated incineration plant adjacent to an area affording a long life for disposal of the non-combustible material and residue from the incinerator.

The Committee recommends the construction and operation of a municipal incinerator, equipped to burn garbage when and if that becomes necessary, with a capacity to accommodate the estimated maximum population of the Town.

The Committee conferred with the Arlington Incinerator Committee, communicated with Woburn and Stoneham, considered the M.D.C. program, and concluded that there was little probability of joint action on a regional incinerator in the immediate future. Furthermore, and most important, joint ventures eliminate sole control of cost and operation by a town and are thought to be fraught with dissatisfaction generally. This is due to the large area of potential disagreement over a location, type of plant, cost of construction and operation, collection schedules, the trucking of refuse to the incinerator through other towns, etc. The life of the M.D.C. program has expired without any advantage of it being taken probably for the foregoing reasons.

For approximately ten years, the Town has used a method of sanitary land fill at the Swanton street disposal area. This dump has accommodated many kinds of refuse, except garbage. The Committee believes, considering the inherent objectionable features of this method, that the Town dump operation has been a credit to the Town. However, the Town's experience at the Swanton street dump points out the many disadvantages of this sanitary land fill method. Covering a large volume of combustible material with fill rapidly uses up the cubic area of a dump site, and the fill itself is expensive. Such a method may be adaptable to wide open areas, but is not desirable in an attractive and growing residential town such as Winchester, in which disposal sites are scarce and growing scarcer. Even during this study, potential dump sites have been largely eliminated from further consideration by residential building around them.

The ever present fire hazard is another great disadvantage of the present method. Fires on the present dump have burned for days, causing smoke and offensive odors as well as tying up fire fighting apparatus and using millions of gallons of our critically short water supply. Even without such fires, it is impossible to eliminate all odor, and the fill itself creates a dust problem. Any such dump is a harborage for rats because of the presence of unburned food containers and wrappings which attract vermin.

The present method affords no opportunity for the disposal of garbage, a major problem which may confront the Town at any time. The Committee believes that the requirement of cooking garbage before it is fed to swine and the decline in the number of nearby piggeries forecast an end to the sale of garbage in the not too distant future.

Incineration of the combustible refuse before it is placed on the dump solves many of the problems referred to above. Burning of refuse greatly reduces its volume, thus prolonging the life of the area where the residue is placed. The residue is sufficiently sanitary to minimize the fill required for covering, eliminate obnoxious odors and the ash presents no fire hazard. Also, food containers, including cans and jars, become sterilized and cease to attract vermin.

It must be emphasized that only through an inside plant operation can the aforementioned objectives be fully realized. The modern incineration plant achieves complete combustion which eliminates smoke and odor. Such a degree of combustion is not possible with controlled open burning. Although the latter method prolongs the life of a disposal area and prevents further aggravation of the present bad situation, it can merely minimize its attendant hazards and severe annoyances.

In March, 1957, the Committee recommended that the Board of Health inaugurate controlled open burning on the present site to prolong its life until an incineration plant is in operation. It should be noted, however, that the present site has already reached an undesirable height. Therefore, this practice should not be continued beyond the period necessary to have the incinerator in operation. Such burning is inevitable offensive to homes within a wide area, and the Committee believes that a town of Winchester's character would find it objectionable and unfair as a permanent practice.

Because of the objectionable factors of the present method, the scarcity of feasible long-life sites, a potential garbage problem, and the assumed objection to permanent open burning, the Committee concluded that an incinerator offered the most realistic and long term solution to the Town's refuse disposal problem.

The Committee has considered numerous sites and, after careful study, recommends the acquisition of the pit assessed to Michael and Margaret McGonigle and the pit assessed to the Winchester Brick Company. These two pits, comprising approximately twenty acres, lie between East street and Cross street and appear to be the most suitable area for an incinerator and for the disposal of non-combustibles and incineration residue.

Although there is, at present, a form of business activity on this property, it should be noted that these pits are located in the General Residence Zone. Therefore, subsequent to their acquisition by the Town, it would be necessary to re-zone the area to conform to the activity recommended in this report.

The use of the pits has several advantages. The topography of the area is ideally suited for the tri-level design of a modern incinerator. Although the location is relatively near the center of Winchester's population and its major refuse sources, geographically it is on the outskirts of the Town, not surrounded by residences or potential residential developments. Should Woburn or Stoneham, at some future time, desire to use the incinerator, on acceptable terms subject to Winchester's control, trucking through Winchester streets would be minimized.

Serious consideration was given to the proposal of locating the incinerator on the north side of East street, thus leaving the entire pit area free for the disposal of non-combustibles. The disadvantages of this site are that residue would have to be trucked across East street to the pits, elimination of the possible development of the site for light industry, and that artificial ramps would be required which would add substantially to the construction cost of the plant.

A site off Johnson road was studied, but this location was rejected because of its remoteness from the Town's population center, lack of access from either Johnson road or Cambridge street, and its value for development purposes. Houses have already been built in the vicinity and a development is said to be planned on its border. If access were provided from Johnson road, the route which refuse trucks would follow creates additional problems, namely: (1) The proximity of the West Side Playground, and (2) the steep grade of Johnson road, which would be a hazardous and difficult ascent during the winter season.

The Committee seriously considered confiining the incinerator and dump to the present general location in the industrial area of the Town. The Committee believes that the construction of an incinerator on the present site, which is unsettled land and said to have stumps twenty feet in depth in places, would be slow and costly. If any dump location were utilized with the sanitary land fill method during the period required for the construction of the incinerator on the present dump, the life of the new dump site would be reduced and the attendant hazards of the present method would be created in a new neighborhood.

The area across the Aberjona River from the present dump site was seriously considered and was rejected because its use would eliminate for some years the only large, available tract for light industrial development.

The Committee has been advised that the pits, used in conjunction with the incinerator, would have an estimated life of one hundred years—unless filled substantially with stumps, hurricane debris, material from building demolition, and an unexpected volume of other non-combustibles.

As was indicated in the Committee's second report, a planning consultant was engaged to assist the Committee in establishing dump site selection criteria. His report to the Committee covered some fifteen sites, two of which were outside, but adjacent to, Winchester's boundaries and recommended that the pits be used as one site in conjunction with others. The Committee's overall analysis of the problem revealed a very long estimated useful life of the pits, making their choice desirable and additional sites unnecessary. If the Town feels a solution for a period of more than the estimated one hundred years is desirable, a second site for the disposal of non-combustibles should be obtained.

With respect to disposal method, the following is quoted from the planning consultant's report:

> "The most efficient way of disposing of combustible rubbish is through complete incineration in an industrial incinerator structure. While the initial capital outlay for such an incinerator structure and its equipment may be considerable, and while the daily operating costs may be more than for the preceding methods described (open dump, sanitary land fill, out door burning), complete incineration is unquestionably the most suitable for a Town such as Winchester, surrounded by densely populated areas."

A Boston engineering firm was engaged to assist the Committee in the preparation of a cost estimate for the recommended program. Its study included: (1) An engineering evaluation of the suitability of the alternate sites from the viewpoint of incinerator design and its construction costs; (2) estimates of the capital outlay required to establish alternate types of incineration and collection systems, and (3) estimates of operation and maintenance costs including collection of rubbish and garbage. A summary of its report to the Committee, with pertinent quotations, follows:

> "The specific problem involved in rubbish disposal is that the present dump has reached the end of its useful life. Purchasing more land and continuing the present mode of rubbish disposal is too costly and wasteful of the small amount of unoccupied lands available."

After studying all large parcels of unoccupied land in Winchester, to determine the suitability of these tracts for refuse disposal areas, the engineers found the pits located between East street and Cross street "to be the only site in Winchester suitable for a long-term disposal area."

Their report includes an analysis of the quantity and the various types of refuse for which the Town must make provision. Based on this study, they discuss the various methods of disposal, indicating the advantages and disadvantages of each, which have already been covered in this Third and Final Report of the Committee.

In recommending that Winchester construct and operate an incinerator, located on Cross street near the intersection of Verplast avenue, the engineers cite the following advantages:

"(1) Location relatively near the center of population; (2) direct handling of ashes and incombustibles from incinerator ash pits to disposal area due to difference in level between Cross street and bottom of pit; (3) smokeless and odorless reduction of refuse which will not degrade the value of the surrounding property; (4) brush, tree trimmings and grass clippings can also be reduced; (5) sanitary disposal of garbage can also be accomplished without smoke or smell. Although garbage can presently be disposed of to piggeries in adjacent towns, it is problematical how long this practice may be continued in the foreseeable future either because of excessive cost or discontinuance of the existing piggeries. At such time, incineration facilities become vital as incineration is the only other practical method of garbage disposal. (6) the expected life of the recommended site is in excess of 100 years; (7) after any section of the disposal area has been brought to final grade, the area may be immediately used for any purpose; and (8) the modern architectural lines of the proposed incinerator together with landscaping of the disposal area would make the incinerator a desirable addition to the neighborhood."

The engineers' description of the proposed incinerator and its proposed mode of operation follows:

> "The plant with all appurtenances, roads, driveways, and desired setback from both Cross street and Verplast avenue will occupy about one acre. The plant would have a single incinerator of the 100 ton size, equipped with a mechanical stoker and hydraulic charging gate. An incinerator of the 100 ton size will permit the disposal of the accumulation of garbage and rubbish in one eight hour shift with a five day work week. The incinerator plant will encompass the following features: (1) Brick faced exterior with long, narrow bands of sash to enhance the appearance of the building and give the plant distinctively modern lines. (2) Indoor truck unloading facilities to prevent paper, dust and other waste materials from blowing onto adjoining property and provide garaging for collection trucks. (3) Refuse bins so located in the indoor unloading area to permit direct dumping of rubbish and garbage from trucks into bins of adequate storage capacity for 2 days' collection. (4) Monorail crane with single line clam shell bucket for transferring refuse from bins to incinerator furnace. (5) Location will utilize large difference in elevation between street and disposal area floor to permit direct disposal of ash from incinerator ash hoppers, initially by chutes and eventually by dumping into truck, and hauling to area of pit being used for ash disposal. (6) Truck scale to assist in keeping accurate records of incinerator operation and cost. (7) Provisions for future washers or scrubbers in the gas stream should it be found necessary in the future. A comparable incinerator in this vicinity (Marblehead) is operating without washers and, so far, no difficulties or complaints have been experienced.
>
> "The proposed incinerator plant would be operated with a force of 3 men—one man on the charging floor to supervise unloading of trucks and operate crane to charge the incinerator, one man on the stoking floor to operate the stoker and incinerator, accessories and supervise the fire in the incinertor, and a third man on the ash pit level to dump ashes from the stoker ash pit into ash truck and drive the truck to the disposal area for final disposal. This 'ash' man, in addition to hauling ashes from the incinerator, will be able to supervise the operation of the disposal area, preventing dumping of combustibles and garbage in the disposal area, and direct the dumping of incombustibles and debris.
>
> "An alternate to this proposed design would be an incinerator plant with a 50-ton size incinerator operated 2 shifts a day on a 5-day week. This plant would require 6 men to operate. However, this alternate is not economically practical as the increased labor of about $17,000. would not be offset by a comparable reduction in construction cost. The reduction in construction for the smaller plant would be only $60,000. to $70,000."

The Committee desires to call to the Town's attention two very important considerations involved in this method of refuse disposal, namely: (1) Collection of rubbish by the Town is essential to the successful and efficient operation of any incinerator, and (2) the cost of construction and operation of this type of plant, including the cost of collection, is considerably higher than the cost of disposal by the sanitary land fill method, with or without controlled burning.

Because of the advantageous topography of the site recommended, it is estimated that the construction cost of a plant incorporating the above features will not exceed $350,000. This does not include the cost of land acquisition, engineering fees, resident supervision during construction, or contingencies. It does include complete landscaping, driveway paving, and all equipment necessary for plant operation. When rubbish collection is instituted, the purchase of 3 load-packer type trucks will become necessary at a total cost of $30,000. In the following tabulation of annual costs, these trucks have been depreciated on a five year basis, although it is contemplated that they would be replaced every three years.

The following costs are predicated on present population and price levels (December 1957) and include an average annual cost of $24,000. for amortizing the construction cost of the proposed incineration plant. It is anticipated that land acquisition costs, engineering fees and contingencies will be taken from current revenues and/or surplus and, accordingly, have not been included in the annual operating cost tabulation.

It should be noted that the cost of acquiring land for a new disposal area is a factor of expense regardless of the disposal method used; in other words, the Town is faced with the cost of acquiring a site whether or not a plant is built upon it.

All salaries used therein are based on current levels now being paid by the Town, and all incinerator plant and collection costs are based on actual costs experienced in Marblehead, Mass., which is presently operating a new incineration plant comparable to the plant proposed for Winchester, and which is a town of comparable area, population and character of homes.

Estimated Annual Cost of Refuse Disposal by Present Method (Sanitary Land Fill with Collection and Sale of Garbage)

Salaries of disposal area personnel		$ 9,700.
Expenses		1,200.
Fill		5,000.
Amortization of bulldozer		3,700.
Garbage collection	$45,000.
Less revenue from sale	2,000.	43,000.
		$62,500.

The above costs include the amortization of a new bulldozer, which must be purchased if this mode of operation is to be a permanent method of disposal, but do not include the cost of fighting buried fires which, in past years, has been substantial.

Estimated Annual Cost of Refuse Disposal by Present Method with Controlled Burning of Rubbish (With Collection and Sale of Garbage)

Salaries of disposal area personnel		$13,500.
Expenses		1,200.
Fill		1,500.
Amortization of bulldozer		3,000.
Garbage collection	$45,500.
Less revenue from sale	2,000.	43,000.
		$62,200.

The above costs include the amortization of a new, though smaller, bulldozer which must be purchased if this mode of rubbish disposal is selected as a permanent method and the purchase of a nominal amount of fill. The bulldozer would be used for moving ashes and incombustibles from the area where the burning is done to the disposal section of the dump. The costs also include the salary for an additional attendant whose services would be required for the controlled burning operation unless the dump is open fewer hours.

Estimated Annual Cost of Refuse Disposal by Incineration

Amortization of plant	$ 24,000.
Salaries of operating personnel	16,000.
Maintenance of incinerator	4,000.
Fuel, electricity and water	2,000.
Miscellaneous expense	1,000.
Fill	500.
Rubbish collection	49,000.
Garbage collection	28,000.
	$124,500.

The above costs are predicated on the use of a Highway Department bulldozer or grader for covering ash and incombustibles with fill when needed. With the advent of rubbish collection, it is estimated that present garbage collection costs would be reduced by 25%. Further, if garbage were burned instead of sold, the elimination of the 4-mile haul to the Woburn piggery would result in additional saving. The allowance for these two items was made in the above estimated garbage collection cost.

The Committee earnestly sought a solution to the Town's refuse disposal problem which would not require municipal rubbish collection, realizing, that this feature may be objectionable to some residents. Although collection appears to be inescapable at such time as an incinerator is put into operation, it should be pointed out that many Winchester residents now pay to have their rubbish removed to the dump. Also, in areas where rubbish collection is commonly practiced, backyard burning is often prohibited, thereby eliminating an increasing annoyance in densely populated neighborhoods.

Before municipal rubbish collection is undertaken, the Committee recommends that bids for collection by private contractors be solicited. It may be ascertained, at that time, whether or not backyard collection, though more costly, would be more acceptable to the Town.

Based on the information accumulated during the past two years, and for reasons that have been outlined in this report, the Incinerator and Waste Committee recommends that the Town of Winchester take the following action in order to solve its critical refuse disposal problems:

1. Initiate controlled open burning at the present disposal area in order to prolong its life, pending the construction of an incinerator.
2. Take the necessary steps to acquire as soon as possible the Cross street - East street site in order that it may be available as the new disposal area to be used in conjunction with an incinerator to be built thereon.
3. Authorize the preparation of plans and specifications for the construction of an incineration plant.
4. Construct and place in operation the incineration plant at the new disposal site and thereupon discontinue all operations at the present disposal area.

The Committee recommends the above program in its entirety. Piecemeal adoption may well result in a short lived disposal area, and sites may not be obtainable in the future, due to the present rate of development, except at greater cost and possibly requiring demolition. Any extensive delay in the adoption of these proposals may well result in a greatly increased cost for this type of project. It is the Committee's judgment that Winchester should be prepared to cope with a potential garbage disposal crisis; otherwise, the Town may find itself at the mercy of some other community whose foresight permitted it to establish a program similar to the one recommended in this report.

The Committee gratefully acknowledges the advice and assistance offered by Town officials and employees, and also expresses appreciation for the many suggestions submitted by numerous Town citizens.

YOUR CHILD'S SPEECH AND YOU!

When children enter kindergarten and the first grade, we usually assume that they will be able to adjust to the new routine, that they will make new friends, learn new activities, acquire new skills and as the years progress be able to assume the responsibilities of useful, happy citizens. They are taught as diligently as possible the necessary skills of reading, arithmetic, social foundations, writing, health habits, as well as the history of our country.

But, do we teach children to speak? Do we teach them the ability to communicate these skills they have spent years acquiring? Rather, in spite of us, children learn to communicate in an adult world—a sometimes overwhelming or frightening world. Your child is learning to speak from his first cry or wail upon entering the world—and he continues to improve his vocabulary as he cries, laughs, gurgles, coos and hears his parents' voices. That eagerly awaited "Ma-ma" or "Da-da", the first speech sounds— why not—they're about the easiest to make. "Ma-ma" is a universal language for all parents, and your response to the first attempt at language can be as important as your child's years of education.

If the child feels acceptance of his early attempts at speech, he continues to try new sound combinations—first the simple sounds—then more complex sound groups. By the time most children are three or four they are able to use all the sounds in our language (and often a few sounds all their own!).

Most children have acquired their language by the age of four and are constantly adding new words, improving their language usage and understanding of language. These are important years for speech development, just as the primary grades are important in acquiring reading skills. If a child finds his attempts at speech are unrewarded or unheeded—well, why bother to speak at all? Should he be constantly interrupted by parents or other children in his attempts to acquire language, he may begin to hesitate, fearing he will be interrupted. Then someone, hearing this hesitation, may say to him, "Johnny, stop stuttering." And a new fear is placed in the child, a fear that he will stutter (and the chances are he will).

How do children acquire language? Very simply—they learn from the people around them. A hard of hearing child will not use speech because he has no sound stimulation. Children who are left alone or who have little parental stimulation are often slow to speak and one day, someone will ask, "Why doesn't Johnny talk? He's two years old." And suddenly parents become worried and try to encourage somthing which has previously been unrewarded. In many instances they will hurry him to a doctor to discover what is wrong; basically, nothing, except that Johnny has never needed or wanted to talk. Children must have good examples from whom they learn their speech. We desire good teachers for skills in school, but can we demand good examples for speech skills? Why not? He will use his speech far more than he will any of his other skills and poor speech habits can interfere with future success.

In a recent survey in one of our kindergartens, it was found that from a group of twenty-five children, only two, by the age of five and some months, had acquired clear speech. The other twenty-three had speech difficulties ranging from very severe to slight remnants of "baby talk." There are children in this group who stutter, who refuse to talk in a group, who lisp, and substitute one sound for another. This presents a rather large percentage of children who do not have the best chances upon entering first grade, and we must ask ourselves—What can we do?

Form the beginning, encourage your child in all his attempts at speech. As he makes a sound, repeat it after him, vocalize with him, but give him a chance to explore with this "noise-making" device he has. As he grows, read him stories, tell stories using lots of sounds in dramatic fashion. It is your duty to expose him to the world of sound and as each new experience helps him grow, so does each new sound add to his vocabulary.

Most children need only a loving voice to know that it's worthwhile putting words together and producing action when they inquire "Where's my dinner?"

The Senior Forum will attend morning services at 11 o'clock Sunday at the First Congregational Church when Peter Gowing will assist the ministers as chaplain. The Forum Choir will sing. Serving as deacons will be Bill Burrows, Paul Roberts, William Swett, Larry Templeman, Bob Tobey and Brian Walsh; and Joe Emerson, Bill Lindsey, Roger Griffin, Bill Niblock, Richard Osgood and Stanley Wilson will be ushers. Dr. Cart's sermon will be on "The Quest For God In Our Generation." Because of the International Week end supper held earlier this month the regular last-Sunday-of-the-month supper will be omitted.

Forum members will attend the Lenten Devotions for Young People to be held at the Winchester Unitarian Church at 7:45 a. m. Wednesdays before school. These meetings will be led in turn by representatives of the various Protestant Churches.

Plans have been made for a Splash Party at the Melrose "Y" on Saturday, March 1. A mid-winter swim-party is always enjoyable and the "Y" provides lobby games such as pool and ping pong, and dancing. Dave Schumacher and Phyllis Rutter are chairmen of the committee in charge.

An informal Sunday evening meeting is planned for March 2 when Forumites may meet Mr. Prinz, the owner-manager of Oakn' Spruce, the lodge in South Lee, Mass., the 1958 Spring Trip destination. He will show pictures of the resort and discuss recreational possibilities with those attending. Stephie Hersey and Doug Gowdy are making plans for the evening.

RED CROSS NOTES

The executive committee of the Winchester Red Cross held its first meeting in the new chapter house on Wednesday afternoon, February 12. Present were Mr. Royce H. Randlett, chairman; Mr. Carl G. Richmond, secretary; Mr. Roland R. Carter, treasurer; Mr. William A. Wilde, Jr., disaster chairman; Mrs. J. Edward Downes, home service; and executive committee members, Mrs. Olcott L. Hooper and Mr. Oscar E. Merrow. Mrs. Williim C. Cusack, executive director, was also present.

Mrs. Frank Smith, by donating books for the use of Red Cross, has started a chapter house library and helped provide reading material for the Bedford Veterans Hospital.

Mrs. Harrison G. Wagner and Mrs. E. W. Feeley represented the Winchester chapter at the last meeting of the Minute Man Council at the Veterans Hospital in Bedford. They reported a need at the hospital for used sheet music and any popular music from the year 1900 on. Any donations may be left at the chapter house at 84 Washington street.

Mrs. J. Edward Downes and Mrs. Wayne Davis recently attended a regional luncheon for home service chairmen held at the Town Line House in Lynnfield.

Mrs. George B. Field was leader of the day for our Red Cross Chapter on Winchester Day at the Blood Center, 314 Dartmouth street, Boston. The following people also gave their services: Grey Lady, Mrs. Copley; nurses aides, Mrs. Kendall B. Way, Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Mrs. Elizabeth Hiscoe; motor corps, Mrs. Roger Griffin; canteen, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor; staff aide, Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin; eecutive secretary, Mrs. William C. Cusack.

Mr. Royce H. Randlett, and Mr. Robert M. Edgar represented the Winchester Red Cross at the annual meeting of the United Fund at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston on Friday, February 14.

Mr. Lawrence T. Smith, co-chairman of the blood program in Winchester, and Mrs. William C. Cusack, eecutive director, were present at the last meeting of the Red Cross regional blood program, held at the Century House in Danvers.

MOTHER BABY CARE COURSE

On Wednesday, February 19, at the New England Sanitorium in Stoneham, a course on Mother Baby Care started which will run for three weeks on Mondays and Wednesdays, for a total of six classes. New mothers in Winchester and Woburn are welcome to register for the five remaining classes, and to bring their husbands as well! On completion of the course, a certificate will be awarded. For further information about this free Red Cross course call WInchester 6-2300.

EDITORIAL

Hats off to the Winchester Highway Department for their excellent work in clearing away one of the worst snowfalls in recent years. Highway crews were out about 2:30 a.m. on Sunday morning getting a head start on clearing the roads.

Although plenty of warning was given this time in advance of the storm, the snow fell so rapidly, up to two inches per hour according to the Boston weather bureau, that is was nearly impossible to open all roads immediately. But by early Monday morning the main roads were well plowed and work was started on the sidewalks and parking areas in the center.

The highway department had a total of 22 trucks in use for plowing operations. These included 11 belonging to the highway department, 4 garbage trucks, 2 park department trucks, 1 tree department truck, 3 water department trucks and 1 board of health truck. In addition, 14 private trucks were hired to help out with the work.

For the finer clearing operations, 2 pay loaders, 1 belt loader, 1 blower, 2 salt spreaders and 5 sidewalk and clearing tractors were all in use. All town departments sent available employees and 21 extra helpers were added to the work force during the period. In all there are 25 plowing routes to be covered, including 5 sidewalk routes. Work continued from 2:30 a.m. Sunday to 10 o'clock Monday night and until 10 p.m. again on Tuesday.

By Tuesday the center was nearly free of snow, despite below freezing temperatures which slowed melting and hindered snow removal, and traffic was moving smoothly throughout the town.

Schools were on vacation and thus cancellation of school was not necessary and more manpower was available to help with the snow removal in various parts of the town.

With train service slowed down greatly due to numerous breakdowns throughout and all along the lines, commuters were forced to wait for hours in freezing weather for trains that were in some cases over an hour late. Surface transportation was also bogged down because of poor road conditions and the hoards of passengers who were forced to leave their cars at home.

The total snowfall was 18 inches or 1.68 inches of moisture (snow melted down). This storm, coming within a twenty-four-hour period, was one of the worst in recent years. We should be thankful that our efficient highway department got us dug out in record time.

SINGS IN PENN. CONCERT

Ellen R. Glowacki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Glowacki of 18 North Gateway participated in the Bryn Mawr, Haverford and Swarthmore College festival of chorus music on Washington's birthday. Miss Glowacki is a student at Swarthmore College.

The three suburban colleges joined forces in concert on the Swarthmore campus. Earlier this season the three choral organizations comprising the three-college chorus performed a Bach cantata with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Eugene Normandy.

WINCHESTER RIFLE TEAM INVITED TO B. U. MATCH

Winchester and eight other Massachusetts high schools and one from Rhode Island have accepted invitations extended by Boston University to participate in its third annual Invitation High School Rifle Matches, according to an announcement by Lt. Col. William B. Scruggs, professor of military science and tactics at Boston University.

Massachusetts high schools which enter teams in the March 29 competition at the Boston University rifle range, 320 Bay State road, are Malden, Gloucester, Concord, Newton, New Bedford, Melrose, Watertown and Waltham.

The winning team will receive a trophy with medals going to the individual team members. High individual scorers will also be awarded medals.

ATTENDS PINE MANOR MEETING

Mrs. John J. Mahoney, 8 Everett avenue, recently attended the first meeting of the Pine Manor Junior College Alumnae Council held on the college campus in Wellesley.

The purpose of the meeting was to bring Alumnae Association members holding key positions up-to-date on developments at the college, a two-years liberal arts institution for women. Mrs. Mahoney is a member of the Pine Manor Fund Council.

LIBRARY NEWS

Chairman of Citizen's Committee Announced

Mr. Harlan Paine of Winchester has accepted the chairmanship of the Citizen's Committee for National Library Week, March 16-22. Library Week will be celebrated in libraries throughout the United States to emphasize the importance of library service in the community. Mr. Paine, who is administrator of the Winchester Hospital, is now forming his committee.

Prepare for Town Meeting!

The library will exhibit reports of the committees which have studied various civic problems to be brought before town meeting this year.

These reports, which will be on exhibit through March, will include the incinerator and waste committee report and that of the junior-senior high school building committee.

It is hoped that every Winchester resident will take this opportunity to acquaint himself with these reports by visiting the library. We will welcome any additional reports or information on these or other issues that will be in this year's warrant. In this way, we hope to be of service to the town officers and citizens.

Tax Time is Here

For help in preparing your income taxes the library has available:

Your Federal Income Tax, 1958 ed.—A comprehensive reference book which provides the individual taxpayer with a quick and convenient way to obtain non-technical answers to most of the income tax problems.

J. K. Lasser's Your Income Tax, 1958 ed.—The original, most widely used tax guide saves you time, trouble and taxes. Includes special section on social security benefits.

Tax Guide for Small Businesses 1958 ed.—A reference book in plain language on federal taxes for the man in business.

All of the above tax guides may be found in the business and technical section of the library.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

WINCHESTER 2 — LYNN ENGLISH 0

Winchester stickmen score their first goal at the Lynn Classical-Winchester game played at the Lynn Arena on February 18. Credited with the goal are Craig Davenport with an assist by Steve Powers and Dick Scott. The Tuesday night game was the first-round playoff in the North Shore Hockey League. Semifinals were held Thursday night with Winchester playing Amesbury, and finals are scheduled for Saturday.

SACHEMS TRIP LYNN ENGLISH 2-0

Sparked by a pair of early goals by Captain Craig Davenport and Billy Lamarche, the Winchester High hockey team made an impressive debut Tuesday night in the quarter final round of the North Shore League playoffs. The momentum of the two early scores carried the Sachems by a pressing Lynn English team. The victory is all the more significant for it marks a defeat of the Lynn team that were last year's State Champions and present title holders of the Essex County Crown.

Tuesday's win moved Winchester into a semi-final go with Amesbury on Thursday night. In an earlier game this year, Amesbury defeated Winchester 6-4, but the four goal splurge of Winchester marked the first time that more than one goal had been scored on Amesbury.

It took the Sachems just over a minute to set up a beautiful goal when the Winchester defenseman, Steve Powers, gained control of the puck, passed to Dick Scott who in turn passed to Craig Davenport who fired the disc by the English goalie.

Winchester's position play in the first period was excellent. English did not seem able to cope with the pattern that Winchester was skating. Dick Scott again took the puck deep into Lynn territory. Bill Lamarche skated into the center lane and completely uncovered received a set-up pass from Scott. Lamarche pumped home the goal at 4:10 of the period.

In the final two stanzas, play was even with both teams having numerous scoring opportunities. Winchester seemed to tire in the second period but came back strongly in the third period. Possibly the two early goals may have slowed the team.

Doug Gowdy played a sterling game in the nets. He made seven saves in the last period to stem the English offense, and on three separate occasions, beat English breakaway skaters.

The combination of good defensive work and smooth position play proved too much for Lynn English. It again was a case of Winchester hustle and ability to take opportunity which won this game.

GRANGE HOLDS OPEN MEETING

The 44th anniversary meeting of the Winchester Grange was held on Tuesday, February 18, at the Masonic Hall. A total of 138 people were present at the open meeting, including official guests from several cities.

Worthy Master Mary Robinson introduced Leila Blake, national Pomona and subordinate pianist, William Morrison and Clyde Mullen, Massachusetts State Grange deputies, Harris Cripps, master of Middlesex Central Pomona, Marjorie Rose, master of Woburn Grange, and Herbert Lord master of Watertown Grange.

Gifts were presented to the three charter members, Marguerite Hanlon, Helen Dewar and Ethel Roberts.

Twelve past masters of the Winchester Grange were present and Grange visitors came from Bedford, Mattapan, Watertown, Woburn, Melrose and East Kingston, N. H. In addition there were 93 people in attendance who were not Grange members.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the Lawrence Sisters' pupils and the Eighth Notes, Junior High School ensemble, directed by Mrs. Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite, music supervisor at the school. In addition members were entertained by a violin solo by Paul Johnian and a marimba solo by Roben Thompson. Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting.

LEAGUE UNITS ON PAROLE

The League of Women Voters' unit meetings of February 26-28 will take up the question of the Massachusetts parole system. At these meetings League members should get a good start on this new state item which they will be studying for the next two years. Mrs. Robert Mulford's busy resource committee will have information on the history, standards, and duties of the parole board. There will also be discussion of the recommendations of the Wessell Committee Report.

Hostesses and discussion leaders will be as follows:

Friday, Feb. 28, 9:30 a.m.—Hostess, Mrs. Eber LeGates, 106 Church street; leader, Mrs. Edward Rendall.

BIG TOP HOP PARKHURST SCHOOL

The Lewis Parkhurst School Parents' Association is holding an informal dance in the Parkhurst Auditorium on Friday evening, February 28. There will be dancing from 9 to 1 a.m. Music for the Big Top Hop will be provided by popular Herbie Wayne's orchestra.

Mrs. Bruce Young, ways and means chairman of the Parkhurst Parents' Association, has appointed the following committee heads: Mrs. William O'Malley, dance chairman; Mrs. T. E. Burleigh, decoration chairman; Mrs. Donald Birchall, refreshment chairman; Mrs. Wallace Blanchard, soft drinks chairman; and Mrs. Walter Benham, ticket chairman.

Parkhurst parents are anticipating with pleasure the Big Top Hop, as this has been a very successful event in past years.

VALENTINE BRIDGE AND WHIST

The members of St. Mary's Sodality combined their efforts again this year to make their annual Valentine Bridge and Whist on February 13, a huge success. The ticket committee under the capable direction of Mrs. George Kean sold a record number of tickets; and the large and varied assortment of very lovely prizes was due to the efforts of Mrs. R. Everett Mitchell and her committee. Mrs. Edward Gaffey decorated the stage with red and gold hearts, cupids and lace valentines on a background of white which carried out the party's theme very effectively. Valentine candy baskets and napkins on the tables completed the decorations.

During the coffee hour preceding the bridge and whist small cakes and cookies which were baked by members of the Sodality were served.

The door prize, a huge box of Valentine cookies, was won by Mr. Joseph Foley.

Among the very choice chance prizes was a vari-colored afghan knitted by several members of the parish, and won by Mrs. Joan Nichols of Stoneham. Other winners of the chance prizes were: clock radio, Mrs. Mary Flaherty; Hummel Madonna, Mrs. Walter Crotty; nylon puff, Mrs. Arthur Johns; linen tablecloth and napkins, Miss Claire McLaughlin; portable mixer, Mrs. Mary Dineen; boiled dinner, Mrs. Catherine O'Brien; a bouquet of flowers each week for a month, Mrs. John Ryan; a pair of silver candlesticks, Mrs. Fisher, carving set, Mr. Edward Gaffey.

Among those serving on the bridge and whist committee which was under the gneral chairmanship of Mrs. Bernard Hanley were:

Mrs. C. W. Armstrong, Mrs. Henry Barry, Mrs. Thomas Bates, Mrs. Frank Bees, Mrs. Carl Biase, Mrs. Joseph Burgatti, Miss Abbie Callahan, Mrs. William Cichy, Mrs. Joseph Collins, Mrs. P. J. Cosgrove, Mrs. Walter Crotty, Mrs. Evelyn Derby, Mrs. George deMars.

Mrs. Arthur Duffy, Mrs. John Fentross, Mrs. John Gibbons, Mrs. John Griffin, Mrs. James Harrington, Mrs. Frederick Hicks, Mrs. Podgoro Iannacci, Mrs. Henry Kirk, Mrs. W. G. Laird, Mrs. Joseph Lane, Mrs. James Logan, Mrs. James Mawn, Mrs. Leo Manoli, Mrs. Michael Macdonald, Jr., Mrs. Albert McDougall, Misses Clare and Mary McLaughlin, Mrs. Frank McNally, Mrs. Manlino Moffett, Misses Josephine and Vera Mottolo, Mrs. Joseph Moran, Mrs. Margaret Murray, Mrs. Anna Notemyer, Mrs. William Pearce, Mrs. Charles Poleari, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Lloyd Stevens, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. Frank Weafer, and the chairmen mentioned above.

GRANGE No. 343 LUNCHEON

Winchester Grange will serve their third annual benefit luncheon at Masonic Hall on Tuesday, February 25, from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. All proceeds this year will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund. In past years the proceeds have gone to the Polio Foundation and the American Cancer Society. Granges all over the State of Massachusetts are conducting similar affairs for this worthy cause. We raised $172.00 (top for Granges of our size) last year and would like to equal, if not better the mark this year. With the wonderful support of the merchants, members and friends who donate food, etc., and those who attend the lucheon we can do it. Menu: Ham, home-baked beans, potato salad, cole slaw, rolls, butter, coffee, and lemon chiffon pudding. We hope we'll see you there.

LENTEN SERIES ON JESUS

During the season of Lent, Rev. Robert A. Storer of the Winchester Unitarian Church will give a series of sermons on the life, spirit and purpose of Jesus. What can his example do for us today? In what ways do we think of him as a leader? These are some of the questions Mr. Storer will attempt to answer. Special music has been arranged for these services by Mary Ranton Witham and the Senior Choir.

MRS. JAMES S. SAMPSON

SAMPSON — HISCOE

The Church of the Epiphany was decorated with candles and flowers on Tuesday, February 18, for the 7 o'clock marriage of Miss Marilyn Elizabeth Hiscoe of 2 Elmwood avenue, daughter of Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscoe of 247 Washington street and the late Dr. Hiscoe, and Lt. (j.g.) James Samuel Sampson of 1000 Paul drive, Rockville, Md., son of Mrs. Ruth A. Sampson of Rockville, Md., and Mr. Henry C. Sampson of Big Pool, Md. The Rev. Dr. John W. Ellison and the Rev. Charles E. Batten performed the ceremony. Mr. Enos E. Held was in charge of the music.
Given in marriage by her brother, Kenneth B. Hiscoe, Jr., of Concord, the bride wore an off white peau de soie gown with a sweetheart neckline and a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap with seed pearls. She carried a prayer book with a white orchid shower bouquet.
Mrs. David F. Long of Durham, N. H., was matron of honor. Her dress was of light blue taffeta with a scoop neckline, empire bodice and harem hemline. Her hat was of matching material with a pink rose and she carried a cascade bouquet of gerbera. Bridesmaids were Miss Virginia McPartland, Miss Eleanor McPeake, and Miss Mary Bostwick, all of Winchester, and Miss Frances Strokoskas or Dorchester. The bridesmaids wore light blue taffeta dresses with cummerbunds, flying back panels of darker blue with harem hemlines. They wore hats of darker blue taffeta with pink roses, white gloves and carried cascades of gerbera. Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscoe, Jr., of Concord, had charge of the guest book.
Ernest C. Hiscoe of Winchester, brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Lt. (j.g.) Arthur J. Gravel of Philadelphia, Pa., Lt. (j.g.) Gilbert W. Cox, Jr., of Needham, Lt. (j.g.) John F. Speer of Waldo, Ark., and Lt. (j.g.) Frank N. Androski of Medford.
Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Bear Hill Country Club in Stoneham. The two mothers and the bridal attendants assisted the couple in receiving their guests. Mrs. Hiscoe, mother of the bride, wore a cocktail-length dress of slate blue with shoes to match, a hat of silver and white with blue trim and long white gloves. Her flowers were eucharis lilies. Mrs. Sampson wore a cocktail-length dress of rose beige lace and a corsage of eucharis lilies.
Lt. and Mrs. Sampson left on a wedding trip to Canada. After they return they will make their home in East Greenwich, R. I. Lt. Sampson is stationed at Quonset Naval Air Station. Mrs. Sampson is a graduate of the Chapel Hill School in Waltham and the Kathleen Dell School. Lt. Sampson attended Georgia Institute of Technology.

LENTEN SERIES OF SERMONS

The Reverend Norman L. Smith, minister of the Second Congregational Church, has announced a series of Lenten sermons for the Sunday worship services. The general theme will be entitled: "The Church Under the Cross." The individual sermons are as follows:
February 23—"The Cross in Our Thinking"
March 2—"The Dodging of the Cross"
March 9—"The Cross as a Way of Life"
March 16—"The Cross in Frustration and Tragedy"
March 23—"The Cross the Way of Ultimate Victory"
A cordial welcome is extended to all who have no church affiliation to attend these 11:00 o'clock services.

MRS. JOHN J. NOLAN

NOLAN — McLAUGHLIN

White gladioli, iris, snapdragons and silvered snowberry decorated St. Mary's Church on Saturday, January 18, for the marriage of Miss Louise Mary McLaughlin, daughter of Mrs. James F. McLaughlin of 33 Maxwell road and the late Mr. McLaughlin, and John Joseph Nolan of 375 High street, West Medford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Nolan of Derby, Conn. The Rev. Daniel Mahoney of St. Mary of the Assumption Church in Revere performed the 11:00 o'clock ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.
Given in marriage by her brother Peter M. McLaughlin of Winchester, the bride wore a peau de soie gown with a bell shaped skirt which gathered into a court length train. The gown had a scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves and the neckline and skirt were trimmed with re-embroidered Alencon lace enriched with seed pearls and sequins. Her three tiered imported illusion veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a missal and celia orchids amidst euchris lilies and hyacinth blossoms.
Miss Mildred M. McLaughlin of Winchester was honor attendant for her sister. She wore a ballerina length gown of duBarry pink taffeta with a cowl neckline, capsleeves and a bell shaped skirt with a side drape ending in a half bow at the hipline. Her headdress was a coronet of pearls with a pink tulle nose veil. She carried a cascade of purple carnations.
Bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn A. McLaughlin of Winchester, Miss Jeanne Nolan of Derby, Conn., Miss Mary Mahoney of Bradford and Mrs. William McKenzie of Quincy. Their gowns were similar to the honor attendant's and their flowers were lilac carnations.
Robert L. Nolan of Ansonia was best man for his brother and Richard F. Killion of Duxbury, James F. McLaughlin, brother of the bride, of Winchester, Mario J. Miani of North Reading and Paul J. Vinci of Medford were ushers.
Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Colonial Country Club in Lynnfield. Mrs. McLaughlin, mother of the bride, wore a royal blue peau de soie dress with mauve hat and gloves and a white orchid. Mrs. Nolan wore a mink-brown peau de soie dress with dark brown accessories and beige orchids.
After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan will live at 375 High street, West Medford. Mrs. Nolan is a graduate of Winchester High School and Regis College. Her husband was graduated from the College of the Holy Cross and Suffolk Law School. Mr. Nolan is an attorney-at-law and a law professor at Suffolk Law School.

HUTCHINSON — DYSON

The Rev. Norman L. Smith of the Second Congregational Church united Miss Marion Elizabeth Dyson of 11 Eaton street, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Dyson of Winchester, and Leonard Hazen Hutchinson of 56 Liberty street, Danvers, son of Oscar S. Hutchinson of South Deerfield, N. H., in marriage at his home on Friday, February 14, at 5:45 o'clock.
Mrs. Chester F. Dyson served as her sister-in-law's matron of honor and Chester F. Dyson served as best man.
The family of the bride were entertained at a dinner at the Colonial Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Emerald, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dyson, Mrs. Harry S. Dyson and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dyson attended the wedding.
Mr. Hutchinson is associated with the New England Telephone Company in Danvers.

MRS. ROBERT E. KLEBER

KLEBER — FLAHERTY

St. Mary's Church was decorated with white carnations and snapdragons on Saturday, February 8, for the marriage of Miss Ruth Marie Flaherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Flaherty of 348 Washington street, and Robert Eugene Kleber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Kleber of 26 Oxford street. The Rev. John Manion performed the 11 o'clock ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial mass which followed.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk taffeta princess style gown with a portrait neckline bordered with alencon lace, short sleeves bordered with the same lace and a full skirt with a chapel length train. Her headdress was a small pearl crown with a fingertip illusion veil. She carried a satin covered missal with an orchid and stephanotis.
Miss Mary Morgan of Winchester was honor attendant along with the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles A. DeFilippo of Woburn, who was honorary attendant. They wore street length dresses of Copenhagen blue. Their hats were Copenhagen blue ribbon bands with illusion veils. Their flowers were white carnations with blue iris.
Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Finn of Winchester, Mrs. Richard T. Kleber of North Reading, Miss Penelope Wilks of New Britain, Conn., and Miss Mary Winn of Woburn. The bridesmaids dresses were similar to the honor attendants and their flowers were white carnations and white iris.
Richard T. Kleber of North Reading was best man for his brother. Ushers were John A. Kleber of Bedford, brother of the bridegroom; David Bonney of Woburn; Charles A. DeFilippo of Woburn, brother-in-law of the bride; and Arthur F. Sullivan of Winchester.
Following the wedding a reception was held at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading. Mrs. Flaherty and Mrs. Kleber assisted the bridal couple in receiving their guests. Mrs. Flaherty wore an ice blue Schiaparreli sheath with navy blue flowered hat and navy accessories. Her flowers were white carnations and pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Kleber wore a navy blue crepe dress with a winter white jeweled hat, and white carnations and deep red roses.
After an auto trip through Pennsylvania and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Kleber will live at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, where Mr. Kleber is on active duty with the U.S. Army Reserve Medical Service Corps. Mrs. Kleber is a graduate of Winchester High School and Mt. Ida Junior College. Her husband is also a Winchester High School graduate and attended the University of Pittsburg and Boston College where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1957. Mr. Kleber is also associated with Hagan Chemicals and Controls, Inc., of Pittsburg, Penn., as a chemist.

JUNIOR-SENIOR CLASS PLAY SUCCESSFUL

The annual high school junior-senior play was presented successfully on February 15. After having read and discussed several plays, a student committee chose "Arsenic and Old Lace," an old favorite of many. Rehearsals lasted six weeks under the very capable hand of Miss Constance Trickett, a junior-senior play director for three years, and a member of the English department at the high school, with the student assistance of Linda Kibbe.
The juniors took the spotlight with Liz Fisher and Peg Archibald cast as the two sisters, and Phil Dreyer as Mortimer, their nephew. Mortimer becomes quite upset when he discovers that his aunts have been killing lonely old men as one of their many charities.
Another nephew, played by Don Seaver, a senior, believes himself to be Teddy Roosevelt and digs locks for the "Panama Canal," using them as graves for "yellow fever" victims.
The plot becomes more involved when a long-lost nephew, Jonathan, played by Steve Enright, and his accomplice, Dr. Einstein, played by George Yore, return to hide out in the aunts' house. Much to their surprise, when these newcomers come to bury their "hot stiff," they find one of their aunts' victims already there. The rest of the play is spent in both sides trying to outdo each other in the number of dead bodies; but it ends in a tie score, twelve to twelve.
Whenever Abby and Martha, the two sisters were on stage together, their kinship of sisterhood was fabulously portrayed. There was no doubt of their closeness and conspiracy together. The mystery role, that of Jonathan, was well done, adding the right amount of suspense, blending just right with the two comedy roles, those of Teddy and Dr. Einstein. Romance was supplied by Blanche Cartier as Elaine Harper, and Mortimer.
Miss Trickett deserves unending praise for the excellent casting job, perseverance, and presentation of the big success. All that attended were greatly amused from beginning to end.

FAMED EXPLORER TO SPEAK

Museum of Science Members and Boy Scouts from Winchester have been offered a special 25 per cent reduction on tickets purchased before March 1 for the first public showing of Dr. Paul A. Siple's stirring film account of man's first winter at the South Pole.
The famed Antarctic explorer, who in 1928 was the Eagle Scout chosen to go on the First Byrd Antarctic Expedition, will be at Symphony Hall on Thursday, March 20, at 8:00 p. m. under joint auspices of the Museum and the Boston Council of Boy Scouts.
Dr. Siple has just returned from the South Pole where he and 17 companions braved a sunless winter to study the earth's secrets. He will tell his experiences as scientific leader of the Polar Station under this country's International Geophysical Year program.
Mrs. Hoyt C. Hottel of 27 Cambridge street is a member of the committee in charge of arrangements.

FROM LEGEND TO UNIQUE FILM ENTERTAINMENT GEM

The beautiful and moving "The Miracle of Marcelino," a picture which has equally charmed critics and public all over the world, opens Wednesday, March 12, at the Auditorium Theatre, Malden.
Based on an old Spanish legend, which was found and re-written into a best-selling novel by Spain's most successful modern novelist, Jose Maria Sanchez-Silva, "The Miracle of Marcelino" has won several prizes at international film festivals. Its young and amazingly talented star, Pablito Calvo, won the prize at the Cannes Film Festival as the best child actor as a result of his portrayal of the foundling brought up by twelve Franciscan friars in a village monastery.
"The Miracle of Marcelino" is a Chamartin Production released by United Motion Picture Organization.

WVNA HOLDS MEETING

The February meeting of the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association was held on Friday, February 14, in the Rich Room of the Public Library. Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, president, welcomed Mrs. Charles Hart, Mrs. Harry Gilson, Mrs. Donald Connors and Mrs. Lester Gustin, all new members of the Association and announced that Mrs. Harlow Russell would be the new representative from the Board of Health for the Association. Mrs. Walter P. Keyes read the secretary's report of the last meeting and Mrs. Daniel McLaughlin, Jr., gave the treasurer's statement.

Mrs. Patrick in speaking of the annual meeting held last month reported that there were many representatives from other Visiting Nursing Associations of nearby towns among those present. She announced the forthcoming group of meetings to be held in March with Miss Betty Sherwood, assistant director of the Dept. of Public Health Nursing of the National League for Nurses. At these meetings various committees of the Association will have an opportunity to meet with Miss Sherwood. In closing her report Mrs. Patrick spoke of the many outside meetings attended during the past month by members of the staff or the Association. Among these were meetings held in Dedham, Lexington, Wellesley, Arlington, Medford, and Waltham.

The next report given was that of Mrs. Walfred Wiklund, our executive director. Her report showed a busy month with the new Board of Health program going well. During the past month the school program has included teaching by Mrs. Wiklund of the 8th grade girls on communicable diseases. In addition to the staff's regular work several meetings have been attended, among them one at the Unitarian Church on the subject of delinquency attended by many representatives of the schools and laymen. Dr. Elizabeth Bodie of the Lancaster school for girls and Chief Harrold of the Winchester Police served as resource people for the panel discussion. Mrs. Wiklund also attended a meeting called by the American Red Cross and another by Winchester's Mental Health Committee. At the latter she agreed to serve on their program committee. In closing she spoke of a proposed amendment concerning the licensing of practical nurses. On a motion duly made and seconded it was voted to have a member of the Association discuss this question with our state representative and to report back to the Association any further developments on the proposed amendment.

Mrs. Patrick reported that in view of the new Board of Health program there seemed to be a need for drivers for patients and that she had appointed Mrs. Aubrey chairman of a committee of volunteers to help in this need. She also told those present that Mrs. Eliassen, chairman of the Education Committee, was looking into the establishment of a handbook which would give association members and others accurate information on our activities.

It was decided after discussion that the June meeting would be held Friday, June 6, with speakers to be announced later.

The remainder of the morning was given over to a continuation of the report of the meeting on Public Health Nursing attended by Mrs. Wiklund and Mrs. Purtle in December. This included an evaluation of the place of the Public Health Nurse in the event of a community disaster or of war, the importance of the teaching of nursing of many sorts to laymen and some knowledge of radiation, such as its effects on canned and packaged foods, etc. Our representatives also heard interesting talks on fees, the need and place of volunteers, evaluation of services with the developed willingness for change where indicated.

The meeting adjourned at 11:45.

LEO F. GARVEY

COMMITTEEMAN FOR BAR ASSOCIATION BANQUET

Leo F. Garvey of 6 Hillside avenue is serving on the committee for the 59th annual banquet of Middlesex County Bar Assn. at the Hotel Statler Tuesday evening, March 4.

The guest speakers will be Chief Justice Raymond S. Wilkins, Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, Gov. Foster Furcolo, and Chief Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Massachusetts Superior Court.

More than 400 leading members of the legal profession will attend this dinner.

ARM OR DISARM!

It has been argued that there is no greater deterrent to war than nuclear weapons. The implication being that any sane person or persons would not bear the responsibility of annihilating mankind in whole or in part while possessing such hideous means of extermination. A counter argument is can we afford to place such faith in the sanity of the heads of government? Are we the many to leave our destiny in the hands of a few who, swollen with power, could conceivably push a button and thereby wipe out millions of lives?

To discuss this ever debatable subject, the Winchester Chapter of United World Federalists is bringing together two extremely able men in their respective fields—Dr. Lawrence H. Fuchs, Assistant Professor of Political Science at Brandeis University, and Mr. Russell Johnson, Peace Education Secretary of the American Friends Service Committee—who will present their reasons for believing that in disarmament lies the best hope for future world peace. This meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, February 25, at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Lowry, 158 Cambridge street.

The Winchester Chapter is extremely fortunate in having as its speakers two such outstanding and tireless workers for peace. The evening promises to be a stimulating and challenging one and we hope members and non-members alike will plan to come to this meeting and discuss these knotty problems confronting world peace.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester held the February meeting on the 13th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson, 14 Wedgemere avenue. We thank them for their friendly hospitality.

Coffee was served before the meeting by Mrs. Alfred Drew and Mrs. Herbert Darling, the social chairman.

The president Mrs. Theodore C. Browne welcomed the members and their husbands. A brief business meeting was held. Mrs. Thomas J. Morison read the minutes of the last meeting, as well as the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Warren Whitman, newly elected chairman of the Republican Town Committee, spoke on impending legislation dealing with money left over at the end of a fiscal year in the varoius departments of the state government. This adds up to a substantial amount. It behooves us to open our eyes and ears. Do not be complacent.

The guest speaker Senator Leslie B. Cutler of the Second Norfolk District was introduced. Dedham is her home and she speaks from experience and dedicated interest.

Having just come from a closed hearing on the institution in Framingham she spoke with feeling on what information she could give at the time.

Senator Cutler has been to all state institutions many times and speaks from knowledge and not hearsay. A budget of $280,000,000, is a huge sum needed to make sick people well.

A date early in March, probably March 8, Saturday, is a date every one should remember. Present at this meeting was Deputy Albert Thompson of 15 Garfield avenue, Winchester, who informed us that the inmates of the Walpole State Prison are to be on TV.

There is going to be a complete coverage of the institution. From cell block to the men in the workshop. Activities in the gym, basketball, boxing and weight lifting.

Chapels, dining rooms and the auditorium, to say nothing of rehearsals for stage performances. Education in the school rooms and the prison newspaper The Mentor, will be featured.

The eyes of the camera are "shooting" for outside information the men in one of our institutions. Seven inmates are asked to give their opinions.

Much work has been done in this production and Mr. Albert Thompson was adviser and assistant director.

Again you are urged, everyone, Republican and Democrat and those who do not vote, but should, to give up watching some amusing or maybe a "waste of time" program and watch something worth while for which you pay the cost.

The March meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin on March 19. Please note the change of date. It will be our pleasure to hear Christian A. Herter, Jr., a Republican candidate for Governor in Massachusetts.

MISS BAKER ACCEPTED AT LOWELL STATE TEACHERS'

Miss Mary Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Baker, Jr., of Harvard street, has received notice that she has been accepted as a member of next year's freshman class at Lowell State Teachers' College.

Mary will graduate from Marycliff Academy in June. At the academy, she is a member of the octette and president of the glee club. She is also a member of the West Medford Girls' Glee Club, and organist at the New Hope Baptist Church, which was founded by her grandfather, the late Rev. William H. Smith. Her ambition is to become a music teacher, and she will major in voice at college.

JOINS R.O.T.C. HONOR SOCIETY

Roy G. Port of 54 Hemingway street is one of forty-one Northeastern University R.O.T.C. cadets to have been initiated into the Pershing Rifles, national R.O.T.C. honor society, Colonel M. D. Harris Professor of Military Science and Tactics, announced.

Membership in the Pershing Rifles, founded by General of the Armies, John J. Pershing, is based on military aptitude, high scholastic average, and a pledge period which includes an overnight "field problem" designed to show a cadet's true quality.

CELEBRITY ANNOUNCED AT COFFEE

An attractively appointed Coffee was held this week at the home of Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel, 13 Everett avenue. The enthusiastic guests attended despite the stormy weather to hear the announcement of the guest celebrity to be presented by Winchester Community Theatre for its annual Celebrity Night, scheduled this season for Saturday, March 15.

Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel, vice president of the organization and chairman of the forthcoming event stated that Claire Luce of the Broadway stage and star of International note will be the star of the evening performance. Committees and final arrangements will be announced in the near future.

The guest list at this affair held to launch plans for this March event follows: Mrs. James Marchant, Mrs. Paul F. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. A. J. Connell, Mrs. George R. Stone, Mrs. James Hintlian, Mrs. T. J. Thompson, Mrs. John L. Keliher, Mrs. Francis McGarrahan, Mrs. Michael V. MacKenzie, Mrs. Robert S. Westwater, Mrs. George Billman, Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge, Jr., and Mrs. Michael MacDonald, Jr.

Mrs. Hamel stated that members and sponsors of the Community Theatre would receive full particulars of plans in the mail within a week, so that they might make reservations before tickets go on sale to the general public.

IN BASIC AT FORT DIX

Pvt. Paul J. Mahoney, 22, of 228 Cambridge street has been assigned to F Company 1st Training Regiment at Ft. Dix for eight weeks of Infantry basic training in conjunction with the 1955 Reserve Forces Act.

During his training Pvt. Mahoney will receive instruction in general military subjects, Infantry weapons and tactics, as well as character guidance programs under the post chaplain.

Under the RFA program Pvt. Mahoney will serve on active duty for six months and then be transferred to hometown duty with an Army Reserve or National Guard unit.

After the initial eight weeks, he will receive a two-week leave and then enter eight weeks of advanced Infantry training, be enrolled in one of the specialist schools here or be transferred to another Army post for training.

Prior to arriving at Fort Dix, Pvt. Mahoney, son of Mrs. Charles B. Mahoney, 228 Cambridge street, attended Winchester High School and Boston College.

PRESENTED SAFETY AWARDS

Two Winchester men, employees of the Whiting Milk Company, were presented safe driving awards by Lt. Gov. Robert A. Murphy recently as a climax to the dairy's 1957 Safe Driving Campaign.

Following the presentation of the Safety Awards, Joseph Murphy, representing Massachusetts Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley, and James Wynn, accident prevention director of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., lauded the men for their outstanding safe driving records.

According to James L. Walsh, chairman of Whiting's Accident Prevention Committee, the two local men were among more than 300 Whiting Milk Company drivers who have completed one to five years of 100% safe driving.

The two Winchester men who completed five years of safe driving are: Samuel Bonasera of 88 Sheridan circle and Bernhardt Anderson of 56 Dunster lane.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Winchester Historical Society held its winter meeting at the Red Cross Headquarters on Saturday, February 8. The president, Mr. Frank Crawford presided at the brief business meeting, and then called on the program chairman, Miss Louise Bancroft, who reported on the meeting of the Bay State Historical League in Boston in January, where the morning session discussed ways and means of working with the schools to present historical facts in a way to interest and inspire the children. The afternoon speaker at this was Prof. Bernard Cohen of Harvard, whose subject, "Contributions to science of the New England villages" paid tribute to Loammi Baldwin and Count Rumford, local celebrities, as well as to Cotton Mather and John Winthrop, Jr., all of whom made significant contributions to science in their day.

Miss Bancroft then introduced to the Society, Mr. J. Sanger Attwill, of Lynn, who gave an illustrated lecture on the "Shelburne Museum" on Lake Champlain in Vermont. He told of the greatly increased interest in outdoor historical museums, which started with Mrs. James Storrow's exhibits at the Eastern States Expositions and Mr. Henry Ford's "Dearborn Village."

Shelburne Museum is being developed by Mrs. Electa Webb in Vermont to keep a record of what she calls "unspoiled Vermont." On a large tract of land she has already assembled a grist mill and country store from Weston, Vt., the last double-barreled bridge from Cambridge, Vt., a schoolhouse from Vergennes, Vt., a jail from Castleton, and other buildings which she is rapidly filling with choice and interesting furnishings and equipment. From nearby Lake Champlain, she has had the last side-wheeler, the Ticonderoga, ensconced on dry land, with a light house as part of the Shelburne Village scene.

Mr. Attwill's colored slides and fascinating facts provided the members of the Historical Society with a stimulating and informative afternoon.

TEACHERS, NURSES REGISTER FOR HEALTH EDUCATION COURSE

Thirty-five teachers and other school health personnel have registered for the new School Health Education course being offered by Tufts University, College of Special Studies, in cooperation with the Middlesex Health Association at Stoneham High School. This course will provide on-the-job training for teachers, nurses, counselors, and others, to better meet the health needs and education of their school students.

Modern methods and techniques for school health education, program, and services and for healthful school living, will be discussed by Mary E. Spencer, Ph.D., Director of Health Education, Malden Public Schools. Both the routine and unusual problems which the local teacher or nurse may meet in the classroom will also be examined.

School health personnel in Stoneham, Wakefield, Melrose, Reading and other local surrounding towns were invited to participate in this new School Health Education course.

Attending from Winchester is Mrs. Cecelia M. Abbott who teaches in the Colonial Park School in Stoneham.

Partial scholarships for this course were made available through Christmas Seal funds by the Middlesex Heatlh Association and its affiliated local tuberculosis committees.

How small an estate will a TRUST INSTITUTION accept?

This is a question each trust institution must answer for itself. Among trust institutions generally, there is a definite trend toward accepting and even seeking small estates.

WRITE OR CALL MA 2-7700 FOR YOUR FREE COPY OF THIS VALUABLE 63 PAGE BOOK.

The above is one of the very important questions answered in the Malden Trust booklet, "YOUR FAMILY AND YOUR ESTATE," written by Gilbert Thomas Stephenson, an attorney and leading authority on Trust Matters, and available to you without charge.

WHITE ELEPHANTS IN WINCHESTER

Ever see a white elephant? Of course you have. What's more, you probably have one in your home. Most people have. Well our business is turning your white elephants into green folding money. Want to help a deserving Win— it — graduate go to college, come fall? Like to help a needy Scout go to camp next summer? Want to help finance other worthy projects such as Winning Farm, Winchester Hospital, etc.? And do this at no cost to yourself? Listen! You can do all this and more simply by deciding to donate to the Winchester Rotary Club auction the discarded and useless (to you) articles in your attic or basement. Stop. Read that last sentence again. All you have to do is to decide. Rotarians will call at your convenience and do all the work and trucking. You ask what we can use? You'd be surprised! Other people will pay money for what seems worthless to you. Chairs, tables, bric-a-brac, pictures, object-d'art, that old set of dishes, lamps, bureaus. How about that rug you no longer use? Lawn mower? Don't believe you're going to use that croquet set again. We can use it. Some kid could use that fishing rod you put up attic. Get rid of your white elephants, clean out the attic. Pardon me, I mean let us clean out your attic free. Let us help you, help us, help others. Simply call WInchester 6-4108. We do the rest. Act now cause, remember you've got more time now than you'll ever have again!

REP. CHARLES GIBBONS TO SPEAK HERE MONDAY

The legislative committee of the Fortnightly, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, chairman, has invited the Hon. Charles Gibbons of Stoneham to be our speaker on Monday afternoon, February 24.

A few facts about this neighbor or ours who has recently announced his candidacy for the U. S. Senate should be of interest. He served in the Navy 1919-1925 as chief radio operator, was owner of a successful business and incorporator of the Stoneham Five Cents Savings Bank. He is a past president of the Stoneham Community Chest and Men's Club of the Congregational Church, has been a member of the Mass. Selectmen's Association, Town Moderator, a Mason, a representative in the Mass. Legislature, vice-chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Speaker of the House. His subject will be "Your Business-Legislation."

It was voted that this be an open meeting so that the opportunity to hear this eminent gentleman (an expert on questions of legislation) will not be restricted to Fortnightly members only. Bring your friends.

BATTALION COMMANDER AT U. OF VERMONT

David McKenzie of Winchester is one of fifty-three Army ROTC students at the University of Vermont who were named to cadet ranks at a banquet given recently at the University.

Dave was named battalion commander with the rank of cadet lieutenant colonel.

ORCHESTRAL CONCERT

Music lovers of good orchestral music are in for a treat on Saturday evening, March 1, when the combined orchestras of Lexington High School and Winchester High School present an interesting program. The concert will be presented at the Winchester Memorial Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

The orchestra will be conducted by Donald J. Gillespie, Jr., of Lexington and Wendell S. Withington of Winchester. The combined orchestras will number 105 and will be well balanced with full symphonic instrumentation. The program is as follows:

Symphony No. 12, first movement—Haydn
Gavotte from Classical Symphony—Prokofieff
Mississippi Suite—Grofe
Lexington High Orchestra
Overture to Ballet "Don Juan"—Gluck
Minuet from "Surprise Symphony"—Haydn
Andalucia Suite—Lecuona
Winchester High Orchestra
March of the Meistersingers—Wagner
Valse Triste—Sibelius
Serenade - first movement — Mozart
String Orchestra
Blue Tango—Anderson
Marche Slave—Tchaikovsky
Combined Orchestras

Surely this program is worthy of any professional orchestra, and the young musicians and their directors are to be complimented on choosing music of this high calibre. It is hoped that a capacity audience will be present to applaud the young players.

HOSPITAL FRIENDS

Of community-wide interest is the topic of the talk to be given by Dean A. Clark, M.D., general director of the Massachusetts General Hospital, at the open winter meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hopsital, Thursday evening, February 27, at the parish hall of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

"Can You Afford To Be Sick?" is Dr. Clark's subject. He is well qualified as general director of one of the country's largest and most important hospitals to discuss today's hospital and patient costs. A discussion period will follow the talk.

This is your chance to get the facts on the controversial aspects of hospital costs. All interested in the Winchester Hospital and in this timely topic are cordially invited to attend this meeting which will start promptly at 8:30 p.m. Coffee will be served at eight o'clock.

Dr. and Mrs. Clark will be entertained at dinner prior to the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr. Other guests at the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Kelley, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Kroepsch. Mrs. Kelley is president of the Friends and Mrs. Kroepsch is program chairman for this meeting.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks to the Fire and Police Departments and the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross and all those who helped in the recent incident that happened to us and our property on South Border road.

SPOONER TWINS APPEAR ON CHANNEL 7

Alden and Anne Spooner, 4½-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Spooner of 30 James street, appeared on Frank Luther's show on WNAC-TV last Tuesday, February 11.

The twins, known as Kiki and Mimi, sent valentines in to the program and then were asked to come in to a valentine party and to look around the station and see how the program was prepared. The valentines were original designs in construction paper. Besides the tour of the station and the chance to appear on live TV, the children were given merchandise gifts and tickets to the Ice Follies.

Mimi and Kiki attend the Forest Crest Farm School on Forest street.

Half an hour of free fun

Come in and we'll show you how to play organ music in just 30 minutes!
You don't have to read notes, or take lessons.
Just sit down at the Hammond Chord Organ, and amaze yourself. One finger of your right hand plays the melody. One finger of your left hand presses a button for a rich, full chord. You can follow "Picture Music" or regular notes.
There's no catch to this, no obligation to buy anything We just want everyone to know how easy this wonderful Hammond Chord Organ is to play and enjoy.

DAMAGE HIGH SCHOOL WALLS

While checking the Senior High School early Sunday morning, Police Officer William Callahan reported that he found green paint smeared on the windows and doors and also on the brick at the south side of the High School.

The paint was dry and the lettering read "Rack Belmont, Winchester 76, Belmont 42."

"PHILADELPHIA STORY" HIT IN PARISH PLAYERS' RENDITION

There is nothing like a good and witty play to fill in on a stormy week end in the suburbs. That exactly is what happened when the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church presented Philip Barry's "Philadelphia Story" last week end.

It has been done before on stage and in the movies, but its theme, a running commentary on wealth and class consciousness as disclosed by those on the inside and the critics looking on, is a universal one. When the serious message is punctuated with a few dramatic situations and ultimate good humor, plus a few risque asides, the whole makes a grand evening "on the aisle."

The curtain opens on the sitting room of the Seth Lord's house in the country outside Philadelphia, done with a dash of opulence and good taste, from the family portraits, the damask drapes, to the hand-decorated Chinese murals.

Tracy Lord, as played by Mary Lowry, sets the pace as the spoiled daughter of a wealthy family. We saw her before as Sabrina and we think she is excellent. Her voice is clear and strong, and with every toss of her head she gives the impression of a girl who, though caught in a web, will extricate herself. She is not only pretty but makes sense.

Her mother is played by Mary Millican. She is a real trouper now and turns in a very competent performance. You somehow feel she has been conditioned to take the scandals and heartaches of a tempeatuous family and still remain calm and beautiful.

Then there is the son, Sandy, played by Peter Dee, a newcomer on this stage. He is a fine addition, too, quite easy in manner and with a flair for comedy that showed through even during the first few moments.

It is to young Judith Blake, as kid sister Dinah, that we toss all the bouquets in the basket. We could say that she follows in her mother's footsteps, but we won't because she stands on her own two feet. Her timing was superb. She had a clever way of letting the audience know that she knew, and her big dream-describing scene with Tracy was one we will long applaud. How did she manage to be wise beyond her years without being precocious?

As for Uncle Willie, Sewall Richardson was a constant delight. One could always anticipate some extra fun when he was on stage. He has a nice faculty for easy comedy without pushing.

Marian Blake and Charles Mulhern, as Liz Imbrie and Macauley (Mike) Connor, made up the candid photographer and caustic reporter, respectively. They almost rudely barged into the Lord home to cover the family doings for "Destiny," a shall we say, lurid publication.

As always, Mrs. Blake was versatile and attractive, displaying a marvelous touch with the muted aside, the telling tag line. Mr. Mulhern was placed in a part that we think must have been a hard one. To him fell the task of putting over Mr. Barry's slightly outdated philosophies on class, wealth, and hypocracy. Then when his heart becomes involved he has to do some quick, about-face acting to make up for all this.

Bill Early deserves and gets a special medal from this reviewer. To play a "stuffed shirt" and somehow make him at least likeable is a real challenge and he met it.

Then there was that character who every now and then slipped on stage through the French door as if he belonged. In every inflection and slouch, the one person who had nothing to lose and was having fun pulling the strings, Mr. Henry Fitts as C. K. Dexter Haven, the ex-husband, did an excellent job.

George Connor, playing the erring father, was suave and competent as always. There were two memorable scenes with his daughter, the one blaming her for his weaknesses, the other acting the kindly, realistic father he would like to have been.

Joan Benson and Robert Millican had minor but necessary roles and it was good to see them as part of this well-balanced, professionally coached cast. Mr. Harlan Grant has done it again.

The ladies in the audience were enchanted with the gowns worn in the play. Designed and loaned to the Players by Cyreld, they were greatly admired by the female half of the audience, the males, too, if they would confess it.

A fine selection of Eaton's stationery at the Star office, 3 Church street.

MRS. BRIDGET K. McCARRON

Mrs. Bridget Kerrigan McCarron of 33 Arthur street died Friday morning, February 14, at the Winchester Hospital. She had been in poor health for some time. Her husband, the late Jeremiah McCarron, died last December.

Mrs. McCarron was born in Ireland and came to this country as a young girl. She had made her home in Winchester for the past fifty years and was well known in the town.

She was a member of the Immaculate Conception Church and in her younger days was active in organizations and church activities.

Mrs. McCarron is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Sally Cause and Mrs. Betty Lucey of Winchester and Mrs. Eunice McGeehan of Somerville. She also leaves four sons, Jeremiah, Jr., and Neil of Winchester, John of Roxbury and Albert McCarron of Medford, and 16 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday morning from the Lane Funeral Home at 8:00 a. m., followed by a solemn requiem high mass at the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 o'clock. Interment was at Oak Grove Cemetery in Medford.

SAMUEL R. PALMISANO

Samuel R. Palmisano of 36 Lochwan street died suddenly Monday morning, February 17, at his office. He was part owner of the Winchester Door and Window Company on Swanton street.

Born in Boston in 1892, he has been associated with the Winchester Door and Window Company for 28 years. He moved to Winchester seven years ago. A graduate of St. Mary's School in Boston, Palmisano was a member of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters and of the Immaculate Conception Church.

Surviving Mr. Palmisano are his wife, the former Miss Cosima Camello; three daughters, Mrs. Richard McDonald of Winchester, Mrs. Leonard McKeowan of Woburn and Mrs. William J. Wise of Woburn; a son, Salvatore P. Palmisano of Burlington and nine grandchildren. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Peter Mercurio of Arlington.

Funeral services were held from the Lane Funeral Home on Thursday morning followed by a solemn requiem high mass at the Immaculate Conception Church at 10 o'clock. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

LAWRENCE HUMPHREY

Lawrence Humphrey of 246 Washington street died last Friday evening, February 14, at the Kirkwood House in Wakefield after an illness of several months. He was 49 years old.

Well known in Winchester, Mr. Humphrey was born in Somerville but the family moved to Winchester when he was four years old and he attended the Winchester schools. His chief occupation was as a meat salesman and he worked for several local firms. He was a member of St. Mary's Church.

Mr. Humphrey is survived by his parents, Frank and Mary F. Humphrey of Washington street; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Collins of Winchester and Mrs. Ruth Hendy of White Plains, N. Y.; and a brother, Robert F. Humphrey of Winchester.

Funeral services were held from the Lane Funeral Home on Monday, February 17, followed by a high mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock with the Rev. Martin Dolphin officiating. The Rev. Dolphin also read the committal prayers at Calvary Cemetery in Woburn.

ACCIDENT ON FRANKLIN ROAD

Ralph M. Atkinson of 33 Sargent road reported that while driving north on Franklin road on Thursday morning, February 13, a car coming out of Ledyard road onto Franklin road skidded across the street in front of him. Mr. Atkinson applied the brakes and his car skidded into a utility pole.

No personal injuries were reported but Mr. Atkinson's car was damaged on the left front side. The other car was owned by a Medford Taxi company. The road was snowy and slippery but the cars did not collide. The Edison Company was notified to check the pole for damage.

Peter R. Gove of 89 Bacon street is one of 26 Massachusetts men pledged to fraternities at the University of Vermont. Peter is a member of Delta Psi fraternity.

THE WINCHESTER STAR

VOL. LXXVII NO. 25 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1958 PRICE TEN CENTS

Awarded Post Cane

Mrs. Edward H. Stone Is Oldest Resident; 101 On March 19

Mrs. Edward H. Stone of 6 Wood Lane was presented with the Boston Post Cane recently by George A. Saltmarsh, chairman of the board of selectmen. Mrs. Stone is believed to be the oldest living Winchester resident and she will celebrate her 101st birthday on March 19.

Mrs. Stone was born in Charlestown and lived in Plymouth for two years before she and her parents came to Winchester. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark Mason, were prominent Winchester residents and were among the founders of the old Winchester Methodist Episcopal Church which is now the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

Growing up in Winchester, Mrs. Stone attended the Winchester schools. The family lived in the old Mason homestead built by her father at the corner of Hillside avenue and Mt. Pleasant street.

Mrs. Stone was married on June 1, 1885, to Edward H. Stone, known as Henry Stone. He was treasurer of the well-known paper house of Stone and Forsythe of which he was one of the founders. Mr. Stone, who died at the age of 89, came to Winchester as a boy of 8.

At the early part of her marriage, Mrs. Stone lived on Winthrop street until she moved into the Cambridge street house which was built by her husband. The Stone family lived there until Mr. Stone's death when Mrs. Stone moved with her daughter to Wood lane.

Mrs. Stone has been very active in town and church activities and was a member of the Fortnightly Women's Club, the First Congregational Church and is a charter member of the Mission Union of that church.

Mrs. Stone has three children, a daughter Miss Mildred Stone makes her home with her mother; another daughter is Mrs. Carl W. Wood of Fernway. A son, Robert M. Stone, was a former school committee chairman and prominent in town affairs; he died in 1953.

FOR SELECTMAN

H. GARDNER BRADLEE

TO THE VOTERS OF WINCHESTER

As a candidate for the office of selectman, I would like to outline my background for the information of those voters of Winchester who do not know me.

I was born in West Medford, Mass., in 1918, moved to Winchester with my family in 1931 and have been a resident of the town since then, except for a brief period in 1940-41. In 1939, I was married to Celena Dean and, in 1941, we moved to 2 Goddu avenue, living there until February of 1957 when we moved to 46 Lorena road. We have four children ranging in age from 1 to 16 years.

I graduated from Belmont Hill School in 1936 and from Harvard College in 1940. Since then, I have attended courses given by the American Institute of Banking and in 1953 graduated from the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers. The National Shawmut Bank of Boston was my employer from college graduation until 1950, when I moved to the Cambridge Trust Company of which I am Vice President, Secretary and a Director.

I continue to be active in various community affairs both in Cambridge and Winchester. These have included Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Community Fund, Red Cross, Heart Fund, and Salvation Army. I was a member of the Standing Committee of the Unitarian Church for three years, serving as Finance Committee chairman for two of those years.

For the last three years, as a member of the Town Finance Committee, I have learned something of town affairs. With this background, I would, if you wish to vote for me, like to continue to serve the town.

There will be an examination for entrance into police work on April 26. The last date for filing applications is on April 7. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 35 and must not be shorter than 5' 7". To be appointed, applicants must get scores of 70% in both tests and on the physical. Applications may be secured at the Division of Civil Service at the State House in Boston.

BROKEN SPRINKLER BRINGS FIRE TRUCKS OUT

Two calls to the fire department at 6:55 a. m. on Thursday brought firefighters out to the First Congregational Church. Firefighters found that a broken sprinkler in the boiler room had set off the bell. They shut off the sprinkler.

ABSENT VOTER BALLOTS

Registered voters who expect to be absent from Winchester or who will be unable by reason of physical disability to cast their vote in person at the polling place on the day of the Annual Town Election, March 3, 1958, may obtain applications for Absent Voter Ballots at the Town Clerk's Office in the Town Hall.

WINCHESTER SEXTET IN SECOND-ROUND GAME ON SATURDAY

The Winchester hockey team will play the winner of the West Springfield-Dedham game Saturday afternoon at 12 o'clock at the Boston Arena in the second round of the State Interscholastic Hockey Tournament.

Winchester supporters will not know their opponent until Thursday when the two teams clash at the Arena. In either case the Sachems will be facing another stiff test.

ELECTED TO BROWN FRATERNITY OFFICE

James E. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Wright of 8 Stratford road, has recently been elected co-athletic chairman of his fraternity, Lambda Chi Alpha. A graduate of Winchester High School, he is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1959.

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded at Boston University in 1909 and established at Brown in 1912. This is one of the seventeen national fraternities represented on the Brown campus.

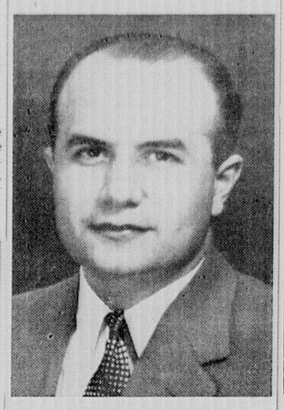
FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE



EMIDIO DiLORETO

To the Voters of Winchester:

I am a candidate for School Committee and I respectfully solicit the support of the voters of Winchester. Permit me, if you please, to state the following qualifications for your consideration to this public office.

I am a graduate of Northeastern University—School of Law and I am a member of the Boston and Massachusetts Bar Association, actively engaged in the practice of law.

I am a veteran of World War II, and hold the rank of Major, United States Army Reserve, 94th Infantry Division as Assistant Judge Advocate.

I am, also, actively engaged in organizations that contribute to the welfare of the community.

I am married to the former Antonette E. Cannao who is a member of the faculty of the School of Education at Boston College. We have two children, Elizabeth and Michael.

I hope I may have the pleasure in serving you and, if elected, I will endeavor to serve the Town of Winchester to the best of my ability. I welcome your support on Monday, March 3.

LENTEN SERMON SERIES AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

With the thought uppermost in his mind that this will be the last Easter season that Rev. Walter Lee Bailey will minister to his Winchester church family, the general text of the sermons chosen by him for Lent is "Finally, my Brethren," general theme "The Whole Armour of God" and Scripture: Ephesians 6:10 through 18.

The first of this series, delivered last Sunday, received widespread commendation throughout the congregation. The remainder of the sermons will be given on the following dates:

March 2—"The Girdle of Truth"
March 9 — "The Breastplate of Righteousness"
March 16 — "The Sandals of Peace"
March 23—"The Shield of Faith"
March 30—"The Sword of the Spirit"
April 6 (Easter Day)—"The Helmet of Hope"

A most cordial invitation is extended to all newcomers to Winchester who have no church home to share these sermons at eleven o'clock each Sunday morning in the sanctuary.

RICHARD A. SAWYER

FOR BOARD OF HEALTH

As a candidate for the Board of Health, I submit the following review of my background and experience:

I was born in Hanover, N. H., in 1916, and have been a resident of Winchester since 1953. My wife and I live at 24 Ledyard road, and our two boys attend Mystic School.

After graduating from Kimball Union Academy and Dartmouth College (1941), I served as teacher-coach at Kimball Union Academy; First Lt. Medical Administrative Corps; Co-Headmaster, Cardigan Mountain School; Assistant Registrar, Dartmouth College. I am now Assistant to Director of Sales, Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Since coming to Winchester, I have participated in Red Feather campaigns and the United Fund. I am a teacher in the First Congregational Sunday School, and am a member of the Religious Education Committee.

If elected, I will bring administrative experience and a sincere interest in the Town of Winchester to the discharge of the responsibilities of the Board of Health.

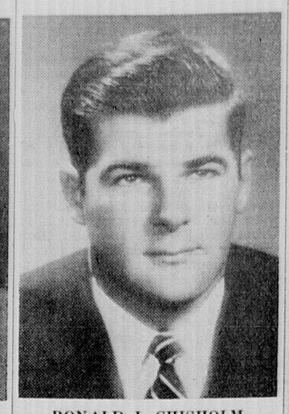
FOR SELECTMAN



RONALD J. CHISHOLM

Voters of Winchester:

In presenting my name for your consideration as a candidate for Selectman, briefly I would like to describe my background and qualifications. I am a graduate of the Winchester Public School system, having played varsity football and baseball while attending Winchester High School. After finishing college, I attended law school and I am now a practicing attorney. I am presently employed by the Voluntary Defenders Committee Incorporated as a trial lawyer.

I served in the United States Air Force and United States Marine Corps Reserve.

Having been appointed to serve in the Middlesex County District Attorney's Office, I gained valuable executive and administrative experience and training.

I have served as a Town Meeting member for the past five years and have taken part in many charitable drives and civic events.

No one, however able, can make much of a contribution to the town as a Selectman unless he has sufficient time necessary to devote to the office. I do have the time to devote to the office of Selectman and fully realize the ever increasing burdens to this office.

If you feel the town of Winchester will be well represented with a young and energetic Selectman, I would appreciate your support.

HENRY L. CLARK, JR.

APPOINTED DIRECTOR OF CO-OPERATIVE BANK

The Winchester Co-operative Bank takes pleasure in announcing the appointment of Henry L. Clark, Jr., president of J. H. Winn, Inc., as a member of the board of directors. This action was taken following the regular meeting of the board of directors on February 10, 1958.

Mr. Clark lives with his wife and two children at 16 Hillcrest Parkway. A native of New Jersey, he is a graduate of Stevens Institute of Technology in 1938 with the degree of mechanical engineer.

From 1938-39, he was assistant operating manager of William A. White and Sons, a New York City real estate management firm. His next post was as a laboratory assistant in mechanical testing for the Public Service Electric & Gas Co. in Maplewood, N. J., where he stayed until 1943.

Mr. Clark served three years at the Boston Naval Shipyard as a Navy ordnance specialist. In 1946 he came to J. H. Winn, Inc., as a plant engineer and later became general manager. In 1953 he was named as a director of J. H. Winn, Inc., and was one of the incorporators of that firm. In 1955 he became vice president and general manager. He was in charge of the building expansion program and became president last September.

Mr. Clark is a registered professional engineer in Masachusetts, a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, a lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Reserve, vice president, director and past secretary of the Winchester Rotary Club and has been a town meeting member for 10 years.

WINCHESTER TECH WINNER

Winchester hoopsters defeated Swampscott Thursday afternoon at the Boston Garden by a score of 74 to 65. This was one of the Massachusetts State Championship games. As the Star went to press Winchester's next game was unknown.

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

AUSTIN BROADHURST

Our schools are one of Winchester's most valuable assets. To run them we spend about 40 cents out of every dollar which the operation of our town government costs. The School Committee thus holds a most important place in the Town. When you make your choice for candidates for the School Committee, please consider my background and experience:

1. Member and chairman of the Town Finance Committee. In this capacity I have gained some knowledge of the operations and problems of our school system. I have also been an elected Town Meeting member and chairman of a special committee to study the problem of sand, gravel and loam removal.
2. Director and officer of the Winchester Community Chest and Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross. Former Winchester chairman of the Red Feather campaign. Member of the business advisory committee of the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association. These activities have made me acquainted with the social service needs and resources of our town.
3. Education in the Springfield, Massachusetts public schools, Williams College and Harvard Law School.
4. Professional experience in the practice of law. I am a member of the Council of the Boston Bar Association.
5. Member and former chairman of the Board of Christian Education at the Church of the Epiphany.
6. Parent of four children, the three oldest of whom attend Wyman School.
7. World War II duty as engineering officer on a destroyer in the Pacific.

I am proud of the reputation which our schools have earned. If I am elected, I will do my best to see that our schools continue to meet the highest standards.

MRS. MARY M. BRINK

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Points to Ponder before voting

1. I am married to A. R. "Gunner" Brink, Eastern Air Lines captain, and we share an interest in civic affairs, the schools in particular. We have five children: Mike in High School, Carol in Junior High, Dan, Ricky and Bill in Parkhurst, hence have an active interest in all Winchester schools.
2. I am a graduate of New York State Teachers College at Buffalo, and so understand teaching methods, teachers' point of view, and parent-school relationships.
3. I am chief purchasing agent for food, clothing, and other essentials for our family, and therefore appreciate the value of a dollar. I would try to see that each tax dollar spent for education was used wisely.
4. I am the only woman candidate for School Committee. Having time during the day, I could visit schools, get acquainted with teachers, and carry out the necessary daytime functions of the committee, impossible for a man who must be away at business during the school day.
5. After considering these facts, if you feel I can serve you as a member of the School Committee, I would appreciate your vote March 3.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

John Olaf Olson of 112 Washington road, Burlington and Virginia Elaine Heitz of 11 Hill street.

FOR SELECTMAN

OSCAR E. MERROW

Oscar E. Merrow is a candidate for selectman. He has the necessary qualifications to represent you —the citizens of Winchester—in that office. He is deeply conscious of the rising tax rate. He has an intimate knowledge of the problems incident to the efficient administration of our town affairs. He is retired from business and, therefore, has the necessary time to devote to town affairs.

Mr. Merrow's qualifications in support of the above statements are:

1. For 30 years a resident and property owner in Winchester.
2. For 25 years general manager and treasurer of a wholesale building supply company.
3. Finance Committee member—3 years.
4. Fiscal Survey Committee member—2 years.
5. Town Meeting member.
6. Former chairman Red Cross Blood Program.
7. Graduate of Tufts University.
8. Veteran of World War I.

IMPORTANT SCHOOL BUILDING MEETING MARCH 11

The panel discussion of the school space shortage which was cancelled due to heavy fog on the night of January 22, has been rescheduled for Tuesday evening, March 11, at 7:45 at the Senior High School auditorium. This time the sponsors will be the Senior High School Parent Faculty Association and the Junior High School Associates, who consider this open meeting to be a must for all parents and town meeting members. The evening will offer Winchester citizens a double feature on this subject since, in addition to the panel discussion, the Junior-Senior High School Building Committee will present its second report to the town.

Panel members chosen to define the school housing problems which confront the town in the immediate future will reflect the many town committees involved in this important planning. From the Finance Committee will be H. Gardner Bradlee; from the Planning Board Ralph H. Bonnell. Olcott L. Hooper will represent the School Committee, and Superintendent Harry V. Gilson the School Department. The two active school building committees are also expected to be represented, Robert P. Bigelow speaking for the Junior-Senior High facilities group, and Sumner R. Andrews for the Johnson road-Ridge street area building committee. Dr. Leonard C. Mead, Dean of the Graduate School of Tufts University, will act as moderator of the panel discussion.

Following this information program sponsored by the parent-teacher associations, the Junior-Senior High School Building Committee will sponsor the remainder of the evening, and will present their report. An opportunity to discuss and ask questions of the Committee and their special consultants will conclude the meeting.

Program chairman for the Junior High Associates is Mrs. Hiram L. Smith, Jr., for the Senior High School Parent-Faculty group is Richard O. Ulin.

ON BOWDOIN DEAN'S LIST

John G. Trump is one of one hundred and forty-six Bowdoin College undergraduates named to the Dean's List for the spring semester, Dean Nathanial C. Kendrick announced today. Included are forty-nine members of the senior class, twenty-six juniors, forty-six sophomores, twenty-four freshmen, and five Bowdoin Plan students from foreign countries.

Dean's List honors are awarded to students who during their last semester at Bowdoin have attained at least a "B" average with not more than one grade below "B" and no grade lower than "C" in their regular courses.

PHOTOGRAPHER SOLICITS IN SYMMES CORNER AREA

The police received two telephone calls on Tuesday reporting a man going from door to door in the Grove street—Chardon road area soliciting photographs.

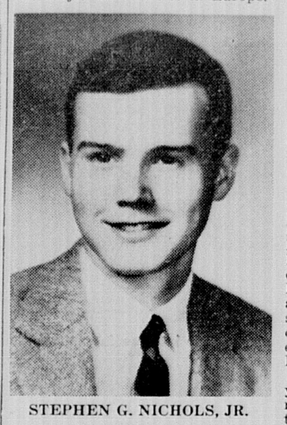
Officers Andrew Crawford and Thomas Parsons investigated and found that Oscar Skog of 61 Mountford street, Boston, was in the area lining up photographs. He worked for the Telecolor of Hollywood studios at 581 Boylston street in Boston. Mr. Skog did not have a permit and was told to get one from the police before he did any soliciting. At latest reports, he had not come to the police station.

One of 113 Outstanding Students

Wins Rotary Fellowship For Study Abroad

Stephen G. Nichols, Jr., of Winchester, has been awarded a Rotary Foundation Fellowship for advanced study abroad during the 1958-59 academic year, it was announced today by Rotary International, as that world-wide service club organization observed its 53rd anniversary.

One of 113 outstanding students from 30 countries to receive the honor, Mr. Nichols was recommended for the Rotary Fellowship by the Rotary Club of Winchester. He will study comparative literature, in preparation for a career in education at the university level, at one of the major universities in Europe.



STEPHEN G. NICHOLS, JR.

Born in Cambridge, Mass., in 1936, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Nichols of 49 Oxford street. He is married. On graduating from Lower Merion Senior High School in Ardmore, Pennsylvania, he entered Dartmouth College, Hanover, New Hampshire, and expects to receive a Bachelor of Arts degree in June, 1958. He was awarded a Rufus Choate Scholarship for 1956-58.

At Dartmouth, he was a member of the Canoe Club, the Freshman Sailing Team, was elected to the Inter-Dormitory Council, and was Business Manager of the Dart Humor Magazine. He is a member of the Dartmouth Outing Club, the Dartmouth Corinthian Yacht Club, and Phi Tau Fraternity. While a student, he has been part time chief student assistant at the Baker Library of Dartmouth College. He has a knowledge of French.

By providing an opportunity for young men and women of many nationalities to live, study and travel in another country for one year on Rotary Foundation Fellowships, Rotary International promotes international understanding, which is one of the principal Rotary objectives. Since the Fellowships program was established in 1947, 952 Rotary Fellows from 61 countries have studied in 42 countries on grants averaging $2,500. This year's awards bring the total number of Fellowships to 1,065 and the total grants to more than $2,500,000.

A unique feature of the Rotary Fellowships program is that, with 9,700 Rotary Clubs in 108 countries throughout the world, each student is in direct contact with Rotarians and their families in the country where he is studying. Chosen from applicants sponsored by the Rotary Clubs in their home towns, Rotary Fellows are selected for their high scholastic standings, leadership ability, interest in world affairs, and ability to make friends easily. They must be between 20 and 29 years old, hold a college or university degree, and know the language of the country in which they will study.

1958 BUDGET HEARING

Thursday evening, March 6, the finance committee will conduct a public hearing on the 1958 Town Budget at 7:45 p. m. in the junior high school adutorium. The hearing will take the place of any discussion of the budget at the various precinct meetings.

All town boards, committee and officers have been invited to be represented at the hearing. Town meeting members and other citizens of the town are urged to attend. The purpose of the hearing will be to explain each budget, noting what it does and does not include, and to provide answers wherever possible to questions which may be asked rather than to engage in debate over whether particular items should be included in or excluded from particular bdugets.

The report of the committee to study the town meeting recommended that such a general public hearing be held as one means of helping town meeting members prepare and inform themselves in advance for the town meeting. This committee indicated its hope that if the budget were dealt with at a general hearing and the precinct meetings were left free to concentrate on the other articles in the warrant, the town meeting proper might be shortened.

CROWD TURNS OUT FOR INCINERATOR PUBLIC HEARING

About 300 people turned out at the town hall on Wednesday night for the public hearing on the Incinerator and Waste Committee report. In addition to Winchester residents, many from precincts 1 and 6, several people from neighboring Woburn were in attendence.

The crux of the problem seems to be the site for the incinerator rather than the incinerator itself. No one wanted the town dump placed in his area, although many felt that there was a pressing need for some type of refuse and garbage disposal facilities.

The committee, headed by Larry Smith, presented its position on the subject, answering different questions raised from the floor. The question of joining with another town in the refuse problem was discussed and the committee stated that they had contacted the neighboring towns and that none seemed interested in having Winchester's trash and garbage in their disposal areas.

Other methods of disposal were considered in the report which was printed in the Star last week. Several persons stated that they thought that incineration was the best method, although a man from an outside firm appeared at the meeting with another method and was to meet with the committee.

A question was raised that garbage disposal was not at present a problem and that it was not within the instructions which set up the committee to study rubbish and waste disposal. The committee felt that this was merely a question of semantics, for garbage is waste and the number of piggeries in Massachusetts is being reduced all the time, from 500 three years ago to 350 last year which might make this a problem. At present Winchester's garbage goes to a piggery in Woburn.

The committee recommended the Cross—East street site because it felt that this would be the most economical place in which to construct the incinerator. Another site considered was the Johnson road area which was rejected partly because a road would have to be built there.

The committee's report will be submitted at the Town Meeting and there are three articles in the Warrant pertaining to it (Articles 29-31). More discussion will undoubtedly take place at that meeting.

FIRES

Tuesday, February 25, a telephone call from Mr. Cammon of 15 Nathaniel road at 10:06 p. m. brought firefighters to his home. Firefighters found that the steam heating system was full of water. They drained the system and replaced a washer on the boiler feed and started the oil burner.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

All Troops

All troops should be preparing for the Scouts' Own to be held on Sunday, March 9. Parents and friends should be especially invited.

Brownies Visit Fire Station

The Brownies of Troop 37, Mrs. Roland Moody, leader, have been studying their community and recently took a hike through the center, taking notes on the public buildings and how they contribute to the life of our town. The highlight of the afternoon was an enjoyable and instructive tour through the fire station.

Brownie scouts attending were: Linda Barlow, Julia Carlson, Linda Collins, Karen Horley, Marguerite Lombardo, Jane Lynch, Ellen Moody, Teresa Procopio, Caroline Root, Lynne Smith, Joan Steinloski, Andrea Swett, Kathryn Woodward.

Adults accompanying the group were Mrs. S. M. Ward, chairman of Neighborhood II, Mrs. E. Robert Barlow, and Mrs. Darrell A. Root, assistant leader.

Troop 46 News

Recently 25 girls from Troop 46, sixth-grade intermediates from the George Washington School, Mrs. Joseph Brogue, leader, visited Buttrick's dairy in Arlington. They toured the plant and heard a lecture on the bottling and delivery of milk. Each girl was given a dish of ice cream.

Adults accompanying the group were Mrs. Walter Overacker, Mrs. Florence Civetti, Mrs. Norman Weeks, Mrs. John Van Dyke, and Mrs. Richard Keppler, assistant leader.

On Valentine's night, the girls had a box supper at the Second Congregational Church. The complete suppers, brought by each girl, were exchanged by drawing numbers from a hat.

Both the supper, and the trip to the dairy partially fulfill requirements of the Homemaking Badge.

Adult Scouts Take Training

Adults continue to show their interest in scouting by taking courses offiered by our section, planned to make their work as leaders or board members easier and more effective. Those attending a senior leaders course are Mrs. Frances Bowes, Mrs. James Stewart, and Mrs. Ralph Thompson. Attending a refresher course for volunteer trainers are Mrs. Charles Meyers, Mrs. James Stewart, and Mrs. Ralph Thompson. Mrs. J. P. Eugley is taking the course for volunteer trainer of leaders. Mrs. Shinnick is one of the instructors in this course.

Troop 18 News

Thirty girls of Troop 18, fifth grade Washington School, Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, leader, went to Borden's ice cream plant in Woburn recently, and were shown how the ice cream and chocolate covers were made and packaged. They were treated to sundaes and chocolate covereds afterwards.

In addition to the leader, the girls were accompanied by Mrs. Leo Ford, assistant leader, Mrs. Lester Brooks, Mrs. Joseph Brosius, and Mrs. William Urmson.

Troop 61 Brownies Entertain Mothers

Brownies of Troop 61, Lincoln School, 3rd Grade, held a morning coffee for their mothers on February 19, at the Lincoln School Auditorium. The Brownies entertained their mothers and small brothers and sisters with songs and games from other lands and told the audience about the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. At the close of the program, Brownie hats were passed and many generous contributions to the Juliette Low Fund were received. Then coffee, doughnuts, punch and cookies were served. The Brownies who participated were Loranne Gray, Kathleen Barrow, Beverly Story, Sandra Schipani, Nancy Millican, Regina Harwood, Cheryl Walker, Shelley Preston and Marilyn Zimmer. The Brownie Leaders who assisted the girls were Mrs. William Leighton and Mrs. Russell Zimmer, while Mrs. David Gray and Mrs. Richard Preston served refreshments.

SACHEMS TRIUMPH 1-0 IN FIRST ROUND OF STATE TOURNEY

Winchester punctured Archbishop Williams' undefeated record in the first round of the State Interscholastic Hockey Tournament before 3500 people at the Boston Arena Monday night.

The Archbishop William team had posted 10 wins and 2 ties in winning the championship of the South Shore League.

The Sachems displayed offensive and defensive class in downing the hardchecking Bishops. Winchester was in control from the start. In the first period the Braintree team had but one shot on goalie Doug Gowdy. Early in this period, the Winchester second line in a scramble scored a goal, but it was disallowed when the referee ruled that there was a Winchester man in the crease. Not to be denied, however, Captain Craig Davenport set up Bill Emerson for the only goal at 6:33. At this point Winchester's attack was functioning brilliantly. Both defensemen, Steve Powers and Dick Scott, did an excellent job in keeping the puck in the Williams' zone. The Archbishop William goalie Dick Short was called on to make several fine saves in this period.

The tactics of the hard-hitting Bishops team seemed to slow the Winchester attack in the second and third periods but they were only threatened seriously once when the right wing Ed Fitzgerald came in all alone on Gowdy who saved cleanly. The forward could not stop his momentum and continued on into the net knocking Gowdy to the ice.

Winchester never allowed the Bishops to get started. The Sachems were forechecking deep in the Williams' territory. Their position play gave them a free man in front of the Williams' net many times during the game.

LIBRARY NEWS

CITIZEN'S COMMITTEE FOR NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK FORMED

Mr. Harlan L. Paine, Jr., chairman of the Citizen's Committee for National Library Week, March 16-22 has announced that letters of invitation have been sent to representative citizens of Winchester asking them to join with him as members of this committee. At this time, the following people have accepted:

Donald J. Fritch, Roland H. Moody, Dr. Leonard C. Mead, Mrs. James B. Willing, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. Edward S. Rendall and Miss Elizabeth Livingstone. A meeting of the committee is being planned for the near future.

Lenten Reading Exhibit

There is an exhibit of religious books for Lenten reading in the foyer of the library to the left of the Main Reading Room. Also available is a Lenten Reading List which includes new religious books added to the collection during the past year.

Prepare for Town Meeting

Reports of Town Committees and other pertinent information concerning issues to go before Town Meeting are on exhibit at the library. Featured are the reports of the Incinerator and Waste Committee, the Junior-Senior High School Building Committee, the Kimball Report and the report on the Public Library Special Article. Why not stop at the library and acquaint yourself with this material.

"NICO"

DOG TO SIT FOR PORTRAIT

"Nico," toy fox terrier owned by Dr. Russell Holt, well-known vet of Winchester and Medford, is the lucky pet to have his likeness painted by Mrs. Jacob ("Marge") Van Vloten of Westland avenue.

On Monday last, at 1:45 p.m., Mr. Vincent Ambrose, president of the Winchester Trust Company, put his hand in the basket and drew forth the winner of the pet portrait sweepstakes sponsored by the Winchester Auxiliary of the M. S. P. C. A. Present at the drawing were the Mesdames Richard Pettingell, James Beal, Warren Wells, James Gustin and Fred Cardin.

The officers of the Winchester group extend their regrets to those ticket holders who did not win, but hope they will derive quite some satisfaction from the good use to which their money will be put in the animal world. Those interested are cordially invited to hear more about this at our next meeting on Monday, March 24, at 8 Ridgefield road.

FIGHTING SACHEM SEXTET LOSES TO AMESBURY

A never say die Winchester Hockey team went down to defeat to a great Amesbury effort last Thursday night in the semifinal of the North Shore League playoffs 3-2.

Amesbury led throughout the game but the Sachems were a constant threat even in the closing seconds of the game when skating six forwards they scored a goal to cut the Amesbury lead to one.

The first few minutes of the game saw action very even. Winchester could not connect though there shots were on the net. At 8:44 of the first period John Gilday passed up the ice to Johnny Martin. Martin kept skating the right lane and fired a high blast past Gowdy who did not have a chance on the shot.

Twenty seconds later Amesbury's second line scored on a shove into the goal from the left corner. Gowdy made the initial save but the puck hopped over his stick and barely rolled over the line.

Winchester started the second period with a terrific rush. Steve Powers gained control of the puck in his end and skated the length of the ice to fake the Amesbury defense. He lifted the puck high into the twine and Winchester was one goal down.

Amesbury scored a nice goal at 2:12 of the third period when a three way pass led to a score by Bob Martin.

Winchester kept fighting and in this period took control of the game but could not score. Of Gowdy's 19 saves, only two were in the last period.

With a minute to play Coach Frank Finigan yanked goalie Doug Gowdy. Scott drove the puck into the zone to Craig Davenport whose shot to the left side was deflected into the net by Dana Kelly.

Though this defeat was hard to take, this marked the first time since Winchester has been in the North Shore League that they have gone to the semi-finals of the playoffs.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

This coming Sunday, March 2, the Senior Fellowship of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will conduct a panel. The subject will be, "Youth Relationships with Parents." Members of the panel include youth representatives from each year in high school and several parents. The questions discussed will be those submitted by the members. Members of the panel are as follows: Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Emmons. Students are, freshman, Cynthia Knox; sophomore, William Leighton, III; junior, Aprille Godwin; senior, Gloria Craft. The intermediates and parents are cordially invited for the program and a pot-luck supper which precedes the program.

Last Sunday Jane Snook gave a talk on the Protestant Beliefs of a Christian. Mr. Blaney, the youth director, spoke on Methodist beliefs. This was the last in a series of three programs on our Christian beliefs. Aprille Godwin led the fellowship in a worship service.

Henry Knowlton of 8 Maxwell road, Winchester athletic director, will leave Saturday for Philadelphia on his way to Atlantic City for the National Football Coaches Clinic which will be held at the Ritz Carleton Hotel in that city. While he is at the conference he will room with Paul Dorrington, the Woburn coach.

P. A. L.

There were no games last week because of the school vacation. This is the report of the week of February 11 and February 12.

Next weeks schedule:

Senior League

Wednesday, March 5:
7:00 to 8:00 Lakers vs. Hawks
8:00 to 9:00 Pistons vs. Royals
9:00 to 10:00 Eagles vs. Celtics

Junior League

7:00 to 8:00 Yale vs. B. C.
8:00 to 9:00 Har. vs. Princeton
9:00 to 10:00 Dartmouth vs. H.C.

Correction

The last Junior standings reported Dartmouth as having a 3-5 record. The corrected record for the last report should read 2 wins and 6 losses for Dartmouth.

Junior League

The flu reduced the ranks of Holy Cross to six, taking two of their starters, but the Crusaders still rolled over Dartmouth 49-28. Mike Bellino and Ronnie Lynch were the high scorers for Holy Cross with 24 and 14 points. Don McCully with 8 led Dartmouth. A large amount of credit is due to little Mike Lonigro and Steve Morrison. These two boys have been bench warmers but stepped right in and although they did not score very much, were standouts on defense.

Princeton rolled over flu-ridden Yale 43-12. Richie Casalinuovo with 15 and Richie Bond (10) led the Gold attack. John Lane was high for Yale with 7.

Boston College defeated another undermanned Harvard team 62-46. Harvard was right in the game all the way and led by 11 points in the first period and 5 at the half, but B.C. able to substitute freely opened up a wide margin in the second half, particularly in the fourth quarter. Jack Brenner was high for B.C. with 26 points and Dick Marabella, playing his best game of the year had 14 big points and more important, completely controlled both backboards. "Preacher" Mullloy was high for Harvard with 33 points.

Mulloy moved into a first place tie with Mike Bellino in the Junior scoring race. Each has 186 points. Mulloy leads in the average department with 23-3 points per game to Bellino's 18-6.

Junior star of the week, Dick Marabella of B.C. "Toro" played his best game of the year and sparked a second half rally with his rebounding to help B.C. to an important win.

Senior League

The flu also hit the Senior League, causing one game Eagles vs. Hawks to be forfeited to the Eagles. This game will be replayed if possible, but for now, it will go into the books as an Eagle victory.

The Celtics continued their undefeated pace by walloping the Royals 63-36. Phil Fox with 23 points led the Celtics. Paul Goddu and Dick Winn with 15 and 12 were other Celtic double figure men. Frank Gaudioso with 14 was high for the Royals.

The Lakers edged the Pistons 51-47 in a very tight game. This game saw two technical fouls handed out to Laker Coach Bob Innis. Innis then proceeded to issue a protest but after the final outcome, Innis very graciously withdrew the protest. Peter Branch's foul shots late in the game put the Lakers out in front by two points and then a basket by "Slater" Martin iced the game just at the final bell. Branch and Steve Powers with 12 points were high for the Lakers. Tony Tofuri (15), Dave Littleton (13) and Jake Horn (12) led the Pistons.

Phil Fox's 23 points for the Celtics moved him past idle Dan Serieka of the Eagles into first place in the Senior scoring pace. Fox leads with 144 points for an 18 average in 8 games. Serieka has 129 points in 7 games for a league leading 18.4 average.

Senior star of the week: Pete Branch of the Lakers. Branch's two foul shots pulled the game out of the fire for the Lakers. He also was the high scorer for his team with 12 points.

The P.A.L. season is slowly drawing to a close. The tight Junior race could already be decided by the time this article goes to press because first place B.C. will meet second place Holy Cross in a game which could decide the title if B.C. were to win. The Celtics could clinch a tie for the Senior race with a win.

All are invited to attend the P.A.L. games on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. There is no better way to spend your time than to come down and watch the youngters.

GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM IS UNDEFEATED

(The article below is from "Following The Girls" which was written by Roberta Brennan and printed in the Boston Herald on Sunday, February 23).

Undefeated teams are becoming a tradition at Winchester High School as far as the girls are concerned. Once more, the basketball team rolled up an impressive string of victories, and outscored its opponents, 323 to 126, an average of 46 points for the seven games played.

Sandy Lawson
Also outstanding

Co-captain Betsy Snell was the highest scoring forward by far and averaged 18 points a game although she played less than one half of each game. Betsy also scored on a phenomenal 61 per cent of her shots. Other forwards on the team were Sherry McNeil, Linda Manimon, Stephie Hersey, Judy Dallin, Carol Fisher and Aggie Bixler. Co-capt. Carley Clark was outstanding among the guards, and playing center guard she averaged almost 10 rebounds a game.

Sandy Lawson also was outstanding. Mollie Devaney and Prudie Kimball were the other guards. Coach Mildred Barnes has reason to be proud of her girls, many of whom are seniors and have played their last game.

WINCHESTER POPULATION TRENDS

Report of
ROLAND E. SIMONDS

The annual street listing of persons twenty years of age and over and the school census of all those under twenty years of age has provided some very interesting facts. This information may be of interest to the citizens of the town.

POPULATION OF WINCHESTER JANUARY 1, 1958

	20 yrs. of age and over	Gain or loss	Under 20 yrs. of age	Gain	Total	Gain over 1957
Prec. 1	2,248	— 6	1,337	+ 67	3,585	61
Prec. 2	1,634	—13	769	17	2,403	4
Prec. 3	2,481	+12	1,334	59	3,815	71
Prec. 4	2,430	+82	1,496	78	3,926	160
Prec. 5	1,574	—34	849	48	2,423	14
Prec. 6	1,784	0	953	2	2,737	2
	12,151	+41	6,738	271	18,889	312

In addition to the above there are 74 persons living in Winchester who have their legal residence elsewhere.

Families Moving in Winchester in 1957

	New families in town	Families moving out of town
Precinct 1	55	35
Precinct 2	44	36
Precinct 3	60	39
Precinct 4	81	46
Precinct 5	43	40
Precinct 6	45	28
Total	328	224

There has been a net gain of 104 new families in 1957 compared with 80 in 1956; 111 in 1955 and 131 in 1954.

There have been about 190 families moving from one precinct to another precinct in town during the past year. These, with the families moving in and out of town, make a total of about 750 changes.

Population of Winchester January 1st

			Gain
1950	15,567	Federal Census
1951	16,025	Estimated	458
1952	16,450	Estimated	425
1953	16,900	Estimated	450
1954	17,400	Estimated	500
1955	18,126	State Census	726
1956	18,421	Street listing	295
1957	18,577	Street listing	156
1958	18,889	School census and street listing	312

The population of the town has increased 3,322 in 8 years based on the 1950 Federal Census.

The increase in the population in the past three years is as follows:

	20 years of age and over	Under 20 years	Total
1958	12,151	6,738	18,889
1955	12,043	6,083	18,126
Gain	108	655	763

Number of Vacant Houses January 1, 1958

Precinct 1	24
Precinct 2	8
Precinct 3	15
Precinct 4	33
Precinct 5	15
Precinct 6	8
Total	103

This is 25 more than January 1, 1957. Several of these houses have been occupied and the trend of families moving from one precinct to another precinct in the town still continued.

Number of Dogs Listed

Precinct 1	185
Precinct 2	109
Precinct 3	310
Precinct 4	361
Precinct 5	223
Precinct 6	133
Total	1,321

This is a loss of 37 from 1957.

It is interesting to note that the number of persons under 20 years of age is about 36 per cent of the total population which is an increase of one per cent over 1957.

Also of interest is the fact that there are 81 sets of twins with four families having two sets each and two families having triplets.

Slight increases in population can be expected in the next few years in Precincts 1, 3 and 5. Precinct 2 has reached its limit and only a very slight increase can be expected in Precinct 6.

A large increase can be expected in Precinct 4 west of Cambridge street, where there is considerable undeveloped property.

CHIEF HARROLD SPEAKS TO BAPTIST WOMEN

Chief Charles J. Harrold is to be the guest speaker at the First Baptist Women's League meeting on Thursday, March 6.

Chief Harrold, in his subject, will present his fabulous observations of juvenile delinquency—a topic of the most promising interest.

Mrs. Edwin Allen will be in charge of the White Cross sewing group at ten o'clock. Mrs. Paul Eaton and Mrs. Frederick MacDonald are co-chairmen for the luncheon to be served at noon. Mrs. Herbert Thompson will preside at a brief business meeting which will precede the speaker at one o'clock.

INJURED IN SLEDDING MISHAP

Deborah Lunt, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, Jr., of 14 Highland avnue, was injured a week ago Monday afternoon while she was coasting on Forest street. The accident occurred when the girl's sled hit a tree.

Police were summoned by a call from Mrs. Charlotte M. Mitchell of 169 Forest street, who reported that the girl had come to her home requesting help. Officers Thomas Parsons and Andrew Crawford took the girl to the Winchester Hospital, where she was treated by Dr. Harold J. Wheeler for a broken arm.

FENDER SKIRTS STOLEN

David Curtis of 53 Hutchinson road reported to the police early last Thurdsay morning that two fender skirts were stolen from his car. The fender skirts were stolen while his car was parked in the driveway.

Police are checking on the incident.

K. of C. 210

The Winchester Council 210 Knights of Columbus is preparing for the 63rd annual big event, namely the Communion Breakfast. Rev. Stephen E. Burke, the council chaplain, will be the celebrant of the mass to be held at the Immaculate Conception Church at 8:30 a. m. The breakfast will be held in the church hall immediately after the mass and Carrolls Caterers from Medford, Mass., will serve the meal. All planning to attend can be assured of both an excellent meal and a very fine talk from a well known personality.

This year Deputy Grand Knight Charles T. Doucette, Jr., will handle the chairmanship and is working very hard to make this the best one our council has ever had. Grand Knight Stergio Vangel is the Honorary Chairman. Some of the members assisting in the work are the following: Joseph P. Haggerty, PGK Charles W. Craven, PGK Vincent F. Erhard, William E. Dailey, PGK Leo (Chet) Thibeault, PGK Charles L. Haggerty, and Financial Secretary, Thomas C. Drapeau, and Chancellor Vincent D. McCabe, Vito Scaturro, John D. Mulrenan, treasurer; outside guard, William J. O'Leary, Laurence Erhard; warden, Kearin A. Dunn, Bart J. Conlon, Joseph S. Cerra; inside guard, Timothy F. Sullivan, Neil Kerrigan, Edward F. Dalton; council secretary, Edward J. Farrell, Anthony J. Deteso, Richard Fiore, James Cogan.

Those of you who are planning to attend should contact any of the above in regard to the purchase of tickets because if you wait too long there may not be enough to go around. This is a very worthwhile affair in two ways. First the spiritual aspect of the Mass and Communion and secondly the message that the speaker will present to us will help make our lives a little bit better and a clearer understanding of those who live around us. So let us give all the support we can to the men working on this event and please plan to attend.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The pressure is on as the top three teams maintain their present position as they all came up with four points each. We are going into the final quarter and the picture is going to change many times from the way things are starting to roll around.

The mighty mouse Tony Saraco pulled ahead a little farther to strengthen his position in the average department. He also had the honor of heading the parade of 300 bowlers with a superb 356. Also in the parade were "Winston" Frongillo, 337; Choppers Gangi, 333; Tony Chefalo, 335; Bob Fiore, 324; Corregidor Fiore, 320; M. J. Saraco, 307; Joe Ciarcia, 305; and the happy little mailman Babe Tofuri, 300.

The Fiores are a bowling group of athletes as you can see that there are three of them among the top ten bowlers. Naturally the Boy Scout leader Bob Fiore is the master of the family as he is having one of his finest years. His team Alabama, of which he is captain took the high team pinfalls of the evening. The scouts under him are Joe Ciarcia, Henry Subrizio, Joe Dilorio, Pete Lonigro and Dom Simonetta.

The new low string for the year was set by Frank Dattilo and Rocky Di Tesso as each bowled an incredible 65 string. The high string of the night was taken by Deadhorse Chefalo with a spectacular 130 followed by mighty mouse Tony Saraco, 129. We are also proud to announce that we had 25 bowlers who bowled over the 100 mark, darn good bowling I'd say. The high triple which is held by Max La Carubba was set opening night and so far it hasn't really been challenged. We wonder if it will hold?

We wish to thank all who attended the S.O.I. Women's Valentine Party which was a tremendous success. The committee should be praised for their behind the scene planning which is always taken for granted. The spectacular of the night was the solo by our S. O. I. Venerable who is indigenous to these United States. The rumble that resounded in our neighborhood that evening was not a jet breaking the sound barrier as many believed but was our gigantic venerable dancing with all the vim and vigor of 345 lbs of muscle and steel. His pretty companion with her dainty steele toed evening shoes made a colorful picture. Seriously speaking a good time was had by all and more of these functions should be planned.

TANNERS TRIMMED 59-37

After an extremely cold first half, in which they were able to score only 15 points, the Winchester boys broke the game wide open in the third period to defeat the Woburn Tanners going away, 59-37, in the home gym on Tuesday night.

At the end of one quarter the score was evened up at 9 points each; the half saw the Sachems with a slim two-point lead, 15-13. In the third period, however, the completion of the game changed as Winchester outscored the visitors 21-4, to take a commanding lead. the Indians continued to put on the pressure in the fourth quarter, scoring 23 points for a fairly easy win.

Vandy French led the Winchester hoopsters with 16 points while Doug Thomson and Dave Schumacher also hit double figures with 12 and 11 points respectively. Bob Magee was high for Woburn with 12 tallies.

Winchester as a team had 22 of 47 shots from the floor for an excellent 47 per cent shooting average while Woburn had only 11 out of 43 shots for a poor 26 per cent. The Sachems outrebounding the Tanners 40-27. Captain Hank Schumacher leading in this department with 15 bounds.

BELMONT STOPS JV's 45-35

The Belmont J.V. broke Winchester's unbeaten sting at 9 when they defeated the junior Sachems 45-35 on Fridray, February 14. Winchester, although missing two of its starters due to sickness and injury, battled gamely in the second half, but were unable to catch the alert Belmont five. Phil Nichols led the Winchester attack with 13 points, while Bob Kelly paced the victors with 13 also. This was the last league game for Winchester, and it gave them an 11-3 record.

JV's TROUNCE WOBURN 59-41

Grabbing an early lead, the Winchester Jay Vee rolled over Woburn 59-41 on February 18. Enjoying a 27 point bulge at half time, Coach Knowlton was able to play his second team throughout the remainder of the game. Hank Kiley and George Tisdale led Winchester's onslaught with 11 and 10 points respectively. Bolster and Constantino both reached double figures for Woburn with 12 points apiece.

GYMNASTIC TEAM WINS OVER ANDOVER

Reversing a previous loss in January, the Winchester High School Gymnastic Team won an exciting meet against Andover High School 29-24 on February 12. Dick Low and George Ducharme were high scorers for Winchester with 11 and 7 points, respectively.

Although competing against a team that had beaten them in a home meet on January 14, the Winchester gymnasts went confidently to Andover under the able coaching of Mr. Isidore Battino. They took all three places in long horse leaping, first and third in parallel bars and tumbling, second and third in flying rings, and second and third respectively in the horizontal bar and rope climbing. Besides Low and Ducharme, the other Winchester scorers were Parker Allen with five, Leonard Mead with three, and Dave Archer, Chris King, and Bob Cass with one point each.

Coaches and assistants from both teams judged the events on the basis of difficulty, form, and continuity. As in the January meet, Andover's star performer Jack Fitzgerald had the highest individual score with 13 points.

These two meets with Andover represents the first competition which the Winchester gym team has faced. Several more meets are scheduled for next month.

WINCHESTER BOYS OUTSTANDING AT PHILLIPS EXETER

Several boys from Winchester have earned respected positions for themselves at Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, New Hampshire. Darrow C. Kirkpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kirkpatrick of 85 Bacon street, has been at Exeter two years and is the vice-president of the lower middle (sophomore) class and a valuable member of the Exeter track team.

John C. Ulfelder, son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Ulfelder of 15 Sheffield road, is also in his second year at P.E.A. and is on the J.V. wrestling team and a prominent member of the Pacific Coast Club which recently sponsored the Exeter Winter Dance.

Another Winchester resident, William F. Sibley, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sibley of 15 Cambridge street, in his third year at Exeter, achieves high honors and includes among his extra-curricular activities being co-editor of the "E-Book," and a member of the glee-club.

Other Exonians from Winchester are John C. LeGates (who was recently written up in the Star as a finalist in the General Motors Scholarship competition) and his brother Richard T. LeGates, sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. LeGates of 106 Church street, Clark Chandler, son of Mrs. J. G. Chandler of Lawson road, and Daniel C. Dennett, son of Mrs. D. C. Dennett of Mystic Valley Parkway.

TWO ON TUFTS DEANS' LIST

Two Winchester girls, students at Jackson College, Tufts University, have been named to the Dean's List for the past semester, it is announced by Dean Katharine R. Jeffers.

Marie C. Dellovo and Patricia J. Aitken, both Jackson seniors, live, respectively, at 4 Sargent road and 26 Myopia road.

MISSION UNION LENTEN STUDY GROUP

The first of four Lenten morning study sessions sponsored by the Mission Union of the First Congregational Church will be held Thursday, March 6, at the home of Mrs. Robinson S. Whitten, 15 Everett avenue. Coffee will be served at 9:30 and the program will begin at 10:10. Mrs. Thomas Kell will be the worship leader and the Mesdames Robert Kittredge, Reid D. Weedon and John Farrell will make up the discussion panel. The subject of the morning will be "The Japan of Yesterday."

The theme of the Lenten mornings will be "Cross and Crisis in Japan." This is the title of a book by Charles W. Inglehart which will be the source for the discussions. Copies of this book are available for sale or loan from the education chairman, Mrs. Charles E. Crede, WInchester 6-0965, and it is hoped that all of the women of the church will avail themselves of the opportunity of participating in this timely discussion. Those desiring transportation will please call Mrs. Edgar D. Hinton, WInchester 6-3433, or Mrs. Charles E. Greene, WInchester 6-0433.

Successive meetings will be held March 13, 20, and 27. The discussion at the March 13 meeting at the home of Mrs. William D. Barone will be led by Miss Jutta Reich. The topic will be "Meeting Today's Crisis Together."

The home of Mrs. Wesley Mallery will be the site of the March 20th meeting, at which time Mrs. James S. Allen will lead the discussion on "Religion" ("Even a tiny minority, given the power of a deep and radiant faith, can rise above statistics"—Inglehart).

The concluding meeting, to be held at the church, will consist of an illustrated talk on "Christian Life in Japan" by Mrs. John Fairfield with Mrs. Robert Lowry as worship leader.

The coffee committee for each of these meetings is comprised of Mrs. Robert F. Williams, chairman, Mrs. William Early, Mrs. William McFarland, Mrs. James S. McKindsey, and Mrs. Marvin F. Spooner.

BRAINTREE BEATEN 64-53

In their last regular game this season the Sachems defeated a surprisingly determinted Braintree five, 64-53, in the home gym on Friday night. Braintree thus became only the third team this season to score as many as 50 points against the Indians.

Winchester jumped to an early lead and was ahead by twelve points, a seemingly comfortable margin, at the half. The visitors, however had not given up; in the third period they scored 26 points and led for a short time before the Sachems regained their shooting eye to go out in front by seven points at the end of the quarter. In the final eight minutes Braintree could not match its shooting of the previous quarter, scoring only 10 points, though a good defense held Winchester to 14.

Dave Schumacher paced the Sachem shooting with 24 points, his high for the season, while Doug Thomson added 13 to the total. Magaldi and Legg of Braintree hit in double figures with 12 and 11 points respectively.

Winchester was outshot from the floor percentagewise but fortunately not in number of baskets. The Sachems collected a total of 21 field goals in 58 shots for a 35% shooting average while the visitors had 18 baskets in 35 shots for 51%. Rebounding was an important factor in the Sachem victory as the hometowners swept 42 bounds off the boards to 26 for Braintree.

Celebrates Its 53rd Birthday

Rotary Club Observes Anniversary Of Rotary International

Winchester was linked today with 9,700 other cities and towns on six continents as the Rotary Club of Winchester commemorated the 53rd anniversary of the founding of Rotary. The birthday of this world-wide fellowship of business and professional executives was celebrated by the local Rotary Club at its meeting yesterday.

World-Wide Program

In commenting on the program of Rotary, Nelson Fontneau, President of the Rotary Club, said:

"Rotary activities throughout the world are based on the same general objectives as those of our own Club—the development of fellowship among business and professional men, the betterment of communities, leading boys and girls into good citizenship, the promotion of high standards in businesses and professions, and the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace.

"The one basic objective of Rotary," he continued, "is its 'Ideal of Service,' which is to be thoughtful of and helpful to others. To attain this objective, Rotary seeks all that which brings people together and avoids all which separates them. This is the reason why Rotary has become a world-wide institution, whose ideals have been accepted by men differing widely in language, customs, and historical backgrounds."

Continuous Growth

In tracing the growth of Rotary, President Fontneau, said:

"The first Rotary Club was organized in Chicago, U.S.A., on February 23, 1905, by Paul P. Harris, a young lawyer, who suggested the idea to a group of his friends. The name 'Rotary' was selected because the first meetings of the Club were held, in rotation, in the offices of its members. The Rotary ideals of fellowship and service to others soon spread from city to city in the U.S.A. and Canada and then crossed the oceans to every continent.

"For more than half a century, Rotary has grown in numbers and strength. In 1957, for example, nearly 400 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 48 countries, and a dozen new countries were added to Rotary's membership roster—British Honduras in Central America; Cambodia in Asia; Eritrea, French Cameroon, French Equatorial Africa and Uganda in Africa; Guadeloupe, Martinique, the Virgin Islands and the West Indies Federation in the Caribbean Sea; Liechtenstein in Europe; and Papua in New Guinea.

"Today, Rotary is a world-wide service organization of more than 454,000 business and professional executives who are members of 9,700 Rotary Clubs in 108 countries on six continents."

Rotary Fellowships

Referring to one of the projects in which all Rotary Clubs around the world are participating, President Fontneau said that the Rotary Foundation Fellowships program was inaugurated as a memorial to the founder of Rotary, Paul P. Harris. "These Rotary Fellowships enable outstanding graduate students to live and study for one year in a country other than their own, as ambassadors of good will, on grants averaging $2,500," he said.

"More than 1,000 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students from 61 countries in the past 11 years for study in 42 countries, and Rotary International's grants in this field of international understanding have amounted to more than $2,500,000. Through this program of other-country student fellowships, Rotary is endeavoring to foster better international relaneau briefly outlined the history of tions by increasing the personal contacts which the nations of the world have with each other."

Dallas Convention

Rotary's 1958 annual convention will be held in Dallas, Texas, U.S.A., June 1 - 5, when thousands of Rotarians from around the world will rededicate themselves to Rotary's motto of "Service Above Self."

Local Club Is Active

Supplementing the international aspects of Rotary, President Fontneau briefly outlined the history of the Rotary Club of Winchester, which was organized April 5th, 1927, and which now has 68 members. In commenting on its activities, he described as its major projects the building of the Girl Scout Cabin, cabins at Winning Farm, FM Radio Station at the High School; donations to Hospital Home for the Aged and various youth organizations in Winchester.

N. E. TWO-YEAR COLLEGES PLAY IMPORTANT ROLE

New England's two-year colleges are playing an increasingly important role in providing educational opportunities for the youth of the region, according to a survey by the New England Board of Higher Education. These include junior colleges, community colleges and technical institutes.

This year the 28 two-year institutions in the area enrolled about 8500 full-time and 6000 part-time students. Almost three-fourths of the full-time and nearly all the part-time students were residents of New England. Expansion plans show that next year these colleges will be able to enroll over 9600, an increase of 13 per cent.

Of the places available last fall, 94 per cent were filled and more than half the schools reported that they reached their capacity. The remaining institutions, among them Becker, Cambridge, Chamberlayne, Franklin Technical Institute, Holyoke, Mitchell, Roger Williams and Westbrook (day students only) stated they could have enrolled an additional total of 465.

The reasons most frequently given for not enrolling more include lack of living accommodations, classroom facilities or qualified applicants particularly in certain programs.

With plans for additional facilities next year, 19 colleges will be able to increase the size of the student body by 1100. Some of those announcing an increase next year are Bay Path, Leicester, New Haven, Wentworth and the colleges mentioned above.

There are also many New England students attending separately organized two-year divisions of the region's four-year colleges and still others at non-degree-granting schools.

WYMAN WINTER MEETING

The Winter Meeting of the Wyman Parents' Association will be held on Tuesday evening, March 4, 7:30 p. m. at the Wyman Auditorium. All parents are cordially invited to be present to hear Mrs. Hatchell's Fifth Grade Class give an Arithmetic Demonstration.

The pupils will show an actual class group lesson and will stress that arithmetic in school shall be meaningful. A discussion period will follow.

ACCIDENT ON SHORE ROAD

John W. Thompson, II, of 11 Cabot street went to the police station on Saturday to report that while driving a Ford sedan north on Shore road, north of Blind Bridge street, his car struck and injured William Falzano, age 9, of 25 Spruce street.

The boy was taken to the Winchester Hospital by a passing motorist and was treated for abrasions on both knees and the left side of his face by Dr. Kermond.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

The Winchester Community Theatre an organization which works diligently to bring to our town and surrounding areas, good theatre experience, in both the children's and adults interest spheres, again brings to the local scene a stellar attraction. Mr. George Billman, president of the Winchester Community Theatre, announces that Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel will be chairman of the spring celebrity presentation. Mrs. Hamel states that her various committee chairmen and their aides have been hard at work arranging all details for the forthcoming celebrity event. The guest star, as announced last week will be Claire Luce, internationally famous American actress. Miss Luce, as well as being an outstanding dramatic actress is a most interesting personality. She will present a brillant and exciting evening of theatre entertainment, when she appears upon the stage of the Winchester High School Auditorium, on Saturday evening, March 15, at 8:30 p. m. She will base her program on Aldous Huxley's essay, "Fashions in Love." Miss Luce will portray some of the famous women of history in dramatic scenes from their lives. Her gallery of portrayals will include: "Camille," "Saint Joan," "Cleopatra," Elizabeth Barrett Browning, "Salome" and "Lady MacBeth."

Mrs. Rogers Hamel has announced the following committee chairmen for the affair:

Program, Mr. George Billman
Tickets, Mrs. A. J. Connell
Stage and auditorium supervision, Mr. Thomas Morse
Window displays, Mrs. Joseph Butler
Ushers, Mrs. George Stone
Posters, Mrs. Michael V. Mackenzie
Mailing, Mrs. John Keliher and Mrs. Michael MacDonald, Jr.

Mrs. Hamel is handling reservations for Winchester Community Theatre Sponsors and Members and Mrs. A. J. Connell and her committee will arrange for all tickets on public sale.

IN RALLY DAY SHOWS

Miss Jean E. Dwinell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Jr., of 7 Fernway and Miss Margaret Dietz, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Albert G. H. Dietz of 19 Cambridge street, participated in the rally day shows, part of the traditional Smith College celebration of Washington's birthday.

Miss Dwinell was coordinator of the junior show and Miss Dietz was a member of the cast of the Sophomore show.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

On Monday, February 24, the Fortnightly met as usual in the social hall of the First Baptist Church at 2 p.m., with the president, Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, in the chair.

The chairman of the legislation committee, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, called attention to a tour of the State House which members may join on Tuesday, March 4, starting at 10 a.m., Room 426. Some legislative committee hearings will be included and in the afternoon the Senate and House will be visited. Let Mrs. Whitman know if you expect to go.

Information about the annual luncheon was given by Mrs. Harold E. Bergquist. The date is April 14 and the place, the Town Line House, Lynnfield. Tickets will be on sale at our next meeting, March 10. This will be drama day. Miss Nina Wentworth will entertain with "Show Business Merry-go-round." She has had wide theatrical experience as a director of plays as well as actress and commentator on radio and TV programs. A dessert will be served at 1 p.m.

When Mrs. Whitman had introduced the Hon. Charles Gibbons of Stoneham, speaker of the afternoon, he commended her for her fine work on bills at the State House. It surprised many to know that Massachusetts citizens are the only ones in the United States or the world who have the right to "free petition," to be able to present any bill, knowing it will be given a hearing. Any bill filed must be considered by the legislative body.

It was evident that fourteen years in the legislature had made Mr. Gibbons aware of some unnecessary as well as requisite practices, one of these being the "Recess Commissions" with trips here and there. He spoke of the willingness of the Senate to consider changes in the Graham Bill (on abuses of the pension law) but so far the House has rejected it. The Reciprocal Trade Act and reasons given for the "recession" were discussed.

The complicated tax question was touched upon; a new "withholding" idea would involve much additional bookkeeping. He stated that this country sells much more than it buys from others and spoke of the essentials for our economic stability as sound.

Several years ago Mr. Gibbons inaugurated the housing projects for elderly people which are now being realized. His modesty did not detract from the very favorable impression he made on his audience. One question from the floor he answered by saying anyone can help in legislation by becoming well informed through attending State House meetings, writing one's opinions to Mr. Harrison Chadwick, and following the example set by Mrs. Whitman, who has made her voice heard.

Tea followed. The table was decorated with a patriotic Washington's birthday centerpiece. Mrs. Alfred W. Drew and Mrs. John B. Wills poured.

Prof. Hoyt C. Hottel of 27 Cambridge street and Prof. Albert G. H. Dietz of 19 Cambridge street are members of the space heating committee for the new solar house in Lexington which will soon be open to the public. The house was built by M.I.T. and combines a solar heating system with a house designed for comfortable suburban living in a northern climate.

SPEAKS AT N. E. CAMPING ASSOCIATION

Dr. Franklin Patterson of 9 Symmes road, Lincoln Filene professor of civic education at Tufts University and director of the university's civic education center, will give the keynote address at the annual meeting of the New England Camping Association on Friday evening, February 28, at the Hotel Statler.

DR. AND MRS. HORLEY ATTEND OPTOMETRIST CONGRESS

Dr. and Mrs. Donald W. Horley of 3 Webster street will be among those from this area who will be attending the 36th Annual Congress of the New England Council of Optometrists which convenes Sunday, March 2, at the Hotel Statler, and runs through Wednesday of that week.

The four-day Congress held in Boston each year has grown to be the foremost optometric educational meeting in the country. The six-state Postgraduate meeting combines an educational, social and informational program of outstanding interest.

This year the Council's educational session on "Contact Lenses," Monday evening, March 3, will be open to the public. The lecture, known as the George S. Houghton Memorial Lecture, will be delivered by Dr. John C. Neill, Professor at the Pennsylvania State College of Optometry.

Subnormal vision, Visual Problems of Adolescents and Social and Health Care Trends are among the other subjects to be discussed at the educational sessions of the Congress.

The Annual Award of Merit, instituted four years ago, will be presented this year to the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and will be accepted by its Medical Director, Dr. George F. Wilkins.

RED CROSS NOTES

The executive committee and board of directors of the Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross met for their first meeting in the new chapter house on Tuesday, February 25, at 8:00 p. m. Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald and Mrs. Kingman P. Cass, canteen co-chairmen, provided table decorations with a Washington's Birthday theme, and served dessert and coffee.

The Red Cross gratefully appreciates the Unitarian Tuesday Group's giving its time to Red Cross production under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. Reginald Bradlee. The group is already working on surgical dressings and knitting.

Through the generosity of the Junior Red Cross of the Winchester High School, the Winchester chapter's final 1957-58 commitment of 20 Chinese checker games and Ping-pong paddles was filled this past week under the leadership of Ted Little. At the same time the final commitment of sweaters and surgical dressings was delivered to Bedford Hospital.

The Junior Red Cross volunteers to the chapter house, John Cleary and Ned Crotty, have been particularly faithful in keeping the paths shovelled for the Red Cross car and around the chapter house. They have also painted the staircase and many of the floors in the chapter house.

Ten-year service bar pins were awarded to Mrs. W. Eben Ramsdell, Mrs. Frank S. Wagner, Mrs. Frank S. Clifford, and Mrs. Arthur Belville at a brief ceremony on Tuesday, February 25.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

The St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club's Annual Communion Supper will be held following the 7:45 p.m. Mass on Wednesday evening, March 5, at St. Mary's Hall. This event has always proved to be a popular one, and according to the ticket chairmen, Mary and Charles Craven, we expect to attract another large crowd this year.

General chairmen for the evening are Virginia and George Govoni. They are being assisted by Mary and Charles Craven, ticket chairmen, Mary and Frank Brennan, in charge of decorations, and Eileen and Eric Johnson, who are in charge of the catering arrangements.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Rev. Father John J. Grant, associate editor of the Pilot. We feel very fortunate in having been able to obtain Father Grant's acceptance, as he is a much sought after speaker and one who, we know, will contribute immeasurably to the evening's program.

If you have not already made plans to attend, please do so soon, as it is going to be a very worthwhile program and one I am sure you will not want to miss.

CHURCH SERVICE LEAGUE

Women from the other churches in Winchester will be the guests of the Church Service League of the Parish of the Epiphany at the forthcoming general meeting on March 18.

The program for this event, which will be held in the parish hall at 3:00 p. m. promises to be both interesting and unusual. As the mission study topic for the United Church Women in Japan, the afternoon's entertainment has been planned to highlight that country.

While tea is being served by the Tuesday Group, hospitality committee of the church, the guests will hear recorded background music by the Azuma Kabuki musicians.

Mrs. Robert Sibley is preparing readings which will point up the tensions in present day Japan against the background of ancient traditions and the influence of modern communism. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Robert Anderson on the harp.

To make the atmosphere more authentic the principals in the program will be costumed in Japanese attire. Mrs. John Elliot is giving advisory help on the costumes.

EDITORIALS

The town election this year will be held this Monday, March 3. The election polls are in the town hall auditorium and will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The ballot is printed on page 9 of this issue so there is no reason why anyone should be uninformed.

Actually the right to vote is a privilege and even more than this, it is a duty. For if the democratic process is to work then the citizens, all the citizens, must take their part in the election procedure. Strangely enough, just as complete an autocratic system can be built in the U. S. because people fail to exercise their voting privilege as is developed by force in other countries. Through the laziness of voters it would be relatively easy for a small group to be elected over and over again.

Since this is our town, we must be interested in choosing representatives and officials who will not only represent us well at town meeting, but who will help Winchester be an even better place in which to live. We have an invested and vital interest in seeing that this is done. Let's all get out and cast our ballots and do our share in our government.

Remember: Monday, March 3, at the town hall auditorium from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., twelve hours in which the immediate future of Winchester is in your hands.

No systems are ever so perfect that they can't be improved upon, and a lack of a system leaves lots of leeway for improvement. One system conspicuously lacking in Winchester is a method of digging out the fire hydrants after a heavy snowstorm. The present method is to have residents clear out the hydrants in front of their houses, a hit or miss method at best.

There is no need to delve into the necessity of clearing hydrants, for it is common knowledge that the first few minutes of a fire are the most important to firefighters in bringing it under control; these precious minutes needn't be spent hunting for the water supply.

One excellent method we've heard about recently is that carried out in Hingham. In that town the Boy Scouts have taken over this operation and the different leaders assign the boys to hydrants throughout the town. With knowledge of where the hydrants are located, the Scouts are able to do the work efficiently and at the same time build good will in the town by performing a very vital service.

EXCELLENT SNOW REMOVAL BRINGS OUT FIRST LETTER

Editor of the Star:

I feel compelled to write a letter to the editor for the first time in my thirty-three years as a Winchester business operator.

Our street superintendent, James A. Wakefield, Jr., and his entire force is to be commended for an outstanding and excellent job done in clearing the snow from the streets of Winchester during the recent snowstorm.

The condition of Winchester streets has been brought forcibly to my attention by the contrast of nearby communities, which, ten days after the storm, have not been properly cleared of snow. Not only were Winchester streets cleared promptly after the storm, they were passable during the height of the worst storm on record in many years.

This letter is written to publicly thank Mr. Wakefield and his snow removal crew for justifying our pride in Winchester. May they experience the satisfaction of a difficult task accomplished against heavy handicaps and merit the gratitude of the entire town.

Very truly yours,
Ralph H. Bonnell

TOWN MEETING ATTENDANCE

Editor of the Star:

The attendance records of the town meeting members who are candidates for re-election were not published last week as they were among a number of articles cut or omitted due to lack of space. The League of Women Voters has withdrawn them from publication this week as there would be no time before the elections for members wishing to explain absences. We are sorry as we feel they are valuable to the voters.

Mrs. Richard W. Freeman, Jr.
Chairman, Voters Service Committee, League of Women Voters of Winchester

BEGINS POSITION AS STEWARDESS

Marcia Claire Lynch has graduated from Eastern Air Lines flight attendant training school in Miami, Florida, and started her career as an EAL stewardess.

Miss Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Lynch, 48 Swanton street, is a graduate of Winchester High School. She was in the U. S. Marine Corps for three years, attaining the rank of sergeant before joining the airline.

Upon completion of a five-week training course in Miami, Miss Lynch chose to be based in Miami. From there she will fly to many cities Eastern serves in 25 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Bermuda, Puerto Rico and Mexico.

CLAIRE LUCE PRESENTS PROGRAM ON MARCH 15

Claire Luce, who appears here on Saturday evening, March 15, under the auspices of the Winchester Community Theatre, is the only American actress to have appeared for a season at the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon, starring as Cleopatra, Beatrice, Viola and other famous roles. The year she spent there was, she says, one of the highlights of her entire career, although her fabulous successes in this country, as well as abroad, have made her famous in many other coveted roles. Her fans will argue as to which were her greatest accomplishments: in Cole Porter's "The Gay Divorcee," in which she starred in New York and London; as Salome in Oscar Wilde's play, or her magnificent Shakesperean portrayals: as Katherine in "The Taming of the Shrew" at New York City Center Theatre, Beatrice in "Much Ado about Nothing," Viola in "Twelfth Night" or Shakespeare's Cleopatra which "Who's Who In the Theatre" records as a "memorable performance."

Miss Luce made several splendid films in England, starring in "Rain," "A Doll's House," "Anna Christie;" and she is equally at home in television in innumerable starring roles, among them, Becky Sharpe in "Vanity Fair," "The Green Woman" in "Peer Gynt," "The Queen Bee," "Reflected Glory," etc.

The solo program which Miss Luce is presenting here is based upon Aldous Huxley's essay "Fashions in Love" and illustrates in turn the various "eras" of love as Mr. Huxley discusses them. Miss Luce portrays highly dramatic scenes in various periods of history.

Romantic Love: Dumas' "Camille"; Passion: Shakespeare's "Cleopatra" Spiritual Love: Shaw's "Saint Joan"; Love of Power: Shakespeare's Lady Macbeth; "Love for Love's Sake Only": Elizabeth Barrett Browning with her "Sonnets from the Portuguese", and Physical Love: Oscar Wilde's "Salome".

1958 WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

REV. JOHN P. ROBERTSON

NAMED STATE SENATE CHAPLAIN

The Rev. John P. Robertson, former assistant minister at the First Congregational Church from 1945-1948, was unanimously elected chaplain of the state Senate on Tuesday. Rev. Robertson is pastor of the First Congregational Church in Braintree.

Dr. Robertson was graduated from Norwood High School and in 1939 from Boston Latin. He is a graduate of Tufts University, class of 1944, and of the Crane Theology School at Tufts in 1945. In addition he completed graduate work at Boston University and at Harvard. Last June Tufts conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

He was ordained at the Montvale Church of Woburn in June 1945 and then came to Winchester. He was selected to lead the Braintree church, largest Congregational church on the South Shore, in June 1948.

Dr. Robertson is married to the former Barbara Lewis whose father was a Tufts professor. They have two sons, David and Donald, and three daughters, Joanne, Carol and Martha.

While he was in Winchester he was an active follower of local sports, very active in DeMolay work and associate chaplain of the William Parkman Lodge.

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowledge of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all newcomers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at WInchester 6-3431 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

SENIOR FORUM

Rev. Leonard G. Clough, popular minister to students in the Cambridge area and associate minister of the First Congregational Church in Cambridge, will be the guest speaker Sunday at the 9:30 a.m. service for the Senior Forum in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church. Mr. Clough has had years of experience in dealing with teen-age and college-age youth and has an easy way of communicating his ideas to young people. His subject is a challenging one: "Let's Stop Being Good and Start Being Christian." It being the first Sunday of the month (when girls assist in the service), the chaplain will be Martha Fish, with Elizabeth Fisher serving as assistant chaplain. Carole Snow and Sue Nanry will be deacons and the ushers will be Janet Keppler and Marilyn Hall.

A special meeting of interest to all Forumites who are thinking about the annual spring trip will be held in Little Chidley Hall this Sunday at 7:00 p.m. The meeting has been arranged by Stephie Hersey and Doug Gowdy, co-chairmen of the spring trip, with the advice of Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey. They will present Mr. Prinz, owner of "Oak'n Spruce," a lodge in South Lee, Mass., where Forum has voted to take its spring trip this year. Situated in the heart of the Berkshires, the lodge will be the starting point from which interesting trips to nearby points of interest and importance may be taken. The lodge itself is equipped for year-round recreational purposes. Mr. Prinz will show movies of his place and discuss possible schedules of activities with Forumites. All Forumites, whether or not they have decided to go on the trip, are cordially invited to attend this special meeting.

Forumites will attend the Youth Lenten Service on Wednesday at 7:45 A. M. at Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church. These services are sponsored for all Protestant young people by the Interchurch Youth Council.

ORCHESTRAL CONCERT

Final rehearsals are underway for the orchestral concert to be presented at the Memorial Auditorium on Saturday evening, March 1, by the Lexington High School and Winchester High School orchestras.

The 105-piece combined orchestra should please music lovers of all ages. This group is well balanced with full symphonic instrumentation. The sonorities of sound which come from this group of young players are pleasing and full. The program is a high-type one and challenging for any group of players. The two conductors, Mr. Donald J. Gillespie and Mr. Wendell S. Withington expressed satisfaction with the progress of the rehearsals.

Tickets are on sale at Hevey's and McCormack's Drug Stores or may be purchased at the door. In this busy week of athletic tournaments, it is hoped that the citizens of Winchester will support the school's musical organization as well as they do the athletic teams. The concert will begin promptly at 8:15 p.m.

EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN GETS UNDERWAY

Henry K. White, vice-president of the First National Bank of Boston, will serve as Greater Boston area treasurer for the 1958 Easter Seal campaign, it was announced today by John F. Collins, Register of Probate for Suffolk County and campaign chairman for the area.

Robert J. Gaudrault of Springfield, vice-president of Friendly Ice Cream Corp., is chairman of the $375,000 state-wide Easter Seal appeal of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped which will be held from March 6 through Easter.

Services for crippled children and adults made possible by the annual campaign include rehabilitation centers for both crippled children and adults in Springfield and Worcester, a J.O.B. (Just One Break) Program which helps to find jobs for physically disabled adults in the Greater Boston area; physical, occupational and speech therapy; special summer therapy services, social service, parent education services, assistance to public schools in relation to crippled children, architectural counseling for the handicapped and student training in the field of rehabilitation.

HARRISON F. LYMAN, JR.

LEAVES FOR SPRINGFIELD MONSANTO PLANT

Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., former chairman of the Winchester Board of Selectmen and secretary of the Planning Board, has been appointed Counsel for the Plastics Division of Monsanto Chemical Company, and will be leaving Winchester the first of March to assume his new duties at Springfield.

Monsanto's plastics division, which is the largest manufacturing division of the company, has plants in several locations throughout the country, including Seattle, Santa Clara, Cincinnati and Texas City. It also has several affiliates abroad. Monsanto's corporate headquarters are located in St. Louis, but the rapid growth of the plastics division has made it desirable to have counsel assigned to divisional headquarters in Springfield, and it is understood that Mr. Lyman, in addition to his service as attorney for the Plastics Division, will assist its general manager with regard to problems of business administration.

Mr. Lyman has served in various civic as well as governmental capacities here in Winchester, having been a trustee of the Winchester Savings Bank, a director of the Winchester Hospital, a trustee of the Home for Aged People and Chairman of the Republican Town Committee. In 1956 Mr. Lyman was the Republican candidate for the State Senate from the Sixth Middlesex District, comprising Arlington, Woburn, the greater part of Medford, and Winchester; and this past fall was elected a member of the Republican State Committee. He is now completing a five-year term as a member of the Winchester Planning Board during which time he has done a great deal of work in the development of zoning and subdivision control in the town.

SPRING FASHION SHOW AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

The George Washington School Mothers' Association is sponsoring a spring fashion show given by Marie's Hat Shoppe of Woburn to be held in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 4, at 8:15 p. m. A very spectacular show is planned which will feature the modeling of gowns, hats, and bags for every occasion to be modeled by the Washington School mothers.

Delicious refreshments will be served by the social committee and there will be a door prize of a hat and bag to add to a lucky someone's Easter finery. All are most cordially invited to come and enjoy this preview to spring. Tickets to this affair will be available at the door.

RUTHERFORDS INTRODUCE NEW ZIPPER AT NEW ENGLAND HOME SHOW

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rutherford of Winslow road took time out for their official enterprise—the kitchen business—to introduce their new creation, a zipper guard which they have named "Zip-Easy." Helping them at their booth in the New England Home Show was pert and pretty Eileen Mullen, the Hart model who was recently chosen to stand-in for movie actress Jean Simmonds. Miss Mullen's costume was bright red, and her official name at the show "Miss Zip-Easy" was printed on the back of her cape. She attracted as much attention from the male visitors as the Zip-Easy did from the opposite sex.

Mr. Rutherford decided months ago after observing his wife's slips being caught in zippers even when he offered a helping hand that something should be done to prevent such annoyance as well as monetary loss. After making several models which they have used successfully for some time, he decided to have molds made for volume production so that others could have the benefit of this small contrivance. The Zip-Easy unit acts as a shield between the clothing or skin and the zipper track. It is placed over the zipper mechanism and its handle clasped with the zipper tab. As the zipper is closed the guard moves along in front of the track, preventing clothing or skin being caught.

The Zip-Easy was received with great enthusiasm at the show. Besides Massachusetts business people there were some from other New England states and as far off as Califronia who asked for opportunities to handle its sale in their localities.

One of the sources of fun at the show for the Rutherfords was the intense surprise on the faces of various friends from Winchester who were quite bewildered not finding them amidst an ultra modern kitchen display at the show. However, this was the first week that the Zip-Easy had been on the market, and it seemed the ideal place to get a cross section of public opinion and acceptance.

PACK 9 ANNUAL BANQUET

Cub Scout Pack 9 had its annual Blue and Gold Banquet on February 26 at the George Washington School. More than 150 scouts and parents enjoyed a ham and bean supper prepared by the den mothers. Pack Master John Stone presided and 73 awards were made to 37 scouts.

The feature event of the evening was a model car race. The models were made by the boys with some help from their Dads as their father and son project. The winners were:

Wolves—Tommy Varley
Bears —Teddy Howard
Lions —David Mayer

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Romney, West Virginia, changed hands 56 times during the Civil War.

Hibernation is almost—but not quite—death. A woodchuck, for example, normally breathes about 30 times a minute. When excited, the rate jumps to 100 times a minute. But in hibernation one breath in five minutes suffices. Its pulse drops from an average of 80 to four or five beats a minute, the National Geographic Magazine says.

After their mission's thatched roof caught fire three times, the friars of San Luis Obispo de Tolosa —founded in 1772—decided to rebuild with tile, setting the traditional style for California missions.

The Grand Banks consist of a shallow section of ocean off Newfoundland, where the cold Labrador Current meets the warm Gulf Stream, the National Geographic Magazine says. The swirling waters provide conditions favorable to the growth of plankton, and make a rich oceanic pasture for fish. Fishermen have been filling their ships with cod from the banks for 450 years.

The sport of curling, increasingly popular in the United States, was introduced to Canada nearly 200 years ago by Scottish troops stationed in Quebec. A kind of shuffleboard on ice, the game gets its name from the motion of the rounded stone as it slides toward the scoring area.

Victor Hugo wrote in 1843 that he knew of "no spot more charming and magnificent than Biarritz," the French coastal town near the Spanish border. He voiced a fear, "that it may become fashionable," which was soon realized. Empress Eugenie "discovered" Biarritz, the National Geographic Magazine says, and the rich and famous have been flocking there ever since.

Frozen orange juice was developed in the late 1940's. Now a major part of United States orange production goes into it.

STARTS BASIC TRAINING

Private Alan D. Burt of 2 Hollywood road, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Burt, has been assigned to K Company 3rd Training Regiment of the U. S. Army Training Center, Infantry, for eight weeks of basic training at Ft. Dix.

Prior to entering the Army, Private Burt attended Winchester High School and Harvard College.

He was formerly employed by the Harvard Co-operative Society, 1400 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, Mass.

During his training he will receive instruction in general military subjects, Infantry weapons and tactics, as well as character guidance programs under the post chaplain.

After the initial eight weeks, he will be given a two-week leave and receive eight more weeks of advanced Infantry training, be enrolled in one of the specialist schools conducted here or be transferred to another Army post for training in one of the Army's technical schools.

STORE CHANGES HANDS

George Clark and Stanley Lavender in the new Ward's Market on Thompson street. Mr. Lavender takes over the store from retiring Mr. Clark.

After 25 Years

George Clark Retires And Winchester Fruit Company Closes To Merge With Ward's Market

George Clark of Medford, who has run the Winchester Fruit Company since 1933 and Ward's Market since 1942, will retire on March 1. The fruit company is closed and the fruit and produce end of the business has been added to the new Ward's Market.

REV. JOHN SNOOK, JR.

Mr. Clark is proud of his loyal customers and wants them to know that they will receive the same excellent treatment from Ward's Market that they used to get from each of the stores previously. Ward's Market will be managed by Mr. Clark's former partner, Stanley Lavender.

The decision to close the store and retire has been a long time coming. Mr. Clark has thought about it for about three years but it was the combination of the December fire which gutted Ward's Market which finally convinced him. And now that it is done, Mr. Clark said that he felt sort of lonesome without the routine of meeting his customers and running the store. However, he plans to leave for Florida around the first of the week and he feels that the change will be a good break for him. While in Florida he plans to look around for a house with the hopes that he will settle there permanently.

Mr. Clark came to Winchester in 1933 and bought the fruit company. In 1942 he expanded and purchased Ward's Market and took Mr. Lavender, who had been with him since 1933, in as a partner. After the fire in December both stores operated from the fruit company while Ward's was being rebuilt. During this period, there was at least five times as much work for the two men.

Mr. Clark has three children, a son who is a SAC lieutenant in Labrador, a son who is a student at Tufts University and a daughter who is living in Hollywood, Fla.

DELEGATION ATTENDS CHINESE FESTIVAL

The Chinese New Year's Festival held last Friday night in Hancock Hall in Boston with the preceding Chinese dinner in Chinatown restaurants was enthusiastically appreciated by the 28 persons from the First Congregational Church who attended.

The program offered a variety of insights into the Chinese culture and into the wonderful work Dr. Peter Shih is doing with the Chinese Church—in short, our Junior Highs and parents caught a glimpse of how far the brotherhood of Christianity reaches.

LENTEN SERVICE AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL

This coming Wednesday evening at 7:45, the third in a series of Union Lenten Services of the Protestant Churches will be held at the First Congregational Church.

The preacher for the evening, the Reverend John Snook, Jr., of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, has chosen as his subject, "What Is Jesus Like." There have been countless impressions given concerning our Lord as to just who He was and what He was like. The Reverend Snook will seek to answer these questions and set forth a challenge for the Lenten Season.

NEW FIRST NATIONAL STORE TO OPEN MARCH 12

First National Stores officials have announced that the new supermarket on Main street, Winchester, will open on Wednesday, March 12. The new store, located on property formerly occupied by the George W. Blanchard Co., will have more than half an acre of space devoted to storage and sale of groceries, meats, fresh fruits and vegetables, frozen foods and specialty items.

There will be ample parking space with access from Main street. Features include mechanical check stands, a bottle return station, check cashing service and bundle pick-up. Approximately 60 men and women, many from the Winchester area, will be employed for full and part-time work.

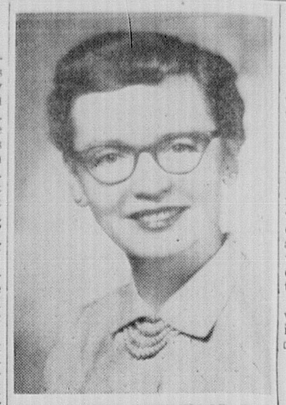
MEN BEATEN ON SOUTH BORDER ROAD

At 11:40 Saturday evening a man called the police station to report that there was a man at his home who told him that a crowd of boys had threatened to beat him up on South Border road.

The Metropolitan District police and patrol car 51 with officers Douglas Martell and William Haggerty went immediately to the area. They found two men in the Girl Scout parking lot badly beaten up. The MDC police arrived soon afterward and took over the investigation.



MISS BETTY SHERWOOD R.N.

TO VISIT WVNA THIS WEEK

Miss Betty Sherwood, R.N., assistant director in the Department of Public Health Nursing of the National League for Nursing, will visit the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association March 5 and 6. She will meet with staff members and association members of the W.V.N.A. to discuss public health nursing programs and to give advice in reaching solutions to any local problems.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Miss Sherwood received her diploma and bachelors degree at Ohio State University and a masters in public health from the University of Michigan. Before joining the NLN staff, Miss Sherwood was staff nurse and educational director with the Visiting Nurses of San Diego and La Jolla Visiting Nurse Association, California, and prior to that time, was a staff nurse for the Instructive District Nursing Association in Columbus, Ohio. She also served in the Army Nurse Corps.

DR. AND MRS. BROWN OBSERVE 25th ANNIVERSARY

On Saturday, February 22, Dr. and Mrs. Harold J. Brown of 54 Church street observed their silver wedding anniversary.

Dr. Brown has been a practicing physician in Winchester for 32 years. He came to Winchester from Worcester. Mrs. Brown has been in Winchester for 25 years, coming here from her home in Greenwich, Conn.

Three of their children, Geraldine, Carol and Maryann were home for the celebration. Their son, Lieutenant (j.g.) Harry Brown sent his best wishes, as he is on his way home from the Mediterranean.

It was a delight to find that Mr. William B. MacDonald of Winchester, the best man of 25 years ago was able to attend a small surprise party at the house when the Browns returned home from dinner in Boston.

DOG MISTAKES SEASON AND GOES FOR SWIM

A brown and white dog seemed to have gotten the seasons mixed up, for it went for a swim in the Mill Pond recently. Unfortunateiy, the ice got in the way and the fire department had to come to its rescue.

Linda Amico and Sue Bennett recognized the animal's plight and went into the fire station and alerted the firefighters. Peter Galuffo and Joseph Faga went to the pond with a plaster hook and the park department's boat was secured by two other men.

After some meneuvering the dog was "fished out" and returned to its owner, who was in the library during the pet's plunge.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

There will be a meeting at the George Washington School next Sunday afternoon, March 2, for all parents of boys ages 13 to 15 inclusive.

The purpose is to make plans and organize the league for the coming season. For the past three years we have had a four-team league. Many more boys are graduating from the two Winchester Little Leagues and if possible, we would like to expand the Babe Ruth League to six teams. This program will provide opportunity for more boys to continue playing in an organized baseball league.

All parents and friends are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

WINCHESTER 3 — SWAMPSCOTT 0

The quiet, peaceful scene above is the Winchester-Swampscott hockey game which was played last Saturday, February 22. The game was the consolation game in the finals of the North Shore league playoff. Steve Powers is the Winchester player in the center of the scene.

WINCHESTER WALLOPS SWAMPSCOTT 3-0 IN CONSOLATION GAME

Winchester came back from their Amesbury defeat in the semi-finals to whip Swampscott 3-0 in the consolation game of the North Shore League playoffs Saturday night.

It was a spectacular victory for the Sachems over the Swampscott team which won the North Shore title only last week. This marked the second time this year Winchester took the measure of the Big Blue having posted a 6-3 win earlier in the year.

Winchester completely controlled the puck throughout the game. Kelly tallied at 4:20 of the second period on a pass from Billy Lamarche.

In what would have to be considered one of the best goals of the year Craig Davenport skated in on the Swampscott defensemen feinted the left defenseman to the outside broke to the inside pushed the puck through the legs of the right defenseman and then electrified the crowd with a blazing forehand into the far corner.

Winchester kept putting pressure on the Swampscott team. Finally at 5:05 of the third period this determination paid off with Dick Scott feeding Dana Kelly who slammed the puck home for his second goal .

This was by far Winchester's best game of the play-offs. Gowdy did a fine job on the shots that Swampscott did manage to get off. Dave Harkins did a highly effective job of forechecking and Bill Emerson was continually setting up passes.

DON'T MISS THE BIG TOP HOP!

The Parkhurst Parents' Association is having a circus and a barrel of monkeys at the Parkhurst Auditorium on Friday, February 28, from 9:00 to 1:00 a.m. Dance to Herbie Wayne's sparkling music in a gay and softly lighted circus tent decorated by Fran Burleigh and her crew of artists.

You'll have snacks, pop and clever prizes. Come! Bring your friends and relatives. Mrs. Walter Benham is ticket chairman.

WADLEIGH SCHOOL

Editor of the Star:

On February 15 this writer visited the Wadleigh School. The front door was held open with a broom but no one was on duty to answer questions.

A poor impression is given the casual visitor because of signs of neglect abuse and indifferent winterizing of this sound and useable town real estate.

Going up the short flight of inside steps to the main lobby, we noticed that the front edge of several treads had been cracked, as if some heavy object had been slid down on its way out of the building.

To the left and right of the main hall the outside walls of the coat rooms have been ruined by freezing condensation. The floors of these alcoves are littered with flaked-off plaster. In the past, some one permitted plaster to be put on these two walls with no furring or air space between back of plaster and cold surface of outside walls. This building, it should be remembered, has been no one person's responsibility and has had no heat for months at a time.

At a guess there is over a ton of soft coal for the large boiler in the basement. Flues and grates did not show a careful cleaning after last fire. Let us hope all water was drained.

It would seem that no one has asked for police protection or provided caretaker service. The cost of such services could have been less than new plastering, new copper rain-leaders, ruined traps and missing equipment, teachers desks, pupils desks, wall maps and sections of slate blackboards are all vital items that run into money, your tax money!

As to police protection: another visitor told of seeing boys with baseball bats, deliberately flattening the new copper rain-conductors at the outside corners of the building. The school department, when told of this vandalism, made the alleged reply that Winchester did not have boys who would do such a thing! These battered copper rain-conductors are there, now, for any passer-by to see.

On the second floor we found a frozen puddle at the head of the north stairs. This came from a neglected roof leak. This is one more indication that this town building has not been checked, even at weekly intervals.

Floors throughout all six rooms are of tongue-and-grooved maple flooring. All original, fastened-down desks have been removed and floors can be modernized or resanded. Master electric clock and classroom clocks seem to be in good condition. This is high-grade, costly equipment.

Other visitors came in. Several of these people said that they had gone to school in this building. We all noted how bright the six large class rooms seemed, even in their stripped and neglected condition. Each room has ample book storage, plenty of blackboard area and a good ventilating system that worked well with maximum class of forty pupils.

All four washrooms have tiled walls. Only a few years ago all the plumbing at the north end of building was modernized with top grade fixtures.

On the whole, we have a sound building on a good lot. The roof is good. A cracked slate or damaged flashing may be the cause of the one leak noted. The outside walls are special Roman brick set in good cement. The exterior of this building is not unpleasant. It has more character than some of the modern structures going up now that are hard to tell from a new machine shop.

If the Wadleigh building is ever to be used for other town departments and partitions are called for, these must not go to the ceiling. If they did it would call for a new heating system. Lower false ceilings would save heat and make extra wiring easy to install. This building could well house Town departments now paying rent.

OBJECTS TO JOHNSON ROAD EXTENSION

Editor of the Star:

I read under Article 14 of the Warrant for the Annual Representative Town Meeting, called for March 17, 1958, that the Finance Committee recommends that the Town vote its share of the money needed for the extension of Johnson road to the Lexington line and declares, in addition, that in its opinion the Town has a moral obligation to complete Johnson road.

I have no objection to the construction of Johnson road as a means of developing the western-most section of Winchester for residential purposes and as a means of carrying local citizen traffic. But the idea of extending it to Lexington for the purpose of bringing more outside traffic into a heavily settled and residential district strikes me as extremely unwise. At a time when forward-looking communities strive to keep traffic out of their boundaries, I am surprised to learn that some of our officials strive to bring it within ours.

There is no moral obligation for the Town to carry out a plan made years ago and now clearly recognized as a mistake. On the contrary, the moral obligation of the Town is to protect the lives of its citizens, especially the lives of its children, by preventing unnecessary through traffic from racing through its residential streets.

I object to the extension of Johnson road for two reasons. First, the additional traffic which would be funneled into Wildwood street would increase considerably the danger to the lives of children entering or leaving the West Side Playground. (These children come from all sections of Winchester). Second, the intersection of Wildwood and Cambridge streets, where in recent years several serious or fatal accidents have occurred, would become a veritable death trap with increased east-west bound traffic. And let no one accuse me of trying to hinder progress, since any plan to bring heavy traffic into a purely residential district is not progress.

Some proponents of the extension of Johnson road to the Lexington line claim that the through traffic would be negligible and that we should, therefore, not worry unduly about the Playground, the intersection, or the children. But if their claim is correct, why build a road that hardly anybody is expected to use? If considerable through traffic is not anticipated, then the proposed extension is not warranted, regardless of whether the funds are provided by the State, the County, or the Town. It all comes from the taxes we pay.

Therefore, I urge the Town Meeting members to vote against the recommendation of the Finance Committee for the extension of Johnson road unless and until a cut-off is constructed that will keep additional traffic away from Wildwood street, from its intersection with Cambridge street, and, above all, from the entrance to the West Side Playground.

Sincerely yours,
Antonio L.Mezzacappa

FINANCE COMMITTEE DISCUSSES WARRANT

Editor of the Star:

This year the finance committee has considerably expanded its comments on the individual articles in the warrant for the town meeting, hoping that the citizens of the town and particularly the town meeting members will find them informative.

Because of the short time between the completion of the warrant and the time when the finance committee report had to be in the printer's hands, the tax rate table is printed on page 79, at the end of the report rather than immediately after the warrant, and the narrative portion of the report immediately precedes the tax rate table. The form in which the tax rate table is presented differs somewhat from past practice.

This year the table is made up of four categories: Appropriations, which represent the finance committee's estimate of the amounts which the town meeting will vote to spend; other charges, which constitute the estimated amounts the town must pay the commonwealth, the county and the M. D. C. and over which the town has no control; estimated receipts, which are the monies it is estimated the town will receive from various sources through the year and which can be applied against expenditures without appropriation; and available funds, which are funds other than the current tax levy available for appropriation to meet costs.

The historical comparisons of budget expenditures by dollar amounts and by percentages have this year been extended to cover ten years. They appear on pages 72 and 73. The table of dollar amounts this year includes, on the next-to-bottom line a statement of the total dollar amounts converted to 1949 dollars on the basis of the United States Department of Labor consumer price index for Boston. Thus the figures on this line eliminate price inflation in showing the growth of total budget expenditures from $1,603,000 in 1949 to $2,800,000, in 1949 dollars, recommended for 1958.

This expansion of comment on individual articles, change in the form of the tax rate table, inclusion of 10-year comparative expenditures by amount and percent and the table of comparative per capital costs on page 77 of the report have all been undertaken in the belief that the business of the town meeting can be more promptly and wisely conducted if the town meeting members have before them, in print with the printed articles and budgets, some information as to the subject matter of and facts relevant to the various items, a clear picture as to where the town's money goes and where it comes from, a perspective on costs over a reasonable period of time in the past and some idea where Winchester stands cost-wise as compared to other towns of about its size.

The finance committee will welcome any reaction which any citizen of the town has to these additions and changes. The committee desires to make its report as helpful as possible so far as scope and content are concerned.

Very truly yours,
Austin Broadhurst, Chairman
Finance Committee

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Editor of the Star:

Some people say you can have the old days, but actually people were quite happy, much more than they are today. In the different neighborhoods most people knew their neighbors and used to help in sickness and sadness.

Now no one cares much whether their next-door neighbor is ill or not. Another thing we had in those good old days was respect from our small fry. Today most young folks think it's very funny for a child to give their elders back-talk. Freedom of speech I guess you would call it. I often wonder where it will take them in later years.

In the good old days most people smiled as you met them on the street. I fail to see many smiles nowadays.

In the good old days we went to bed at a decent hour and did not have the pace we have today. But the young folks have everything to do with today, washers, dryers, frozen foods, dishwashers, two cars.

Maybe hard work and no nonsense from our young fry made us have our good dispositions.

Give me the good old days when children appreciated their homes and parents.

ACCIDENT ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

Daniel J. Lloyd of 7A Partridge avenue, Somerville was involved in an accident while driving a Ford truck on Thursday, February 20, at the High, Cambridge and Church street intersection. The truck belonged to the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

While crossing Cambridge street on a green light, he was in collision with a truck driven by George H. Desrosiers of Fall River. His truck was owned by the Winward Trucking Company of Fall River.

No injuries were reported but the Ford truck was damaged on the hood and left front.

DENY PLEASURES AND CUT TAX RISES

Editor of the Star:

Are we doomed to an annual $5.00 increase on our tax rate ad infinitum—or until we become a Boston or a Somerville? Where are the voices of the town fathers who, for so many years, kept our tax rate low? Where are their sons' voices? Where are the voices of those who moved to Winchester during the past 20 years because of what it was—and can be again if we slow down?

Even as we have already denied certain luxuries to the library, let us also deny any excess luxuries to our schools and other public services.

Let us not follow the example of our incumbent Governor who speaks out of both sides of his mouth at once. Is it at all consistent to demand immediate federal tax relief on one side and scour barrel bottoms for additional revenue at the state level? Doesn't all the money come from the same pockets?

As we approach the 1958 town meeting, let us realize we are at present laboring under huge expenditures made necessary by town growth. The health and welfare of our citizens has always been well taken care of and will continue to be. Let us, however, put off any further luxuries until we are in a position to have them without jeopardizing our already too high tax rate.

The definition of luxury may be found in each individual's conscience and pocketbook, as well as in Webster.

Yours for "considered economy,"
Charles C. Bond

NEW PARK PROGRAM

Editor of the Star:

As stated in our report to the Town, the Park Commissioners are initiating a new playground program this year in an attempt to stimulate greater interest and give more efficient service.

While all four playgrounds will be open for use, they will be operated on a rotating schedule, having only two playgrounds officially in use at one time. These playgrounds will be staffed by a trained supervisor, one leader, and will jointly share an Arts and Crafts instructor, all under and responsible to our head supervisor, Mr. Frank Provinzano, who will also act as one of the playground supervisors.

It is our intention that the other supervisor will be some one who is a graduate of or at least of a Junior Class level of some accredited recreational college. The two leaders will be selected on the High School level and may be either a boy or girl.

It is also planned to have these two leaders attend a two day "Playground Leaders' Instruction Class" conducted by the Boston Recreational Service Bureau.

The Park Commissioners hope to have a more diversified program this year, and it is our intention to have the weekly program listed in the Star each Friday for the following week. In that way, each child will know what is going to happen on the playground and at what time.

The playgrounds will be rotated so that each side of Town will have one playground officially in operation. That is to say that Loring avenue and West Side will be open on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and Ginn Field and Leonard Field on Tuesday and Thursday. The next week the order will be reversed.

While this innovation may not solve all the recreational problems, the Park Commissioners feel that it will at least be a start to provide recreation for every child in Winchester to the end that they will have an opportunity for self-expression and contributions toward character growth, social adjustment and good citizenship.

THANKS FROM MARCH OF DIMES

Editor of the Star:

In behalf of the Middlesex County Chapter, March of Dimes, I wish to express our deep appreciation for your generous reporting of our recent campaign.

We are aware of the many requests for this type public service news. Your generous cooperation contributed substantially to the success of the campaign in your area.

Be assured that your service to the community and to polio patients throughout the county is recognized by those who participated in the campaign and by all those who realize the necessity of helping polio patients achieve as much security and independence as their condition permits.

Yours very truly,
Donald Guiler
Campaign Director

TO THE VOTERS OF WINCHESTER

The Winchester Park Department is submitting below its budget to be acted on at the March Town Meeting. The budget is $2,739 lower than last year and it has been approved by the Finance Committee. We are submitting this budget early in order that any questions concerning it can be answered before town meeting.

For that purpose, the chairman, James H. Coon, and other members of the Park Board will be at the commissioner's office on Wednesday evening, March 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Nine Artists Represented

Marion Nelson Luethi Associates Gallery Stages Art Show

The works of nine artists from the Greater Boston area are represented in an exhibition at the Marion Nelson Luethi Associates gallery at 47 Church street. The works include paintings and sculptures and the exhibition is open weekdays until March 15 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Featured are works by Gardner Cox who has a studio in Boston and is one of New England's outstanding portrait painters, T. Lux Feininger who teaches at the Fogg Art Museum, and Richard Filipowski of M.I.T. whose orange, black and gray "Design" is hung at the end of the gallery.

The Gyorgy Kepes paintings are well known in this area and his wife, Juliet, is noted for her illustrations of children's books. Mr. Kepes teaches at M.I.T., and he did the border design for the new public library in Fitchburg and also the interesting neon light arrangement for the Radio Shack in Boston.

Lily Saarinen, whose studio in Cambridge is always busy, is represented by several very interesting clay sculptures. Her mother pig is well worth a visit to the gallery. Particularly well known for her animal work, Mrs. Saarinen is also the designer of the statute of Noah which is at the Detroit shopping center and for the concave world, measuring 11 feet, which is at the headquarters of KLM at Idlewild airport in New York. Mrs. Luethi has one of the scaled down sections of the KLM emblem on display.

Lawrence Kupferman of the Massachusetts School of Art is represented in the exhibition by a very interesting watercolor entitled "Sortliege de Soleil." C. Fayette Taylor of M.I.T., has some interesting college-type works on display as well as one which he terms linear programming. His Japanese garden is a college of stones which is very unusual and most interesting. Mariann Fiska of Cambridge is represented by a potato print which is a picture done by potato sticks instead of a brush, using ink as a medium.

The gallery also has a good display of contemporary furniture, fabrics, and accessories by leading American and European designers. Mrs. Luethi is a interior designer and decorator who has recently come to Winchester.

SONS OF ITALY SCHOLARSHIPS

Fifteen scholarships of three hundred and fifty dollars ($350.) each will be awarded by the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, Order Sons of Italy in America, to properly qualified students who anticipate entering college this fall. The scholarships are limited to members of the senior class of any secondary school in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Maine, New Hamsphire and Vermont.

Applicants should be either members of the junior division of the Order Sons of Italy in America for one year and in good standing, or children of members of said order, of at least one year's standing and who are still members of the organization at the time when the award is granted.

Applications may be obtained by calling CApitol 7-4838 or writing to: the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, Order Sons of Italy in America, 24 Province street, Room 430, Boston, Mass.

Applications must be filed before May 1, 1958.

SWEDISH AUTHOR SPEAKS AT METHODIST CHURCH

A most interesting evening is anticipated for those gathering to hear the Swedish author, Thyra Ferre Bjorn, at the Methodist Church, on Friday evening, March 14 at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Bjorn, author of several well known books including "How Mama Got Papa," will take us back to the turn of the century when Mama, a Swedish maid, comes to work for Papa, the village parson. Mama feels a definite calling to be a minister's wife. However, Papa is not the marrying kind, so it takes her five years to convince him.

This is a delightful story humorously told. Anyone who has read Mrs. Bjorn's book will welcome this opportunity to meet her in person.

"Kaffe med Dop" (Swedish refreshments) will be served following the program. The proceeds from this will be used for our new kitchen. This program is open to the public.

Pre-School Clinic

EMARC Establishes Area Clinic For Retarded Children

A pre-school clinic for retarded children has been established by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health, working with the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children, the association which covers the nine communities of Winchester, Woburn, Burlington, Wilmington, Wakefield, Reading, Stoneham, Melrose and North Reading.

Located in Wakefield, the clinic is one of several that have been established throughout the State. Its services include pre-school nursery classes as well as professional diagnostic and counselling services to the parents of retarded children in the age group of three to seven years.

Dr. Arthur J. Bindman, supervisor of Community Mental Retardation Centers of the State Department of Mental Health explains that the state assumes responsibility for the professional staff and overall guidance of the clinic, while EMARC provides facilities for the clinic and transportation of the children.

"Obtaining state sponsorship of the clinic is consistent with the established policies of EMARC and the Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children to bring to public attention the need for work with retarded children." EMARC President Harold Trekell of Wakefield points out. "When the local community and/or the state takes over the work, EMARC will be able to move on to other areas where attention is needed, whether it be to another community or to another age group within the same community—for example, the establishment of sheltered workshops for older retarded children."

EMARC is currently setting up pre-school classes and adolescent study groups for children in the Winchester, Woburn, Wilmington and Burlington area where transportation to the Wakefield clinic and class might present difficulties.

"It is our hope," Mr. Trekell says, "that the state will eventually take a part and make this another cooperative venture."

The pre-school clinic in Wakefield will continue the classes held Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 9:30 o'clock at the First Congregational Church. Mrs. Mary Claar of Melrose will continue as teacher. Dr. Dario Morelli, pediatrician of Wakefield, has been engaged as pediatrician and will observe the children on a regular basis. In the near future a psychologist will be added to the staff for consultation work with the parents and diagnostic evaluation of the children.

The clinic, an outgrowth of the successful nursery classes conducted by EMARC for the last two years, will be administered by Dr. Bindman and Mrs. Helen L. Bacon of the Department of Mental Health, John McNeff of Stoneham, EMARC vice-president and projects committee chairman, and Mrs. Edward Reynolds, EMARC member from Wakefield.

The local community representatives who may be contacted for information is Sylvester Horne of 3 Stratford road.

"EMARC is pleased that through its efforts this service has been made available to our communities. The pre-school clinics provide guidance for parents of retarded children at a time when they desperately need it. At the same time they provide the training and social adjustment normally denied to the young retarded child. This care should give him the best possible chance for success in the public school classes when he reaches the school age of seven or eight." Mr. Trekell explains.

Public schools now conduct classes for both the trainable and the educable retarded child.

COSTELLO — McNULTY

White gladioli decorated the Immaculate Conception Church on Saturday, February 15, for the marriage of Miss Nancy Lee McNulty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McGonagle of 148 Arlington road, Woburn, and Paul Chester Costello, son of Mrs. Mary B. Costello of 18 Border street. The Rev. Herbert K. Driscoll performed the 3:00 o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Morton McCauley sang and Mrs. Monroe was organist for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by Mr. McGonagle, the bride wore a white satin gown in princess style and with a train.

Mrs. June Welsh of Jamaica Plain was honor attendant. Her dress was of forest green velvet and she carried a mixed bouquet and wore a matching hat. Bridesmaids were Miss Jean Fournier, Miss Marilyn Pierce and Miss Alice Nolan all of Woburn. Their dresses were of coral velvet in the ballerina length with matching hatbands. They carried mixed bouquets of tea roses.

Robert Costello of Winchester was best man and ushers were John Welsh of Jamaica Plain, Angelo Pizza and John Rose, III, of Woburn.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Towanda Club in Woburn. Mr. and Mrs. Costello left on a trip to New York. They will live in Woburn.

LEXINGTON TOASTMASTERS

J. Edmund McDonald, 17 Grassland street, Lexington, President of the Minuteman Toastmasters Club announced that Wednesday, March 5, will be guest night. Each member will bring one or more guests who are interested in finding out more about Toastmasters, a club dedicated to helping its members become more effective speakers.

A special added attraction for the evening will be closed circuit TV. Mr. McDonald extended an invitation to anyone interested in becoming a member of Toastmasters.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS DISCUSS CHRISTIAN PROBLEMS

The First Congregational Church sent Miss Jutta Reich, director of religious education, as participant to the annual meeting of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. This meeting was held this year from February 8-13 in Omaha, Neb., and approximately 1,500 leaders in Christian Education from all over the nation assembled under the common theme "Leaders in a Ministering Church." Ministers, professors, writers, editors and Directors of Religious Education met to find new ways of making known the lasting values of Christianity. We can refer here only to some of the highlights of the conference.

Dr. Ethel Alpenfels, eminent American anthropologist, held spellbound for three hours a huge and largely masculine audience with "The American Culture, how it shapes me" and "The American Culture, how I help shape it," emphasizing the need to get at the roots in problems of our adolescent culture, of the confused roles of men and women in this country, and of the loneliness of the older generation.

An ecumenical worship service including all congregations of Omaha was held in the large, beautiful Civic Auditorium with the Rev. Reuben Youngdahl as speaker, Lutheran minister of the largest congregation in this country. Upon the insistence of his church members as to frequent trips abroad, he had just returned from a tour through Europe, Russia and the Near East. In his report he tried to interpret his observations in terms of our Christian responsibility to make decisions in our daily life on the basis of seeing us in close relation to the rest of the world and their needs.

Dr. Gerald Wendt, scientific adviser to the UN, projected to the audience "The World of Tomorrow as Science sees it." The well-known psychiatrist, Dr. Thaddeus P. Krush, followed these ideas up with his talk on "Psychological Insights for the World of Tomorrow." Even more discussions were evoked by the talks of Prof. Campbell Wyckoff of Princeton Theological Seminary about "The World Changes and what of Christianity?", "Today and Tomorrow in the Child's World," and "Teaching with an Eye on the Future." New ideas for many Church School administrators were presented in the discussions about "Leadership for Exceptional Children (the slow and the gifted) in the Church."

A song service with hymns and spirituals from various corners of the earth offered a cross section of the richness of expression in melody, instrument and ideas that Christianity brings to bloom in many cultures. The movie, "Mark of the Hawk" about racial tensions in Africa brought out the urgency to make amends for past and present wrongs done to fellow brothers of the human race, and to accept them as equals. A college drama group presented "Christ in the Concrete City," a modern drama explaining how we are personally actively involved in bringing about the passion and death of the best of men who walked this earth and of his way of life, by the very type of life we are leading and approving of today.

A filmstrip "Meet Bill Hayden" about the place of a Director of Christian Education in the total life of the congregation was recommended to individual churches to make this profession better known, understood and used.

As a snow blanket began to cover half of the country, the educators took leave of Omaha to return with new vision to their work, a work which will assume new forms in a measure not experienced before in any one or several centuries in teaching the Christian way of life to children, youth, and adults.

UNITARIAN JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The guest speaker for the Junior High Fellowship of the Winchester Unitarian Church last Sunday afternoon was Mr. Corydon Kohl. Mr. Kohl brought his amateur radio receiving set "HAM." He explained the different parts of the equipment, the mechanics of operation, and gave a demonstration.

Refreshments were served in the Library Room. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gross served as adult host and hostess. Miss Laurel Ingraham is secretary for the group.

FRANK J. EBENS

Frank J. Ebens of 85 High street died Sunday, February 23, at the Veterans Administration Hospital in West Roxbury. He had been ill for some time.

Born in Hartford, Conn., on October 9, 1893, Mr. Ebens was educated at the Hartford schools. He has lived in Winchester for nearly 30 years.

Mr. Ebens was a compositor and foreman for the Boston Post until the paper went out of business. For a short period afterward he worked for the Boston Traveler until he was taken sick.

He was a member of the Boston Newspapermen's Post of the American Legion, the Typographical Union and the Church of the Epiphany.

Mr. Ebens is survived by his wife, the former Miss Dorothy Davis whom he married on October 10, 1925; three children, Mrs. Jean Phipps of Winchester, Mrs. Marjorie Bergeron of Cambridge and Richard Ebens who is a student at the Berkley Divinity School in New Haven, Conn. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. James S. Murray of Wethersfield, Conn., and Mrs. Emil Magnusson of Hartford, Conn., and a brother, Frederick E. of Hartford, Conn. He also leaves 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, February 25, at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Epiphany with the Rev. Dr. James W. Ellison officiating. Interment was at Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. HARRIETT E. FORTIER

Mrs. Harriett E. Fortier, mother of Mrs. Robert Nyere of 4 Squanto road, died Friday, February 21, after a long illness.

Mrs. Fortier was born in Wisconsin but spent most of her life in Washington until she moved here with her daughter several years ago. She was the widow of the late William H. Fortier of Spokane, Wash. Previous to her marriage she taught school in South Dakota.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Fortier is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Lina Munger of Everett, Wash., and Mrs. Ono Erickson of Inwood, Iowa; a brother, Glen Eaton of Seattle, Wash.; and by two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, February 22, at 3:00 o'clock at the Church of the Epiphany with the Rev. Dr. John W. Ellison officiating. Interment was in Spokane, Wash.

COLEMAN F CONNOLLY

Coleman F. Connolly of 9 Nelson street died Friday night, February 21, at the Winchester Hospital after a long illness. Mr. Connolly was 74 years old and had been in poor health for some time.

A resident of Winchester for 45 years, Mr. Connolly was widely known in town. He worked for the highway department for many years. He was a member of the Hibernian Society in Woburn.

Mr. Connolly is survived by his wife Annie J. Lyons Connolly; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Capone of Portsmouth, N. H., and Mrs. Mary O'Neil of Arlington; four sons, Thomas and John of Winchester, Joseph of Medford and Francis Connolly of Toledo, Ohio; and by 16 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. He also leaves a brother, John Connolly of Woburn.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning, February 25, from the Lane Funeral Home, followed by a requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church at 10:00 o'clock. Interment was at Calvary Cemetery in Woburn.

ANIMAL FRIENDS BRAVE SNOW

Mrs. George Connor of 403 Main street pushed almost waist-high snow from her doorstep and opened her fascinating home on February 17 to a few intrepid members of the Winchester Auxiliary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals who enjoyed an informal tour of the delightfully quaint home with its fabulous old treasures.

At the brief business meeting some of M.S.P.C.A.'s purposes were discussed; that is, support of the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, maintenance of uniformed officers to enforce cruetly laws, sponsoring the Alvard Wildlife Sanctuary, and last but not least, an educational program in animal care and appreciation.

Mrs. Richard Pettingell of Oxford street was appointed chairman of the nominating committee to choose a list of officers for next year.

At the close of the meeting a delicious tea was served by Mrs. Connor in her charming antique dining room.

Mrs. Howard Wittet, who was to have been our speaker, was laid low by La Grippe so could not regale us with anecdotes and pictures of "The School the Ponies Built." She promises to be on her feet with even more to tell us by our next meeting on March 24.

THURSTON HALL

Thurston Hall, veteran stage, screen and television actor and a resident of Winchester for several years, died Thursday, February 20, in Beverly Hills, Calif. He was 75 years old.

Mr. Hall was a native of Boston, but he spent much of his boyhood in Winchester where he attended the local schools. While attending Winchester High School he used to amuse his fellow students with impromptu performances and he usually participated in the school shows at the town hall. His mother was convinced that he would be a great actor. He graduated with the class of 1900 from the high school.

He began his career in New England tent shows and later played on Broadway in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," "Ben Hur" and "Mourning Becomes Electra."

His movie appearances included "Adventures of Mark Twain," "Stagecoach Kid," "Wilson," "Brewsters Millions," "Colonel Effingham's Raid," "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" and "Skirts Ahoy."

He also appeared in television as Cosmo Topper's boss in the "Topper" series. Mr. Hall was noted for his suave characterizations of bankers, tycoons and politicians.

For several seasons he toured with his own company in Africa, Australia and New Zealand before joining the silent film migration to Hollywood.

Mr. Hall is survived by his wife Quenda. Funeral services were held in California.

ART ASSOCIATION

The March meeting of the Art Association will be held Tuesday evening, March 4, in the Music Room of the High School at 8 o'clock. Coffee will be served at 7:30.

Plans for the evening have been changed because Prof. Stebbins, who was to have been the speaker was unexpectedly called to Germany. The Art Association is fortunate that Tom O'Hara, a well-recognized artist, has generously consented to give a demonstration and lecture entitled "Analyzing Modern Masters." Mr. O'Hara, a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design, is now assistant professor at the Massachusetts School of Art. As a designer of posters and catalogue covers Mr. O'Hara has won several awards from the Boston Water Color Society, Boston Museum of Fine Arts, Boston Printmakers Presentation Award. The M.M. Ross Award and the American Society of Illustrators of N. Y. He has had several one man shows and has exhibited in group shows at the Boston Arts Festival, Institute of Contemporary Art, Worcester Art Museum, De Cordova Museum and in several of the Boston Galleries.

ARLINGTON-WINCHESTER SIMMONS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club will hold its next meeting on Thursday, March 6, at the Robbins Library in Arlington Center at 7:30 in the evening. Mrs. Eleanor Coy of the Medford Public Library will present book reviews of several current books after an important business meeting. Subjects to be covered at the business meeting are the selection of a new Nominating Committee, Simmons night at Pops which will be May 21, and is under the direction of Mrs. R. C. Strong, Jr., of Arlington, and the April project under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Yeaton of Arlington, which will feature the Parish Players of Winchester. Mrs. Alexander J. Fay, 18 Winslow road, heads the committee for the annual banquet which will be held in June. This will be a most interesting and informative meeting and members are urged to attend. Members in need of transportation should contact Mrs. Paul Howe, 159 Crosby street, Arlington.

WHS PRESENTS GYMNASTIC PHYSICAL PANORAMA

Widespread interest and enthusiastic response is indicated to the announcement of the Winchester High School Varsity Club that it will present the Springfield College Exhibition Team's Physical Panorama celebration of its "Golden Jubilee" of gymnastics here on March 8 at 7:30 in the high school gymnasium.

The exhibition team show is chock full of comedy and surprises. It has feats on gymnastic apparatus that give the thrill of a lifetime. but a few moments later you will relax and enjoy dance routines which display rhythmic ease and grace not readily credited to gymnasts. The comedy will be ably handled by experts in the art of gymnastic tomfoolery.

The parallel bars, rings, tumbling feats, long horse leaping, precision drills, intricate team dances all are on the exhibition team list. For sheer spectator enjoyment the trampoline act usually brings the audience up cheering. The trampoline is a spring-mat type of apparatus which enables a person to fly through the air in all manner of somersaults and twists but requires great body control and balance. Balance at its finest will be demonstrated by the triple balance team of Bob Brockway, Skip Sutherland and Joe Fadero, while some real laughter will be provoked by the crazy antics of clowns Lance Saidak and Dick Aranson.

HIGH SCHOOL CHURCH GROUP PLANS MEETING

The monthly meeting of the South Middlesex Federation will be held at the Winchester Unitarian Church next Sunday, March 3, from 4:00 p. m. to 8:00 p. m.

The Federation is made up of high schoolers from the Unitarian and Universalist churches of Winchester and twenty-five surrounding communities. The Federation meets on the first Sunday of every month during the school year. At each meeting there are games, supper, dancing and a speaker on a topic of current interest to teenagers.

The hosts this month are members of Metcalf Union of the Winchester Unitarian Society. The speaker is Reverend John Kolbornsen from Sharon, Mass.

Registration will be followed by a surprise game known only to Miles McKey and Mr. Herbert Black. Other entertainment during the evening will also prove interesting. Gregg Wood, disc-jockey, promises some good dancing.

Members of Metcalf Union are asked to supply the supper, and to turn out in full force for special meeting as it is their job to make the guests feel welcome.

In charge of registration are Jean Gross, Sue Black, and Debby Eddy. Caroline Hutchings is chairman of the supper committee. Joel Peckham will lead the worship service. The members of the executive committee, headed by Dana Starkweather, president, are in charge of hospitality.

The records of the previous Federation meetings show that everyone is sure to have a good time.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.
Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

The meaning for today of Christ Jesus' healing mission will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.
Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" is the Golden Text from John (18:37): "To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth."
Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (131:26-29): "The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood."
The following will be included in the Scriptural reading (Matthew 4:24): "And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatic, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them."

NORMAN A. SMALL

Norman A. Small of Boston, a former Winchester resident, died Saturday, February 22, at the Veterans' Hospital in West Roxbury after a long illness. He was 62.

Mr. Small was born in Somerville the son of Irving and Mary Small but his family moved to Winchester and he attended the Winchester schools. He graduated with the class of 1911 from the High School and later attended Ringe Tech. He was a textile broker at Carlinn, Inc., in Boston.

While he and his late brother Irving Small were growing up here they were well known as hockey players and all-around athletes. Irving was one of the best hockey players ever to come out of Winchester and Norman was goal tender on the 1909 championship hockey team. Norman was known as one of the best goal tenders in the Boston area at that time.

Mr. Small married Miss Helen Lucia and their daughter, Mrs. Charles Barrett of Eliot, Me., and one grand-daughter survive him. He is also survived by three nephews, Richard B. Small of Grove street, Robert W. Small of Canton, N. Y., and David W. Small of Pasadena, Calif.

Funeral services were held Monday, February 24, at the Buckminster Chapel in Portsmouth, N. H. Interment was at Harmony Grove Cemetery in that city.

MRS. GLADYS V. FOLEY

Mrs. Gladys V. Foley of Allen road, Billerica, a former resident of Winchester, died Friday, February 21, at the Lowell General Hospital.

Mrs. Foley was born on June 1, 1900 in Somerville, the daughter of George and Emma Plude. She attended the Somerville schools and then the family moved to Winchester where Mrs. Foley lived for twenty years. While living in town she lived at the family home at 20 Mystic avenue and later on Sylvester avenue.

Mrs. Foley was a member of St. Mary's Church in Billerica and was a member of the Sodality there.

She is survived by two sons, Russell Taylor of Winchester, and John Foley of Billerica and by a daughter Shirley Foley of Billerica. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. James O'Neil of Winchester.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 9:15 o'clock at St. Mary's Church in Billerica. Interment was in Fiskdale in the family lot.

MRS. FLORENCE C. WINGATE

Mrs. Florence C. Wingate of Antrim, N. H., mother of Walter Wingate of 26 Eaton street, died Sunday, February 23, at her home after a long illness. She was 86.

Mrs. Wingate had spent the last few years traveling between Winchester, West Medford and New Hampshire where she visited her children and friends. She was the widow of John E. Wingate of Medford.

She is survived by two other sons, Edward W. and Geoffrey of Sacramento, Calif., and a daughter, Mrs. Dora Miner of Antrim, New Hampshire.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Tucker Funeral home in Hillsboro, N. H. Interment will be in Medford.

THOMAS O'LOUGHLIN

Thomas O'Loughlin of 327 Fanueil street, Brighton, born and brought up in Winchester, died suddenly on Tuesday, February 18, at his home. He had been ill for sometime.

Mr. O'Loughlin was born on December 31, 1891 in Winchester. His parents were Thomas and Catherine O'Loughlin who lived for years at 17 Elm street. After attending the Winchester schools, he worked for the United Shoe Machinery Corp. in Boston for nearly 40 years.

Mr. O'Loughlin is survived by two sisters, Mrs. William H. Murray of Winchester and Mrs. Claire Hahn of Allston; and by two brothers, Daniel and Harry O'Loughlin of North Hollywood, Fla.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home, followed by a high mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church with the Rev. Charles E. Anadore officiating. Interment was in the family lot at Calvary Cemetery in Woburn.

MRS. ERNEST N. LOGAN

The many friends of Mrs. Elsie Laverty, formerly of Orient street, will be sorry to learn of the death of her mother, Mrs. Ernest N. Logan, of Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada, who passed away Monday evening, February 24, in her 85th year.

Among the grandchildren who survive are Mrs. Paul Rallo, Woburn; Mrs. Richard Gould, Wilmington; Mrs. Raymond Buckley, Worcester; Robert E. Laverty, Arlington; and William K. Laverty, U. S. Navy.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon, with interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Saint John, N. B.

SKIDDING ACCIDENT ON WILDWOOD STREET

Donna M. Violanti of 11 Cottage avenue reported to the police that while driving Sunday afternoon she had a skidding accident at the intersection of Fletcher and Wildwood streets. She applied her brakes at the stop sign and skidded into a car operated by Mrs. Marcia L. Harris of 121 Church street. Mrs. Harris applied her brakes when she saw the skid, but she also skidded.

Both cars were damaged but no personal injuries were reported.

PATRICK RECEIVES PATENT

Rowland V. Patrick of 1 Ledgewood road was the recipient on February 11 of U.S. patent No. 2,822,932, entitled "Material Handling Apparatus."

In the handling of cartons and other articles in factories and warehouses, it is common practice to make use of pallets or skids upon which horizontal layers of the goods are stacked one upon the other. When the required number of layers or tiers has been formed, the pallets may readily be picked up and transported from one point to another by a lift truck.

Various machines have been devised for loading these pallets, but according to Mr. Patrick, they have not operated to load more than one pallet at a time. Thus if it was desired to load a pallet fully with identical goods, the machine had to devote its operation to the loading of such articles until a full pallet load had been achieved. Meanwhile, other types of goods had to be accumulated. In other words, a specific type of article was not fed to the loading machine until there was present at the feed end of the apparatus a sufficient number of identical units so that the pallet load could be completed.

To provide an improvement over the prior practice, Mr. Patrick has devised a novel pallet loading machine to which a variety of articles or goods may be fed from a common station and wherein the feeding is accomplished in such a manner that a number of pallets will be loaded simultaneously, with the articles on any one pallet being identical and with different pallets receiving different goods if desired. Commercially, this means that a complete pallet load of identical goods does not have to be available at the feed end of the machine before a change can be made in the type of articles fed to the apparatus. Instead there has to be only a sufficient number of identical goods to supply a single tier of the pallet loader. The advantages of such an arrangement are obvious.

This patent has been assigned by mesne assignments to J. W. Greer Company, Wilmington, Mass.

UN ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS

The Winchester League of Women Voters is pleased to announce the winners of the U.N. Essay contest at the high school. First place was won by Robert Boone with his essay on "The American and the Declaration of Human Rights," which was outstanding in the originality of its point of view as to what the Declaration of Human Rights means to the American citizen. The second place winner was William Burrows with a well thought out essay on "The U.N. and Colonialism." Other very good essays were submitted by David Hopkins on "the U.N. and Human Rights," Pauline Puma on the same subject, and Stephen Rochow on "The Expanding Role of the General Assembly." The League wishes to acknowlege the interest and effort that the students put into all the essays, as all were well done, and all were done as completely extra-curricular projects.

The judges for the contest were Mr. Herbert Black, editor of the Boston Globe; Dr. Norman Padelford, professor of political science at M.I.T.; and Mrs. William Spaulding, past president of the League of Women Voters.

In the contest, which was being held for the second year, the students were given a choice of three subjects: "The U.N. and Colonialism," "The U.N. and Human Rights," and "The Expanding Role of the General Assembly." Again the League would like to thank Dr. Gilson, Mr. Niblock, and especially Mr. Meredith Cooper of the social studies department at the high school for their interest and encouragement.

This spring the two prize winners will receive a trip to the U.N. headquarters in New York under the sponsorship of the World Affairs Council in Boston.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Women of the League will meet at the Church at ten o'clock Thursday morning, March 6, for White Cross sewing. They are anxious to finish the surgeon's gowns now being worked on to fill their quota, so it is hoped many sewers will be on hand.

Luncheon will be served at noon by Mrs. Paul L. Eaton and Mrs. Frederick C. Macdonald, co-chairmen, and their committee.

The afternoon program will include a talk on Juvenile Delinquency by Chief Charles J. Harrold of the Winchester Police Department. The Love Gift Offering will be taken.

SCIENCE AT WORK

David Hopkins, Talbot Page, Linda Gross and Stephen Root, finalists in the National Merit Scholarship contest, look over an experiment. All four are Winchester High School seniors.

Finalists in National Contest

Four Merit Scholars Lead Versatile Lives

Linda Gross, David Hopkins, Talbot Page, and Stephen Root, four seniors at Winchester High School, recently became finalists in the National Merit Scholarship contest. Beyond the bare fact that this is a great honor for four fine young people, it is noteworthy that each of the four is by no means a "book worm," but rather takes part in many different school activities.

Since only the top third of the senior class at Winchester High took the preliminary examinations on October 22, it goes without saying that the four winners have consistently high academic records. Each of them has remained on the honor roll throughout his high school career.

However, the fact that these four belong to 7000 finalists from the over 300,000 students to whom this examination was given shows that they have unusual ability compared to the rest of the nation. The National Merit Scholarship examinations are not achievement tests, but are designed instead to test English reading and vocabulary and general aptitude for mathematics.

Without exception these four seniors have hastened to say that they by no means spend all their time studying. They shared the opinion of Talbot Page, who said with some pride, "The best way to get a good mark in a subject is to become interested in the subject and realize its importance."

Awards are not new to these four seniors. Talbot Page last year was the recipient of the coveted Harvard Book Prize, and Stephen Root tied for second place in a state competition in mathematics. Linda Gross won the Junior Award in history at Winchester High School.

Perhaps the most important characteristic of these finalists is that they work hard, regardless of what they are doing. Stephen Root is equally industrious, whether he is studying chemistry (his favorite subject), playing tennis, or practicing for the all-state band, of which he is a member. Steve also plays the clarinet in the Winchester High School band, is president of both the science and math clubs, and has worked in the Vaudeville Show, the Thrift Association, and on the J.V. cross country team. His plans for the future include the study of chemical or nuclear engineering at M.I.T.

Talbot Page is also a member of many clubs and other organizations in the school. He is co-chief engineer of radio station WHSR-FM, belongs to the Science Club, the National Thespian Society, and the gymnastic, track, and rifle teams. He is particularly interested in backstage and radio work. In the summer Talbot teaches sailing at a summer camp. He has been active in his church youth group and in the Boy Scouts.

Linda Gross is no exception to this pattern of varied interests and activities. Among her hobbies are sailing and skiing, and she plans to study at Middlebury College for a career in mathematics. David Hopkins, an Eagle Scout, belongs to the high school band, the staff of station WHSR, the Curtain and Cue club, and the staff of the "Red and Black," the high school newspaper. He has done work at the public library and participated in the activities of his church youth group. Dave plans to study engineering at Yale.

It is evident that these four seniors are well-rounded young people with many different interests. They demonstrate that it is possible to participate in various extra-curricular activities and still spend a great deal of time studying. These National Merit Scholarship finalists may not be the most spectacular athletes at Winchester High, but they are typical of the versatile and open-minded citizens which the school is proud to produce.

Since they take such an active part in all phases of school life, these seniors are naturally qualified to make a few suggestions for improvements that might be made. Stephen Root is very happy that French has now been offered to freshmen; he wishes that he might have started the language then. Talbot Page feels that some courses in the school are offered as disconnected fragments, and he urges that there be more correlation among the science courses, in particular. He also proposes that there be more emphasis on reasoning examinations, with fewer objective tests on how well the student has managed to remember a collection of facts.

Many of these points, incidentally, are presently being discussed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Secondary School-College Relations, which is composed of leading educators and scientists from leading institutions of learning who live in Winchester.

The town may be justly proud of having helped to cultivate the abilities of these and other distinguished young people, and Winchester citizens should always be interested in ways to improve our educational facilities even more.

It may be interesting to note that last year four Winchester High School seniors: Mary Kiley, Whitney Smith, Bradley Ross and Kirby Baker also became finalists in the National Merit Scholarship contest attesting to the caliber of students the school system and the town is turning out. In spite of the adjusting from high school to college life reports on these students indicate they are all doing an excellent job at leading New England colleges. Mary Kiley is at Smith, Bradley Ross is at M.I.T., and both Whitney Smith and Kirby Baker are at Harvard.

GEORGE LEO ROGERS

George Leo Rogers of 38 Grayson road, son of former Police Chief William H. Rogers, died suddenly Saturday evening, March 1.

Mr. Rogers was born in Winchester November 3, 1913, son of William H., and the late Annie (Parsons) Rogers. He grew up in Winchester, graduating from Winchester High School in 1931 and from the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in 1936. Previous to World War II he was associated as an accountant with the United Fruit Company in Armuellos, Panama, and the E. B. Badger Company in Sandusky, Ohio.

During World War II Mr. Rogers enlisted in the United States Navy, seeing active service in the Atlantic Theatre. Since the war he had been an accountant for General Foods at the Atlantic Gelatin plant in Woburn.

Mr. Rogers was a member of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, and had been a member of the Council Degree Team. He was also a member of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, and of Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Besides his father he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Richard Hegarty and Mrs. Leonard Gallagher, both of Winchester; also a brother, William H. Rogers, Jr., of this town.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Edmund L. Parker was celebrant, Rev. Charles E. Anadore, deacon; and Rev. Thomas C. Foley of St. Joseph's Church, Woburn, subdeacon.

Military honors were accorded by Winchester Post, A.L., and Aberjona Post, V.F.W. Members of the Knights of Columbus were honorary bearers and the active bearers were Legionnaires. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

IN DEBATE TOURNAMENT

Harvard University's Fifth Annual Invitational Forensic Tournament was held in Cambridge on Friday and Saturday, February 7 and 8. Cadet Harold H. McKinley, Jr., of Elmwood avenue, was one of four debaters representing the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

Thirty-eight debating teams took part in the two day tournament and then attended the banquet which was given following the final decisions and awards.

Among the colleges and universities sending teams and coaches and judges to the tournament were the University of Vermont, University of Pennsylvania, Northwestern, U. S. Naval Academy, Southeastern, Barnard, Brandeis, American International College, Tufts, University, Columbia, Fordham, Holy Cross, Amherst, M.I.T., Wesleyan, Dartmouth, Boston University, University of Maine and U. S. Merchant Marine Academy.

The winning team was from the University of Pennsylvania and the top speaker award went to Mr. Geier of Northwestern with 252 of a possible 300 points.

WINCHESTER IN HOOP SEMI-FINAL

Winchester High advanced to the semi-final round of the Tech Tournament Class B competition at the Boston Garden tonight by defeating South Boston 70-52 Tuesday evening.

The Indians opponent tonight will be Natick which beat Winthrop Tuesday, 71-59. Natick puts a 16-2 record against Winchester's 18-3, at 7:00 p. m.

If Winchester beats Natick, the Indians will go against Middlesex League rival, Belmont in the final round Saturday, always providing Mel Wenner's boys get by Framingham this afternoon at 5:30.

"THE INFERIOR SECONDARY SCHOOL"

PANEL DISCUSSION AT W.H.S.

"High School Salute," a feature of WBUR-FM, paid tribute to Winchester High School on February 26, at 8:30 p. m. "The Inferior Secondary School . . . Fact or Fiction" was the topic under discussion.

The four participating panelists selected by Mr. Morse from his speech classes were Ann Cumming, Elizabeth Fisher, Kathleen McCarthy, and Phyllis Rutter. The moderator of the half-hour discussion was a Boston University senior Bruce Whitney.

Prior to the discussion period, each of the participants expressed her views on the subject. Emphasis was placed on the need of more accelerated classes, a national standard for diplomas, a more concentrated curriculum, and the necessity for a change in the attitude of our nation toward intellectual achievement.

It was agreed upon that the two greatest weaknesses of the Secondary School are the need for nationwide standards throughout all schools and for accelerated classes. The American School's greatest strength, as stated by Kathleen McCarthy, is its goal: the creation of a patriotic and responsible citizen, an industrious, self-reliant, individual equipped with the knowledge and skills essential to making his own way in the world at whatever level of activity his talents permit.

The arguments presented by the student panel were frequently supplemented by statements of noted authorities. What is the proper perspective of science and mathematics in the high school curriculum? An answer to this question brought to light a recent statement by the Educational Policy Commission that survival in this age may be staked in science, but the building of peace calls for knowledge, insights, and abilities of many kinds.

Despite the faults of the present Secondary School System, the panelists were optomistic about the future and ultimate supremacy of the United States in scientific fields.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sweeney (Helen Knowlton) of Stoneham announce the arrival of a second daughter, Jean Knowlton Sweeney, on February 27, at the Winchester Hospital. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Edwin Knowlton of Stoneham.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Fisher (Jane Cligott) of Holden announce the birth of their second child, first son, Mark, at Fairlawn Hospital in Worcester. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Denis J. Cliggott of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Fisher of Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adams Fowle (Mary Haskell) announce the birth of their fifth child, second daughter, Elizabeth Simpson, on March 3, at the Waltham Hospital. Grandparents are Mrs. Albert Adams Haskell of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adams Fowle of Woburn. Mrs. John M. Wallace of Brookline is the great-grandmother.

To Mr. and Mrs. Maxime F. LeRoyer, of Ipswich, a second child, first daughter, Gretchen Friend, born at Richardson House, March 5. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. Stuart Friend of Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. LeRoyer of Winchester.

MRS. LOUISE W. KIDDER

Mrs. Louise W. Kidder of 21 Ridge street, widow of George S. Kidder, died early Wednesday morning, March 5, at her home after a long illness.

Mrs. Kidder was the daughter of Charles, and Adelaide C. (Hutchinson) Rice. She was born June 11, 1876, in Winchester and spent her entire life in the town, being educated in the Winchester schools and holding membership in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Kidder's husband died in 1943. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Clarissa Francis of Somerville; and two sons, George S. Kidder, Jr., of Riverside, Calif., and Clinton W. Kidder of Winchester. There are also surviving six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Louis Anthony Poste of 197 Bow street, Everett, and Louise Mary Zaffina of 14 Hill street.

Hugh Marvin Whitaker of 421 Rowls street, Hawksville, Ga., and Nellie Rose Duncanson of 8 Harvard street.

COMMUNITY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Letters are being sent out by the Community School Association this week end asking for support for the annual Northeast Music Festival, to be held in Winchester, May 3rd.

For the first time in twenty-five years, Winchester will have the honor of being host for this spectacular event, which will feature forty bands, orchestras, choruses and glee clubs from High Schools and Junior High Schools from all sections of Middlesex and Essex Counties. More than five thousand young musicians are expected to take part in the festival.

All events will be free, including the concert of massed bands on Manchester Field, the mass concert of choruses in the High School Auditorium and the mammoth parade.

It is up to Winchester to put on a good show to demonstrate the pride the Town takes in being chosen as host for the occasion, and the General Committee under Chairman Wendell Withington has asked the Community School Association (formerly the Central Mothers Association), through its President, Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully of South Border road, to contact the parents of all Winchester school children, to act as Patrons and Patronesses.

In order to have your names in the program as evidence of your interest and support of this splendid undertaking send your checks to the Community School Association, Box 54, Winchester. The cost in only $2 a couple to have your names listed as sponsors. Please get your donations in before March 15, since the program has to go to press by that date. Anyone in town who would like to be included in the list of patrons or patronesses, even if you do not have a child in the Winchester schools, may send a check to Town Treasurer E. Abbot Bradlee, who is Treasurer of the Festival Committee.

Last year when Concord was the host town, more than five thousand youngsters from 38 cities and towns participated. Let's show everyone that Winchester can be the best host town yet.

WINCHESTER WINS TOURNEY QUARTER-FINAL

SOUTH BOSTON VICTIM, 70-52

Winchester eliminated the team many believed the best in the Class B ranks of the Tech Tournament Tuesday evening when the Indians beat the South Boston "Shrimp Boats," 70-52. The win put Winchester in the semi-final round of the tourney tonight when the Indians take on Natick, conqueror of Winthrop in Tuesday's matches.

Dave Schumacher led the Winchester attack against the "Southies" with 23 points, gained on nine floor goals and five goals from free tries. Dick's brother, Hank, only senior on the team, picked up 15 points and Dougie Thomson, 12. Flynn's 16 was high for "Southie."

South Boston lost the game at the foul line, scoring only eight points on free throws while Winchester picked up 28. "The Shrimp Boats" outscored Winchester from scrimmage, 22-21, but had a terrible time at the free throw line. The Indians also had a big edge in re-bounding.

It looked like quite a ballgame at the end of the quarter with the teams deadlocked at 15, but an 18-10 scoring advantage in the second quarter put Winchester ahead of stay.

Starting the third quarter "Southie" threw a scare into the local ranks as Flynn scored twice from the floor and Gentile got a foul basket to shave the Indians' lead to three-points, 33-30.

This was as near as the "Shrimp Boats" ever came, for Dave Schumacher made it 35-30 with a jump from the keyhole and then went on to score eight of ten points that put the game out of South Boston's reach, the other two being scored by brother Hank.

Excessive fouling by South Boston in the final quarter slowed down Winchester, but the Indians still had a five point scoring edge, 20-15. The summary:

JUSTIN A. SULLIVAN

Justin A. Sullivan of 21 Sargent road died suddenly Saturday, March 1, at his home. He was 52.

Mr. Sullivan was born in Gardner on July 30, 1905. The family moved to Medford and only recently had come to Winchester. He was graduated from Fitchburg Teachers College and Columbia University. For the past 17 years he taught at the Malden Vocational School.

He was a member of the School Masters Club of Boston and the Malden Teachers Association.

Mr. Sullivan leaves his wife, the former Mary T. Mahony of Medford, and two sons, Terrence D. and Peter J. Sullivan of Winchester. He also is survived by four brothers, Daniel and John of Gardner, and Francis and Edward of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; and a sister, Mrs. Mary Hannigan of Gardner.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, March 4, from the Gaffey Memorial Funeral Home, followed by a solemn high mass of requiem at 9:00 o'clock at St. Raphael's Church in West Medford. Interment was at Oak Grove Cemetery in Medford.

MISS CLAIRE LUCE

MISS LUCE IS A VERY PERSUASIVE WOMAN

We have uncovered some interesting facts about Claire Luce who will be guest star for the Winchester Community Theatre for the annual Celebrity Night presentation.

Miss Luce is a 'Do It Yourself' addict. For years she designed her own costumes. Her costume changes as 'Cleopatra' set a new record. Where hitherto for centuries only one dress was worn throughout the play, she insisted upon and designed twelve striking changes. Although she has been on the "Ten Best Dressed Women" list, she prefers to "whip up" something herself and usually finds it being copied.

She was the very first person to start the fad for colored nail polish in America. Having acquired a very deep sun tan in the South of France, she asked Madame Mille of Paris to make her up a very deep red polish and thus started a world wide vogue.

She also started a vogue for the "snood" a few years back, having picked up a small colorful fishnet in the Greek Islands. Her most remembered holiday was sailing through the Aegean Sea in Greece when she was "Skipper, Chief-cook and Bottlewasher."

Her form of exercise is still dancing ... stretching, she thinks, is the best form of exercise for women. Her program to be given at the Winchester High School Auditorium, Saturday, 8:30 p. m. March 15, should be an unusual and interesting one.

PUBLIC INVITED TO HEAR SCHOOL BUILDING PANEL AND REPORT

The second report of the Junior-Senior High School Building committee will be presented to the town next Tuesday evening, March 11, in the senior high school auditorium. Since holding an open hearing on February 11, the committee has received the study of its independent consultants and prepared an interim report. As a convenience to town meeting members, parents, and interested citizens, the committee will present its report on the same program with a discussion of the space problems confronting Winchester's educational planning.

The panel discussion which is co-sponsored by the Junior High School Associates and the Senior High School Parent Faculty Association, will open the double program promptly at 7:45. Panel members representing town boards and committees directly connected with future school planning will set forth the problems facing the town. Dr. Leonard C. Mead will moderate the discussion between the panelists from the finance committee, planning board, school committee, school building committees and school department.

The Junior-Senior High School Building Committee will sponsor the second half of the program and will present the report prepared for presentation under Article 22 of the Warrant for the annual town meeting. This will be followed by an open discussion of the report, and both the committee and its consultants will be on hand to answer questions.

HEADS PLANNING BOARD

At a special meeting of the Planning Board held Tuesday evening Ralph H. Bonnell was elected chairman for the ensuing year and George B. Redding was elected secretary. Other members are Harris S. Richardson, Franklin J. Lane and Nicholas H. Fitzgerald.

Mr. Bonnell, long prominent in town affairs, has been on the Planning Board since 1945 and has previously served as chairman. Mr. Redding, former chairman of the Selectmen and Finance Committee, was appointed to the Planning Board recently to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Harold V. Farnsworth. He was elected to the Board at Monday's election.

MISS VAUGHAN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Vaughan of Woodside road announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Vaughan, to Mr. Frank J. Prekop, Jr., of Belmont.

Miss Vaughan was graduated from Winchester High School in 1954 and is now employed by the Shell Oil Company, Boston.

Her fiance attended Northeastern University and is employed by Shell Oil Company.

An October wedding is planned.

OBSERVE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Palladino of 371 Main street surprised their parents Sunday night, March 2, with a special celebration in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

The anniversary party was held at the New Orleans Room of the Sherry Biltmore Hotel in Boston. A lovely time was had by all.

Warm Day Brings Out 35% Vote

Bradlee, Chisholm, Sawyer, Brink, Broadhurst Win

The seasonably warm weather on Monday was probably partly responsible for the 3,571 votes cast at the town election. There were few real contests this year, the principal ones in the selectman, board of health and school committee berths. In all, 35 per cent of Winchester's voters turned out to record their choices, 6 per cent more than at the 1957 elections. Winchester's registered voters number 10,201.

H. Gardner Bradlee and Ronald J. Chisholm were victorious in the race for selectman. Mr. Bradlee of 46 Lorena road, vice president, secretary and a director of the Cambridge Trust Company, polled 1,979 votes. Mr. Chisholm of 227 Cross street, an attorney, received the highest number of votes for selectman, 1,982. The third contestant, Oscar E. Merrow, received 1,938 votes.

Another contested position was that of board of health. Richard A. Sowyer of 24 Ledyard road, assistant to the director of sales at Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Company, took this contest with a plurality of 733 votes.

Mrs. Mary M. Brink of 33 Samoset road received the highest number of votes for school committee. Mrs. Brink polled 2,303 votes. The other successful member of the committee is Austin Broadhurst of 18 Glen road, an attorney, who polled 2,259 votes.

Other town-wide offices were not contested. This year there were two women running, Mrs. Brink, who was successful in the school committee race, and Mrs. Marion N. Chandler, who was elected to the trustees of the public library. The largest number of polled votes this year went to Ralph W. Hatch, who ran on an uncontested slate for cemetery commissioner. Mr. Hatch polled 2,983 votes. Second to him in number of votes received was Gleason W. Ryerson, who polled 2,934 for three-year constable; Harrison Chadwick, 2930, as moderator, Joseph T. Callahan, 2921, two-year constable, and Nicholas H. Fitzgerald, 2901, five-year member, planning board.

Among the precincts, highest vote getters as town meeting members were Daniel T. Chane, 1; Francis P. Dolan, 2; Frank T. Barnes, Jr., 3; Charles W. Butler, 4; John F. Sexton, 5; and John Joseph Tansey, 6.

Precinct 6 had a tie for eleventh place in the town meeting members. Ruth E. Enstrom and James J. Russo both polled 365 votes. This tie will be settled at a precinct meeting later on.

RICHARD L. FOSSETT

Richard L. Fossett of 21 Chesterford road, retired executive of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Compnay, Incorporated, died late Monday, March 3, at his home. He was 72 years of age and had been a resident of Winchester for 16 years.

Prior to his retirement from active business in 1945, he served the Socony organization for 36 years in various positions in Albany, New York, New York City and Boston. He was born in Pittston, Maine and attended schools in Gardiner, Maine.

During his retirement he had been active in the Winchester Congregational Church, the Winchester Country Club and the Arlington Rifle Club. He was a member of the Wadsworth Lodge A.F. & A.M. of Albany, New York.

In addition to his wife, Ethel Berry Fossett, he is survived by three sons, Richard L. Jr., of Garden Grove, California, Kenneth of Cincinnati, and Carroll of Wellesley, Mass.; his brother Earl D. of Randolph, Maine, and eleven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Ripley Chapel in the First Congregational Church at 2:00 p. m. on Thursday, March 6, with the Rev. Dr. Dwight Cart officiating. Burial was at Wildwood Cemetery.

DRIVING COURSE REGISTRATION

Under the auspices of the University of Massachusetts Extension Service a driver-training course will be held at Medford High School. Registration for the course will take place Tuesday night, March 11, in room 101 at 7:30.

Fifteen two-hour classes will be given each Tuesday and Thursday. Successful completion of the course will result in an automobile insurance reduction for drivers under 25 years of age. The course is limited to the under-25-year-old group and high school seniors only.

HEADS ASSESSORS

Charles E. Howe, a member of the Board of Assessors since 1953, was elected chairman of the Board for the ensuing year at an organization meeting yesterday. He succeeds Marshall R. Pihl, who continues his membership on the Board.

Robert Shohet, King Lion, Elton McNeill, chairman of the Massachusetts Lions eye research program, and Richard Rogers, chairman of the Winchester Lions eye research program. The Winchester Lions presented Mr. McNeill with a check for $260.00 as their part in the eye research fund drive.

LIONS LINES

Mr. Elton McNeill of the Peabody Lions Club and chairman of the Massachusetts Lions Eye Research Program was the guest speaker at the Lions meeting on last Monday. Mr. McNeill gave a most inspiring talk on the success the eye research program has had and the problems they hope to conquer in the near future. After his talk, Lion McNeill presented a film on eye research. This film was well received and at the conclusion of the film, King Lion Shohet and Sight Conservation Chairman, Dick Rogers presented a check for $260. to Mr. McNeill for the Lions' eye research Fund.

The Lions sponsored "March of Dimes Drive" in Winchester also presented a check to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for $5,300.00. The Drive was headed in the town by Lion Ted Boecker and he did a splendid job in directing the drive. The Lions want to thank all volunteers who helped in any way with the drive. The Lions are preparing to take part in the Massachusetts Safety Drive. This drive will be state-wide and everyone's cooperation will be needed.

Everyone is reminded that the Lions will be happy to take care of any eye examinations or new glasses for needy cases in the Town.

WYMAN SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

On February 28, the third grades of Wyman School, Mrs. McPeake's class and Mrs. Dodge's class presented a physical education assembly, under the direction of Mrs. Montgomery, physical education supervisor. Rhythm activities, calisthenics, square and folk dancing were presented. All the children in both classes took part. The boys did an Indian dance accompanied by the girls beating on tom-toms which were constructed in class as a part of an Indian unit study.

The program was as follows:

March, Virginia Reel, Sicilian Circle, Pop Goes The Weasel, Indian Dance, Bingo, Jesse Polka.

ART ASSOCIATION

The March meeting of the Art Association was held Tuesday evening, March 4, in the Music Room of the High School. Coffee was served by Mrs. Theodore E. Burleigh, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Hollis Nickerson.

Analyzing Modern Masters" was the subject of the evening presented by Tom O'Hara, a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design and now an assistant professor at the Mass. School of Art. Mr. O'Hara began his talk by using a still-life of Bracque, an important French artist, as an example of the experimental design coming into vogue about 1920. Studying this painting carefully Mr. O'Hara stated that the distortion of drawing and shapes was deliberate, that design expressing motion and feeling was more important than a realistic representation. Examples of paintings by Picasso, Cezanne, Van Gogh and other artists were discussed in an illuminating way. These artists "liberated color" and developed the modern abstract technique. As Mr. O'Hara uses his art in the commercial field he compared the technique used in advertising with that of contemporary art. He advised his interested audience when viewing contemporary painting to look for design rather than subject matter.

The president, Mr. John Ottiano, reminded the members of the Local Talent Show which will be exhibited at the April meeting and also reminded them of the Artists and Craftsmen Fair on April 11.

FRANK LAMBIASE

NAMED MAINE AGENCY MANAGER

Frank Lambiase, assistant district manager of the John Hancock Life Insurance Company's Portland, Maine agency since 1954, has been named Maine Agency manager for the Maine Fidelity Life Insurance Company.

SPRINGFIELD COLLEGE GYMNASTS AT HIGH SCHOOL SATURDAY

Twenty-four young athletes who have developed extraordinary skill in gymnastics are members of this year's Exhibition Team at Springfield College, which will appear here tomorrow night at 7:30 p. m. in the Winchester High School Gym.

Membership on the team is one of the most coveted honors in Springfield College athletics since this Varsity team makes numerous appearances each winter before large and enthusiastic audiences in both competitive and exhibitional gymnastics.

Co-captains of the current team are Dick Aronson of Springfield, Mass., and Lance Saidak of Westfield, Mass., both seniors and veteran team and individual performers. In addition to being fine gymnasts both boys are good students and have been active in campus extra-curricular activities. Dick is one of the best all around performers on the squad.

Arrangements for the Exhibition Team show are under the sponsorship of the WHS Varsity Club. Details are in charge of a committee composed of Art Stavaridis, Joel Peckham and Bob Needham. Tickets may be obtained from any Varsity Club member or at the door Saturday night.

HOSPITAL FRIENDS BRIDGE PARTIES

Thursday afternoon, March 27, and Friday evening, March 28, are the dates which have been set this year for the annual card parties sponsored by the Friends of the Winchester Hospital. All proceeds from this popular series go to the hospital, and the committee hopes that this year the response will be bigger an better than ever.

Bridge or canasta parties may be planned for either one of these dates, giving you a chance to include husbands, who always enjoy a good, competitive game.

There will be many exciting prizes for each day's parties, so do start asking your friends and neighbors and join in to make it a memorable occasion.

For further details, please call Mrs. Richard Preston, chairman of the event, at WInchester 6-2039. We are sure that every one will get together to make this Spring Project of the Friends a great success. Won't you?

SONS OF ITALY Bowling News

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

We are racing down the home stretch and Holy Cross and Boston College are now tie for top honors. The only difference is the pinfalls which might prove very important as it has in the past. We can't count St. Mary's and Alabama out of the running because they are clinging right behind the leaders.

Team Standings:	W	L	P.F.
Holy Cross	25	11	12,619
Boston College	25	11	12,539
St. Mary's	20	16	12,629

Notre Dame	18	18	12,545
Bates	13	23	12,250
California	13	23	11,880
Georgetown	12	24	12,568

Hi Single:
Babe Tofuri 144

Hi Triple:
Max La Carubba 367

Top Ten Bowlers:

Tony Saraco	104
Choppers Gangi	102.4
Bob Fiore	101.6
A. P. Tofuri	100.1
Dick Fiore	98.3
Babe Tofuri	97.9
Jeff Gaudioso	97.5
Tony Chefalo	96.7
Max La Carubba	95.9
Corregidor Fiore	95.1

Well we didn't have a great abundance of 300 bowlers this evening but five of them managed to do just that. This group was led by Richard Giacalone, 329; Musky Tofuri, 310; Al Diminico, 307; Tony Chefalo, 301 and Babe Tofuri, 300. The honor of hi single for the night went to one of the younger bowlers Richard Giacalone, 119.

Although Boston College finished at the bottom of the heap the first half she is trying desperately to finish on top this half. With this thought in mind and their will to win they again took high team pinfalls with 1433. Their captain Deadhorse Chefalo has really got his team bouncing around, assisting are young Frank Corbi, Leroy Penta, Johnny Dattilo, Arca Amico and the western rancher Gene Rotundi.

Eddie Forgione and Rudy Rotondi are now tied with the distinct honor of bowling a 2 box which they both accomplished this evening. In the pleasanter atmosphere we had 21 strings over 100 and the overall average of the bowlers was 91+ this evening. Our medical report shows that both our venerable and Dr. Chic Vespucci are sufferers of alopecia areatia. We can say that it's too late to worry about it now as it has gone too far.

Carl Bertolucci is back in the lineup even though his bowling hand is not completely healed. St. Mary's is really steaming as she faltered this week but lo and behold she is to play both top teams very soon and you'll surely see the fur fly. The irony of it all will be on closing night when Holy Cross and Boston College will meet.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

Last week Bob, this week Pete
When he's right he's hard to beat
Sometimes good othertimes fair
Crazylegs please, bowl with care
Seldom rests or takes a snooze
They tell me too he's anti-booze
He's a good sport and a real spender
And let's not forget a peanut vender.

I don't have to tell you there are but only five weeks to go and as the evening closed the award went to College Boy Pete Gilberti.

New way to relax

Psychologists say organ music is the most relaxing kind, and playing does more for you than listening. Come in and try the Hammond Chord Organ, and get a thrill from playing beautiful organ music in 30 minutes! One finger of your right hand picks out the melody. One finger of your left hand presses a button for a rich, full chord. If you can't read notes, you can use easy "Picture Music". Come in today and learn how to play away your worries on the easy Hammond Chord Organ!

SCHUMACHER BOYS WIN FOR WINCHESTER

(The following article appeared last Friday, February 28, in the Boston Traveler.)

New Jersey's loss is Massachusetts' gain. The gain is two 6-5 brothers who wear the white and black of Winchester High. Dave and Henry Schumacher paced Winchester to a 17-3 regular season slate. And between them they scored 31 points in yesterday's 74-65 win over Swampscott at Boston Garden.

In the second game of the twinbill, Natick rolled over Roslindale, 62-43.

Winchester to face South Boston next

The victory earned Winchester a quarterfinal berth in the Class B Eastern Mass. schoolboy basketball tournament against undefeated South Boston next Tuesday night.

The Schumacher family moved to Winchester from New Jersey in 1956. Both boys were then six footers and naturals for basketball, but younger Dave had to be content with playing for the freshman football squad.

As a junior, Henry had sprouted to nearly 6-4 and won a starting job with the varsity. Dave, meanwhile, was playing regularly with the jayvees.

This year both boys have come into their own. Henry was elected captain and has been averaging in double figures for the Indians.

Brothers play double pivot

Younger Dave experienced growing pains over the summer and came back to school at 6-4 and weighing 190 pounds.

Still only a junior, Dave has become the top rebounder on the club and has already passed brother Henry in scoring.

The Winchester attack is built around the two boys who play at double pivot. Their fast break offense is usually started by whichever brother comes down with the rebound.

The versatile brothers don't confine their talents to basketball, however. Both boys are members of the track team also. And, you guessed it—both compete in the same event.

Henry was Winchester's best discus thrower last year. But Dave, who outweighs his older brother, threatens to surpass him this spring.

Henry also was a mainstay on last fall's cross-country squad but always had company while training. Dave would tag along to get in shape for basketball.

Both are in the college course and Henry already has visited many colleges. It is a good bet that he may be found on an Ivy League campus come next fall.

Henry and Joel Peckham are the only seniors on the Winchester team.

MUCH ADO ABOUT MEN

By Jack Chitel

The man approached me in a rather furtive manner, peering shifty-eyed from under a battered old hat. Oh, oh! here's the big touch, I thought.

But, no. It was a banker of considerable means who wanted to ask where a certain address was. I had almost started scurrying away under threat of a pan-handler's approach. If I had, he could put the whole blame on himself and his old hat.

I relate all this in a friendly way, of course, to show how things happen in life. Now, that banker had no business wearing a hat that gave him a seedy first-look appearance.

Hats are the crowning glory to a man's outward appearance. And today's spring sky-pieces artfully improve a man's appearance; they give him a head-to-toe completeness in his dress.

The new narrower-brim hats have been designed to fit in with the natural-shoulder suits and coats as an important part of the general picture of neatness that marks the men's wear scene today.

Certain men have balked at the idea of going from a wide-brim hat into a narrower brim; but by gradual steps they have arrived at the present point where narrow-brim neatness is smart. Can it be done, even by big men? Ha! I have an ex-wrestler friend who weighs a hefty 240 pounds, and he has made the big switch. Handsomely, too. So much so that you don't even notice his cauliflower ears. Well . . . not very much.

CHIRHO NEWS

The St. Mary's Chirho group met on Sunday, March 2, at St. Mary's Hall, where they listened to a very excellent explanation of liturgical music by the adult choir with commentaries by Fr. Dolphin. After the Mass was sung, the choir sang a few of the more popular songs of our own day.

Fr. O'Connor To Speak

On Sunday, April 20, Fr. Norman O'Connor, C.S.P., will speak to the group. Fr. O'Connor is the foremost expert on jazz music in this area. He will give what he calls a beginner's course in jazz. This talk will be accompanied by some of Fr. O'Connor's jazz recordings. The meeting will be open to anyone who wishes to come. There will be a donation of 25c, which will go to Fr. O'Connor for his charities.

Tentative plans were discussed for a Chirho baseball team to be entered in the Diocesan Chirho League. Final plans will be discussed at the next board meeting in two weeks.

The Chirho Club is open to all the young adult parishioners who have graduated from high school. There are no other requirements. It is open both to those who are working and those attending school, either preparatory or college.

The aims of the club this year are, first, the spiritual well-being of the members and, second, an increased membership. Besides the baseball team and Fr. O'Connor's lecture, the club has tentative plans for a dance in May, and a season-ending beach party. All high school graduates are urged to attend the meeting during the next three months.

The next board meeting will be Sunday, March 23, at 7:30 in the O'Riordan Room of St. Mary's Hall.

KIWANIS NOTES

The regular meeting was held on Wednesday with Anthony DeTeso, athletic director of Stoneham High School, as the speaker. Mr. DeTeso showed some excellent sports films.

Next Wednesday plans are to have the film "Road Ahead" as the featured part of the program. The film deals with road building in general and with interstate highway planning.

The month of March has been, for the past few years, New England Scholarship Fund Month. Since the initiation of this program in 1953, approximately $29,600 has been contributed, voluntarily, at $1.00 per contribution, by New England Kiwanians to assure worthy high school students a college education. To date, $16,000 has been paid out in tuition fees. We now have fifteen Kiwanis Scholars attending college. This June three more students will graduate, ever grateful for the opportunity provided by Kiwanis.

The High School bulletin board will carry our scholarship story to interested seniors, and applications will be left at the school. We will be permitted to propose one worthy student for a scholarship at a meeting to be held by Lieutenant Governor Leo, during the first week of April. This may be Winchester's year. We will certainly do our best to present the story of our candidate.

"OLD YELLER" DRAMATIC MOTION PICTURE

A Bull's-Eye straight to the heart is scored by "Old Yeller," Walt Disney's most dramatic motion picture, the irresistible story of a family and a dog in early Texas which opens Wednesday, March 12, at the Winchester Theater for one (1) week.

Dorothy McGuire, Fess Parker, Tommy Kirk and Kevin Corcoran deliver flawless performances as the pioneering Coates family defying a harsh, often dangerous wilderness. Jeff York, Beverly Washburn and Chuck Connors shine in supporting portrayals.

High spot, however, in Disney's full length Technicolor production is the rowdy title role created by Spike, a yellow dog with talent to match his size. This remarkable animal is truly unforgettable as Old Yeller, the canine rover who in one eventful summer brings a frontier household enough love, laughter and heartache to last a lifetime.

A fine selection of Eaton's stationery at the Star office, 3 Church street.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

The next regular meeting of the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour, will be held Tuesday, March 11, at 2 o'clock, in St. Mary's Hall. Mrs. Peter A. Murphy, president, will preside.

Following a short business meeting, a fashion show will take place. The very latest up-to-the-minute gowns, hats, suits and coats for milady will be displayed by the Elizabeth Hines Fashion Shop of 5 Central street, Stoneham. Members and their guests are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. John Moynihan is general chairman and she will also act as commentator. Mrs. Moynihan will be ably assisted by the following committee members: Mmes. Vincent Ambrose, John Hanlon and Robert Cavanagh. The pianist for the afternoon gala fashion show parade will be Mrs. Fred E. Brigham.

Another highlight on this occasion will be the drawing of the lucky winners of several interesting prizes, including an embroidered sweater, gown, orchid corsage and a cut-flower arrangement.

The following members will model the advance spring creations:

Mrs. Lester Killion
Mrs. Henry C. Valcour
Mrs. Leo Manoli
Mrs. M. G. Moffett
Mrs. Walter Crotty
Mrs. Michael Hintlian
Mrs. George Keane
Mrs. John D. Madden
Mrs. J. W. Plunkett
Mrs. William D. Sullivan
Mrs. Talma Greenwood

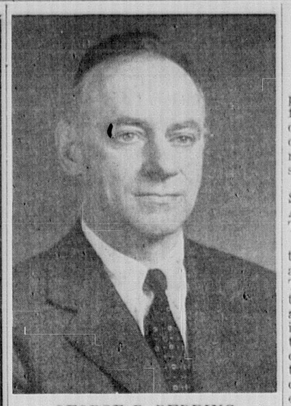
PARTICIPATES IN SEVENTH ARMY MANEUVER

Specialist Third Class Joseph W. Horne, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester L. Horne, 3 Stratford road, recently participated in "Sabre Hawk," a Seventh Army maneuver which involved more more than 100,000 troops in Germany.

Specialist Horne, who arrived in Europe in April 1956, is regularly stationed in Frankfurt as a draftsman in Headquarters Company of the 4th Armor Group.

The 1955 Winchester High School graduate worked for the F. W. Woolworth Co., before entering the Army in October 1955.



GEORGE B. REDDING

NAMED LOCAL CHAIRMAN FOR DARTMOUTH FUND

George B. Redding of 10 Cranston road, is one of six prominent Dartmouth College alumni in the Greater Boston area named as local area chairman for the Special Gifts phase of Dartmouth's current $17 million Capital Gifts Campaign, according to a recent announcement by F. William Andres of Chestnut Hill, regional chairman for Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Mr. Redding, who graduated from Dartmouth with the class of 1929, is a lawyer with offices in Boston. He is also former president of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Boston.

As the initial step in a 12-year Development Program leading up to the College's bicentennial anniversary in 1969, Dartmouth's current campaign is seeking $17 million in capital funds to provide for construction of new classroom and laboratory facilities, increased faculty compensation, and construction of the College's proposed multiple-unit center for drama, the visual arts and other student activities which will be named in honor of Dr. Ernest Martin Hopkins, Dartmouth's President Emeritus.

The Special Gifts phase of Dartmouth's current campaign in the Boston area will be inaugurated with a kickoff dinner on Tuesday, March 18, at the Hotel Sheraton-Plaza in Boston. Dr. John Sloan Dickey, president of the College, will be the featured speaker.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME TO HEAR OUTSTANDING CATHOLIC YOUTH

On Sunday morning, March 9, at the 7:45 a. m. Mass, St. Mary's Holy Name Society will receive Holy Communion in a body. After Mass, coffee and doughnuts will be served in the hall and the March meeting will take place.

President John Fitzgerald will preside and reports on the family communion breakfast, bowling league and Holy Week activities will be heard. New members are cordially invited to attend and take part in the events of the society.

The Nocturnal Adoration Society will hold their monthly hour of devotion at St. Clement's Eucharistic shrine in Boston on Friday, March 21, from 9:00 to 10:00 p. m. Cars will leave from St. Mary's parking lot at 8:15 p. m.

The guest speaker is Paul Andrews of Woburn. Paul is a graduate of Boston College High School and is a pre-med junior at Boston College. He is past president for three years at the Woburn Deanery Council of the C.Y.O., a member of the Arch Diocesan Youth Council and holder of the Eagle of the Cross, a national catholic youth award. His subject will be "Youth Speaks."

CHATTERBOX CLUB MEETS

The Chatterbox Club of Boston will hold its annual communion breakfast on Sunday, March 23. Mass will be celebrated at 9:00 a. m. by his Excellency Archbishop Richard J. Cushing at the St. John Bosco Chapel, 29 Warrenton street, Boston. Following the mass the breakfast will be held at the Bradford Hotel. His excellency will be the guest speaker.

The proceeds will be presented to the Archbishop. Anna Gallello of Winchester is on the committee.

VOLPE CHAIRMAN OF "SOUTH PACIFIC" PREMIERE

John A. Volpe of Everett avenue, prominent building contractor and former federal and state public official, has been named chairman of a group to present a gala premiere of Rodgers and Hammerstein's new picture "South Pacific" in Tood-AO technicolor at Boston's Saxon Theatre on Tuesday evening, April 8, for the benefit of Boys' Towns in Italy.

Starring in the new version of the production are Rossano Brazzi and Mitzi Gaynor. Ambassador Thomas A. Pappas is treasurer of the committee of distinguished men and women of all national origins in charge of distribution of tickets to a "black tie suggested" audience cooperating in the raising of funds to further construction of a Massachusetts building for Boys' Towns of Italy.

Founder of the boys' town movement in Italy, with the support of Pope Pius XII whose continued endorsements have been enthusiastic, is the Very Rev. Msgr. John Patrick Carroll-Abbing, the Irish priest on duty in Italy who has become famous for establishing and developing "Shoeshine Hotel" for homeless boys.

Volpe, former Massachusetts Public Works Commissioner and former Federal Highway Administrator, is president of the Malden and Washington construction firm bearing his name.

CONSTANTINE GHIKAS PRIZE AWARDED TWO TUFTSMEN

Following in the footsteps of a former Winchester Tufts student, the late Constantine Ghikas, Tufts '41, who while an undergraduate excelled in Romance languages, are two Tufts seniors, who were sharers of the Constantine Ghikas prize, awarded for the first time during the 1957-58 academic year.

This coveted prize was established by George C. Ghikas of 6 Calumet road, in memory of his son, and is awarded for excellence in a program of major study in the field of Romance languages. The winners this year are William L. Ballard of Atlanta, Ga., an all A, Phi Beta Kappa student, and Marshall D. Hastings of Nashua, N. H., a consistent Dean's List student and president of the campus French Club.

Constantine Ghikas received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Tufts in 1941, graduating summa cum laude and with honors. He then went on to do graduate work at Harvard before entering the service. After serving four years in hazardous duty with the tank corps, he was discharged only to die three years later from wounds received in combat.

LENTEN TEA

The annual Lenten Tea at the Church of the Epiphany will be particularly gala this year with not only the usual food, candy, and plant tables, but added attractions for the children. There will be movies for the older ones and punch and cookies for the younger ones.

A large staff of workers, under Mrs. William Towner, has been working on the Tea, to be held in the Parish Hall from 3:00 - 5:00 on March 28, and the Japanese decor should be well worth seeing.

A very cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend this annual social gathering.

METCALF UNION

Metcalf Union, the high school group at the Unitarian Church, is sponsoring a course this month called "Facts of Life and Love for Teen-agers."

The first meeting in the course is this Sunday night, when a film will be shown that was produced by the Social Hygiene Association of Massachusetts. A speaker from that association will address the group.

Four prominent Winchester doctors will participate in the program. They will meet on Sunday evening, March 16, to study questions submitted by the high schoolers at the end of the first session. No young people will attend on that Sunday night.

The participating doctors are: Dr. Donald McLean, chairman, Dr. Edward Rendall, Dr. Nelson Fontneau and Dr. Richard Clark. Details of the discussions have been worked out by the doctors and a committee of mothers.

On March 23, the youngsters taking the course will be divided into groups, each group to be with a doctor, for a discussion of questions that have been raised. The course will conclude on March 30 with a talk by Rev. Robert A. Storer on the spiritual side of love and marriage.

Written permission of parents is required for all taking the course and it is understood that attendance is essential if the course is started.

Myles McKey, student minister, Mr. Arthur Rich and Herbert Black, adult adviser to Metcalf Union, have worked on the program in conjunction with a committee of mothers, including Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Langdon Powers, Mrs. Richard Clark, Mrs. Herbert Black, Mrs. Richard Alt, Mrs. Arthur Rich.

METHODIST ACTIVITIES

The women of the Methodist Church will have a busy time this coming week. On Thursday, March 13, the regular monthly meeting will be held in the Social hall at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Marshall Symmes will entertain us with her pictures "Captivating Scandinavia and a Little Bit of Holland."

Miss Mary Hodge will have charge of the worship service. Dessert and coffee will be served by the Hillside Circle at 1:00 p. m. Anyone wishing to leave children in the nursery may do so.

On Friday evening, March 14, at 8:00 p. m. Thyra Ferre Bjorn, Swedish author will be our guest. Mrs. Bjorn, daughter of a Swedish parson will tell us of the humorous situations arising in parsonage life. Following her talk Swedish refreshments will be served.

This program is open to the public and it is hoped many will avail themselves of the opportunity of meeting Mrs. Bjorn.

ELECTED TO SORORITY POST

Miss Gretchen Luitwieler of 89 Cambridge street, has been chosen to office in recent elections held at Lawrence college by Alpha Delta Pi, one of six social sororities on the campus at Appleton, Wis.

Miss Luitwieler will serve as a co-social chairman of the sorority. A third year student, she is listed on the Lawrence scholastic honor roll. She is a member of the Lawrence concert band, the Lawrence symphony orchestra, and is the head copy-editor of the Lawrentian, the college's student-published weekly newspaper.

TWO LOCAL MEN WRITTEN UP IN HARVARD BULLETIN

(The following articles appeared in the Harvard Alumni Bulletin for January 18, 1958 and February 8, 1958, respectively. The articles are part of a series running in that magazine. Both of these men who were written up in consecutive issues of the Bulletin are from Winchester.)

Teachers in Action
John U. Monro

If a clangorous laugh strikes the ear of one passing the north end of Weld Hall, the chances are that John U. Monro, Director, is in the Financial Aid Office. It is not that Monro takes lightly his task of allocating scholarships; this is achieved with all the finess that enthusiasm can bring to assiduity.

His deep laugh is the laugh of the explorer and adventurer, embarking on some new path, testing some new approach. As a senior at Harvard in the spring of 1934 he tested whether another daily could compete with the Crimson. In the News Office he helped for seven years to discover new and better ways to spread the word.

In the Pacific he explored construction and repair work at sea, and wound up as damage control officer of the carrier Enterprise. Coming back he worked with the veterans beginning to flow into Harvard. Since 1950 he has been in charge of student scholarships, jobs, and loans.

If he is asked what he does with the rest of his time, he will say "There isn't any rest of the time," but he teaches in Freshman English and works on the Faculty Committee on Athletics; he does sundry jobs for the Scholarship Service of the College Entrance Examination Board, acts as chairman of the Committee on Educational Policy of the Alumni Council at Andover, participates in the work of Negro Scholarship Service (N.Y.), and serves as chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee of the Winchester public schools. Next to colleges, he believes the best institutions in the country are second-hand bookstores.

Mr. Monro lives at 24 Park street.

Joshua Whatmough

Languages are as easy to learn as anything else, according to Joshua Whatmough, Professor of Comparative Philology. The desire is the thing. When he entered Manchester University no elementary Greek was offered, so he joined an advanced course and in a few weeks was having no trouble.

Any language, he maintains, can be learned in three weeks, and it is best learned in the country where it is spoken. He thus acquired his German in 1912. Words in a dozen Indo-European tongues dot his blackboard at the conclusion of a lecture. His students are required at least to learn to count from one to ten and to know the word for one hundred in Sanskrit, Greek Latin, Gothic, Old Church Slavonic, and Lithuanian.

As he paces the classroom, he obviously acts on his firm belief that the first duty of a teacher is to arouse interest, the second, third, fourth, and nth to keep it. That linguistics need by no means be dull or esoteric was recognized last year by Whatmough's publisher, who printed his Language, a Modern Synthesis in a soft-cover edition with the expectation of selling 100,000 copies.

In addition to this and seven other scholarly volumes, he has written more than 400 articles and reviews. All his writing he does before breakfast, compensating for his four-o'clock rising with a nap in the afternoon. During his present sabbatical term he is off to keep some lecturing appointments that have been accumulating in Japan, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, India, Pakistan, and South Africa.

Professor Whatmough lives at 17 Central street.

STOLEN CAR USED IN ROBBERY

A car belonging to a Winchester man figured in a Marlboro bank hold-up last Friday. The Marlboro police contacted the local police to report that the car used in the robbery was registered to a local man.

The car belonged to John Trump of 9 Cambridge street and he had reported it stolen on Wednesday evening. The car was in his garage at the time it was taken.

SMITH COUNCIL REPORTS MEETING

A bright crisp winter day greeted the Winchester Smith Club for its meeting of February 26, at the home of Mrs. Robert Kittredge, 27 Everett avenue. This was an experimental morning coffee meeting and was very well attended. Mrs. John Hutzenlaub presided and Mrs. Harrison Lyman brought it to the attention of the Club that the annual Smith Pops concert will take place at Symphony Hall the evening of the sixth of May. Please get in touch with her for early reservations.

Mrs. John Hutzenlaub then gave her report on the annual meeting of the Smith Alumnae Council which she attended last February with Mrs. Gilbert Hood in her capacity as our representative from the Winchester Smith Club. The purpose of the Council is to strengthen relations between the college and its alumnae. Mrs. Hutzenlaub reviewed the highpoints of her busy two days at Northampton and spoke of the series of luncheons, speeches, teas and classes that she attended.

Two new members were welcomed at this meeting, Mrs. Winston Hirdle of Chesterford east and Mrs. Peter Dietz of Highland avenue.

WYLIE — CONNOLLY

The Immaculate Conception Church was decorated with white carnations and yellow chrysanthemums for the marriage on Sunday, January 26, of Miss Mary Theresa Connolly, daughter of Mrs. Marie Connolly of 814 Main street and the late Mr. Michael J. Connolly, and George Kenneth Wylie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wylie of Chicago Heights, Ill. The Rev. Stephen Burke performed the 4:30 p. m. ceremony. Mrs. Monroe supplied the music.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Ben McGuerty, the bride wore a lace and tulle gown with a sweetheart neckline trimmed in pearls. Her veil was of fingertip length, held by a crown of pearls. Her flowers were white chrysanthemums edged with ivy.

Miss Catherine Callahan of Winchester was maid of honor. She wore an arcadia blue dress with a velvet top and accordian pleated skirt and a small blue hat. Her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums edged with ivy.

Miss Ellen Jean Connolly of Winchester was flower girl. Her floor length dress was of shrimp tulle and she wore tulle mitts and a small shrimp-color flowered hat. She had a wristlet of white carnations with colored streamers.

Gaetano Caputo of Auburn was best man. Ushers were Silas F. Whitmere of the Burlington Army Base and William O'Clare of New Hampshire.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hayes Steak House in Billerica. Mrs. Connolly wore a light blue dress with navy accessories and a corsage of mixed flowers. The Ross Wylies were unable to attend the ceremony due to illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie left on a wedding trip to Chicago Heights, Ill., after the reception. They are now living at 814 Main street. Mrs. Wylie was graduated from Winchester and St. Charles High Schools. She is employed at the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company in Boston. Mr. Wylie is a graduate of the Chicago Heights, Ill., schools and is in the U. S. Coast Guard.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

WHARF — HALL

Vases of white gladioli, white snapdragons and chrysanthemums decorated St. Patrick's Church in Stoneham for the marriage on Saturday, February 15, of Miss Mary Lou Hail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Hall of Hail road, Stoneham, and Neal Anthony Wharf, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wharf of 163 Highland avenue. The Rev. George F. Smith performed the 10 o'clock ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial mass which followed. Samuel W. Smith was soloist and Edson L. Kimball was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a classic Elizabethan style gown of chantilly lace. The bodice was tight fitting with a v-shaped neckline and traditional long sleeves. Her three tiered lace train was chapel length and her veil was of pure silk illusion with a matching crown. She carried a cascade of white roses and white sweet peas with streamers of white sweet peas.

Mrs. Eleanor Hall of Somerville was honor attendant for her niece. Her ballerina length dress was of fuchsia pink chiffon with a velvet midriff. Her headband was a crown of pearls with veiling of fuchsia pink illusion. She carried a white heart-shaped bouquet centered with light pink camellias.

Miss Gail Wharf of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Jane Simpson of Stoneham were bridesmaids. Their dresses were identical to that of the honor attendant. Thy carried white heart-shaped bouquets centered with dark pink camellias. Miss Ruth Wharf, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

Robert A. Hall, Jr., brother of the bride, of Melrose was best man. James F. Hall of Somerville, uncle of the bride, and Gordon Noseworthy of Somerville, cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Sun O' China in Lynnfield. The bridal party was assisted in receiving guests by the bride's and bridegroom's parents. Mrs. Hall wore an aqua lace dress with dark brown accessories and a corsage of dark pink camellias. Mrs. Wharf wore a mauve pink lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white camellias.

Mr. and Mrs. Wharf left for New York on a wedding trip. Mr. Wharf is a master plumber and is proprietor of the Winchester Heating Company in Stoneham.

MISS HOUSTON ENGAGED TO REV. RODMAN CART

The engagement of Miss Joan Alexandra Houston to the Reverend Rodman Dwight Cart, son of Reverend Dr. and Mrs. Dwight L. Cart of Winchester, is announced by her mother, Dr. Angela Houston of Cambridge, and Boothbay Harbor, Maine.

Miss Houston is the daughter of the late Dr. John Alexander Houston who, for many years was superintendent of the Northampton State Hospital and trustee of Smith College. She is a graduate of Smith College, class of 1953, and since graduation has been associated with Jordan Marsh Company of Boston as a junior executive and in the department of interior decoration.

Mr. Cart is a graduate of Wilbraham Academy, University of Washington and of Yale Divinity School, class of 1954. He held a summer pastorate at West Dover, Vermont during his seminary days and after graduating from Divinity School, was minister of the Wilmington - Jacksonville Parish in Vermont. Mr. Cart is presently minister of the First Congregational Church of Vernon Center, Conn. A fall wedding is planned.

EDITORIAL

We would like to amend last week's editorial concerning the clearing of the fire hydrants. Winchester does have a system for clearing the hydrants; but because the roads take precedence over it, the fire hydrants have to wait three or four days, depending on the amount of snow.

The water department clears the hydrants after the highway department is through clearing the roads. In the last storm, the hydrant-clearing process began on Thursday (the storm came on Sunday).

This we think is a perfect opportunity for the Boy Scouts to do the town as a whole a service; a service which is badly needed. Not only would it be of inestimable worth should a fire break out during that period between the storm and the time the water department can get around to the hydrants, but it would also be a very civic-minded project for the Scouts.

It is a suggestion, a suggestion which has worked in other towns with a similar problem. We ask only that the Scouts consider it.

ALWAYS HEARING ABOUT WINCHESTER

Editor of the Star:

Winchester may be a small New England town, but I am always hearing about it, one way or another, and found the latest reminder which I saw in the Miami Sunday Herald yesterday. Briefly it was that the director of the Women Marines, Col. Julia E. Hamblet, is a native of Winchester.

I used to pity you Yankees having to spend the frigid winter in Winchester, but this year's Florida sun has made me seriously consider coming up here to warm up. It has been a real blow to the farmers and citrus growers down here and now that the worst of it is over the state expects 275,000 cattle to die of starvation because there is no grass to feed on and won't be any in time to save the animals. Florida has been reported to be the third-ranking cattle state in the United States, which few people realize, and this will also be a serious blow to the natives.

It's too bod we don't have a few clams to dig up or lobsters to trap to ward off the coming beef prices.

Best regards to you always,

Capt. Harry W. Stevens
Master, SS Chiwawa
Box 1356
Lake Charles, Louisiana

Editor's Note—Captain Stevens was born in Winchester and lived in town until after his graduation from high school. His father, the late Harry W. Stevens, was chairman of the board of selectmen at the time Winchester observed its tercentenary.

EMPTY-A

Editor of the Star:

An announcement has been made by the Metropolitan Transit Trustees of a $11,400,000 loss for the year 1957 for this broken down transportation system, and at the same time, with copious tears, announce a wage increase for its 4600 employees, amounting to $760,000 per year! At present the structure of the M.T.A. enables it to operate in a fashion wholly irresponsible to its source of income. The employees of this transportation system now enjoy the distinction of being the highest paid railway workers in America, with eight paid holidays per year, and looking for nine, plus many reservations.

A private business could not endure any circumstances operated on such a basis as the above mentioned, without gross failure! The system is controlled politically, and by the Union, having no respect for the taxpayers, who must make up the deficit of the M.T.A. There is a bill in the legislation at the present time calling for a $5,000,000 Bond issue for the purchase of new cars which brings to my mind a slogan—"Give me—Give me. If you haven't got it, go borrow it."

There is a great deal of talk by the experts, to extend the M.T.A. beyond its present limits, which of course would include the Town of Winchester. This would be an extremely lucrative field "for the boys" especially after the publication of Winchester's surplus of $648,800 for the year 1957. These "hunters" intensify their invasion on fertile fields, only to discourage future efforts of frugality.

This is what happens to the forgotten man, namely the taxpayer, when political decisions must be met, or else. With the accomplishment of additional territory, the employees of the M.T.A. could then demand $5.00 per hour, with two months vacation and retirement at full pay after ten years of service with the trustees receiving a salary of $25,000 each. Believe me, this may sound funny at this reading, but will certainly be a reality at the rate the M.T.A. is functioning!

Courageous Winchester Sextet Eliminated By Last Period Goals 2-1

A courageous Winchester hockey team went down to defeat with all colors waving by a highly favored Walpole team 2-1 in a thrilling quarterfinal game in the State Hockey Tournament at the Boston Arena Tuesday night.

The Sachems dominated play in the electrifying game but the alert Walpole team won the game when Bob Rooney, after serving a penalty at 5:30 for interference, jumped on the ice from the penalty box and kicked a loose puck that Winchester was bringing up the ice into the Winchester zone. Before the Winchester defense could recover, Rooney skated in on Doug Gowdy and beat him cleanly with a low drive at 6:48.

The first period saw Winchester having a territorial edge over Walpole. Several Winchester shots hit the post and one sailed over the top of the cage but none could find their way into the net. Walpole's goalie made several sensational saves.

The second period found Winchester again flying but what looked like sure goals were turned away. Then Walpole received a penalty for an illegal check. Coach Frank Finigan immediately inserted his first line of Davenport, Harkins, and Emerson. Twelve seconds after the penalty was called Davenport stole the puck and cannonaded a terrific shot past the stunned Walpole goalie. The Sachems fans went wild with excitement.

Two other forays found Winchester boys in on the Walpole net with possible scoring chances only to be turned away by inches.

In the third period the heroic Winchester sextet started out again in control of the puck. Play continued evenly with Walpole trying to break a man loose up on the right wing. The Winchester surge had made Walpole give up their vaunted passing offense to attempt a breakaway score.

Winchester penetrated deeply into Walpole territory. A long center-ice pass to Bob Famaghletti caught Winchester with a lone defender back. Passing off to a trailer, Bob Rooney, a leading goal came at 4:48.

Finigan pulled the goalie with one minute to play. Winchester bombarded the Walpole cage. Two shots hit the corners and another came within inches but no score was forthcoming. The game ended with Winchester organizing for another attack at the blue line.

Winchester can be proud of this fine group of Sachems. At the beginning of the season no one expected too much of them but they came on in the late season to give Winchester its fourth successive State Tournament entrant. They carried on in the highest tradition of hockey in Winchester under Coach Frank Finigan in the past six years. Captain Craig Davenport served as an example for future Winchester captains in his capable determined leadership.

Not to be bested by the latest efforts to put Explorer II into orbit, Winchester had its own satellite. Over the week end Ralph Jarrendt and Billy Blythe of Marchant road built a 10' snow satellite, complete with a candle on the top and fins at the base. Although the rocket has disappeared we doubt that it is circling the world.

WINCHESTER OVER DEDHAM IN STATE HOCKEY TOURNEY

A resourceful Winchester sextet upset favored Dedham High 2-0 in a second round play-off game in the State Hockey Tournament last Saturday at the Boston Arena.

Before the fans were settled in their seats Captain Craig Davenport poke-checked the puck away from the Dedham left wing and wound up from his own blue line to skate over the Dedham right defenseman. He let go a screamer to completely frustrate the diving Dedham goalie at 1:15 of the period.

The Winchester second line came on the ice and before they left, Billy Lamarche drove one from the blue line to the feet of goalie Dave Siroka. Siroka made a nice save on the initial shot but the rebound in falling jumped over his stick and into the net for a score at 2:54.

This ended the scoring for the day but not the thrills. The game proceeded at a furious pace with the Sachems all over the ice in breaking up Dedham plays.

Steve Powers and Dick Scott took control of the Dedham floater Jim Iorio who was high scorer in his league.

Doug Gowdy again was score proof in the nets. He made a spectacular save on a Dedham breakaway in the second period that would have given the flying Dedham team new life.

Dedham previously had whipped a strong West Springfield team that had been considered a tournament favorite as well as a strong Malden Catholic team. These performances had made them pregame favorites but Winchester with their determination and organized play soon changed the complexion of the odds.

"THIS IS THE LEAGUE, MRS. JONES"

The League of Women Voters of Winchester held its second annual meeting for new and prospective members on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Lowry. A most appreciative audience was delighted by the clever songs and the carefully worded explanation of League activities on the national, state and local level. Mrs. Leonard Mead accompanied the chorus most skillfully on the piano. The cast included Mrs. Donald Puffer, Mrs. Robert Grenzeback, Mrs. Ganson Taggart, Mrs. Lee Foster and Mrs. John B. MacLellan.

Mrs. John Hogan, membership chairman of the League, was in charge of the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Earle Littleton, Mrs. W. Howard Niblock and Mrs. Rogers Welles. "We could have talked all night" was the theme song of this meeting. Quite naturally, we focussed on the importance of the Kimball school population survey, copies of which will be widely distributed next week.

Converse Super Market, Inc., 10 Mt. Vernon street, has been accepted for membership in Super Market Institute, one of the nation's most outstanding business organizations, Don Parsons, executive director of the Institute, announced today.

Nikolla Andon is president of Converse Super Market. Through the company's membership, Converse Super Market will have at its disposal the entire resources of Super Market Institute, which provides aid and information in advertising and merchandising techniques statistical research, employee and supervisor training, general management consultation, and many other services. The overall goal of the organization, to provide more food at low prices to consumers, is spelled out in the Institute's creed—"that there may be more for all."

Membership in the Institute is limited to super markets that have passed rigid requirements as to volume of business and type of customer services offered. The membership includes more than 750 companies, operating 8,000 super markets, and doing more than $9,000,000,000 in business yearly. Membership is world-wide, with super market operators in Alaska, Hawaii, Canada, Australia and Europe cooperating with American merchants to provide better services to consumers.

LIBRARY NEWS

Library Special Article

Mrs. Smith, the librarian, will be at the library all day Saturday, March 8 and 15, to answer questions and point out changes proposed in the Library Special Article. All town meeting members and interested Winchester residents are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to acquaint themselves with the details of the article.

Citizens Committee Meets

The Winchester Citizens Committee for National Library Week met at the library Friday evening, February 28. At that time plans were formulated for the local observance during the week of March 16-22. The committee members are: Harlan J. Paine, Jr., chairman, Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., J. Joseph Tansey, John A. Dolan, Donald J. Fritch, Dr. Lawrence F. Quigley, Jr., Dr. Leonard C. Mead, David Weber, Roland Moody, Mrs. James B. Willing, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. Edward S. Rendall and Elizabeth Livingstone.

Decisions, 1958

Decisions, 1958, is a community discussion of our foreign policy sponsored by the World Affairs Council. During February and continuing through March, small informal groups have met in many surrounding towns to discuss topics which include Russia, the Rocket Age, the Middle East, and the U. N. Materials for these discussions are on exhibit in the library.

WYMAN STUDENTS VISIT MUSEUM OF SCIENCE

Youngsters from Wyman school saw electricity in action in a special Museum of Science lecture-demonstration program last week.

They were among some 50,000 children from parochial, public and private schools who will see the year-long School Visit Program under sponsorship of the Metropolitan District Commission.

Designed to stimulate an interest in science, the program is held in the Museum's Morse Auditorium and it features several demonstrations in which students play key roles.

They see for themselves just what electricity is, what it does and how indispensable a role it plays in our daily lives. Among points touched on by the Museum's Education Department are motors and generators, static and current electricity, high voltage and electronics.

A tour of the Museum's Exhibit Halls, including a stage demonstration of Spooky, nationally famous pet Great Horned Owl, completed the program.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL MOTHERS' FASHION SHOW

The George Washington School Mothers' Association wishes to thank Marie's Hat Shoppe of 166 Main street, Woburn, for a most colorful and successful Fashion Show which was held on Tuesday evening, March 4, in the School auditorium. Marie, of Marie's Hat Shoppe, was the efficient commentator for this very fashionable affair. She showed all types of suits, dresses, coats, casual wear, hats, and bags. The models from the Mothers' Association wearing these ensembles were: Mrs. Robert Carroll, Mrs. Philip Ardagno, Mrs. Harry Boodakian, Mrs. Nunzio Masone, Mrs. George Stone, Mrs. Salvatore Dantes, Mrs. Levon Boodakian, Mrs. Eugene Rotondi, Mrs. Lester Brooks, Mrs. Frances Bogue, Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, Mrs. C. W. Thompson, and Mrs. Robert Watson.

Many thanks also go to Boodakian's Rug Co., who very kindly laid the beautiful oriental carpeting for the runway and also set up a background of ferns which made a very lovely setting for the show.

During intermission, there was a drawing for the Door Prize which was won by Mrs. Donald Wrisley. Mrs. Wrisley selected as her prize a very beautiful beaded evening bag.

The entire affair was planned by the Ways and Means Committee under the capable direction of the chairman, Mrs. Leo Belliveau and her committee members Mrs. Richard Hakanson, Mrs. George Steers, Mrs. Lester Brooks, Mrs. Levon Boodakian, Mrs. Robert Westwater, Mrs. William MacDonald, and Mrs. John Coakley.

Following the show, Mrs. Richard Hakanson, Mrs. George Steers, and their assistants served coffee and a most delicious strawberry dessert.

It was a most enjoyable and refreshing evening for all who attended.

PHILATHEA BUFFET SUPPER

To all who remember with pleasure the delicious meals prepared and served by the Philathea group of the First Baptist Church over the years a cordial invitation is extended to enjoy a buffet supper in the social hall of the church on Thursday, March 13, at 6:30 o'clock.

Tickets may be procured or reservations made through Mrs. Robert E. Sanborn, 8 Black Horse Terrace, WInchester 6-0420. Children's tickets will be sold at the door at a reduced price, so that the whole family can dine together.

A delightful musical program has been arranged for relaxation and enjoyment following the supper.

FASHION SHOW

One of the gayest and prettiest parties of the season will be held tonight, March 7, at 8:30 at Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church, when the Florence Crittenton League will have its annual Spring Fashion Show.

This year Winchester's fair ladies will have some of their handsome husbands and fathers as escorts, who will be dressed in the latest men's fashion from Winchester's own men's shops.

Mrs. J. Morton Kidder, of the Bride's Shop in Boston, will be commentator, and will show several bridal parties.

There are many dinner parties planned and several groups are dining at the Country Club.

Everyone is cordially invited and tickets may be obtained at the door.

Student notebooks, paper and dividers at the Star office, 3 Church street.

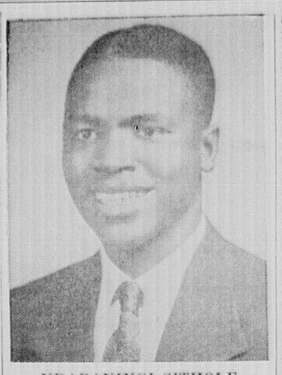
FEDERALISTS DISCUSS DISARMAMENT

Members and guests of the Winchester Chapter of the United World Federalists were treated to a particularly provocative evening on Tuesday, February 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Lowry.

After a short business meeting called by the chairman, Mr. Robert B. Williams, and an excellent report by the secretary, Mrs. Eugene Rochow, on last Fall's meeting, the two speakers of the evening were introduced by Mr. Ganson Taggart.

Mr. Russell Johnson, N.E. Peace Education Secretary of the American Friends Service Committee, opened the discussion by citing his reasons for believing that unilateral disarmament by the U. S. would lessen world pressures at a time of continuing stalemate on multilateral disarmament agreements. Dr. Lawrence H. Fuchs, Assistant Professor of Political Science at Brandeis University, on the other hand believed that an arrangement such as this would unleash Soviet brutality on the world wide scale. He reasoned that only by continually pressing for universal disarmament with adequate safeguards could the world's people hope for a future free of fear. Our speakers were agreed that the armaments race is so terrifying that it inhibits creative thinking and that by eliminating the causes that create fear, the tensions of the world would be relaxed and the hopes of mankind renewed.

The absorbed and attentive audience responded sympathetically to the points of view of both speakers and agreed that this had been the most stimulating meeting the local Chapter had ever held.



NDABANINGI SITHOLE

THE SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church is looking forward to having Mr. Ndabaningi Sithole of Southern Rhodesia, Africa, return this Sunday to speak to them at their service in Ripley Chapel, at 9:30 a. m.

Mr. Sithole is finishing his third year of theological training at Andover Newton Theological Seminary. On his graduation in May he will return to Mt. Silinda Institute, founded and conducted by the American Board, where he has served as a teacher.

Born of pagan parents in a mud-and-pole hut, Mr. Sithole was brought up under the rites of the witch doctor. He had no schooling at all until he was ten and had never seen a white man, a train or an automobile. Actually his education was very spotty until he was fifteen when he decided that he would really go to school and learn. He ran away from home and from then on, thanks to Christian schools, grit and a good mind, he worked his way through school until he was able to take a job as a country school teacher. With the encouragement of his wife he decided to study for the Christian Ministry. Upon his return to his native country he will be a special adviser to Christian pastors in his district.

Mr. Sithole has spoken widely throughout the United States and is a great favorite, especially with young people. Since his speaking engagements are very limited at present, Forum is fortunate in being able to have him here.

The chaplain this Sunday will be Richard Niles, assisted by James Dunlop. The deacons will be George Thompson and Eric Wittet; and ushers will be Bob Dickey and Craig Davenport.

Forumites will attend the Youth Lenten Services on Wednesday when the service will be in charge of the young people of the Methodist Church.

RED CROSS NOTES

This year, along with many other local chapters of the American National Red Cross, the Winchester Chapter, now a part of the United Fund, is not conducting a fund campaign in March for support of its ten service programs. But, since March is Red Cross Month, the Chapter notes will try to mention briefly the ways in which many of these service programs are carried out in Winchester.

This week we wish to give special attention to the work of the Junior Red Cross. Now on display in the Public Library is a group of articles made by Samoan children and sent by them to the Winchester Junior Red Cross as thanks for gift boxes sent from here last year. Our thanks to the Library staff for their cooperation in exhibiting these things.

With the move to the new Chapter House at 84 Washington street, a group of Junior Red Cross members have become active Chapter House Volunteers. These young people have given hours of hard work in the last two months, serving in many ways from shovelling snow and moving furniture to packing books and filling envelopes. Our hearty thanks to these fine young people who include among others, John Cleary, John Edmands, Pat Garvey, Jan Keyes, Dick Burns, Edmund Crotty, Randy Randlett, Bill Jonah, Laurence O'Cleary and Vickey England.

At last week's meeting of the Board of Directors of the Winchester Chapter, John Cleary won great applause with his report on the Jet Airplane Disaster. He has also won our thanks for the 60 hours of work which he has given to the Junior Red Cross Chapter House Volunteers in the past two months.

Our appreciation goes to Ted Little and the Junior Red Cross at the Winchester High School for their efforts in completing the Junior Red Cross commitment to the Bedford Veterans Hospital for 1957-58.

The March Junior Red Cross project in the schools is the filling of 214 gift boxes for overseas distribution by the American National Red Cross.

Winchester Chapter welcomes the increasing aid of Girl Scout Troop 10, uder the leadership of Mrs. Thomas M. Hill and Mrs. James R. Stewart, Jr. Among the the activities in which this troop has taken part recently was a trip to the Bedford Veterans Hospital on Monday, March 3. Girl Scouts Peggy Padelford and Nancy Hatchell, with their leader, Mrs. Stewart, accompanied Mrs. Cusack, executive director, in the Red Cross car driven by Mrs. Roger A. Griffin, Mortor Corps. The two scouts observed the part our Winchester Chapter plays in the work at Bedford.

Beginning March 11, two girl scouts will serve tea to the Tuesday Surgical Dressings unit at the Chapter House each week.

On Wednesday, March 5, the Winchester Chapter was responsible for staffing the Boston Blood Center for the day. Joining the group from Winchester for an hour in the afternoon were four girl scouts from Troop 10, who had previously helped at our Blood Donor Day in Winchester.

R. N.'s Needed!

If you are a registered nurse with spare time, and have not already registered your name with the Winchester Red Cross, won't you call WInchester 6-2300 and add your name to our list? We need one nurse a month for staffing the Boston Blood Center on Winchester's day, and a sizeable list of nurses so that in case of an emergency we shall always be able to find one. Your training may save your neighbor's life!

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

EASTER SEAL TIME

Governor Furcolo officially opened today the 1958 Easter Seal campaign of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped when he issued a proclamation named the period of March 6 through April 6 as "Easter Seal Time" and urged all citizens of Massachusetts to support the campaign on behalf of crippled children and adults.

"The Bay State Society," said the Governor, who is a member of the Easter Seal campaign committee, "is doing a commendable job of restoring our crippled children and adults to maximum usefulness.

"More money is required because of the increased number of physically disabled persons seeking services and the need for an expanded program. When we give to Easter Seals, we not only help in the direct care and treatment of the crippled, but we also help to strip the words, 'crippled' and 'handicapped' of silly superstitions, and bring through our contributions of time, money and energy a measure of independence to those who today are dependent. I call upon all citizens of the Commonwealth to give their fullest support to this worthy cause."

Robert J. Gaudrault of Springfield, vice-president of Friendly Ice Cream Corp., is state chairman of the $375,000 Easter Seal campaign.

SCOUTS' OWN

All adults interested in Girl Scouting will join the troops this Sunday, March 9, in a Scouts' Own at the High School, from 3 to 4 p. m. A Scouts' Own is an inspirational program in the course of which the girls renew their Scout promises. The responsive reading, in which all may participate, was written by Mrs. J. P. Eugley, with the help of the Juliette Low representatives. The Juliette Low World Friendship fund which has been collected by the troops, will be dedicated at this time.

The chorus of 26 Intermediate Girl Scouts will sing several songs, including one written by Mrs. Ralph C. Thompson. Mrs. S. M. Ward and Mrs. Thompson assisted Mrs. Eugley with the chorus.

The following girls are in the chorus: Laurel Ingraham, Roben Lou Thompson, Natalie Palmer, Betty Bowes, Joyce Horvath and Claudia Gordon from Troop 5; Janet Niles, Kate Robinson and Ruth Ann Hutchinson from Troop 6; Gwen Eugley from Troop 7; Janet Ward, Martha Hitchborn, Helen Nash and Susan Buchanan from Troop 17; Barbara Gilberti, Mary Ford, Camille Galuffo, Gail Grinnell, Linda Colliander and Leslie Simpson from Troop 18; and Marcia Gallagher, Jean Prue, Edna Sullivan, Joyce Barnard, Joan McNally and Ruth McKeering from Troop 32.

Final Rehearsal

There will be a final rehearsal of the Scouts' Own program at the High School auditorium today, March 7, from 4:30 to 5:30. Color guard, chorus, and a Juliette Low representative from each troop should be present.

Troop 7 Visits Fire House

A group of girls from Troop 7 visited the Fire House in connection with their work on a First Aid Badge. The Captain talked on first aid to drowning and asphyxiation victims, demonstrating the use of the resusitator and artificial respiration. This was followed by a tour of the fire station. Scouts attending were Jayne Armstrong, Diane Burnham, Carol Butters, Carolyn Carr, Gwen Eugley, Deborah Gay, Deborah Harrison, Margo Harmon, Ann Shidler and Martha Sweetser. Adults accompanying the group were Mrs. H. A. Butters, Jr., and Mrs. David Burnham.

Seniors Assist Red Cross

Senior Girl Scouts Peggy Padelford and Carlene Hatchell from Troop 10 filled a worthwhile need by acting as couriers taking books and magazines to the Bedford Hospital last Monday, in cooperation with this Red Cross project.

Also from Troop 10, Linda Chase, Joan Denton, Joanna Hill and Barbara Stewart were Winchester Day representatives at the Red Cross Blood Donor Center in Boston on Wednesday, March 5. In this activity, the girls go to the Dartmouth street Red Cross headquarters during the day and assist in the operation of the center.

Troop 11 Busy

Two patrols of Troop 11, 5th grade Parkhurst School, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Theodore Robinson, put on two excellently planned and executed skits, fulfilling the literature and dramatics requirements for the second class badge.

Patrol I portrayed Hansel and Gretel, with unusual costumes and foil covered scenery designed and made by the girls. Girls taking part were: Reader, Wendy Newman; Hansel, Catherine Milkie; Gretel, Vicky England; Father, Judy Dunn; Mother, Eileen Quinn; Old Man, Pam Pheeney; Witch, Debby Monkiewicz. Mrs. Lawrence England assisted.

Patrol III put on the Singing Shark. King Neptune was Barbara Doane, the Singing Shark was Barbara Benham, the Fish of the Sea were Ann Elwell, Joanne Berg, Jane Ivas, Nancy Robinson, Annette Petralia. Mrs. Harrison Elwell assisted the patrol.

An investiture ceremony was held this week for two girls, Joanne Berg and Jane Ivas who have passed their tenderfoot requirements and were eligible for their Girl Scout pins.

Board Meeting

The regular monthly Board Meeting will be at the Cabin on Thursday, March 13, at 9:30 a. m.

Training Committee

The Training Committee will hold a meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Robert Ingraham, Jr., on Wednesday, March 12, at 9:30 a. m.

Girl Scout Week

The week of March 9—March 16 is known as Girl Scout Week. Wednesday, March 12, is the 46th Birthday of the founding of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Our Equipment Agency, located at Filene's, will give a souvenir to Girl Scouts who call there this week with their Membership Cards.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

TO SING AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Once more the community has a real inspirational treat in store. Wednesday evening, March 12, the Mystic Glee Club will furnish the music at the Union Lenten Service to be held at First Baptist Church at 7:45 o'clock. The following selections will be rendered:

"Bow Down Thine Ear"—Haydn Morgan
"Give Ear, O Lord—Schutz
"Ave Verum"—Mozart

Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church, will deliver the sermon. This will be the fourth of the Union Lenten Services and a sincere invitation is extended to all, including friends and relatives of the Mystic Glee Club.

FLOWER SHOW FEATURES WEAVERS GUILD BOOTH

Mrs. William T. Glowacki of North Gateway is a member of the Weavers Guild of Boston who will be working at that Society's Booth at the Annual Spring Flower Show in Mechanics Hall March 9-15.

Mrs. J. Roswell Gallagher of Sharon, who is transcribing weaving terms into Braille, and is also Research Associate at the Childrens' Hospital in the Adolescent Unit, of which her husband, Dr. J. Roswell Gallagher is Chief, is chairman of a large committee on arrangements.

Articles of lasting beauty are woven for the Booth by interested weavers from New Hampshire, Vermont, the Cape and Martha's Vineyard, as well as from Greater Boston, and other parts of the State.

Featured will be handbags, aprons, skirts, rugs, luncheon sets, neckties, and many other articles woven in linen, cotton, and wool, and done in traditional and modern techniques.

A cordial invitation to stop at the Booth, near Seiler's Restaurant, is extended to all Winchester visitors at the Flower Show.

STUDENT EXCHANGE PROGRAM

On Thursday, March 20, Winchester High School will be participating in the Massachusetts High Schools Student Government Exchange Program. This is a program started in 1953 by Mr. John Curtin, affiliated with the Mass. Dept. of Education, who thought the school should get to know town and city government through an exchange program.

In 1953, Winchester was one of the first schools to participate in the program, but has been unable to continue, because of building conditions, until this year. On entering this year, the school hopes to pick it up and put it back on its feet and make it successful for future years.

There are 118 schools participating in this program this year and it has grown considerably from its experimental stages six years ago.

The purposes of the program are stated as: to enrich knowledge of town and city government in Mass., to gain greater appreciation of those who render competent, faithful public service and to encourage pupils' pride in their local community.

Winchester is exchanging with Lynn Classical High School. Five of our students will spend a day in Lynn and five of Lynn's students will come to Winchester. We hope to show our guests the high historical points of Winchester, the numerous schools, industries around the town and most important our system of town government in comparison with that of a city such as Lynn. To complete the day our guests will attend a session of the town meeting in order to show them our government in action. We hope the citizens will help to make their visit both enjoyable and successful.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO BE SICK?

"Can You Afford To Be Sick?" was the question ably and interestingly answered by Dean A. Clark, M.D., General Director of the Massachusetts General Hospital, last Thursday at the mid-winter meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

Introduced by Harlan L. Paine, Jr., Administrator of the Winchester Hospital, Dr. Clark detailed the reasons for the rise in hospital costs during the past few years which consequently has caused an increase in hospital fees paid by patients. Among the factors enumerated by Dr. Clark were the cost of living increases which eventually effect hospital costs, wage increases made to hospital employees to keep pace with wages in other fields, and the more complicated and costly care given patients today than ever before. Hospital volunteer organizations have helped keep down hospital service costs but Dr. Clark emphasized their primary contribution is to patient morale.

You can afford to be sick if you are adequately insured in proportion to your income and other expenses Dr. Clark explained and if some type of health insurance is made available even to those who are the greatest health risks such as the aged. A lively discussion followed Dr. Clark's talk and included an exploration of recent legislative developments involving hospital admission fees.

President of the Friends, Mrs. Frank B. Kelley, Jr., presided at the meeting. Coffee was served before by Mrs. Frederick A. Cardin and her committee.

FROM LEGEND TO UNIQUE FILM ENTERTAINMENT GEM

The beautiful and moving "The Miracle of Marcelino," a picture which has equally charmed critics and public all over the world, opens Wednesday, March 12, at the Auditorium Theatre, Malden.

Based on an old Spanish legend, which was found and re-written into a best-selling novel by Spain's most successful modern novelist, Jose Maria Sanchez-Silva, "The Miracle of Marcelino" has won several prizes at international film festivals. Its young and amazingly talented star, Pablito Calvo, won the prize at the Cannes Film Festival as the best child actor as a result of his portrayal of the foundling brought up by twelve Franciscan friars in a village Monastery.

"The Miracle of Marcelino" is a Chamartin Production released by United Motion Picture Organization.

HOSPITAL FRIENDS

All Friends of the Winchester Hospital who do volunteer service at the Winchester Hospital which involves food handling will receive chest X-Rays Monday, March 17 between 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. at the Town Hall.

Made available by the Winchester Board of Health, these chest X-Rays are now required by town regulations for all who handle food in public institutions or restaurants. A small fee will be charged each indivdual to cover the cost of using the equipment.

Other friends who would like to take advantage of this opportunity for a chest X-Ray may do so for the same small fee. Any further information about these arrangements may be obtained from Friends' Volunteer Services Chairman, Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell or Vice-Chairman, Mrs. William R. Kimball.

FIRES

Sunday, March 2, at 10:40 a. m. firefighters went to 159 Cambridge street in response to a call reporting an oil leak. The men spread a drying compound on the oil which came from a leaking tank.

At 5:40 p. m. there was a call reporting an auto fire at 2 Willowdale road. The car belonged to Donald K. Jellow and considerable damage was caused by the fire.

Other fire department work over the weekend was primarily due to flooded cellars. The department was called out numerous times for pumping equipment and aid.

READING SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA 25th ANNIVERSARY CONCERT

The Reading Symphony Orchestra will present its special 25th anniversary concert on Sunday, March 9, at 4:00 p. m. at Reading High School auditorium. Albion Metcalf will be the soloist, performing Schumann's A Minor Piano Concerto. Tickets will be available at the door.

Winchester residents who play with the Symphony are Mrs. Mary Anderson, harp; and Mr. Theodore Messer, violin.

MATIGNON GUILD

The Matignon Guild will meet Thursday, March 13, at Matignon High School Cafeteria at 2:30 p. m.

Entertainment will follow Business meeting and will include "Musical Miniatures" featuring Dorothy Perkins, soprano, Paul Ciano, baritone, and Donald MacFeeley, accompanist. Mrs. Joseph Shea of Somerville is chairman of the day.

PARISH PLAYERS' TRYOUTS MARCH 10

The Parish Players of Winchester take pride in announcing that their spring play will be "The Happiest Millionaire," a play that ran many months on Broadway with Walter Pidgeon, with the Parish Players the first amateur group to do it (even before the summer stock companies!). Tryouts for this delightful family comedy, with good parts for men and women, will be held Monday evening, March 10, at 8 o'clock in Chidley Hall. All who are interested in acting, or in production, are welcome to come that evening.

Mr. Harlan F. Grant will direct, and the production dates are April 24, 25 and 26. "The Happiest Millionnaire" is based on the book by Cornelia Drexel Biddle about her wealthy and eccentric (and athletic) father, and provides fine comedy in every line.

ROTARY HOPES TO REACH $4000

A few years ago the plateau on Winchester Rotary's auction quiz program was less than $2000. Differing from Hal March's program, the question is always the same, "How much can Rotary accomplish financially to meet the needs of its expanding program of service to the community?"

While the question remains the same, the answer varies according to the response of the community. This year Rotary is shooting for the $4000 plateau. That is the answer they would like to hear in the challenge set forth. You, as a citizen, can help to make it so. If you have any articles at home that are of no particular value to you and could bring a return at the auction, kindly call WInchester 6-4108.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester will hold the March meeting on Wednesday the 12th. Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin, 12 Everett avenue will open her home for an evening meeting. Please note the change in the address. Coffee will be served at 7:30.

Members and guests and this means that all gentlemen will be most welcome. This is to be the second evening meeting for this year.

The speaker of the evening is to be Christian Herter, Jr., who has announced his candidacy for Governor of Massachusetts.

OPEN LETTER TO WINCHESTER HOMEMAKERS

Are you "Just a housewife?"

If you have ever referred to your occupation in this terminology, perhaps your vision of yourself, your family, and your home is clouded by your attitudes towards your job, and possibly your aptitudes. Homemaking is a career. As a career, it should be treated with a respect which increases with your skills, knowledge, and industry. Satisfactions in your career as homemaker are proportionate to your attitudes towards your work and your aptitudes for the job.

The federal, state, and local governments have long recognized the value of career homemakers as an essential source for perpetuating a happy, healthy, prosperous nation. To this end, they have set aside tax funds to be used for the education of homemakers. Under the Agricultural Extension Service, the Home Demonstrations Department was formed to assist homemakers, just as the related 4-H Clubs train young people and the farm department works for the economic betterment of farm families.

Middlesex County is presently staffed with three home economists, called home agents,, bringing accurate, current information in all areas of homemaking to families in this county. By their articles in newspapers, radio broadcasts, television programs, and direct teaching, they offer homemakers a ready source for homemaking information.

Homemakers in many towns throughout this county have formed local groups which meet regularly, often in homes, to take advantage of the Home Extension Service program. The county home agent or a state specialist presents a program requested by such a group from topics related to homemakers' interest. Once such a group is organized, it may send one of its members to classes held at the county office in Concord to receive training in any one of the scheduled projects. The leader then teaches the project informally to her group.

There are no dues or membership requirements involved in Home Extension. The purpose of this public service is to offer homemakers an opportunity to gain knowledge and develop skills necessary to equip themselves to cope with the myriad demands of career homemaking. If you are interested in getting together with other homemakers and sharing career experiences, and learning from trained leaders, call or write: Mrs. Elliot Swanson, 59 Middlesex street, WInchester 6-4874. With enough interest, we can start with a project in April, "Managing for Family Satisfaction," taught by an extension specialist and a county home agent.

MENTAL HEALTH GROUP ACTIVITY INCREASES

Two recent meetings of the Winchester Branch of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association testify to the increasing interest in what mental health is and what a group concerned with it may do here in Winchester.

The Temporary Advisory Council of the branch met in the Rich Room of the Library recently to continue organizational work and discuss future plans. About twenty-five people who had volunteered interest at previous meetings came together with the Educational Director and the Community Consultant of the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health. Mr. Roger Gorham opened the meeting with the announcement of the loss of Mr. Harrison Lyman, Jr., as temporary chairman due to his move to Springfield. Subsequently Mr. Gorham was chosen to succeed Mr. Lyman and Mrs. David Beal to fill the office of temporary treasurer until the first annual meeting of the Branch to be held at the end of April. Mrs. John Sexton, temporary secretary, reviewed notes of the last open meeting in Lexington in November which took place with representatives of the four other towns associated with Winchester in the Mystic Valley Association - Arlington, Bedford, Lexington, and Woburn.

The advisory group explored the objectives of its first key committee, a program committee, to be one of sharing experience and conceptions of mental health and of working together toward the development of a program to answer local needs. The program committee, chosen as reflective of broad community mental health interest, was announced to be as follows: the Reverend Charles E. Batten, Father Stephen Burke, Mrs. Philip Efromson, Mr. Gardner W. Handy, Mrs. Thomas M. Hill, Mrs. Joseph P. Lynch, Mr. Bartley B. Nourse, Mrs. Stanley Osgood, Mrs. W. Langdon Powers, Miss Leonor M. Rich, Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mr. A. Bernard Vespucci, and Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund.

The Temporary Advisory Council also discussed the possibility of a future Mystic Valley area treatment or consultation center and what such a center, if developed, might mean to Winchester.

Last week the program committee held its first meeting with the temporary officers of the Winchester Branch. Broad discussion of the factors involved in mental health activity were discussed including the special nature of mental health education and the widespread misunderstanding of the basic term "mental health," so commonly confused with "mental illness." The range of the problem from the objectives of good mental health and its manifestation in the normal development of the child to the prevention of mental illness and rehabilitation of mental patients was considered. The group also took up the aim of developing community lay leadership in the mental health field.

A tentative plan for a six meeting workshop to be under the direction of Dr. Libbie B. Bower, psychologist and Education Director of the Massachusetts Association, was contemplated by those present. The group meets again next Monday evening, March 10, at the Library.

ANNUAL ROLL-CALL SUPPER

The Annual Roll-Call Supper of the Second Congregational Church will be held on Friday, March 14, at 6:30 p. m. Originally this event, which began with the founding of the Church fifty-two years ago, had as a feature the call of the roll of the members, each of whom answered with a verse from Scripture. The custom has since been changed, and now is an annual fellowship supper, with a speaker, who this year is the Rev. Wesley Mallery of the First Congregational Church.

There will be group singing, following the catered supper, led by Mr. Norman Keene.

The general chairman of the event is Miss Martha Whiting.

It is expected that in addition to the officers of the Church who will be seated at the head table, that there will be several of the charter members of the Church present.

HISTORIC MURALS DECORATE NEW FIRST NATIONAL STORE

Scenes from Winchester's early days are shown in a series of nine murals that decorate interior walls of the First National store, opening next week, Wednesday, March 12, at 695 Main street. Painted by Philip L. Martin, well-known Vermont artist, they show views of the community during the 17th to mid-19th centuries. Among the paintings are "The Squaw Sachem Selling Her Land—1636," "The Middlesex Canal—1803" and "The Portsmouth Coach at Black Horse Tavern." The murals, specially designed for the local First National, bring a touch of Winchester's history into the setting of a modern self service store.

It is indeed a far cry from those early days to the conveniences of this modern store. Mechanical equipment unknown in the past is taken for granted in the food store of today. Roller and belt conveyors are used to move supplies from delivery truck to basement to store shelves and stands. Canned foods, produce, dairy products and frozen foods are replaced in display areas with no interruption to customers on shopping tours.

Hermetically sealed compressors supply refrigeration to storage coolers and display cases. Temperatures range from minus 10 degrees for frozen foods and ice cream to plus 38 for produce, dairy and meat display cases. In spite of low temperatures in refrigerated display cases, hand rails are warm to the touch.

In the back room, an electronic scale helps calculate weight and total price of goods being packaged. Clerks supply this device with the name of the commodity and the price per pound, then put the package onto the scale, which calculates weight and total price exactly, prints the information on a label, which is ejected, ready to be affixed to the package.

At checkout stands, new silent registers total up customers' orders. A green light shows both customer and cashier that the register is clear before and after a sale. Entrance and exit doors open automatically to pressure of a foot on the mats.

Complete departments in the new Winchester First National include fresh meats and delicatessen, fruits and vegetables, dairy products, frozen foods, canned foods, housewares, toys, records, health and beauty aids, magazines, dietetic foods and many others.

Daniel Callahan of 10 Standish lane, a resident of Winchester for the past four years, has been appointed grocery manager of the Main street store. Callahan, who has been associated with First National Stores 16 years, was previously manager of the store at 323 Broadway, Somerville.

Supervisory management for the Winchester area includes George Maguire and Thomas Keane, meats; Fred Jaquith and Ludlow Berkeley, groceries.

WINNERS OF THE FORTNIGHTLY ART CONTEST FOR HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

Nine Awards

Fortnightly Art Committee Awards Prizes To WHS Students

At the regular meeting of the Fortnightly Club, prizes were awarded for paintings submitted to the annual contest sponsored by the club. The meeting was held on Monday, March 10.

First prize went to Helen Bolster for her "City Lights," and second prize was awarded to Charles Bond for his "The Winner." Both of these students are seniors at Winchester High School. Seniors who received honorable mention for their paintings were Daniel Chane for "Midnight Row" and Edward Lynch for "Lazy Day at the Ranch."

Juniors who received honorable mention were Janet Woodruff for "The Newborn," Marianne Bayley for "City Lights," Marcia Smith for "Winter Twilight," Joe McCormack for "Roughing It" and Aprille Godwin for "City at Night."

Before the awarding of the prizes, Miss Pauline Goodrich, head of the Winchester High School art department, spoke on the state art contest for high school seniors and told what the previous winners of the Fortnightly prizes were doing at present.

The pictures were judged by Mrs. John L. Lobingier, Mrs. Charles Underwood and Mrs. Paul H. Howard. The contest is sponsored by the Winchester Fortnightly, of which Mrs. Paul W. Atwood is the president, under the direction of Mrs. Hiram Moody, chairman of the art committee.

The four senior pictures along with some additional ones will be sent in to the state contest which is sponsored by the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs. From all the pictures sent in from high schools in different parts of the state, three winners will be selected by the Federation's art committee and a traveling display will be made up of works selected from the rest of those entered. The show is sent around to different high schools during the year. In 1956 Sally Snow of Winchester was the winner of the state contest. Final judging for the state show will be held on March 20 in Boston.

MRS. CATHERINE SIMONETTA

Mrs. Catherine Simonetta, widow of Cosimo Simonetta, died Thursday morning, March 13, at the home of her son, Dominic, 25 Marion street, following a long period of failing health.

Born in Italy 81 years ago, Mrs. Simonetta had lived in Winchester for nearly 30 years. Besides her son she leaves two grandchildren, Cosimo D. Simonetta and Mrs. Dominic Molea, both of Winchester; two great-grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Mary Rossi, and a brother Bruno Russo, both of Winchester.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from the Lane Funeral Home at 9 o'clock with solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church at 10. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

PRECINCT 6 ELECTS

At a Precinct 6 meeting Tuesday evening at the Noonan School Mrs. Ruth Enstrom of 4 Holton street, James J. Russo of 9 Adams road, and Mrs. Gertrude McCarron of 35 White street were elected town meeting members to fill vacancies.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. McDonald was elected precinct chairman and John T. Horn, clerk.

UNION LENTEN SERVICE

The Union Lenten Service next week will be held Wednesday evening, March 19, at the Unitarian Church at 7:30. Dr. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, will be the preacher and there will be a special musical program by the choir.

DWINELL HEADS WATER BOARD

James F. Dwinell, member of the Water and Sewer Board since 1951, has been re-elected chairman of the board. Mr. Dwinell has also served the town as a Finance Committee member and as Selectman, having been chairman of both important groups.

MRS. ANNIE B. WILCOX

Mrs. Annie B. Wilcox of Mt. Vernon street, died at her home early Monday morning, March 10, after an illness of six weeks. Mrs. Wilcox was one of Winchester's oldest residents and would have been ninety-nine on her next birthday. She was born in Bridgewater, on December 17, 1859, the daughter of George F. and Lucy (Conant) Leonard. She attended the Bridgewater schools and was a graduate of Bridgewater Academy.

Mrs. Wilcox taught ballroom and folk dancing in Bridgewater for a number of years before her marriage to the late Harry A. Wilcox on June 5, 1894. She moved to Winchester in 1918 with her husband and daughter and had been a continuous resident here for the last forty years.

Services were held in Bridgewater on Wednesday afternoon at Mt. Prospect Cemetery with the Reverend Harold Gustafson of the Bridgewater Swedenborgian Church officiating. Mrs. Wilcox is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Lucy Wilcox Cushman, and granddaughter, Lucy Ann Cushman.

On Girl Scout Sunday, Juliette Low representatives light candles dedicating their contributions to the World Friendship Fund on Girl Scout Sunday, March 9, in celebration of the 46th anniversary of Girl Scouting.

"SCOUTS' OWN"

Over 400 Girl Scouts and adults participated in a Scouts' Own held on Girl Scout Sunday in the High School auditorium. It was an impressive program, unique in Girl Scouting, planned and carried out by the girls and their leaders. The audience participated in reading in unison the responses to the words of the Juliette Low chairman and the Juliette Low representatives, who together worked out the ideas incorporated in the lines, emphasizing the ideals of Girl Scouting.

As stated by Mrs. Herbert Ross, the council president, in her welcoming address, the Juliette Low program concerns world friendship. The importance to world peace of 3 million Girl Scouts in the U. S., 30,000 American Girl Scouts in foreign countries, and 2 million Girl Guides in the rest of the world, all working together towards mutual understanding can scarcely be overestimated.

The wishes of the three neighborhoods, formulated by the girls themselves, and expressed as part of the responsive reading, were as follows: Neighborhood I, Wyman, Parkhurst, and Noonan Schools, "Let us join in civic organizations to improve our own community; never forget to be kind to animals; always try to improve our schools;" Neighborhood II, Washington and Lincoln Schools, "We're going to try to be nice to people we don't especially like. We wish there were Girl Scouts in every single country in the world, because there would be more friendship among people;" Neighborhood III, Saint Mary's and Mystic Schools, said "We want no more wars, but peace among countries. We want to sincerely believe in the Girl Scout Promise. Let each person go to the church of his choice."

The Juliette Low World Friendship fund, presented during a candle lighting procession of representatives from each troop, is used to further the international program of Girl Scouting.

In addition to the chorus listed last week, those taking part were:
Reader: Mrs. J. P. Eagley, Juliette Low Chairman
Pianist: Mrs. S. M. Ward
Neighborhood Juliette Low chairmen: Leslie Shean, Betsy Aiken, Ann Dyson
Color Guard, American Flag (Troop 10): Linda Chase, Joan Denton and Barbara Stewart
World Flag (Troop 6): Ruth Beckley, Donna Colclough and Sally Perkins
Intermediate Flag (Troop 17): Susan Tully, Deidre Cawse and Dorothy Woodard
Brownie Flag (Troop 61): Marilyn Zimmer, Nancy Millican and Regina Harwood
Director of Flag Ceremony: Mrs. Lawrence Beckley
Ushers: Betsy Root, Susan Fox, Susan Kimball, Dorothy March, Debby Eddy and Carol Monsen from Troop 10 and Mary Ann Morgan and Cathy Oliver from Troop 2
Registration: Mrs. William W. Towner
Juliette Low Representatives in the Processional: Lucy Ann Cushman, Cynthia Candee Callahan, Karen O'Donnell, Julia Carlson, Carol Nash, Leslie Brooks, Marcia Kimball, Betsy McCreery, Betty Jean Kennedy, Pauline Riley, Pam Wardwell, Beth Goddu, Dara Jarrendt, Mary Ann Hill, Elaine Sullivan, Sandra Caputo, Cynthia Magno, Paula Haley, Wendy Newman, Janice Leighton, Anne Pooler, Irene Johnson, Maureen Flaherty, Carol Sylvester, and Amada Burr
The program chairman was Mrs. H. A. Butters

MARCH 16 — MARCH 22

LIBRARY WEEK IS "NO-FINE" WEEK

To celebrate National Library Week, all overdue materials may be returned to the Public Library without payment of fine.

TOWN MEETING MONDAY

The first session of the limited town meeting will be held Monday evening, March 17, in the memorial auditorium of the high school on Main street, commencing at 7:45. Fifty articles, 13 less than last year, will come up for consideration by the town meeting members.

Any citizen of the town may attend town meeting, but only duly elected town meeting members can vote or present motions.

First article coming up for consideration of Monday's session is the article seeking certain changes in the limited town meeting act under which Winchester operates. How much of the meeting will be devoted to consideration of this article is conjectural, but it could consume considerable time.

Discussion of any great length could conceivably prevent concluding the long departmental budgets article, some of the items of which may well prove controversial.

The school department budget includes a raise for teachers already voted by the school committee.

Despite state authority for such action on the part of a school committee, no Winchester committee has previously raised salaries without the consent of the town, and a spokesman for the school committee told the Star that the members did so this year with great reluctance.

Their action was taken as a result of the state legislature raising the minimum salaries for teachers from $3,000 to $3,300, this action resulting in Winchester being placed in a bad position to recruit new teachers and hold outstanding personnel in its own department.

Most cities and many towns raised their teachers' salaries immediately after the legislature's action, and the increase from $3,000 to $3,300 had the result of raising school salaries all along the line.

As a consequence when Winchester went out to recruit new teachers they found the town offering a lower 1957 pay schedule against a new 1958 schedule being offered by competitors as a result of the legislature's voted pay raise.

Key teachers in Winchester were also being approached by communities which had raised their salary schedules and as a result of actual experience the Winchester School Committee came to the conclusion that to hold its present teachers and recruit desirable new ones it would be necessary to exercise its prerogative and vote a pay raise immediately.

The new salary increase, exclusive of the regularly provided steprate increase, adds $36,732 to the current budget which is up $98,758.51 over last year's, a percentage increase of 10.2.

CAPTAIN GEORGE L. GOVONI

CAPTAIN GEORGE L. GOVONI

Captain George L. Govoni of 7 Robinson circle, veteran pilot and senior captain for American Airlines, died in his sleep early Sunday morning, March 9. He underwent an operation last summer, but had been recovering nicely and had planned to return to his duties with American in the near future. Saturday evening he enjoyed entertaining friends at his home, and on Wednesday evening before his death he and Mrs. Govoni had attended a meeting of St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club, serving as chairmen for the meeting. His sudden passing was wholly unexpected and came as a severe shock to his family and many friends.

Captain Govoni was the son of Amedeo, and Mary L. (Lamborghini). He was born April 25, 1907, in East Boston, and was educated at East Boston High School and Tufts University, graduating from the Tufts Engineering School in the class of 1929.

From college he entered the Army Air Corps and trained at Kelley and Randolph Fields in Texas. After receiving his wings he served for two years as an Army pilot, being discharged with the rank of 1st Lieutenant. He then joined American as a pilot and first officer, being promoted to captain three years later.

During World II Captain Govoni made 28 Atlantic crossings as a civilian member of the Air Transport Command, taking service and supplies to the Army Expeditionary Force and later to the needy peoples of Europe.

Returning to American, Captain Govoni piloted the Boston to California flight and at the time of his illness was making passenger runs from Boston to Chicago, the first leg of the California run. He was a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, the Mr. and Mrs. Club of St. Mary's Parish and the Fathers Club of St. Sebastian's Country Day School in Newton.

On April 26, 1937, Captain Govoni married Virginia Quinn of Medford. After living for a time in Winthrop and West Medford they came to Winchester in 1942 to occupy the house built for them on Robinson circle.

Captain Govoni leaves his wife, two sons, David L., 18, and G. Graham, 14, pupils at St. Sebastian's Country Day School, two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Sevier of Medford and Mrs. Richard C. Kirby of East Boston; also a brother, Edmund L. Govoni of Medford.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Paul Curtin, S.J., of the Boston College faculty, a cousin of Mrs. Govoni, was celebrant; Rev. Charles E. Anadore was deacon and Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of St. Mary's, was subdeacon. Seated in the sanctuary was Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles R. Flanigan, headmaster of St. Sebastian's School; and Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Garrahan, chaplain of Maryeliff Academy. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

BODY OF MRS. JANET DORAN FOUND

The body of Mrs. Janet C. Doran, wife of Robert C. Doran of 3 Edgehill road, was located Thursday morning by the MDC police in the upper Mystic Lake.

Mrs. Doran disappeared from her home on Sunday, January 26, and when police located her car at Wedgemere station and found footprints leading toward the Aberjona river, they feared that she might have fallen into the river. Local firefighters joined with the MDC in dragging the river and the lake but efforts were stopped when they proved unsuccessful.

Since that time the MDC have been ordered to watch the area and yesterday morning Metropolitan officers Martin Foley and Edmund Chinchillo located the body floating about 20 feet from the Bridge on the Parkway where the river joins the upper lake.

Dr. Ridley, family physician for the Dorans, identified the body and it was removed to the Bennett Funeral Home.

HOOPER SCHOOL CHAIRMAN

Olcott L. Hooper, serving his second term on the School Committee was elected chairman at a recent organization meeting of the committee.

It has been the School Committee policy to have the present chairman re-elected to serve through town meeting, but this year the term of the chairman, Mrs. Louise Kugler, expired, making it necessary to elect a new chairman.

Mr. Hooper, chairman in 1955, was named and will serve at least until the coming town meeting is over.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

NO HOUSE SOLICITATION

According to our friend, Mr. Webster, to co-operate means to act or work together with others for a common purpose. Such is the aim of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

Years ago, Winchester had many affluent citizens as well as those who were not so affluent. These more fortunate citizens were greatly concerned about the children of those who had, for one reason or another been unable to acquire the funds necessary to further the education of their deserving children. So there came into existence many separate groups of scholarship fund raisers.

Unfortunately, where money is concerned, we always find people without scruples. So it was necessary to investigate the financial background of those asking assistance. Since many groups were investigating it was inevitable that such private information became the property of too many. So the Winchester Scholarship Foundation was established to protect those who were entitled to help and who should not be subjected to the embarrassment of having their private affairs bandied about.

This year there will be no house to house solicitation of funds. Too many causes feel that they must acquire funds in this fashion and so the goose that laid the golden egg is led to slaughter. The Winchester Scholarship Foundation hopes that those who wish to contribute to this strictly hometown Foundation for Winchester children will send their donations to Mr. George L. Connor at 31 Prospect street, Winchester.

The Winchester Scholarship Foundation consists of a representative from each contributing organization plus representatives from the sustaining membership. The Foundation elects a chairman, secretary, treasurer, three trustees, a four member gift committee, and the Scholarship Committee of four plus the principal of Winchester High School.

It is the Scholarship Committee that selects the winners of the awards. It is the Scholarship Committee that gathers and provides data for others proposing to award scholarships thus cutting to a minimum those who must have financial information.

PASSION SUNDAY CONCERT TO FEATURE "MESSIAH"

The Lenten portion of "Messiah" an oratorio by George Frederick Handel, will be sung at the First Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, March 23, at four thirty o'clock. The thirty voice Choir to be used at the performance is directed by Mr. Cameron A. Rylance, Organist and Choir Director at the First Baptist Church and will include the members of his Choir and students at the Boston University College of Music.

The portions of the "Messiah" to be heard at this concert are taken from Part Two of the entire work. This section opens with the chorus "Behold the Lamb of God" and concludes with the familiar "Hallelujah Chorus." The Recitatives and Arias will be sung by Priscilla Jackson MacKay, soprano, C. Ray Brian, tenor, and Dr. Cecil W. Pride, bass, soloists at the First Baptist Church, and Margaret Danford, contralto from Boston University.

Other works to be heard at this concert of Sacred Music will be the Processional Anthem "I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me" by C. H. Parry and the Chorale Number Two in B Minor for organ of Cesar Franck.

This concert is a musical offering to the residents of Winchester as part of their Lenten observance and is open to the public.

CARLETON — BROWN

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place in Eliot, Me., on Saturday, March 1, when Miss Stephanie Anne Brown, daughter of Wayne V. Brown of Strafford-Bow Lake, N. H., became the bride of Willard Tracy Carleton of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nagle Carleton of South Dennis. The double-ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. James L. Whitcomb of Bennington, Vt., took place at the home of the bride's uncle, Ernest B. Brown, and was attended only by members of the immediate families.

The bride, wearing navy blue silk with a petal-covered hat of chiffon and a corsage of yellow rosebuds, was attended by Miss Katherine N. Reynolds of New York City. John H. Brinkerhoff, III, also of New York, was best man.

After a brief honeymoon in Vermont Mr. Carleton and his bride will make their home at London terrace, New York, where Mr. Carleton is an executive trainee with the Bell Laboratories.

The bride, who is a staff member of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, graduated from St. Mary's School in Peekskill, N. Y., Colby Junior College and from Bennington College in the class of 1957.

Mr. Carleton graduated from Winchester High School, from Dartmouth College and from the Amos Tuck School of Business.

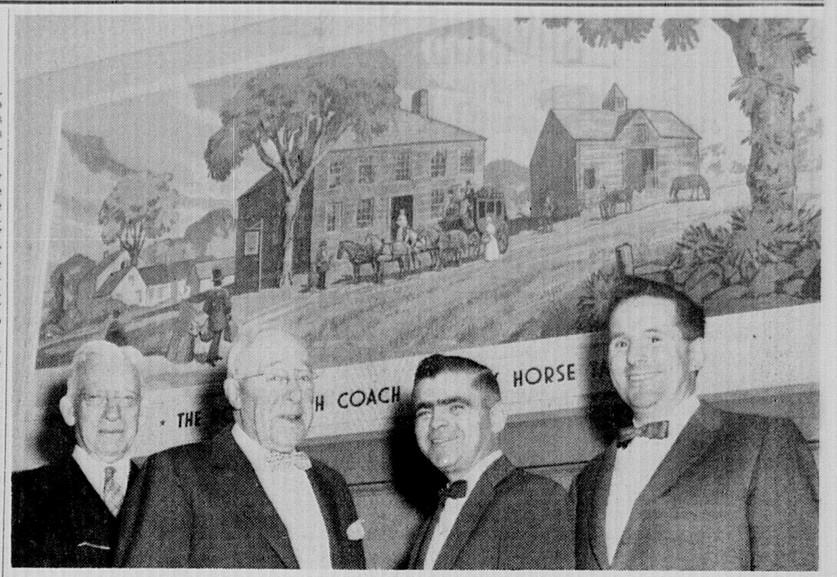
ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Buzzotta of Oak street announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemary, to Mr. Joseph Russo, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Russo of East Boston.

A June wedding is planned.

COON RE-ELECTED

James H. Coon, present chairman of the Park Board has been re-elected to serve for the coming year.



FIRST NATIONAL MURAL

Frank Crawford of 7 Wildwood street, president of the Winchester Historical Society, Maurice C. Bird of 247 Washington street, secretary of the Winchester Art Association, William Flaherty, meat manager of the new First National, and Daniel J. Callahan of 10 Standish lane, grocery manager, look over one of the murals which decorate the walls of the new store. The mural, "The Portsmouth Coach at Black Horse Tavern," represents the time when Winchester was a stage coach stop on the Portsmouth, N. H., to Boston run. The tavern was situated on Main street in the vicinity of the present Black Horse terrace.

KOCH HEADS LITTLE LEAGUE

The second meeting of the Board of Directors of Winchester Little Leagues was held at the Unitarian Church hall, Tuedsay evening, March 11. Charlie Koch, dynamic sports store impresario, the new president, presided.

This year it is the aim of the directors, who comprise the large majority of fathers with sons eligible to play little league ball, plus other interested townspeople, to make this a banner year.

This year's program includes:
April 12—Get together dinner (dutch treat) of directors and wives at Kernwood Restaurant, Malden Square
April 19, 20, 26, 27—Tryouts, both leagues Precincts 1, 3, 5 at West Side Field. Precincts 2, 4, 6 at Loring Field
April 26—Tag Day
April 28, 29—Player auction
May 10—Opening Day

Officers for 1958

DOLAN HEADS SELECTMEN

At this week's organization meeting of the Board of Selectmen John A. Dolan was elected chairman for the coming year.

A graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Law School, Mr. Dolan practices law in Boston. Previous to his election as Selectman in 1956 he was a member and chairman of the Finance Committee.

The new chairman is an Army Air Force veteran of World War II. He makes his home at 36 Eaton street, is married and has five children.

Wednesday Opening

Local Art And History Featured At Opening Of New First National Store

Local art and history were combined last Wednesday, March 12, for the opening of the new First National Store at 695 Main street at the junction of the Skillings By-Pass and Main street. The building combines modern, efficient packaging and handling of food and at the same time has a historic atmosphere due to the unusual murals which decorate the walls.

Frank Crawford of Wildwood street and Maurice Bird of Washington street participated in the opening-day ceremonies. Mr. Crawford, who is president of the Winchester Historical Society, and Mr. Bird, who is secretary of the Winchester Art Association, represented local art.

There are nine murals on the side and rear walls of the store, which were painted for the building by Philip L. Martin of Vermont. Research for the painting was done by George A. McFadden of Ardley road. Mr. Martin spent a week in Winchester with Mr. McFadden making preliminary sketches for the murals and completed the paintings in Vermont, where he teaches art at Thetford Academy. In addition to the murals, Mr. Martin also painted a series of silhouettes of food products and early utensils which are arranged between the murals on the super market walls.

Mr. Martin has devoted his life to teaching, illustration and advertising art. He attended the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts and is a member of the Boston Society of Water Color Painters. He is the author of many articles on handcrafts and folk lore and his first children's book, "Sol LaBonte," was published by MacMillan & Co. last year.

Of particular Winchester interest are the murals of the "Boston and Lowell Railroad, 1835" which represents one of the first railroad lines in this area, and the "Middlesex Canal," which was built in the early 1800's to provide passenger service and freight transportation from Boston to Lowell. The canal ran from the Mystic River through the Mystic Lakes and northward along the Aberjona River.

The "Portsmouth Coach at Black Horse Tavern" was made from an existing photograph. The tavern was a center for political rallies, meetings, assemblies and community affairs. The "Converse Mill and Dam" was one of the first buildings in Waterfield as Winchester was formerly known. In the early 1600's the mill stood near the present Converse bridge on Main street. Other murals show the early Winchester trades of leather working and shoe making, the Yankee peddler, Daniel Webster at near-by Horn Pond and the Squaw Sachem, whose land is now parts of Winchester, Arlington and Woburn.

JOHN K. CONVERSE

John K. Converse of 35 Dix street, a veteran of World War I and a resident of Winchester for 19 years, passed away suddenly in Richmond, Va., on Tuesday, March 11.

Mr. Converse was born January 29, 1898, in Medford, son of Marquis M., and Alice (Sargent) Converse. While attending Phillips Andover Academy he enlisted in the United States Army during World War I, later serving in the British Tank Service.

On his return to this country, after a course at Cornell University where he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity, he joined the Converse Rubber Company in Malden, founded by his father, and had been associated with this firm for 35 years.

Mr. Converse leaves his wife, the former Helen Marsh; a son, Lt. Douglas Converse, stationed at Fort Davis, Canal Zone; and two granddaughters. Two sisters and a brother also survive.

The funeral service will be held Friday, March 14, at 2:00 p. m. at the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Interment will be in Union Cemetery, Scituate.

BARBERSHOP QUARTET PARADE SCHEDULED FOR MARCH 28

SPRINGFIELD GYMNASTS PLEASED LARGE AUDIENCE

An audience of about 700 thrilled to the exhibition of gymnastics presented last Saturday evening in the high school gymnasium by the Springfield College Exhibition Team, this year observing its golden Jubilee. Springfield has long been noted for the excellence of its gymnasts and those who made up the team seen here last Saturday were no exception. From the opening to the closing number the college boys presented their various routines capably and with an ease that bespoke painstaking and expert coaching.

Henry Knowlton, director of Physical Education at Winchester High School and an alumnus of Springfield, spoke a few words of welcome to the audience and gymnasts as the program opened, introducing George Martin, '58, of Groveton, N. H., who acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the various acts.

The program was opened with a medley of old fashioned tunes played on the piano by George Burr, '59, of St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Burr also played for the various acts and his music added greatly to the effectiveness of the performers and the pleasure of the audience. Virtually all the routines were done to music.

The program opened with a mass warmup routine to music done by the entire team, and many found this loosening of muscles intriguing and among the high spots of the program.

The program included free calisthenics, tumbling and rope climbing, side horse and still rings, parallel bars, pyramid building, horizontal bar and flying rings, long horse vaulting, Indian club swinging, trampoline and triple balance. As usual the program closed with those always spectacular living tableaux posed by the gymnasts with their bodies bronzed to simulate statues. These well conceived and artistically posed tableaux were warmly applauded and effectively closed a most popular program .

It would be hard to highlight any especial routines as most popular. Many liked the high bar and performances on the rings. Others found the trampoline work absorbing. Lovers of calisthenics like the club swinging, and that done in the darkened hall with lighted clubs was very eye-catching.

The comedy numbers, especially the clowns, were popular with the younger members of the audience, and others liked the soft shoe routines and dancing of the Charleston.

To those who have tried it the rope climbing was most interesting, and the times made by the participants incredible.

The pyramid building and tumbling were warmly applauded and most spectacular was the daring dive by Joseph Dorsey, '58, of Baltimore, from the small trampoline over 10 of his mates lying on top of each other on the long horse.

It was announced that several of the best members of the team were not in Winchester because of competing in a National Gymnastic Meet, but there was no lack of quality in those who did perform here. Those who are admitted better than last Saturday's performers must indeed be great!

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

We call your attention to the March meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester. The published date in the Star was wrong. We are sorry and cards are out which give the correct date.

Wednesday evening, March 19 at 7:30, at the home of Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin, 12 Everett avenue.

Christian A. Herter, Jr., is to be the speaker. All members are urged to attend. This is an evening when all husbands are more than welcome. Any interested male may come, he does not have to have a member with him. We welcome them one and all.

EN KA SPRING TEA AND PLANT SALE

The Garden Booth of the 1958 En Ka Street Fair is sponsoring a spring tea and plant sale on Friday, March 28th, from 2 to 5 at the home of Mrs. Don Greer, 82 Arlington street. The plants will be on display in Mrs. Greer's lovely glass and tile flower room which should add a great deal to the charm of this annual spring event. There will be choice plants for sale with a wide variety of sizes, colors, and prices. These plants make ideal hostess gifts, shut-in gifts, children and Easter gifts.

As an added attraction, there will be a flower arrangement contest. The prize for the most outstanding arrangement will be a stunning hanging basket of Lantana. This contest is open to all women of Winchester and it is the desire of the committee that many will want to participate. Flower arrangements must be brought to the home of Mrs. Greer by 11:00 a. m. the morning of the sale as the judging will take place at 12:30.

Not only will there be plants for sale but also the members of the candy committee plan to be there with their famous peanut brittle. This peanut brittle has already become a popular confection in many Winchester homes.

The members of the committee invites one and all to come and see this spring galaxy of flowers and join them in a cup of tea. Everyone will be most welcome.

UNITARIAN PLAYERS RIDE "THE GHOST TRAIN"

All aboard for a return trip of Alison Ridley's spine-tingling melodrama that electrified audiences of the 'twenties and offers a welcome departure from the psycho-neurotic plays of today's professional theatre!

All who would like to take part on the stage or with the production staff are cordially invited to the Winsor room downstairs in the Unitarian Parish House on Monday, March 17 at 7:45 p. m. Chief Engineer Robert A. Storer offers a variety of parts for both men and women.

The selection was announced by Frank Thayer, chairman of the play reading committee, at the Players' mid-season meeting this week. Mrs. Robert Pritchard and her committee served coffee and dessert before a one act play directed by Bettina Harrison with a cast of actors appearing on our stage for the first time, although many have been prominent backstage.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

Weather was ideal on Monday, March 10, for the regular meeting of The Forthnightly held in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church. At 1:00 p. m. a delicious dessert and coffee was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Brandt and Mrs. Lamprey, with Miss Mollie Hodge and Mrs. William E. Priest pouring.

The business meeting began at 2:00 p. m. with the president, Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, in the chair. Chairman of Legislation, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman announced (to everyone's gratification) that the bill based on a Hoover recommendation for which the club had signed an approving petition, did pass the House.

A letter from the Extension Service of the University of Massachusetts was read, inviting members to a Women's Finance Forum to be held at Waltham Field Station, beginning April 9. There will be speakers on Social Security, Life Insurance, Wills, etc. For tickets and information, call Mrs. Atwood.

Mrs. Bergquist, chairman for the annual luncheon, urged members to secure tickets so the number going can be estimated.

An exhibition of water-color paintings by Senior and Junior students at Winchester High School was hung on the walls. These had been entered in the annual Fortnightly prize contest. Mrs. Paul Howard explained the contest as a project of the State Art Committee. The Penny Art Fund contributes to this sponsorship. Miss Pauline Goodrich, instructor and head of the Art Department of the High School, thanked the Forthnightly for its continued interest and told of the present activities of former winners. The nine for this year went to the platform and accepted individual awards from Mrs. Hiram Moody, art chairman.

"Show Business Merry-go-round" as Miss Nina Wentworth titled her talk brought us all up to date on the theatrical, movie, and TV news. It is difficult to keep up with the rapidly changing techniques in the various mediums of theater production. The word, "adaptation," best expresses the keynote of today; stories are sometimes "adapted" for the stage or screen before they appear in book form. Many studios have undergone vital changes. At present, she said, TV was "in the doldrums." Sublimal advertising, she felt, should be discouraged.

The season on Broadway has been exciting, 35 plays there now; several were described and criticized. Six plays are soon to be imported from England and a final play in grandiose setting starring the Lunts is to come.

On March 5, a regular meeting of the Literature Committee was held in the Rich room of the Public Library at 2:00 p. m. A review of Nicholas Wyckoff's "The Braintree Mission" was given by Mrs. Blanche S. Barnard.

The topic for the afternoon was "History." Interesting and little known facts about early U. S. history were given by Mrs. John B. Wills. She told of the first president (serving only one year), John Hanson, eight years before George Washington. She also spoke of our flag's history and other enlightening bits of information. Mrs. Alfred Drew read an account of naval history, episodes of the Civil War, and a realistic description of events preceding the victory at Trenton in the Revolution.

At the suggestion of the chairman, Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, an informal round-table talk followed about notable ancestors, revealing Dolly Madison in Mrs. Wills' family tree and Benjamin Franklin in Mrs. Drew's.

"THE SANDALS OF PEACE"

Having built his Lenten Sermon Series around the text "Finally, My Brethren," Rev. Walter L. Bailey will deliver the third in this series "The Sandals of Peace" next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

A cordial invitation awaits all newcomers to Winchester who have no church home to make these Sermons a part of their observance of Lent by attending each Sunday morning.

CHRISTIAN A. HERTER, JR.

HERTER TO SPEAK AT REPUBLICAN CLUB ON WEDNESDAY

Christian A. Herter, Jr., candidate for the Republic nomination for Governor, will be the only candidate for that office speaking at a meeting Wednesday evening, March 19, at the home of Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin at 12 Everett avenue.

The meeting will be sponsored by the Winchester Women's Republican Club of which there are 500 members and the husbands of the members have also been invited together with members of the Winchester Republican Town Committee.

The meeting will start with a coffee hour at 7:30 after which candidate Herter, who is also a member of the Governor's council, will speak. Mrs. Don S. Greer and Mrs. Maxwell R. McCreery are co-chairmen of the program. Mrs. Theodore Brown is president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club.

ENTERS AVIATION SCHOOL

Richard F. Stoffregen of 3 Penn road, has been accepted for training as a student in the Airline Training Division of Aviation Training Schools at Boston. His specialized program is part of an intensive period of instruction conducted in the airline resident training course and will prepare him for an interesting career in the transportation industry offering unlimited opportunities for the future.

Upon graduation from the school, Mr. Stoffregen will be qualified to accept a position with any one of the major transportation companies and airlines, either international or domestic.

NEWS OF FORMER RESIDENTS

Mr. Harry H. Whiton of Williamsport, Pa., and Duxbury has recently been named general sales manager for the sole leather division of the Armour Leather Co.

Ann Whiton, class of 1960 at N. E. Baptist Hospital, was capped at the recent exercises held in the Baptist Church in Brookline. Miss Whiton is a graduate of the Winchester High School and attended Pembroke College for three years. The Whitons formerly lived on Sargent road.

J. H. ASSEMBLY

An assembly program was pretented at the Junior High School on Thursday morning, February 27.

Alta Merritt read Psalm 111 and led the audience in the recitation of the Lord's Prayer and the Salute to Flag.

The theme of the assembly was patriotic, recalling great men of our country and historic events. Tribute was paid to Lincoln and Washington particularly, when Sally Leighton of grade eight recited a poem entitled "George Washington," followed by an essay on Abraham Lincoln given by Roger Schipellite of grade seven.

A film "Freedom Highway" was enjoyed by all. It depicted the vastness, the scenic beauty, and historic shrines of our country, with flashbacks which emphasized the significance of Independence Hall, Gettysburg, the Alamo, and other historic places.

Faculty members in charge of the program were Miss Bernice Fountain, Mr. Frank Provinzano, and Mr. George Snyder.

CAMBRIDGE CENTER HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

The Cambridge Center for Adult Education will herald its Spring Term this Sunday, March 16, with an Open House for the public, from 3:00 to 6:30 p. m. at Brattle House, home of the Center. Brattle House, at 42 Brattle street in Cambridge, is a historic and fascinating building, and will be further enhanced by an exhibit of student work. Among local residents whose work will be shown is Mrs. K. H. Spencer, 7 Inverness road.

Mme. Andree Maitre of 7 Euclid avenue and Herbert Black of 7 Seneca road are among members of the Center's Faculty who will be on hand to welcome guests, along with Directors, Advisory Committee members, and the Center Staff.

SONS OF ITALY Bowling News

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

March 6 and twenty-four nights of bowling which represents twenty-four weeks of bowling has passed into oblivion. We have but four weeks to go before we lay our pencil away.

This week Holy Cross broke the tie that existed last week between it and Boston College. St. Mary's, lodged in third place is galloping down the stretch and will be playing both Holy Cross and Boston College before the season comes to a close.

Team Standings	W	L	P.F.
Holy Cross	29	11	14,003
Boston College	26	14	13,873
St. Mary's	23	17	14,003
Notre Dame	21	19	13,961
Alabama	19	21	13,651
Georgetown	16	24	13,999
Bates	14	26	13,594
California	13	27	11,880
Hi Single: Babe Tofuri			144
Hi Triple: Max La Carubba			367
Top Ten Bowlers:
Tony Saraco			103.9
Choppers Gangi			102.3
Bob Fiore			101.6
A. P. Tofuri			101.1
Dick Fiore			98.3
Babe Tofuri			97.8
Jeff Gaudioso			97.6
Tony Chefalo			96.7
Max La Carubba			95.4
Corregidor Fiore			94.8

Once again the 300 bowlers were quite limited but still quite interesting as father and son put on a spectacular show. "Musky" Tofuri, the cunning bowler of old, showing all the finesse of his youth, bowled a remarkable 345. Not to be outdone, his son Dick, bowling with all the enthusiasm of youth, but still young to the game, bowled 312.

Another outstanding bowler, Carl Bertolucci who had not bowled for a few weeks because of a hand injury, proved his prowess as he bowled 325. Taking up the slack were the two champ bowlers, Tony Saraco and Choppers Gangi, bowling 303 and 301 respectively.

Notre Dame was the winner of the high team pinfalls with 1416. This team is no mediocre team for it is captained by one of our outstanding bowlers who in years gone by represented the S.O.I. in some real competitive bowling against top bowlers of other S.O.I. clubs.

"Musky" Tofuri bowling in old time form, led his club to the limelight this week. Assistaing him were Tony Bardascino, M. J. Saraco, Richard Giacalone, Phil Muraco and the butterball, Sammy Bellino.

We are having an epidemic of flu among our bowlers as two more of our top bowlers were laid low. Deadhorse Chefalo, B.C.'s captain whose team is in the thick of the battle, was one of them. He bowlde with 104 temperature which at least kept his average up. He is on the road to recovery along with Bob Fiore who also was struck down.

Our friend Winnie Frongillo requested me to watch his bowling form. Naturally I obliged. He waddled down to the rubber to let the ball go, then I was blocked out. I was forced to move over one alley to see where the ball was going. He sure has a rare form.

Max La Carubba the present holder of the high triple found himself in an embarrassing situation. He bowled a 73 string with a spare. Many of the boys thought their Army sergeant was present as Tony Saraco was snapping out orders to his teammates.

He was giving free instructions and was comparable to an I.B.M. machine. This is the team to watch as the curtain closes this season.

Its hard to believe what can happen at the alleys. As Archa Amcio slid up to the rubber the stopper came out of the floor and tripped him and laid him out face down. He did a professional Jackie Gleason.

High single for the night was taken by that versatile old pro, "Musky" Tofuri with 133. The runner-up was his son Dickie with 121.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

Jeff Gaudioso or "Kid Kangaroo,"
As a bowler he surely will do;
Among the best he'll always be,
Terrific also as a witty M.C.;
He has enough jokes to fill a room,
And could talk a witch out of her broom;
Add to it all more real joy,
One's a girl the other a boy!

The attendance over this past season has been remarkably good and we hope that the flu bug don't upset the applecart. The award of the evening went to the "Jenny Kid" Phil Adagno.

See you next week!

MUCH ADO ABOUT MEN

By Jack Chitel

I 'd like to climb out from behind a snow-bank to observe that spring is not too far away. It ushers in officially on Thursday, March 20, at 10:06 P. M., a time when I'll probably be dozing in front of my television set.

I'ts with spring in mind that I touch on the modern look of men's wear. It's a more natural concept that does away with the gaudy, heavy-padded garments of yesteryear.

Today's excellence of styling and fabrics has certainly changed the picture from the days when a lot of men considered themselves neatly dressed if the brass collar-button was fastened at the neck.

While textile bigdomes have done wonders with fabrics, another big change is in the silhouette. Suits are trim with shoulders narrowed down, lapels slimmed. Trousers are also proportionately tapered for an over-all trim-line effect.

And rich-hued colors have been subtly handled by fabric stylers to conform to the natural trim-line stylings that men have accepted gladly. Most want their clothes to bespeak success, but I suppose there are also some chaps who just don't want to be classified with baggy-pants comedians.

I think that men should make a visit now to their favorite apparel arena (Chitel's, of course) and make their selections of new spring items in men's wear. Then, let's synchronize our watches and make ready for the appearance of spring.

25 Years of Building the Future

This month, the John A. Volpe Construction Company completes its first twenty-five years of building the future.

We look back with pride and gratitude on the quarter-century that saw our company grow from hopeful beginnings to national prominence in its field.

We look back with thanks on the enormous opportunity and challenge presented us by our loyal clients — and by the contribution of our faithful employees.

We look back with satisfaction on our contributions to a better future: new schools and colleges, public and private office buildings, hospitals and laboratories, military and naval installations, and suburban shopping centers.

We look forward with anticipation to the bright and solid future we are building today — a future symbolized by the North Shore Suburban Shopping Center in Peabody, Mass.; by the additions and alterations to the Harvard Medical School in Boston; by the new Marine training facilities at Quantico, Virginia; by the Cardinal Spellman Central High School in Brockton, Mass.; by the addition to the Union Hospital at Fall River, Mass.; by large additions to the headquarters of the Atomic Energy Commission at Germantown, Maryland; and by the many other important projects we are constructing in this, our 25th Anniversary Year.

EDITORIALS

The editor returned to duty of a sort at the Star office last week and wishes to thank most sincerely all those who in various ways encouraged him during his convalescence. The cards, notes and other expressions of good will were gladly received and greatly appreciated. There were too many to acknowledge individually, so this general thank you must suffice. We did like hearing from you and are grateful for your interest.

Well, we didn't make it this year, in either hockey or basketball, but our teams made excellent showings and lost only after the closest kind of games. There was nothing either at the Arena or Garden of which to be ashamed, either in the showing of our teams or the actions of our young people. Add to this the fine performance of our student band and popular girl tumblers and we did right well, didn't we?

It is interesting to note last week's announcement by State Comdr. Francis L. Sweeney of Fall River that the Department of Massachusetts, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will conduct its annual convention for 1958 without requesting funds either from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts or from any city for that purpose. This statement is sure to be applauded by all those favoring economy in state government and is sure to make many new friends for the Vets.

While six percent more of the town's voters went to the polls last week than voted a year ago, the total, 35 percent of the electorate, is hardly impressive. Even contests for selectmen and school committee, usually magnets for voters in the past, failed to get them out this year. Or did too many people mistakenly believe there were no contests in these important brackets. How many times town meeting orators have referred unctiously to "a town like Winchester" when attempting to justify an appropriation or wanted action. The vote on Monday for "a town like Winchester" can justify little community pride in the interest of the community residents in the most important civic duty for all of us, the right and privilege of exercising our franchise at the polls.

That was a nice party the Winchester Youth Council held last Saturday evening after the Winchester-Natick basketball game in the Garden. Previous parties after games have been held at the Crawford Memorial and Unitarian Churches, the purpose of them being to provide a place for the high school pupils to meet and enjoy themselves.

The Youth Council grew out of discussions by members of a social studies class at high school of the boys' and girls' need for places to go and things to do over week ends that will keep them occupied, happy and out of trouble. The council members propose to provide such places and activities as a contribution to building better school citizens and better public relations between the youngsters and the town.

The Star applauds the council's thinking and wishes it every success in its endeavors. It is a long step in the right direction to see youth itself doing something about the youth problem.

The Star extends congratulations to its distinguished fellow townsman, John A. Volpe, upon the successful completion by his firm, the John A. Volpe Construction Company, of twenty-five years in the building field. In that time the company has earned an enviable reputation for its construction which includes schools and colleges, public and private office buildings, hospitals and laboratories, military and naval installations and suburban shopping centers.

Close as Mr. Volpe's business is to his heart, he withdrew from it temporarily to serve the state as public works commissioner, and then the nation, as interim highways coordinator. His contributions to Italian-American relations have led to his receiving high decorations from the Italian Government. He is a state officer and active in the Order of the Sons of Italy in America and has served Winchester well as a member of a school building committee. His material and service contributions to the Don Orione Home for Aged Italians have been great.

Few in Winchester are more widely or favorably known than Mr. Volpe, yet his many successes have left him unaffected and the same friendly, helpful men he has always been and will always be. He richly deserves the success he is enjoying.

Winchester is proud of its high school driver education course, and the record of graduates of the course would seem to justify this pride. Consequently the opinion of Thomas N. Boate, manager of the Accident Prevention Department of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, that too many high school driver education courses are failing to properly lay the groundwork for a lifetime of driving, is of interest.

The Association of Casualty and Surety Companies has done much to stimulate driver education courses in schools throughout the nation. Today 56 percent of public high schools offer driver education courses with 65 percent of all pupils eligible participating.

Such growth, while gratifying on the one hand has not been an unmitigated blessing. The movement has actually grown so fast that adequate instruction has not been able to keep pace. As a result, a great number of courses are being conducted so as to impart only that skill and knowledge necessary to enable beginning drivers to pass a state drivers' license examination.

Mr. Boate and his accident prevention associates believe it is more important to instill proper driving attitudes in the young driver than to teach him the relatively simple skills of operating a car, starting, stopping, steering, parking, and the rules of the road.

"Parents are being shortchanged," says Mr. Boate, "if their son or daughter is simply being prepared to pass a driver's license examination in a driver education course. Driving is a lifetime business and the length of that lifetime is often determined by the attitudes of automobile drivers."

Mr. Boate believes too many people look on automobile accidents as the inevitable price that must be paid for the use of the automobile. In his opinion this is so only as long as people are unwilling to try to do something about accidents. Better laws, better enforcement and better public cooperation are in his opinion the answers.

The Committee on Constitutional Law at recent State House hearings heard pleas to strengthen local government traditions embodied in two proposed constitutional amendments sponsored by Robert P. Cramer (D) of Williamstown and the Massachusetts Federation of Tax Payers. Both home rule proposals have been filed in previous years with widespread support.

One of the measures would prevent the legislature from passing a special local law affecting a particular city, town or district, unless the petition had the prior approval of the local governmental unit affected. The second proposal would prohibit the legislature from passing any law that would add costs to the communities involved without either local consent or provision for the state to assume the added costs. The latter proposal would also restrict the power of the General Court to enact laws providing further exemptions from the local property tax, with resulting loss of local revenues, without at the same time reimbursing this loss.

Winchester may well watch the progress of these proposed amendments to the state constitution. Many close followers of state legislative affairs have remarked a growing tendency to side-step local governmental authorities by direct appeal to the state legislature.

According to Leo D. Bouthillier, legislative counsel for the Tax Payers Federation, the state legislature last year enacted 778 measures of which 228 involved some issue pertinent to a single city or town. In other words nearly 30 percent of the entire legislation enacted by last year's legislature involved matters, a vast majority of which could have more appropriately been decided by the local communities affected.

The Tax Payers Federation contends that the proposed constitutional amendments promise a two-fold benefit. Adoption should greatly ease the burden of the legislature by reducing the large number of local bills filed annually, in recent years an average of 500 or 600. Equally important is the fact that protection would be provided for cities and towns from legislation favoring special groups or individuals at the expense of the local community.

JOHNSON ROAD SHOULD BE COMPLETED

Editor of the Star:

We noted the letter from Mr. Antonio L. Mezzacappa in the February 28th issue of the Star and his objection to the completion of Johnson road extension because of his fear of anticipated increased traffic on Wildwood street. However, traffic is not the problem in regard to this matter.

Mr. Mezzacappa states: "There is no moral obligation for the Town to carry out a plan made years ago and now clearly recognized as a mistake." Evidently Mr. Mezzacappa and others of the townspeople are not aware of the situation that has existed in the area of Johnson road and Ridge street for the past several years. We would like to bring this to their attention at this time.

In 1950 the Town put in the sewer in Ridge street from High street close to the Woburn line. Two small tanks were put in to receive the sewerage until Johnson road should be built to carry it into the Town's system. As the homes increased in this area, these tanks were insufficient to cope with the problem and sewerage has been seeping into the brook and swamp on our property. This has been a menace to the health of the community to say nothing of the unpleasant situation caused by the odor of the exposed sewerage.

Last fall a temporary pump was put in to pump the sewerage over the West Side hill, but it is only temporary and not the quietest of apparatus to the nearest neighbors. We need a permanent pumping station at the further end of Johnson road extension before this one ceases to operate.

There is also another problem. The people in the Cox estate area are beginning to have trouble with their cesspools and septic tanks. Seepage from these would again contaminate the swamp and brook. In this age of automatic washing machines, garbage disposals and detergents, cesspools and septic tanks are not the answer to the sewerage problem. We need Johnson road extension to carry the sewer line from this area into the system.

We are sure that if the townspeople and the town meeting members rightly understand the problem with which we are faced in this section of the Town, they will realize the desperate need of completing Johnson road extension this year and fulfilling their "moral obligation." When the state and county will bear most of the expense of this road, the Town should take advantage of it.

Respectfully,
Mr. and Mrs. Sixten G. Ericson
149 Ridge street

PERPETUATE NAME OF McCALL

Editor of the Star:

On reading through the warrant for the coming Town Meeting, I was surprised, and even shocked, to find in Article 43, a proposal to change the name of McCall road to Myopia Hill road.

Although, on the surface, this appears to be a fairly routine proposal, I deem it my duty as a citizen and future taxpayer, to call to the attention of my fellow townspeople (and especially to those who have been chosen Town Meeting Members) some pertinent facts regarding Winchester's historical heritage.

Samuel W. McCall (after whom McCall road is named) was, according to Chapman's "History of Winchester," "The most eminent political figure who ever lived in Winchester." He served his Town, his State, and his country. He was chosen State Representative in 1887 and 1888, and was editor of the Boston Advertiser. He had a distinguished career for 20 years as a United States Representative, and was, according to Chapman, "one of the ablest and most independent members on the Republican side of the House of Representatives." His career ended in 1919, after serving three terms (six years) as Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

For many years after his retirement, Governor McCall was called upon by his contemporaries to serve as speaker and master of ceremonies at various civic gatherings, including the great celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the settling of the Town by Edward Converse, at which he delivered the chief oration.

Mr. McCall lived from 1902 until his death, in the handsome mansion that crowned Myopia Hill, in the very area of McCall road, and it seems only fitting that the people of Winchester should perpetuate his memory by maintaining a street (not even a Town way, but a private way) bearing his name.

I hope that the persons who placed this article in the Warrant were ignorant of the facts which I have just stated, because I would not like to think that anyone would knowingly attempt to commit the name of so illustrious a man to oblivion.

If the present generation is to show such a flagrant disregard for our heritage, what will remain of it when we, the youth of today, take over to-morrow?

And so, in closing, I hope that the Town Meeting members, in their wisdom, will deign to vote down this measure, and thus preserve for posterity the name of Governor Samuel W. McCall.

Very truly yours,
Alan Miles McDougall, age 14,
11 Rangeley ridge

ADVOCATE STATE-AIDED VOCATIONAL CLASSES

Editor of the Star:

Article 23 in the Warrant asks Town Meeting to authorize the School Committee to establish and maintain state-aided vocational education in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 74 of the General Laws.

Although the Finance Committee has recommended unfavorable action on this article, the Advisory Committee on Adult Education believes that all the factors may not have been considered and that Winchester should take advantage of state aid for the practical art courses. This advisory committee, composed of six citizens serving without pay, believes the following facts are pertinent to a decision on this problem:

1. The cost of operating the various practical arts courses is about $10 per term per student ($9.80, based on the present year's operation).
2. Of the above cost, the present payment by the student is a $5 registration fee. The other half of the cost is borne by the town.
3. If the town authorizes State Aid, the State will under the provisions of Chapter 74 reimburse the town one-half the net maintenance cost of approved classes. ("Maintenance cost" is defined as including the same costs included in "1" above).
4. A registration fee of $2 is proposed for those courses operating under State Aid. The residual cost of $8 will then be borne one-half by the town and one-half by the state.
5. In addition to the support from the State as described in "3" above, the town becomes eligible for a grant of federal funds for payment of teachers' salaries, although this particular allotment is considered a means of encouraging initiation of study programs and is decreased yearly.
6. The net effect of accepting State Aid is thus:
   (a) a reduction in payment by the student from $5 to $2
   (b) a reduction in payment by the town from $5 to a figure less than $4.
7. The majority of communites having Adult Education classes are under State Aid. Winchester, by adopting Article 23, could get back from the state a larger share of the money paid in income taxes.

The Advisory Committee hopes to see a well-rounded program of Adult Education developed according to the needs and desires of the community, and including both vocational courses which would be affected by the acceptance of Article 23 and general education courses which would not. It believes that Winchester should take advantage of any aid and facilities afforded by the State which will help in developing a program suitable to our town.

WHERE WERE THE PARENTS!

Editor of the Star:

Where were the mothers and fathers of many of the shining-faced well groomed Girl Scouts who presented such a simple impressive service on Sunday in the High School auditorium? Were they too busy watching T.V. or taking a nap to come and share this worthwhile experience with their daughters!

As a scout worker in Winchester for ten years I felt sorry for the girls and their leaders. Who likes to present a program to an empty house? And this house was empty of parents who would have been very proud had they bothered to attend.

How can leaders really teach community spirit, the pleasure of sharing, duty to God and country when we have so many indifferent parents. These same parents are perfectly willing for other people to work year after year that their daughters may be "under the green umbrella" (a term meaning one of three million girls in scout uniform) but they do not feel it important for them personally to share less than one hour once a year with their girls.

Of course we will go on, for we believe in Girl Scouting and the Winchester girls, but how about a parental "helping hand" for them and the parents taking an active part in their girls' town-wide events.

Rachel B. Harding
(a past president of Winchester Girl Scouts)

LOST WITHOUT HER STAR

Editor of the Star:

Will you kindly send my Star to the address below, as I am now in California, and may be here for a long stay, I feel a little lost without my Star as I have been a reader for nearly forty years. I left Winchester three years ago but have continued my subscription.

It keeps me in touch with what my former neighbors and friends are doing. When I sit down to read my paper I get such a nice homey feeling, as though I were visiting with friends.

I am out in the yard in a summer frock and the sun is very warm. Camellias are nodding their heads in the lovely breeze, and the white and yellow calla lilies are just beautiful. Also the roses, yellow, red, and white are all in full bloom. They are very lovely.

I shall look forward to the arrival of the Star soon, and hope everyone up home is fine, happy and healthy.

Yours sincerely,
Grace Charnley Slack,

SCOUTS WILL HELP!

Editor of the Star:

We read your editorial of February 26th, in which you suggest that Boy Scout troops and Explorer post clear snow from hydrants in the winter. We are both pleased with your suggestion and the attitude with which our volunteers received your suggestion.

You may rest assured that the Winchester District will undertake this community good turn. In fact, the machinery is already in motion to do same.

Sincerely,
Bartley B. Nourse
Scout Executive

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. James P. McGoldrick of Englewood road are receiving congratulation on the birth of a daughter, Moira, on February 20, at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. McGoldrick is the former Jeanne Sheeran of Woburn. Grandparent honor goes to Mrs. John McGoldrick of Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil H. Borden, Jr., of Brookline, announce the arrival of their second daughter, Kimberly Page on March 4, at Richardson House. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John F. Holmes of Tenants Harbor, Maine, and Prof. and Mrs. Neil H. Borden of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Davis (Janet Pride) of Wellesley announce the birth of a fourth child, third son, Christopher Arthur Davis, March 7, at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. Ober Pride of Winchester and Mrs. Arthur W. Davis of Waban. Mrs. Edwin L. Pride of Beverly is the great-grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Casper John Jacoby, III, of Stamford Conn., are the parents of a son, Casper John Jacoby, IV, born on February 26, in New Haven, Conn. Mrs. Jacoby is the former Betty Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle D. Owen of Damariscotta, Me., formerly of Winchester.

VFW AUXILIARY HOSPITAL PARTY

Several members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Aberjona Post No. 3719, V.F.W. went to Bedford Hospital on Monday, March 3.

The girls brought prizes consisting of canteen books, cigarettes, hankies and combs. These were given as prizes at a very successful Beano party held in Ward 2B.

After and hour passed, cookies and ice cream were served by the auxiliary girls.

The patients certainly enjoyed themselves and thanked all the girls for such a good time.

FIRST NATIONAL OPENING

Daniel J. Callahan of 10 Standish lane is manager of the store's grocery department and William Flaherty of Brockton is the meat department manager. Mr. Callahan was formerly manager of a Somerville First National.

Featured in the store is a whole counter, running the length of the building, of frozen foods which is specially built so that the food stays frozen while the outside of the case is merely cool. This creates an unusual phenomenon in the electric utility room, where the generator for the frozen food cases has two sets of switches, one labeled "F. F. Heaters" and by its side "F. F. Freezers."

Other features include delicacies from many foreign countries, rows and rows of fresh-food stands, magazines, plants, phonograph records and toys beside the regular First National items.

The modern plant also has nine check-out booths with special speedy registers, a very intricate lighting system, and public address system to aid in the location of lost children as well as other announcements, a lobster pool and an outside parcel pick-up in the ample parking lot.

Shoppers who visit the store this week may register for several prizes. Top prize is the choice of a 1958 Ford Fairlane 500 Victoria which is on display through the courtesy of Bonnell Motors, a 1958 Pontiac Chieftain Catalina coupe, displayed by Moody Motor Sales, Inc., or $2,500. Other prizes are a 17-in. G. E. portable TV, Polaroid Land camera, Royal portable typewriter, G. E. vacuum cleaner, Zenith portable radio, Toastmaster toasters, G. E. skillets, bathroom scales, G. E. irons and $10.00 food certificates.

The meeting closed with a social hour and delicious refreshments.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL FATHER AND SON NIGHT

The annual Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Dads' Club of the George Washington School will be held on Saturday, March 22, in the school auditorium. The club is very fortunate in obtaining Mr. Gilbert E. Merrill of the Museum of Science as the featured entertainment. Mr. Merrill graduated from Tufts College, has a Master of Arts Degree in Biology from Williams College, is now assistant director of the Education Department of the Museum of Science and is presently appearing weekly on a local television program at 6:00 p. m.

Mr. Merrill's lecture will be "Woodland Fears—Real and Imaginary," and he will bring living examples of most of the creatures he will discuss.

Committee members include Leo Ford, chairman; Robert Gallant, William Foley and Jack Shanahan. After the dinner there will be a short business meeting. Dana E. Peterson, president, will preside.

Tickets are in the hands of each of the Board of Directors and plans call for every Dad who has a child attending the Washington School to be contacted sometime this week. If you are not contacted by Sunday evening, please contact one of the members of the committee or one of the following members of the Board of Directors, Arthur Myette, Guy Santo, Charles Slack, Fred LaTorella, Andrew Sinclair, Ed Oles, Joseph McDonagh, Bernard Vespucci and Lester Brooks.

No tickets will be sold at the door.

INDIANS LOSE SEMI-FINAL

NATICK TOURNEY VICTOR 55 — 54

Winchester was again a bridesmaid but not a bride when the Indians lost their semi-final round basketball game in the B class of the State Tourney at the Boston Garden last Friday evening to Natick by a single point, 55-54. The defeat was Winchester's third loss in a row in tournament games by the margin of a single point, or basket.

The game was a heart breaker for the Indians to lose as they led all the way until the final minutes of the game, when Natick, aided by Winchester's ineffectiveness at the foul line surged from behind to a single point deficit with slightly more than 12 seconds to play.

At the 12 second mark John Bouzan drove in for a layup that put Natick ahead 55-54. "Doug" Thomson, calling upon his great speed, drove in toward the Natick hoop in a desperation attempt to pull out the game, but his shot wasn't quite soft enough and skimmed across the rim of the hoop to be gathered in on the rebound by big Dave Morgan of Natick who held it safely to the final buzzer.

It was a great try by Thomson, bringing frenzied shrieks from the Winchester supporters, but lady luck wasn't riding on the shot and there was no second chance.

Winchester lost the game at the foul line. The Indians reversed their great showing against South Boston by missing 14 of 22 free throws, scoring only eight points on fouls in the entire game to Natick's 15 out of 22. The real clincher was Winchester's missing 10 of 12 free tries in the final stanza. A fifty percent effort here would have meant the ballgame.

"Doug" Thomson led both teams in scoring with 17 points, Dave Schumacher had 14 and Rich Roberts 11. Bouzan was high for Natick with 16, Wells and Loane each having 11. Winchester outscored Natick from the floor 23 goals to 20, led at the half 27-25 and had an eight point lead going into the final quarter 46-38. The summary:

WORKING FOR SMITH FUND

Several alumnae from Winchester attended the meeting and morning coffee for those working for the Smith College Alumnae Fund Monday morning at the Boston Museum of Science. Following this general session younger alumnae of "the Fifties" were briefed Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Hodgkinson in Boston.

Miss Helen Hertig of this town was among those at this latter meeting, all members of classes from 1950 to 1957.

Heading the local delegation at the general session on Monday was Mrs. John F. Hutzenlaub, president of the Winchester Smith College Club. Others attending were Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley, Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Miss Beatrice Putnam, Mrs. Clinton E. Farnham and Mrs. Robert B. Kittredge.

ST. MARY'S CHI RHO

St. Mary's Chi Rho will enter the diocesan Chi Rho Dramatic Competitions with the presentation of Verne Powers' "High Window." The cast includes Pete and Maureen Dee, Paul Donlon, Carol Leverone and Mary McNally; and the play will be produced and directed by Nancy Towle. Any high school graduated interested in taking part in the production of this play is asked to contact any of the cast, Bob Murphy, president of the Chi Rho at WInchester 6-2785-W; or Father Dolphin.

Don't forget, Father Norman O'Connor, the foremost authority on the subject of Jazz music will be coming to St. Mary's Hall under the auspices of the Chi Rho on April 24.

The Chi Rho baseball team is still in the discussion stage. The final decision will be announced after the meeting of the Chi Rho board in two weeks.

ROTARY NOTES

The club was given an insight into the scope and complexity of the Selectmen's duties by John Dolan, the new chairman of the Board, at last week's luncheon meeting in Masonic Hall. Mr. Dolan touched also upon some of the more interesting questions to come up for consideration at the coming town meeting.

The guest speaker yesterday was Blair Hawley, who informed the club on the functions of Civil Defense and the problem of mass evacuation.

The Winchester Club has voted to continue its donation of $400 to the Foreign Exchange Student Program for the coming year. The contribution covers the cost of transportation to and from Winchester for some worthy young foreign student to enable him or her to attend Winchester High School.

FIRES

Wednesday, March 12, an 11:00 a. m. phone call from the janitor of the Winchester Hospital brought firefighters out for a car fire. The car was owned by Ruby Willis of Reading and there was smoke coming from under the hood caused by a rag left on the manifold by a service man.

Two brush fires were reported that day too. At 2:00 p. m. firefighters were sent to a brush fire on the Winchester Country Club golf course and in the woods. At 3:31 p. m. there was a brush fire at Wildwood cemetery caused by burning in an incinerator.

At 3:15 p. m. Miss Rachel Armstrong, manager of Filene's-Winchester called to report a smoking transformer in the Children's department. Firefighters quickly had the situation under control.

SCHOOL RECOMENDATIONS CONSIDERED

Alternatives spelled out at the school space shortage meeting Tuesday night were greatly overcrowded classes, double or staggered sessions with their loss of teacher-pupil help, and curtailment of extra-curricular activities, or an immediate effort on the part of the town to plan for the increase in Junior and Senior High enrollments.

The meeting, held at the High School, was planned by the Junior High Associates and Senior High Parent Faculty Association and was joined by the Junior-Senior High Building Committee. About 300 people attended and heard the Committee highlight its second report and recommendations.

Mrs. Harry Taylor, president of the Junior High group, presided and presented the panel moderator, Dr. Leonard Meade, who defined panel objectives and introduced Olcott L. Hooper of the School Committee.

Mr. Hooper reviewed enrollment projections for the next ten years as one of an expected 50 per cent increase on the secondary level. He reported the School Committee as ready to organize the Junior and Senior High Schools on either a two and four year system or a three-three system, depending on the most practical building plans. He made a plea for a plan with flexibility for future increases and to include consideration of the already present request to the department for some educational program beyond high school.

Mr. Sumner Andrews of the Johnson road School Building Committee described the present work of this group as one of watchful waiting.

The Wadleigh School, its history, care, and potentiality for school use from the point of view of the School Department was covered with detachment and detail by Dr. Harry Gilson, school superintendent. At an estimated more than $120,000 basic renovation cost it could contribute eight classrooms. These could be used for special secondary school work or for elementary overflow. The Kindergarten on its present double session system is the only town-wide class which would fit as a class into Wadleigh now and in the future. In the eyes of the Department maximum traffic hazards and basic limitations do not make this large expenditure a practical one as regards school use.

Mr. H. Gardner Bradlee of the Finance Committee told of the over all School Department part in the 1958 town budget, showing the relatively low cost of school building compared to total operational costs. He reviewed the effects of new building in terms of the borrowing capacity of the town and school operational costs, pointing out that building outside the center with better space allotment makes for more favorable borrowing as it increases available state aid.

Mr. Ralph Bonnell, Planning Board chairman, repeated planning views on school building sites, reporting Winchester merchants as opposed to any plan which would shut off Main street, and the Police Department in serious doubt over the practicibility of handing traffic on Washington street in relation to such a plan.

The real news of the meeting was the recommendation of the Junior-Senior High Building Committee contained in its second report just mailed to town meeting members and scheduled for town meeting consideration next week.

Mr. Robert P. Bigelow as Chairman of this Committee outlined possible answers to the problem as seen by his committee to be (1), closing Main street and connecting the existing school buildings to make a six years combined junior-senior high school; (2), adding to either or both the Junior and Senior High Schools; and (3), building on a new site outside the center of town.

All plans adequate to handle the predicted enrollment for the next ten years in the present location involve added facilities for cafeteria and gymnasium; increased demand on already overloaded playground and athletic space; disruption of present programming; and, particularly in the case of the closing of Main street, creation of serious traffic problems.

The Committee's recommendation as the best solution is "the immediate construction of a new Junior High School for not less than 500 students on a site outside the center of Town. Upon completion, the organization of the secondary schools would be changed to a three-year Senior High School and two three-year Junior High Schools, with all students in Grades 10-12 attending the present Senior High School and students in Grades 7-9 divided between the present Junior High School and the new Junior High School." Toward this end it is prepare to ask the town for $3000 for architectural, engineering, and other consultants in the selection of a site.

ART PRIZE WINNERS

Carolyn Furbish, '58; Joseph McCormack, '59; Margaret Archibaid, '59 and Aprille Godwin, '59; have been selected by Art Director Miss Pauline Goodrich to represent Winchester High in the Senior Prize Program of the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston.

For seven Saturday afternoons, beginning March 8 and ending April 26, these young artists will be given introductory talks and demonstration in each of the fields of commercial art and design, drawing and graphic arts, painting, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry and silversmithing, and the degree program. On the last day a museum trip and convocation with presentation of certificates are scheduled at the Museum of Fine Arts, and parents and teachers are invited to attend.

Two awards were offered to each participating high school and private school, and juniors and seniors were selected by their own art teachers. This is the seventh year The School of the Museum of Fine Arts at 230 the Fenway, Boston, has presented this program. Last year's enrollment was over 225 and an even greater number of participants are expected to take advantage of this unusual educational opportunity this year.

KENNETH G. FLANDERS

Kenneth G. Flanders of 1 Black Horse terrace, who died last week, had been in poor health for some time and had been a patient at the Veterans Hospital in Jamaica Plain since last September.

Mr. Flanders was the son of Maude (Goldsmith), and the late Wallace F. Flanders. He was born March 17, 1906 in Winchester and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools and Phillips Andover Academy, from which he was graduated in 1924. All of his business life was spent in the insurance field, and at one time he had an insurance office in Winchester in the National Bank Building.

In recent years Mr. Flanders had been living in Los Angeles, Calif., returning east to Winchester last June. During World War II he served as a corporal in the United States Air Force.

Mr. Flanders leaves his mother, living in Winchester; and two sisters, Mrs. Robert E. Roundey of this town and Mrs. Charles N. Fitz of Stafford Springs, Conn.

Services were conducted at the grave in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery Saturday afternoon by the Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Rabidou of Concord, N. H., announce the engagement of their daughter, Saundra Barbara, to Louis Albert Ackerman, son of Mrs. Adele Ackerman of 2 Winchester place and the late John W. Ackerman.

Miss Rabidou was graduated from St. John's High School in Concord, N. H., in 1954 and is now employed by Mutual of New York Insurance Company in Boston. Mr. Ackerman is an alumnus of Winchester High School and the New England School of Art. He is a commercial artist with the Herb Dye Art Studio in Boston.

No date has been set for the wedding.

KIWANIS NOTES

Coffee is the subject of interest foremost in our minds these days. Coffee should be mentioned when talking to friends. Coffee sales, instant, and regular drip-pere, will enable us to support our Dodgers Little League championship team. Coffee will provide funds for the children's fish derby this spring. Coffee will help supplement our school milk fund program. Coffee will help us finance our hospital bed, wheel chair free loaning service. There's more that coffee sales will do to help us, but the above listed is enough to keep us drinking Kiwanis coffee.

Frank McNally has taken care of the label printing, he is chairman of the coffee project. Other members on this committee are: Tom Derro, Al Russo, Romeo Lucontoni, and Clay Spector.

Last Wednesday's speaker, Tony DeTeso, presented such a timely, interesting and thought provoking program, that we went into "overtime." Members have asked Tony to speak to other clubs they belong to. You won't want to miss this week's Road Ahead program, either.

Attendance has been excellent this year. Last week was no exception, with members bringing two guests. We need 5 good new members in the club. Let's find them.

Reading this month's Yan Kiwanian, you'll notice that Winchester was one of the top five clubs in the 30 member class in 1957. This is, of course, a tribute to the work of P. P. Ken Cullen and his officers and board of directors. Let's keep Winchester tops in New England Kiwanis!

MISSION UNION LENTEN MORNINGS

The third in a series of four Thursday morning Lenten discussions will take place March 20, at the home of Mrs. Wesley Mallery, 24 Grove street, with coffee being served at 9:45 and the program beginning at 10:10 a. m. These Lenten mornings are sponsored by the Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church.

The theme of the Lenten Mornings is "Cross and Crisis in Japan." Mrs. James Allen will be the worship leader and the subject will be Religion. ("Even a tiny minority, given the power of a deep and radiant faith, can rise above statistics") from John W. Inglehart's book, which is the basis of the discussions.

Those assisting with the program are Mrs. Forest L. Knapp, Mrs. Ray E. Brown and Mrs. Frederick Rozelle, Jr.

All women of the church are welcome to attend, and those needing transportation may contact Mrs. Edgar D. Hinton, WInchester 6-3433, or Mrs. Charles E. Greene, WInchester 6-0433.

LINCOLN SIXTH GRADE VISITS SCIENCE PARK

Science Park has, at present, a large exhibit of mammals which was visited by the Lincoln Sixth Grades, Thursday, March 6.

Upon reaching Science Park, the class was met by their guide, Mrs. Alcorn, who began the afternoon's trip by explaining a mural showing the moon's surface.

The class was next conducted to an exhibit showing beavers, deer, bears and other animals. Mrs. Alcorn explained their habits and their way of life.

The next exhibit was a live porcupine. The class was shown how to handle the animal, and the quills were explained. Porcupines, the class learned, do not throw their quills. They hit with them.

The class was then taken downstairs to the meeting room where their guide told many stories about rodents and their habits. These included muskrats, hares, rabbits, and members of the squirrel family as well as meat eaters like the fox, marten, bobcat, and raccoon.

TAXES IMPORTANT TO RENT PAYERS!

"Tenants who will soon be complaining about new rent increases caused by soaring tax rates in our 351 cities and towns can do something to protect their pocketbooks if they act now," said Bertram A. Druker, President of the Massachusetts Real Estate Association.

"They can attend their town meetings or city budget hearings and join hands with the property owner and the business man in their fight to keep tax rates from reaching the confiscatory level," Druker pointed out.

"Too many tenants still fail to realize that they pay taxes, too," he continued. "They are the low men on the totem pole, the ultimate consumer to whom tax increases are inevitably passed on. They sometimes pay more taxes proportionately than does the homeowner and should be deeply concerned about our skyrocketing tax rates.

"Tenants have over the years, had the feeling that if the tax situation in their community becomes too bad they could move elsewhere. This feeling allowed them to ignore the addition of luxury items and frills to town or city budgets. At recent hearings on the Sales Tax Bills and other bills designed to give real estate some relief, tenants were conspicuous by their absence, although their pocketbook and jobs will be affected," Druker went on to say.

"In past years, too few rent payers have attended town meetings or city budget hearings. Too often when they did attend it was to advocate increased spending, often on luxury projects."

"Now," said Druker, "they must realistically face the facts of life regarding taxes on real estate. There is no place left in Massachusetts to hide from taxes. Most every city and town again faces a stiff tax jump. Too many communities are near to, or will go over, the $100 confiscatory tax level this year.

"Today," Druker explained, "the overall consumer dollar measured by 1939 purchasing power is worth only $.49. The food dollar is worth only $.41. The rent dollar has declined less in purchasing power than the dollars spent for other commodities. It is worth $.64. The rent dollar buys $.23 or 56% more than does your food dollar. The tenant can retain this 56% advantage in purchasing power and prevent rent increases only by joining the property owner in his fight to stabilize tax rents.

"All voters exerting their influence this month in town meetings or at City Hall should remember that a healthy business section pays a large part of school costs and other services and good off-street metered parking pays for itself in maintaining a sound high tax paying business section," Druker pointed out.

"If a program of housing for the elderly is being considered in your community," he continued, "make sure it is a federally aided program; otherwise, you will be 'socked twice' to pay for it by taxation at both state and federal levels.

"If tenants will only become as tax conscious as business men and homeowners, they can save on their very heavy, although indirect, tax bill," concluded Druker.

As public support of Easter Seals increases, so can direct services be expanded to help more crippled boys and girls walk, talk, play and live like other children. You can help, too, by giving to Easter Seals.

SELECTIVE SERVICE TEST SCHEDULED FOR MAY 1

The Selective Service college qualification test will be given to college men on May 1, 1958, Frederic L. Nyhan, Massachusetts state director of Selective Service, announced today. The May 1 test will be the only test offered for the 1957-58 school year, the state director said.

Scores made on the test are used by local boards as one guide in considering requests for deferment from military service to continue studies.

Application cards and instructions may be obtained at any local board office or at the institution the student attends after Monday, March 10.

The state director pointed out that student deferments which test scores have helped determine since 1951, have been a major factor in insuring the Nation its present supply of specialized manpower. Many students deferred since the testing program was begun are today scientists, engineers and specialists in other technical fields and in the social sciences, teaching and humanities.

Test scores, with other information which each registrant is required to provide his local board, will help those boards continue to insure the national strength by making the best possible decisions on how and when a man may best contribute to the national defense, the state director added.

In previous years, two regular and one make-up test customarily have been given. But with fewer men applying to take the test, it was announced last summer that only one test would be offered this school.

Many men are able to complete undergraduate study before reaching an age when induction can be expected and do not need to seek a deferment, the state director pointed out. Draft calls presently are for men over 22 years old, he added.

Applications must be postmarked not later than midnight Friday, April 11, 1958. The test will be administered by Science Research Associates, Inc., Chicago, Illinois.

LIFE LINES

by Colonel Ralph T. Miller
Salvation Army

GENERAL BOOTH'S SECRET

The Salvation Army was founded, as almost everyone knows, by a man in London, William Booth, who was touched by the plight of the poor and forgotten of the slums. At first ridiculed and misunderstood, he lived to see The Salvation Army a world-wide organization, with branches in ninety countries.

Late in life, he was visited by a writer who had been sent to write the story of General Booth. As this writer looked into the lined face of the bearded patriarch, he asked, "General Booth, tell me. What has been the secret of your success?

The General hesitated for a second, then tears came into his eyes, and he began to speak. "I will tell you the secret. I am actually a very commonplace person, of limited talents. There have been many people with greater ability, and greater opportunity.

"But when I was sixteen, I knelt down by my chair, and said, 'O God, take all there is of William Booth."

The writer telling later of his experience said, "That, I think, is the secret of The Salvation Army, and the key to the life of a great man. As I listened to this great warrior for right, I learned from him that the greatness of a man's power is the measure of his surrender."

Yes, other men had greater talents. But God had "all there was of William Booth."

How is it with your life? Is it being spent selfishly, in a search for gain or power? If so, your life is wasted.

Are you willing to make the surrender that General William Booth made? Are you willing to say, "God, take all there is of me?"

In that direction lies greatness.

VISITED MYSTIC SCHOOL

The mothers of the Mystic School were invited to visit the classrooms of their children on Thursday, March 6, from 9:00 to 9:45 a. m. by Mr. Forte, school principal.

This visit was handled very informally. The teachers went on teaching, with the doors open, and mothers came and went without disturbing anyone.

It was very enjoyable to meet and greet friends later, in the auditorium, where the Mystic Mothers Chapter of the Community School Association served delicious refreshments, under the very capable assistance of the refreshment committee.

The chairman, Mrs. Warren Eldredge, was ill at home, but to her committee, a hearty thank-you for a job well done. Over one-hundred fifty mothers were served. Pouring were Mrs. James R. Stewart, Jr., and Mrs. W. Carleton Butler.

STEELCRAFT APPOINTS NEW BUILDING DEALER IN THIS AREA

The Gustin Corporation, 95 Cross street, leading manufacturers' representatives and engineers in this area, has been appointed by the Steelcraft Manufacturing Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, to handle its line of steel buildings.

These buildings, according to Lester C. Gustin, Jr., of Winchester, owner of the local firm, are pre-engineered, permanent structures, which are transported to the site in major sections for easy accurate erection. Yet, because they are built of standardized metal sections, they may be modified or enlarged or even dismantled and re-erected at new locations without loss of materials.

Such collateral materials as masonry side walls, aluminum paneling and built up roofing may be added for varied architectural design.

Steelcraft also manufactures a complete line of building products which include standard steel exterior and interior doors, door frames, casements and windows for commercial, industrial and residential use.

NEWS OF UNITARIAN YOUTH

Members of the Junior High Fellowship held a most interesting meeting last Sunday in the Church Library. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gordon were parent guests. Mr. J. Norton Kidder, the guest speaker, brought examples of his famous collection of tin and lead soldiers. He gave a brief history of them and highlighted his talk with interesting anecdotes. There was a display of models, pictures, and books of toy soldiers. Refreshments were served in the kitchen.

Over sixty young people have enrolled for a course, "Facts of Life and Love," sponsored by their leaders, parents and a group of medical men. These are held in the church on Sunday evenings during March.

Members of the Church School are busy making and selling products for the School Building Fund. Garden sticks, pot holders, flower pot containers, hand-decorated stationery, clay figurines, peg boards, felt articles, hand-decorated towels and baked goods have been displayed at the church.

The Family Night Supper was a happy evening. 194 parents and children were served by a committee of Alliance members including Mrs. George Kimball, chairman, Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, Mrs. Raymond Gross, Mrs. Malvern Gross, Mrs. Ronold King, and Mrs. Clifford Birch. A scavenger hunt in the building, and music presented by Mrs. Carl Thomas and her family orchestra were features of the entertainment.

AAA ADVISES CHILDREN TO PLAY AWAY FROM TRAFFIC

The child who uses the street as a playground is practicing a dangerous game, warns Richard W. Hoover, Safety Director for the American Automobile Association's Massachusetts Division.

"Eleven per cent of all school-age children killed or injured in traffic during 1956 were playing in the roadway," said Hoover. "The figure for school age children during the same period reached 17 per cent."

The AAA official emphasized that the majority of these accidents could have been prevented, if the youngsters involved had confined their playing to supervised playground areas or to their own yards.

A safety poster on this theme is now being distributed to schools in Massachusetts as part of the regular monthly safety education program of the Massachusetts Division AAA. Hoover urged children to heed the poster's advice, "Play Away from Traffic," and called on parents to see that they do so.

"In many cases, the youngster who plays in the street has not been sufficiently warned against it by his parents. It is, therefore, the responsibility of parents to emphasize the danger of this practice," he said.

The poster design, a first prize winner in the American Automobile Association's 1957 National Traffic Safety Poster Contest, was created by Denni Rivette, a ninth-grade student at Goodrich Junior High School, Akron, Ohio. It was selected by a nationally-known board of judges for reproduction and distribution by AAA Motor Clubs throughout the nation.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

On May 10, the Winchester Babe Ruth League will start their fourth season in providing wholesome amateur baseball competition for our teen age boys in the 13, 14 and 15 year old group.

The guiding principle of this program has been, and is, to promote what is for the good of youth with the sincere desire of the Manager, coaches, officers and directors of the organization to bring out in our boys a genuine respect for the American traditions of sportsmanship, firm moral ideals and a thorough understanding-in-action at this very important age.

The success in carrying out this work has been through the splendid co-operation given by our Park Department and the 100% financial help by our League Sponsors; the En Ka Society, Winchester Rotary Club, Christie McDonald's Food Shop and Fitzgerald Fuel Co., and Team Sponsors: Giants—Parker Lane Winn Co., Indians—Renton's Market, Phillies—Chitel's Men's Shop, White Sox—Purtle Pharmacy and the Bayburn Cleaners, Winchester & Arlington for servicing the uniforms each season, along with many individual donations received by the Babe Ruth League Treasurer, Elmer M. Grinnell, 81 Forest street each season.

With many additional Little League graduates and other Winchester boys eligible this year, it is possible that a further expansion can be made to increase the number of teams and while it will require considerable more financial outlay for purchasing uniforms and needed equipment, the league directors believe it could be arranged, if the parents or the boys planning to tryout for teams, would immediately after March 17 obtain an application form.

These forms can be obtained at Chitel's Men's Shop, Purtle Pharmacy, Winchester Sport Shop or at Junior and Senior High Schools. Sign and return same at once to the stores mentioned (not the high schools) or mail direct to Winchester Babe Ruth League, P.O. Box 126, Winchester. It will enable the directors to make application for a new charter and arrange for necessary equipment before the final date line of March 30.

All boys 13, 14 and 15 years old, born after September 1st, 1942 or prior to September 1st, 1945 are eligible to tryout, if however, you have played Little League baseball the date is August 1.

The tryout period will start on or about April 12, with selection of players by managers between April 27 and 30. On July 1 the selection of the All-Stars will be made to compete in Massachusetts Championship series with the finals at Amherst early in August.

The Babe Ruth "World Series" last year was held at Ann Arbor, Michigan. Stamford, Conn., winner over our Massachusetts Champions, Wellesley, representing New England in the series showed very well, losing only to Pensacola, Florida, in the final championship game.

This year, the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, B. C., will be host to the eight participating teams from the States in the seventh annual "World Series." All games will be played at the Vancouver Mounties Stadium and the series will be a leading sports highlight of the British Columbia Centennial in August. Will Winchester be the 1958 representative?

Parents, this is the Babe Ruth story for 1958, if your son is to be a candidate have application returned at once.

"WAKE UP AND READ"

National Library Week
March 16 to 22, 1958

Would you believe that three out of five adult Americans have read no book other than the Bible during the past year; that although half the nation's adults live within a mile of a public library only one in ten goes inside; that only seventeen percent of these adults are in the process of reading a book at the present moment?

These somewhat startling statistics are facts released by the National Book Committee and the American Library Association, sponsors of the first National Library Week. They indicate that although we live in a very complicated and difficult time, when we must be well informed if we are to survive, we have not, as a nation, formed the habit of reading.

The purpose of National Library Week is to make our fortunate citizens aware of the vast free treasure which is available to them through our libraries, and to help them learn to use it at full capacity.

In our own state of Massachusetts 395 serve our 351 cities and towns. Ninety per cent of these libraries are in smaller towns, two hundred and ten in towns of less than five thousand population. Fifty-five per cent cent of the 395 libraries are open less than eighteen hours per week, and forty-four per cent spend less than $1000 per year for new books, i. e., about 200 volumes a year. The book circulation figures for the state indicate that library books circulate at the average rate of 5.6 books per capita, contrasted with an average rate of 9.5 books per capita in Winchester.

The citizens of Winchester use their library facilities to a greater extent than most communities in the state and nation. Some 179,000 books and magazines were circulated in 1957, an increase of 7 per cent over 1956. There are now 62,900 volumes in the library, or about three books for each person in the town. Each of these books circulates an average of three times per year. In 1957, a net of 1359 new books were added to the collection, more were purchased, but some old books were discarded. The number of registered borrowers now stands at 10,748, up 12 per cent from last year. This figure represents over 57 per cent of our population of 18,577. Circulation during the past year has been at the rate of 18 books per registered borrower. We have a good record, but there are still many of our citizens who are missing out on one of the world's great sources of entertainment and personal enrichment, an activity that can be practiced almost anywhere and at any age.

What is being done in Winchester to call attention to our library and its place in the community as a cultural center? A citizens committee for National Library Week has been formed. During the coming week the committee will place exhibits in the windows of Filene's and McCormack's Apothecary and at certain other points around the town. Cooperation is being sought from the schools and churches to carry the library's message to their children and adults. Two special story hours are being scheduled at the library during the week for the younger children, and an ad of intereste to persons having overdue books appears elsewhere in this paper.

Let us take time this week to think of our library and what it means to us and to our community. What a comfort it is to know the library is there ready for us when we need the answer to a question, when we need to find out which automatic clothes dryer or automobile is the best buy, or when we just want to escape from our busy everyday life into a new, unfamiliar world. Let us also make it a point to visit our library at least once during this coming week to browse around and see how many things there are which capture our interest. It will provide an opportunity to see how our library is being changed to provide better service and to learn in detail from our librarian what is planned for the future.

ANTIQUES STUDY GROUP

The Winchester Antiques Study Group's next regular monthly meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 18, at 7:30 p. m. in the Rich Room of the Public Library.

Mr. Clarence D. Blake, of Winchester will speak on "Early Hand Blown Glass Decanters" and Mr. Blake will exhibit some choice examples from his collection. Mr. Jan Thornton, also of Winchester, will talk on "Books on Antiques" and display some old and new books on this extensive subject. A question period will follow each talk.

Members are asked to bring guests to this meeting.

MORE ACADEMIC HONORS FOR WINCHESTER HIGH STUDENTS

Four seniors at Winchester High School have been awarded Certificates of Merit as a result of their outstanding performances in the 1957-58 National Merit Scholarship program, according to Principal W. Howard Niblock.

Linda Gross, David Hopkins, Talbot Page, and Stephen Root have received the certificates which attest to the high academic promise of the students. High scores on two college aptitude tests led to the nationally recognized academic honors for the four seniors. Less than one half of one percent of the seniors in each state received the awards.

The local seniors are among 7,300 finalists in the current National Merit Scholarship competition which began last October with the testing of 256,000 of the nation's most able high school seniors. Over 1000 of the finalists will be awarded $5 million in Merit Scholarships, as a result of final judging now being conducted. Winners will be announced about May 1, 1958.

The names of the students will be sent to over 1500 colleges, universities, and other scholarship-granting agencies for consideration for thousands of other scholarships.

"We believe that this year's Merit Scholarship finalists compose one of the most talented groups of high school students of this size that has ever been identified. As a group, they rank at the highest ability levels of the national senior class," declared John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the annual competition.

Principal Niblock also announced that two other seniors at Winchester High School have been commended by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for their outstanding performances on a nationwide college aptitude test.

The seniors honored are Mary Ann Moran and Gregg D. Wood. These Winchester students were Massachusetts runners-up in the 1957-58 Merit Scholarship competition. Each will be sent a letter of recommendation by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for use in applying to colleges. Mr. Stalnaker believes that the 7500 students who received the commendation rank in the top one or two percent in ability in the senior classes of their respective states.

"While the students receiving this commendation did not quite reach the finals of the 1957-58 Merit Scholarship competition, each of them has demonstrated highly superior ability and outstanding promise to benefit from college training," declared Mr. Stalnaker.

"I hope every one of them will make a special effort to obtain the best college education possible. Our country needs more able people like these."

Additional honors go to three of the above-mentioned six students as Mary Ann Moran, Talbot Page and Stephen Root have become finalists in the National Honor Society competition.

The school department and the town are justly proud of these fine young men and women who have repeatedly demonstrated outstanding scholastic ability and who have brought national honors to our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bunn, 24 New Meadows road spent several days in Brooksville, Florida, with Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McDonald, directors of Camp Nokomis. The Dunns are spending two weeks in Florida and are heading for the Keys with the Rushton Harwoods of Ledgewood road before returning to Winchester.

MRS. LEE SPEAKS TO SOCIAL SERVICE GUILD

A program of unusual interest is promised to members of the Social Service Guild and their guests on Tuesday afternoon, March 18, at 2 o'clock, when Mrs. Marjorie Lee, Social Director of the Boston Seamen's Friend Society, will speak "off the record" on her work at this Society. The meeting is open to all women, and a coffee hour will follow the meeting.

Most people do not realize the splendid work carried on by the Seamen's Friend Society, bringing comfort and material aid to seamen of all lands who arrive in Boston without friends, often without clothing or funds if there has been an accident at sea. In a definite and far-reaching way, this Society does a real job in "international relations," and its work is rewarding, interesting, and with meaning. Mrs. Lee herself is a charming person. She studied music abroad, and taught in the Cathedral School in Washington, and has a rich background for the work she now does. Her talk will be a delightful one. Mrs. J. Harper Blaisdell will preside in the absence of Mrs. Sanford Moses, and Mrs. Carle Zimmerman is chairman of the coffee hour.

Your Easter Seal contribution last year gave care and treatment to 1,827 crippled children and adults in Massachusetts.

"SERVING YOU SINCE '32"

MRS. FRANKLIN V. BARGER, JR.

BARGER — AVENDANO

The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Epiphany was the setting Saturday afternoon, March 8, for the marriage of Miss Silvia Custis Avendano to Ensign Franklin Voland Barger, Jr., USNR. The Rev. John W. Ellison performed the ceremony, assisted by the bride's grandfather, the Reverend Edward Clark Bradley, a retired Episcopal priest.

Mrs. Barger is the daughter of Mrs. Willis Gove Carlton Kimball of Woburn and Rye, N. H., and the late Jose Maria Avendano. Her grandmother, the late Mrs. Edward Clark Bradley, was the former headmistress of the Lenox Academy, Lenox, Mass. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Voland Barger of Toledo, Ohio.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, wore a bouffant silk taffeta gown, adorned with lace, seed pearls and sequins, and fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves, and a portrait neckline. Her fingertip tulle veil was attached to a crown of pearls, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white sweetheart roses, hyacinths, and freesia.

Miss Pepita Avendano, attired in a seafoam green taffeta gown, was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a tiara of ivy leaves and yellow acacia and carried a bouquet of yellow spring flowers. Miss Jill Galton was her godmother's junior bridesmaid and wore a green-flowered taffeta dress with an ivy tiara and miniature bouquet.

Franklin Voland Barger, Sr., was best man for his son. The ushers were Lieutenant j.g. Charles Wood, Walter Watson, and the bride's brother, Stephen Kimball.

Mrs. Barger, an alumna of Miss Hewitt's Classes in New York City, attended Connecticut College for Women and graduated from the University of Michigan.

Ensign Barger graduated from the University of Michigan in 1956 and is on active duty in the United States Naval Reserves. He is stationed in Long Beach, Calif., where the couple will make their home.

LINCOLN SCHOOL MOTHERS

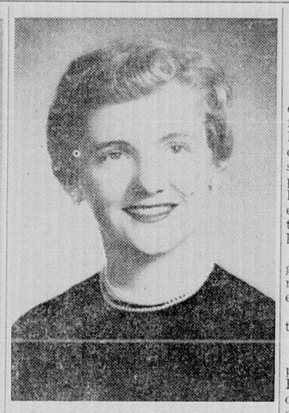
Miss the Flower Show?
Let's welcome Spring!

If you are planning your garden now, this is a meeting you can't afford to miss!

Come to the Lincoln School Mothers' Association meeting on Tuesday, March 18, at 3:15 p. m. Meet guest speaker, Mr. Philip W. Ansell, landscape architect, who will show colored slides and answer any questions you may have.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

A baby sitter will be provided in the kindergarten for children 3 -6 years old.



JOAN MARIE McFARLANE

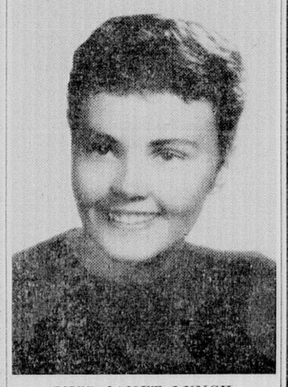
MISS McFARLANE ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. McFarlane, 2 Bonad road, wish to announce the engagement of his daughter, Joan Marie, to Mr. Bernard F. Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Boyle, 9 Russell road.

Miss McFarlane graduated from Winchester High School and Boston University and is now employed by The Calidyne Company, Inc.

Mr. Boyle graduated from Winchester High School and is now employed by The Calidyne Company, Inc.

An October wedding is planned.



MISS JANET LYNCH

MISS LYNCH ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Lynch of 48 White street announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet, to Mr. Joseph Patrick Doherty, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Doherty of Reading.

Miss Lynch is a graduate of Winchester High School, and is now attending Boston Teachers College. Mr. Doherty, a graduate of Reading High School, is employed at the Reading Postoffice after two years in the Army.

HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On March 19, the Winchester Home and Garden Club are looking forward to an illustrated lecture by Mr. Robert G. William, superintendent at the Arnold Arboretum.

His subject will be "Pruning, Soils, Care of Trees and Shrubs." This should be very helpful to all home owners at this time of the year. The meeting will be held in the Parish Hall of the Epiphany Church at two o'clock. Guests will be welcome.

ST. MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB TO HOLD COOKING CLASS

Members of the St. Mary's Mothers' Club will have a treat in store for them Wednesday evening, March 19. At that time Miss Frances Cullen, home service demonstrator for the Boston Edison Company, will conduct a cooking school. In addition to demonstrating several recipes, she will give away these same finished products to the lucky winners.

These plus an electrical appliance given as an attendance prize should make up an exciting and profitable evening.

Hostess for the evening will be the fourth-grade mothers.

Local residents who will participate in various capacities when the Boston Center for Adult Education opens for the Spring Term includes Mr. Hazen Ayer, 69 Yale street; Mr. John Mahoney, 8 Everett avenue; and Miss Natalie Cox and Miss Mary Wright, both of this town, who serve on the Center's Advisory Committee.

WYMAN WINTER MEETING

On Tuesday evening, March 4, the Wyman Parents' Association held its Winter meeting. Mrs. John Harrison, the president, welcomed the parents and teachers. Mrs. James Gustin read the secretary's report for Mrs. James Wingate, Mrs. Richard Carr gave the treasurer's report, and Mrs. William Barone, speaking for the Ways and Means committee, briefly described the selection of gifts of the Association to the school at Christmas. These included a case of Kleenex, China cups and saucers for the teachers room, a folding screen, and a fifty dollar fund for project use by the teachers.

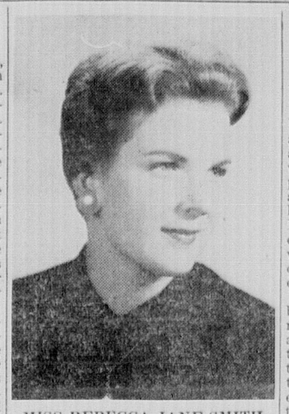
Miss Lowry, the principal, gratefully acknowledged these and expressed the appreciation of the teachers. Then Miss Lowry spoke a few words about the evening's program. Emphasizing that addition, subtraction, division, and multiplication must be made meaningful, she showed the parents some of the props and techniques which help the pupils visualize the processes.

The feature of the evening was a demonstration by Mrs. Hatchell's 5th grade pupils of an arithmetic session. Mrs. Hatchell secured enthusiastic student participation as she led her class through a fast warm-up in mental arithmetic problems followed by blackboard work on fractions with questions and commentary to fill out a fine pedagogical package.

Mr. Hewitt, 6th grade teacher on the Wyman staff, then told the parents how pupils are encouraged to "stretch their minds." He pointed out that the difficult and important part of problem-solving lies in the ability of the pupil to analyze a complex situation expressed in words and to decide on the sequence of arithmetic processes which lead to an accurate answer. Pupils who declare themselves interested and willing to do additional work are invited to join a mathematics club which meets after school on Mondays. The members are encouraged to devise and solve realistic problems. Examples selected by Mr. Hewitt were impressive and occasionally wonderfully amusing.

The well attended meeting adjourned with a warm feeling of having come close to an important part of the teaching day and the teaching way at Wyman.

Thomas P. Dee, Jr., 11 Fairmont street, is among 176 students on the Dean's List for high scholastic standing at Wentworth Institute, announced H. Russell Beatty, Wentworth president. Dee is studying Civil and Highway Construction.



MISS REBECCA JANE SMITH

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. A. Smith of Hollis, N. H., formerly of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rebecca Jane, to Mr. Joseph W. Best, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan J. Best of Kettering, Ohio.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Best, a graduate of Northwestern University and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, is presently completing his studies at Northwestern University Medical School, where he is a member of the Nu Sigma Nu fraternity.

A June wedding is planned.

Miss Jutta Reich, director of religious education at the First Congregational Church, will be among the conference leaders at the 19th annual Christian Education Lenten Institute Saturday, March 15, at Boston University. Protestant religious educators from all parts of the state will attend.

LIBRARY NEWS

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

Next week is National Library Week and the nation is focusing attention on one of our basic rights as a free people: the right to read what we please. Also being emphasized are the vast resources available to all in our free public libraries. The Winchester Public Library wishes to voice its appreciation of Winchester townspeople whose interest has made possible our library's high standing among others of its size in the state.

In the article on National Library Week appearing in this issue, national, state and local statistics are compared. We are fortunate to have a town which is aware of the importance of the library in town life. It is this fact which has enabled the library to grow and extend its services.

Our Citizens Committee for National Library Week, has planned various exhibits and activities. The library will feature "No Fine" Week. From March 16 - 22, all overdue books, records, and magazines may be returned without payment of fines.

Children's Story Hours

Miss Russell, the Children' Librarian, will have two story hours this week. Tuesday, March 18, from 3:30 p. m. —4:00 p. m., there will be a Picture Book Story Hour, for kindergarten and grade 1. Friday, March 21, from 3:30 p. m. —4:00 p. m., there will be a Spring Story Hour for grades 2, 3, and 4. Story Hours will be held in the Rich Room. Tickets are available in the Children's Room.

Town Meeting Members

Mrs. Smith will be at the library all day Saturday, March 15, to answer any questions concerning the Library Special Article. It is hoped that interested Town Meeting members will take advantage of this opportunity.

Thanks

The library wishes to thank those people who answered our plea for the May 17, 1957 issue of the Winchester Star. This issue was necessary to complete our file to be microfilmed.

HEIDI OF THE SWISS ALPS

An adaptation of Heidi, Johanna Spyri's popular children's novel, was presented to the pupils of the George Washington School recently by Miss Glennon's fourth grade class. In the setting of the Alps Mountains, the children found many opportunities to utilize their newly acquired information about the land-locked country of Switzerland. Every child participated in the three-act presentation of one of their favorite stories. The cast included the following characters:

Heidi—Marylyn Van Dyke
Aunt Dete—Brenda Murphy
Grandfather—Allen Peckham
Barbel—Jean Branley
Grandmother—Paula Ward
The Pastor—Robert Hamilton
Peter, The Goatherd — William Cronin
Goats—Deborah Steers, Brenda Galuffo, Donna Peterson
Klara—Sally Johnson
Fraulein Rottenmeier—Jane McDonagh
Herr Sesemann—David Choate
Sebastian—Gary Davis
Herr Kandidat—John Shanahan
Tinette—Patricia Lonigro
Grandmama—Eileen Crede
Announcer—Cynthia Elliott
Narrators — Maryellen Sheehan and Mary Varley
Singers — John Hall, Richard O'Donnell, Roy Johnson, Anthony Bongiorno, Anne Marie Muraco
Stage Manager—John Stone

The unfolding of the dramatic and moving story created an emotional tone that led the audience to a greater understanding of life in a land across the sea. The skillful portrayal of the several roles led the observers to predict that talent scouts for the legitimate stage might find among these child actors real artistry for the theater of the future.

The Easter Seal Society treats crippled children regardless of race, religion or cause of crippling.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The board will have a visit from their new national council advisor, Miss Rebekah Taft, which will last all day from 10 to 2:30. Each member should plan to bring a lunch and coffee will be furnished.

Neighborhood 1—No date set.
Neighborhood 2 — Wed., March 19 - 9:30 - Cabin
Neighborhood 3 — Mon., March 24 - 9:30 - Cabin
Neighborhood 4—Fri., March 21 - 9:30 - Cabin

There will be a meeting of the program committee, Mrs. Harold Butters, Jr., chairman, at the cabin at 9:30 on Tuesday, March 18.

There will be a meeting of the public relations committee, Mrs. Stanley Cairncross, chairman, at the cabin at 1:00 on Monday, March 17.

Reports from Selections Committee

Our newly organized selections committee, with Mary Lou Eugley, chairman, Gladys Armstrong and Greta Uhlig, members, met recently to select a patrol of eight girls to attend the Section 1 Encampment to be held at the Merrimac Valley Day Camp Site over Memorial Day week end. The following patrol and alternates were selected from the 23 applications received: Patrol: Joan Denton, Ann Dyson, Deborah Eddy, Carlene Hatchell, Dorothy March, Laurel Ingraham, Mary Lou O'Donnell and Jeanne Prue. Alternates: Linda Chase, Joanna Hill, Peggy Padelford, Barbara Stewart, Betty Bowes, Claudia Gordon, Natalie Palmer, Martha Ross.

RED CROSS SERVICES WEEK

Mr. Royce H. Randlett, chairman of the Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross, announced that the theme for March, Red Cross Month, is "On the Job for You."

In expanding this theme this week, we wish to stress the work done by some of our services: The Blood Program, Home Service, the Nurses Aides, and the Motor Corps.

The Blood Program

Co-chairmen of our blood program are Earle F. Spencer, Jr., and Lawrence T. Smith. To them goes the credit for spearheading our successful drive on our last Blood Donor Day, January 27, when 130 pints of blood were given by residents of Winchester and nearby towns. Working behind the scenes with them were doctors, nurses, nurses aides, staff aides, gray ladies, girl scouts, the motor corps, and the canteen, all giving freely of their services that blood might be collected for times of need.

At this moment, the Metropolitan Chapter needs walking donors for open heart surgery, and the Winchester Chapter can help them out only if people willing to supply this service will give us their names. Call the Chapter House, WInchester 6-2300, if you are willing to become a "walking donor" in emergency!

In the 10 years that the Red Cross Blood Donor Program has been operating in Massachusetts more than 900,000 life-saving pints of blood have been collected by the Red Cross. Our Chapter is frequently called by the Winchester Hospital to collect blood, and residents of Winchester who have relations needing blood, patients in other hospitals. At this time the Winchester Chapter wants to assure the residents of Winchester, that through the generosity of so many of our citizens on Blood Donor Days we are ready at a moment's notice to fulfill emergency requests for blood. This is one of the most gratifying services that we render. It gives us, working at the chapter house, a warm thrill when blood recipients walk in to express their hearty appreciation of our help in their previous time of need.

Mr. Lawrence Smith, co-chairman of Winchester's Blood Program, and Miss O'Brian of the Blood Bank at Winchester Hospital represented the Winchester Chapter at the 10th Anniversary and Annual Meeting of the Blood Program in Massachusetts in Framingham on Wed. evening, March 5.

Home Service

Miss Natalie Jewett and Mrs. J. Edward Downes, co-chairmen of Home Service, write for us:

"The Winchester Chapter of American Red Cross through its Home Service Department gives to the residents of Winchester a 24 hour service. What Home Service does is critical and vital and requires prompt action. It connects the serviceman with his family. When allotment checks for the family are late and families are in need, Home Service goes to their assistance.

"If death or critical illness occurs in families, Home Service communicates this information, together with verification to the serviceman, so that the need for his presence at home is clear to his Commanding Officer. Notice of the birth of a baby is sent to the far corners of the world.

"When it is necessary for the family to go to see a serviceman in critical illness, Home Service gives counsel and assistance for their travel arrangements. In disaster, relatives at a distance communicate with the Red Cross for information concerning their dear ones. These and many other services Home Service performs.

"In peace time cases are not as numerous as in war time, but when the call comes, prompt dispatch is necessary.

"In the fall a course in Home Service will be given at the Metropolitan Chapter House in Boston. It is hoped some women in Winchester will be interested to take this course and be ready to assist Home Service when the need requires their help."

The Nurses Aides

Mrs. George B. Field, chairman of Nurses Aides, says:

"Three Red Cross Nurses Aides join other volunteers at the Red Cross Blood Center in Boston on the first Wednesday of every month. They take temperatures, assist the professional nurses in the Blood Room and visit with the donors in the Canteen. The donors themselves, all ages and from all walks of life, help to make the day very interesting.

"Transportation for the volunteers is provided by able drivers from the Motor Corps. When the Bloodmobile visits Winchester, eight Nurses Aides assist the professional nurses. Taking part in such a vital service as the Blood Bank is a most rewarding experience. Anyone with Nurses Aide training would be most welcome to take part in this program."

Motors Corps

Mrs. Edward M. Feeley reports for the Motor Corps:

"There are many facets to this volunteer service in Red Cross. Driving patients to the various hospital clinics, taking veterans from Bedford on all day trips, doing errands, going for and returning blood, transporting the other services (gray ladies, nurses aides, staff aides, canteen) to their assignments, and, once a month, a day at the Boston Blood Bank.

"This day starts from headquarters in Winchester where the driver picks up her group and takes them to the Blood Bank at 314 Dartmouth street. From there she (and it is usually a woman, although there are men drivers too, but they are more apt to be busy during the day) may deliver blood to hospitals. But always she goes to several concerns to pick up donors and bring them to the Blood Bank. These trips in and around Boston are a wonderful way to learn about the streets, and where places are. So if you want to give some time to Red Cross and have an interesting time, why not join the motor service!!"

Attention All Doctors!

There will be a Mother-Baby care course in Stoneham in a few weeks, and we feel sure that if it is brought to the attention of prospective mothers and fathers, many of them will want to avail themselves of this opportunity to attend these free lectures. Please advise the parents-to-be whom you think might be interested, or give them our number, WInchester 6-2300, for this course.

LIFE LINES

by Colonel Ralph T. Miller
Salvation Army

LIFE'S STAIRWAY

Once I climbed to the top of the Bunker Hill Monument. As soon as I started up the winding stairway, the great walls shut out the view on all sides. I seemed to be in a dungeon, climbing endless steps to nowhere. Sight and sound of the outside world was shut out. Only the echoes of footsteps could be heard.

But as I climbed I came to a window piercing the stone wall of the tower. Through this window I was able to catch glimpses of a beautiful world outside. There were green fields, rich gardens, picturesque landscapes, streams flashing like silver in the sunshine, off yonder the sea, and far away in the other direction, the shadowy outline of distance hills.

As I continued to climb, I found that the walls of the tower had such windows as this at regular intervals along the stair-way.

Dark and gloomy was the climb. But those windows! They made it worth the while.

Each course of steps led to a window a little higher, with a grander, more majestic view. I could trace my progress by the higher view from each successive window. By them, I knew that I was making progress, rising higher.

Finally I reached the top. What a majestic view that was! In every direction, as far as the eye could see, was the surrounding countryside. The climb had been worth the labor.

Life is like that; isn't it? Most of the time we seem hemmed in by its limitations and its narrow horizons. At most, we see a little patch of dusty soil with cheerless walls around it. As we climb heavily and wearily up the steep, dark stair-way, it seems a monotonous grind, leading nowhere.

But then come the windows, and we see the beauty of it all! We see, too, that we are making progress. Then finally, we reach the summit.

We call it heaven. Life's pilgrimage is not a stairway to oblivion. It has a goal!

VISITS EUROPE

William C. Cusack of 2 Lakeview road has returned from a flying trip to continental Europe where he visited numerous places. Among them were the Chamber of Deputies and the NATO organization in Paris, House of Commons and House of Lords in London, The Dail in Dublin, Ireland, the United Nations and the International headquarters of the Red Cross in Geneva, Switzerland.

At the time the Deputies in France were debating the Cyprus question, the House of Lords were wondering why they were unable to get more of the Lords to attend their meetings and why they were not getting more attention from the press.

In Dublin the issue before the assembly was Greyhound racing and ways and means of improving the efficiency of it. In Geneva, many nations without navies, were discussing their Common Problems. Economically speaking Mr. Cusack gained the impression that Europe is slipping. Business men watch the figures relating to conditions in America and use the information to guide them.

WARNER L. SMITH

HEADS COMBINED JEWISH APPEAL

Warner L. Smith of 8 Clinton street, Woburn, will again lead the Winchester-Woburn communities in behalf of the Combined Jewish Appeal, according to Leonard Schlesinger, Metropolitan Division chairman. Mr. Smith served as chairman of the campaign in 1956.

A leather chemist with offices at 1071 Main street, Woburn, Mr. Smith, a graduate of City College of New York, is district commissioner of Boy Scouts for Woburn and Burlington, a member of the Woburn Chamber of Commerce, and a Civil Defense radio operator.

The Combined Jewish Appeal campaign this spring will be a two-phased drive. Large sums will be sought from Winchester and Woburn residents for the ongoing needs of a network of 201 philanthropies serving people at home, across the nation, and in 24 foreign lands, including Israel. At the same time, people will be asked for contributions to the nationwide one hundred million dollar rescue fund to move 80,000 Jewish victims of persecution from behind Iron Curtain countries, and hostile North African lands and resettle them in Israel and other lands giving them a haven.

OUTSTANDING YOUTH SPEAKER FOR HOLY NAME

Sunday morning, March 9, the Holy Name Society attended Mass at St. Mary's Church, received Holy Communion and joined the newly formed Holy Name Choir in the singing of hymns. The choir rendered the hymn, "Mother at Thy Feet is Kneeling," at Communion and a hymn in honor of St. Patrick at the conclusion of the mass. James Kennedy directed the choir and Miss Kay Roach, organist for the Holy Name Society, accompanied the singers.

Rev. Charles E. Anadore, celebrant of the mass in his sermon likened tedious detours and narrow streets one often has to travel before reaching the super highways to the change for the better from the sacrament of confession, with its purpose of amendment becoming the superhighway of sincerity.

Society's Show Announced

After the service breakfast was served in St. Mary's Hall under the chairmanship of Frank Antonuccio assisted by Albert E. Thorne, III.

President John Fitzgerald presided and Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, Holy Name director, led the members in the recitation of the Holy Name pledge. Reports were then read by secretary George Ross and treasurer Robert Plunkett, after which president Fitzgerald announced the society's annual Variety Show on April 14, benefiting the parish and featuring professional acts from Boston.

George Ross will be chairman with Gerry Freedman and Arthur Duffy as ticket chairman. Frank Weafer and Herbert Cleary will be production chairmen while Leo Roache and Frank Antonuccio will be program and sponsors chairmen. Publicity chairmen will be William McGaragle and Albert Oliverio.

President Fitzgerald also invited all non-members of the bowling league to help out on Thursday evenings by filling in on some of the teams.

Holy Thursday Vigil

Under chairman Bill McGaragle the Nocturnal Adoration group will meet Friday at St. Mary's to drive to St. Clement's Church in Boston an activity they perform each month. Members were reminded to reserve an hour for prayerful meditation on Holy Thursday night at St. Mary's Church. President Fitzgerald praised the Holy Name Choir and read a message from the Archbishop asking all members to procure the new book written by J. Edgar Hoover, "Masters of Deceit" which he believes should be in every home. Treasurer Plunkett is in charge of this.

Andrews Guest Speaker

Program chairman Paul Mulloy introduced the guest speaker, Paul Andrews of Woburn, a young orator from the CYO Speakers Bureau, much in demand, who is a pre-medical student at Boston College, member of the Arch Diocesan Youth Council, and past president of the Woburn Deanery Council of the CYO.

Taking as his subject "Youth Speaks Out," he gave an interesting address on the causes of juvenile delinquency as seen by youth itself.

The audience was told that the cause is complex with parents and youngsters both contributing. Newspapers that highlight the small percent of badness per total youth population in the country while affording only a minimum of space in contrast, of youth's good deeds, were scored by Mr. Andrews as very unfair. Drinking immoderately by elders in the home, in the sight of youngsters, bad companions, young people out at unreasonable hours, parents ignorant of where, or with whom their children are, indecent movies and books and magazines were all cited emphatically by the speaker as deterrents.

As a remedy the speaker recommended inviting youngster's companions into their home and supporting their activities, with the added requisite of "family prayer." Emphasis was placed also on high school study application so important for possible college entrance.

The speaker urged that youngsters be allowed to select their own vocation in life, and closed with the thought that home environment is all important in this problem of delinquency.

A question and answer period followed the address which the young man handled with marked ability and poise.

General regret was expressed over the announcement of the death of George Govoni on the morning of the meeting.

K. of C. NEWS

The Winchester Council 210, Knights of Columbus, communion breakfast to be held on Sunday, March 23, at the Immaculate Conception Church and hall, will have as guest speaker Mr. Thomas J. McArdle.

Mr. McArdle is a life long resident of Melrose, having attended the Melrose schools, Boston College, and Boston College Law School. He has been affiliated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation for five years and was counsel to the former Massachusetts Crime Commission from its inception to the end. Currently he is a member of Choate, Hall and Stewart, State street law firm in Boston, and has been associated with them for the past 12 years.

His talk will deal with the crime commission and its work. With his background the council can be assured of a very interesting topic.

Knights are presently distributing tickets and Deputy Grand Knight Charles T. Doucette, Jr., is the general chairman. He asks all planning to attend please obtain their tickets immediately.

OLDEST COULD BE THE YOUNGEST

One of the unique features of America's Oldest Passion Play, "Pilate's Daughter" is the single status of all the female actresses. This occasions a constant turnover in the cast. One girl, however, has starred for twelve years in the perennial lenten favorite. Mary Golding, as the lovable Rebecca, has set a record and few people believe her when she cheerfully admits her twenty nine years.

As an office nurse to Dr. James Conway, Boston physician, she appears as young and attractive as she did the day she nervously made her initial appearance in the play. At that time she attended Mission High School in Roxbury. Mary has another unique record. In the 57 years of Pilate's Daughter history, she is the only actress who has followed the rigorous period of practice and portrayal while studying to be a nurse. In spite of extreme demands of student nursing at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Mary never missed a single performance. Since then a lot of patients have come and gone. Still audiences as well as patients have the good fortune of enjoying her beautiful personality.

HEADS MAINE "M" CLUB

Niles Nelson, son of Mr and Mrs. Herbert E. Nelson of 44 Water street, has been elected president of the varsity "M" Club at the University of Maine for next year.

Nelson, a graduate of Winchester High and former high school football and basketball player, will be a senior at Maine next year. An All Maine end in football last fall he was elected captain of the Maine eleven for the 1958 season after a great year on the gridiron.

In addition to his other honors Nelson was last week elected president of his fraternity the Nu Epsilon Chapter of Phi Mu Delta.

THOMAS L. MORISON

KEYNOTE SPEAKER AT BENTLEY ALUMNI MEETING

Mr. Thomas L. Morison of 4 Highland terrace, treasurer and vice president of Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston, is presently attending meetings of the National Association of Accountants in Detroit and New York City.

Mr. Morison will be the keynote speaker at Bentley Alumni Chapter Meetings in Chicago, Cincinnati and Detroit, and will also speak in Connecticut at the Norwich Chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

18-YEAR-OLD-MEN MUST REGISTER WITH DRAFT BOARD

Although young men have no liability for military service under the Draft Act until they reach age 19 and presently are not being drafted until they are over 22 years old, they nevertheless must register within 5 days following their 18th birthday, as required by law.

This reminder was issued today by Frederic L. Nyhan, Masssachusetts State Director of Selective Service, because of reports reaching him from local draft boards that many youths were not signing up within the period fixed by law.

Nyhan said he believed the late registrations were due to a misunderstanding or unawareness of the requirements of the law rather than an intent to violate it and expressed the hope that parents of boys approaching age 18 would see to it that their sons discharge their registration obligation on time.

The State Director explained that a young man away from home for any reason need not return home to register.

"He may sign up at any local board office nearest to him and his registration record will be forwarded to the local board having jurisdiction over his home address," Nyhan concluded.

TO ENTER CME MEDICAL SCHOOL

Douglas P. Davies, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Davies, 112 Highland avenue, has been accepted to the 1958 freshman class of the College of Medical Evangelists School of Medicine at Loma Linda, California. He will be part of a group of 88 men and 8 women who will mark the fiftieth class of incoming students to the CME medical school when they register next September.

The College's School of Medicine is located on two campuses—Loma Linda and Los Angeles, California. Students spend the first two years on the Loma Linda campus where courses in anatomy, pathology, biochemistry, physiology, pharmacology, and bacteriology are studied. The last two years of training are spent in Los Angeles. On each campus the College operates a teaching hospital.

Davies is completing his premedical studies at Atlantic Union College in South Lancaster, Massachusetts, where he graduates this spring.

TOWNSPEOPLE HELP ROTARY SERVE TOWN

Since the Winchester Rotary Club started its annual auction several years ago, hundreds of people have donated furniture, rugs, antiques, television sets, lawn mowers, bicycles, automobiles, fireplace sets, dogs, and just about everything you find around the house. The donated items have in most cases outlived their usefulness to the owner because of changing times or circumstances, but are still as useful as a new item to someone else.

The Winchester Rotary Club has found a way of capitalizing on this situation to benefit the individual donor as well as the whole town by providing a means of turning valuable but unneeded items into cash for worthwhile civic and charitable causes.

By calling WInchester 6-4108 right now, a Rotarian will pick up any object you would like to donate. All donations will be sold at a public auction on April 12, at the Town Hall, starting at 10:00 a. m. and lasting until everything is sold. The money received will then be given to help support projects such as the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, Police Athletic League, Foreign Exchange Student at Winchester High School, a Little League team, Winchester Hospital, Home for the Aged, Winchester High School Radio Transmitter, roller skates for the Junior High School program, Winning Home, and many, many others.

With this donations-made-easy program, the Rotarians are hoping you will make them work hard this year by donating so many things that all seventy of the members will be kept busy collecting them from now until April 12. Just call WInchester 6-4108.

On April 12 there will be plenty of food at Town Hall. You can come early to get a seat and then stay all day so you will not miss any of the wonderful bargains the neighbors put in. In this way, the individual townsman helps the Rotary Club in a material way to serve the town, which is Rotary's reason for existence, namely, to give "Service Above Self."

WINS BUGLER TITLE

Older Winchester residents will be interested in Alan Laraway's winning the junior bugle championship in the recent Northeastern championship bugle and drum corps championship contests at Manchester, N. H. The competition was among the toughest in recent years.

Alan is the 12 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Laraway of 94 Highland street, Portsmouth, N. H. His father, a native of Winchester and son of the late selectman Jonas A. and Mrs. Laraway, for many years widely known residents, grew up in town. He is the brother of Mrs. Harold McKinley, Mrs. Carl Morse and Mrs. William Barone, all of whom make their home here.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

RED CROSS SWIMMING SCHOLARSHIP APPLICANTS NOW BEING CONSIDERED

Each year the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross may send free of charge a qualified girl and boy for the Instructors Course in Water Safety Methods at Camp Hanson, Massachusetts. This course covers a period of two weeks immediately after the termination of the school year. Any interested persons who fulfill the following requirements should send a resume of their background to Mrs. William Cusack, executive secretary, Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross, Winchester, Mass.

Applicant should (1) be a minimum of 18 years of age at closest birthday, (2) have a strong swimming background (including completion of Red Cross Senior Life Saving requirements), (3) be a well rounded person with definite leadership capabilities, (4) be willing to assist in local Red Cross Water Safety Program if requested.

Last year's scholarship winners were Nancy Donaghey and Vincent Murphy.

TUFTS TEA CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Warren Wells of 30 Oxford street, is chairman of the third At-Home Tea, sponsored by the Association of Tufts Alumnae, honoring all new members, on Wednesday, March 19, at Alumnae Hall, Tufts University, from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. Hostesses for the tea will include the following from Winchester, Mrs. B. L. Lane, Mrs. Frederick Cardin, Mrs. James Gustin, Mrs. Joseph Moran and Mrs. Donald Abbott.

Mrs. Howard L. Leary of 48 Westland avenue, president of the association of Tufts Alumnae states that the tea is for all alumnae with emphasis on guests from the classes of 1921 - 1935. Alumnae will enjoy a tour of Hodgdon Hall before the tea.

FIRES

Friday, March 7, a telephone call at 8:22 a. m. from Gordon D. Winsor of 11 Clematis street for a bursting water pipe brought firefighters to his home. There was water on the cellar floor which came from a relief valve on the hot water heater.

Mrs. Mabel Vinton of 3 Fairview terrace called at 12:21 p. m. to report a fire in the chimney at her home. Firefighters found the fire was out when they arrived.

Saturday, March 8, Arlington's mutual assistance box 735 was sounded at 6:35 p. m. Frefighters found that the Arlington department had things under control when they arrived and Winchester's aid was not needed.

OPEN HOUSE AFTER GAME

The Winchester Youth Council, an organization of high school pupils, held the third of its open houses during the basketball season last Friday evening at the high school gym after the Indians' loss to Natick in the semi-final round of the State Tournament at the Boston Garden.

Many of the high school pupils returned from the Garden to the gym, and while naturally disappointed at the outcome of the game, managed to have a good time together, talking, dancing to records and drinking coke.

Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Evander French, Mr. and Mrs. F. William Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Little, Mr. and Mrs. George Needham, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Longworth, Mr. and Mrs. William Kimball and Miss May Milliken, social studies teacher, in whose class the Council had its inception.

Briefly, the Council was formed to provide activities and places to go for high school students during week-ends. Basketball open houses were held previous to last Friday's at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church and the Unitarian Church.

Co-chairmen of the Council are Dana Starkweather and Sally Kimball, secretaries are Gloria Craft and Ann Neville; James Falzano is treasurer and Roger DeMinico, assistant treasurer.

Council members include Peter Cullen, Douglas Gowdy, Paul Sullivan, Jean Scott, Richard Roberts, Barbara Clark, John Hosmer, George Neville, Susan Nanry and Robert Peluso.

The Youth Council has petitioned the Student Council of the school for official recognition and for a faculty adviser as other student organizations have.

CHURCH SERVICE LEAGUE

Hostesses for the general meeting of the Church Service League of the parish of the Epiphany next Tuesday, March 18, will be members of the Tuesday Group, hospitality committee for the church.

In addition to C.S.L. members, women from the other Winchester churches have been invited to attend this tea which begin at 3:00 p. m. in the parish hall.

In charge of decorations for the afternoon event is Mrs. Richard N. Carr, while Mrs. Clifton McNeil will arrange for the flowers and Mrs. John Colony for serving.

Mrs. Edward Little will handle the tea preparation. The sandwich committee includes Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mrs. Harry Benson and Mrs. John E. Bird.

The entertainment for the afternoon will focus on Japan, as that country is the mission study topic for the United Church Women. While tea is being served background music will be provided from records featuring the famed Azuma Kabuki musicians.

An unusual program of readings has been prepared by Mrs. Robert Sibley who will be accompanied on the harp by Mrs. Robert Anderson.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" will include the following from James (2:14): "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works?"

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (323:13-18): "In order to apprehend more, we must put into practice what we already know. We must recollect that Truth is demonstrable when understood, and that good is not understood until demonstrated. If 'faithful over a few things,' we shall be made rulers over many; but the one unused talent decays and is lost."

FESTIVAL PROGRAM DEADLINE MARCH 20

The deadline for sending your checks to be listed in the program of the Northeast Music Festival has been extended to March 20.

Parents of all Winchester school children have received letters asking for their support of this big event to be held in Winchester on May 3. Five thousand High School and Junior High School musicians will take part in the contest, which will feature bands, orchestras, glee clubs and choruses from cities and towns throughout Middlesex and Essex Counties.

The letters were sent out by the Community School Association (formerly the Central Mothers' Association) and its president, Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully. Wendell Withington, Director of Music for the Winchester Schools, is chairman of the General Committee.

A check for two dollars will get the names of couples listed in the program as patron and patroness. Send your checks to Post Office Box 54, Winchester, and make them out to the Community School Association. Anyone who is not a parent of a child in the Winchester schools may get his name listed in the program by sending a check to E. Abbott Bradlee, treasurer of the Committee.

The checks must be in by March 20, so the program can go to press in time for the festival.

REV. WESLEY A. MALLERY

Associate minister of the First Congregational Church, will be the speaker at the annual roll-call supper of the Second Congregational Church this evening at 6:30 p.m. His subject will be "Getting the Church into People."

ART CLASSES

The Winchester Art Association is happy to announce that the evening adult art class will meet for a third ten-week term, beginning Wednesday, March 26, at 7:00 p. m. Thanks to the cooperation of the school department, classes will be held in the art studio of the High School, a perfect place to work.

No previous experience is necessary to become a class member. There is instruction in both drawing and painting by Mr. King Coffin, who is teaching this class for the sixth year. Beginners start with pencil sketching, while more advanced pupils use the medium of their choice. During the second term oils, pastels and water colors will be in use. It is expected that drawing and painting from life will continue.

"Even those who have had very little experience find life drawing most helpful," says Mr. Coffin.

Those interested in joining should get in touch with Miss Dorothy Reynolds, at WInchester 6-0242. Applications are taken on a first-come, first-serve basis for the restricted enrollment.

It is expected that the children's class will open again in the fall, but no spring term is planned.

SENIOR FORUM

When the blizzard of February 16, hit Wincheseter, it hit church attendance, too. The Senior Forum held its service as usual but only a small group were present to hear the speaker, Mr. John U. Monro, one of our Forum advisers. Mr. Monro has been invited to speak again this Sunday at the 9:30 a. m. service in Ripley Chapel, and all Forumites, including those who heard him last month, are looking forward to having him as a speaker again. A recent write-up in the Harvard Alumni Bulletin spoke of Mr. Monro in these words: "His deep laugh is the laugh of the explorer and adventurer, embarking on some new path, testing some new approach." He will discuss one of his special interests with Forum, namely, "Reading and Living." Larry Longworth will be chaplain and Dave Schumacher will be assistant chaplain. Deacons will be Frank Varian and Dave Sturtevant, and John Johnian and William Ware will act as ushers.

Forumites are signing up this week for the March supper meeting which will be held this month on the fourth Sunday, March 23rd, rather than the usual last Sunday of the month. A large number are planning also to attend the roller skating and bowling party to be held at the Wal-lex Rollerway on Friday, March 21.

The Forum Lent-Easter Offering will be used to aid the overseas relief work of the Congregational Christian Service Committee, to provide such things as school materials, medical supplies, and clothing for refugees in Europe and Asia. It is not always easy for American young people to realize that this kind of need continues in the world. Kay Stoffregen and Dave Bentley are the co-chairmen of the Service Committee sponsorinng this sharing project.

The Lenten Devotions for Young People will be held on Wednesday morning at 7:40 in the Unitarian Church Chapel, with the Baptist Youth Fellowship in charge.

A "Jill" Of All Trades

(Ed. Note—The following, clipped from a Melbourne, Australia, paper, will prove of interest to the many friends of the Neil Bordens, who recently returned home after a winter of foreign travel.)

An American visitor who weaves material for her own suits, makes her upholstery furnishings, bakes her own bread, is a "precinct boss" for President Eisenhower, and belongs to numerous groups in her home town, said yesterday that she still found plenty of free time.

She is Mrs. Neil Borden, in Australia with her husband, who is Professor of Marketing and Advertising at the Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University. He is on a lecture tour of the eastern States of Australia, after a round-world holiday trip since leaving America about two months ago.

Mrs. Borden, a grandmother, who wears her short, curly grey hair with a "Mamie Eisenhower" fringe, says she is "quite politically minded," as are most American women today.

Last year she was president of the Women League of Voters in her home town, Winchester, just outside Boston. The League does not support any political party, but aims to educate women in all fields of politics.

"Although non-partisan, we encourage members to belong to a political party, as they become more politically conscious, and learn more that way," said Mrs. Borden.

The League members divided themselves into small units, of about 30 women each, and they hold "morning coffee meetings" in members' homes, Mrs. Borden continued. When something of special interest was to be discussed, as many as six meetings about the same subject were arranged, so that members could come in the morning, the afternoon, the evening, or whenever was convenient.

Before becoming president, Mrs. Borden was a "precinct boss" for Eisenhower, which meant arranging his election campaign for the Boston precinct. No one holding office in a political party can hold office for the League, she explained, so she had to resign from one, when doing work for the other.

"To get people interested and enthusiastic, we got Fred Waring and his band to give a huge concert, as part of one political rally," said energetic Mrs. Borden.

Welfare Work

Mrs. Borden also campaigned for herself—to be elected to Winchester's public welfare committee. The committee allocates the spending of welfare funds given by the Federal, State and town Governments.

This looks after the poor, State-aid children, and the aged. Winchester, she said, has a luxurious home for old folks, who give any money they own to the home when they enter it, and then live there free. She is a director of this home.

Among this busy woman's other interests are teaching Sunday school, cooking, baking and entertaining.

Cooks for 80 People

Once every year she cooks for 80 people, for a function held in aid of her old school, Smith College.

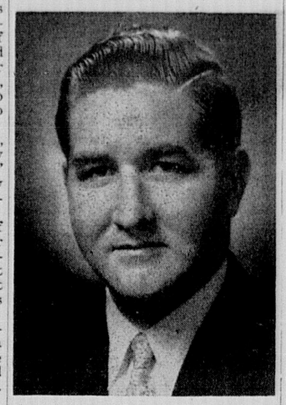
One of Mrs. Borden's prize possessions is a 42-inch weaving loom, specially made for her of maple and mahogany, with steel replacing the rope usually used on looms.

On it she weaves materials for her own suits, and tweeds for her husband. She has also made all the upholstery materials for her furnishings, mostly in modern Swedish patterns.

"I've only had to reupholster my couch three times, and with four children romping on it, that's not bad," said Mrs. Borden proudly. She also has two linen chair covers which she wove 20 years ago.

Since leaving home, Mrs. Borden has made a tapestry bell-pull, as a record of her trip. On it she has worked such reminders as Big Ben, the mosque on the Bosphorus at Istanbul, the cedars of Lebanon, camels on the road to Damascus, a Brahmin cow, and the emerald palace at Bangkok.

Australia is already represented by an aboriginal design, a flannel flower, a whale (to remember a week end at the whaling station on Moreton Island, off Brisbane), a lorokeet (seen at Currumbin, on the Gold Coast), a gum tree blossom, a sailing boat (at Pittwater, Sydney), and a koala.



BLAIR HAWLEY

ROTARY NOTES

Blair Hawley of Ledgewood road, chief planning officer for the Survival Plan of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, was the speaker last week at the regular luncheon meeting of Winchester Rotary in the Masonic Apartments.

Mr. Hawley brought to the Rotarians a timely and thought-provoking message, if not a particularly pleasant one. In general his subject dealt with the action to be taken in the event of a bombing, using charts to complement his address.

Because of the work being done by Mr. Hawley's department of Civil Defense authorities are hopeful that a survival plan will be evolved that will be workable and efficient in the event of a bombing disaster.

This week's Rotary meeting was devoted to a discussion of club matters, including preparations for the big Rotary Auction, one of the spring red-letter events of the town. The date is drawing near and all Rotarians were urged to lend every possible assistance to the auction committee.

Another matter discussed was the future policy of the club with respect to student aid. The club for several years has given an outright scholarship, and a part of the discussion centered about whether this plan should be continued or whether a student loan fund should be established and administered by the club. Still another suggestion was that the club continue its scholarships and also raise a student loan fund.

LINCOLN SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

The Lincoln School Dads' Club will hold a Father and Sons and Daughters night for 5th and 6th graders at the Lincoln School Auditorium next Wednesday night, March 26, at 7 o'clock. Parents of children below the fifth grade may bring their sons or daughters if they are willing for the children to stay out as late as 8:30.

Three exciting films will be shown. One is a movie of Ted Williams fishing off the coast of Peru. The film, sponsored by General Electric, shows Ted catching the third largest game fish ever caught on rod and reel. The other films are "New England Portrait," put out by the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, and "Championship Basketball," sponsored by the Hood Rubber Company, featuring the Boston Globe.

President Charles A. Buchanan also announced that the annual Spring Dance of the Dads' Club will be held Saturday, April 12. Details of the dance will be announced later.

URGE PARENTAL SUPPORT OF MUSIC FESTIVAL

Winchester residents who are not parents of children in the Winchester schools are urged to join the school parents in giving their financial support to the Northeast Music Festival to be held here May 3.

More than two thousand letters have been sent out to the parents of Winchester school children, and the response has been wonderful, but there are many other residents of the town who want to get behind this big event and make it a success.

Five thousand young musicians from High Schools and Junior High Schools throughout Middlesex and Essex Counties will come here to take part in the contests for bands, orchestras, glee clubs and choruses. There will be a mammoth parade through the streets, and the day will be climaxed by a massed band concert on Manchester Field.

It is a big honor for Winchester to be host for the festival, and the thousands of people who will be in town will mean a big day for the town's merchants. It only costs $2 a couple to get your name listed in the program as patrons and patronesses. But it takes a good many of these two-dollar contributions to meet the minimum cost of printing the program, buying lunches for the musicians and other expenses.

The town has responded very generously to the letters sent out to the school parents, but still only a little more than half of the needed amount has been raised so far. Everyone, whether or not they are parents of children in the Winchester schools, can be listed in the program as patrons and patronesses. Send your check now to the Community School Association, Box 54, Winchester.

Members of the General Committee, under the chairmanship of Wendell Withington, working hard for the success of the Festival are:

Mrs. Lyle Longworth, secretary; E. Abbot Bradlee, treasurer; Lester Gustin, Jr., parade marshal; Benjamin Gowing, hospitality; George Gowdy, badges and insignia; Paul LaMarche, program; James Coon, Chief Charles Harrold and Coach Henry Knowlton, parking; Thomas Morse and Theodore Janner, audition halls; Principal W. Howard Niblock, stadium; Austin Nanry, massed chorus; Nicholas Fitzgerald, Alfred Elliott and Ralph Bonnell, business sponsors; Mrs. Harlow Russell, luncheon; S. Kennedy Tully, publicity; George Needham, Mrs. Herbert Ross, Olcott Hooper and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mullen, members-at-large and Community School Association, patrons and patronesses.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Williams of Burlington, announce the birth of a third child, second son, (Stephen Michael) on February 28, at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn. Grandparent honors are shared by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. James M. O'Neil of this town.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Moore of 21 School street, South Acton, formerly of Kenwin road, announce the birth of Susan Bartlett Moore on March 11, at the Emerson Hospital in Concord. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Fay of North Miami, Fla., formerly of Fells road, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis K. Moore of Boston, formerly of Penn road.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Coon of Ellensburg, Washington, announce the birth of their fourth child, second son, Frederick Peter Coon, March 17 at Ellensburg. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Snyder of Washtucna, Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Coon of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Danehy of Reading (Virginia M. Hurley) announce the birth of their second son Kevin Thomas on March 14, at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Myles T. Danehy of Arlington and Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Hurley of Mt. Vernon street.

HARVARD HOOP CO-CAPTAIN

Winchester's Bob Repetto of Mt. Pleasant street was recently elected captain of the Harvard University basketball team for the 1958-59 season.

Repetto was a regular guard on the Crimson's quintet during the season just past. He played his prep-school basketball at Belmont Hill School, and has a brother, Paul, who was on the MIT basketball team this year.

Neil Muncaster, a former Winchester High School basketball player, who played on some of the championship teams coached by Ted Bartlett, was named the most valuable member of the Crimson hoop team. A senior, Muncaster has played on the Harvard varsity for the past three years.

RECEIVED HARVARD MIDYEAR DEGREE

Richard Gordon King of 10 Winslow road and Peter P. Sorokin of 8 Cliff street were among the 86 students who received midyear degrees from Harvard University on March 10.

Mr. King, a graduate of Williams College, received the Ed.D. degree. Mr. Sorokin, who received his Doctorate, graduated from Winchester High and from Harvard.

Recommends New School

School Building Committee Report Urges One Of Two Plans

The Building Committee for enlarged facilities for Senior and Junior High School and school administration offices has completed its second report on the capacity of the present high schools and its recommendations for the construction of new facilities.

On the enrollment studies the Committee states that it is not unlikely that at some point the secondary school enrollment will be over 3000 pupils. This means that at some point before saturation the enrollment may well be over 3000.

At present the capacity of the two schools are as follows:

Junior High School
Gymnasium	600
Cafeteria	350 per shift
Auditorium	630
Classrooms	600
Senior High School
Gymnasium	1200
Cafeteria	300 per shift
Auditorium	1050
Classrooms	1000

The Committee feels that further construction in the center to house 2300 students would have to provide classrooms for about 700 students, additional cafeteria facilities for 350 (with three shifts per day) and a gymnasium area for 500 students.

The Wadleigh School building, as noted in last week's Star would cost at least $120,000 to renovate and then would contribute only 8 classrooms. The use of the building would not eliminate the need for other new construction and in addition there would be a dangerous situation because of the heavy traffic on Washington street.

According to the committee, within the next 10 years 30 classrooms must be added with supporting facilities. The addition of the classrooms and other facilities to the existing facilities would be expensive and still inadequate.

The committee feels that the only feasible method of constructing additional facilities in the center of Town is by closing Main street and placing a building across the street and shifting to a 6 year integrated secondary program. In order for such a building to provide economical operation, it would be necessary to concentrate in this new building facilities used by the whole school such as cafeteria and library. The present Senior High school cafeteria could be converted to shops and the Junior High cafeteria and shops to other uses.

The alternative to this is to build another school in a new location. Excluding land acquisition and development costs, such a building with all necessary facilities and equipment could probably be built at the present time for around $2500 per pupil.

Such a plan offers several advantages: it avoids blocking Main street and adding to further congestion of the town, does not require the constant intermingling of students from 12 to 18 years of age, permits flexibility in future school building, does not require operation of a school so large that administration is difficult and students lose their individuality and the personal attention of the faculty, takes a big step toward providing adequate athletic and recreational areas for secondary schools and the total cost of a new school will be less than the total cost of equivalent facilities on Main street.

JOHN J. ANADORE

SOMERVILLE RESIDENT FATHER OF WINCHESTER PRIEST

John J. Anadore of 18 Grandview avenue, Somerville, father of Rev. Charles E. Anadore of St. Mary's Parish, died suddenly at his home Monday morning, March 17.

Mr. Anadore was born in Naples, Italy, in 1877, coming to this country as a boy and settling in Charlestown where he lived for many years and was well known. A retired book-binder, he was a member of the Holy Name Society and of Bunker Hill Council, 62, Knights of Columbus. He had lived in Somerville for the past five years.

Mr. Anadore's wife, the former Sarah H. McDevitt, died in 1955. Besides his son in Winchester he leaves a daughter, Mrs. George E. Bumstead of Somerville, a son, Francis J. Anadore of Dorchester and five grandchildren.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the Frank H. Carr Funeral Home in Charlestown with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Somerville. Fr. Anadore was celebrant of the mass for his father. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

MORE DAMAGE DONE BY AIR RIFLES

The police received still another complaint on Monday about damage done to property with air rifles. This time the damage consisted of broken windows in a garage.

Police officer Thomas Parsons responded to the complaint of a woman who reported her garage windows broken. Upon arrival at her home, Officer Parsons found that the woman knew who was responsible for the damage.

Two boys were found to have air rifles in their possession and admitted to breaking the windows. Officer Parsons confiscated the guns and the boys were ordered to replace the windows.

HON. EDITH NOURSE ROGERS

TO BE HONORED BY LEGION

The Hon. Edith Nourse Rogers, U. S. Representative from this district, will be honored Tuesday evening, April 8, at the fifth annual Good Government Dinner to be held this year in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton Plaza in Boston.

The dinner is sponsored by Crosscup-Pishon Post 281 of the American Legion and the Advertising Men of Boston. Congresswoman Rogers, "The Number One Friend of the Veteran," is being honored for her "untiring work in the interests of all veterans which began in World War I and continues to the present day."

HIGH SCHOOL BALL TOSSERS MARK TIME

It just hasn't been baseball weather lately and Coach Frank Provinzano and his Winchester High School ball tossers have been marking time waiting for conditions more favorable to outdoor work.

Winchester has some known strength with which to start this year's campaign, and though it is too early to make any predictions it looks like the Indians should have a fair year at least on the diamond.

For pitchers Coach Provinzano has the veteran right hander, Craig Davenport, fresh from a great year with the hockey team.

Backing him are "Vandy" French and Paul Del Rossi, formerly little league lefties with much more poise than the average sophomore.

Joel Peckham, a senior, and Dannie Serieka, a junior, loom as possible catching regulars, with Roger DeMinico, a sophomore, behind them. Serieka may be shifted to shortstop and Peckham may be asked to play the outfield in the event such moves will help.

Ready to play first base are two juniors Bill Morton and Rich Roberts. Both are letter players. "Doug" Thomson, football captain-elect and basketball luminary, is a letter player at second base, backed by Paul Mahoney, a junior. Paul Haggerty, a senior, is a possibility at shortstop with Captain Bob Gray, a senior letter player ready to hold down the hot corner.

Joe Flaherty, football captain last fall, is a letter player in the outfield with Robin Carlson, a junior, likely to fit into a garden berth somewhere.

MRS. JEANETTE McCLELLAN

Mrs. Jeanette M. (Connolly) McClellan of 124 Newland road, Arlington, wife of Charles McClellan, a letter carrier at the Winchester Postoffice, died suddenly at the Symmes Hospital in Arlington Saturday morning, March 15.

Mrs. McClellan was 33 years old and a native of South Boston. Before moving to Arlington two years ago she made her home in Winchester.

Besides her husband she leaves three children, Doreen, Michael and Carol Ann; a sister, Mrs. Mary Mitchell, and a brother, Francis J. Connolly, both of South Boston.

The funeral took place Tuesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with requiem high mass celebrated at St. James Church in Arlington. Burial was in New Calvary Cemetery, Boston.

WINCHESTER GRANGE MEETS

The Winchester Grange met last Tuesday, March 18, at the Masonic Hall. During the evening the First and Second Degrees were conferred on Lee Ellen Manzie and Elizabeth Newell of Winchester and on two candidates from the Melrose Grange.

The regular officers conferred the First Degree and the Second Degree was conferred by the Second Degree Team of the Winchester Grange. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Langley Carleton Keyes of 1 Copley street and Mrs. Katherine Penry Vaughan of 15 Park Drive, Boston.

WINCHESTER PLAYERS ALL-STAR HOCKEY CHOICES

Four of Coach Frank Finigan's hockey sextet were named to the All Star team of the Northeast Conference this past week.

Craig Davenport, Dave Harkins, Dick Scott and Doug Gowdy will play for the Conference in their game Saturday night with the Essex County All Stars. The game will be played at the Lynn Arena at 8 o'clock.

Captain Craig Davenport was further honored by being named wing on the All Star team of the North Shore League.

Davenport, the only returning starter from last year's team proved to be an outstanding captain. His drive and determination were big factors in the team's success this year. He scored 21 goals and had 11 assists for a total of 32 points. He scored at least once in all but four of Winchester's twenty-three games. He was a true leader in every sense of the word.

Dave Harkins, center on the first line, had 9 goals and 10 assists for 19 points. Here was another boy that Coach Finigan had brought along from his sophomore year. Dave's defensive work was outstanding.

Dick Scott started the year at center ice. He was moved back to defense at the middle of the season. From this point on the Winchester offense and defense picked up. Scott's fine play and skating agility kept constant pressure on opposing teams. He had 10 assists and 2 goals. The assists show how important a good defensive pair is to the Winchester offense.

Probably Doug Gowdy will go down as one of Winchester's foremost goalies. His work under pressure in the league playoffs and the state tournament earned him the name of "Mr. Zero." Over the year his average was 1.7 goals per game. In his last seven games, six were shutouts.

WINCHESTER OFFICER ON C. A. P. MISSION

During the past weekend the Medford Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol held a simulated search and rescue mission in the Breakhart Reservation in Saugus, Mass. The goal of the three six man search teams involved was an orange and white parateepee and three simulated casualties hidden in a predetermined section of the reservation, as if their plane had crashed and the wreckage had been spotted by a search plane.

After establishing contact between Mobile radio trucks and the ground team portable radio equipment the three teams moved into the area. Upon reaching this area through map readings and compass observations these teams located the target and gave first aid to the casualties found there. They then made emergency stretchers and evacuated the casualties to the nearest road.

During this time the communications personnel were in continual contact with the vehicles on the road so that a carryall was waiting to pick up the injured immediately. The entire mission from redcap to end took under three hours to accomplish.

First Lt. Thomas Di Milla, Jr., commanded the mission. First Lt. Alvan G. Smith of Winchester was in charge of all communications, Lt. Wayne K. Langville, operations officer, set up the target area and Lt. Edward R. Sullivan commanded the ground search teams.

In all, over twenty-five squadron personnel took part in this mission.

MRS. EDITH R. YEAGER

Mrs. Edith R. Yeager, widow of Louis E. Yeager, formerly of Lexington, died suddenly, of a heart attack, Wednesday, March 19, at the Winchester Hospital. She had undergone surgery at the hospital the preceding Monday.

Mrs. Yeager had lived in Winchester for the past 20 years, and was widely known as receptionist in the office of Dr. Harry Mueller, Dr. Donald McLean, Dr. Harry Benson and Dr. John McLean.

She attended the First Congregational Church, was a member of the Grandmothers Group, a sewing organization; and of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

Mrs. Yeager was the daughter of James F., and Flora A. (Brown) Clark. She was born September 4, 1886, in Boston and spent her early life in that city, attending the Boston schools.

She and Mr. Yeager were married August 13, 1910, and lived in Cambridge and Arlington before moving to Lexington. Mr. Yeager died April 16, 1938. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Edward T. Peabody of Winchester; a son, Louis E. Yeager of Peoria, Ill.; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

HOME FROM GERMANY

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert L. Lowe (Kathryn Murphy) have been in Winchester for the past ten days visiting Mrs. Lowe's father, Mr. John H. Murphy of Mystic avenue.

Col. Lowe, an artillery officer, has just completed a three-year tour of duty in Stuttgart, Germany, and he and Mrs. Lowe, with their son, Robert, and daughter, Martha, stopped off in Winchester on the way to his new assignment at Fort Leavenworth in Kansas. There he will teach in the Army College.

The Lowes liked Germany and found the relations between the German people and the Army personnel very friendly.

Pay Raise Voted. Executive Secretary Denied.

Opening Session Of Town Meeting Held Last Monday Evening

One hundred and eighty-nine of the town's 222 town meeting members managed to dispose of eight of the 50 articles in the current warrant at the opening session of Winchester's Limited-Town Meeting Monday night in the Memorial Auditorium of the high school. Rep. Harrison Chadwick presided as moderator and the invocation was made by the Rev. Wesley Mallery, assistant at the First Congregational Church.

Under the very first article the meeting tackled the supposedly controversial question of accepting the recommendations of the town meeting committee, the members of which had been studying the local town meeting act for the past year in an effort to shorten both the individual sessions and the over-all meetings.

There was little dissent from the recommendations of the committee, which were briefly that (1) the town meetings shall be governed by Robert's Rules of Order, instead of Cushing's Manual, (2) no vote shall be reconsidered except by a two-thirds vote, this being different from the provisions of Robert's Rules; (3) upon a motion to lay on the table, or the previous question, not more than ten minutes shall be allowed for debate, and no person shall speak more than three minutes; (4) if a motion is susceptible of division, is shall be divided and the question put separately from each part if 10 voters so request; (5) no spokesman for any board or committee may speak more than 10 minutes at one time and no other person may speak more than five minutes at one time without a permissive vote from the meeting; (6) the report of the finance committee shall be printed separately from the warrant and distributed separately, but not later than seven days before any town meeting at which its recommendations shall apply.

Mr. Hawkins, chairman of the town meeting committee, spoke for the proposals, explaining them briefly yet in sufficient detail to make them easily understandable. Mr. Broadhurst of the finance committee explained that under the new procedure it would be possible because of additional time for the committee to give more complete explanations of controversial articles and in most instances avoid the necessity of deferring recommendations for lack of information due to the earlier printing deadline.

REV. ROBERT A. STORER

SPEAKS AT UNION LENTEN SERVICE WEDNESDAY

The Rev. Robert A Storer, Minister of the Unitarian Church, will be the speaker at the Union Lenten service at the Second Congregational Church on Wednesday, March 26, at 7:45 p. m. His subject will be "The Little Foxes," based on the third chapter of James. Special music will be provided by the Senior Choir of the host Church.

BARBERSHOP SHOW ADDS LOCAL TALENT

Chairman Al Horn has secured the outstanding local boys' quartet, the "Accents," who include Gardner Gray, Vandy French, Larry O'Keefe, and Larry Capodilupo to appear in the Spring Parade of Barbershop Quartets March 28 at the Winchester High School Auditorium. These promising youngsters loom as the successors to the popular Jibers of the last few years who had their best songs recorded for sale.

The "Home Town Quartet" will be striving to maintain their rating as top contenders for national honors at Columbus, Ohio, in June. Those who enjoyed the show-stopping Pittsburgers two winters ago will find that the "Home Town Quartet has all the range and native talent of their predecessors.

Ticket Chairman Walter Josephson reports that lovers of close harmony" are supporting the show with a mounting demand for tickets. Among those benefiting from the receipts of the show are: the Police Athletic League, the Scholarship Fund, Junior Legion Baseball, the Boys State Program and various veterans hospitals that the legion contributes gifts to periodically and the annual Children's Christmas Party.

Program Chairman Ed Farrell has done an outstanding job securing a representative patrons' and advertisers' list.

RUNAWAY RETURNED HOME

Tuesday afternoon the police noticed a boy wandering on Wildwood street and upon questioning him they found that he had run away from home.

The boy gave his name as Martin Ross, 14 years old, and said he was from Burlington road in Billerica. The boy said he had some trouble at home and was on his way to his grandfather's house in Boston.

Sgt. John Dolan notified the Billerica police and they notified the boy's step-father who came here to pick him up.

HOWARD W. BATES HEADS BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE

Howard W. Bates of 5 Winthrop street, traffic superintendent for the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, was elected chairman of the Board of Public Welfare on March 5.

Maxwell McCreery was chairman of the Board last year. Other members of the Board of Public Welfare are Nellie M. Sullivan, Esther P. Borden, Dr. Gustav G. Kaufmann and Robert B. Kittredge.

PASSION SUNDAY CONCERT TO FEATURE "MESSIAH"

The Lenten portion of "Messiah" an oratorio by George Frederick Handel, will be sung at the First Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, March 23, at four thirty o'clock. The thirty voice Choir to be used at the performance is directed by Mr. Cameron A. Rylance, Organist and Choir Director at the First Baptist Church and will include the members of his Choir and students at the Boston University College of Music.

The portions of the "Messiah" to be heard at this concert are taken from Part Two of the entire work. This section opens with the chorus "Behold the Lamb of God" and concludes with the familiar "'Hallelujah Chorus." The Recitatives and Arias will be sung by Priscilla Jackson MacKay, soprano, C. Ray Brian, tenor, and Dr. Cecil W. Pride, bass, soloists at the First Baptist Church, and Margaret Danford, contralto from Boston University.

Other works to be heard at this concert of Sacred Music will be the Processional Anthem "I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me" by C. H. Parry and the Chorale Number Two in B Minor for organ of Cesar Franck.

This concert is a musical offering to the residents of Winchester as part of their Lenten observance and is open to the public.

FIRES

Tuesday, March 18, Mrs. Donald S. Abbott of 1 Forest circle notified the fire department that there was a tree burning near her home. Firefighters found a defective power wire on fire which had caused part of the tree trunk to start burning. The Edison Company was notified and the firefighters directed traffic around the tree until the blaze was under control and the wire repaired.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

At 6 o'clock on Easter Sunday morning, as in previous years, there will be held a Sunrise Service at the Winchester Country Club. This very impressive service is sponsored by the youth organizations of the Winchester churches.

In the past there has been excellent attendance but we hope this year that everyone, young and old, will attend. See you there!

Coming Events

March 24, Monday, at 1:30 p. m. The History Group will meet at the home of Miss Katherine W. Masters, 7 Lewis road.

March 24, Monday, 2:00 p. m. Meeting of Winchester Auxiliary of M.S.P.C.A. at the home of Mrs. George Reed, 8 Ridgefield road. Speaker: (previously snowed out) Mrs. Howard Wittet on "The School the Ponies Built."

March 24, Monday, 2:00 p. m. The Fortnightly in First Baptist Church Social Hall. Program: Marion T. Rudkin, "The Best of the Latest Books."

March 26, Wednesday, 8:00 p. m. Science Study Group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Morris, 20 Ginn road. Speaker: Mrs. Philip Parsons, "The Mighty Mite."

Junior League

All Junior games on March 4 were cancelled because of the Winchester - South Boston Tech Tourney Game.

February 25: Boston College clinched at least a tie for the Junior league championship by overwhelming Holy Cross 52-38. Princeton moved into a second place tie with Holy Cross by defeating Dartmouth 54-33. Harvard romped over Yale 54-34, Yale, being short one man having to borrow Ron Lynch from Holy Cross. Jim Nolan, returning after a long absence due to a leg injury and scored 10 points for Yale.

Paul Mulloy with 219 points for a fantastic 24.4 average leads the Junior league in scoring. Mike Bellino's 205 points for an 18.6 average is second.

Junior star of the week: B.C.'s Jackie Brenner. Brenner with 14 points led his team to a victory over Holy Cross clinched a tie for the Junior championship. Brenner scored 5 straight points in the second period to break the game wide open.

Senior League

February 26: The old flu bug was still causing trouble in the Senior League as the Royals were forced to forfeit to the Lakers. This game will be made up if possible but it goes into the books as a Laker victory at the present time.

The Eagles led by Dan Serieka's 30 points defeated the Pistons 66 to 60. The first place Celtics barely edged the Hawks, 45-43. This game was nip-and-tuck all the way with neither team able to get more than a 5 point lead at any time.

Senior star: Bill Rogers of the Hawks. Rogers, the scoring champ of the Junior League last year, kept his team right on the heels of the undefeated Celtics with 18 big points.

March 5: the Celtics were finally conquered. Paul McDonald's Eagles upset the front runners 52-46. Dan Serieka set a new record by scoring 27 points in the second half. Serieka had a total of 37 points for the night. Serieka took over. He ran seven straight points in the closing minutes to give his team a four point lead.

The Pistons, led by big Dave Littleton's 25 points breezed by the Royals 54-43. The improved Lakers defeated the Hawks 53-49.

Senior star: without a question, Dan Serieka of the Eagles. Dan took complete charge of the game and led his team to an upset victory over the previously undefeated Celtics.

Dan Serieka's two week total of 67 points catapulted him back into the senior scoring lead. He now has a total of 196 points for a 21-8 average. Phil Fox of the Celtics slipped to second place with 178 points for a 17.8 average.

Coaches' Corner: "Mitsie" Mawn has been made Honoray Coach of B.C.

Ben Hardy, coach of the Celtics is beaming over the success of his team.

Paul McDonald is still scratching his head wondering how Bob Innis, of the Lakers stole "Slater" Martin right from under his nose. McDonald claims that Martin could have given his Eagles the championship. McDonald was one of the great basketball stars at Malden Catholics in '51-'52 and '53-'54. His young brother Archie was one of the top scorers for the Malden Catholic Tech Tourney team this year. Ed. Note: Why don't you get brother Arch to play?

Holy Cross Coach Tony Juliano is still up in the clouds after the birth of sister number two at the Winchester Hospital on Thursday.

KNIGHTS COMMUNION BREAKFAST SUNDAY

On this Sunday, March 23, all brothers will meet at the United Motors parking lot on Cross street. There, together with a delegation of police and firemen, the men will march in a body to the Immaculate Conception Church where the annual communion breakfast will be held. Rev. Stephen Burke, Council Chaplain will be the celebrant of the 8:30 mass.

After mass, breakfast will be held in the Church Hall with Mr. Thomas J. McArdle as the guest speaker. Mr. McArdle is well known for his activity with the Massachusetts Crime Commission, his talk will be based on experiences he has had in his work.

The chairman of the ticket committee requests that all those who have not yet purchased tickets please do so in order that the caterer may be notified as to how many plan to attend.

WIN LETTERS AT BELMONT HILL SCHOOL

Ronald J. Burke and James E. Downes, both of Emerson road, won varsity letters in hockey at the Belmont Hill School this past season. The team on which they played was undefeated in its regular schedule and won the Private School League championship for the eighth year in succession. Both Burke and Downes were on the successful Belmont Hill football team last fall.

Robert M. Watkins of Swan road won his letter in varsity wrestling. He competed in the 137 pound class where he compiled an outstanding record and ended the season by winning second place in his class in the Interscholastic Tournament held in Needham earlier this month.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

Following the information given in the March 14th issue of the Star, new candidates for teams who have not already returned their application form and are to try-out this season, should do so at once.

These forms can be obtained at both Junior and Senior High School offices, Chitel's Men's Shop, Purtle Pharmacy or Winchester Sport Shop. Return to the stores mentioned, (not the High Schools) or mail direct to Winchester Babe Ruth League, P.O. Box No. 126, Winchester.

Applications of all candidates, including present Babe Ruth members must be in before the try-outs.

DEFENSE MEN'S CLUB SUBJECT

The Continental Defense of the United States will be the subject of a talk to be given at the next meeting of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church on Tuesday, March 25. This timely program will be presented by Mr. Arthur P. Hill of the Lincoln Research Laboratories. Mr. Hill will explain to the Club the organization of this system which is known as the Sage System of Defense. After his introductory talk, Mr. Hill will show sound motion pictures of the work of the Lincoln Laboratories in our national defense. Because the defense of our country is so important to our very existence, this program will be a most enlightning one and one which will certainly be of great interest to all the members and friends of the Club. A catered dinner will be served in Chidley Hall at 6:30 and reservations can be made with Mr. Joseph Hall at WInchester 6-1211.

At the short business meeting which will precede the evening's program, president Carl Wood will announce plans for the annual Communion Breakfast to be held this year on Palm Sunday, March 30. A communion service will be held in Ripley Chapel at 8:00 a. m. to be followed by breakfast in Chidley Hall.

Mr. Alfred J. Higgins will tell the Club of the plans that are being made to complete the Pond Shore Project which was started last year. He hopes to have the program in full swing by April 1 and is asking for volunteers to help on this very worthwhile activity. If any man is interested and willing, he is asked to call Mr. Higgins at WInchester 6-2202.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Tension is the word that exists as the finish line comes into sight. Using all the cunning and stamina that leaders could possibly possess the captains of B.C. and St. Mary's are trying to close the gap. Each of the top three teams came up with a 3-1 score to maintain their past weeks position.

The next two weeks drama in all its color will enfold as St. Mary's team will meet B.C. and Holy Cross. Will St. Mary upset the applecart?

St. Mary's is putting on the greatest kind of a single combined effort going into the closing stretch, and once again came up with the high team pinfall. Every move, every play is closely scrutinized to salvage the greatest amount of team benefit by mighty mouse Tony Saraco.

You really can't take it away from him for he is a master of the alleys as we all know him. He is without a doubt one of the highest bowlers over the years that our club has come up with.

As one of his players told me in confidence he gives more orders than I ever received in the entire second World War and Korea combined. His squadron includes Phil Adagno, Sam Corbi, Al Di Minico, Peter Gilberti and Ben Gilotti.

Going over the records of the previous years we find that this year is our greatest year in top notch bowling. Never did we have four bowlers whose average was better than 100 in one given year.

The records also show that we've had more bowlers that have bowled over 300 than any other year, and the over-all average is also in the same category.

We had six bowlers over 300 this week and leading the field with 324 is the man to watch (a rookie this year), is the "Charlie Paddock Kid" whose susceptibility to darkness and strange noises is a well known fact, Father of troop 1 in a scout master capacity, laughing boy himself, Bob "Skitchy" Fiore, who stated quote, "Me licka the bunch next year!"

Others in the 300 class were Bob Tofuri, 320; Tony Saraco, 309; A. P. Tofuri, 306; Joe Ciarcia, 305; and Richard Giacalone, 303.

Leroy Penta of B.C. copped the hi single with 115, he has been a main stay for his team this second half. The runner-up, also a rookie, was Pete Gilberti with 114.

There is one thing about our organization, of which we are very proud, and that is our versatility in athletics regardless of our ages.

We naturally have our club Doctor and nurse all rolled up in one neat individual; namely, "Curly Locks Chic," who is like an automatic dispenser of pills for our individual ailments, of which he is a master!

Our new venerable is very sports minded and does things in a very big way; in fact he's in everyone's way from a big standpoint. We have a lot of fun and a lot of laughs but when we play we play for keeps when it comes to snorts.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

Michael D. Saraco a great big man,
They call him the zeppelin and he's always on the pan;
A good natured guy, Michael D. is really that,
We wonder by the shape of him,
How he finds his size in hats;
S.O.I. Venerable, Town Finance Committee too,
President of a Salvage Company, there's nothing he can't do;
Former scoutmaster was our man Michael D.,
And now captain of the scouts of the sea!

We close this column, but with one thought in mind; first, there are only 3 weeks left to play and second, that the banquet that is being planned will be talked about for some time to come!

The award this week went to the amiable character and all around good Joe, Frank, manager of Strike Lanes where we bowl.

MUCH ADO ABOUT MEN

By Jack Chitel

I'm no physician, and I hope the American Medical Association doesn't clamp down on me, but I would like to prescribe a spring tonic for men.

You don't drink the spring tonic I have in mind—you wear it. It comes in the form of wearing a new spring sport coat.

Please don't call me "Doctor," but these springtime sport coat nifties will put a sparkle in any man's eye and help him cast off winter's mantle of gloom.

Sport coats in a variety of tweed and Shetland fabrics still are the hallmark of good dress among men who take pride in how they look, either in the business world or in life's social whirl.

In recent seasons, they have been artfully slimmed down to conform with the general trim-look silhouette in suits and accessories. And sport coats have balanced construction without all that bulky weight of yesteryear.

About half way down the torso we come to the most necessary item of slacks. These companions to the sport coat are being featured in hard-finished worsted flannel of various tones of grey and brown in pleated or plain-front models.

But, in the spring, men should also be ready for changeable weather conditions. If rain threatens when a man leaves home for the office, he would do well to wear an all-weather coat that doubles in brass as a protection against the rain, and as a smart-looking coat even when the sun is shining.

These practical garments are made of finely woven all-wool gabardine, treated for water repellency, or can be of the new, fast-drying dacron fiber in combination with cotton, which also sheds water.

WIN BELMONT HILL HONORS

Seven Winchester boys at the Belmont Hill School were on the Winter Term Honor List.

Achieving this distinction were: Richard W. Birnie of Myopia Hill road, Christopher Beal of Copley street, Ronald J. Burke and James E. Downes of Emerson road, Gerard R. Patrick of Ledgewood road, Robert F. Stewart of Foxcroft road and David G. Wallace of Dartmouth street. Downes and Burke also members of the school's hockey team which won the Private School League Title.

LYNN CLASSICAL PUPILS VISIT WINCHESTER

Yesterday, March 20, Winchester High School was host to five students from Lynn Classical High School as a part of the Student Exchange Program which now includes 118 schools in Massachusetts.

The Lynn students spent a busy day touring the town, the schools, being guests at a Rotary Club Luncheon, and attending a town meeting to learn the functions of town government.

The following high school students worked on the program for the student exchange day. Kit Committee, Donald Seaver, chairman. The sub-committees: schools, Allan McLatchy; churches, Pat Hall; development, Martha Fish; prominent people, Carolyn and Gail Hutchings; clubs, Dan Hede; town government, Charles O'Connor; Winchester's part in state and national government, Henning Kohler; town meeting, Jean Elliott; art, Steve Enright and Jean Elliott; photography, Arthur Cabot and Richard Niles; purchasing agent, Bill Morton and Ronald MacArthur; tape recordings, Sally Kimball and Bob Minotti.

Program Committee: Dana Starkweather, chairman. Sub-committee: supper committee, Gloria Craft; program for the day, Larry Longworth; class committee, Sue Simpson; secretaries, Jean Erghott and Pepita Avendano.

Transportation: Allan McLatchy, chairman. Sub-committee: Gary Gamage, Bill Morton, Ron MacArthur and Tony Laban.

Publicity: Linda Harris, chairman. Sub-committee, Joan Goodwin, articles; Angela d'Elseaux, room decorations; Bob Minotti, Gordon Peil; and Gary Gamage, tape recordings.

Contact Committee: Carolyn Hutchings, chairman. Sub-committee: Gloria Craft, Dan Hede and Henning Kohler.

On April 8, Sally Kimball, Linda Harris, Donald Seaver, Dana Starkweather and Larry Longworth will go to Lynn Classical as a part of the exchange program.

James A. Robertson, '58, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Robertson of 21 Fairmount street, was a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon debating team that participated in a debate with Delta Sigma in the finals of the Wilmot Brookings Mitchell interfraternity debating competition at Bowdoin College on Wednesday of this week. Robertson, a graduate of Winchester High School, is president of D.K.E. for the spring term.

EDITORIALS

There are two phases of our town meetings that need attention and neither fell within the orbit of the committee that studied the streamlining of meetings during the past year.

Some sort of check on the attendance of town meeting members within the meeting should be devised if possible. Altogether too many delegates are leaving at the intermission, whenever it chances to be, and others drift out from time to time until the empty seats within the charmed circle become pretty apparent.

It is just as important to have a representative vote on articles considered late in a meeting as it is to have everyone pass on the first articles to come up. The meetings are late, and often tiresome, but no one is drafted to serve as town meeting member, and those who do not want to remain through meetings should not offer themselves for election as precinct delegates.

Another matter of equal importance that needs attention is the voice votes of non-members seated in the rear of the hall. When a polled vote has a difference of some 40, after a voice vote close enough to cause doubt in the mind of the moderator, it is pretty apparent that more than the precinct delegates are getting in on the ayes and noes! Either that or some of those who raised their voices one way didn't care to raise their bodies on the same side of the question when a public vote was called for.

The whole matter of voting is something that might well be considered. There are those who have long believed that secret ballots should be used on the really controversial questions, such as those involving large appropriations or matters on which feelings are known to run high.

It may or may not be significant that in Winthrop, where the question of a raise to police and firemen was decided by secret ballot, the proposed raise was defeated. We do not say that a secret ballot would have killed any pay raise for town employees; nor do we say it should have. We do, however, wonder how the finance committee's four percent amendment would have fared if no one knew how the delegates voted.

Incidentally, it just happened that reports of Monday's town meetings in Arlington, Winchester and Winthrop appeared side by side in one of the Boston papers. In Arlington the meeting defeated the finance committee's recommendation for a three percent pay raise, supporting the personnel board's request for four percent.

In Winchester the meeting took a similar action, but was more generous, raising the pay increase from four to six percent. In Winthrop, where the voting was in secret, there was no raise at all.

Older residents of the town will watch with interest the attempt to change the name of McCall road to Myopia Hill road. "Sam" McCall, for whom the road is named, comes pretty near to having been Winchester's most prominent resident, with his years of service in the United States Congress and his record as a war-time governor of Massachusetts.

It would seem there should be some rather strong reason for removing his name from the private way located so near his late home on Myopia Hill. From the strictly local angle there is a lot more Winchester sentiment for McCall than for Myopia, which dates back to the days when the Myopia Hunt Club was located in Winchester and chose its name because a number of its members wore glasses.

So many have asked just what the delegates actually voted under Article 5, the personnel board article, at Monday's town meeting that the Star has tried to get some of the answers.

While we do not guarantee the complete accuracy of our statement, it seems to us that in accepting the recommendations of the personnel board the meeting voted to set certain minimum wage rates, for town employees and certain step-rate increases. It voted to set only one new maximum wage rate, that being for the town accountant.

It also voted to put back under the town wage scale the employees of the board of public welfare, who had from choice been under the state wage scale, and authorized certain minor changes in the area of recreation and cafeteria workers. It also authorized extending to police and firemen the same holiday privileges enjoyed by other town employees.

Just what the new minimum rates are, what changes in step rates were provided or what changes in wages may have resulted from the vote of the town meeting we do not know. The memorandum covering these matters totaled to seven pages of figures and appendices, didn't it? The moderator believed it wasn't necessary to read these statistics, and Mr. Hewis, who admitted that he knew what they were, was the only one who publicly, at least, thought he ought to! How many of the other town meeting members knew what they were is conjectural. The information was available to them before the meeting but from the way they acted it didn't appear that many had digested it.

Governor Furcolo has designated the week of March 23-28 as "Know Your Bank Week." Winchester folks who have lived in town for any length of time need no admonition to get acquainted with the four banks that serve the community. They have long known them and the freiendly service they give. To you newcomers in Winchester, why not use the Governor's Bank Week message as a reminder to make that trip to a town bank you have been planning for so long. They will be glad to see you at whatever bank you choose to visit, and we predict you will be pleased and, perhaps surprised, at the number of services our community banks are equipped to render you.

KEEPS UP WITH HOME TOWN NEWS

Editor of the Star:

Sir, I wish to take this opportunity to thank you, and the staff of the Star for making it possible for me to keep up with the latest events which happen in my beloved "home town."

Being here in Alaska—some six to seven thousand miles away, it is very difficult to keep up with the latest news. Even though my father (Mr. Angelo Tranfaglia of 58 Swanton street) writes quite frequently, it is very difficult for him to come anywhere close to the complete coverage of news which the Star provides.

I also wish to inform you that I have been promoted to the rank of (A/1c) Airman first class. If you please, would you change this on my mailing address, also the outfit has been changed to 5040th Installation Group.

Again I wish to thank you.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING!

Editor of the Star:

The recent letter from the Advisory Committee on Adult Education concerning Article 23 proposing State Aid to adult education certainly deserves some further thought, not because of the financial implications, but because of the specious arguments used in supporting their position.

These arguments smack loudly of the Something-for-Nothing Club founded a couple of decades ago whose charter says, in part, "When private efforts fail, or fall short, call for a subsidy. In fact, call for one anyway. We get that for nothing."

The Committee reasons that, while one term now costs the students and the Town $5.00 each, State subsidy will bring the cost down to $2.00 and $4.00 respectively. Thus, a windfall of $4.00 which through some economic legerdemain, is translated by the Committee into the means by which Winchester ". . . could get back from the State a larger share of the money paid in income taxes."

Apparently the thought is that the State doesn't get this money from anywhere really, but simply creates it out of thin air and mails us a check. This is not a new theory, of course, but most people today realize that what they get from local, State, or Federal governments they either have, are or will pay for.

Now of course we're talking about peanuts so far as money is concerned, but we're also talking about a principle which goes much further. Why do we have to ask the State to subsidize what amounts to organized hobbying? This program is avocational, not vocational, and I don't quite understand why the State should financially help me learn how to re-upholster chairs just because I think it looks like fun and happen to have a chair at home that needs it.

Can't we leave the Government out of it for once—even the Town Government? If a person is fired-up enough to lay down $5.00 a term to learn how to paint, or speak conversational French, wouldn't he go along with $9.80, thus sparing both Town and State from any expense whatsoever?

Not only is the Committee factually wrong in implying that this won't cost us anything, but it is also morally wrong in seeking a subsidy for a desirable but unnecessary activity.

Let's have public funds used for facilities the public really needs and let the individual pay—not be paid—the full cost of indulging his personal, extracurricular interests.

Yours very truly,
Earle F. Spencer, Jr.

FAVORS CAMPUS SCHOOL

Editor of the Star:

Winchester needs more class rooms for the Junior and Senior High Schools. The Campus plan will provide their requirements at the least cost.

We have the land between the present Junior and Senior buildings.

We have adequate auditorium space in the two present buildings.

We have adequate boiler capacity to heat a new building.

We have adequate kitchen equipment for an expanded school.

The cafeteria seating can be expanded by relocating the industrial arts department.

The Senior High gym is adequate, the Junior High gym can be expanded.

Washington street should be widened. The cost would be about $30,000.

With an archway in the center of the new building you could leave all the public services where they are.

The Campus plan would provide more parking area.

The Campus plan would eliminate the traffic hazard on Main street.

No one can tell the amount of population we will have in ten years, so we should buy land for a new Junior High School and use the entire center building for the Senior High.

I have been a member of the Junior and Senior High School building program for the past seven years and this seems to me to be the best plan at the lowest cost.

Why should we spend another $2,600,000 when all we need are more class rooms.

THE WORLD IS GETTING WARMER, CHANGING NATURE AND MAN'S LIFE

Over the last 40 or 50 years the earth has been getting warmer, the National Geographic Society reports.

The change is gradual and there have been short-term reverses, but science has proved grandfather correct: Today's winters are not as cold as those he knew as a boy.

Warmer weather has both advantages and disadvantages.

A New Yorker who awakes to the liquid cadences of the mocking-bird, once the avian symbol of the south, or the Canadian wheat grower who finds farming possible 50 miles north of the former limit may be delighted.

Hurts Clammers, Skiers

A different view may be taken by a New England waterman who finds tropical green crabs threatening his clam beds, or the skier who is forced to go farther and higher to find snow.

All forms of wildlife have been affected. Turkey vultures soar in western Massachusetts, where they were not seen 15 years ago. White egrets stalk the Middle Atlantic marshes. In South Dakota and Minnesota, the cardinal flashes at ever more northerly points.

Reports indicate that the moose and the polar bear, as well as the common opossum, are finding haunts well north of their former ranges.

Ocean dwellers are changing their feeding grounds. Warm-water fish have been moving up the California coast. Dolphin were taken last year as far north as Oregon.

Weather patterns have been disrupped. Last year, for the first time in history, a hurricane struck Hawaii. At Point Barrow, the northern-most part of Alaska, the ice went out earlier in 1957 than ever before.

Changes have also taken place on the Atlantic. The life of the Greenland Eskimo has been revolutionized. When seals were plentiful, the Eskimos were self-sufficient. Seals provided meat, skins for clothing and shelter, and oil for lamps.

When warmer weather drove the seals north, the economy was wrecked. But codfish moved north, too, and became plentiful near Greenland. The Eskimos turned to fishing, which offered income, but not all the uses of the seals. They were forced to convert to a money-based economy.

Ice Melts, Oceans Rise

As the world's icecaps melt and glaciers become smaller, more water is released to the oceans. The sea level has been rising an eighth of an inch a year. If it continues, some coastal cities eventually may have to build dikes.

Climatologists differ on the cause of the warming. Some see the change as part of the Ice Age cycle, with the ice retreating as it has several times before.

Possibly, climatologists hold, gradual clearing from the atmosphere of the dust thrown up by huge volcanic eruptions of the past, such as Krakatau (1883) and Katmai (1912), has allowed more of the sun's heat to strike the earth. Other theories tie the change to sunspot cycles, or to an increase in carbon dioxide in the air caused by man's burning of fuels.

Will the trend continue? Again there is dispute. Some scientists forecast a century of warmer weather. Others, noting increases in the size of certain glaciers, believe the cycle may have reached its warmest point, and is about to reverse itself.

SARAWAK'S COLORFUL HISTORY PUSHED BACK 40,000 YEARS

The colorful history of Sarawak has been pushed back 40,000 years into the Stone Age.

Recent discovery of prehistoric graves in a vast cave has brought new evidence of early human life in the steamy, equatorial British Colony. Some of the human remains were colored a bright red. Also found were thousands of primitive tools and ornaments made and used by these early people.

Sarawak faces the South China Sea along the northwest coast of the island of Borneo, the National Geographic Society says. It has had a romantic reputation as the fief of the White Rajas, the home of the orangutan, and the dwelling place of the "wild men of Borneo."

Far from wild, the Sea Dyaks or Ibans are a gentle, friendly people. They live in their ancestral way along the rivers that provide most of Sarawak's communication.

One House Village

Each settlement is a single longhouse set on stilts, with separate rooms for each family along one side. A communal space runs the length of the building on the other side like a village street. As many as 60 families may occupy one longhouse.

Before the practice was stamped out by the English rulers, known as White Rajas, the Dyaks were head-hunters. Skulls of long-deceased enemies ornament their dwellings to this day. If the trophies clearly date from the time before the custom became illegal, the tribesmen can keep them.

There was one exception to the rule. When the Japanese occupied Sarawak during World War II, the Dyaks revived head-hunting. Skulls of unlucky Japanese soldiers are prized relics today.

Totaling about 213,000, the Sea Dyaks are the largest group in the varied population of Sarawak. Second is the Chinese community of 167,000, most of whom are shopkeepers or farmers. There are also some 95,000 Malays and small numbers of Land Dyaks and other tribesmen.

Rubber, rice, and pepper are the chief crops.

Under the White Rajas

The century-long benevolent rule of the White Rajas began in 1841. James Brooke came to the country from England to explore and study the people. At the request of the Sultan of Brunei, who then ruled the area, he helped make peace with the populace, which had risen against the Sultan's Viceroy. The Sultan installed Brooke as Raja of part of the territory that is now Sarawak.

Calling a halt to head-hunting raids, but taking pains to allow the people to live in their own way without warfare, James Brooke and his successors ran Sarawak like a well-managed private estate. Their territory was enlarged to its present 47,000 square miles by the purchase of adjoining land from what is now Brunei.

After World War II wrecked the Sarawak economy, the incumbent Raja, Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, lacked resources to restore it to its previous prosperity. He turned it over to Britain as a Crown Colony in 1946.

Since then, education, communication, and health have been improved. Constitutional changes are being proposed with the view of bringing independence eventually to this tropical land.

CRITTENTON FASHION SHOW

The Florence Crittenton Fashion Show was indeed a gala affair to welcome spring on its way: action, camera, lights, and the show was on to a capacity house. The clothes were all stunning and the models so attractive as they tripped down the ramp before an enthusiastic audience.

Mrs. Robert Wood Reynolds, the chairman of the fashion show, wishes to extend her appreciation to those who made this affair such a success.

The Winchester stores participating were: Loralane, Town and Country, Peck & Peck, Tilley's, Chitel's, David's and the Sport Shop. From Boston were Croston and Carr and the Brides' Shop. Mrs. Norton Kidder made a glamorous and interesting commentator, Mr. Alan Smith and his music a pleasant background for a glamorous show.

The twenty-five models, girls, ladies and men, were competent and charming; and a particular vote of thanks goes to the men.

The models included the Mmes.

Some very coveted prizes were given by our local merchants: David's, Winchester Appliance, the lemmens, Trudy's Antique Shop, Converse Market, Pampered Pets, and Myron Berlow. Others assisting were the Winchester Conservatory and Mr. Snow of Renton's Market. The out-of-this world coffee which was served durintermission, was by Leon of course.

Members of the Parish Players also helped in many ways as did Judy's Hairstyles and Cerena's Tawney Salon.

Mrs. Reynolds again wishes to thank the competent committee members who were responsible for the event's success.

They are:

Production — Mrs. Hoyt Hottel, Mrs. Edmund Wright

Publicity—Mrs. Walter Abbott

Tickets—Mrs. Henry Marcionette, Mrs. Philip Boone

Decorations — Mrs. Courtney Crandall, Mrs. Wendell Irving

Coffee — Mrs. Henry Dellicker, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery

Prizes—Mrs. Allan Kingston

Make-Up — Mrs. Robert Ingraham, Mrs. Priscilla Kidder

WINCHESTER SALE FOR THE BLIND

The 1958 Winchester Sale for the Blind will be held Thursday, April 10, at the Unitarian Church from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Approximately twenty-five local organizations will participate by providing volunteer saleswomen for the wide variety of articles made at home by the blind of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Articles on sale will include ironing board covers, broom bags, clothespin bags, laundry bags, denim shopping bags in two sizes, colored dusters, a large selection of oven cloths and holders, several types of dishcloths and imported linen dish towels. Among the homemade apparel will be many styles of bibs, practical and pretty aprons for all sizes, plus knitted and crocheted articles. There will be toys such as dolls, beanbags and drums. Shoppers will also find copperware, leathergoods, woodwork, books by blind poets, and the popular handwoven baskets, mops, and many sized brooms. All the merchandise is attractive and well made as well as being useful and modestly priced.

The sale program for the blind is supervised by Mrs. Merrill A. V. Maynard, director of sales for the Massachusetts Division of the Blind, Department of Education. Mrs. Maynard herself is blind. She has explained the purpose of the sale program is to create a market for the articles made at home by blind people. The money received from the sale of each article is returned directly to the person who made it, thus enabling him to earn money and to have incentive to keep busy.

The women working with Mrs. Maynard and serving on the committee for the coming sale are Mrs. Warren D. Haley, chairman; Mrs. Margaret Harrigan, Mrs. John Harrison, Mrs. William B. Harvey, Jr., Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, Jr., Mrs. Charles Reeves, Mrs. Arthur Schmidt and Mrs. Ernest Weil.

MYSTIC SCHOOL TEACHERS' LUNCHEON

On Thursday, February 27, the second teachers' luncheon of the year was given at the home of Mrs. Malcolm S. Burr, 15 Grove street.

Mr. Joseph C. Forte, principal of Mystic School, Mrs. Maude Dover, secretary, Mrs. Richard Sawyer, president of the Mystic Mothers' Association, Mrs. Paul W. Nelson, chairman of teachers' luncheons and the teachers of the Mystic School were present.

Assisting Mrs. Burr serve a delicious luncheon were Mrs. Richard C. Chase, Mrs. John H. Lyman and Mrs. H. K. Porter.

SEVERAL REPORTS OF BB DAMAGE

The police have received recently a number of reports of damage caused by BB guns. This damage occurred in several parts of the town and is not the first reported this year.

The police checked on a car window which had been hit by two BB shots and the window was broken. There were also three additional reports of damage. A 4 x 4 picture window was broken on Wildwood street and three large translucent windows at the Parkhurst school were broken.

KIMBALL REPORT

SUMMARY OF WINCHESTER SECONDARY SCHOOL POPULATION

In the years between 1952 and 1957 the number of students in the Winchester Junior and Senior High Schools increased from 1138 to 1577. During the next ten years this enrollment will almost certainly rise to 1955, and may reach 2366. By 1982, 25 years from now, it will be between 2176 and 3075. The ultimate population of these schools will be between 2366 and 3454.

Two factors have been responsible for this growth, and can be expected to cause the growth to continue. One is building construction. In 1950 there were in Winchester 4214 dwelling units. Since then 879 new dwelling units have been added.

Mr. Allen Benjamin, in his report to the Winchester Planning Board, has made a careful survey of the room left in Winchester for housing construction, and has concluded that the number of dwelling units will eventually reach at least 6805, and may go as high as 8040.

How rapidly these houses will be constructed depends on economic conditions, but looking ahead 25 years or more there is little doubt that the minimum will be reached. Each new dwelling unit brings with it a new family and with the families come school children.

In addition to this reason for growth there is another. At the present time the average Winchester family has 1.27 children. The families moving into the new houses, those built since 1950, are larger. They average 1.45 children per family.

But this is not all. Since 1950, 1122 dwelling units have changed hands. The families which have moved into these dwelling units are still larger. They average 1.82 children per famliy. It would seem that the families moving to Winchester are larger than those they replace.

If this trend continues, the number of children in Winchester will grow more rapidly than the number of families. The number of children per family could grow from the present 1.27 to as many as 2.0. If this should happen, the school population would increase by nearly 60%, even if no new housing were built in the town.

At the other extreme, let us suppose that as housing changes hands in the future, the new families which move in are smaller. It would be unreasonable to assume that these would have fewer than the present average of 1.27 children per family. In that case the large families already in town would cause a temporary rise in the average number of children per family, which would be followed by a gradual decline.

The calculations quoted at the beginning of this summary are shown in Tables 1 and 2. In Table 1 a maximum estimate is made by assuming that new housing is built at a rate which at first is the same as that for the past five years, and then tapers off to the maximum estimate made by Mr. Benjamin. It is also assumed that the new families moving into Winchester are of the type which has moved in during the past five years.

In Table 2 a minimum estimate is made by taking a minimum building rate (less than half the rate for the past five years), together with the assumption that the new families coming into Winchester are as small as the present average.

In both cases, it is assumed that the same fraction of the children will attend secondary school as at present.

GAS DIVISION NAMES KENNEDY

Harold L. Dalbeck, president of New England Electric's Gas Division, announced the promotion today of Edward F. Kennedy to Assistant to the President with headquarters in Malden.

A native of West Bolyston, Mass., Mr. Kennedy attended schools in that town, Holden and Ware and was graduated from Worcester Polytechnic Institute in 1924. He joined New England Electric System as a training student in Malden. Later Mr. Kennedy worked in the Gas Production Department and was a laboratory supervisor and production engineer before becoming assistant general superintendent of gas operation at Malden in 1937.

Following naval service in World War II as a Lieutenant Commander he returned to the Malden companies of New England Electric in April 1949 as assistant manager. In 1952 he was named general superintendent of production for the entire Gas Division of New England Electric. He held this position until his recent promotion to Assistant to the President. The Gas Division of New England Electric includes Central Massachusetts Gas Company, Lawrence Gas Company, Mystic Valley Gas Company, Northampton Gas Light Company, North Shore Gas Company, Norwood Gas Company and Wachusett Gas Company.

Mr. Kennedy and his wife Doris make their home at 38 Andover road in Melrose.

WINCHESTER LIONS SPONSOR SAFETY DRIVE

Richard Ingersoll of the Winchester Trust Company has been named highway safety chairman for the Winchester Lions Club, it was announced last week by Robert I. Shohet, president of the club.

"The activities of the club will be co-ordinated with a state-wide program of highway safety education conducted by the Massachusetts Lions Highway Safety Committee," he said.

The Masssachusetts group will in turn work in conjunction with similar programs conducted by the Lions Clubs of all the bordering New England states.

The Massachusetts Lions Highway Safety Committee is presently receiving safe driving slogans from the more than 8000 Lions in the state, in a contest for Lions Club members. In the meantime all clubs will dedicate one meeting to the cause of safe driving.

A new and different contest of interest to the students at Winchester High School will be announced in the near future. Prizes will be offered to the winners of both contests.

The climax of the campaign will occur on April 27, which will be known as "Lions Safety Day."

WINCHESTER BOYS ELECTED

Two Winchester students have been elected as vice-presidents for their respective classes at Wentworth Institute, Boston.

Albert J. Rotondi of 224 Forest street, is vice-president of his class in Civil and Highway Engineering Technology. David Howard of 10 Lawson road was elected vice-president of his class in Electrical Engineering Technology.

Wentworth Institute prepares young men for careers as industrial and engineering technicians.

SIMMONS CLUB

The Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club held its March meeting in Arlington at the Robbins Library on Thursday evening, March 6.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Richard Schober, president. After the secretary's and treasurer's reports, given by Mildred Gallagher and Elizabeth Russell, Mrs. Raymond Yeaton reported on the Club's April project —a theater night with the Parish Players of Winchester. Tickets will be available the beginning of April and the performance will be Thursday, April 24. Mrs. R. C. Strong, Jr., reported on the ticket sale for Simmons Night at Pops which will be Wednesday, May 21.

The Club voted to have the annual banquet on Wednesday, June 4, at 6:30 at the 1775 House in Lexington. Mrs. Alexander J. Fay of Winchester, chairman of the banquet committee, announced that Dr. Ralph E. Bayes of Cambridge will be guest speaker at the banquet and will speak on a trip around the world

After the business meeting, Hilda Hope, program chairman, introduced Mrs Eleanor Coy of the Medford Public Library who reviewed some of the current and choice books available at the Library. Included among the books she reviewed and recommended are: "Atlas Shrugged" by A. Rand, "The Old Man and the Boy" by R. Ruak, "To Live Again" by C. Marshall, "Maggie—Now" by B. Smith, "Into the Wind," by M. Van Nes, "The Sibyl" by P. Lagerkvist, "Thomasina" by P. Gallico, "The Treasured One" by R. Knight, "Till I End My Song" by R. Gibbings.

Among the Winchester members present were Mrs. K. F. Cleaves, Mrs. B. M. Anderson, Hilda Hope, Mrs. Bernice Ladd, Mrs. Paul Lafson, Mrs. J. Loftus, Jr., Connie Procopio, Elizabeth Russell, Mrs. W. B. Skerry.

Todd Wallis, a former well known Winchester boy and graduate of Winchester High School in the class of 1952, has done all the illustrations for the new book, "Measurement in Physical Education" by Donald K. Mathews, D.P.Ed., associate professor and director of research in Physical Education at State College in Pullman, Washington.

Wallis, who is married to the former Janet Easton of this town, is now with the Army Public Information Service at Karlsruhe, Germany. He attended the University of Maine and the Museum School of Fine Arts.

While at the Museum School he was offered a position at Washington State College as assistant artist, where he was employed until he enlisted in the Army last May.

His friends and those of his wife, who is with him in Germany, will find his work in Dr. Mathews' book of great interest and beautifully done.

Cadillac

It's an Easy Step from Dreaming to Driving!

Here he is at last—just a few miles out on his maiden journey—with his hands on the wheel and his head in the clouds. It's his!

And yet, truth to tell, he does have one regret. For he knows that he needn't have waited this long, had he but realized what an easy step it is from dreaming of a Cadillac to driving in a Cadillac.

Like a great many motorists, for instance, he was not aware that a Cadillac—in view of its obvious virtues—could be so modest in price.

Nor did he appreciate, until the facts were presented, how economical a Cadillac is to maintain or how wonderfully it holds its value over the years.

And little did he suspect how accommodating his dealer would be in welcoming him to membership in the great and distinguished family of Cadillac owners.

So, if you have your heart set on a Cadillac, you should hesitate no longer to investigate this happy set of circumstances.

In fact, why not visit your dealer today? He will be happy to help you select your favorite Cadillac model with your favorite Fleetwood interior—be it the luxurious Sixty-Two Coupe or the magnificent Eldorado Brougham.

WVNA HOLDS MEETING

The March meeting of the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association was held on Friday, March 14, in the Rich Room of the Public Library. Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, president, called the meeting to order and asked the secretary, Mrs. Walter P. Keyes to read the secretary's report which was accepted as read. Mrs. Daniel McLaughlin gave the treasurer's report which was placed on file.

Mrs. Thomas Purtle, corresponding secretary, reported that she had written a note of thanks to the retiring members of the board whose term ended in January of this year. They are Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, Mrs. Allen W. Bryson, Mrs. George B. Redding, and Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin.

Mrs. Patrick reported on several meetings she had attended during the month. She also spoke enthusiastically of the conferences held with Miss Betty Sherwood, assistant director of the Department of Public Health Nursing of the National League for Nursing. Miss Sherwood was in Winchester for several days meeting with the various members of the association for the purpose of reviewing the public health nursing program in Winchester and making any suggestions for improving the service to the community that she deemed advisable.

The various groups who met with her felt that they had gained a great measure of help in their departments and that the total picture of the best in public health nursing for Winchester was benefited by her visit.

Mrs. John Harrison, Mrs. Robert Lowry, and Mrs. Rolf Eliassen reported for the education committee and presented the plans for the all day meeting of the association to be held on June 6. Mrs. Eliassen also reported on her research into the matter of a handbook of pertinent facts regarding the Visiting Nursing Association. The board voted to authorize the committee to take the preliminary steps necessary to have a handbook drafted.

Mrs. George Marks reported for the Publicity Committee that a window at Filene's store would be used by the VNA the third week in April in connection with a month-long observance of Red Feather month.

Mrs. Burton Gove offered the name of Mrs. Frank Hawkins in nomination for membership on the board. She was duly elected by the group.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Patrick called on Mrs. William E. Spaulding who was the speaker of the meeting. She presented in a delightfully enthusiastic manner an account of her recent trip to the Moslem countries of the world. Mrs. Spaulding traveled to the countries where Franklin Publications has offices and was delighted with her reception there. Franklin Publications is an organization which publishes American books in foreign languages featuring books for which they have requests rather than books which Americans think people of other lands wish to read.

Because of Mrs. Spaulding's interest in Public Health Nursing and her membership in the WVNA, she was given an opportunity to visit hospital and to the people interested in public health work in the countries she visited. Her talk was fascinating and the board members were sorry the 11:30 adjournment time arrived so quickly.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

ART CLASSES

Mr. Kink Coffin, who teaches the adult evening art class of the Winchester Art Association, and also teaches at DeCordova Museum, said when interviewed, "Anyone who is willing to work and to learn can learn to draw. Talent is helpful, but not essential. And many people have a talent they have never suspected. Art can open up a whole new world of enjoyment for anyone."

Mr. Coffin says that he is pleased with the enthusiasm, ability and persistence of the members of the class, which begins its 10-week spring term on Wednesday, March 26, at 7:00 p. m. at the High School.

"Some of these people have been in the class practically since I first came, six years ago," he said.

The spring term will be a development of the preceding terms, but since instruction is on an individual basis, the class is still open to all who wish to participate, even though they have had no previous experience. Plans are to have drawing and painting from life and, if the weather allows it, some outdoor sketching.

For further information, telephone Miss Dorothy Reynolds, at WInchester 6-0242.

Lester G. Whittaker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Whittaker of 178 Cambridge street, and Paul Cass, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cass of 1 Yale street, were among those recently awarded skiing letters at Mt. Herman School.

Cass was a member of the school's varsity ski team, of which Whittaker was manager.

MASSACHUSETTS' 1958 EASTER SEAL CHILD is Glenn A Rich, Jr., 9, of Cherry Valley, chosen recently by the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped as representative of all crippled children in the state who are learning through Easter Seal services to walk, talk, play and be like other children. Here, Glenn, who is learning to walk with an artificial leg at the Easter Seal Center in Worcester, tries on a pair of roller skates with the hope that someday he, too, can skate. Robert J. Gaudreault of Springfield, vice-president of Friendly Ice Cream Corp., is chairman of the $375,000 state-wide Easter Seal appeal which traditionally continues through Easter.

EASTER SEAL CHILD

A nine-year old boy with sparkling dark eyes who is winning his fight against crippling condition today was named the 1958 Massachusetts Easter Seal Child.

He is Glenn A. Rich, Jr., of Cherry Valley, who is learning to walk with an artificial leg at the Easter Seal rehabilitation center in Worcester. Glenn was chosen to present all the crippled children and adults in the state who are learning to be happy and independent through services provided by the annual Easter Seal appeal.

In announcing the Easter Seal Child, Robert J. Gaudrault of Springfield, vice-president of Friendly Ice Cream Corp., and chairman of the $375,000 statewide Easter Seal appeal of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped, said, "The first thing you notice in a crippled child in an Easter Seal center is not his handicap but his courage; his determination to walk, talk, play and be like other children.

"When we support the Easter Seal campaign, we help crippled children like Glenn and many children in our communities to overcome their handicaps so that they can grow into useful, self-supporting adults."

Services for crippled children and adults made possible by the annual campaign include rehabilitation centers for both crippled children and adults in Springfield and Worcester, a J.O.B. (Just One Break) Program which provides job counseling and helps to find jobs for physically disabled adults in the Greater Boston area; physical, occupational and speech therapy; special summer therapy services, social service, parent education services, assistance to public schools in relation to crippled children, architectural counseling for the handicapped and student training in the field of rehabilitation.

NORRIS ELECTED

HEADS FUNERAL DIRECTORS' ASSOCIATION

Fenton H. Norris of Lawson road, treasurer of the Bennett Funeral Service at 1 Elmwood avenue, has been elected president of the American Funeral Directors and Embalmers Association, Inc., with headquarters in Boston.

Mr. Norris was inducted into office at the annual installation in January, succeeding Manuel Rogers of Cambridge. His first presiding duty will be at the annual banquet of the organization to be held May 20, at the Commonwealth Country Club.

A graduate of the New England Institute of Anatomy and Embalming, Mr. Norris has been associated with the Bennett Service since 1951, at which time he came to Winchester from Belmont. Born in Cambridge, he established himself as a funeral director in that city in 1927.

He is a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, the Royal Arch Chapter, Boston Commandery, K.T., and Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He is a past patron of the Eastern Star in Belmont.

Mr. Norris is married and has a son, Richard, who is associated with him in the Bennett Service, and a daughter, Debbie, who is a secretary at the Pilgrim Press on Beacon Hill in Boston.

NTA PRESIDENT TO BE HONORED LOCALLY

Dr. William M. Morgan, president of the National Tuberculosis Association, will be honored by the Middlesex Health Association at a reception and tea at the Parmenter Health Center in Wayland at 2:00 p. m. on Tuesday, March 25. At this time, Dr. Morgan will present awards to high school journalist winners of the county School Press Project.

Dr. Morgan, professor of organic chemistry at Mt. Union College in Alliance, Ohio, was elected last May as president of the National Tuberculosis Association. The NTA is the national organization for 3,000 Christmas Seal agencies including the Middlesex Health Association and its affiliated Winchester Tuberculosis Committee.

Local committee members invited are: Sherman B. Russell, chairman, Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, George Billman, Mrs. Anthony Zovickian, Mrs. Walford Wiklund, R.N., Warren P. Eldridge, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen, Mrs. R. Darrell Harvey.

MRS. PHILIP WOODWARD

WOMEN'S C. C. SPEAKER

Mrs. Philip Woodward of Sheffield road will address the Women's City Club of Boston on Tuesday morning, March 18, at 11 o'clock. Her topic is of great interest to all "Can We Defend Ourselves?" Eminently informed on this vital subject Mrs. Woodward has been director for Special Activities for Region I which includes not only New England, but New York and New Jersey as well.

She is now with the Federal Civil Defense Agency at Harvard. Pourers will be, at the Coffee Hour preceding the lecture, Mrs. T. Temple Pond and Mrs. Campbell Bosson.

AUTO ACCIDENT

An early morning accident at the intersection of Washington street and the Mystic Valley parkway Sunday resulted in injury to two persons.

Police Officer William E. Nash investigated the accident and found a 1956 Ford operated and owned by David C. Sandberg of 59 Wildwood street was on the lawn of the junior high school. The second vehicle, a 1954 Chevrolet sedan, operated by Leo P. Schmidt of 24 Montpelier road, Dorchester, was facing north on the rigth side of Washington street.

The three people involved, David Sandberg, Leo and Mildred Schmidt, were taken to the Winchester Hospital where the Schmidts were treated by Dr. William Garcelon.

TOWN MEETING

Mr. Broadhurst admitted that printing the warrant and finance committee report separately would add some $1200 to the cost of publication but his committee felt the added information made available to town meeting members would justify the added expense.

There was little debate and only one objection to the committee's proposals, Mr. Hewis feeling there should be no difference in the time allotted any speaker. He proposed an amendment to the original motion reducing all speaking time to five minutes, but his motion was lost and the original motion offered by the town meeting commitee was accepted on a voice vote.

Under Article 2 Mr. Broadhurst stated that if the meeting supported the recommendations of the finance committee, it might result in the tax rate remaining at its present rate for another year. He qualified his remarks by admitting that anyone's attempt to foresee a tax rate is at best a guess which can easily be upset.

Articles three and four were routine articles authorizing the treasurer to borrow money in anticipation of taxes in 1958, and 1959 if it should become necessary to borrow in advance of the next annual town meeting.

The first real debate of the meeting took place under article 5, when the meeting was asked to accept the recommendations of the personnel board establishing new maxima and minima for town employees, with corresponding step-rate increases.

Mr. Chadwick explained that the report covered seven pages of figures and charts and that inasmuch as the town meeting members had received prior to the meeting copies of the report he felt it unnecessary to read it.

This brought Mr. Hewis to his feet stating that although he had read the report he believed that many more had not and as a consequence were ignorant both of its provisions and of what they were being asked to accept. He further felt that the town as a whole had a right to know what they are paying for salaries and what step-rate increases are being provided in the various brackets. He for one wanted to know what the changes are.

Mr. Blanchard, chairman of the personnel board, explained that what the board is attempting under the motion is to set more realistic maximum and minimum wage scales for town employees with corresponding step-rate increases so as to bring the town wage scale roughly in the middle of a group of some 17 communities comparable to Winchester.

In response to a question, Mr. Blanchard explained that only one new maximum would be established, that for the town accountant. Other maxima would remain as they were, but new and more realistic minima would be established with corresponding step-rate increments.

The meeting accepted the personnel board's motion, after which another motion was made asking a six percent wage raise for all town employees and part-time employees, exclusive of school teachers, principals of schools, superintendent of schools, school supervisors and recreation workers.

It was at this point that questions began to be raised. Mr. Farnsworth wanted to know if the six percent was on top of the new maxima, and was told that it was. Mr. Cullen wanted to know what the meeting was voting for and why! Mr. Towner wanted more information, so did Mr. Schaefer. Mr. Hewis reiterated his complete belief that no one knew what he was doing and again asked to have the various figures in the personnel board's report read. Mrs. Woodward wanted to know if the meeting had voted vacations for town employees, and if so, under what motion.

Stating that someone was trying to "pull a fast one," Mr. Carroll moved for reconsideration. The motion was seconded, and Mr. Dolan stated that he was inclined to favor reconsideration.

He did, however, believe that if a ten-minute recess were granted that the finance committee, personnel board and dissenters could get together and perhaps iron out the points bothering so many.

The recess was called at 9:21, but apparently did not succeed in deterring Mr. Carroll from his attempt at reconsideration. After the intermission the motion to reconsider was put and lost, 76 for and 86 against, with a two-thirds vote necessary.

Mr. Broadhurst offered two finance committee amendments to the pay-raise motion, first seeking to strike out the part-time workers and then seeking to reduce the wage increase from six to four percent.

Mr. Tansey felt that excluding part-time workers from the proposed wage increase bordered on the ludicrous and would go far toward disrupting employee morale. Others heard in opposition were Mr. Dolan, speaking for the selectmen, Mr. Coon, speaking for the public works council, Mr. Hooper of the school committee and Mr. Elliott of the assessors. The amendment lost on a voice vote.

In urging the reduction of the wage increase from six to four percent Mr. Broadhurst said the lesser rate would reduce the cost to the town from $56,000 to $38,500.

He said that in trying to have the Winchester wage scale adhere to a middle position among the scales of 17 other communities the personnel board is not making a sound approach. Winchester should not, he said, grant pay raises just because some other communities do. The personnel board, he said, has not heard from all the communities used for comparison and those who have reported have in no instance granted raises as high as six percent.

The finance committee believed, he contended, that a 4 percent raise is adequate to cover the cost of living increase and will place the town as near the middle of the wage scales of the communities used for comparison as six percent.

Mr. Blanchard recapped for the personnel board, explaining that a four percent raise would further disrupt the attempt to give Winchester a realistic wage among the communities used for comparison.

Opposing the finance committee's proposal to reduce the raise were Mr. Dolan for the selectmen, Mr. Dwinell for the water and sewer board, Mr. Coon for the public works council and Mrs. McDonald.

Only one voice was raised in support of the cut, that belonging to an unidentified gentleman at the rear of the hall, who stated that the cost of living was up about two percent and the national average pay raise is three percent. He believed the finance committee's four percent adequate and reminded the meeting that the tax payers are commencing to "scrape the bottom of the barrel."

The finance committee's motion to amend by reducing the pay raise from six to four percent was lost, 62-108, the polled vote being taken when the chair was in doubt after the voice vote.

The meeting then voted the six percent raise, and moved on to Article 6, under which it was voted to transfer the care and control of the town dump from the board of health to the highway department under the direction of the board of selectmen.

Article 7 was indefinitely postponed. This dealt with the proposal that the selectmen provide additional parking space beyond the existing parking lot on the easterly side of the B & M from Waterfield road to Mystic avenue.

It was explained under this article that any action thereon should wait until the completion of the town parking lot at the rear of Renton's Market.

This brought the meeting to Article 8, the article under which the selectmen sought the authority to appoint an executive secretary under the provisions of Chapter 41, Section 23A of the General Laws.

Mr. Dolan spoke for the motion, stating that the duties of the board of selectmen are constantly becoming more arduous and complex and that the appointment of an executive secretary under the provisions of the General laws would ease their burden, and make it possible for the board to delegate authority to the secretary to act for the board in certain matters and to do much research and clerical work that would be of great assistance.

He stated that the secretary would in no sense be a sixth selectman, that he would not be the opening step to a town manager form of government and that he could be discharged at any time by the board.

Mr. Dolan stated further that the executive secretary could also be used by other town boards to do work that would greatly promote the efficiency of the town government, and asked the town meeting to authorize the selectmen to hire such a man at an annual salary of $5500.

Mr. Johnson felt the meeting should know more of what the secretary is to do for $5500 and Mr. Bacon sought the personnel board's opinion of such an employee and his salary. Mr. Blanchard replied that the board learned of the executive secretary proposal too late to do anything but consider it very superficially.

Mr. Redding spoke strongly and at some length against the hiring of an executive secretary under the provisions of the state statute. He believed the hiring of such a man would be the first step toward a town manager and told of specific instances where an executive secretary has been far from an unmitigated blessing.

The speaker felt that an executive secretary would soon be doing things that selectmen are elected to do, and that if he did only the nominal duties outlined by the proponents of the plan he would not be worth the money paid him.

Mr. Redding closed with a strong plea for the retention of our present form of government, stating that the town has always been, and is today one of the best governed in the state.

The round of applause that followed Mr. Redding's vigorous address boded ill for the success of the proposal, and others were heard in opposition, including Mr. Cullen, who stated that such an employee need only satisfy the majority of the board of selectmen, and "minorities can be important."

Mr. Saltmarsh recorded himself in opposition, failing to see what an executive secretary could do to justify his salary. Mr. Symmes opposed, stating that no one should be a candidate for selectman who does not want to do the work involved.

Mr. Greer championed the proposal to hire the secretary, stating that there are many loose ends in our town government that such an employee could pull together. He said that the fiscal survey committee had been surprised and disturbed to find how badly the town departments need coordinating and how limited the powers of some of them really are.

Mr. Bonnell stated he was not opposed to giving the selectmen additional help if necessary, but he was disturbed over the acceptance of the General Laws act. He was opposed to the executive secretary plan as proposed by the selectmen.

Mr. Hewis felt if the town wants a town meeting manager it should have a real one and not a makeshift. Mrs. Woodside said that selectmen are town fathers and that fathers often have unpleasant, as well as pleasant duties to perform. As town fathers people vote for them, work for them and have confidence in them. She felt this confidence could never be reposed in any hired executive secretary.

The meeting was calling for the question at this point and the motion to hire an executive secretary was easily beaten on a voice vote. With this vote, upon the motion of Mr. Symmes, the meeting adjourned until Thursday evening, March 20, at 7:45. A sense of meeting vote placed succeeding town meetings on Mondays and Thursdays until the warrant is completed. Monday's adjournment was at 11:20 p.m.

BOSTON COLLEGE DEAN'S LIST

Peggy Ann Weafer was among those named on the Dean's List for second honors for the past semester.

Peggy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Weafer of 170 Mt. Vernon street.

JUNIOR CIRCLE FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

To commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Winchester Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League a joint Spring meeting was held with the Winchester Senior Circle of Florence Crittenton on Tuesday evening, March 11, at the home of Mrs. Rogers G. Welles, 15 Sheffield west. To celebrate the silver anniversary the past presidents of the Junior Circle were invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth, Mrs. Cheney Cook, Mrs. William M. Beal, Mrs. J. Wesley Mapletoft, Mrs. Richard A. Harlow, Mrs. John L. Coon, Mrs. Robert Scott, Mrs. John Embich, Mrs. John I. Lynch, Mrs. John Page, Mrs. Arthur Agnew, Mrs. Sanborn Vincent, Mrs. G. Moulton Herrick, Mrs. Robert Ingraham, Mrs. David H. Walton, Mrs. George D. Whitten.

At the meeting it was a most pleasant surprise to learn that the Senior Circle had donated twenty-five dollars to the Crittenton Hastings House in the name of the Winchester Junior Circle in honor of its 25th anniversary.

The Ways and Means chairman reported that plans have been made for a Silver Anniversary Ball to be held Friday evening, May 2nd.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. Arthur Sheopfer, Assistant General Counsel, Boston Legal Aid Society. He gave a very clever and enjoyable talk on "Your Legal Rights."

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Raymond Chase and her committee. Mrs. David D. Conners and Mrs. William C. Platzoeder poured.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

Business men, clubs, professional groups, and the people of Winchester, generally, have made possible the giving of nearly $50,000 in the past twelve years to 149 boys and girls who might otherwise have been unable to continue their education. Because civic-minded citizens have seen fit to donate to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation these children have gone to their respective schools secure in the knowledge that where there is a will there is a way and that further progress is possible.

Any Winchester High School senior who has maintained a B average in his or her four major subjects during his or her Junior and and Senior years may apply for a scholarship. Application forms should be obtained from the office of the principal before March 15 and returned there by April 1, to be given to the Scholarship Committee for processing.

One of the services of the Foundation is the recommending of candidates to clubs and to the School Committee for awards in their jurisdiction. Even in these cases no information is given out other than that the committee feels that there is real financial need and that the candidate in question deserves an award.

Please bear in mind that a number of colleges and universities have already announced an increase in tuitions of approximately 25% and send your contributions to Mr. George L. Connor, gift chairman, at 31 Prospect street, Winchester.

UNITARIAN CHOIR

During the Lenten season, at 10:40 on Sunday mornings, the Winchester Unitarian Choir, under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham, has been presenting a preservice program of great sacred choral music.

They have been singing from the great oratorios such as Mendelssohn's "Elijah," Handel's "Messiah," Haydn's "Imperial Mass," Brahms' "German Requiem," Faure's "Requiem," and Dubois' "Seven Last Words of Christ."

On Sunday, March 23, the recently discovered work of Vivaldi, the "Gloria," for which Dr. Ernest O. Dieterich is preparing an English text, will be offered before church. During the service the beautiful "Ye now who are sorrowful" from the Brahms Requiem will be sung. On March 30, the preservice program will include Gounod's Gallia.

The soloists of this distinguished choir are Estelle Terramagra, soprano; Anne Lakis, contralto; Edgar Isherwood, tenor; and Sidney C. Blanchard, Jr., bass.

Have You anything you would like to donate to the Rotary auction? Chairs, lamps, tables, bureau's, bric-a-brac, rugs, bikes, trays, pitchers, dishes, wicker furniture, etc. Tel. Winchester 6-4108. ja31-tf

SALUTE TO VOLUNTEERS

Carrying on with the theme of Red Cross Month, Mr. Royce H. Randlett, chairman of the Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross, wishes to thank all those who gave so generously to the United Fund Campaign in the fall, thus making possible the work of our local chapter for 1958. Without your gifts, we would not be able to carry on the work of your Red Cross Chapter.

During the next two weeks we appreciate the cooperation of the Winchester Theatre in showing a 3-minute release from the National Headquarters on the work of the Red Cross. We hope that many of you will take advantage of this opportunity to increase your knowledge of the work of the Red Cross.

This week we are especially thanking the Nursing Committee, and the Production Committees.

A Salute To Nursing!

Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund, chairman of the Red Cross Nursing Committee, says:

"Graduate nurses on this committee serve at the Winchester Blood Bank on each donor day, medical histories and occasionally serving at the Boston Blood Bank.

"Trained nurse instructors are ready to teach interested groups in Home Care of the Sick and Injured, and Mother and Baby Care was given to an enthusiastic group of parents last spring. Others will be offered as often as you, our community and citizens, want them.

"Disaster, either natural or enemy caused could happen at any time. Our government has asked that the American Red Cross train one person in every family in Home Care of the Sick and Injured. In such an event nurses would not be available for ordinary illness needs, and families who have taken advantage of these classes will be among the lucky ones. Anyone interested please call the Red Cross office, WInchester 6-2300."

A Salute To Production!

At the present time, we have three groups of people working on Red Cross Production, and many individual knitters. Among the knitters who come into Red Cross Chapter Headquarters at 34 Washington street, next to the Public Library, to take out yarn to be made into Red Cross sweaters and bedsocks are Mrs. Mary Whelan, Miss Hannah Butler, Miss Sands, Mrs. Stratton, Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. Margaret Gaines, and Mrs. Pearle Kinney.

The Sewing Group of the Winchester Unitarian Alliance, which meets at the Unitarian Church every Tuesday from 10:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. from the last of September to the middle of June, has recently added Red Cross production to their many other worthwhile projects. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Reginald F. Bradlee and Mrs. Everett F. Kidder, this group has already started work on men's jackets, boys' jackets, bedsocks, afghans, and surgical dressings for the Red Cross.

Working for the Sewing Group are the following members: Mrs. David Boyd, Mrs. Clifford Birch, Mrs. Charles Carter, Mrs. F. W. Cary, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. A. M. Duquette, Mrs. J. F. Fitzsimmons, Mrs. E. O. Dieterich, Mrs. Mable Eldridge, Mrs. Adele Emery, Mrs. Irving Gamage, Mrs. Hubert Godfrey, Mrs. Warren Healey, Mrs. Olcott Hooper, Mrs. H. W. Hottel, Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Mrs. Clinton Jonas, and Mrs. Ralph Joslin.

Also working for the Sewing Group are: Mrs. Daniel Kelley, Mrs. Everett F. Kidder, Mrs. Mary Litchfield, Mrs. Anna Meserve, Mrs. Edmund Ogden, Mrs. Earle Osgood, Mrs. Newell Page, Mrs. William Spaulding, Mrs. Raymond Terhune, Mrs. John Totman, Mrs. Elizabeth Waldron, and Mrs. F. E. Hollins.

Meeting at the Red Cross Chapter House on Tuesday afternoons from 12:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. with Mrs. William E. Ramsdell as chairman, are Mrs. Arthur Belville, Mrs. Frank S. Clifford, Miss Marion W. Pond, and Mrs. Harrison G. Wagner. This group makes surgical dressings, usually for the Bedford Veterans Hospital, and sometimes for the Winchester Hospital. Over many years they have been meeting, the number of dressings they have made has climbed into many thousands, for which the Red Cross is deeply grateful.

The third group of production workers, also skillful makers of surgical dressings, under chairman Mrs. Richard W. Wyman, includes Mrs. Robinson Abbott, Mrs. Clinton W. Bennett, Miss Ruth Dustin, Mrs. George S. Hebb, Mrs. Robert F. Lybeck, Mrs. Waldo V. Lyon, Mrs. Denton W. Randall, and Mrs. Wayne Davis. Calling itself the Everell Road Group, this band of devoted women meet at each other's homes, and have even interested one husband in making surgical dressings!

The Red Cross gratefully salutes all production workers, and thanks them for their many hours of faithful service.

AUTO TRAILER STOLEN

Stephen Flanders of 10 Bacon street reported to police on Monday that someone had taken an auto trailer from his driveway. Mr. Flanders has been away for several months.

The trailer was not registered and was painted blue. It is made of steel and was used to haul stock cars.

SPRING CONCERT AT WINCHESTER CONSERVATORY OF DANCE

A spring dance concert and lecture will be given by the Winchester Conservatory of Dance and Related Arts, 10 Waterfield road, on March 23, at 3 p.m. in the conservatory hall.

The program will include dance selections in ballet, modern creative and modern jazz, illustrating the new creative trends in dance today.

Groups of students from both the Winchester and Newton Conservatory of Dance and Related Arts will participate in the concert, which is the second in a series to be held at the conservatory.

Miss Vivian Bold, director of the two conservatories, will be mistress of ceremonies and will give a special lecture, with student illustration, on "Sources of Creative Inspiration for Dance."

The program will be about 45 minutes and there is no charge for mission. All area residents are invited to attend.

CHURCH SERVICE LEAGUE

A dramatic program presented by Mrs. Robert Sibley and Mrs. Robert Anderson on tensions in present-day Japan held a large audience spellbound at the general meeting of the Church Service League of the Parish of the Epiphany on Tuesday afternoon, March 18.

Mrs. Sibley, gowned in beautiful authentic Japanese robes, gave a most unusual series of monologues pointing up the strong Christian faith of many of the Japanese people despite the breakdown of old traditions caused by the war and the infiltration of communism.

She was accompanied on the harp by Mrs. Anderson, an accomplished harpist, who was also dressed in lovely Japanese costume. It was particularly interesting to note how well the harp lent itself to providing a realistic Oriental atmosphere.

The meeting was opened by the president of the Church Service League, Mrs. Ralph T. Jope, with a welcome to the visiting members of other Winchester churches who were guests that afternoon. Following the dramatic performance several short prayers were led by Mrs. Merton E. Grush, worship chairman.

A delicious tea was served by the Tuesday Group, hospitality committee for the church, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Pettingell. Pourers were Mrs. Fred Cameron and Mrs. Grush.

Tea was prepared by Mrs. Edward Little and her committee, while the sandwich committee included Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mrs. Harry Benson and Mrs. John E. Bird.

In charge of decorations was Mrs. Richard N. Carr, while Mrs. Clifton McNeill arranged the flowers and Mrs. John Colony handled the serving arrangements.

Albert L. Fisher of 6 Bacon street is a member of the Education Committee of the Boston Chapter, National Office Management Association, which held an all-day education program yesterday for a number of school groups, who visit Boston business establishments. Later in the day the students were guests of the Chapter at a dinner meeting in Hayden Hall, Boston University.

ANNUAL SCHOOL BOARD CONFERENCE

The following members of the Winchester School Committee: Mrs. Barbara Clark Bailey, Mrs. Mary Brink, Mr. Dana Kelly, and Mr. Joseph Dolben will attend the Annual School Board Conference on Friday, March 21, at the Hotel Bradford, Boston, Mass.

The conference, held under the auspices of the New England School Development Council, will feature an address by Dr. George Z. F. Bereday of Teachers College, Columbia University, entitled "Education for the Elite versus Education for All."

Highlighting the conference theme "What's Ahead in Secondary Education?" will be four afternoon panel discussions. The panel topics will be How Should Secondary Education Meet the Future?, How Can We Attract and Hold Good Secondary School Teachers?, How Can Higher Education be Assured for Qualified Secondary School Students?, and What Should the Science and Mathematics Curriculums be for the Schools of Tomorrow? Panel speakers will include Henry Toy, Jr., president of the National Citizens Council for Better Schools, Lester W. Nelson, Executive Associate of the Fund for the Advancement of Education, Owen B. Kiernan, Commissioner of Education, Massachusetts.

The conference is of particular importance to Winchester since our school board, administrative staff and teachers have been studying the aforementioned panel subjects in conjunction with the Citizens' Advisory Committee on High School College Relations. Eight math. and science teachers from the Junior and Senior High Schools are planning to attend the panel on Science and Math.

The Conference will present an exhibit of new secondary school architecture in New England and a closed circuit television demonstration by Keene, New Hampshire, teachers and student engineers.

Winchester is a member of the New England School Development Council, which is a cooperative organization of 140 public school systems in New England that have joined together to study common problems and to improve publication.

DR. WILLIAM KVARACEUS AT WASHINGTON SCCHOOL

The George Washington School Mothers' Association is privileged to present Dr. William C. Kvaraceus, professor of education at Boston University, as their guest speaker for the March meeting. Dr. Kvaraceus will address the members and friends of the George Washington Association on Tuesday evening, March 25, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Author of several books, Dr. Kvaraceus has a wide range of experience, including positions as supervisor and director of research in both public and private schools. He is internationally known for his study on prevention and control of child delinquency.

Dr. Kvaraceus is also well qualified to talk on the subject of relating the child's accomplishments more closely with his potential, a subject in which the parents of school children are most vitally interested. Parents and friends of the pupils of the George Washington School are most cordially invited to come and hear from a specialist what can be done to help each child to achieve in accordance with his ability.

Also at this meeting, there will be a brief report given by Mrs. Thomas Gibb, Jr., on the secondary school problem with regard to inadequate school facilities.

Dessert and coffee will be served prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Robert Nyere of 4 Squanto road, Dudley Kimball of 16 Madison avenue, R. M. Wundt of 2 Clearwater road, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Thomas of 9 Edgehill road are among registrants at the Cambridge Center for Adult Education.

PEE WEE HOCKEY AWARDS

At the conclusion of the Belmont Pee Wee program March 1, several Winchester boys and coaches were given awards for various accomplishments. The Belmont program, directed by Scott Parrot, at the Keller Rink at Belmont Hill School, provided hockey instruction and league play for some forty Winchester youngsters as well as boys from thirteen other surrounding towns.

Winchester Pee Wees picked by majority vote of 12 coaches to win awards were Rod Wild, Robert Benincasa, and Kent Parrot for most valuable to team, and Robert Foley, and Robert Hanley, most improved. Bob Johnson, local sports enthusiast coached the Winchester Canadiens to first place last year and he was awarded an ash tray along with this year's winning coach from Needham. Last year no awards were made.

Warren Branch local hockey tutor was presented an engraved pen in appreciation of his loyal coaching and officiating. Scott Par-Parrot, program director, was presented a plaque inscribed "From all 180 boys and their coaches."

The cups awarded for must valuable, and most improved in the league went to a Wellesley and a Weston boy respectively. Maybe next year a Winchester boy will capture one of these coveted oscars.

The Belmont Pee Wee program will come to an official end with the completion of the New England Bantam (all boys under 13) tournament which starts this Sunday at the Lynn Sports Center, when the Belmont All Stars meet the Melrose Bantams at 6:00 p. m. Lynn All Stars will play Weymouth All Stars at 5:00 p. m.

The Belmont team with a won 7, lost 0, record is the pre-tournament favorite. Two Winchester boys are playing on this undefeated team. They are Rod Wild, in the nets; and Kent Parrot, left wing. Gregg Patrick, son of Bruins Manager Lynn Patrick, skates a right wing and William Riley, Jr., son of Bill Riley local official and ex hockey star skates center.

Local hockey enthusiasts are urged to drive down to Lynn to watch this championship play. The youngsters will put on a good show.

LIBRARY NEWS

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

The trustees and staff of the public library wish to thank the Citizen's Committee for National Library Week for their excellent help in planning and carrying out the library's special projects during the past week. Each member of the committee—Harlan L. Paine, Jr., chairman, Sherman W. Saltmarsh, Jr., J. Joseph Tansey, John A. Dolan, Donald J. Fritch, Dr. Lawrence F. Quigley, Jr., Dr. Leonard C. Mead, David Weber, Roland Moody, Mrs. James B. Willing, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. Edward S. Rendell and Elizabeth Livingstone—is an enthusiastic supporter of the purpose of National Library Week and without them, our observance would not have been as effective.

We wish also to thank Filene's, McCormack's Drug Store, the Sport Shop, the Winchester Theater, and the Winchester Trust Company for their support by allowing our Committee to place book displays in their windows.

Overdue Books

This is your last chance! Saturday, March 22, is the last day overdue materials may be returned without payment of fines. When the library is closed, books may be returned through the book slot in the front door.

Exhibit of "Fund" Books

The various funds available to the public library have made possible the purchase of specialized books. There is a display of books, purchased from funds, now on exhibit at the library. These books, many purchased through Jan Thornton of Winchester, cover such topics as antiques, furniture and art. Of special interest are those on "collectors items"—miniatures, silhouettes, dolls, music boxes, buttons, thimbles, Toby jugs, clocks, pewter, lace and Wedgewood. Why not stop by the library and browse through these books. Any book in the display may be reserved.

ANTIQUES STUDY GROUP

The March meeting of the Antiques Study Group was held in the Rich Room of the Library on Tuesday evening of this week. Mr. Clarence Blake gave a talk on early blown decanters, illustrating it with examples from his collection.

He showed three main kinds: the Stiegel type, started in a mold and then expanded; blown and shaped without a mold; and three-mold. One of the oldest and rarest on exhibition was a South Boston decanter of the second kind with several applied chains of glass laid in rings around the bottle.

There was a variety of the three-mold type in ribbed, sunburst and waffle patterns. The stopples in themselves were found to be worthy of careful study. Mr. Blake pointed out the difference between old decanters and the modern product that attempts to imitate it.

A discussion of paperweights was held, the speaker calling attention to the fact that paperweights are not blown glass. The members were very much interested in seeing the Blake collection and having the opportunity to examine the examples closely.

Robert M. Mulford of 29 Pierrepont road, General Secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, is Chairman of the Public Relations Committee in connection with the 25th annual New England Regional Conference of the Child Welfare League of America, to be held at the Statler Hotel, Boston, March 27, 28, and 29. Mr. Mulford is also an ex-officio member of the National Board of the Child Welfare League.

HIGH SCHOOL HOST FOR SCIENCE FAIR

The committee for the Biological Science Fair to be held at the Winchester High School gymnasium on Saturday, March 29, has been pleased and gratified by the enthusiastic response of the neighboring high schools to its invitation for participation by young science students.

Sponsored by the Auxiliary of the Middlesex East District Medical Society, the fair will display projects developed by teen-agers from the public and parochial high schools of Woburn, Winchester, Reading, North Reading, Stoneham, Wilmington and Melrose.

Final plans were drawn up at a recent meeting at the Winchester home of Mrs. Dominic Runci, the committee chairman, with committee members, Mrs. Arthur Koenig of Reading, Mrs. Robert Dutton of Wakefield, Mrs. Anthony Giangreco of Burlington and Mrs. Leonard Wolsky of Woburn present.

Although this year's fair, which is the first venture of the medical society and its auxiliary in this field, deals primarily with the science of biology, a surprising variety of interests will be demonstrated, and the skill and ingenuity of the youthful exhibitors is impressive. The fair will be open to the public from 1:30 p.m. to 5, and will be highlighted by the participation of Mr. Gilbert Merrill of the Boston Museum of Science, who will join a distinguished panel of physicians and educators acting as judges with several cash prizes to be awarded to outstanding exhibits.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN A. VOLPE

John A. Volpe Feted

Silver Anniversary Of Construction Firm Observed

John A. Volpe, former Massachusetts Public Works Commissioner and former Federal Highway Administrator, was honored Sunday by a host of business associates and friends in all walks of life observing the 25th anniversity of the founding of the building construction company which bears his name.

More than 750 persons, many of them prominent in a wide range of public and private fields, called to fete him at an open house at 54 Eastern avenue, Malden, his family's original modest homestead, since rebuilt several times and converted into the modern headquarters of his far-flung operations.

The occasion served also to dedicate formally a recently completed new wing of the colonial brick building. The Most Rev. Jeremiah F. Minihan, auxiliary bishop of Boston, in his ecclesiastical robes, blessed the new addition in the presence of numerous clergymen, a Congressional delegation headed by U. S. Senators Saltonstall, Kennedy and many others.

Included among eminent guests were outstanding figures in education, banking and finance, industry and business, civic, fraternal and charitable affairs, as well as transportation and newspaper leaders associated in his widely diversified interests and activities.

Governor Represented

Officially representing Gov. Furcolo, who was out of the country, was State Public Works Commissioner Anthony Di Natale, Boston's Mayor Hynes was among a group of the chief executives of Bay State municipalities and Senator John E. Powers, minority leader, headed delegations of the Massachusetts Legislature.

Because of the large number who attended, taxing the capacity of the building, there was no formal speaking program or assembly except for Bishop Minihan's brief but impressive service.

Assisting in the reception were Frank Marcucella, the firm's vice president and general manager, and Mr. Volpe's three brothers associated in the construction company, S. Peter Volpe, treasurer; and Patrick and Richard Volpe, building superintendents.

G. Joseph Tauro, a company director and its counsel, attended with many representatives of bench and bar, including Superior Court Justices John E. Swift and Eugene A. Hudson.

Receiving Line

In the receiving line were Mr. Volpe's wife, Mrs. Jennie Benedetto Volpe; their daughter Jean, 21, Trinity College senior; and their son, John A. Volpe, Jr., 16, sophomore at St. Sebastian's Country Day School.

Members of the company's executive and professional staffs were guides on a tour of the new addition, which houses the engineering and financial branches.

Congratulatory telegrams and messages were received from Vice President Nixon and other federal officials whose duties kept them in Washington, where Mr. Volpe maintains a branch office directing substantial building operations in that area.

Mr. Volpe proudly pointed out to his guests the original front room of the building, then the family parlor, where he sat down 25 years ago a week after the 1933 bank holidays to figure the successful bid on his first job, a $1285 contract which launched him on his meteoric career.

It was an addition to the heating plant of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. bus garage in West Lynn. He borrowed $500 on his life insurance to go into business with this venture.

Company Projects Shown

Mr. Volpe exhibited photographs of some of the numerous multi-million dollar projects his company has built in the intervening years or is now building, including the $13,000,000 seventy-store North Shore Suburban Shopping Center, on Route 128, Peabody, for Jordan Marsh Co—Allied Stores.

Sunday morning Mr. Volpe attended a memorial mass for his late father, Vito Volpe, in the chapel at Don Orione Home in East Boston which he had given in memory of his parent and which is named for St. Pius X.

Vice President Congratulates

Vice President Nixon's telegram said, "Pat and I are delighted to join your host of friends throughout the country in congratulating you and your associates on the silver anniversary of the John A. Volpe Construction Co. Your success has been in the great American tradition and we extend our best wishes for continued prosperity in the years to come. Dick Nixon."

Many Guests

Among those present were U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge, Superior Court Justice John E. Swift, U. S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Merchants National Bank President and Mrs. Richard P. Chapman, Very Rev. Msgr. Francis J. Lally, editor of the Pilot; Filene's President and Mrs. Harold D. Hodgkinson, U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy.

Also President and Mrs. Ralph Lowell, Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co.; Chairman Ephraim A. Brest, Boston Port Authority; MTA General Manager Edward Dana, Italian Consul Dr. and Mrs. Girolamo Vitelli, Congressman Lawrence Curtis, Wentworth Institute President and Mrs. Russell Beatty, Superior Court Justice and Mrs. Eugene A. Hudson, Grand Venerable John Guarino, Massachusetts Grand Lodge Sons of Italy in America; Admiral and Mrs. W. E. Howard, Jr., First Naval Shipyard commandant.

Others Present

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Mothers and Daughters Play Together at Y

The secretary of Troop 40, Diane Kittredge, sixth-grade Wyman school, reports as folows:

"Twenty girls and eighteen mothers from Girl Scout Troop 40 went to the Wakefield Y.M.C.A. Saturday, March 15. One hour was spent in the gym playing basketball and jumping on the trampoline under the instruction of a man at the Y.M.C.A. Both the mothers and the girls had a most enjoyable time on the trampoilne. Afterwards they went swimming in the Y.M.C.A. swimming pool."

Mrs. Monsen, leader, says it was as good as a circus watching arms and legs flying as many of the mothers and girls took instruction on the jump, seat drop, and knee drop, one brave mother even doing a somersault!

At a Court of Honor meeting, the girls decided unanimously to repeat this activity.

Girls Earn Money for Roundup

Girls of Troop 5 and 10 have completed their first experience in retail sales, with its thrills and heartaches, in raising money for a combined troop project, to help defray the expenses of the Winchester girl representatives to the 1959 Girl Scouts Roundup in Colorado Springs, and they wish to thank all who helped make their peanut sale a success.

Top honors for sales went to Troop 10, Mrs. James Stewart, leader. The girls in that troop made 1120 sales. Troop 5, Mrs. Ralph Thompson leader, was not far behind. Individual honors went to Laurel Ingraham, Troop 5, with 143 units. Then came Betsy Root, Troop 10, with 114; Barbara Stewart, Troop 10, with 101 units; Joanna Hill, Troop 10, with 100; Claudia Gordon, Troop 5, with 93; Marilyn Beckly, Troop 10, with 84; Linda Chase, Troop 10, with 80; Roben Lou Thompson, Troop 5, 73; and Joan Denton, Troop 10, with 72.

At the end of the campaign, total sales stood at 2020, by 42 girls, averaging 47 sales per individual Girl Scout. This was a new sales record!

It is only for very special senior projects that individual troops are allowed to sell to the public. The only other town-wide sale is the cookie sale, which includes all troops, and is the regular Girl Scout project, and essential to the maintenance of the entire local Scout activity. In both cases, the products sold are worth every cent the public pays, and are in no sense a mere donation. Winchester girls will be taking orders for cookies from April 9 to April 16, and they will be delivered the week of April 28.

Bus for Day Camp?

An information survey sheet regarding bus transportation to Day Camp is being given to all girls by their leaders, and must be mailed back to the Girl Scout office by the interested parents immediately. Unless parents respond, we may be unable to make any arrangements for transportation.

Correction

The Neighborhood III meeting scheduled for March 24 has been changed to March 31 at 9:30 a.m. in the Cabin. All leaders, assistant leaders, troop committee members, and board committee members living in the St. Mary's and Mystic School districts are expected to attend.

MILLER — PIETRANTONIO

At St. Mary's Church on Saturday afternoon, March 15, Miss Assunta Marie Pietrantonio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pietrantonio of 6 Harvard street, became the bride of Dale Herbert Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller of 1334 Hollins street, Baltimore, Md. The ceremony took place at 3:30 o'clock with the Rev. Charles E. Anadore officiating, and a small reception was held afterward for members of the immediate families.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Pietrantonio was attended only by her sister, Mrs. William Hicks.

The bride wore a white nylon ballerina gown styled with a low bodice and a bustle back. Her short veil was caught to a beanie style matching hat and she carried a white prayer book with streamers of lilies of the valley and a white orchid.

The matron of honor was gowned exactly like the bride except that her dress, hat and veil were powder blue. She also carried a prayer book but hers was topped with a pink camellia and had blue streamers of baby carnations.

Mrs. Pietrantonio wore a silk gown with a grey hat and corsage of mixed flowers. Mrs. Miller, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in lilac taffeta and wore a white hat and corsage of mixed flowers.

William Hicks, brother-in-law of the bride, was Mr. Miller's best man, and ushering were two nephews of the bride, Charles Pietrantonio and William Hicks, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller went to Baltimore on their wedding journey. They plan to make their home in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Miller, who is serving in the United States Navy, graduated from high school in Everett, Pa.

FIRES

Thursday, March 13: Mrs. Theodore L. Freeman of 11 Lockeland road called the fire station at 11:38 a.m. to report that a cat was caught in an electric dryer. Firefighters went to the scene and immediately had everything back in order.

Friday, March 14: Philip O'Rourke of 2 Hillcrest parkway reported that there was a fire in his cellar. Box 641 was sounded. Firefighters found the fire was in a washing machine which caused dense smoke.

Monday, March 17: Firefighters went out at 7:12 p.m. for a delayed ignition in an oil burner at the home of Lloyd Sellman at 16 Carriage lane.

ATTEMPT MADE TO ENTER CAR

Lane E. Wheaton of 127 Garfield avenue, Woburn, went to the police station Thursday night, March 13, to report that someone had evidently tried to enter his car while it was parked on Mt. Vernon street opposite Skillings path between 7:30 and 10:30 p.m.

The vent wondow on the right-hand front door was cracked in four places but the car had not been entered.

SHIRLEY E. KINNEY

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement of Shirley Elouise Kinney to Rev. Charles Irvin Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Johnson of Louisville, Ky., is announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Kinney of 23 Westland avenue.

A graduate of Winchester High School, Miss Kinney graduated from the Forsyth School for Dental Hygienists in Boston in 1954 and received her B.S. Degree in Education from Tufts University School of Special Students in 1956. She is now employed as a teacher of dental health in the Melrose School System.

Reverend Mr. Johnson received his B.A. Degree in 1954 from De-Pauw University, Greencastle Indiana, where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. In 1957 he graduated from Boston University School of Theology, during which time he served for two years as assistant minister at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. He is now serving as associate minister at Grace Methodist Church, Kokomo, Indiana.

A July wedding is planned.

METCALF UNION

The course on "Facts of Life and Love for Teenagers," sponsored by Metcalf Union, the high school group at the Unitarian Church, is proving to be very instructive and helpful to the 65 young people taking it.

A week ago Sunday, the group was addressed by Miss Dorothy Maxim, a representative of the Massachusetts Society for Social Hygiene, who gave an excellent talk in connection with an outstanding film produced by the society.

Questions were written out by the students after the first discussion and a group of four doctors met last Sunday to review the questions and work out the most helpful answers.

This Sunday night at 7 o'clock, the group will break into four discussion sections. Freshman and sophomore girls will meet with Dr. Donald McLean; freshman and sophomore boys will meet with Dr. Edward Rendall; junior and senior girls will meet with Dr. Nelson Fontneau and junior and senior boys will meet with Dr. Richard Clark.

A week from Sunday Rev. Robert A. Storer will speak to the entire group on the subject of the spiritual side of love and marriage.

Every effort has been made by Mrs. Betty LaSalle, the religious education director; the youth leaders, a committee of parents and the doctors to make this an outstanding program. The time and attention given by the doctors to discussing the questions make it certain that this Sunday's discussions will be most constructive.

JANNINI — OCCHINTO

St. Mary's Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Pauline Theresa Occhinto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Occhinto of 8 Alden lane, and Ralph Humbert Jannini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Humbert Jannini of 436 Pleasant street, Malden, on Sunday, February 16, at 5:30 o'clock. The Rev. Martin J. Dolphin performed the ceremony. Mrs. Marie Ryan played the bridal music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk "I Do" taffeta gown with reembroidered lace motif of sequins and pearls at the sabrina neckline and on the bell skirt which draped back into a chapel sweep. Her contour crown was beaded in matching iridescent sequins and pearls and she carried a prayer book with an orchid, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Mary Jane Cuozzi of Woburn cousin of the bride served as honor attendant. Her gown was shell pink silk organza with satin banded empire line with a satin cord gathering the blouse back into a flowing back panel. She wore a matching pink horsehair picture hat and carried a cascade of deep pink camellias backed by soft green foliage.

Mary Ann Hurley of Malden, niece of the bridegroom, and Sandra Lee Occhinto, sister of the bride, were the flower girls. Their dresses were of two-tone sea-foam green taffeta with hoop skirts. They wore picture hats scattered with pink forget-me-nots and carried baskets of pink carnations. Peter F. Occhinto, Jr., of Winchester, brother of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Walter Hurley of Malden, brother-in-law of the bridegroom served as best man. William Sullivan and Donald Manning both of Malden were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Hayes Steak House in Billerica. Richard Faieta, cousin of the bride, assisted the bridal couple in receiving their guests. Mrs. Occhinto wore an embroidered silk organza dress of candlelight beige with a matching straw hat adorned with forget-me-nots on the softly scalloped mushroom brim. Mrs. Jannini wore a slate blue silk organza dress with an embroidered straw hat in cherry pink with roses.

After a southern cruise, Mr. and Mrs. Jannini will make their home in Malden and Gloucester. Mr. Jannini is associated with the New England Electric System.

MISS ADELINE M. HINTLIAN

MISS HINTLIAN ENGAGED

Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian of 115 Church street announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Adeline Martha Hintlian, to Sherman Rex Spivey of Dallas, Texas, son of Mrs. Joseph R. Spivey of Siloam Springs, Arkansas, and the late Mr. Spivey.

Miss Hintlian, daughter of the late Michael H. Hintlian, is a graduate of Country Day School of the Sacred Heart in Newton, Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart in New York and of the Boston College School of Social Work. She is a member of the Ace of Clubs and president of the Boston Manhattanville Club.

Mr. Spivey, a geophysicist, graduated from John Brown University, and served as a flight officer in the Army Air Force during World War II. He is associated with Geophysical Service International and is presently in Calcutta, India, where his marriage to Miss Hintlian will take place during April.

He and Miss Hintlian are planning to make their home in Calcutta after their marriage until October of 1959.

MRS. DAVID H. SHIVERICK

SHIVERICK — DAVIS

In a four o'clock candlelight ceremony at the First Congregational Church on Saturday afternoon, March 14, Miss Maryjane Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Davis of 5 Woodside road, became the bride of Mr. David Holt Shiverick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nye Shiverick of 135 Forest street. Dr. Dwight Cart, pastor of the church, officiated, and a reception followed in Chidley Hall.

The bride wore a princess-style gown of embroidered ivory taffeta, trimmed with seed pearls and fashioned with a portrait neckline and chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil was of French illusion and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of glamellias, white sweetheart roses, and star ivy.

Mrs. Barclay Beahm of East Lansing, Michigan, was matron of honor. Her gown was of pink embroidered cotton, styled with a portrait neckline and a draped back panel of pink organdy. Wearing a matching headpiece, she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of pale pink and deep pink sweetheart roses and lavender glamellias.

Identically gowned in dresses like that of the honor attendant, and carrying cascade bouquets of lavendar glamellias and deep pink roses were the bridesmaids, Miss Althea Hersey and Miss Carolyn Oxford, both of Winchester. The honorary bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald R. Meyer of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Gordon McComb of Madison, Wisconsin. Susan Gail Davis, of Gardiner, Maine, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a pink organdy frock with matching short cape. Carrying a basket of tiny pink roses and lavender stock, she wore a crown wreath to match.

Mrs. Davis, mother of the bride, was gowned in lavender organza over taffeta. She wore a flowered hat, accessories to match her gown and a corsage of passion flowers. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Shiverick, wore combination orchids with her emerald green chiffon gown and her accessories matched her brown feathered hat.

Mr. John Spinner of Cambridge was best man. The ushers were Mr. Frank Shiverick of Winchester, cousin of the bridegroom; Mr. John Nelson Davis of Gardiner, Maine, brother of the bride; Mr. Elliott Hersey of New Boston, New Hampshire; Mr. Marshall Irving and Mr. William Tucker, both of New York City; and Mr. Edward Tedeschi of Scituate.

The members of the wedding party were entertained by the parents of the bride and bridegroom at a dinner on Friday night, and Mrs. Waldon Hersey gave a luncheon for the bridal party on the day of the wedding.

The bride was graduated in 1956 from Ohio Wesleyan University and attended the University of Wisconsin the following year. Mr. Shiverick was graduated from Tufts University in 1954 and then served as a lieutenant in the Navy. After a wedding trip to Mount Tremblant in the Laurentians, Mr. and Mrs. Shiverick will make their home in Arlington.

FINAL LENTEN MORNING

JAPANESE MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

The final Thursday Lenten morning sponsored by the Mission Union of the First Congregational Church will be held March 27, in Chidley Hall. Coffee will be served at 9:45, with the program beginning at 10:10.

The theme for this series of four Lenten mornings is "Cross and Crisis in Japan."

Mrs. John Fairfield, sister-in-law of Mrs. Richard Ashenden, Jr., of Winchester, will give an illustrated talk on the work of the Christian missionaries in Japan. Mr. and Mrs. Fairfield, who have served in Japan since 1951, are now on furlough in this country. Mr. Fairfield is at present the treasurer of the Christian Mission Board in Japan.

Mrs. Robert Lowry is the worship leader for the morning. All women of the church are welcome to attend and those wishing transportation may contact Mrs. Edgar D. Hinton WInchester 6-3433 or Mrs. Charles E. Greene WInchester 6-0433.

Y.P.F. PLANS DANCE

The young peoples fellowship of the Church of the Epiphany are making preparation for a semi-formal dance to be held April 12. The committee has decided to call it "The Buttercup Bounce" in honor of the arrival of spring.

It promises to be a wonderful evening. Ned Marshall's Meltones will be on hand to supply the music and there will be door prizes, elimination dances, fine entertainment, and tasty refreshments.

The highlight of the evening will be a waltz contest. So let's all get partners and practice. Teddy Little, David Archer, Nanette Marshall and Arthur Hewis are in charge of tickets.

A Winchester resident, Daniel F. Blanchard of 4 Dix street, has a featured role in "Road's End," original musical comedy to be presented by the Wakefield Teachers Club Friday evening, March 28, at Wakefield Memorial High School. Mr. Blanchard, English and social studies teacher at Atwell Junior High School, Wakefield, is cast as a high school football hero in the all-teacher show.

"EIGHTH-NOTES" ENTERTAIN

Following a well-attended bountiful buffet supper served by the Philatheas of the First Baptist Church in the Church Social Hall on Thursday evening, March 13, the varied musical program provided by the "Eighth-Notes," the Junior High eighth grade vocal ensemble, was a high point of a delightful evening.

The numbers presented included: The Land I Love (Simeone), Beautiful Savior — Old Crusader's Hymn, Hush Little Baby (American Traditional), Skip to My Lou (American Folk Song), While Strolling Through the Park, I Whistle a Happy Tune (Rodgers), and When the Saints Go Marching home (Spiritual).

In addition to the vocal selections of the group the First Movement of the "Concerto in A Minor" by Vivaldi was skillfully played by Paul Johnian and Robena Thompson delighted everyone with Liszt's Liebestraum and Chimes of Spring on the marimba.

To many of the supper guests from surrounding towns as well as our own townspeople the talent and excellent training displayed by these young people was indeed a pleasant surprise and a credit to them and to their director, Mrs. Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite, Music Supervisor of the Junior High School.

WINCHESTER BOY'S HOME PICTURE HOUSE

Those who happened to see the March number of "Sunset," the magazine of Western Living, published at Menlo, Calif., were especially interested to see on its pages illustrations of the home of a former Winchester boy, Dunbar Carpenter, whose late parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar F. Carpenter, were long time residents of Ravine road.

The home of the younger Dunbar Carpenter and his wife is located in Medford, Oregon, overlooking the Rogue River. Designed by Architect George T. Rockrise, it won an Award of Merit in the American Institute of Architects-Sunset Magazine Home Awards last year. The house of eight rooms includes five bedrooms and four baths, as well as a family room, two large storage areas and a workshop. Situated upon a hilltop the house has sweeping views in all directions, balanced by a centrally located garden about which the house spreads.

Planned for livability, the rooms are designed to permit almost every phase of family work or play. Full of warm friendliness, the rooms are designed to be liveable as well as efficient.

The owner of the house, Mr. Carpenter grew up in Winchester, attended the Winchester schools and prepared for Harvard at Groton School. He now operates a large pear orchard in the west, is married and has three children.

HOME EXTENSION COURSE

Family money management will be the topic for a series of five lessons taught by the Extension Famil Economics Specialist from the University of Massachusetts, Miss Barbara Higgins to homemakers in this area. This course will be offered on Tuesday afternoons in April, beginning on April 1 and continuing on April 8, 15, 22, and 29. It is one of the programs offered to homemakers by the Middlesex County Extension Service without charge.

Miss Higgins will show how the "Guide for Family Living" workbook can be completed during the course of five meetings. The workbook has a management approach, family finances and its aim is to show family satisfaction can be increased by intelligent planning. Career homemakers often find the financial planning one of the most confounding areas of their job. Here's an opportunity to get some guidance in this field and meet with other homemakers and share their experiences in an informal group study.

Find out more about this course and how the county extension service can work here in Winchester by calling Mrs. Elliot Swanson, 59 Middlesex street, WInchester 6-4874.

Peter Coon of 14 Norwood street left Wednesday with the Springfield College baseball team on their spring southern trip. They will play at Camp Lejeune, Ft. Benning and Howard University. Coon is a catcher.

Reading Rooom, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.

Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.

How spiritual perception of God's power brings freedom from bondage to materialism will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" is the Golden Text from I John (2:16): "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (277:29): "Nothing we can say or belive regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and is therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous."

Selections from the Bible will include the following (Isaiah 40:8): "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever."

LINCOLN SCHOOL OBSERVES NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

Do you believe in magic? The girls and boys of Miss Hutchinson's grades three and four do! "The Spirit of the Magic Bookcase" convinced parents and children at Lincoln School of the pleasure that is theirs when they "Wake Up and Read." Linda Barlow and her assistant, Beverly Story, introduced magical characters of storyland at a morning assembly last week. Fred Fickett was a very impressive Giant, with Hannah Nowell as Mrs. Colossus, and David Williams as "Jack" of Jack and the Beanstalk.

"Alice," Rhoda Heaton, of Alice-in-Wonderland followed "Robinson Crusoe," Frank Politano, whose incredible story needed "Friday," Albert Ludlam as proof of the footprint in the sand. "Red Riding Hood," Jane Lynch stopped by with her basket to tell of her encounter with the wolf. "Hiawatha," Marguerite Lombardo, and "Dr. Doolittle," Pete Fowle, called just before "Puss in Boots," Scott Jeffrey, arrived in his seven-league boots.

"Robin Hood," Michael Ciarcia, and "Little John," Johnny Joslin brought greetings to the children from Sherwood Forest. "Cinderella," Andrea Swett, hurried by to hide her glass slipper before her sisters, Donna Moore, Diane Wood, and Mabourne Rauscher appeared. This critical situation brought "Dorothy," Linda Loch, back from the City of Oz to tell about her amazing new friends.

"Heidi," Julia Carlson, came all the way from her village in the Alps to visit "Betty," Ellen Moody and "Tommy," Tommy Harris.

"Hansel," Ronald Marcy and "Gretel," Winifred Kelbley, stopped in from the woods long enough to meet "Wendy," Kathy Barrow, who was trying to find "Peter." How many of these children believed in "Tinker Bell?" All of them, and that is why today boys and girls visit these same characters and many others in brightly covered books they find on their Library shelves.

CRITTENTON LEAGUE SPONSORS ICE CHIPS OPENING

Good balcony seats at greatly reduced prices are now available in blocks for the April 10 opening night performance of "Ice Chips," which will be a benefit performance for the Florence Crittenton League Chapel Fund.

This popular skating carnival, annual production of the Skating Club of Boston, will be held as usual at the Boston Garden.

Over 2000 Florence Crittenton League members in the Greater Boston area are hard at work on a gigantic ticket selling campaign in the greatest fund raising drive the League has ever undertaken. The specific purpose of the drive is to reduce the indebtedness on the non-sectarian chapel recently completed at the League-sponsored maternity home for unwed mothers in Brighton.

Because "Ice Chips" is a family show, combining the talents of some of the world's amateur figure skating champions with those of children and adult skating enthusiasts, it should be particularly appealing to young people. Local youth organizations who are interested in obtaining blocks of seats at reasonable prices for opening night may do so either by writing the Skating Club of Boston on Soldiers' Field road, Brighton, or by calling Mrs. Malcolm S. Burr, WInchester 6-3293, or Mrs. Thomas S. Knight, WInchester 6-2496, League "Ice Chips" chairmen in Winchester.

Of course, tickets in other price ranges for opening night are still available and may be ordered as above. Already many dinner parties have been planned for the evening of the show.

O'DEA TO ADDRESS LWV

Members of the League of Women Voters of Winchester are already making reservations for the annual legislative luncheon to be held this year on Friday, April 11, at 12:45 in the Crawford Memorial parish hall. The interesting new district attorney for Middlesex County, James O'Dea, Jr., of Lowell, wil be the speaker and his topic "Effective Lobbying for Civilian Groups." As a former member of the state legislature, where he framed the parole and probation bill of 1956 incorporating the recommendations of the Wessell Report, Mr. O'Dea is well qualified to assay the forces affecting legislation in the state. It is expected that he will give a forthright, realistic picture of practical politics in operation, a subject about which League members should be informed if they hope to affect legislation. Mr. O'Dea is considered by many informed observers to be an up-and-coming figure in Massachusetts government, another good reason for hearing what he has to say.

It has been the custom for some years for League members to bring guests to this luncheon, so it is wise to send reservations in early. Mrs. John Sexton and Mrs. Warren Price are in charge of reservations.

KIWANIS SCHOLARSHIPS

WINCHESTER PUPILS ELIGIBLE FOR AWARDS

Jim Loftus, president of the Kiwanis Club of Winchester, Inc., announced today that senior year students of all public, private and parochial schools are urged to check with their school principals with regard to the annual New England Kiwanis Scholarship Awards.

These scholarships provide toward four years tuition in a college of the recipient's own choice. Basis for the awards are need, character, scholarship, and leadership qualities and these awards are made to outstanding young people in New England without regard to sex, race, creed, color, or natural origin. Four new Kiwanis scholarships are awarded each year.

Kiwanis scholars from New England states are now attending the University of Massachusetts, University of New Hampshire, Bates College, Providence College, Plymouth Teachers College, Simmons College, College of St. Rose, Brown University, Boston University, and Tufts College, and are represented in each of the four college years. 1958 will mark the graduation of the second Kiwanis scholars.

Funds for these scholarships are derived from a foundation originated and administered by New England Kiwanis and supported by each of the 218 local clubs throughout the New England area.

CHILD CAUSES CAR TO CRASH

An auto accident on Monday morning at 11:15 was indirectly caused by a child who was a passenger in the car.

Mrs. Irene B. Manning of 118 Bedford road, Woburn, told police that she was driving a Ford sedan west on Church street when her son, Michael, aged 22 months, got caught in a car chair and started to cry. Mrs. Manning momentarily turned from the road and her car collided with a parked car owned by Elizabeth Batchelder of 1121 Bridge street, Lowell.

There were no injuries reported and Mrs. Manning's car was towed away.

MISS BURTON DURANT SCHOLAR

A former Winchester girl, Miss Mary Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Burton, received recognition for excellence in scholarship at the annual spring Honors Day Convocation of Wellesley College on March 6.

Wellesley confers upon outstanding juniors and seniors the citation of Durant Scholar for highest academic attainment, and names as Wellesley College Scholars those who have a high level of achievement.

Miss Burton was named a Durant Scholar. The Burton family, who formerly lived on Oxford street, now make their home at 16 Beechwood avenue in Manhasset, Long Island, N. Y. Miss Burton is a junior at Wellesley, where she is majoring in music.

OKINAWA REUNION

S 3/c Richard Bruce Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thompson of Garfield avenue, who is in the Army Security Service on Okinawa, had a pleasant surprise some three weeks ago when he was called to the main gate and there found awaiting him an old Winchester buddy, William Laverty of Orient street.

Laverty is stationed on an aircraft carrier which had touched at Okinawa and was stopping there for two days. "Bill" had spent one of the two days locating his friend, Thompson, whom he knew to be on the island. He had a shipmate with him and the trio spent a pleasant time "batting the breeze" while Thompson and Laverty caught up on Winchester news.

Thompson was in for another surprise a bit later when he found waiting for him in the post office Gary Triplett of 669 Main street, the boy with whom he originally enlisted 18 months ago back in the States.

The pair had a lot of things to discuss and among the most interesting news Thompson learned from his friend, Triplett, was that on January 23 Gary had married a Winchester girl, Joanne Pearce.

Triplett has been assigned to Army Security on Okinawa, so he and his Winchester buddy will be working together and seeing a lot of each other.

ON GUILD PLANNING COMMITTEE

Miss Marian Noonan of 27 Sheridan circle is a member of the committee planning the first annual meeting of the Guild of the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor, March 23, at the Paulist Fathers New Auditorium, 5 Park street, Boston.

The Guild is a group of lay friends aiding the work of the Dominican Sisters in the archdiocese. The Sisters whose convent is located at 109 Mt. Pleasant avenue, Roxbury, go into the homes of the sick poor and provide free nursing care.

Archbishop Cushing who founded the Guild after inviting the Sisters to take up their work in the Boston archdiocese, will be the principal speaker at the meeting.

Since their convent was first opened in November, 1955, the Sisters have aided more than 400 persons bringing both physical and spiritual help to the sick poor.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

EASTER BUNNY PARADES TOMORROW!

Mr. Easter Bunny will be the special guest of the City of Malden at the big pre-Easter Parade on Saturday morning, March 22. Mr. Bunny will be one of the features of this special celebration which includes a visit by "Big Brother" Bob Emery. "Big Brother" will visit with the small fry from 9:00 until the start of the parade at 10:30 and then join in the parade.

A special area in front of the Dowling Building at 6 Pleasant street will be roped off so all the children can meet their favorite TV personality. "Big Brother" will distribute autographed pictures of himself and all his friends. A film will be taken for later showing on the "Big Brother" television show.

Many clowns will be performing all along the parade route and more than 12 band units will appear to delight children of all ages. Colorful floats in the parade are designed to emphasize the theme "Malden Has Everything."

The two-mile-long parade will wend its way all through the Malden Square area starting at 10:30 a.m.

ROTARY AUCTION

Are you interested in youth, in your community, in helping others?

The Rotary Club of Winchester is planning an auction to raise funds to carry on an extensive program of helpfulness.

The need for salable articles continues. You can play a very important part in this program by checking your cellar or attic for those long-forgotten articles you were saving, but do not need, and donating them to the Rotary Auction.

Just call WInchester 6-3000 and a truck will call.

This is an investment in the future and will pay positive dividends.

Time is short. Do it now!

SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum will attend the 11:00 o'clock service at the First Congregational Church this Sunday for the monthly Forum at church service. Henning Kohler, International Exchange Student which Forum has sponsored this year at Winchester High School, will be chaplain. Serving as deacons will be Bill Niblock, Robert Niles, Richard Niles, Richard Osgood, Stanley Withrow, Alvin Swonger. The ushers will be Carl Arlanson, Dennis Baker, Clifford Sundberg, Jim Dunlop, Roger Erikson, Richard French.

Dr. Cart has chosen for his sermon subject: "Having Your Own Private Cemetery."

The March supper meeting will be held at 6:00 p.m. in Chidley Hall. The mothers' committee in charge of the supper consists of Mrs. Edgar Hinton, chairman, and Mrs. Richard Ashenden, Mrs. Byron Graves, Mrs. William Macdonald, Mrs. Clifton Shea, Mrs. Gilman Wallace, and Mrs. Thomas Walsh.

The program for the meeting will be the presentation of the sound movie "Broken Mask." This film is one of the most talked-about stories in youth groups all over the United States, dealing as it does with the masks of prejudice which all of us wear. Its dramatic climax will give Forumites a lot to think about and talk over in the days to come. The usual Lenten drama will not be given this year.

The Lenten Devotions for Young People wil be held on Wednesday at 7:40 a.m. at the Unitarian Church with young people of the Baptist Church in charge.

Plans are being made for a food sale to benefit the Spring Trip Fund. Janet Monro will be chairman and has announced that the date will be Saturday, April 12, with the sale to be held at the Rutherfords' Kitchen Equipment Shop on Mt. Vernon street.

Student notebooks, paper and dividers at the Star office, 3 Church street.

FRIENDS TELEPHONE BRIDGE

Many reservations have already been made for the two dates next week when the Friends of the Winchester Hospital will sponsor their annual telephone bridge, Thursday afternoon, March 27, and Friday evening, March 28. Not only bridge and canasta parties are welcomed, but any kind of an afternoon or evening function will help to make this spring project of the Friends a success. Why not have an afternoon tea? March 24 is the deadline for reservations, so make them now. Don't wait.

There will be many different prizes for both afternoon and evening parties, and for further information, please call Mrs. Richard Preston at WInchester 6-2039 about Thursday afternoon parties, or Mrs. Richard Small at WInchester 6-4173 about those on Friday night.

Among those who have already planned their get-togethers are:

Mrs. Allen Teel, Mrs. John Griffin, and Mrs. James Sullivan of Reading, who will entertain on Friday evening.

Entertaining on Thursday afternoon will be:

Mrs. Nevart Bazirjan
Mrs. Gerald Barrett
Mrs. Courtney A. Crandall
Mrs. Richard B. Small
Mrs. Richard Osgood
Mrs. Sheldon Root
Mrs. Roswell M. Boutwell, III
Mrs. Otis Hammett
Mrs. Paul Leverette

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Kelley, Jr., will be hosts, also Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Perkins.

WILSON NAMED ASSISTANT TREASURER

James D. Wilson of 23 Albamont road has been named assistant treasurer of Craftsman Insurance Company, 50-year-old accident and health insurance company. Mr. Wilson has been with the company since 1956.

During World War II, Mr. Wilson served with the U. S. Army in the Pacific and was discharged with the rank of lieutenant colonel. He has been in the insurance industry for many years, specializing in the accounting and financial aspect of the industry.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

Tuesday, March 25, is the date selected by the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour, for their annual St. Patrick's Dessert Bridge Party.

Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian is chairman of this ever-popular event. A large and energetic committee is assisting Mrs. Hintlian in making arrangements for this outstanding affair.

Many ingenious hostesses are planning "twelve-o'clock luncheons" and are bringing their guests on to St. Mary's Hall at one o'clock for a special "Waterford" dessert.

A grand array of gifts has been donated including Belleek porcelain and other exquisite pieces of Irish art. Guild members and their guests are welcome to come down to St. Mary's Hall for an afternoon of bridge. They'll surely have the "luck of the Irish" and also an opportunity to exchange greetings with their friends and acquaintances.

First Adjourned Town Meeting Held

One hundred sixty-six of 225 hardy precinct members braved the howling wind and driving snow of a March blizzard to attend the first adjourned session of the limited town meeting last Thursday evening at the high school. Rep. Harrison Chadwick presided and the invocation was made by Rev. Martin Dolphin of St. Mary's Church.

There were so many empty seats in the delegates' section of the hall that Mr. Hawkins wondered if a quorum were present. Reassured by the moderator, he did not request a count, and the meeting proceeded with the consideration of Article 9, the long departmental budgets article.

Before consideration of the article commenced Mr. Hewis asked the moderator whether the meeting was to be conducted under Robert's Rules of Order or Cushing's Manual, superseded by Robert's as the result of a vote of the town at the opening session of the town meeting.

Mr. Chadwick stated that the meeting is technically under Cushing since the new rules cannot apply until the attorney general has ruled on them.

Mr. Hewis then arose to a point of order, stating that since the new rules cannot apply until five days after the dissolution of the current meeting and then only after the attorney general has ruled upon them, the meeting is out of order in permitting town officers and committee heads ten minutes speaking time while denying others more than five minutes. He felt that other deviations from Cushing had been made and reiterated his point of order.

The Moderator ruled against his point of order and the meeting proceeded to its consideration of the budgets.

Mr. Dolan asked that the selectmen's budget, first on the list, be postponed until after the usual intermission midway through the meeting. A similar postponement was asked for the budget, highways and bridges. Both requests were granted.

As consideration of the other budgets commenced Mr. Carroll rose to a point of order, stating his belief that the accepting of all the budgets not deferred by specific request is not in accordance with correct procedure and that each budget should be taken up separately with explanation of the individual items involved in the appropriation asked.

The moderator ruled the point of order was not well taken, whereupon Mr. Carroll stated he would defer each budgetary item as it came up. Each item was deferred, though not all the deferring was done by Mr. Carroll, and after the moderator had read a number of the budgets, all of which were followed by the request to defer, he called a halt and returned to the beginning of the article, stating that the budget would be taken up separately.

WILLIAM F. HICKEY

HEADS IRISH SOCIETY

William F. Hickey of Edgehill road, president of John R. Evans & Company of Camden, New Jersey, was elected president of the Charitable Irish Society at the annual meeting marking the 221st anniversary of its founding in Boston in 1737.

The society which elected him is the oldest Irish organization in America, and now has a membership of more than one thousand business and professional men.

The anniversary dinner was held on the evening of March 17, with the retiring president, Hon. John R. Gilmore, presiding. Speakers were Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin of the U. S. General Staff; Frederick H. Boland, Ambassador of Ireland to the United Nations; Lt. Governor Robert Murphy of Massachusetts, representing Governor Foster Furcolo; and Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston.

WINCHESTER GRANGE ENTERTAINS POMONA

Winchester Grange No. 343 will entertain Middlesex-Essex Pomona Grange No. 28 on Saturday, March 29, at the First Baptist Church. The business meeting will be called to order at 4 o'clock.

Following the business meeting, a supper will be held at 6 o'clock. At present 150 reservations have been received for this affair. It will be a calendar supper with a prize going to the Grange with the best decorated table.

The meeting will continue after supper with entertainment furnished by five of the Granges. Among those Granges planning to attend are Lynn, Lynnfield, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Wakefield, Wilmington and Woburn.

ATTENDED RELIGIOUS RETREAT

Specialist Third Class Sherman R. Josephson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave A. Josephson of 8 Fairmount street, recently attended a religious retreat at the Army's European retreat site in Berchtesgaden, Germany.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish chaplains alternate planning the program of lectures, conferences and services.

Specialist Josephson, a public information specialist in the 3rd Armored Division's Headquarters, entered the Army in September 1956 and received basic training at Fort Hood, Texas. He arrived in Europe in April 1957.

The 23-year-old soldier was graduated from Winchester High School in 1952 and from Boston University in 1956.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Blair Hawley, of 25 Ledgewood road, announce the birth of a fourth son, Charles Wilson Hawley, II, at the Waltham Hospital on March 24. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund S. Hawley of New York, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Heber E. Crocker of Reading.

Pfc. and Mrs. Todd Wallis (Janet Easton) announce the birth of a daughter, Carolyn, at Heidelburg, Germany, March 19. Pvt. Wallis is stationed at Karlsruhe, Germany, with the 29th Signal Battalion. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Easton and Mrs. Lloyd Wallis, all of Winchester. Mrs. Easton is with her daughter in Germany.

TO COMPETE FOR NATIONAL TITLE

OWEN SISTERS DAUGHTERS OF FAMOUS SKATING MOTHER

Two Winchester sisters, Maribel and Laurence Owen of 195 High street, daughters of Maribel Vinson Owen, famous national and international champion and coach, will be among the skaters competing for a national title in the forthcoming United States Figure Skating Championships being held March 26-29 in Minneapolis, Minn. Maribel and Dudley Richards, an exhilarating combination of experienced skaters, will compete in the pairs events. They won the 1958 Eastern Senior Pair title in their first pairs try.

Under the tutelage of her famous mother, Maribel held the 1955 National Junior Pair title with Chuck Foster and placed third the following year in the National Senior Pair event. In 1957, they were named to represent the United States in world pair competition but were unable to do so, due to Chuck's medical studies.

Maribel is a member of the freshman class at Boston University and is a seasoned competitor in her own right this year, joined with another champion, Dudley Richards, for pair competitions.

Dudley is a former United States novice and junior men's champion and has been appointed to four world figure skating teams. He won the Eastern senior pair title in 1951 and 1954 and is the first skater to win all four United States Eastern titles.

Following graduation from Harvard University, Dudley spent two years in the U. S. Army, during which time he exhibited throughout Europe in addition to being a featured performer in Garmisch, Germany.

This charming pair, exhibiting brilliant lifts and spins, will highlight the polished presentation of Ice Chips of '58 at the Boston Garden, April 10-13, the 46th annual show by the Skating Club of Boston.

Laurence Qualifies

As 1958 Eastern senior ladies' figure skating champion, Laurence Owen has qualified again to compete for a national title.

This is the second time that Laurence will attempt to annex a national title, the first time being in 1956 when she competed as the Eastern junior ladies' champion but due to a broken arm, she was forced to withdraw. She was runner-up in the New England senior ladies' championship in 1958.

Laurence is a ninth-grade student at Winchester Junior High School and has apparently acquired the well-known Vinson vitality and vivacity that characterized her mother in her competitive days.

An engaging sprite, Laurence skates with amazing power and feeling and will be one of the stars of the forthcoming production, Ice Chips of 1958 at the Garden.

BARBERSHOPPERS HARMONIZE TONIGHT

Tonight's the night that Barbershop singing returns to Winchester. At 8:00 p. m. the much anticipated Parade of Quartets makes its bow at the High School Auditorium. The enthusiastic demand for tickets by groups and parties promises to make this gala event one to be long remembered.

Many observers from the cosponsoring Boston chapter of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. say that the show stopping "Home Town Quartet" alone is well worth the price of admission. The "Home Towners" gave such a tremendous performance in Symphony Hall last December that they were called back for two curtain call encores that delighted the huge audience.

In addition to these standouts, six other quartets will harmonize including the local teenage "Accents." The varied program will also feature the Merry Notes, 1957 international Semifinalists, the Debonaires, 1957 Northeast District Champions, the Hub City Four, and the ultra modern Four Rascals as well as the Boston Chapters outstanding chorus.

Walter Josephson, ticket chairman announces that the following Legionnaires have tickets for those who want prior assurance of good seating; Al Horn general chairman, Barney Vespucci show treasurer, Bill Wilde, Ed Lilley, Sandy MacKenzie, Ben Cullen, Kingman Cass, Kenneth Hall, Sam Murphy refreshment chairman, Pat Foley, Joe McDonough, Harry Goodwin, Commander Frank Provinzano, publicity chairman Bob Plunkett, McCormacks' Drug Store and Fred Mitchell's Barbershop, the Winchester Barber Shop, and Lou Castriotta's East Woburn Barber Shop.

ONLY FIFTY MORE!

Only 50 more patrons and patronesses are needed by the Community School Association to make its quota set by Wendell Withington, chairman of the general committee for the Northeast Music Festival.

Sunday, March 30, is the absolute deadline to be listed in the program which must go to press Monday. The Festival will be held in Winchester May 3, when five thousand high school and junior high school musicians will come to town from cities and towns throughout Middlesex and Essex Counties.

A check for $2.00 will get your name in the program and show that you have supported this worthwhile event. Send your checks to the Community School Association, Box 54, Winchester, or bring them to the president of the Association, Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully, 556 South Border road.

AIDED ALL STAR WIN

Captain Craig Davenport, Dick Scott, Dave Harkins and Doug Gowdy were members of the Winchester High School hockey team who played with the victorious Northeastern All Stars against the Essex County Stars in the North Shore Hockey League exhibition championship match last Saturday at the Lynn Arena. The Northeast team won a one-sided 7-1 victory.

All four of Winchester's players saw service. Davenport and Harkins played on a line with Johnny DeMonico of Swampscott. Scott alternated on defense and picked up an assist, while Gowdy was one of three goalers to see service.

Harkins scored the only goal contributed by a Winchester player, sinking the Northeast Conference's fourth goal on an assist by DeMonico at the very opening of the third period.

In addition to the championship game the North Shore coaches opposed the all-star reserves in a match that kept everyone laughing.

The coaches got all the better of the faceoffs as the officials tossed the puck away from the schoolboy player to ensure possession. One of the coaches had a whistle and whenever he or his teammates was running out of gas he quickly stopped play with a shrill blast.

The coach in the goal ensconced himself on a milk box that filled most of the nets, and when this proved ineffectual, turned the goal around so that it was virtually impossible to get the puck between the uprights.

Finally the referee who was doing everything possible to ensure the coaches' victory, put aside his whistle and grabbing up a hockey stick, joined gaily in the fray, playing for the most part on the side of the coaches. The coaches won, but the exact score was not established beyond reasonable doubt. As a matter of fact a purist might toss out the entire game on the basis of irregularity.

SALE COMMITTEES TO HOLD MORNING COFFEE

Tuesday morning, April 1, at 9:45, Mrs. Paul W. Atwood of 77 Arlington street will be hostess at a coffee for all women working at the Winchester Sale for the Blind which will be held Thursday, April 10, at the Unitarian Church.

Mrs. Warren D. Haley, chairman of the Winchester committee for the sale will outline plans for this event, and introduce Mrs. Merrill A. R. Maynard, director of Sales for the Massachusetts Division of the Blind, Department of Education. Since all the diversified kinds of articles to be sold are made at home by blind persons and the money earned on each item is directly returned to the person who made it, a special form of book keeping and accounting is necessary at the coming sale. Mrs. Maynard will explain the procedure used at all such sales throughout the Commonwealth state and suggest ideas for various table displays. She, herself, is blind, and her charm and competent manner will be an inspiration to all working for the success of Winchester's third annual sale. Besides the copperwear, leathergoods, woodwork, handknits, crocheted wear, toys, and popular handwoven articles at the sale, there will be a special snack bar run by Mrs. Sumner Jacobs. She and her volunteers will serve coffee all day, doughnuts and rolls in the morning and a variety of sandwiches during the noon hour.

The churches, clubs and organizations participating by providing saleswomen are the Second Congregational Church, Guild of the Infant Savior, Parish of the Epiphany, Unitarian Alliance, First Congregational Church, W.S.C.S. Methodist Church, Women's League—First Baptist Church, Catholic Daughters, St. Mary's Mothers' Club, Fortnightly, Emblem, Florence Crittenton League, Eastern Star, Winchester Grange, Home Fronters, Home and Garden, D.A.R., American Legion Auxiliary, Friends of the Winchester Hospital, College Club, George Washington Mothers' Association, Junior High School Association and Wyman School Parents' Association. Members of all these groups have found their opportunity to help the Blind to help themselves, and they hope everyone will help them to make this coming sale the biggest and best to date.

FIRES

Monday, March 24, the police notified firefighters at 1:55 p. m. that there was a truck on fire at the bridge in the square. The truck belonged to Mark Edgecomb of Manchester, Mass.

On Monday evening the firefighters were called to the Beggs and Cobb plant. The call came at 7:13 and they immediately rushed to the scene. The firefighters were unable to locate any fire and believed that perhaps the escaping steam might have been mistaken for smoke.

Wednesday, March 26, Mrs. Denis Noiseux called at 2:23 p. m. to report a brush fire on Russell's Hill back of 108 Wendell street.

W. ALLAN WILDE

William Allan Wilde of 75 Church street, a prominent resident of Winchester for many years and former chairman of the Board of Selectmen, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon, March 26, while going through customs in New York. He and Mrs. Wilde were on their way home from a South American cruise, on which they were accompanied by Judge Curtis and Mrs. Nash of Lawson road.

Mr. Wilde had not been in the best of health for several years and last fall he was painfully injured when struck by an automobile while crossing Church street near his home. He had, however, been at business before his vacation cruise and news of his sudden passing came as a shock to his family and many friends.

Mr. Wilde was the son of W. Eugene, and Effie D. (Dresser) Wilde. He was born April 20, 1895, in Malden, but came to Winchester as a boy, the family home being on Sheffield road and his family being well known socially in town.

After attending the Winchester schools and Winchester High School, where he was a member of the class of 1913, Mr. Wilde was graduated from Monson Academy, establishing a reputation in prep-school ranks as a pitcher.

During World War I he enlisted in the Navy and trained at Naval Radio School in Cambridge, being discharged as a chief petty officer in 1919.

After his discharge Mr. Wilde was associated with the E. T. Harrington Company, real estate brokers, whose last Winchester office was in the building they built on Church street, now occupied by Kimball Funeral Service.

December 31, 1932, he established his own real estate and insurance business, which he continued until his death, being joined in the business in recent years by his son, William A. Wilde, Jr. For the past ten years the firm has occupied the office at 3 Thompson street, Mr. Wilde having moved to that location from a smaller office across the street.

Mr. Wilde was active civically and socially in Winchester. He served as Selectman from 1935 to 1937, heading the board as chairman in 1937. He was also a member of the Town Insurance Committee in 1935. He was for many years a town meeting member from Precinct 3, serving also as precinct chairman.

Prominent in local Masonic circles, Mr. Wilde was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Winchester and a former member of Winchester Royal Arch Chapter. He was master of William Parkman in 1938, had been the lodge secretary since 1954, and was a past district deputy grand marshal for the Arlington Sixth Masonic District.

He was a member and past commander of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, and was at the time of his death chairman of the Selective Service Board serving Winchester and Stoneham, a post he had held from the inception of the Board during World War II. He also aided materially in founding the Home Fronters, an organization dedicated to remembering Winchester service personnel with letters and Christmas gifts.

Mr. Wilde was a member and past president of the Rotary Club and was at the time of his death a member of the board of directors of the Winning Home, Inc. He was also a member of the former Calumet Club.

On September 11, 1916, Mr. Wilde married Carlene Gleason of Winchester, who died June 17, 1930. On September 26, 1931, he married Elizabeth (Sanborn) Springall of Malden, who survives, with four daughters, Mrs. Warren G. Wilson of Delmar, N. Y.; Mrs. William G. Schoch of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Robert A. Moriarty of Hallowell, Me.; and Mrs. Walter Crites of Auburn, Me.; a son, William A. Wilde, Jr., of Winchester; ten grand children and a brother, Roger C. Wilde of Evanston, Ill.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon, March 29, at 3 o'clock at the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, officiating. In place of flowers memorial contributions may be made to the building fund of the church. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

MISS STANNECK ENGAGED

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Inge Erika Stanneck, daughter of Mrs. Eric Stanneck of Morristown, New Jersey and the late Mr. Stanneck, to Mr. Malvern Joseph Gross, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Malvern J. Gross of 16 Niles lane.

Miss Stanneck was educated in Germany; Mr. Gross is a graduate of Lehigh University and is associated with Price Waterhouse Company in New York City.

A June wedding is planned.

TOWN MEETINGS ARE NEW ENGLAND INSTITUTION

(The following article is reprinted from the March 1958 "New Englander" magazine. While Winchester's Town Meeting is the limited type, it is a growth from the same origin.)

This is the month when New England folk "go to town." To town meeting, that is.

The resounding oratory that fills the countryside as citizens debate improvements and taxes is but an echo of the earliest dilberations of Colonial days when much the same sort of discussion went on—but with different issues at stake.

The New England town meeting has been called the "purest form of democracy." There is no more cherished guarantee of liberty than the right to be heard. And here is where the right is exercised to its fullest extent.

Historians are agreed that America's system of popular government took root in the town meeting. But they differ as to exactly where the first seed was planted. It could have been Watertown's courageous protest against Gov. Winthrop's tight reined monopoly of local affairs. Or the rise of political insurgency among the Cambridge townsfolk. Others point to the early sparks of dissatisfaction in Charlestown and Boston.

At any rate, the first meetings were held well over 300 years ago—in late 1634 and early 1635. And they have remained largely a New England institution ever since, even though the rest of the country has often been urged to adopt them (by Massachusetts-born Sen. Douglas of Illinois among others) as the best way to distill public opinion when issues become confused.

Of course, town meetings have "grown up" since those early days. The modern town warrant (schedule of proposed enactments) would have been a puzzlement to the early settlers. Some of the larger towns (notably Brookline, Mass.) have had to elect representatives to their town meetings to keep them manageable.

But others cling slavishly to old customs. A few even keep their men on the left and the women on the right—in deference to the day when there was threat of Indian attack and guns were stacked near the menfolk.

How many people govern and are governed by these town meetings? In New England, a generous slice of the entire population—over 40 per cent.

Latest stastistics show 4,291,240 persons reside in towns or townships (some of them are called plantations in Maine and locations in New Hampshire).

There are 1,417 communities in the region that hold at least one town meeting annually—and some of them considerably more as the warrants get longer and longer. Maine has the most: 471. Massachusetts, the birthplace, has 312 offspring. Other state totals: Vermont, 238; New Hampshire, 222; Connecticut, 152; Rhode Island, 32.

All accounts would indicate that turnouts this year were high and the major issues to be decided had the settings they deserve. Few states tabulate total attendances at town meetings, but Vermont came up with a figure of 80,000 for its 1958 showing.

But the spirit's the thing, not the statistic. When you hear the cry of "Mr. Moderator. Lend an ear," you know you are hearing New England in action.

Multiple Sclerosis Drive Sponsored by V.F.W.

The Multiple Sclerosis Drive this year will be in the form of Cans, left at all local stores by chairman Robert Horn. It is hoped that the people of the Town of Winchester will be very generous in this worthy cause. Last year on a House to House drive they were very generous, but we find that we were unable to contact all residents, so therefore State Department of the VFW thought this Drive would be even more successful. So please don't forget to drop your contribution in the Cans at the stores you visit this week end.

We also at this time would like to thank the merchants that allowed us to put Cans in their places of Business.

POLICE HEAR REPORTS OF WINDOWS BROKEN

On Wednesday the police received two complaints about broken windows. The reports came from two diffrent sections of town and the police have been unable to find those responsible for the damage.

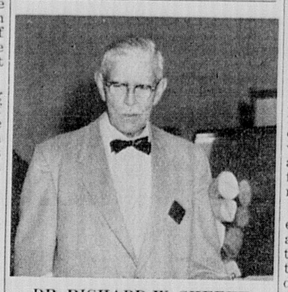
Mary Downs of 82 Ovis road, Arlington reported that on Tuesday the right door window glass was broken in her car while it was parked on Reservoir street.

Later that same day Russell Symmes of 233 Main street reported that in the last month 36 panes of glass has been broken in his barn. Mr. Symmes requested that the police keep an eye on the barn.

3rd Town Meeting Considers 18 Articles

Roads; Town Hall, Library Renovations; River Clearance Voted

Included among the 18 articles voted upon at the third session of the annual town meeting last Monday evening in the high school auditorium were proposals to build six roads, renovate the town hall and the library, clear the Aberjona River and consider the sites for a new school. The Rev. Robert A. Storer offered the opening prayer.



DR. RICHARD W. SHEEHY

ROTARY ELECTS

Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, veteran Rotarian, was elected president of the Winchester club at last Thursday's organization meeting in Masonic Hall. The complete slate of officers elected includes:

President, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy
Vice President, Henry Clark
2nd Vice President, Fred McCormack
Treasurer, Gordon Brennan
Secretary, William A. Wilde, Jr.
Sgt.-at-Arms, Joe Moffett
Directors, Sidney Elliott
Harry Gilson
Dick Hakanson
Larry Chase
Dr. Nelson Fontneau

Last week's meeting was attended by groups of students from Winchester High School and Lynn Classical High School, who were observing an annual student exchange day, which was inaugurated at Winchester High School six years ago. Miss Milliken, social studies teacher at Winchester High, and Mr. Kyrios of Lynn Classical accompanied the pupils and told of the purposes and activities of Student Exchange Day.

Last week's meeting was "open" which meant there was no guest speaker, and the time was devoted to a discussion of club matters. Larry Chase spoke of the need for more help to promote the coming club auction, and Dr. Mueller gave further information in support of the proposed club student loan fund. Bob Kroepsch summarized the arguments in opposition.

Yesterday the club had as its guests members of the Winchester High School basketball and hockey teams with their coaches and managers.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

Since it is the object of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation "to stimulate, recognize and reward scholastic excellence or other outstanding merit," Honor Awards without stipend, are given to a few deserving students. These names are recommended to the Scholarship Committee by the principal of the high school through the faculty, are discussed in committee and decision made without further investigation.

The members of the 1957 Scholarship Committee, after thorough study of the applications submitted and due consideration of supplementary data collected by members of the committee, made awards to thirteen applicants totalling $6650.

Seven awards were given to former Winchester High School graduates who had applied for additional help, totalling $1450.

The School Committee, acting upon the recommendations of this committee, voted awards to seven students.

Beggs and Cobb, acting upon the recommendations of this committee, gave an award.

Honor Awards were given to four students.

Why not adopt the tried and true motto of "Do it Now?" Make out your check to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation and mail it immediately to Mr. George L. Connor, Gifts Chairman, at 31 Prospect street, Winchester.

HOCKEY TEAM DINED

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie J. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gowdy gave a dinner party Sunday evening, March 16, at the Gowdy's home on Lantern lane for the letter players of this year's Winchester High School Hockey Team. Coach Frank Finigan and Mrs. Finigan were also dinner guests.

Full justice was done a delicious roast beef dinner, the guests finding their places at tables by means of clever placecards in the shape of hockey sticks.

Coach Finigan praised this year's group as a real team without stars which had achieved success through a genuine team effort. He also paid tribute to the support and assistance given the team by the parents of team members who as a group and as individuals had been most helpful.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Jules Charles Bergauer of 146 Poplar avenue, Elmhurst, Ill., and Mary Louise Howe of 1 Lewis road.

One of the most startling moments of the evening came when Rep. Harrison Chadwick, moderator, ordered Arthur Hewis removed from the meeting. Mr. Hewis had been objecting to the time limit of 10 minutes which was allowed committee heads in presenting their reports, while other speakers were only given 5 minutes. Mr. Chadwick ruled Mr. Hewis out of order and when he refused to yield the floor he ordered that Mr. Hewis be removed by Sgt. Edward F. Bowler.

Articles 10, 11 and 12 were passed without comment, establishing authority to use part of the cemetery fund for Wildwood Cemetery, setting the term of the director of county aid to agriculture at three years and delegating the appointment of eight measurers of wood and bark to the selectmen.

Articles 13 and 14 were considered together since they both were concerned with the use of Chapter 90 funds from the state for highways. John Dolan, chairman of the board of selectmen, told the meeting that these funds could be used for the completion of Johnson road. The state and county will pay, under this law, 75c on every dollar for the construction of roads connecting towns. Mr. Dolan said that if Chapter 90 aid is not accepted now it might be difficult to get it later and that the county could order the completion of Johnson road at the town's expense. The meeting accepted the articles and authorized the project.

The building of new town ways was the subject of Articles 15, 16, 17 and 18. Article 16, the building of Cox road, was indefinitely postponed but the town authorized the building of Wright street, Hollywood road, Bushcliff Terrace, Sawmill Brook road, Polk road and Ravine road.

With favorable action on Article 19 the town voted to discontinue a portion of the layout of Swanton street temporary way and return the area to its former status with the exception of a portion retained as a town way to the disposal area. Mr. Joseph Tansey suggested at this point that it might be well to have charts and maps available at meetings in order that the members might know just which areas the latitudes and longitudes refer to.

WALLACE COOPER

Wallace Cooper, a retired Navy officer and former resident of Myrtle terrace, died suddenly Wednesday morning, March 26, at his apartment in Stetson Hall. He had been at the Hall only three week following a visit with his brother at Pensacola, Florida.

Mr. Cooper was born May 23, 1883, in Pensacola, Fla. He spent nearly all of his life in the Navy, enlisting as a youth and serving continually for 30 years, including active service in World War I.

For a short time after retiring he was associated with the Boston Edison Company, but during World War II he was recalled to service, finally retiring in 1943 with the rank of lieutenant. He was a Mason, a member of Solomon Lodge of Charleston, S. C., and was a past patron of Winchester Chapter, O. E. S.

Mr. Cooper married Estella (Quimby) Perry of Winchester January 1, 1912, and from that time made his home in Winchester. Mrs. Cooper died April 11, 1957. Surviving are two daughters, Octavia Cooper of Brookline and Mrs. William A. Syer of Reading; a son, Eugene Perry Cooper of San Francisco, Calif.; eight grandchildren, a brother, Richard Cooper of Pensacola, Fla.; and a sister, Mrs. Mattie Prine of Mobile, Ala.

Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, will conduct private funeral services. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

MAKES HONOR SOCIETY

Jack Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carroll of Bonad road, has been named to the National Honor Society.

A student at Malden Catholic High School, Jack is also on the school Honor Roll. He is an all around athlete, playing tackle on the football team, center on the basketball team and throwing the weights in track.

PRIZE-WINNING PLAY IN STATE FESTIVAL FINAL

Tonight at 9:10 the Winchester High School will present their prize-winning play at John Hancock Hall in Boston as part of the Massachusetts Drama Festival finals.

While the town was caught up in the frenzy of the basketball and hockey tournaments during the week of March 3 a group of talented young people left quietly for South Hadley on March 8 to compete in the preliminary round of the Massachusetts State Drama Festival. These students were engaged in competition as rugged as that of the athletic teams as they sought one of the finalist spots that would be given to 13 out of the 40 schools competing on that day in South Hadley, Amherst, Marblehead, and Cohasset.

The Winchester entry was the third act of "Blithe Spirit," a difficult play for even experienced groups. The cast consisted of both experienced and inexperienced players but they were determined to work hard to give the best performance possible despite the fact that rehearsal time was limited to just over two weeks. The other schools competing offered tough competition with such seasoned schools as Newton and Wellesley joined by Franklin, Wachusetts Regional, St. Mary's Central, Catholic High of Milford, and South Hadley.

The Winchester play was presented as the last play on Saturday afternoon. The cast really rose to the occasion and did a fine job which was evidenced by the audience's enthusiastic applause. However, the results were still to be decided by the three judges after the final presentation of evening performances by Franklin and the host school, South Hadley.

The cast enjoyed a fine banquet and returned to the auditorium for the last two shows which were followed by a dance for the students and a coffee hour for the directors while the judges were in session. At 10:30 p. m. the judges were ready to announce their decision and everyone returned to the auditorium. The first awards were made to the all-regional cast, which consisted of the best nine actors or actresses from the nearly eighty cast members. Winchester received three of these awards with Blanche Cartier as Elvira, Carolyn Hutchings as Madame Arcati, and Gregg Wood as Charles qualifying for this individual recognition.

The last award was the reading of the plays selected for the state finals to be held at John Hancock Hall on March 28 and 29. Winchester, Newton (Green Pastures), and South Hadley (The Imaginary Invalid) were returned as winners.

It is high credit to the entire cast that all three judges gave Winchester the top rating of "Excellent."

The judges were Dr. Inez Hegarty and Professor Clarice Tatman of the speech department of Mt. Holyoke College, and Mr. Howell K. Thayer, a former high school principal and an active community theatre member.

The Winchester play, cast and credits:

"Blithe Spirit" by Noel Coward, Act III, Scene 1 and 2
Scene: Living room of the Condomine's house
Scene 1: After dinner
Scene 2: Several hours later
Time: The present

HOLY WEEK AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

All Church School Classes will meet as usual at 9:45 a. m. Palm Sunday, March 30. The eleven o'clock Sanctuary Service will feature special music by the Choirs and Tenor and Soprano Solos. Rev. Walter L. Bailey's Sermon: "The Sword of the Spirit" will prepare us for the days ahead when we will celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ and declare Him alive for evermore.

A Declaration Service for all persons being Baptized Maundy Thursday will be held at five o'clock, in the Social Hall. The Call to Worship will be led by Judith Shepard; Prayer by Paul Hermann; Scripture by Carol Brink; "Your Decision" by Rev. W. L. Bailey and Words of Assurance from Dr. Cecil W. Pride, Chairman of the Diaconate Board and Mr. Joseph M. Dunn, Church School Superintendent. Following this Service there will be a supper, prepared by the Deaconesses of the Church, to which members of the Pastor's class, their parents, their church school teachers and superintendents, and members of the Diaconte Board are invited.

The Maundy Thursday Service, April 3, is always one of the most beautiful Services of our entire Church year. It will be held in the Sanctuary at 7:45 a. m. and will include Ordinance of Baptism; reception of new members; recognition for members baptized a year ago; memorial service for our departed members; remembrance service for those in the service of our country, and Observance of the Lord's Supper.

A Family Worship Service has been planned for ten o'clock Good Friday morning, April 4.

A warm welcome is extended to all members and friends of First Baptist Church to attend these inspiring Services.

THREE CAR COLLISION

Three cars were involved in an accident Sunday morning at 11:10 a. m. The accident was noticed by police officer Daniel C. Pearson, Jr. who was in the patrol car at the time. The scene of the accident was at the intersection of Main street and Lawson road.

The first car was driven by Louis W. Mian of 18 Chestnut street, the second by Mrs. Frances Dellovo of 4 Sargent road and the third by Nishan Yagjian of 20 Monument street, West Medford.

The car operated by Mr. Mian was making a left turn into Lawson road at the same time that the car driven by Mr. Yagjian attempted to pass the cars ahead of him.

No personal injuries were reported but all cars had some damage.

YOUR HEART

What does your diet have to do with your heart?

A new leaflet, "What We Know About Diet and Heart Disease," summarizing medical science's knowledge in this vital field, was issued today by the American Heart Association for distribution here by the Massachusetts Heart Association.

The leaflet—free of charge as a Heart Association service—was prepared in answer to many inquiries from the public. One of the knottiest of all medical problems—and the subject of scores of research studies—is the relation between fat and heart disease, and this aspect is given special attention in the leaflet.

But, as the leaflet emphasizes, it has not been proved that these fatty substances in the arteries are connected with the fat in our food. No recommendation can be made therefore that the general public cut down on fats as a means of preventing heart attacks.

This does not rule out, however, the prescription of special low-fat diets for individuals under regular medical care.

Low fat diets may also be prescribed for persons who are overweight. Overweight, the leaflet stresses, adds to the work of the heart and is a health hazard whether or not a person has heart disease.

Also discussed in "What We Know About Diet and Heart Disease" is the relation between sodium and cardiovascular disorders. Sodium is present in almost everything we eat, most commonly as table salt. In persons with some types of cardiovascular disease, doctors often reduce sodium in the diet to help prevent fluid accumulations.

The leaflet concludes by cautioning heart patients to keep these five points in mind:

1. "Good general nutrition is important for all." Eat a varied, well balanced diet and consult your physician when in doubt about what you should eat.
2. "Keep your weight normal." Your doctor can tell you what is normal for you.
3. "Do not put yourself on a special diet." You may not need a special diet and it may be harmful.
4. "If your doctor has put you on a special diet, follow it exactly." In dieting, don't make exceptions or go to extremes.
5. "Don't hesitate to ask your doctor for help if you have any questions about the diet he prescribs for you."

"Your health is much too precious to entrust to any person other than your doctor, and your body chemistry is much too delicate for you to tamper with yourself," the AHA leaflet says. "This is especially true if you have any kind of heart or blood vessel disease."

Copies may be obtained by writing to the Massachusetts Heart Association, 650 Beacon street, Boston.

WHY EARLY LAWN FEEDING IS VITAL

Lawn grasses are ready to grow as soon as the soil warms up to 38° claims Mr. Fred Felber, owner of Winton Hardware.

"This happens weeks before most of us begin to smell spring in the air. But if you really want a lawn that sparkles all year you have to get out early with Turf Builder," Mr. Felber told us today.

The early growth is especially important because it is "tillering" and rooting. Seems that tillering is what a grass man calls the business of pushing out a lot of sprouts close together.

"Lawns need that spring tillering to thicken up properly. It's an early spring job for the grass. We can expect the weather to be just right for it to start this year about March 31 provided that the grass has been fed its spring Turf Builder."

Mr. Felber went on to say that he'd advise prompt feeding, even for grass still brown and seemingly asleep. No harm done if late snow falls after you feed the grass.

"Better make the first application at double-rate if you like real early green-up," he suggested. "There's no danger of surge growth and extra mowing now that the chemists have figured out how to make Turf Builder so that it releases its food a little bit each day the way grass eats."

Feed newly seeded grass? Yes indeed. "Greatest thing you can do for it—speeds the day when you enjoy thick turf. Feed the same day you sow seed, and again every month the first year."

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

The evening of March 19 was most successful. The Women's Republican Club of Winchester was graciously welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin. The Republican men really joined the women this time. They were most welcome.

At 7:30 coffee was served by Mrs. Alfred Drew and Mrs. Herbert Darling. Others of the Social Committee who helped were Mrs. George French, Mrs. John Gilbert and Mrs. Arthur Haines. All enjoyed the informal meeting with friends and fellow Republicans. Mrs. Harper Blaisdell and Mrs. William Cusack poured.

The president, Mrs. Theodore C. Browne welcomed those present and we are sure that she was happy to see so many at an evening meeting. Mrs. Thomas Morison brought us up to date by the reading of the minutes.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman was introduced. Past president of the club, also chairman of Republican Town Committee, she is well qualified to speak for herself and also to introduce the speaker of the evening. This was the Hon. Christian E. Herter, Jr., announced candidate for Governor of Massachusetts.

Mr. Herter has served two terms in the legislature, is a member of the executive council and served three years in Washington as advisory assistant to the Vice-President.

The first subject covered was the fact that every vote counts. Never think that your vote is not needed. Some members of the General Court were elected and defeated by a very narrow margin.

The next topic Mr. Herter brought up was the urgent need for the Port Authority to be clarified. The New England coastal ports are suffering untold damage in trade because only politics enters into what should be a concerted effort of all. This does not mean extra taxes but business which all recognize is a necessity for New England.

Twenty companies are leaving Massachusetts because of its political climate. Can we afford to have this happen? Of course not! We need jobs for people not politicians. Millions can be brought into New England. This will help everyone.

Mr. Herter frankly answered the questions asked of him. Get out and work for Republicans every chance you have. All present had been enlightened on several subjects about which they did not know the facts.

The annual meeting of the club is to be held at the Winchester Country Club on Wednesday, April 9. This will be a luncheon meeting at 1 o'clock.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Miss Jane A. Robertson was one of the students chosen from Leslie College to attend the Eastern States Conference at the New Yorker Hotel in New York City. The Conference was held from March 19 - 22. Miss Robertson was chairman of Group I, pertaining to teacher-pupil relationship.

Miss Robertson has been president of her class during her freshman and junior years and is president this year of the senior class. She is a member of the Student Council and is listed in "Who's Who In American Colleges."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Robertson of 21 Fairmount street.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Florence Crittenton League will be held Friday, April 4, at 2:30 p. m. at Crittenton Hastings House, 10 Perthshire road, Brighton. The president, Mrs. Vera I. McKenzie, will welcome members and guests.

This meeting will be a splendid opportunity for friends of the Crittenton League to view the lovely new non-sectarian chapel which is filling such a long felt need.

The business meeting will include election of officers for the coming year and brief reports of the past years work.

Mrs. Lillian Bye, executive director of Crittenton Hastings House, will be the speaker. Any members who have heard Mrs. Bye will recall her dynamic personality and enthusiasm which stems from her extensive knowledge of her subject.

Tea will be served by Mrs. Ernest J. Wright and Mrs. Donald J. Lewis and their committee.

HARVARD CLUB HELD WINTER MEETING

The late winter meeting of the Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex was held at the Winchester Country Club March 20, with Dr. Sanford H. Moses presiding.

The speaker was Prof. Robert G. McCloskey who spoke on the overall effects on business which have followed various decisions of the Supreme Court. The address was splendidly received.

For the final meeting in May a Ladies Night is being planned.

KIWANIS NOTES

On Thursday, March 20, the local Kiwanis Club joined with the Gloucester Club at an interclub meeting at the Gloucester Tavern. Eighteen members of the local Club braved the stormy day and made the trip. The Club plans to ask Gloucester to a return meeting on April 2.

The gumball machine committee serviced the machines on March 15 and over $30.00 was collected. Several new machines have been added and new locations for them have been secured.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Once again the top three teams battled to a standstill as they each split 2-2. It wasn't as simple as it appears on paper for many a hero was crowned by each of these teams for their outstanding individual efforts when the chips were down and defeat seemed eminent. More about this later.

Georgetown met Holy Cross this week in a gallant battle befitting a roll off match. When the defeat of losing 4 points seemed almost absolute Jake Ciarcia, Holy Cross's lead off man, met the challenge for his team going into the last four boxes. This is how it looked on the score sheet, spare, spare, spare and to top off the last box a strike that shook the rafters as his teammates shouted with joy. This turned the tide for his team by winning the last string and the total by 7 pins. Lost in the commotion but not forgotten was the spectacular bowler of another great athlete of Georgetown the quiet spoken Mal Fiore who gave it the college try to take 4 points away from Holy Cross. His score read for the evening and for the records 331.

Another match that was closely observed was the battle of B.C. vs. St. Mary's. B.C. bowled 519 the first string averaging about 104 per to jump to a substantial lead of 33 pins. St. Mary's not to be denied roared back and took the second and third strings and was literally flying at the end as she almost took the total pinfalls but fell short by a mere 8 pins. The superb bowling of Pete Gilberti and Tony Saraco for St. Mary's almost turned the trick but Deadhorse Chefalo of B.C. bowling like the warrior of old that he was, paced his team with 318 and with wonderful support from his warriors to gain a split in the spoils.

With only two weeks left to go will Holy Cross fold up or go on to an ultimate victory to finish on top as she did the first half after a spectacular uphill battle which was capped off the final night of the first half.

We only had five 300 bowlers this week but many near misses. Those who did were Mal Fiore, 331; Tony Chefalo, 318; Dom Provinzano, 310 who is also a member of the Salem Lodge; A. P. Tofuri, 310; and M. J. Saraco, 307.

Notre Dame captained by Musky Tofuri was the team pin kings for the night with 1450.

Although they are embedded in fourth place at the present time this team has done remarkably well under difficult situations of which it had no control. It wouldn't be a surprise if they ended up in the play offs at the rate at which they are running down the stretch. This team includes M. J. Saraco a wonderful southpaw bowler, Richard Giacalone who has improved 100% since opening night, Phil Muraco the iron man of the team, Sam Bellino one of the town's all time great athletes and last but not least Tony Bardascino the boy from across the water who is really getting along with our way of life.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

Paul Lentine this week's lad
As a bowler, I guess quite bad
At bowling he's not made the grade
But plastering (walls) is his trade.
For this choice we have a reason
As he's the boss in the bowling season
We mean of course, he has his chore
He's the man that keeps the score
So keep them right, no errors please
And we'll never ask for your release.

End of week no. 26 and it hardly seems possible that time has gone by so fast. The banquet which has been carefully planned has been set for Saturday, April 26, at the Masonic Hall in town.

The winner of this week's award was that congenial Tamany Hall politician Sir Winston Frongillo.

See you next week.

MUCH ADO ABOUT BOYS

By Jack Chitel

In my time, boys used to wear knickers and long black-ribbed stockings that were forever falling down. At about the age of 12, your mother would take you to the local clothier for your first long-pants suit.

Ah, was it a clear-cut victory, a flags-flying symbol that you were now ready to put on the mantle of manhood? Nope. It was only half a victory—the two-pants suit had one pair of long pants; the other was knickers.

But what great pleasure was derived from stepping into those longies for the first time! It was a thrill that doesn't come to kids today because they are outfitted in long pants from the time they are walking.

But, because of the great changes that have marked the clothing business in recent years, I feel that boys now get the better of it as far as their clothes are concerned.

Today's boys and young men are clothes conscious and fashion-minded as never before with a desire to make an impression on the world around them. They like the Ivy League Look that comes in the form of neat, trim-lined gray flannel suits, striped sport coats and flannel blazers. They want their slacks with back straps; their shirts and sport shirts must be button-downs. Their ties and belts are striped or tartan in subdued tones; their outer-coat a knee-length full-cut cotton gabardine.

Put your little guy or high-schooler on the campus . . . better buy a score card because you can't tell the players apart without one.

Yes, it's a far cry from the days of the half-mast knickers and the sagging black stocking. If you don't believe it, look at a picture of Dad some 30 years ago. You'll probably fall down laughing!

WAKEFIELD SCHOOLBOY ROAD RACE APRIL 19

The Wakefield Daily Item's fourth annual schoolboy road race championship will feature Olympic champions Hal and Olga Connolly in a special exhibition on Saturday morning, April 19.

Hal won the Olympic hammer throwing championship in Melborune, and his wife Olga (Fikotova) of Czechoslovakia, captured the discus throwing title. Both will display their specialities in an exhibition prior to the senior road race.

The championship race, a three-mile event open to high school boys who have not reached the age of 19 on April 19, will begin at 10 o'clock. Showers and other facilities are available in Wakefield Memorial High. The race begins inside the high school athletic field located in the rear.

Twenty-two awards are up for grabs, including six trophies for the top runners, ten individual medals, and five medals and a large trophy to the winning team. The first place trophy is 24 inches high, the remainder are smaller according to position.

Applications may be obtained by writing to Meet Director Robert P. Dolbeare, Wakefield Daily Item Road Race, 26 Albion street, Wakefield. Closing date for applications is Monday, April 14, in the Daily Item office. There is no entry fee.

MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION

The Honorable Clement A. Riley, Registrar of Motor Vehicles and Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, calls public attention to the Massachusetts law requiring semi-annual inspection of motor vehicles. The first inspection for 1958 will be conducted during the month of April.

This law provides that every motor vehicle registered and operated on Massachusetts highways at any time during the month of April must be inspected and have displayed on the lower right-hand corner of the windshield the official green April 1958 inspection sticker on May one.

The official financial transaction sticker is the only other object which will be allowed on the windshield.

3100 official inspection stations located in every area throughout the state are ready to serve motorists who are urged to present vehicles for inspection early during the month of April.

DEBATES AT BOWDOIN

James A. Robertson, '58, represented Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity in the finals of the Wilmot Brookings Mitchell interfraternity debating competition at Bowdoin College which was held on March 19 in the Smith Auditorium in Sills Hall.

Dr. James S. Coles, president of the College, presided at the debate and awarded the Mitchell Trophy to the winning team.

Mr. Robertson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Robertson of 21 Fairmount street.

EDITORIALS

The Labor Department and newspapers have been discussing the Labor people's thinking that "stringers," or country correspondents, rate as employees subject to the Wage-Hours Act instead of the independent contractors that the newspapers have always considered them to be. The newspapers are afraid that a ruling placing "stringers" under wage-hours will destroy the long-recognized independent contractor status of stringer correspondents, and naturally do not want to be forced to get along without the valuable services these correspondents have rendered. Radio and TV broadcasters have asked the Labor Department to rule that "stringers" are independent contractors and not employees within the meaning of the Wage-Hour law. It would seem that there is much in their, and the newspapers' contractor contention.

Even the most economy minded must applaud the decision of the town meeting to do something to improve the deplorable condition of the Aberjona River. Winchester was originally known as Waterfield, because of the abundance of water in the district. Yearly the abundance has dwindled until there is little enough now to remind anyone of the first name of the town. We ought to keep what waterways we have left in good condition, and perhaps the work to be undertaken by the town will prompt the state to do something about that long straight ditch below the mill pond that once was the curving, tree-shaded, pleasant Aberjona, and the miserable reaches between Wedgemere and Bacon's Pond.

If there was any doubt that knowledge of the subject to be presented and proper presentation can go far toward streamlining our town meetings without new rules and procedures, Mr. Redding's remarks at the opening session of the current town meeting should go far to dispel it. Mr. Redding had evidently prepared himself adequately to discuss the matter of an executive secretary, knew exactly what he wanted to say and wasted no time in the saying. He needed extra time and got it as a matter of course. Anyone with something to say can always get a full hearing. If all town meeting speakers were as well prepared and as obviously convinced of the rightness of their argument, we wouldn't need to worry about meetings dragging. They wouldn't!

Since the last town meeting we have talked to a number of citizens well versed in town affairs who feel that the new assistant voted the board of selectmen at a salary of $5500 a year will prove a good thing for the town.

According to these advocates few realize the need both for closer cooperation among the town departments and greater availability of inter-departmental information. They believe this new assistant to the selectmen can promote both, and also he can do thoroughly much routine work now being done only partially by the selectmen, as opportunity presents, or not at all.

As one advocate told the Star, the selectmen cannot hope to do in one regular meeting a week what can be accomplished by a full-time worker. The decisions which only the selectmen can make are expected to be more easily and more quickly arrived at because of the preliminary work which their new employee will do.

We do not go along with the belief that this new employee is needed to advise the board on the purchase of equipment. They already have experts like the fire and police chiefs, and town engineer to advise them in this field, but we were impressed by contention on the part of the selectmen, finance committee and fiscal survey committee that things are at such loose ends at the town hall.

The Star opposed the hiring of an executive secretary under state statute, believing with Mr. Redding that the hiring of such an employee would be the first step toward a town manager. We have not favored the creation of the town manager form of government.

We are commencing to wonder, in view of what we have heard, whether a town manager might not be a good thing, though we must admit that much of the argument, first for the executive secretary and now for the new assistant to the selectmen, has been pretty general.

We still do not think we need a town manager, and if the new employee is going to give the selectmen the help they need to keep on running the town as well as it has been run in the past, we suppose the $5500 spent for his salary will be well spent.

We do wish we could forget the opinion of one former chairman of the board of selectmen that, shorn of his executive powers, the new employee is not worth $5500, and the doubt of another chairman of the board as to just what the new assistant can find to do. Both of these chairmen are of recent vintage and should know what the picture at the town hall is. Time will tell whether they are right.

GRAND OPENING WEEK OF NEW FIRM

The Len-Ed Motors at 925 to 955 Main street opened this week. Edmund Olson of Winchester and Len Sortino of Woburn are the co-owners of the new firm. They are shown in front of their office just opposite the new Telephone Building at Hemingway street. The grand opening ceremonies will continue through the week.

MR. EUSTIS' SERVICE TO WINCHESTER

Editor of the Star:

Last night at Town Meeting the meeting voted to accept, under Article 25, the gift of $1,000.00 from Mrs. Ernest Eustis in memory of her father-in-law, the late George Homer Eustis, a former Library Trustee.

Mr. Eustis was a member of the Board of Public Library Trustees from March 2, 1903, until his death on January 5, 1940. As I was a member of the Library Staff from September 1928 to July 1943, I feel that I would be remiss if I did not make some comment on Mr. Eustis' service to the Town of Winchester.

I can think of no better way to do so than by quoting from the Report of the Trustees of the Winchester Public Library for 1939.

"The Board of Library Trustees hereby inscribes upon its records its tribute to George H. Eustis, for thirty-seven years its chairman, who died in his ninety-fourth year on January 5, 1940. No elective officer of Winchester, since its incorporation as a town in 1850, has such a record of continuous service. But length of service does not measure his contribution to the library. Until his last illness he rarely missed a meeting of the Board. His service to the library was by no means confined to these meetings. It is doubtful if any unpaid public official in this town or any town ever devoted so much of his time to the task, always congenial to him, of administering the functions entrusted to him. When the library was in the town hall he was for fourteen years the Town Treasurer, and was thus in constant touch with it. When the new building was opened an office was provided for him, and much of his time was spent there. Thus he had unusual opportunities to keep informed of the needs and administration of the library. Outside of his home the library was his joy and life."

Thank you for permitting me space, in this my first letter to any paper, to comment on an outstanding citizen.

Very truly yours,
Janet Dewar Manzie

ON ALL-STAR TEAM

Florence Newton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roger H. Newton, of 26 Wedgemere avenue, has been named to the All-Star volleyball team at Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

All-Star players are selected on the basis of their performance in the annual volleyball tournament just ended. Six teams participated in the intramural competition this year, and Miss Newton was a member of the team which won the championship.

Miss Newton, a senior, is a member of the Blazer Club, honorary athletic organization.

NEW FIRM IN WINCHESTER

A new firm opened this week at 925 Main street named the Len-Ed Motors Company. The two engaged in the firm are Len Sortino of 10 Buttora road, Woburn, and Edmund Olson of 122 Wendell street.

Both young men have been associated in the automobile business, both new and used fields, and have had much experience in the art of selling automobiles.

The new firm is located opposite the new telephone building at the corner of Hemingway street in Winchester. A cordial invitation is extended by Len and Ed to their many friends to stop in and say "hello" during their grand opening week celebration now in progress.

JUSTICE SHOULD PREVAIL IN PRECINCT 1

Editor of the Star:

Recently facts came to my attention that have shattered my faith in our so-called American way of life. I feel that this situation should be explained to the voters of Precinct 1. All people who believe in fair play should be interested.

The episode to which I refer concerns nominating and electing people to fill a town meeting member quota when a vacancy occurs. Most of us know that town meeting members are elected to serve three years. Each precinct has 33 members, totalling 198 for the six precincts. On many occasions we have vacancies because of resignation or members moving from one precinct to another.

It is a known fact that I lost in my last attempt to be elected town meeting member in Precinct 1 by a single vote. I do not feel upset about that, because I am confident that if I had devoted a little time to my candidacy, I could easily have been elected.

What does irk me is the way certain town meeting members filled vacancies that occurred in the precinct membership since the election.

Proper procedure would have been to notify each and every town meeting member in Precinct 1 to meet on a given night so that a legal election could be held. I am informed that the first night an election was held seventeen were present. Others who would have been there were not notified. A newcomer, Tunecliffe, was elected.

The seventeen members present as good Americans, and because of past custom and procedure, should have considered E. B. Rotondi; the reason being that I was the next highest vote getter on the ballot after the successful precinct members were elected.

What was the reason the precinct members violated this neighborly custom? Was it because I am of Italo-American heritage, was it because of dislike, or for some other reason? I have pondered over this problem for many days, and I believe I now have the definite proof, which I will state later.

It is a well established fact that I for many years have served Precinct 1 faithfully, honestly and impartially. I challenge any one in town to state otherwise.

On Monday evening, March 17, the following precinct members were present at an election in Precinct 1: Mr. Lunt, Mr. Apsey, Mr. Hewis, Mr. Shields, William Foley, Mrs. Winn, Mrs. Morrison, Mr. Cleaves, Mr. Bund, Mr. Fritch, Charles Harrold, Mr. Parsons, Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Leavitt, George Deroo, Mr. Henry Clark and Thomas Preston. These are the seventeen members you will all know personally when they seek re-election, for the best interest of the town I feel they do not truly represent fair play, and therefore should not be re-elected. Exceptions to the names mentioned above are Mr. Apsey, Mr. Shields and Mr. Hewis. If any of the others care to further discuss the matter and prove I am wrong, I will gladly invite him or her to my home to convince me.

The group mentioned above met for another election Thursday, March 20, with Messrs. Bund and Lunt absent and Messrs Iannacc and Wyman as additions.

At this meeting fair play was thrown out entirely, for, I believe, in selecting this time, two new members, the selection should have been made from the original ballot of town meeting candidates. Custom, however, was disregarded here and new names were presented.

One so nominated, the wife of a present town meeting member, was elected. The prominent town official who nominated her stated to me that he has known her for years, and she is a wonderful woman and that he did not know her husband is a town meeting member.

This may be all right to hear, but the question to bear in mind is whether it is true representation to have husband and wife decide town problems. Usually one can easily influence the other. We have another husband and wife combination, Mr. and Mrs. Lunt.

I definitely am opposed to a husband and wife serving in the same group. Such procedure deprives another qualified member of the town meeting from serving.

The most important thought is, did this town official nominate a friend, or a qualified person who understands problems concerning the town? Why wasn't this person interested enough to have her name placed on the ballot in the town election?

I am sincere when I state that I have no regrets in failing of election at the polls, but I certainly am bitter at the methods employed by the group mentioned above to fill vacancies, because of a departure from a fundamental, basic custom, known and respected by good Americans everywhere.

My solution to prevent a repetition of the above procedure is that I will be back with reinforcement to clean house.

Eugene B. Rotondi

"WHAT FOOLS THESE MORTALS BE"

Editor of the Star:

Newspapers and magazines throughout the country advertise and exploit "filtered cigarettes" in a way to beguile the unwary and thus increase the sales of the habit-forming product. The good that smoking does is more than offset by the bad. Recently there has been a great increase in cigarette smoking, especially by children of high-school age and by women.

Beguiled by the charm of mimicry, youth becomes the victim of thoughtless deeds and injurious habits, influenced, sometimes, by the feeling it is the smart thing to do. Smoking is neither "victuals or drink," it has nothing the body needs, cigarette filters do not make smoking safe. The habit is dangerous and expensive. If the money spent for cigarettes and liquor could be diverted for the welfare of the people, all slums could be wiped out, all colleges endowed, making education free to all. There would be no dearth of school houses or lack of funds to pay teachers attractive salaries. There would be more worth-while achievement and happiness in the homes and better health.

An inhaling cigarettist who blows his smoke through his pharynx and out his nose may eventually become a chronic, snuffling, catarrhal individual; polluting the inhaled air which has been oxyginated for the lungs to purify the blood and maintain life which cannot exist without it. Thus the smoker harms himself, he does not get the pure air his Creator intended for him and becomes his own worst enemy.

No cigarette filter has ever been made by man equal to the one with which he is endowed at birth. The lungs of the human being's wonderful respiratory system removes the poisonous gas from the blood which the heart takes to it for that purpose, and removes it from the body by exhalation. This is followed immediately by inhalation of oxygen—impregnated air, which is essential to life, and is given to the blood by the lungs to be carried by the hearts to all parts of the body which cannot function without it. Thus the individual's respiratory system has a dual action, exhaling the bad, inhaling the good.

The cigarettist makes second hand smokers of abstainers who ride in closed cars or tarry in unventilated apartments with them, compelling their victims to inhale the bad breath of their thoughtless, misguided persecutors. The writer saw a woman in a closed, parked auto in Winchester, smoking a cigarette while she held an infant. On the opposite side of the street a man was smoking while holding an infant in his closed car while his wife was shopping in a nearby store. It is sad and disheartening to see the most lovable and helpless of our kind victimized by the thoughtless and careless cigarette smoker.

DORMOUSE OF ALICE'S TEA PARTY CARRIES ON IN MUCH OF OLD WORLD

The sleepy dormouse whose nose was doused with hot tea at the famous Alice-in-Wonderland tea party was no mythical creature out of Lewis Carroll's imagination.

Though Americans see the engaging little animal only in zoos, it is still very much alive in the Old World, where it rates variously as a nuisance or a useful source of fur and food.

The distinguished English poet and author, Robert Graves, was reported on a recent visit to the United States to be wearing a hat made of dormouse fur.

More Like Squirrel

With velvety coat and hairy or bushy tail, the dormouse looks more like a squirrel than a mouse, says the National Geographic Society. It belongs to the Muscardinidae, or Gliridae, branch of the big rodent family, and is found in England, continental Europe, Asia, and Africa.

The Common Dormouse is only about 5½ inches long, including tail. Larger species barely attain eight inches.

The drowsiness of Alice's tea-time companion was characteristic. Hibernating in winter, dormice may sleep as much as six months at a time, waking now and then to eat a bit of stored food.

Dormice are true hibernators. Their body temperature, breath, and pulse rate drop far below the metabolic state maintained by bears and other animals that merely sleep for long periods.

Dormouse young, however, like human offspring, are less interested in sleep. The youngsters, born in spring and autumn, continue to frisk about for a while before following parental example and seeking a tree hollow or other shelter for winter retirement.

When not hibernating, dormice sleep during the day and are active at night. They spend most of their lives in trees and bushes, where they build neat round nests of leaves.

They are fond of nuts, seeds, and fruits. Sitting up on their haunches, squirrel-like, they eat from their forepaws. They have five toes and four fingers.

Roman-banquet Fare

Dormice have been known from ancient days. Aristotle and Pliny wrote of them. Fattened on chestnuts, they were served at Roman banquets with honey sauce. Their fur was believed by some to be helpful in treating paralysis and ear diseases.

At various times and places, multiplying hordes of the animals have spread out to devastate gardens and farms. The descendants of a few European dormice introduced on an English estate half a century ago later became such pests that government and local officials joined to help control them.

Dr. William Mann, former director of the National Zoological Park in Washington, tells of hearing nightly noises in the rafters of an English home where he was staying in 1948.

Learning that the sounds were made by dormice, and remembering that his zoo had no such exhibits, he later arranged for a pair to be shipped across the Atlantic.

K of C COMMUNION BREAKFAST

On Sunday, March 23, a large delegation of Winchester council 210 Knights of Columbus held their annual Communion Breakfast by receiving Holy Communion in a body at the Immaculate Conception Church, after which a fine catered dinner was held in the church hall.

A parade under the direction of Kearin Dunn was composed of the following: a delegation of the colorful Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corps led by Bernie Boyle; uniformed members of the Winchester Fire Department, William J. O'Leary, and Charles Moran; uniformed members of the Police Department, William Nash, Roland Roy, Thomas Kennedy, John McHugh and James Cogan; followed by council officers and members.

Serving as ushers at the church were the following Fourth Degree members: Leo C. Thibeault, Charles L. Haggerty, Thomas Drapeau, Sr., Thomas Drapeau, Jr., J. Frank Dineen and Daniel O'Donnell.

The 8:30 a. m. Mass was celebrated by the council chaplain, Rev. Stephen E. Burke, who in his sermon praised the Knights on their fine attendance. He also pleaded for support of the Holy Week Ceremonies, stating that love for Christ should make the members want to attend them.

Seated at the head table in the hall for the breakfast were the following: the officers of the council; Grand Knight, Stergio Vangel, Honorary Chairman, Deputy Grand Knight, Charles T. Doucette, Jr., General Chairman, Chancellor Vincent McCabe, and Warden Kearin Dunn. The Clergy; Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, Rev. Stephen E. Burke, council chaplain. Guests; Mr. Thomas J. McArdle, guest speaker, Mr. John A. Dolan, chairman of the board of selectmen, Mr. Ronald J. Chisolm member of the board of selectmen, and past grand knight Luke Glendon.

The Invocation was given by Fr. Burke and toastmaster Charles T. Doucette, Jr., introduced those seated at the head table. Grand Knight Stergio Vangel gave the address of welcome and praised the members for such a fine showing.

A few words by Fr. Burke pleaded for the support of the K. of C. Guild for Exceptional Children at the Kennedy Memorial Hospital and announced that the new Research Center would be named in honor of the Knight of Columbus. He also advocated the reading of J. Edgar Hoover's book "Masters of Deceit" which exposes Communism in this country for what it really is. Fr. Driscoll, as pastor, welcomed the brothers and asked them not to fail to be loyal Knights of Columbus and true sons of the Church.

Mr. Thomas J. McArdle, the guest speaker, concentrated his talk on his association with the Massachusetts Crime Commission to which he was counsel from its inception to its end. He brought out how in his five years of association with the F.B.I. he gained thorough knowledge of Crime and how it operates. In association with this commission, Mr. McArdle pointed out the difficulties of crime commission work in relation to illegal gambling which by the way he said is a two billion dollar a year business. The reasons for organized crime rackets existing are tolerance and hypocracy. He also praised State Representative and Town Moderator, Harrison W. Chadwick for his untiring efforts in aiding, the crime commission in its work. A question and answer period followed.

Assisting in the organization of this affair were the following members not already mentioned above: publicity, Laurence A. Erhard; ticket chairman, John W. Mulrennan assisted by William E. Dailey, Vito Scaturro, Bart J. Conlon, Vincent F. Erhard, Timothy F. Sullivan, Neil Kerrigan, Edward Dalton, Edward J. Farrell, Anthony DeTeso, and Richard Fiore.

CUB SCOUTS VISIT STAR PLANT

Eight Cub Scouts under the leadership of Mrs. Evelyn Giacalone visited the office and printing plant of the Winchester Star last Thursday, March 19. The Cubs saw the various processes which are used in assembling a weekly newspaper and then watched last week's Star come off the presses and then saw the mailing process.

Scouts who made the tour were Anthony Shields, den chief, Frank Giacalone, John Doherty, John Buzzotta, Anthony Buzzotta, Kenneth La Velle, Kenneth Garvey and John Queen.

SENATOR CUTLER AT ZONTA CLUB

Members of the Zonta Club of Medford and their guests will participate in a buffet supper provided Tuesday, March 25, at 6:45 p. m. at the Parish Hall of the West Medford Congregational Church. Proceeds will go to the Scholarship Fund of the Medford Zonta Club.

At 8:00 p. m. following the buffet, the meeting will be open to the public. Any person may attend who would be interested in the panel discussion on "Women in a Men's World."

The panel includes Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham, who was elected to the Needham Board of Selectmen in 1924, and to the Board of Health in 1927. She continued in that office until elected a Representative to the Genarl Court in 1938, serving until elected to the state Senate in 1948.

Other members of the panel are Mrs. Beryl P. Kimball of Boston, Advertising Director of Boston Consolidated Gas Company, Lt. Mary Kirkpatrick of the Massachusetts State Police, only woman officer in the State Police; and Miss Matilda Weiss, Assistant Manager of the Real Estate Department of the Middlesex County National Bank.

The Moderator will be Mrs. Emily Flint of Medford, first woman Managing Editor of the Atlantic, and member of the Zonta Club of Medford. She is chairman of the club's committee on Public Affairs and the Status of Women. Miss Helen Forsyth of Stratford road is also a member of this committee.

Other Winchester members of the Zonta Club of Medford include Miss Hilda Hope of Glen Green, Mrs. Edith Huse of Church street and Mrs. Anna M. Price, owner of randall's.

RECEIVES SERVICE PIN

Mr. David E. Manning, 189 Forest street, recently was presented a service pin by Julian D. Anthony, president of the Columbian National Life Insurance Company in Boston in recognition of five years of service with that company.

Mr. Manning joined the Columbian National in 1953 and is now supervisor of the Life Claim Division. He received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from Boston University in 1952 and served with the United States Army Air Force from 1944 to 1946. He resides at the above address with his wife Mary and daughter Nancy.

I WAS THINKIN'

I ain't neva done no preachin' an maybe I shouldn't oughta start now, but peoples put on this earth to help each other an maybe we ain't all helping. There was a fello once, an he always said "All he ever knowed was what he red in the paper." He was sorta like Dizzy Dean only he was a cowboy. No maybe he was one of those actor folks, anyway his name was Will Rogers, an he always was wantin' to help people.

Well, I been readin' the STAR, an I no from reading it that there's some folk in Winchester always tryin to help people and that's good. but I was thinkin maybe there aint enough people helping the people that's wantin to help people. Now that aint good, so maybe we oughta do somethin about it cause nobody wants to sit around and be ashamed, now do you? So you call WInchester 6-4108. That's Larry Chase an he's a good fello and you'll like talkin to him, or ifin your wantin to you kin call Al Elliott, his numbers WInchester 6-0874. Now you know Al Elliott—sure you do, he's bin around town a long time, matter of fact he an Sid aint never lived no place else, so ifin Al's line's busy call Sid. Let's see now Sid's number is (PS—I said that kind a show offee like didn't I cuz I got this here telephone book right here in front o me) and Sid's no. is WInchester 6-2965. Well I'll be hog tied, I just gotta add another one of them there PSs. on account of Alfred's got 2 of them telephone numbers (PS—he must be one of them millionaires cuz the other number is WInchester 6-2171—Al's that is) Shucks I plum forgot to tell you what your callin for.

Well these fellows, and lots more like them, they belong to the Rotary Club here in town. Now this Rotary Club, they do a lot of good things for you an me n our children an just about everybody in town. There the fellows that built that place for the Girl Scouts up off North Border road. You go up an take a look at it some time an see if it aint just one of the nicest places for these Girl Scouts you ever did see. It aint no barn made over, its got one of them there fancy kitchens with everythin fer doin everythin that you read about in them fancy magazines. Its got one of them great big halls fer foolin around and playing games in, people now a days call em rekreasion halls. An the fireplace in this here hall, I'm tellin you, you just aint seen nothin like it. Another thing, some 20 or more girls can sleep here, not in this here rekreasion room but in rooms fer just plain sleepin. I aint up on these things but they tell me fancy folk call em dormatories. But you listen to me now and ifin your daughter had any fun up here as a girl scout you jest better get buisy on that telephone and call those Elliott boys and tell em what odds and ends you got kickin around the house that aint doin you no good. Cuz they'll pick them up right pronto and deliver them to Sid's Barn, that's on Pond street number 136 to be exact an that's where they keep everything until the Rotary Auction

Now see here you men of the house, if that son of yorn likes baseball, an he played in the Little League or the Babe Ruth League—yup, you guessed it, these here Rotarians what I been tellin you about— yes sir, they made it possible. Now just how much fun did that son have? Enough for you to get on that phone an call Dick Hakanson, his number's WInchester 6-1725. Dick's mighty nice fellow, shucks, maybe you even know him, lived here all his life, but ifin you don't know him I'll bet a dollar to the hole in a donut you know Eddie Cullen down at the news store. Right? Well now, you tell Eddie about all the things you aint havin any use for. Eddie kin pass the word and before you kin say Massachusetts Institute of Technology some Rotarian will be up to your place pickin it up an you won't never again have to worry about it.

Now that's the trouble with me thinkin an preachin—afore you know it I got half this newspaper used up an I aint told you half the things this here Rotary Club does. But I'm gona tell you this, you won't be putting your odds and ends or anything you want to donate on a slow horse when you help out cuz this here town is loaded with nice things the Rotary Club and its members have done. And there aint no limit to what they could do providin you help. But jest remember this, you aint got till eternity to do this. This here Auction happens in the Town Hall Saturday, April 12, 1958 so lets not dilly dally. An so as you won't, next time you'r down the center drop in and see Freddie McCormack, he's in that there drug store with the nice white front on it an you can also stop in an tell Charlie Kock at the Sport Shop—that's up there on Church street a little. Charlie's kin to Freddie—there Rotarians that is, an thats why they want everythin in your house that you don't want and got no use for.

Now in case you ain't on friendly speaking terms with these here fellows you kin always move out ov town but ifin you ainst so figurin to do that, you kin always call Hizonor the Mayer at WInchester 6-300. Now that there is an easy one to remember and Nick Fitz will see things are done right by you. But like I said, you aint got till judgement day cuz the Auction's April 12, 1958.

Then again maybe this is Judgement Day—"Tis Better To Give Than To Receive."

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Two cars collided on Ridge street last Friday at 1:25 p. m. near the intersection of Lockeland road. No personal injuries were reported but both cars were damaged.

Arnold G. Levenson of 30 Louise road, Belmont reported to the police that while he was driving north on Ridge street, about 100 yards south of Lockeland road, his car was in collision with one driven by Richard F. O'Brien of 9 Albemark road, Arlington.

The left side of both cars were damaged. The Levenson car was towed away but the other was able to leave under its own power.

It was snowing at the time of the accident and the road was plowed in such a way that it was narrower than usual.

Jotto refills now available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

On Monday, March 24, the last regular meeting of the season of the Fortnightly was held in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church at 2:00 p. m. the president, Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, presiding. Attendance was large, with many guests, as a favorite program was in order.

Tickets for the annual luncheon April 14, may be procured from Mrs. Bergquist who has to tell the Town Line how many to expect. Transportation can be arranged satisfactorily by Mrs. Strawbridge.

Legislation chairman, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, drew attention again to the question of bill-boards on our highways. A federal bill, Senate bill 3414, is now in Congress to control the advertising along our roads. One bill was defeated but she urged that if enough letters or wires are sent to Senators Saltonstall and Kennedy in support of this "Public Roads Bill," victory over the opposition may follow.

As chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Whitman then read the slate of officers and chairmen for the club's coming year.

After the flower collection was taken, Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, chairman of the literature committee, introduced Mrs. Marion K. Rudkin, whose book reviews never fail to be thoroughly enjoyable. She presents a selective list, choosing various types of books, and tells why they appeal to her personally.

From the first one, "Maggie-Now," by Betty Smith, she dramatized choice bits with her usual piquancy and humor. Then came "The Winthrop Woman" by Anya Seton, which she praised and discussed at length. She said it would be interesting to read Edward Morgan's "The Puritan Dilemma" (of the same period) following the other. Gladys Taber's "Mrs. Daffodil," really about her own life, was warmly described and Mrs. Rudkin told incidents involving the author herself.

Other stories recommended were Dorothy Stevenson's "The Tall Stranger," "Ice Palaa" by Edna Ferber, and "North from Rome" by Helen MacInnes. Brief sketches were given of "The Wine of Life" (biography of Balzac), "And the Price is Right" (about Macy's), "Boston Ways" by George Weston, Jr., "The Courage to be Happy" essays by Dorothy Thompson, "Kissing Cousins" by Emily Hahn, "Living Without Gloves," and "Please Don't Eat the Daisies."

Mrs. Rudkin has endeared herself to her audiences for many years. She always concludes her programs by reciting an appropriate poem; this time it was a delightful little nosegay, "I opened my window and in came Spring."

CUMMINGS THE FLORIST HOLDS EASTER FLOWER SHOW

Cummings the Florist of 42 Cambridge road in Woburn cordially invites everyone to attend the flower show which will be held at the greenhouse this week end and throughout next week.

The show will feature Easter lilies along with other spring flowers, azaleas, tulips, hydrangeas and hyacinths in all the glorious spring colors.

Cummings holds this show every year and it's well worth a trip to see the beautiful, fragrant collection.

PRECINCT 6 MEETING

At a meeting of Precinct 6 delegates before last Thursday's town meeting Robert J. Horn of 55 Wendell street was elected a town meeting member to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ronald J. Chisholm of 227 Cross street, who resigned following his election to the Board of Selectmen.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. McDonald was elected chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Ruth Enstrom, clerk.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY MET

The Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society held their fourth meeting of the year on Friday, March 20, at the Colonial Country Club. Mrs. Edward G. Thorpe, president, welcomed those present. Mrs. Charles A. Kane read the secretary's report and Mrs. John C. Anderson, the treasurer's. A tribute was read in memory of Mrs. Richard Dutton, one of our members who has recently died.

Mrs. Donald McLean reported for the Scholarship Committee that many applications were being received and that this year the Auxiliary would give two nursing scholarships.

Mrs. Dominic Runci reported on the Science Fair which will be held in the Winchester High School gymnasium on Saturady, March 29, from 1:30 to 5:00. Forty-one registrations have already been received and it promises to be a very interesting event.

It is jointly sponsored by the Middlesex East District Medical Society and the Women's Auxiliary to this Society. Prizes are being given by the Men's Society. The judges are to be a panel made up of doctors and laymen, among them Mr. Gilbert Merrill from the Museum of Science.

Mrs. Thorpe announced that the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Women's Auxiliary to the State Medical Society would be held May 20 and 21, and that the National Convention would be from June 23 to 27.

Mrs. Sigmund J. Sidlowski, chairman of the Nominating Committee read the slate for the 1958-59 officers as follows:

President, Mrs. Gerald E. Cummings, Wakefield
President-elect, Mrs. W. Morton Grant, Winchester
Vice President, Mrs. Leonard Wolsky, Woburn
Recording Secretary, Mrs. Charles A. Kane, Wakefield
Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Clinton H. Bagenstose, Melrose
Treasurer, Mrs. John C. Anderson, Stoneham
Delegate, Mrs. Charles A. Kane, Wakefield
Alternate, Mrs. Jesse F. Brown, Stoneham

Mrs. Bagenstose of the Program Committee then introduced Dr. James Wingate, speaker for the afternoon. Dr Wingate gave a very interesting and informative talk. His title was "Let's Talk Mental Health" and this he proceeded to do, leaving his audience with a much clearer idea of how those in this field of the practice of medicine handle the problems brought to them.

Those attending the meeting from Winchester were: Mesdames Barone, Du Toit, McLean, Benson, Wheeler, Runci, Garcelon, Bates, Gorham, Hickey, Ulfelder and Marks.

PATENT TO SPENCER

Earle F. Spencer, Jr., of Winchester, was the recipient on March 11, 1958 of U. S. patent No. 2,826,-383, entitled "Wire Mesh Conveyor Belt."

Because of their inherent heat and moisture resistant qualities, belts, made of meshed or crossed wires, are used extensively in factories as conveyors for food products, such as chocolate candies or cookies, when a coating of liquid or powdered material is to be applied to the product. One common belt of this type is made of individual strands which are formed in a generally zigzag pattern.

Although these zigzag belts have been used for years and have the desirable qualities of high flexibility and low cost, nevertheless, according to Mr. Spencer, there occurs a problem in joining the ends of the belt together to make it continuous or endless. Ordinarily a zigzag splicing strand is laced through first one and then the other of the respective end strands of the belt until an effective interlocking action is achieved along their lengths. However, this procedure involves an appreciable amount of time, skill and labor; and even if the utmost care is taken, it is virtually impossible to do the job without distorting the splicing strand to some extent. This is undesirable because it tends to weaken the splicing strands at the joints.

It is the object of Mr. Spencer's invention to overcome this limitation and thus he has devisesd a novel method whereby the ends of the aforementioned type of wire conveyor belt may easily be joined together. In particular, he provides a novel splicing strand which is formed with a number of individual wire segments that are laid end-to-end and have the same overall configuration as all of the other strands in the belt. Provision is made for special coupling sleeves that link adjoining segments of the splicing strand together, and the arrangement is such that considerable time and labor are saved in assembling the belt for use.

This patent has been assigned to Wire Belt Company of America, Winchester.

FOODLINER AIDS MORGAN MEMORIAL PROJECT

Morgan Memorial officials yesterday announced that IGA Foodliner, Burlington, will aid their program to collect discarded or repairable clothing and shoes.

The clothing and shoes will provide jobs and training for 325 handicapped people at Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries, Boston.

Shoppers at IGA Foodliner in Burlington, will take home their groceries in special Goodwill bags this week end.

A message on the bags will request that they be refilled with no longer needed clothing and household goods and on the shoppers next shopping trip to IGA Foodliner deposit in a large, wooden, collection box, in the parking area especially provided for that purpose.

Mr. George Kolovson, manager, pledged the full cooperation of his entire staff.

Papermate, Sheaffer's, Parker, Esterbrook, and Scripto pens and fillers available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

WINCHESTER SCIENTIST ADVISES EGYPTIAN ENGINEERS

PROF. TERZAGHI AIDS NASSER'S DREAM DAM DIGGERS

Prof. Karl Terzaghi of Robinson circle, soil expert at Harvard and the University of Illinois, has been appealed to by the engineer in charge of plans for the erection of the $600 million dollar dam which Gamel Abdel Nasser hopes to erect to harness the waters of the Nile at Aswan in Egypt.

Posing the principal problem for the Egyptian engineers is the exceedingly soft bed of the Nile. Can this soft sandy soil support a three-mile stretch of masonry 185 feet high, with seventeen times the bulk of the Great Pyramid of Gizeh?

The apparent answer is no! You can not erect a structure of such size and weight on sand. Cleaning the sand out and building on rock would be the obvious solution, but the sandy layers go down 600 feet to rock bottom. Nothing daunted by Secretary Dulles' withdrawal of United States aid to the project, the Egyptians have set up a five man board of advisory engineers to see if a solution can not be worked out.

On one side there is the German firm of Johann Keller of West Germany. It proposes to create a bed for the huge dam by jabbing a huge steel needle into the Nile. From the needle powerful jets of pressurized water will be driven into the sand until a depth of 100 feet is reached.

At this point the needle will shake, shimmy and wiggle, in theory at least packing the sands around it tight and hard. Thereafter concrete is to be pumped down into the needle holes and out into the sand cracks created by the mobile needle. With thousands of such holes filled with concrete the German scientists say the Nile bed will be made hard enough to hold the load of the proposed dam.

Dr. Terzaghi contends there is a faster, cheaper way to harden the Nile's bed. He proposes the use of high explosive gelignite. Instead of filling the Nile's bed with spikes of concrete Dr. Terzaghi suggests a series of heavy underwater explosions which he claims will jolt the whole layer of sand into hardness.

Chief Engineer Achmed Said Ibrahim, with five dams to his credit up and down the Nile, says the Terzaghi method will cost $9.5 millions; the German method, $14 million. He naturally wants to be sure the Terzaghi method will work so the friendly duel of theories goes on.

Dr. Terzaghi has written engineer Ibrahim:

"If the Nile's sand can carry 156 kilos (366 pounds) on every square centimeter at 40 meters (about 132 feet), the dam will not sink."

On engineer Ibrahim's decision rests the hopes of millions of land-hungry Egyptian farmers.

MORE WATER THIS YEAR

Winchester has been building up its water in storage this winter and particularly during the last two week ends when there were several days of wet heavy snowfall mixed with rain.

On the week end commencing Friday, March 14, a total of 2.25 in. of rain and snow fell in Winchester. There were 1.99 in. Friday, .19 in. Saturday and .07 in Sunday.

Commencing last Thursday 1.71 in. of rain and snow fell; 1.26 in. Thursday, .39 in. Friday, and .06 in. Saturday.

Total rain and snowfall for the two week ends was 3.96 in. and this has brought the amount of water in storage in the town's reservoirs to more than 526.08 million gallons, which is 15.6 million gallons over full reservoirs.

As of March 17 both the North and South Reservoirs were overflowing and the Middle Reservoir was down only six inches. On St. Patrick's Day this year Winchester had 234.8 million gallons more in storage than at the same date in 1957.

GOAT MEETS GOONS

Mrs. George Reed opened her spacious hill-top home on Monday last to the Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A.

A goodly number turned out to hear Winchester's own Mrs. Howard Wittet, expert "handler" of children and animals, of Forest Crest Farm School.

"Never steal from them again" was the notation neatly recorded in the chicken thief's note book. A band of thieves who had been terrorizing N.E. poultry owners was rudely surprised by a butting goat when they attempted to rob what they supposed to be the Wittet chicken coop. The goat (with a mind of its own—and horns too) resided there instead! Mrs. Wittet's informative and amusing talk was most delightful. "She should write a book," every one agreed.

A sumptuous tea followed featuring hot sandwiches!

A "field trip" on April 15 (Tuesday) to Angell Memorial Animal Hospital in Boston is the Winchester group's next project. Members and friends are to meet at 9:45 at the home of Mrs. Fred Cardin, 8 Copley street. Coffee will be served, after which we will drive in for the tour. The party will return to Winchester for lunch at the Country Club.

COMPLETES COURSE AT ABERDEEN

Pvt. Edward R. Ardini, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Ardini of 69 Salisbury street, recently completed the eight-week metal-working course at the Army's Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Ardini entered the Army last October and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

He was graduated from Winchester High School in 1957 and was employed by Dick's Atlantic Service, Medford, in civilian life.

BOOKS WANTED

Donations of used paper-back, pocket-sized books are requested from the general public for the "Book Basket," second new project launched this year by the Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

Co-chairmened by Mrs. Donald L. Birchall of Winchester and Miss Norma Charles of Reading, this new volunteer service at the Winchester Hospital will bring a selection of paper-back books once a week to hospital patients. These books will be given with the compliments of the Friends to be read in the Hospital or finished at home.

The committee hopes all interested in Winchester Hospital will contribute some of these inexpensive little books which they have enjoyed reading; classics, romantic novels, mysteries or westerns. They have already proven popular, especially with men patients.

Donations may be left in Winchester at Converse Market or Hevey's Drug Store.

BUILDING FUND SALE

The young people of the Winchester Unitarian Church are the recipients of a brand new dollar bill which they were challenged to make grow for the new Church School building. Over 250 young people have been involved in the project. Many interesting enterprises have been initiated by these young people. Chores, baby-sitting, running birthday parties, making home-cooked and home fashioned goods for sale are some of the projects.

On Saturday, March 29, from 10:30 in the morning through the noon hour, the young people will hold a sale in the church Library Room. Sandwiches and cold drinks will be served at noon.

Student notebooks, paper and dividers at the Star office, 3 Church street.

The meeting accepted Article 20 and set up the renovation of the town hall. A total of $18,000 has been set aside to install offices in the basement under the assessor's offices. A previous meeting turned down the request for a new town hall, and this article is a step toward renovation of the present facilities. While it may be possible to include the board of health and school department in the auditorium at a later date, this present step will give needed room now and will not interfere with the overall plan which may be presented later on a piecemeal basis.

Sumner Andrews reported on the building committee for the Johnson road-Ridge street school. This report, Article 21, found that school facilities on the West Side hill will eventually be too small but that there is no immediate need for a new school. The rate of new construction on the hill and the number of school children in that area did not, in the committee's opinion, create an immediate problem. The meeting voted that the committee be kept in a "watch-dog" capacity.

Probably the most lively debated article was Number 22, which concerned the question of building a new school. The committee asked for $3,000 to use in consideration of a site for a new junior high school outside the center. The building committee, whose report was in the Star last week, felt that the best method of solving the school situation was to build a junior high for 500 pupils outside the center. Kingman Cass asked that it be made clear that the main reasons the new school was recommended rather than the connection of the two present schools were educational rather than for any reasons connected with the blocking of Main street. The request was accepted by the meeting after much debate.

Article 23 concerned authorizing the school committee to establish and maintain state-aided vocational education. This was turned down in 1957 and again this year. The question was whether or not the courses taught in the adult education program which would qualify for this aid were actually vocational courses as taught in Winchester.

Under Article 24 the meeting voted $27,019 for renovations to the library. Nearly a third of this amount is to be spent for maintenance, an expense which has been postponed because of the possibility of an addition to the building. Under Article 25 the gift of $1,000 by the late George H. Eustis for the benefit of the library was accepted by the meeting.

The report of the new waterways committee was accepted and the committee was continued. The town also authorized the board of park commissioners to dredge and improve the Aberjona River from Swanton street through to the Mill Dam Pond and assumed liability for all damages incurred during this work as required by law. In the acceptance of this article, the town appropriated $12,500, of which $3,700 is to be transferred from the unexpended balance of the new waterways budget. The state will pay for the rest of the work.

Patrick Foley sought to amend the motion, adding that the town should remove the top step of the Mill Dam near the Converse Bridge. The amendment was defeated. John Shanahan of the park department said that his department felt that the dredging of the river would be sufficient to alleviate wet cellars in the Winter street-Shore road area. If dredging is not enough, the town could remove the step later at the cost of about $2,000.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:50 p.m.

FIRST ADJOURNED TOWN MEETING HELD

Actually, practically all the budgets were accepted without debate, and it wasn't until after the 10-minute recess period at 9:30 that much of any argument occurred.

Mr. Dolan and Mr. Broadhurst explained that an item of $18,000 in the fire department budget was to purchase a new pump to replace Engine 3, in service since 1925.

Mr. Hewis offered a substitute motion under the health item, asking the same amount as that sought by the board of health but seeking a breakdown of expense items substantially in accordance with the itemized budget filed by the board with the town accountant.

In support of his substitute motion Mr. Hewis felt that the board, and other departments, should be limited in their spending to the items for which they seek funds and to the specific funds asked for each item. He said that the board of health had not adhered in their expenditures to the items in their budget as filed with the accountant and also they had gone against the express vote of the last town meeting that refused their request for an appropriation for a sanitarian. He felt that there is too much leeway in departmental budget items and that the money voted departments should be spent for what it was appropriated by the voters.

Mr. Dolan opposed the substitute motion, so did Mr. Greer and Dr. Benson, chairman of the board of health, who explained some of his departmental budget procedure, especially the building of a burning cage at the town dump and the hiring of a part-time sanitarian on a contractual basis, stating in the latter instance the town meeting had denied the hiring of a full-time sanitarian, but actually had suggested that the board try to share such a man with other communities on a part-time basis. He said, both the town counsel and finance committee had concurred in the hiring of a part-time sanitarian on a contractual basis.

Mr. Broadhurst for the finance committee felt that holding a department to expenditures exactly in accordance with its budgetary estimates could very possibly result in larger budgetary requests to provide a leeway for emergencies. He opposed Mr. Hewis' substitute motion which was lost on a voice vote.

Under the planning board item Mr. Bonnell traced something of the history of the planning board, stating that Winchester was one of the first towns in the commonwealth to accept the planning board act and the only town with several cities to be chosen by the National Resources Planning Board for study in connection with long-range capital planning.

He felt that Winchester is the town that it is because of the pioneering done by the early members of the planning board and that the increased cost of the board's activities, due to the increasing complexity of its work, is justified by the results obtained.

Mr. Bonnell mentioned the value of subdivision control to the town as administered by the planning board and explained the need for the assistance and value of trained experts hired by the board in its administration of its planning program.

After the recess Mr. Dolan asked the meeting to accept the selectmen's budget of $17,886, which included money to hire a man to assist the board and other town departments at an annual salary of $5500.

The speaker said the board had accepted the previous meeting's action in denying it the right to hire such a man as an executive secretary under the state statute, but stated that the selectmen need the help that such a man is expected to give and asked the meeting to provide the funds to hire him.

Mr. Dolan assured the meeting there would be no delegating of selectmen's authority to the new encumbent, but he did stress the fact that the board needs more help in the field of research, coordinating, visiting other communities and generally attending to certain multitudinous duties that the selectmen, all of whom work for a living, cannot find time to undertake.

Mr. Bacon moved to amend the motion introduced under the selectmen's item, by reducing the amount voted from $17,886 to $14,484, reducing the personal service item from $11,441 to $8,039, to eliminate the new employee.

No one spoke in favor of the reduced figure, and both Mr. Broadhurst and Mr. Bonnell opposed it. Mr. Broadhurst stated the finance committee, from its personal experience, believe such a man as the Selectmen propose to hire is vitally needed at the town hall, that he will help the selectmen to do a much better job, and that he will make available to the finance committee information that will be most helpful and which is now unavailable.

Mr. Bonnell stated he was opposed to hiring an executive secretary under state statute, but that he was not opposed to granting the selectmen all the help they need to do their difficult job better. He opposed Mr. Bacon's amendment. None of those who had opposed hiring the executive secretary at Monday's meeting spoke Thursday evening and the Bacon amendment was lost on a fairly close voice vote, considering the amendment's total lack of vocal support. The original budgetary figure was then voted.

The highways budget, postponed until after the recess, was considered next and passed as presented, without debate.

The final debate of the evening came under the $1,336,362 budget of the school committee, though there was little actual opposition to it.

Mr. Hooper, chairman of the school committee, stated that the largest item in the budget was for personal services and explained that a raise had been voted teachers in advance of town meeting because of the fact that the committee was finding it virtually impossible to attract desirable teachers to Winchester under the 1957 pay scale and step-rate increases.

The speaker told the meeting that at Framingham Normal School all of the top half of current graduates were under contract when Winchester went to talk to them, and that most experienced teachers were no longer interested in what Winchester had to offer salarywise.

Not only was the hiring of teachers becoming difficult, Mr. Hooper said, but several of our good teachers, especially of high school grade, had been approached to leave Winchester and go to other systems. The committee hed felt a raise in pay was absolutely necessary to secure good new teachers, and perhaps, more important, to keep the better teachers we now have.

Despite the raise to the teachers and the hiring of several new teachers the Winchester school budget went up this year only 10 percent as opposed to the 14 percent which is the median rise for a large group of cities and towns used for comparison.

Under the new rate Mr. Hooper said a woman teacher with a bachelor's degree will advance from a minimum $3800 to a maximum $6200 in 11 steps instead of starting at $3514 and advancing 13 steps to $5490. A man teacher with a bachelor's degree will start at $4100 and advance to $6560 in 11 steps instead of going from $3850 to $5826 in 13 steps.

Mr. Hooper said the raise granted teachers amounts roughly to 7½ percent, and Mr. Hewis felt that the teachers' raise should be the same six percent the other town employees were granted.

Mr. Carroll asked Mr. Hooper to give the exact pay raises the teachers are to get under the new schedule, not maximums and minimums or percentages. He was not, he said, opposed to the teachers' raises but as a tax payer he felt he had a right to know what we are paying the teachers.

Mr. Hooper, after an attempt or two to understand just what Mr. Carroll wanted, said he did not have the figures requested. Mr. Carroll wanted to know why, but did not learn.

Mr. Hewis volunteered to give the figures and did so in some detail, reiterating his belief that the percentage of raise for teachers should be reduced from 7½ percent to 6 percent to coincide with the other employees' raise.

Mr. Twombly prefaced his remarks by stating he is a student of government and especially interested in civic affairs. He said he believed that the school committee, despite their sincere convictions, had erred in voting a pay raise without the sanction of the all-supreme town meeting.

He said he did not oppose the teachers' raise, but did ask the meeting to vote down the school committee's budget and this done, vote back the self-same figures as a matter of principle. He made no motion and the banging of the gavel brought an end to his remarks. The meeting was calling for the question, and the appropriation asked by the school committee was voted by a voice vote. The meeting adjourned a minute or two before eleven o'clock until Monday evening, March 24.

RED CROSS THANKS VOLUNTEERS

During the months of January and February, 339 loyal volunteers gave time and effort unstintingly to the work of the Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross. Last fall, volunteer solicitors raised the funds during the United Fund Campaign which are now supporting our work. You volunteers give your time to be trained, and than loyally staff the ten services of the Red Cross. Without your faithful every day service, there would be no Red Cross to come to your aid in time of disaster.

Mr. Royce H. Randlett, chairman of the Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross, and Mrs. William C. Cusack, executive director of the Winchester Chapter, extend their warmest thanks to every individual who has helped the Red Cross in any way during the first of the year. They also urge that those people who have free time to give to the Red Cross, and who have not yet volunteered, call WInchester 6-2300 or come to 84 Washington street between 9:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. Mondays through Fridays, to offer their services.

The Red Cross thanks the members of the Canteen, including Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, Mrs. Bradford Bentley, Mrs. Kingman P. Cass, Mrs. Raymond Dickman, Mrs. Charles F. Euler, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. George W. French, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, Mrs. Harrison G. Wagner, Mrs. Robert B. Williams, and Mrs. John B. Wills.

Gray Ladies who have worked at the Bedford Veterans Hospital include: Mrs. Malvern Gross, Mrs. Eva Twombley, Mrs. M. Seddon, and Mrs. Henrietta Wilson. Mrs. Mary Copley and Edna Wild have also worked as Gray Ladies during this period. At the Winchester Hospital, Gray Ladies who have given their time include: Mrs. Wolcott Merrow, Mrs. George Martin, Mrs. Roy Wilson, Mrs. George Neiley, Mrs. Richard Riley, Miss Helen Niedringhaus, Mrs. Chester Fox, Mrs. Doris M. Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Hilton, Mrs. Whitelaw Wright, Mrs. Gordon Chandler, Miss Constance Davy, Mrs. William Lippman, and Miss Nellie Ralph.

Among the registered nurses who gave service to the Red Cross during January and February were: Mrs. W. G. Wiklund, Mrs. Howard Bates, Mrs. Albert Parker, Mrs. Donald McLean, and Mrs. Mary Hall.

Active Nurses Aides during this period were Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Mrs. George Field, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscoe and Mrs. Kendall B. Way.

Miss Natalie Jewett, Mrs. Mary Downes, Mrs. Edith Godwin and Mrs. Josephine M. Ferri have worked for Home Service.

Junior Red Cross members who have worked loyally at the new Chapter House include: Dick Burns, John Cleary, Edmund Crotty, Tommy Dolben, John Edmands, Vicky England, Lee Ferazzi, Pat Garvey, Edward Horne, Bill Jonah, Jan Keyes, Lawrence O'Clair, and Randy Randlett.

Among the Staff Aides working during January and February were: Mrs. Margaret Ashenden, Mrs. Vivian England, Mrs. Caroline S. Fitts, Mrs. Marion Gowdy, Mrs. Betty Hammel, Mrs. Esther Harris, Mrs. Margaret Hawkins, Mrs. Sadie Horne, Mrs. Doris Lippmann, Mrs. Rebecca Meigs, Miss Helen Monroe and Mrs. Doris Shanklin.

Knitters for the Red Cross were: Mrs. Mary Whelan, Miss Hannah Butler, Miss Sands, Mrs. Stratton, Mrs. Alice Higgins, Mrs. Margaret Gaines, and Mrs. Pearl Kinney.

Making surgical dressings at the Red Cross during this period were: Mrs. Pearl Belville, Mrs. Avis Clifford, Miss Marion Pond, Mrs. Helen Ramsdell, and Mrs. Marjorie Wagner.

The Symmes Corner Surgical Production Group included Mrs. Robinson, Abbott, Mrs. Clinton W. Bennett, Miss Ruth Dustin, Mrs. George S. Hebb, Mrs. Robert F. Lybeck, Mrs. Waldo V. Lyon, Mrs. Denton W. Randall, Mrs. Richard W. Wyman, and Mrs. Wayne Davis.

The members of the Sewing Group of the Winchester Unitarian Alliance who have worked on Surgical and other production included: Mrs. Reginald F. Bradlee and Mrs. Everett F. Kidder, chairmen; Mrs. David Boyd, Mrs. Clifford Birch, Mrs. Charles Carter, Mrs. F. W. Cary, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. A. M. Duquette, Mrs. J. F. Fitzsimmons, Mrs. E. O. Our records show that, during January, 19 motor corps drivers gave 45 hours of time, and drove 476 miles. During February, 16 motor corps drivers gave 57½ hours and drove 639 miles. Motor corps drivers during this period included: Mrs. Janet Barnes, Mrs. Agnes Bixler, Mrs. John Coulson, Mrs. Wayne Davis, Mrs. John T. Donovan, Mrs. J. J. Doyle, Mrs. Edward M. Feeley, Mrs. Everett Goss, Mrs. Rogert A. Griffin, Mrs. Harold A. Twombly, Mrs. Ralph Sexton, David Griffin, G. Y. Hills, Denton Randall, Carl Richmond, Lawrence Smith, and Charles Watson.

The 130 volunteers who gave blood at the January Bloodmobile Day, and the 56 workers who staffed the day and solicited blood from Winchester residents, have been previously thanked, but are also included in this Salute to January Volunteers.

Directors and Service Chairmen, active during January and February, included: Mrs. H. Dudley Bradlee, Mrs. Kingman Cass, Mrs. George Field, Mrs. J. Edward Downes, Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, Mrs. William E. Ramsdell, Mrs. Olcott L. Hooper, Mrs. George A. Marks, Mr. Austin Broadhurst, Mr. Roland R. Carter, Mr. Charles W. Craven, Mr. William Davies, Mr. H. Rushton Harwood, Jr., Mr. Oscar E. Merrow, Mr. Royce H. Randlett, Mr. Carl G. Richmond, Mr. Stanley W. Osgood, Dr. Roger Burgoyne, Mr. Lawrence Smith, Mr. Earle Spencer, and Mr. George M. Neville.

Red Cross Water Safety

Mr. George Neville, Director of Water Safety reports:

"One of the more important nationwide activities sponsored by the American Red Cross is its swimming program. Across the country each year many hundreds of lives are lost because of lack of swimming ability and knowledge of fundamental water safety rules. Reducing the number of these fatalities is the goal and to do this, the Red Cross has developed an organized swimming instruction schedule for from very young children up to and including adults. The courses are set up as follows:

1. Beginners
2. Intermediate
3. Swimmers
4. Advanced swimmers
5. Junior Life Saving
6. Senior Life Saving
7. Instructors

"Each course has its own objectives and as the individual completes the requirements of a particular course, a certificate is awarded. Any boy or girl who can go through steps 1 - 6, above, is certainly well qualified.

"In addition, the Red Cross encourages competitive swimming and considerable time is devoted to training young swimmers who show promise as champions. The Red Cross is in no small way responsible for the splendid achievements of our Olympic swimmers in international competition.

"Locally the Winchester Red Cross sponsors all of the classes mentioned above (with the exception of the Instructor's Course) each summer at Leonard Field Pool. Instruction is handled by Mr. Joseph F. Burns who will have charge of the program in Winchester this year for the sixth consecutive summer.

The Winchester Red Cross swimming program is absolutely free of charge and is available to each and every local youngster.

LWV NATIONAL PRESIDENT VISITS WINCHESTER

Winchester had the honor last week to be host to the national president of the League of Women Voters. Mrs. John G. Lee of Farmington, Conn., League president for four consecutive terms, was a guest at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lee of Calumet road, comparative newcomers to Winchester.

Mrs. Lee was in Boston primarily for a luncheon meeting last Thursday, March 20, at the University Club. The meeting was arranged by the Boston League of Women Voters with the World Trade Center as co-sponsor, and Mrs. Lee spoke on "Trade Agreements 1958."

The Trade Agreements Act is before Congress again for a five-year renewal next June, and the battlelines are already being drawn. There is bi-partisan support for the Act at high levels, but it is a hotly controversial topic throughout the country, and nowhere more so than in New England.

The League has stood squarely behind the Trade Agreements Act since 1936, believing that it is in the overall national interest despite some regional business dislocations.

On Friday afternoon the Winchester League of Women Voters held a tea for Mrs. Lee at the home of Mrs. Neil Borden, last year's president of the League. In addition to the present board members of the League many past presidents of the Winchester League and many presidents of Leagues of surrounding towns were present to meet this nationally known speaker.

The League's hospitality committee headed by Mrs. John B. MacLellan served delicious refreshments and the Winchester League's past presidents served as pourers. Among them were Mrs. Howard Aiken, Mrs. William Davies, Mrs. William C. Cusack, and Mrs. William E. Spaulding. Mrs. Rodney Long, a past president who is now the Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts League, was also present.

Mrs. Lee's busy schedule called for a television appearance Friday night when she was interviewed by news commentator Louis M. Lyons on Channel 2 at 6:45. She discussed with Mr. Lyons the League's intense interest in the renewal of the Trade Agreements Act as "one of the sturdiest columns supporting our capitalist economy," to quote Eric Johnston, Advisor to the President on Trade and Aid.

In the light of Mrs. Lee's visit it is appropriate that the Winchester League is holding a special one-session unit meeting April 1, to discuss international trade. Material for the meeting is being prepared by Mrs. Edward Rendall, International Relations chairman, and her committee. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Mead, 10 Mt. Pleasant street, at 7:45 p. m. and all League members are urged to attend.

HOME EXTENSION COURSE STARTS

Tuesday afternoons, from 1:00 to 2:30, starting April 1 and each succeeding Tuesday afternoon in April, Winchester homemakers will be discussing Managing Family Finances. The course is offered as part of the Middlesex County Home Extension Service and is open to all homemakers, free of charge.

Tuesday's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elliot Swanson, 59 Middlesex street. Those planning to attend should call her at WInchester 6-4874.

Miss Barbara Higgins, state specialist in family economics will start the series. She is on the Extension staff at the University of Massachusetts.

Winchester homemakers who are planning to attend this five lesson series are: Mrs. Patrick Cosgrove, 16 Cox road, Mrs. W. Dunbar Dexter, 63 Middlesex street, Mrs. Warren Eldridge, 20 Winslow road, Mrs. Clifford England, 275 Main street, Mrs. Edward S. Lord, 30 Winslow road, Mrs. Frank Strong, 326 Highland avenue, and Mrs. Golder Ware, 32 Stevens street.

HOSPITAL FRIENDS BRIDGE

Many more parties have been planned to take place on tomorrow afternoon and Friday evening, when the Friends of the Winchester Hospital will sponsor their annual Telephone Bridge parties.

Handsome prizes will be awarded, and the response to this spring project has been most enthusiastic. Among those entertaining on Thursday afternoon will be: Mrs. Josiah E. Bacon, Mrs. Albert Kajander and Mrs. Warren E. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Atwood will entertain Friday evening.

Assisting Mrs. Richard Preston and Mrs. Richard B. Small in planning the parties are Mrs. Samuel E. Perkins, II, and Mrs. Richard Schroeder.

DARLING SPEAKS ON ROCKETS

Bradford H. Darling of 150 High street, former director of the Microrocket Laboratory at M.I.T., will deliver the final lecture in a month-long series on "The Chemistry of Rockets" at the Museum of Science today at 4:00 p. m.

The lecture series, co-sponsored by the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society, the New England Association of Chemistry Teachers, and the Museum of Science, has been held for the benefit of high school teachers of science in the Greater Boston area.

Mr. Darling will speak on "Study of Rocket Combustion with the Microrocket." He will show slides and movies.

A question and answer discussion period will follow the lecture.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Winchester Historical Society will be at the Red Cross headquarters on Tuesday, April 8 at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Francis L. Ball of Cambridge, a retired utilities executive, will give a most entertaining and unique program entitled "Toys on Parade."

Mr. Ball has been collecting these rare toys as a hobby through the years, and is such an authority that Mrs. Webb, the millionaire owner of Shelburne Museum in Vermont, had him set up the museum collection after he had ascertained that each was as perfect as possible and in working order. It is fascinating and amusing to see Mr. Ball make the toys do their clever tricks.

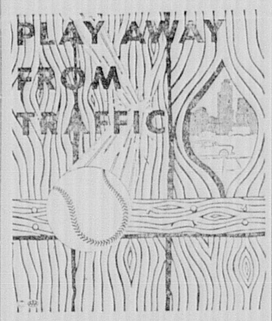
A CAPPELLA CHOIR

OUTSTANDING MUSICAL EVENT

An outstanding musical event will take place on March 30, at 7:00 p. m. with the presentation of a concert of Sacred Music by the Philadelphia Bible Institute Chorale at the Church of the Open Bible, Montvale avenue, Woburn.

The Chorale consists of more than thirty-five voices, representing 10 states. Under the direction of Professor Gordon A. Curtis, the members of this a cappela choir, which last year enjoyed such success in its Easter concert tour through six states, will again blend their voices in a program of notable variety ranging from stately anthems to simple Negro spirituals and hymn arrangements. Interspersed in this program will be selections by vocal ensembles and individual artists. Special interest is added by the personal testimonies of these young people as to why they are attending Philadelphia Bible Institute and how and where God is leading them into Christian service.



WINNER, THIRTEENTH AAA TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER

The Committee of Safety Chapter D.A.R. met at the home of Mrs. Harold Twombly, and after a coffee hour and dessert the meeting was called to order by the Regent Mrs. Hiram F. Moody.

Miss Gretchen Mueller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Mueller, a senior of Winchester High School was presented the award of D.A.R. Good Citizenship for possessing outstanding character qualifications, namely—Dependability, Service, Leadership, Patriotism.

This award is sponsored each year by the D.A.R. to an American citizen of the Senior Class in the high school.

Two delegates and four alternates were elected for the Continental Congress in Washington, D. C., in April.

Mrs. Hiram F. Moody, Miss Louise Bancroft, Delegates.

Alternates, Mrs. Ray Clifton Ellis, Mrs. Herbert Darling, Mrs. Earle Erickson, Mrs. Raymond Terhune.

A program of colored slides of Historic Places, given by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Symmes followed the business meeting. The pictures were most educational and enjoyable.

LT. PEEL PROMOTED

Lt. Jeanne F. Peel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Peel of Pickering street, has been promoted to lieutenant commander in the United States Navy Nurses Corps.

Lt. Comdr. Peel is stationed at the Portsmouth Navy Yard and will complete 15 years of service as a Navy nurse in May. A graduate of St. Mary's High School, she took a postgraduate course at Winchester High School and trained at the Boston City Hospital.

During World War II and the Korean hostilities Lt. Cmdr. Peel saw active service in the Pacific Theatre.

H. GARDNER BRADLEE

ON HARVARD COMMITTEE

President Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard University announces appointment of H. Gardner Bradlee, of 46 Lorena road, Winchester, as a member of the Greater Boston General Appeal Committee of A Program for Harvard College.

The Program aims to enlist support of the 12,000 Harvard College alumni in Greater Boston in raising $82,500,000 to strengthen undergradute education at Harvard.

Mr. Bradlee, who received the S.B. degree from Harvard College in 1940, is vice-president and secretary of the Cambridge Trust Company. He is also vice president of Robert Morris Associates, New England Chapter. Mr. Bradlee was recently elected a selectman in Winchester. He is a member of the Cambridge Club, the Harvard Faculty Club and the Harvard Club of Boston.

KIWANIS NOTES

The Winchester Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a coffee sale during the period of March 15 to April 30.

Proceeds of the sale will be used to assist financial requirements needed to continue present activities of the Club, such as hospital bed program, school milk program, children's fishing derby, Christmas toys project, Little League, Dodger's club, and other town activities.

Purchase of Kiwanis sponsored coffee will greatly assist the Club in continuing such worthwhile activities.

An interclub meeting was held with the Gloucester Kiwanis Club Thursday night with a splendid attendance of Winchester members.

The Winchester Kiwanis Club has a very high rating in interclub activities for this section. Another interclub meeting is scheduled for April 2, with Edward Powers as speaker and is certain to prove very interesting to all who attend.

Activities of Winchester Kiwanis Club scheduled for the remainder of the year 1958 should have the active participation of entire membership to assure a very successful year. There is a great need for new members who will take an active part in assistaing in carrying out the very active worthwhile local program of assistance established by Kiwanis.

Kiwanis builds! Help Kiwanis build, purchase a pound of Kiwanis sponsored coffee during this coffee sale, call any Kiwanian, and help the Kiwanis program help others.

LITTLE LEAGUE NOTES

Now that spring, is officially here we see the future Ted Williams, Warren Spahns and Charlie Gehringers working out again on the various playgrounds around town. The shouts and cries of happy excited youngsters will once again fill the air as Tommy and Johnny try to outdo each other. Here and there among the boys one sees a proud and perspiring father trying to teach his son and other father's sons the fine points of baseball. He is probably a Little League director doing some extra curricular work.

This is the beginning of competitive sports for these youngsters. This is where they learn to play together as a team, to help one another, to get along with others, to learn the lessons of good sportsmanship and fair play, how to win and how to lose gracefully. Yes, these fathers and others like them from now through the hot days of May, June and July will be giving of themselves, giving up early vacations, eating late dinners so that these youngsters may receive the benefit of their collective knowledeg and in this way contribute greatly to the making of the future citizens of tomorrow on whom depends the future of our nation. Yes, here character is built.

OPEN MEETING ON HOUSING PLANS

For men and women who want to consider new living arrangements as they grow older, Senior Living, Inc. will hold a second open meeting to explain its housing plans on Thursday, April 3, at two o'clock, at the Bostonian Hotel, Boston. The Hotel will be the site of the new housing enterprise and under the management of Senior Living will be known at eleven hundred and thirty-eight Boylston street. It is located at the corner of Boylston street and Hemenway street and can be reached very easily from the MTA Massachusetts Station.

The future eleven hundred and thirty-eight Boylston street will provide individual suites with private baths, a community dining room and staff on duty 24 hours.

At the present time, Senior Living has an option to buy the Bostonian Hotel. It will finance the purchase from subscriptions made by persons who wish to become residents which will cover the cost of the suites they wish to occupy. The plan will become a reality if enough people become subscribers to the plan. Future residents will also pay a monthly charge to cover the cost of meals and operating expenses. A brochure describing the plan may be obtained from Constance Williams, clerk, Senior Living, Inc. 264 Boylston street, Boston 16, telephone KE 6-5651.

HOLY WEEK AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Beginning this coming Sunday, which is Palm Sunday, the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will be conducting special services up to and including Easter. The Paston, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will be preaching at the 11:00 a. m. service on the subject "What Shall We Do With Jesus?" Music will include "The Palms" by Faure and "Jerusalem" by Parker.

At the 9:30 Church School hour the church school classes will meet together for a special service conducted by the young people. Mr. Robert Needham and Miss Jane Snook will be sharing in the message.

There will be a special service at 8:00 p. m. on Maundy Thursday commemorating the sufferings and death of our Lord. There will be a reception of new members and the Preparatory Class of young people will take their vows in joining the church. There will be an observance of Holy Communion.

Two services will be held on Easter Sunday at 9:30 and 11:00 a. m. A special message and Easter music will climax the program of Easter as we meet together in remembrance of the Resurrection of Christ. Services are open to the public and a cordial welcome is extended.

NEW TRAFFIC SIGNS

"YIELD RIGHT OF WAY" TO BE GIVEN TRIAL

A new traffic regulatory sign will be introduced soon on Massachusetts' state highways.

State Public Works Commissioner Anthony N. DiNatale today announced that "Yield Right of Way" signs will be installed in special locations for observed trial. Later, when standards are adopted by the M.D.P.W., cities and towns will be granted permission to erect them.

The sign is triangular with each side measuring 30 inches in accordance with uniform traffic laws approved by the American Association of State Highway Officials and adopted by the Bureau of Public Roads. The color combination is black lettering on a yellow background.

The purpose of the new sign is to further provide for the safety and convenience of the motoring public at intersections, particularly where high speed ramps and mainline express roadways join at which points "Stop" signs are not needed.

Traffic entering from the right at any intersection not marked with a "Stop" sign has had the protection of the right-of-way law. The "Yield" sign will transfer the responsibility of entering a highway safely to the motorist entering from the right.

"The 'Yield' sign does not replace the 'Stop' sign by any means," Commissioner DiNatale emphasized. "Its purpose is to regulate traffic movement so that stopping will be minimized, if not eliminated. The effect of the sign is similar to that of a 'Stop' sign, but vehicles controlled by it need not come to a full stop except when necessary to avoid interference with other traffic that is given the right of way," DiNatale explained.

The selected locations for installation of "Yield" signs will be on the largest and most modern cloverleaf interchanges throughout the State.

The testing period will require about 90 days with standards being adopted within six months.

YW WIVES

The Boston YWCA's popular organization for young married women and mothers, YW Wives, will offer new programs in gardening, golf and the arts to its members in a session at the YWCA beginning at 9:30 Tuesday morning, April 8.

New members will be received by the Wednesday evening YW Wives group at 8:00 p. m. April 2. Courses offered will be modern dance, figure control and swimming. Winchester residents interested in this group may contact Mrs. Richard Mitchell at KEnmore 6-7940.

The Tuesday series of lectures in the arts will cover the theater, painting, high fidelity recordings and book reviews. The course in gardening will incorporate care of lawns and shrubs as well. These courses will be in addition to the popular ones in swimming and exercise.

The 9:30 general assembly hour, which is followed by coffee time at 10:30, will feature a new program on entertaining, including table settings, decorations and party menus.

Interested Winchester women may call Mrs. Edward Conners, WInchester 6-1662 about the Tuesday morning program.

"58" VAUDEVILLE

"Around the World in Eighty Days" will be the theme of the 1958 Vaudeville Show to be presented at Winchester High School on April 18-19. This year's program is under the capable direction of Mr. Thomas Morse, and his co-director, Mr. John McLaughlin. This will be the twenty-sixth year this show has been presented and it will consist of approximately thirty-five acts, with a few specialties.

A well-known act in the vaudeville is the Poniettes. They will do "Tip Toe Through the Tulips," representing Holland. The girls, Pam Bailey, Ann Buros, Joyce Connell, Linda Gagliannella, Madelyn Mouradian, and Janet Wehman, are progressing very rapidly under the instruction of Miss Keady.

For a flash of color and lively action, the sophomores contribute a Mexican hat dance. There are five girls and five boys in the act, David Bates, Donny Brown, Sandy Bruno, Verna Carlson, Debby Donovan, Sue Fox, Dale Grinnell, Bobby Pazzo, Danny Roketenetz, and Vickie Souchek. Debbie Donovan keeps everything in hand during the practices. This dance is an old stand-by, but the sophomore group will give it a new twist.

Carlene Johnson, who is following in the footsteps of her two older sisters and older brother, will do an acrobatic dance to a Russian tune. This is something everyone looks forward to seeing, because of her previous successes in vaudeville shows.

The freshmen always provide good entertainment, and this year Nancy Fessenden and Lynne Pettingell will do a humorous takeoff on a harem dance. Self-directed, they have made a great deal of progress and should be a hit.

Then there is the Hindu dance, "from India." Eight girls participate in this act, Ann Cumming, Susan Du Toit, Gail Lever, Joyce Reardon, Kathy Reed, Marianne Scarpaci, Charlotte Syders, and Diane Wholly. Susan DuToit is the organizer, and Miss Vivian Bold helped the group.

One of the senior acts will be the Viennese waltz. This will consist of four couples, Stephie Hersey and Klaus Ritter, Sally Kimball and Donald Beck, Brenda Cunningham and David Harkins, and Mary Weldon and Joel Peckham. We are proud to say that Klaus Ritter, our foreign exchange student, is the director of the dance.

Back to America for a novel dance act, "Daisy," done by sixteen junior girls, under the observant eye of Binky Clark. The girls are Susan Black, Frances Bosselman, Betsy Buckley, Binky Clark, Judy Ghirardini, Judy Hanley, Carolyn Kirk, Carol McLean, Sherrie McNeil, Sandy Mueller, Jane Overacker, Carole Poor, Ann Porcaro, Paula Schiraga, Ann Smith, Donna Woodcock, and Donna Violante. This number was once performed by the June Taylor dancers.

This year's Vaudeville should prove to be "the best ever" and those who have seen the Vaudeville in previous years know what this means! Plan now to attend.

LIBRARY NEWS

THE BOOK OF POPULAR SCIENCE

To enrich its science collection and to keep abreast of recent developments in the field, the Public Library has recently added to its Reference Collection a new edition of the "Book of Popular Science."

This general science reference set contains information not usually found in the general encyclopedias and it brings together in one place science information which could only be found in many scattered places. In simple language, it explains scientific material, tells how science influences everyday life, and clarifies current scientific developments.

There are ten volumes in the set with a general outline of science in volume 10. Each volume contains approximately the same subject groups but the subdivisions vary in each volume according to the aspect of the subject treated. The main groups in each volume are as follows:

The Universe—Industry
The Earth—Transportation
Plant Life—Communication
Animal Life—Science through the Ages
Man—Society
Health—Household Science
Matter and Energy—Projects and Experiments

The Book of Popular Science will promote interest and stimulate reading in other science fields for the beginner, the budding scientist, and for the average student.

Overdue Books

The Public Library's celebration of National Library Week with a "No-Fine" Week was a great success. Many overdue books were returned, some of them due a number of years ago. During the week, the oldest outstanding book returned was due in 1953. Others returned were due in 1954, 1955 and 1956. In some cases the books returned have been in constant demand. These books had been presumed lost and because they were out-of-print, the library could not easily replace them.

A Record Circulation

During the last few months, the circulation of books, magazines, records and other materials has steadily increased. A record was set last Saturday, March 22, when 1,229 books and other materials were circulated during the day. This includes 724 circulated in the Adult Department and 505 in the Boys' and Girls' Room.

JUNIOR HIGH GROUP ENTERTAINS

On Sunday evening, March 23, the Junior High C.E. of the Second Congregational Church had as their supper guests the members of the Senior High C.E. Following a delicious buffet supper, the devotional part of the meeting was conducted by members of the Junior Group. Colored slides were shown by Mr. Charles Brownell, and the evening closed with a period of fellowship.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brownell are the Junior Group sponsors, and the Senior Group is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kent. Parents of both groups assisted at the supper.

Can you deny the warmth of Janey's smile? She is one of 132,395 crippled children throughout the United States,, including 554 crippled children in Massachusetts, who benefited from Easter Seal rehabilitation services last year. Goal of the 1958 Easter Seal campaign of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handcapped is to bring a smile to the faces of the many other children like Janey who hopefully look to tomorrow without braces. The $375,000 statewide campaign continues through Easter.

PEE WEE CHAMPIONSHIP SUNDAY

Belmont All Stars, carrying two Winchester boys on their squad, beat Melrose 3-2 in the semifinal round of the New England Bantam Pee Wee Hockey Tournament at Lynn Sunday.

Belmont will meet Lynn at 7:00 p. m. this Sunday for the championship. The game originally scheduled for 6:00 p. m.

Lynn beat Weymouth to gain the final with Belmont. Rod Wild of Winchester played an outstanding game in the goal for Belmont and Kent Parrot of this town was high scorer for the All Stars, with a goal and an assist.

The game to decide the New England title should be a thriller to watch. Hockey enthusiasts from hereabouts will be assured of a good show by these boys 13 and under.

MRS. ALICE D. BADGER

Mrs. Alice D. Badger, wife of Erastus B. Badger and formerly for many years a resident of Winchester, died Thursday morning, March 20, at her home in Oyster Harbors, Osterville. She had lived in Osterville for the past 10 years.

Born March 29, 1896, in Beacon, N. Y., Mrs. Badger was the daughter of Peter and Isabel (Drumgould) MacShane. She and Mr. Badger were married in 1920 and for nearly 30 years resided in the Badger homestead on Prospect street.

During World War I Mrs. Badger volunteered her services as a nurse and served until the end of hostilities at Camp Green, Charlotte, N. C. During the Second World War she gave unsparingly of herself at the Winchester Hospital. She was active socially, both in Winchester and Oyster Harbors.

Mr. Badger's business took him often abroad and she had traveled with him extensively, having many friends in England and upon the Continent.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Badger leaves two daughters, Mrs. Sally B. Munsill and Mrs. Mary Jane Dempsey; also five grandchildren, four sisters and two brothers.

The funeral was held Saturday morning with requiem high mass celebrated at Our Lady of the Assumption Church in Osterville. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

ALBERT M. HORLE

Albert M. Horle of 3 Cliff street, retired electrical engineer and veteran of World War I, died early Monday morning, March 24, at the Winchester Hospital, following a year's illness.

Mr. Horle was born in Boston, November 26, 1880, spending his boyhood and receiving his early schooling in that city. In 1903 he enlisted in the United States Army, spending three years with the Signal Corps in the Northwest.

While in the army Mr. Horle studied electrical engineering, and upon his discharge he worked on high power electrical installations in many parts of the United States until 1908.

In that year he went to the Canal Zone and worked on the Panama Canal from its earliest construction, working especially on the big power station at Gatun and on the laying of under-water cables.

He was one of the first to see the need of unionizing the Canal workers and took a leading part in organizing the electrical workers into the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, now an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor. In recognition of his efforts he was feted upon his retirement by the Union and presented with a handsome testimonial plaque, suitably inscribed.

In May of 1918, Mr. Horle left the Canal Zone to enlist in the 37th Corps of Engineers during World War I, seeing active service in France. He returned to his work at the Canal Zone after his discharge and remained there until he retired in 1939.

At that time he built a home in Tenafly, N. J., spending his winters in Florida and California. In 1943 he came to Winchester and had since made his home here with his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Goddu.

Mr. Horle made friends easily and had many in Winchester of all walks in life. By nature warm and kindly, he was devoted to the members of his family and had a liking for people that was reflected in the liking every one had for him. His hobbies were traveling, his camera, (his collection of slides were the envy of many devotees,) and railroads, an interest he maintained throughout his lifetime.

Mr. Horle was a Scottish Rite Mason, a member of Sibert Lodge in the Canal Zone, William Parkman Lodge, Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, Medford Council, Reading Commandery, Knights Templar; and Aleppo Temple of the Shrine. He was a member and past Commander of American Legion Post 2 in Panama, a member of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion; Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Panama Society of Washington, D. C., Railroad Enthusiasts, Inc., and the Winchester Unitarian Church.

On July 23, 1930, Mr. Horle married Margaret S. Woolnough, who died January 7, 1942. Besides the niece with whom he made his home, he leaves a niece, Miss Marjorie H. Bradford of Winchester; and a sister, Mrs. John Wolf of Montclair, N. J. He was the brother of the late Mrs. Rosina Bradford, for many years a well known resident of Winchester.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church, the Masonic ritual being used by the minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer. Military honors were accorded by Winchester Post, A.L. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

METCALF UNION

The concluding meeting in the course on "Facts of Life and Love for Teenagers," sponsored by Metcalf Union, the high school group at the Unitarian Church, will be held at the church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Robert A. Storer will speak on "The Spiritual Side of Love and Marriage."

Preceding sessions have included presentation of a Social Hygiene Association film and discussion groups led by four Winchester doctors.

Metcalf Union members are busy working out details of programming for the rest of the year. Plans include an outing in May in addition to a Federation meeting in Belmont the second Sunday in April and meetings here. All this activity is in addition to Mr. Storer's Bible Class, which the group attends every Sunday morning.

Dean's list appointments for the winter term at Northeastern University of students who have attained an academic average of "B" with no grade below "C" were announced today by Gilbert G. MacDonald, Northeastern's Dean of Students. Among those named for the term just ended are: Paul E. Franson, 216 Pond street.

PRE-EASTER PARADE

The storm which caused the delay of Malden's giant pre-Easter parade has given the parade planners an opportunity to bring bigger surprises to the many spectators.

The extra week will allow time to add more events and make the parade more spectacular than was originally planned.

"Big Brother" Bob Emery will still be the main attraction for the small fry and he will be aided by Mr. Easter Bunny. Melvin Fletcher of Malden will also be on hand to ride his high-wheeled bicycle to the delight of the crowds all along the parade route.

By parade time, Saturday morning, March 29, the many marchers will be ready to bring thrills and surprises to all parade lovers of the area.

Colorful clowns and marching animals will be on hand to help Mr. Bunny make his pre-Easter parade a great success.

Jotto refills now available at the Star office, 3 Church street.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

This coming Sunday, March 30, the Senior Fellowship of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will begin a new series led by Mr. Robert Blaney, the youth minister. The new series will be about the book and movie "Eight Great Days," and shall be covered in two or three weeks.

Last Saturday, 21 members of the fellowship and 9 adults all went to the social union meeting at the College Avenue Church in Somerville. A dinner was served after which there was entertainment given by the "Jaguars," a calypso band. The following Sunday the fellowship once more set out, to Malden this time. Aprille Godwin, a member of the fellowship, was voted, among other officers, as publicity chairman of the Lynn district. Within the past two weeks the Senior Fellowship basketball team has played two games with Somerville, 62-52; Broadway Methodist, 64-64; College avenue Methodist.

WILLIAM GURRISI

OPENS AT STEUBEN'S

William Gurrisi of 26 Kirk street took a major step toward eventual stardom in the entertainment field when he opened an engagement at the Steuben Vienna Room, Boston.

Gurrisi, a graduate of Winchester High School, has been singing locally for many years at various charitable and fraternal gatherings. He has studied voice under the direction of Miss Margaret Ray of Arlington and is now studying with Edward Witlow, of Belmont.

Famed orchestra leader Tony Bruno, is guiding and directing Gurrisi in his professional career.

TOO BUSY TO PRAY

"Of course, I believe in prayer. But I'm just too busy," somebody said the other day. I wonder if that doesn't sum up in one sentence what is wrong with our present day civilization. We need God, we want to pray, but we're just too busy.

Well, believe me, if there is no room for God in your life, you are too busy, and you'd better straighten out your life.

But, I think that the problem with most of us is that we make prayer too formal a matter. We think that we must take time out from living, find a holy place, and, as the young people say. "Make a production number" of prayer.

But God never intended prayer to be so formal that we would not find time for it. It should be as natural and as easy, as breathing itself.

Just this week I have been reading of the life of General Stonewall Jackson, and the important place that prayer held in his life. Here is what he said about it: "When we take our meals, there is grace. When I take a drink of water, I always pause to lift up my heart to God in thanks and prayer. Whenever I drop a letter into the box at the post office I send a petition along with it for God's blessing upon its mission, and upon the person to whom it is sent. When I break the seal upon a letter, I stop to pray to God that He might prepare me for its contents, and make it a messenger of good. And so on, through the day."

Cannot we do the same? Why not try tomorrow to see how many chances you can find during the day for a brief, informal word of thanksgiving or intercession. You, too, will find that it is possible to "pray without ceasing."

ART ASSOCIATION

The April meeting of the Art Association will be held Tuesday evening, April 1, in a new place—the Children's Room in the Public Library at 8 o'clock. At this meeting there will be on exhibition the work of local artists whose pictures have been selected by a jury consisting of Alice Reynolds, Ruth Cobb and Lawrence Kupferman. During the evening Mrs. Elizabeth Lobingier and John Ottiano will discuss these pictures which have passed the jury. There will be a popular vote for the three best pictures and the results will be announced before the close of the meeting.

On the following day the exhibition will be moved into the Library reading rooms where the selected pictures may be viewed by the general public throughout the month.

The members of the Art Association are urged to bring their children and friends to the Artists and Craftsmen Fair in the gymnasium of the High School on Friday evening, April 11, from 7 to 9 while the artists are working and to stay for the auction which begins at 9 o'clock.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

INVITATION TO PARENTS

Mothers and fathers of 8th grade and Senior Girl Scouts are invited to join the girls at an important meeting at the cabin tonight, Friday at 7:30. Plans for the 1959 Roundup at Colorado Springs will be discussed. Slides of the last Roundup will be shown. Mrs. Charles Meyers, a member of the 1956 Regional Roundup committee, and Mrs. J. P. Eugley, former Roundup chairman of Burlington Co., N. J., and currently Winchester's Selections committee chairman, will be present to head up the discussion of current plans. All parents of the girls of these troops are urged to be present: Troops 5, 32, 2, and 10.

Troop 2 Capping Ceremony

Senior Troop 2, led by Miss Martha Daschbach, R.N., of the New England Deaconess Hospital, recently held a capping ceremony for one of its members. Troop 10, also Seniors, were invited guests. Judy Powers received her cap and a Red Bar pin for thirty hours of volunteer work at the Winchester Hospital. Red Bar pins were also given to Mary Ann Morgan, Linda Nelson, and Linda Watkins. The guest speaker, Miss Gracia Halliday, R.N., of the New England Deaconess Hospital, gave a very inspiring talk on nursing as a career. At the close of the ceremony refreshments provided by Troop 2 members were enjoyed by all. The program was planned by the girls, with Catherine Oliver, president of Troop 2 in charge.

Troop 28 Visits Telephone Office

Seventeen Brownies of Troop 28, Mystic School, with their leaders, Mrs. George T. Dyson and Mrs. Ralph Jarrendt, and Senior Aide, Ann Dyson, paid a visit to the Winchester office of the New England Telephone Co. Meeting at the school, they hiked down together. The Brownies were introduced to the large switchboard and observed the role the telephone operator plays. This is one of the few manually operated offices in the Boston area. The highlight of the visit came when each Brownie was allowed to place a call to her own home. The troop wishes to thank the supervisors and the operators at the local office for the well organized and informative demonstration.

The following Brownies were present: Susan Biase, Cynthia Cichy, Gail Covino, Edith Crabtree, Marguerite Dyson, Alma Fontaine, Mary Ann Hill, Dara Jarrendt, Diane Larson, Mary T. O'Leary, Ellen Porter, Jane Sewall, Penny Sibley, Karen Swanson, Paulette Taggart, Mary Ann Ucello, and Ildiko Vargo.

Outdoor Activities Course

The third session of a very practical and informative course in outdoor activities will be held at the cabin on Tuesday, April 1, at 9 o'clock. The following are attending: Mary Lou Eugley, Mary Looney, Evelyn McNally, Frances Bogue, Alice Kimball, Marguerite Carlson, Mary Louise Lunt, Shirley Negrin, Rita Benham, and Doris Butters.

Neighborhood Meetings

Reminder — Neighborhood III meeting, Mystic and St. Mary's, Monday, March 31, 9:30 a. m. at the cabin.

Neighborhood I will meet on Monday, April 7, at the cabin at 9:30 a. m. All leaders, assistants, troop committee members, board and board committee members living in the Wyman, Parkhurst, and Noonan school sections are invited and urged to be present.

At a meeting of Precinct 1 delegates held before town meeting Thursday evening Marjorie Hall of Kenwin road and David Manning of Forest street were elected town meeting members to fill vacancies caused by the resignation of Sally Cause of Grant road and Frederick Parks of Wilson street.

Mrs. George Marks and Dr. Samuel Kirkwood have been busy collecting objects of art to be auctioned on Friday evening, April 11, in the Winchester High School gym during Artists and Craftsmen at Work.
